[Ed note: Normally the transcripts that had any parts in them that had been difficult for the transcribers to hear were put in "audibles" in square brackets in red for Bill Ryan to attend to, fix, then he'd post the transcript; however, due to unexpected interruptions in the normal working process in Project Camelot, this normal process was not able to proceed forward, so the audibles were left in the square brackets.]

KERRY CASSIDY (KC): It is very exciting what's happening, because people are connecting all over the planet.

AARON MCCOLLUM (AM): Yeah.

KC: And we're all a part of that. Who knows where it's going to all lead, you know, eventually...

AM: People are waking up by the thousands. Just last night I was talking to a gentleman, Vietnam veteran, who had served during the same time that my dad and Dave Corso had served. That's almost... I don't know if I told you that my dad and Dave served with each other.

KC: [laughs] Yeah. I know, there's like so many synchronicities that are happening.

AM: Yeah.

KC: So, I mean, that's completely bizarre. Not only are you connected to Corso and Duncan, but your father is connected to Corso, at least. And I mean, that in and of itself is... like where does this come from? This is so bizarre.

AM: Well, as far as my family, it's absolute bloodline. I mean, I just recently got some information that I have not yet confirmed, but I did get some fairly-good information that my grandfather, who died under mysterious causes – no autopsy, no funeral – was a high military or government member in some aspect of Operation Paperclip, who was one of the officials that was assigned in relocating the German Nazi scientists.

KC: [inaudible]

AM: No, I'm not.

KC: That's... well, that actually points to why you may have ended up where you did.

AM: And my father and my sister.

KC: Right. Your sister...

AM: But I've no knowledge of if my older brother was at all. I don't think he was, but I do fear that he may be drawn in because of his direct connections with NASA. He's climbed up the ranks in the scientific field.

KC: Ah ha.

AM: He was diagnosed with autism as a kid, but his IQ was off the charts and he is 32 now and he's got his Ph.D. in astronomical physics and nano-technology. He works at Lamar University. He's the youngest novice curator of the Houston Astronomical Society. He also runs five different observatories and rubs elbows with top NASA individuals.

KC: Okay, but I have to say that that indicates that he is part of the whole scene.

AM: Yes, I do agree...

KC: He may not...

AM: ...but he may not know it.

KC: Maybe he hasn't been one of the... in terms of some of the ways that you have buried memories, etcetera. But what you're telling me about his background is just unequivocal – especially, actually, believe it or not, because of his autism...

AM: Yes.

KC: ...because autism is sort of a marker that they use.

AM: Project Thirteen.

KC: Yeah, we were talking about that. Let's talk about that; that'll be really fascinating.

AM: Sure. And I think I... I don't know if I mentioned to you that I have absolute confirmation that my sister has three children. The oldest one, Baden, is a contactee.

KC: Okay.

AM: Absolute.

KC: Yeah.

AM: But I can tell you what my sister actually witnessed and saw him do. We can talk about that another time, but it is absolutely amazing.

KC: Okay.

AM: I did let Miriam Delicado know and I told her what my sister had said. Miriam, of course, said: You know this child needs to be protected. Be careful who... And then I explained to my sister what Miriam had said. So...

KC: Well, that's actually a good thing.

AM: Yeah. I'm actually going to be getting my sister in contact with Miriam.

KC: Cool. Very good. I wasn't actually sure of how to categorize you. Like, you know, I mean, not specifically a Super-Soldier that I know of, but maybe -- and you know what I'm saying? I wanted you to categorize yourself.

AM: Sure.

KC: Why don't you just go ahead, introduce yourself, and basically explain not only who you are, briefly, like your credentials, whatever you would call that...

AM: Absolutely.

KC: ...but then also say why you're coming forward at this time.

AM: Okay. Well, my name is Aaron Egan McCollum. I was born September 6, 1978, and my... Well, I was in the military. I served in the United States Coast Guard for just roughly ten years; I'm right at the ten-year mark. And I was involved in many different Black Op projects all over the world, and even many States-sides.

I had climbed up the ranks very quickly to where I became a team member of a first-of-its-kind unit in the Coast Guard, which is known publicly, but a lot of the operations they do are... most of what they do are not well-known.

If I had to classify myself, it would be that I'm third-generation Project Talent, and because of the bloodline I came from, I was given a lot of responsibility and saw a lot of things and even since that time have been called back for specific operations.

KC: Okay.

AM: I mean, to really explain who I am would obviously be good for the more extended interview to really explain that.

But, you know, obviously I'm coming out today for the first time really publicly to explain about information that I have through absolute reliable contacts – which I cannot name for their safety – but involving what's going on in the Gulf of Aden in Yemen, specifically what the Global Elite are doing, and the stargate which is absolutely real. It's not fantasy.

It's like, Kerry, what you and I talked about many times: things you see in movies are put there as a ruse to automatically give this label of "fantasy, science fiction," so people will not dig in anymore and they'll live in their little world of "it's make-believe".

KC: Okay. That's great. So you were a member of the Coast Guard, but you also ended up not only working in these teams of Special Ops units, for lack of a better title, but you were the leader, isn't that true?

AM: Yes. And Project Talent has really two sides – they have the people that never were in the military [as] civilians, but worked directly in the military, even sometimes would wear military uniforms, but never went to boot camp. You know, they have their own side of that – Duncan, for example; Duncan O'Finioan, who never really went to boot camp, but was absolutely Project Talent.

Then there are people like me. This is where it gets a little complicated. I did not choose the branch of service. When I was 16, certain individuals – agents -- came to me and told me which branch of the military I was going in and when it would happen, so I already knew two years before joining.

So I was in the military; I got regular military training. But at times when I would be temporarily assigned – it's called TAD; Temporary Assignment Duty – to other units, I wasn't actually doing what was known by my commanding officer or whomever at the time. I was actually conducting... increasing my training that I had started when I was very young.

So I wore two hats. There were times when I was Petty Officer McCollum, worked my way up to being Chief Engineer on ships and doing Special Op rescue, drug interdiction, whatever. And then I had the other hat where I was just an agent – no name, no denomination of rank; nothing.

KC: So when you say you were doing that, are you meaning that you, I don't know... you would not carry any papers of identification on you?

AM: Absolutely not. No ID. Couldn't even wear a watch; nothing.

KC: Okay. And on those assignments... Is that where your sort of buried memories are coming back, in regard to those assignments?

AM: Honestly, it's happening on both sides because, as I said, it's kind of complicated, but let me try to explain as best as I can.

I did a lot of operations where I just wore my Coast Guard hat and I was Petty Officer McCollum, but I was actually leading "umbrella operations" that actually had a Black Operation happening underneath that I was tied to.

So they would have me close to that, so that I would be able to infiltrate and do my other job that was assigned to me. So with that, because there was such intertwining of operations, a lot of it is foggy on both sides.

