Who is Timothy Cunningham? He worked for the CDC, but he was a special CDC officer. He was an Epidemic Intelligence Service officer. What's that? Epidemic Intelligence Service Officers deal with diseases and biowarfare. He was on the team for H1N1, Ebola, and the Zika virus.

According to exclusive sources, he was startled with findings over the years in respects to how flu vaccines amplify the side effects of viral infections rather than inoculate patients effectively.

In December of 2017, Cunningham was assigned to what was at the time a new project unofficially known as "Shogun". According to our exclusive sources, testing and manipulation of the SARS strand was being used against a new drug that could eliminate a virus to infect your cells. It's important to understand HOW viruses function to understand WHAT Timothy Cunningham's whistleblower report had.

How do viruses infect people?

Viral infections, in other words, are your cells being hijacked to spew out more viruses. The cells in your body are used as a host to replicate more viral cells until there are none of your cells left. Viruses are like stupid parasites, they keep going until all life is eradicated. Unless they are able to mutate to a point where they can metabolize without a host, they will die too. In essence, they use your cells to proliferate, but don't have a plan when they are "done" with you.

Until now, most medications like Tamiflu focus on disabling viruses to "explode". When a virus hijacks a cell, it replicates until the cell literally explodes (lysis). Tamiflu doesn't allow for the lytic cycle to be completed, therefore, no further cells are infected by the newly created viruses.

What did Timothy Cunningham find out?

It turns out that the Chinese did what they always do. They stole (were given) proprietary information from the CDC and labs at Harvard to kickstart their new research, funded by the Bill and Melinda Gates foundation. This new research is two-prong.

- Designing the SARS virus to target specific cells that control fertility in males. Almost like chemical castration.
- Designing the SARS virus to infect and insert "protein code" with retroviral applications that respond to SQUARE WAVES.

In 2015, the Chinese successfully came upon research that found a novel method to control viral infections. The research focused on inducing apoptosis of cells (which self destruct) when initiation of viral material production is detected. The lab in Wuhan, China, is where the Chinese investigate and create subtle BioWarfare agents. For every bioweapon you make, an "antidote" must be created. In this case they took the antidote (so did the CDC) and reverse engineered different weapons.

Cunningham discovered that certain individuals in the U.S. were working on information they received from the Chinese – in respects to weaponizing SARS – with high specificity in virulence targeting specific genetic code and enzyme packets for transcription. In essence, the new virus would mimic that of HIV. A "smart" virus that could replicate all ligands of target cells in order to not be detected by innate immune cells, and therefore just "lie in waiting".

In January 2018, the EID (Epidemic Intel Division) of the CDC had decided to test this in specific COHORTS.

What is a specific COHORT?

Have you noticed how all your vaccines and flu shots have bar codes? They are scanned multiple times, etc. Well, with information they gather from clinics, hospitals, and pharmacies via your insurance (thanks Obamacare), the CDC have a full picture of almost everyone's health. In addition, your DNA... is stored at your local hospital or clinic every time you give blood. Not convinced? Read the fine print in your "CONSENT TO TREAT" that you are made to sign every time you visit. It clearly states they can hold all audio, pics, video, and DNA up to 7 years and SHARE it, according to federal guidelines. (Again, thanks Obamacare). What are the federal guidelines? Obamacare made it so any insurance company and any private company they contract with like Global Strategies Group, Lockheed, Google, Amazon etc – including car insurance, can have access to it. Don't believe it – READ the Affordable Care Act.

With that in mind, a cohort is a selected group of individuals or target demographic that you test drugs on.

Here is a purely hypothetical example:

The Cleveland Clinic has various groups of primary care. Hypothetically speaking, if the target group was "Caucasian males aged 35-55 that have ABC genetic type, found in specific European groups," then you would simply find which clinic has patients that fit that profile. Let's assume that two offices provide a 15% test pool for that target group, because the clinics are present in neighborhoods that have a lot of German and Polish migrants. The remaining 85% are simply statistical data or controls that can provide direction for future research.

Once your cohort sample is identified you usually deploy the drug you want to test. Hypothetically speaking, the flu vaccines or PNEUMONIA vaccines that people over 50 are offered every ten years can be your MEAN to covertly test your drug or bio weapon.

The above scenario is hypothetical, but rings true to the fact that in Spring people are testing positive across the nation for Influenza A and B rapidly. Those were vaccines deployed in 2018 and 2019, which is very telling.

We asked our exclusive source about that and the response was:

“ Expression of Influenza A and B could indicate that they contracted COVID-19 but expressed the virus they were supposed to be inoculated with. In other words, COVID-19 exposure may activate the “dead” virus, hypothetically speaking. ”

Former EID Officer

What did Timothy Cunningham Allegedly Know?

An omitted fact preceding Cunningham's disappearance is his recent meeting with certain people from Japan to which he was provided concerning data that confirmed that the Chinese and certain entities that met in McLean Virginia discussed.

Prior to his disappearance and "suicide" he visited ALL his close confidants, terrified as he was bold enough to leave a paper trail by filing a whistleblower report. He filed it on a Monday, and within 48 hours he knew that his identity was not protected. He attempted to reach the President of the United States. General Kelly was not very happy about that from what our sources say, and in his panic seemed erratic. Tim didn't sound right. He was telling people to delete his number from their phones and was on the run because people were going to kill him. The FBI counterintelligence division, the same one Peter Strzok worked for, knows that – there are emails.

New details in disappearance of CDC scientist who left work sick

His knowledge? Japan created an all encompassed cure, and pharmaceutical companies were seeking ways around it.

Does President Donald J. Trump know?

Does President Trump know that while all of us are being VACCINATED that Shionogi & Co., a Japanese company from Japan, has invented a drug that can eradicate ANY VIRUS that invades the human body?

Imagine if the people of the United States of America knew that every year their annual flu vaccine was unnecessary and that all their Congresspersons and Senators have HUGE pharmaceutical portfolios. Imagine if they also knew that the hospital and doctors were rewarded for all the vaccines they provided, even though they were unnecessary because there is a medication that can stop any virus. This is all speculation...of course.

Hypothetically speaking, you can't come out and say something like that ever... you would be christened the King of Tin Foil hats. Though, if people got sick and an "epidemic" happened to draw attention to the "flu," it would be appropriate... hypothetically speaking.

The complaints many have is that President Trump is NOT distributing CDC derived testing kits. Instead, he has requested all labs and hospitals nationwide to create their own. Why? No centralization of information. Publicly available information promotes transparency. It's obvious that the EID is foaming at the mouth right now and the Deep State is terrified.

The amplification of the "flu" and the quarantines – self or government imposed – create a hyper focused public that demands answers.

So many rumors and hypothesis – but one thing can shed some light. Shionogi & Co. used their ANTI-HIV medications to create their FLU TERMINATOR. The medication disallows the RNA/DNA of the virus to be replicated by the HUMAN nucleus. That means it is a generic drug that disables "unzipping proteins" necessary for transcription. If the cells can't be hijacked, then the virus dies in the intercellular space it occupies since it lacks a host.

Why are we getting vaccinated against viruses when we can terminate the ability to have them hijacked in the first place?

Timothy Cunningham said that to his close friend before he disappeared

The Kansas City Star had the most abundant information surrounding the missing EID Officer:

“ The Cunninghams have told police about a “worrisome” phone call and text messages from him on Feb. 11, the details of which they shared with police but are keeping private from others. ”

If what our sources are telling us is true, and if Japan really has a blanket drug with this virus being designed to try to evade it, the President of the United States would definitely know. Time for Mr. Cunningham's whistle-blower report to be leaked.

Just had a great conversation with Prime Minister Abe of Japan. I told him that the just completed Olympic venue is magnificent. He has done an incredible job, one that will make him very proud. Good things will happen for Japan and their great Prime Minister. Lots of options!

The mass hysteria and weaponization of a flu coup by the mainstream media (MSM) was done in an attempt to make the case that the president is incompetent and tank the market. "Never let a good crisis go to waste," is a saying the Deep State loves, and one that seems pretty accurate in this case.

Tom Perez, It's Time To Come Out Of The Closet

Tom Perez needs to come out of the closet. This is a difficult conversation that registered Democrats (especially #BernieBros and #hotgirlsforBernie) need to have. Both the Republican Party and Democrat Party are corrupt. They have been fixing elections in respects to their nominees for decades. There was one key difference [...]