KC: Okay. So let's see... because it's really easy for me to go down this rabbit-hole [Aaron laughs] with you and start following out your personal remembrances, but I think that today's interview, at least for the first part...

Let's do this first: let's talk about the Gulf of Aden, and why you're specifically coming forward now, before we do a more formal interview that has been planned with you for several weeks. So let's talk about the most crucial stuff that you want to get out there right away, and then we can digress from there. Then we can later decide what to cut in, what to cut out.

AM: Okay. Let me just make this statement; I want to make this perfectly clear. What I'm about to let everyone know is based on actual facts, articles; also contacts – absolute, reliable contacts – who have contacted me within the past month; overwhelming amount of information. And this is also based directly on operations that I was a part of, that I've regained some memories back, from July of 2008 until the beginning of March of 2009.

Operations I was a part of absolutely relate directly to what is happening now in the Gulf of Aden.

Okay, so what is occurring right now? It's actually been going on for quite a while, but it's just now, for whatever reason it's leaked out -- or they have allowed it to leak out, I should say -- that there has been major military ship movement happening in the Gulf of Aden in a specific location where there are actually hundreds of ships right now circling a designated area of open water.

We're talking Russian warships, Chinese warships, Japanese warships, Australia, Germany, UK; the list goes on and on, even designated European Union ships; UN ships; Blackwater, which is now Xe, has a ship there right now.

If anybody is aware, Japan has not actually had warships leave their area of operation for military-type action in decades. Same with China; China is very much about keeping their warships close. So this is HUGE.

On top of it, there is a research company that specifically deals in genetics and DNA -- I don't remember the name at this time, but Kerry, when I get that information to you, you will have that -- that are specifically doing research in alien/ human DNA, researching with the genetics. That is going on at the same time there, as well.

On top of it, there has been a lot of piracy going on there. Well, these "pirates", the Somali pirates and all that -- it's absolutely false flag operations. The reason they're doing that is to gain fear of, you know, everyone in that area, to keep them away. It's a very good manageable method to keep just regular people, the public, away from that area. Because, you know, what's a better way to invoke fear but piracy and terrorism?

That comes to what happened at Fort Hood.

KC: Okay. Before we go there, just to clarify... because as a member of the Coast Guard, anything that happens on water is obviously something that you're quite well versed in.

AM: Absolutely.

KC: So we want to talk about the source of your information. And because of that, we also want to talk about some of your, sort of, skills, and augmented skills.

AM: Sure.

KC: Okay, because this is going to factor in, I assume.

AM: Absolutely.

KC: The other thing is that you're saying that there is genetic engineering going on... What are you talking about? Are you talking about on a ship in the middle of the water where the stargate is located? Because I understand that the stargate is over the body of water.

AM: It is. And there are actual... there's witness testimony and there are images of... They're calling it an "anomaly" and a huge magnetic field that is occurring right there at that location. They're calling it an anomaly, you know; they're giving it labels, where the water is actually in a swirling motion; it's actually causing a huge whirlpool effect.

KC: Incredible. Okay. Very cool.

AM: And there have been actual sightings, and you can find this online, of where they have seen a part of it actually come up. But that's gone away now, as far as the science because they have... I mean, the area of the security zone around it is miles and miles and miles.

KC: Okay. But who's in charge of that area?

AM: Well, it's... I'm not quite sure, to be honest, of who exactly is in charge. But I can tell you who I would be not surprised if it's in charge is obviously members of the Global Elite, the Powers That Be. What I think is who was in charge? Now, I think it's going to change or may have already changed, but I have not yet been able to get confirmation on it.

When something like this occurs... Is this stargate something that had not been discovered? Had it been put to rest and there was no interest in it? These are possibilities, but when something like this comes up, certain projects that are still very much happening under the name of "Mark Ultra" come in and assume command, as per direction of certain members of the Global Elite.

KC: Okay, and when you say Mark Ultra you're actually saying MK Ultra? That it's a different designation? I don't understand.

AM: Well, Mark – MK – is actually used for designation of projects, things. That's just me and my military talk. When you're in the military, it's actually referred to as Mark Ultra. [Kerry laughs] Like you have certain flares that you use, like the Mark 134, but you look at it and it says MK 134.

KC: I see.

AM: So that's just me being military, but I'll try to say MK Ultra for...

KC: No, no, no.

AM: I tend to start talking, using military lingo because I did it for so long.

KC: I understand. Okay. And actually, let's talk about how old you are and how long you spent in the military.

AM: I am 31 and I, by the books, spent just under ten years in the military. But my involvement has gone on much longer, prior and after.

KC: Okay. Right. And again, to get back to the genetic engineering, you said this is going on in the area. But is it, again, going on... are you saying under the water?

AM: Yes.

KC: In a base?

AM: Yes.

KC: Okay.

AM: It is. There is an underwater base there. I have received confirmation on that.

KC: Okay. You're saying that there is an underwater base in the Gulf of Aden.

AM: Yes.

KC: Okay. And that's where you think the genetic engineering is going on.

AM: Absolutely.

KC: Okay. And can you...

AM: It's the same... They're doing similar things that they've been doing for decades at underground bases all over the place. Specifically, they've been doing specific types of DNA research and engineering in a lot of the underwater bases, like for example, the one that's in the Caribbean, the one that I was at.

KC: Oh, right; the one that you're having recovered memories about.

AM: Yes.

KC: Okay. Yes, very fascinating. You've shown me some drawings which are really very, very interesting.

What is the source of your intel? Is it individual? Is it psychic? Is it on the Internet? Is it... you know? I don't know.

AM: It's a little bit of everything and I'll tell you how this all began.

KC: Okay.

AM: I had received an email from one of my sources, so I cannot disclose this person's name at this time, for their safety, and there was a link on it to an article talking about this "seagate" that was being expected, that there was some strange anomalies happening and there was a lot of warship movement.

And so the investigative side of me decided to look into this. So I, literally, in the past month spent 12 to 18 hours a day, not just with my other research, but with checking this out, making phone calls through some reliable contacts of mine. I started gathering more and more information from separate sources.

Then when I finally saw where it was happening, and then realized that now the US, along with some other countries, have now all of a sudden targeted Yemen because of Al Qaeda, which...

Al Qaeda's nothing but a network. That's it. Al Qaeda is really just a network. It's not... it was all designed... but that's a whole other story. "Al Qaeda" as a name is used to invoke fear and gain compliance or needs of whatever the Global Elite wants at that time.

Yemen has now been picked because of what's happening now at the stargate, which officially is being said that the stargate opened on January 5th of this year.

The other information, so I started making phone calls, then I started getting more emails...

KC: Well, wait a minute. You're saying the stargate over the Gulf of Aden opened on January 5th of 2010? Or 2009?

AM: What I know for fact is that it opened up on January 5th of this year, 2010.

KC: Okay. Now I... because I've heard more information about this. There is information out there saying that the stargate was identified prior to that.

AM: Absolutely. Yes.

KC: Okay.

AM: Yes. It's been going on... things really started getting on the Internet and the news, really started a couple months ago.

KC: Okay.

AM: In December... I mean, it's now all over. I have a whole file, which I will get to you, of tons of information, even stuff on YouTube. And believe it or... The stuff on YouTube... there's a lot of garbage on YouTube, but there's certain videos on YouTube, if you YouTube "Stargate Gulf of Aden," you will see things that are absolute facts...

KC: Okay.

AM: ...based on other people that have gathered information. However, this stargate in the Gulf of Aden has been known for quite a while and a lot of... certain countries want to gain... want to have their hand in the cookie jar. And, you know, one country wants to have more of a hand in the cookie jar than the other country.

This is why in 2008 I was approached by a Captain that worked for the United States Marine Corp Intelligence. Out of the blue [he] come up to me and said: We are wanting to recruit you for needs of service again.

Now, at this time, I was a mess. I was having a lot going on. I still, at that point, thought I was really just crazy. I wasn't working. I was, you know, living month-to-month, so – and that's exactly how they want you – and so I volunteered to go back.

Yet, after I volunteered to go back...there are parts that are foggy... but I had met at Camp Pendleton with this Captain several other gentlemen, who I am not quite sure who they worked for, but obviously, high up the food chain in the government hierarchy, and then two Generals.

One General now is actually working on the Joint Chiefs of Staff in charge of all Special Operations for the United States military.

KC: Are you able to name this person? Do you want to name this person or not?

AM: [long, thoughtful pause]... I should probably wait to mention that.

KC: Okay.

AM: It's not that I'm afraid of mentioning it, but when we do my more extensive interview I have already decided to release certain names.

KC: Okay.

AM: But I want to just really focus on the Gulf of Aden and what's going on there. But I will say that I will be mentioning his name.

KC: Okay.

AM: Just not yet. But this is the same General that I've given you copies of the emails?

KC: Yes.

AM: So that's who I'm talking about.

KC: Uh-huh.

AM: And he told me that in North Africa, and it's still happening, but even back in 2008 there was massive military movement – US military movement in North Africa. They were gearing up for something. That was one of the assignments that I was going to be going to, to look over some operations there.

There was also big movement happening in the area of the Suez Canal, which is right in that location of the Gulf of Aden.

I then started meeting top Black Op military personnel from all over the world, a lot specifically from Australia – Australian SAS [Special Air Service]. Several of these gentlemen were definitely Australian, but were of Middle Eastern descent, who were being trained to conduct false flag operations in the Middle East.

Shortly after this happened, there were some false flag events that occurred, the big one in Mumbai, which was absolutely orchestrated through our country and the UK. That I was actually told first-hand information by this General and some other people on his staff.

We started developing a new team that I was placed in charge of. We started out by doing a lot of States-side training operations with [a] local police force. Specifically, the ground-breaking one was with Twin Palms, which Twenty-nine Palms Marine Base is close by, where the US Marine Corps was doing... This was where they started doing the security check-points, which they now do a lot all up and down California; a lot, you know, in southern California, south of where we're at right now.

Why am I explaining this? Here's why: The movements that are happening right now from the military... There are actually a few secret military bases in North Africa right now, and in Yemen, and other areas, where there are actually more US military personnel than locals in the towns and villages in that area.

Why are all these false flag operations happening? Okay, I'm getting to the very important point.

The very important point is: these small false flag operations that have been happening, the operations that I dealt with, with actually conducting false flag operations, even having movement of UN vehicles here in California, which I witnessed. I saw caravans; I talked to people.

Even to the point where I was with a team walking around downtown Pasadena just before New Years Eve because we had received intel – which I later found out was false – but they told regular military personnel and local police that a munitions train that was coming from Barstow to Camp Pendleton, after a check in Barstow they realised that 5,000 pounds of C-4 explosive was missing off the train. Immediately high alert was put in; security checkpoints were placed all over the place.

I found out that this was not true. I started doing some of my own digging into finding out why this was all going on.

Shortly after that I was dropped from the project and I had to move out of my apartment. My computer was yet again shut down. My cell phone had fried. My place was broken into. When we went to do the police reports, my roommate and I at the time, the police officer did not fill out a police report. I had surveillance vehicles in front of my place. I was... just... the heat was getting on. I actually had to put my stuff in storage and stay on the couch with a friend of mine.

KC: This was a year ago. Is that right?

AM: This occurred all in March of last year [2009], yes.

KC: Okay.

AM: Now, what does this all gear up to? This all gears up to, based on my experience – and, yes, I guess you could say based on some certain psychic ability that I have had; I wasn't necessarily born with, but with things that I will get into in the interview, it was brought out in me through techniques that they have, that Project Talent has learned to really perfect.

There's going to be a major false flag operation happening this year. I don't exactly know when, but I know it's going to happen and there are going to be... people are going to see a lot more military personnel from other countries; the American police force; there's going to be a lot more roadblocks, road checks.

KC: So you're saying a false flag operation here in America? Or are you saying in the Gulf of Aden? Because somehow there's a link-up.

AM: Both.

KC: Okay.

AM: And here's why. It's not just going to be the US. This is going to be happening in certain countries where it needs to happen. It's going to invoke a new war. They've been talking -- even Obama has spoken about this new war on Al Qaeda in Yemen.

Why do they do this? The same reason that they did it in Afghanistan. Afghanistan was not a war against terrorism, it was a war to gain more control in Afghanistan, because Afghanistan does have certain entrances to deep underground facilities.

KC: Really.

AM: That's why Russia was after them for ten years.

KC: Okay, so you're saying that it's not the poppy, the opium trade that has people in Afghanistan... which is what I think most people think.

AM: Absolutely not! No, it's not the opium. However, what a lot of people don't know is that the CIA still – since Vietnam, probably even before that – have always had Black Operations of trafficking drugs, which was what Air America was in Vietnam when they were running operations in Cambodia and Laos.

KC: Right.

AM: So, yes, I mean, they got to make a profit, you know. War is not just intent; war is profit. That's why we have, you know, the bankers that are part of the Bilderberger group, and the Bohemian Grove, and other societies -- Club of Rome, and whatnot.

This false flag operation is going to invoke a new war on terrorism in Yemen. It's going to happen. We're on the brink. There's major military movement. There are military training camps being set up in Yemen right now, by our government, that are training the Yemen military to go after the terrorist movement there.

It's even been said on the news, and you can find this online, that they're making claims that Al-Qaeda has now built a larger base in Yemen than exists in Afghanistan or Pakistan! Absolute garbage.

KC: Okay. So, as far as Yemen and the Gulf of Aden, how do these work together? In other words, the countries bordering the Gulf of Aden... is that why it's being targeted, specifically because the stargate is over the water?

AM: Oh yes, absolutely. Yemen is ground zero.

KC: Okay. Let's talk about, if you know this or you have a theory, on what's going on with that stargate. Do you have any idea?

AM: All I can give you now is theory, but I encourage everybody that's going to see this to do your own research. Everything I tell you, do your own research, because if you don't question, you don't research -- you're not learning and you're not waking up.

Based on my experience with a project that I was a part of that, again, we will discuss in my full interview, I have two theories. Okay? One theory is that there are extraterrestrial beings that no doubt are opening, or just now really coming about doing something with this stargate, for a definite purpose.

Now, are these extraterrestrials friendly? Or are they unfriendly? It could be two possibilities. I do not know yet, but I am working on finding out through some very reliable contacts.

If they are indeed friendly, then they have opened it up because we are coming to a time in our world... You know, 2012 is not the end, but I definitely believe that big things are going to be happening, and we do have friendly extraterrestrials that want to see us really become the world we're supposed to be. They're not going to come in and rescue us, but they definitely do things to help assist us move along.

Are these the extraterrestrials that decided to open up the stargate? And if they are, is the military and Global Elite going to do everything they can to prevent this from happening, so that they can continue their agenda, the agenda that they have been told they have to accomplish within a certain allotted time or "Certain Beings" are going to step in? That's absolute.

KC: That's the negative agenda that they're trying to roll out. In other words, that certain negative beings, negatively-oriented beings, in other words, service-to-self, are going to step in if the Global Elite are unable to handle this themselves? Is that what you're saying?

AM: Absolutely.

KC: Okay. Very interesting.

AM: But the other side of it is, does the stargate have... The unfriendly extraterrestrials, are they running the show with the stargate, and the military is there as, really, the servants? Because that's really what the Global Elite are. They're not in power, people! They are serving someone else, something else, or whatever you want to classify them as.

KC: What you're saying in terms of the Gulf of Aden, are you saying that that stargate could be letting in, perhaps... In other words, it could be incoming, it could be outgoing; it could be going both ways.

AM: It's both.

KC: Okay. But the build-up militarily there will be not only to have to control over this stargate on the one hand, but on the other hand to make sure, like if it was a negative purpose, there could be negative ETs coming through.

AM: Absolutely.

KC: Okay.

AM: But, you know, with underwater bases, every single underwater base, there is at least some presence of extraterrestrials there. But I will tell you, none of them are friendly.

KC: [laughs] Right. If they're working with the military, I think it's sort of a no-brainer, unfortunately.

AM: They're really running the show. But, see, they're clever. They're able to calculate and do things in such a way to where the Powers That Be think that they have control, but they don't.

With this specific underwater base off the coast in the Gulf of Aden, I cannot say for fact who is absolutely running the show. All I can do is give my theory based on my absolute direct experience with bases, with being very high up in Black Projects, of Project Talent, knowing of and actually assisting in some projects with Project Stargate, and another project which I will be talking about – I'll just go ahead and say it now: Project Seagate.

KC: Okay. Do you feel that what's going on in the Gulf of Aden... are you saying it's Adon? Do you know how to pronounce it actually?

AM: I believe it's Aden [as in "Ah-den"], but I could be saying it wrong. If I am, please excuse me, you know.

KC: Absolutely. But are you saying what's going on there may be part of an operation which you know of as Project Seagate?

AM: No, I believe... Well, I don't want to speculate because I don't like doing that. It's possible. But every [bit] information that's been given to me, they've labelled it as a stargate.

However, people have to be very careful because from my knowledge and from things that I am starting to remember, as far as I know, there is only one location for Project Seagate in the entire world. Could I be wrong? Was there even information that even I wasn't privy to? It's possible, but I doubt it.

KC: And that's about an underwater base that's located in a Puerto Rico area?

AM: Yes. It's in the area of Puerto Rico.

KC: Okay, and that's the one you have recovered memories about.

AM: Yes.

KC: Okay. Have you ever been to the Gulf of Aden?

AM: Not that I recall.

KC: Okay.

AM: If I have, I don't remember, but with all the information, everything that I've shared with you on the many times that we've talked and gotten together, I probably have maybe, if I really sit down and think, I probably have regained maybe 40% of my memories.

Why this is happening with me at such a young age? I don't know, because as you know from your experience with others, usually people are much older [Former Super Soldiers usually start to regain their memories in their '50s and '60s, not before]. But through some other contacts I have been told... it's a little hard for me to swallow, but I've been told there is a very specific reason why I specifically have been regaining these memories. And it's not for a bad purpose; it's for a good purpose.

Unfortunately there are times when I'm still triggered and am taken elsewhere to do things, as recently as just a couple months ago where I have two days I cannot account for.

KC: Okay. So we've got a stargate in the Gulf of Aden, we've got false flag operations, we just had one in which, whatever they called it, the "Underwear Bomber"...

AM: Yeah.

KC: ...in which he was basically let on a plane without a passport. Now, is this part of that operation? Because it seems like it's the opening act, in a certain sense.

AM: It is, because there has been recent information saying that not only him, but the shooter at Fort Hood. Now all of a sudden, this information's coming out that they both had connections with terrorists, with Al-Qaeda in Yemen.

KC: Okay.

AM: And it's just popped up within the past week, if I remember right. How convenient!

KC: So we have a major operation happening in Yemen right now. Is there any other extenuating circumstance or any involvement, because you said there're a lot of ships in that area? We've got the water sort of churning under some "electromagnetic anomaly" going on.

AM: Yes.

KC: What's going on between the Powers That Be that you know of, in terms of the ships? Are you in touch with, for example, any crew or military personnel in regard to any of that?

AM: Yes. I am. Several.

KC: Okay. Do you want to talk about...?

AM: Even the Coast Guard... It's not just US Navy. There are US Coast Guard ships, "Cutters" as they're called in the Coast Guard that are there.

The people that I'm talking to that I worked with, I worked with on the side of just being regular Petty Officer McCollum in the Coast Guard, so they are not fully aware, but they have contacted me and said: Aaron, something weird is going on, and I can't quite place it, and they've never seen anything like it.

I have a few other friends of mine that are actually in Coast Guard Intelligence that have contacted me because they are aware of this kind of campaign that I'm doing, trying, you know... making amends for what I was part of.

So there is big movement there, absolute. The contacts that I've spoken to said that even they, when questioned about it, they're told that it is strictly for enforcing the anti-piracy and to help with escorting movements through the Suez Canal, because apparently the Suez Canal is so "backed up" with ship transports.

I have never, ever head of there being a problem with "backed-up" ships going through the Suez Canal -- never heard of that.

KC: So if they're going through the Suez Canal, where would they be headed? There's got to be more than one destination for those ships, right? In theory?

AM: Yes, absolutely.

KC: Okay. For example...?

AM: Well, I mean, the Suez Canal is a main shipping canal.

KC: So they could be just going through, bound for other areas, right?

AM: Oh, yes.

KC: Not just all headed for Yemen.

AM: No, no, not at all. Because if they did that, it would raise too much suspicion, so what they do is they will indeed keep operations normal.

KC: Uh-huh.

AM: Container ships, oil ships will still be allowed to go through it. It's just, the reason they're able to do it so well is because the location of the Stargate in the Gulf of Aden is kind of in the off-beaten path; it's not actually directly in the channel.

KC: Right, but you said that you have information, and I don't know if this is public information, that there are ships from other countries. I think you mentioned Japan and China and Russia.

AM: It is public information. There are European Union ships; NATO ships; from Japan, Russia, Germany, the UK, United States, Australia; and the list goes on and on.

And yes, it is public information. They're talking about it right now. It will be included... I have specific information that when I give it to you so that you can look through it on your own, it's absolute. This is out there.

Get on your computer: Google... Gulf of Aden; Google... Gulf of Aden Stargate; Google... War on Yemen. You Google any of those things and you will get pages and pages of not just articles, but of YouTube videos and other pieces of information.

People need to look at this because with that, once you start digging, it's amazing – not surprising to me – but it will be amazing to people that they will see an article and it's directly tied to the label of "false flag war".

We are going to be moving massive troops into Yemen. Yemen is the next battleground, and it's going to happen this year. As far as my knowledge and my intuition and everything else that I've gathered, it's going to happen this year.

If it doesn't happen this year, and if I'm wrong... good! I hope that my intuition's wrong, but unfortunately, my little gut feeling that I get is 99% right, and sometimes I actually get angry at myself when I'm right about things, because I don't want to see these things happen.

So, if the year 2010 goes on and we don't go into a police state or we don't have more false flags in the country, if this... what I believe is going to be a terrible war happening in Yemen – if that does not occur, then good. But everything that I've gathered, all my information, my contacts, have told me otherwise.

KC: Let me ask you this: I know you have some interesting abilities associated with water. Isn't that right? And I remember that dolphins have been used by the military to actually perform feats and to actually do operations, basically...

AM: Oh yes.

KC: ...over by Saudi Arabia and over in that area. So I'm thinking that with what's going on in the Gulf of Aden, basically there has to be something involving dolphins and possibly other sea animals, like whales. But I'm just curious, has there been any information about the dolphins in that area or anything else?

AM: The only information that I have for fact, which is public information, is that dolphins are being used in all the waters around the Middle East for reconnaissance missions. They actually have dolphins that're trained, that have actual surveillance equipment that are attached to them for looking for underwater mines, looking for bombs under piers, even under ships, oil rigs, and even information-gathering.

They have dolphins that are set up with certain information, sound-recording equipment, that can actually record sound on land that travels via, through the water because sound travels at a much greater distance and can keep its real concentrated frequency much longer underwater than it can in open air.

Do I have any information that dolphins are specifically being used in the Gulf of Aden for whatever attempted purposes with this Stargate? No, I don't. But based on my direct work with dolphins, with Project Seagate -- I would not be surprised.

Because dolphins have been discovered, because of their frequencies, because of other abilities that dolphins have that people are not aware of... They discovered a while ago, however long -- I know for at least 20, or maybe even 30 years -- that dolphins directly have, because of their frequencies, because of what they can do, are almost used as a medium for travel via the Seagate.

KC: What do you mean by that? Travel... are you talking about time travel?

AM: I'm talking about not just time travel; I'm talking about traveling to other locations in the universe.

KC: How are dolphins used in that regard?

AM: It was found that... Well, with the Seagate, everything is done... frequencies are used to actually put you on a molecular level into a different state. This way, your body can actually handle traveling great distances.

KC: I know what you mean. You mean, in other words, if humans are put in contact with dolphins and do what's called entraining...

AM: Yes.

KC: ...they get aligned on the same frequency as a dolphin, and that heightens the human awareness, such that if you then... I'm extrapolating here because I've swam with dolphins and I know this happened to me; I'm guessing that's kind of what you mean.

AM: You're absolutely... you're on the right track. Yes. One of the things that they did that I was a part of was called "psychic echo-location"... [sighs] ... What's the word I'm looking for? This always happens when I start talking about this, I'm sorry. Sometimes my mind goes blank.

What they discovered, it can't just be any human. It has to be people that have received certain training, mainly people that have some amount of psychic ability.

They've learned that they could put a person in with these dolphins and actually it would cause deep molecular and psychic vibrations that happen where the dolphin is almost used... is used as a medium... and this person becomes a conductor. They coexist in this way, so that it really heightens the senses of the psyche of a person.

KC: Right. And so then what would happen? I guess we're kind of going off into the area of speculation, although it occurs to me that perhaps this is part of your buried memories.

AM: This is the thing, the subject that I, myself, had been working the most intensely on.

The whole thing with the Gulf of Aden just kind of fell into my lap through the people I know. And then, taking it back to the false flag operations that I helped orchestrate from July 2008 until the beginning of March 2009; also meeting individuals that were Black Ops that had been really in a way blackmailed to be in this country to do false flag operations -- specifically, military personnel from other countries that were of Middle Eastern descent. They didn't care if their family originally came from Iraq or Pakistan or India. It didn't matter, as long as they had the training.

KC: And they looked the part, is the point.

AM: And they looked the part, yes.

KC: Okay. So you were involved in these so-called black false flag operations. Can you describe a false flag operation that you were a part of?

AM: Yes I can. Well, one of the false flag operations was where the 5,000 pounds of C-4 mysteriously disappeared from a munitions train heading to Camp Pendleton. After that, the Twin Palms Police Force started working with the Marine Corps, and a bunch of military vehicles, specifically Humvees, from their motor pool were being taken, but were not being signed out. But then when certain individuals were even asked, even when I asked about it: Don't question us. You know?

Twin Palms was doing random DUI checks. Now, if people know this, the military are not allowed to do in-country security check-points, DUI check-points, anything involved with the police. That's what the police are for.

When that begins to happen, that is a pre-emptive strike to implement a police state nationwide. Absolutely.

Then there was even a bigger military presence that was happening, of all places, in Pasadena. This doesn't surprise me because Pasadena is really a trifecta of some very deep military operations: Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL); Parsons Corporation.

I encourage the people who are going to see this, look into the history of the Parsons Corporation of Pasadena, and you will be disgusted with what they have been a part of, especially recently with putting up certain kinds of "hospitals" in Iraq.

Then, of course, I can really get into things like Jordan Maxwell and I have talked about, as far as the OTO [Ordo Templi Orientis]. I mean, the headquarters of the OTO in North America is in Pasadena, you know.

KC: Sure, right.

AM: So where I live in Pasadena, I'm surrounded by some very awful things.

KC: So we're talking about a hotbed of the Illuminati, but we're also talking about a military presence.

AM: Yes. In fact, specifically on... I want to say it was December 28, if I'm completely accurate... December 28, 2008, there was big military movement that happened straight downtown Pasadena. Hundreds of people witnessed it. It never made the news.

It was a convoy of about 24 vehicles. We're talking Humvees, armored personnel carriers, chemical trucks, tankers, deuce-and-a-halves, which are the big, huge trucks you usually see with the canopies over them [M35 2 & 1/2-ton cargo trucks]. They were all white. They were what I've been a part of. They were absolute UN vehicles.

KC: Yes, I was going to say that sounds like UN.

AM: But they didn't have UN marked on them. They didn't even have license plates.

KC: I see.

AM: They moved through Pasadena and moved to a different location. On that same day I was in Pasadena with a team of plain-clothed, not just local police, but Marine Corps, armed, walking the streets in communication with everybody else while this was happening. It was not necessarily...

See, a false flag operation, more often than not, is a terrorist attack like 9/11.

KC: So what was going on with the white caravan was more of a preparation? Is that the idea?

AM: It was false flag training operation...

KC: I see.

AM: ...in preparation for an actual false flag. You know, you have war games; the military does war games. What are war games? War games are training for actual war. Well, this is kind of a war game, but it's a false flag game training operation, a drill.

KC: When we say false flag, what we're talking about is something where a terrorist event will happen where actually the terrorist is actually working for an operation. It is an op, and it is conducted by in essence the in-country personnel – in other words, United States, the government, the agencies or the black government, you know, the Black Secret Projects.

AM: Absolutely. Yes, that's the biggest thing that people need to understand. When it's a false flag operation that happens in-country, the people that are in charge of the Black Operations that happen with that country, they're the ones who have orchestrated it. The bombings that happened in the subways in England – that was an England false flag operation. The bombings that happened in Spain...

KC: Right. What about that?

AM: False flag, absolutely, because they all related to what? Taliban and Al-Qaeda. What's truly Taliban and Al-Qaeda? It is a network to allow false flag operations to happen.

You had mentioned about the people that are used, that are aware of it. People have to understand that, more often than not, the people that are used have been mind-controlled. They have been taken, they have been mind-controlled, and they're doing it because they are under another state of mind.

The one that happened on Christmas Day, he says that he had... All of a sudden there was reports that he was almost in a trance when it occurred and afterward and that he has no recollection. KC: Who was? Who are you talking about?

AM: The gentleman, I don't remember his name, the actual person; the "Underwear Bomber" is our label for it.

KC: Okay, yes.

AM: There were reports that he was in a trance. There's even a person that has come out now, a husband and wife that were on the plane.

KC: Sure.

AM: They were on the news saying that they had contacted the FBI because this tall, well-dressed, wealthy-looking man of Indian, you know, or Pak... descent, had taken this kid, and actually they witnessed him saying: He doesn't have a passport, but he's from... I think it was Nigeria... and he just said: We do this all the time there. They actually quoted him: We do this all the time there. And they let him through. Dumb!!

You know, people need to be aware that that's happening and need to question why.

KC: So you, yourself, you're saying over a year ago you saw convoys and so on going on here in California, like a build-up of military even here. Is that correct?

AM: Yes, absolutely. There's been a huge build-up of military in southern California.

KC: Do you have any idea why?

AM: There're a lot of military bases in California. California is very much a key region for military movement.

I, myself, have been to two underground bases in California: one that's in the San Diego area, and another one that's in the San Francisco Bay, which is known as a Munitions Naval Weapons Base that has a skeleton crew. Probably a lot of people don't know about it. It is located in the San Francisco Bay area, and all you can see from the water are three very large U-shaped piers where trainings go on. There's a lot more to that base than what people see. I mean, they have a HUGE facility under it. It's massive.

KC: Have you been there, or were you told about this?

AM: No, I've been there. I was there. I was there in 2000, 2001, and then in the first part of 2002, before I went to become part of the project in the Caribbean.

KC: Okay. So... I guess what I want to do here is to just make sure that we've gotten the information that you wanted to get out there specifically around the Gulf of Aden.

AM: Okay. So, just to clarify why I was coming out right now. You and I spoke; this had to get out now because time is of the essence. False flag operations are going to be happening more, not just in the United States, but in other countries that are having direct involvement with the Gulf of Aden and Yemen.

I will not be surprised if we will see some more bombings or terrorist attacks happen in places, like in Yemen itself. It's going to happen in Yemen, because they need that to get the masses to support what they're doing so that there isn't questioning.

There's going to be more false flag operations happening here in this country. It could be as small as more military check-points. Or they could be as big as another actual attack attempt. It's going to happen.

This is all happening to build up justification, like what happened with 9/11. They need this justification, so people don't question, so you continue to be sheep, so that they can finally go to war – the "new war on terrorism". Yemen is ground zero for that.

Why is this happening? It's happening because of this stargate that's just off the coast of Yemen in the Gulf of Aden. Why are they doing this? I've given my two theories. Why is this happening? It's happening because of this Stargate that's just off the coast of Yemen in the Gulf of Aden.

Why are they doing this? I've given my two theories: Theory one, we have friendly extraterrestrials that have opened it for a reason. What that reason is yet? I do not know.

But this will not be the last; I'm working on... You know, I'm not stopping after this. I'm going to be digging very deep. I'm going to be continuing working on this, and as I get new information you'll be getting the information, everything I get, Kerry.

Is this friendly ETs that have opened it up for some reason? That could be. And it could be that now we have, really, the major heavy-hitter countries from all over the world, who have brought in warships – not cargo ships, but warships – by the masses that are literally in this giant circle that have created this perimeter.

Why is there scientific research there?

A certain doctor who attempted suicide – oh yes! – that worked directly for this research company said: The world needs to know! And all of a sudden unexplainably went crazy and tried to kill herself... who worked for a company that the information has gotten out that are doing research on combining alien and human DNA.

KC: Okay. So... now, I have to tell you that last night we had contact with a whistleblower, and this is just one of those synchronicities that goes on with Project Camelot. Today we're having this interview with you, this was planned ahead, and last night inadvertently we got in touch with a whistleblower who has worked for the military – actually, Space Command – and were talking about the Gulf of Aden.

I didn't get all of the information, even though we talked for like, six hours, and we will release that pretty soon, that interview. He was talking about synthetic beings, synthetic robots, for all intents and purposes.

Project Camelot was in touch with a secret source last night who was talking about synthetic beings and basically, I guess, some form of biological robot, I guess, that are being created. And some which may be also coming here, in other words.

So I am wondering whether or not the Gulf of Aden is specifically connected with a possible invasion of these synthetic beings. Is there anything, any hook-up that you know of, in this regard?

AM: There has been talk about it amongst me and some other people that I am in direct contact with that were a part of multiple projects under MK Ultra. That's something that we've discussed.

But we weren't sure if we really wanted to go public with that just yet, because, you know, what I'm saying already, and what people are going to say, is going to invoke fear. But fear can build strength and using that fear... turn it around, to really find out what's going on.

KC: Okay.

AM: It's something that we have talked about that indeed is being used to bring in synthetic beings that were made off-planet.

KC: Okay.

AM: Now I'm just curious. Now I've got a question for you.

KC: Sure.

AM: I'm going to turn around and ask you a question.

KC: [laughs]

AM: Your contact last night, when he was talking about these synthetic beings that are being created on-planet? I'm curious if he's actually referring to the Omega Program?

KC: Okay, he didn't name that program. He simply was referring to both aspects.

AM: Okay.

KC: In other words, the one which is that the military -- in China as well as the US -- has been creating these beings and that there is also... and it was really interesting, and obviously we're going to be releasing the interview shortly.

But he was talking about these beings that were created, in association, "on Atlantis" who were then taken off-planet to another planet and allowed "to develop." Basically they developed themselves. However, they're synthetic; for all intents and purposes, they don't have a soul; and that they are now, for some reason, returning to our planet, and that they are, let's say, "not happy."

This is the testimony from our witness, so it just dovetails in a very interesting way. Now, this person was not able to say whether they had arrived yet. I think that he was indicating that they had not. But I'd have to go back over the transcript to verify that.

AM: From the information that I've been able to gather, my intuition says that they are currently arriving because of the huge electromagnetic anomaly that happened specifically on January 5th of this year, 2010.

KC: Okay. Are you talking about the blue spiral over Norway?

AM: There has been speculation that that blue spiral... and other spirals have been showing up over Norway. Could that be related to this? It could be. I don't have enough information to say yes or no. I would not be surprised, though, if in some way it has direct relation to it. I would not be surprised, but I don't want to say absolute.

KC: Okay.

AM: I'll allow people to do their own research and I'm going to continue to do my research.

It's interesting what you just mentioned about the soul-less beings because the project that I was mainly a part of, the project that I was, in reality, from the time I was a child, was prepared for -- and again, we'll get into that on the next interview -- Project Seagate.

Project Seagate was a major project with a huge underground base location and they were working on many different sub-projects. Project Seagate is almost like a sub-version of MK Ultra.

Project Seagate: one location that had many sub-projects, everything from the human / dolphin / Super Soldier program, to an Omega Program where they were making soul-less beings for remote viewing and actual, via the Seagate, being able to put people -- and yes, this is real people -- their astral self, their energy, their soul, into one of these robots for covert operations, so that if the body gets killed, they are able to extract and put it in.

I have people that I know that this has happened to, and we have absolute evidence of this happening.

KC: So this is a lot like Avatar, basically. You're talking about...

AM: I am talking about...

KC: ...military personnel, that basically they're going in and "inhabiting" these robotic beings.

AM: Yes.

KC: Yeah, that's fascinating.

AM: And also they found that it was easier to have this for traveling, for operations, through the Seagate.

KC: Off-planet.

AM: Off-planet. My specific role, which I don't want to get into right now because, you know, it's very complicated, but I will say that my involvement with Project Seagate was very high up, very in depth, and I've been to some interesting locations.

KC: Okay. Do you think that you yourself were doing some of this, you know, having your "essence", in essence, go into one of these robotic beings and travel? Or is your experience different than that?

AM: I worked with people that did that...

KC: Okay.

AM: ...but because of my specific training... As far as alterations that were done to my body, even as a young child, some memories are coming back that even my parents have no recollection of. I was able to physically be relocated because of what was done to me. And there's another person that you're in contact with who is able to do the same thing, actually was a person I worked with closely that was there.

KC: Okay.

AM: And this person... when the time comes, this person will be talking to you. Someone you already talked to will be speaking of the Project Seagate as well.

KC: Okay. And you have some unique abilities in terms of water. Is there a thought that you yourself were, I don't know, your DNA was combined with, for example, a dolphin? Is that possible?

AM: I'm learning new things about myself almost every day. With me, anything is really possible because I've been told some things by reliable sources that have completely blown me away. In fact, I'm still having a hard time... I mean, I accept it. I know it's true. But it's very hard to deal with because, I mean, my body has been through a living hell.

I had some questionable experimentations that were done to me as a child that I absolutely remember. Well, I'll just say this, the reason why I was...

Everything began for me from the time I was three years old. I have an absolute memory that I've been able to get confirmed from family, where I was taken to a facility by a certain relative – I will mention that when I do my full interview – who I do not have contact with, was not allowed to have contact with.

When I was three years old, I was thrown into a pool and they induced me to drown. I remember laying, then, on a slab next to this pool, throwing up and coughing up water and then seeing these men around saying: We have one.

I remember hearing that. This is not a dream, this is not fantasy, this is absolute. I sometimes still wake up with having night terrors and flashbacks about this.

I've always been able to hold my breath for a long time without having to do the hyperventilating. I've always had a very interesting relationship with water. I have several people that you know, that can absolutely, with complete honesty, tell you of accounts that they've witnessed of things that have happened to me with water.

I've been told not to do any kind of soaking in water, because of something which I will reveal in the next interview, which could happen.

KC: Okay. So, rather than go down that road, since this interview is about another matter...

AM: Yes.

KC: ...let's go back to the Gulf of Aden and talk about the false flag subject in terms of what specifically, if anything, has been left out of this interview so far. Because I think we could wrap this up, as it is.

AM: Yes.

KC: I can't think of any particular areas that we might not have covered, but then, maybe something might have occurred to you. So I want to make sure that we've covered this topic, that you've gotten out the word about what you think is coming in regard to the build-up of the military there. Any other random thoughts or information, pieces of information that you might have that would be pertinent for the public to be aware of here?

AM: Don't travel to the Middle East this year. Do not travel there. Do not go there because they do not care about "collateral damage". They proved that with 9/11. They proved that with the Oklahoma bombing. They proved that on December 25th. They proved that at Fort Hood.

They do not care. You are an expendable piece of property to the Global Elite, to Mark Ultra, to governments all around the world.

I have just a really deep, sinking [and] dark feeling that there's going to be a lot of death. I've been seeing death. I've been having visions of some really horrible scenarios that could definitely... are possible. Not just in the Middle East, specifically Yemen, but in-country.

Do your research. Everything that I have said in this interview and that Kerry has said... please... You know, what I'm telling you is absolute and I've also specified what was theory, what was my intuition, and I've even labelled some sources where I gathered information.

Everybody that sees this interview, I encourage you to do the same. Don't just take my word for it – because if you just take my word for it, you're doing the same as watching TV or watching the movies and taking their word for it.

You need to do the research on your own because that will allow you to open your mind and really give yourself empowerment.

The greatest gift humanity was ever given was free will, and as long as you allow your free will to keep working, you will open up to what's occurring.

False flags are going to be happening more, based on my intuition and my intelligence that I have gathered. Something else big is going to happen in the United States and it's all being done to invoke this "war on terror" in Yemen, for movement with this seagate. Is it going to be to help escort these beings from off-planet? Or are these friendly beings that are trying to do something?

We're already in a galactic war that's happening now. Believe it or not, it's happening. But with that war, there are many different battles occurring and we are on the brink of a new battle. This is definite; I have no doubt about that. This is going to be another battle of the galactic war.

And what people need to realize is that this planet is a war prize. It always has been. There's always been conflict for this planet, and there are many reasons which I could get into, but God, you know, I would go and on and on.

Is there any other information that I can think of that people need to know about? Not at this time. Just know, specifically, you will find that the major countries that have warships... And I want to emphasize: these are warships, everybody – the United Kingdom, Russia, China, Japan, Germany, NATO, the UN, and the now mercenary group Xe, which is more commonly known as Blackwater. There are scientific research corporations there right now under multi-national contract doing heavy research on alien/ human DNA.

Ask yourself: Why? Ask yourself why was there a doctor that worked for this company that unexplainably said: The Earth, the people of the world have to be notified. It's quoted in an article I found – and attempted "suicide" because she knew something. She was part of something. She had her own self-awakening and the information she has was so great, so overwhelming, that she tried to kill herself. But did she really try to kill herself? Or was this a mind-controlled, you know, attempt to kill herself?

Three of the people that I was in contact with, that I working with, what I myself was helping orchestrate – false flag events in 2008, and in the beginning of 2009 – unexpectedly disappeared when they themselves became more self-aware and realized what they were doing was wrong.

I have emails from certain personnel that contacted me and said that they were under house arrest in Twenty Nine Palms. Right after this – and I need to say this because this shows the level of seriousness that this is at – the person that I was in contact with, Captain Scott

Syner/Signer [name unclear] I will say his name because he has disappeared.

The place that he lived at, which was not too far from where I was living... I went to where he was living because had I lost communication. He had given me a document that actually talks about the preparation, a document that was drafted in, I believe in 2000, for the agenda going all the way up to 2015 – a document was never supposed to leave the hands of certain personnel.

I have 22 pages of that document that I have shared with you, Kerry. This will... I'm getting off track. This person, Scott "Syner/Signer", Captain Scott "Syner/Signer" who had given me this information, started realizing things were wrong, up and disappeared.

Where he lived, I went and talked with the manager. They had no... They would not tell me. Oh we had no Scott "Syner/Signer" living here. His phone became disconnected. The people that I was in contact with were disappearing left and right.

I myself became under heavy surveillance, even had an attempt on my life. Yes, that did happen last year, where on one occasion where I first thought it was an accident until I got more information. Well, it was not necessarily an attempt on my life, but it was what they do a lot, which they're doing with a lot of people I'm in contact with. It was a scare tactic. They're trying to shut me up.

I just got absolute confirmation – and I'd like to emphasize on that, absolute confirmation, because that's what I have to have before I will really say in definite... The conference that unfortunately is having so many complications, the MK Ultra Mind Control Conference, I received an anonymous tip, and then through contacts of mine, saying that there was going to be "an attempt" on me at the conference because they know that I'm getting ready to whistleblow the project that is the absolute most secret-kept undercover project in the world. That is Project Seagate.

KC: Okay. So thank you very much, Aaron McCollum, and I assume that you want this video to go out as-is?

AM: Yes.

KC: In other words, we can talk about making it only audio; we can talk about possibly putting it into just a transcript, a written transcript, if you at a later date you decide to do so. But at this moment, is it your feeling that you want this to go on the Internet as-is?

AM: If I am going to really give... come out as a credible witness... I think that's what you're really calling them now, not whistleblower; you're using the term witness?

KC: Both.

AM: Okay. If I'm going to be an actual... because this interview is going to be followed up with the full interview of how I came to be, who I am now and my whole history of the training I got as a kid. We'll be blowing something wide open that you and I have talked about. If I'm going to have credibility, if I'm going to have people really see me, they need to see me as a person. They need to know.

And yes, you know, I have the tattoos and the earrings, but there's a reason, which I'll be explaining why I look the way I do now. But if I'm going to be a legitimate, real person... and also because there are people that I'm in contact with that I notified I was going to be doing this, and you and I talked about it... to see my face, to see that yes I am real, I am not some man behind the Iron Curtain, I'm not some "Deep Throat" in a parking garage. They need to see it as a whole.

KC: Okay.

AM: They need to see my face. For me, eye contact, seeing the person, is very much, you know, a lot more empowering.

KC: Okay.

AM: You know, my life has already been threatened, and attempts have been made. I have scars from knife wounds, from almost getting killed. But, being who I am, I lack the emotion of fear. I'm not afraid and I need to do this.

KC: Okay. Thank you very much. I also, just as a caveat, want to say here that isn't it true that your connection with Camelot and specifically with Duncan O'Finioan has been instrumental in you getting in touch with some of this?

AM: Yes. When a friend of mine first introduced me to Project Camelot, I was very interested because I was starting to have some memories come back. And then this friend of mine showed me the Duncan O'Finioan and the Dave Corso interview and it took everything not to break down and cry because... something... there was something I couldn't remember.

When I saw Duncan and I saw Dave, there was something inside that was just feeding me and I couldn't figure out what. And then when Duncan and Dave mentioned St. Thomas in the US Virgin Islands, my head literally hurt. It was like I was walking in this hallway and all these doors opened.

And I can tell you and I will be saying this in my interview, that Duncan and Dave have memory lapses of what happened in St. Thomas. I will be able to tell you, and I've talked to Duncan and Dave about this, what happened.

Yes, Dave and Duncan and I did in fact do operations together. We have confirmed it. We know it, and even another soon-to-be-whistleblower was directly involved with Project Seagate with me.

Me contacting you, saying this, is not a coincidence – there's no such thing as a coincidence. This was all the way it was supposed to be. I owe a big "thank you" to you for bringing me to the conference, and it was really a reunion between Duncan, Dave, and the other friend, who I promised I wouldn't say this person's name. I'll leave that up to this person.

KC: Yeah. I wanted to make sure that we gave kind of a "thank you" or a nod of the head to Duncan O'Finioan and Dave Corso.

AM: Yes, absolutely. And you know, Dave and I, we see each other all the time. I've been regularly going to his place. Duncan's been really busy, but there were a couple times after the conference when I was able to speak with him and actually see him when he was in LA filming The Manchurian Candidate.

By the way, I want to pitch that, [Kerry laughs] if you haven't seen what's titled as The Manchurian Candidate episode of Conspiracy Theory with Jesse Ventura. It's on TruTV. You can find it on YouTube now – an absolute must. It was so well done. I was so impressed with how well it was done.

That's my little pitch for that, just helping out my friends Dave and Duncan who are also working hard to get the word out.

KC: Okay. Thank you very much. Today is January 9th, 2010.

AM: Yes it is. It's Dave Corso's birthday today.

KC: There you go.

AM: I sent him a birthday card.

KC: [laughs] Okay, thank you very much.

AM: Thank you.
