Background to the JFK Assassination

Does Paying $20,000 to Join Bohemian Club Help Get a War Profiteer's Contracts Expedited?

It is my opinion that that is definitely the case.

Skull and Bones Founded the CIA

There are 4 members of the Skull and Bones Cult shown present at the signing of the USA's NATIONAL Security Act which created the CIA and turned the USA into a secret government; Harriman, Bundy, Lovett, and Stimson

There are only 15 new members of the Skull and Bones Death Worship Cult initiated each year; 150 every 10 years, 300 in the age range of 45 to 65. Since the population of the US is about 300 million, there is a 1 in a million or 0.000,0001 probability of a Skull and Bones man in that picture. However, in statistics we give the first such case the benefit of the doubt of coincidence and call it the index case. The probability that there was not a conspiracy involving Skull and Bones founding the CIA is the probability that the next three Skull and Bonesmen in the room were there by chance alone. That probability is 1 in a million cubed or 0.000,000,000,000,000,001. In short, this photo proves beyond a reasonable doubt that Skull and Bones was behind the founding of the CIA.

That does not exclude other co-conspirators in the legislative coup that in my opinion overthrew American democracy, such as the Rockefeller Family. The CIA specializes in rigging elections and does its best even in the US. Its success in that arena is proven by the US no longer having an audit-able paper trail of the votes (read Black Box Voting book free at www.blackboxvoting.org not .com). It is also proven by the fact that the voter was robbed of meaningful choice in Presidential elections by having the candidates allied with secret societies. And it is proven by the public's wanting health care, a modicum of job security, better schools, etc. ignored election after election. The Council on Foreign Relations represents the interests of powerful bankers like the Rockefellers, not the interests of the man on the street. When was the last time you had a vote at one of their meetings? They are not in favor of democracy or freedom, except as words to get others to do as they want. See the books Profits Not People and Manufacturing Consent by Noam Chomsky or the excellent 167-minute documentary Manufacturing Consent at <http://video.google.com/videoplay?docid=-5631882395226827730&hl=en>

Both Bushes, Clinton, and Kerry are members of Skull and Bones. The chance of all 4 of them being the nominees for President without a conspiracy to accomplish it is 0.000,000,000,000,000,001 i.e. less than 1 in a quadrillion. Watergate was the tip of the iceberg in the CIA's efforts to rig US elections. We had two men with integrity, without ties to financial scandals, running for election, Ralph Nader, and Ron Paul. Neither could get the nomination because they did not have the blessing of the Rockefellers, Bushes and their CIA. The CIA was set up to protect their illegal business operations and hide them from the public.

The Charter for the CIA was written by Bonesman Robert Lovett. Many of the early top officials in the CIA were members of Skull and Bones, including the Chief of Counter-Intelligence, Angleton, and the Director of Personnel. Those were key positions to ensure that only the people Skull and Bones wanted in the CIA got into it and the ability to kick out those that they decided to get rid of. Angleton often got rid of people. Outsiders attributed that to his being paranoid about the Soviets. Since he was a very early boss of mine, I was able to form my own opinion from the inside. It appeared to me that he was getting rid of people who objected to the CIA being run by Skull and Bones or who objected to the CIA seizing control of the US govt. behind the scenes.

Just what is Skull and Bones? Read these pages and you will begin to understand the danger of allowing politicians to have loyalties to a secret society.

A History of Skull and Bones Rituals Recalled From their Own Archives

They practice Christianity with their lips, and Satanism by their deeds. Some of them are mind controlled into amnesia by the trauma and drugs at the initial ceremony and do not even know later that they are Satanists. Others do know. I would say that about 20 percent are fully aware that what they are doing is evil and wrong and just don't know how to stop it. About 50% know what they are doing but deny that it is evil. They excuse it as their right to be pagan and uninhibited. Then about 10 percent are full multiples and are clueless in their overt personality as to what they are doing in their covert personalities. Then about another 20 percent are too lazy and apathetic to think about what they are doing. They are just doing it because others do it. (See the last section below "Protecting yourself from blackmail", if you have fallen into one of these traps).

The CIA did find methods to make over 90% of people criminals without a discernible conscience. They started with the basic Skull and Bone's ritual and had already made some improvements in it by the time Rodman Rockefeller tasked me to look into the issue. He was not happy with the almost 10% failure rate. Ops were run on Congressmen, CEO's, and foreign dignitaries. Having to kill 10% of them soon after inviting them to a "DC Party" was a high security risk--- someone might notice and leak that to a part of the press which was not well controlled. So, Rodman was very anxious that the "failure rate" get below 5%.

Rodman brought me the historical records from the Skull and Bone's Crypt. That included a blood smear on paper for each of the major rituals, and also financial records, and diaries. There was also an official registry of deaths, the names of the victims was occasionally listed as unknown. In the 1830's, the basic Skull and Bone's ritual was to rape/sodomize and then kill a victim with a knife, in no particular order. The victim was often a black person in those years, and a young virginal person was favored. The Klu Klux Klan was doing much the same thing with an emphasis on hanging. They were not so concerned with hiding their crimes, except for their rape of the women and girls. And they hid that because of their racism, not because of any great concern for being caught. In the 1830's, one could buy a black slave and kill him/her with few people so much as raising an eyebrow. Yale, though in the North, was an enclave of racism and slave-owner bravado. Many of the buildings are named after prominent slave owners. The first sex slaves used in their crypt were blacks or mulattos. Before the Civil War sometimes they had been able to get a black person from the Yale police station for free by just mentioning "their need" to the police. Over time that changed, because the Civil War came and went. The victims continued to be mainly blacks with a rare American Indian—but they were harder to come by. One had to stalk and abduct one, or purchase one on the black market and smuggle one in.

After Custer's Last Stand in 1876, "3 American Indians" were killed by the Bonesmen students at Yale. In that case, word got out, but they were saluted on campus for it, as if they had been part of the Cavalry to the rescue. They had not rescued anyone—they had killed 3 young girls who were housemaids in the neighborhood. The Bonesmen had not taken any trouble to establish that they were Indians, let alone responsible for harming Custer and his men. In that way it was like 9-11 and going to war in Iraq without evidence that it was the right thing to do. In retrospect it appeared that one of the 3 girls was a quarter Cherokee; the other two just happened to be her friends. The families employing the "indentured" servants demanded payment. After that, the young Bonemen students went to stealing their victims from further than 2 blocks away! The young men thought that they were “daring and courageous” to engage in such exploits. They viewed these rape-murders as feathers in their cap; much the same way men talk about getting a puck into a goal post. Their diaries of their sexual exploits would have made a woman-libber furious, or any person with a conscience, outraged at their callous disregard of the welfare of others.

During most of the years of Skull and Bones, the average number of murders committed by the Bonesmen students was about 3 a year. There was one year in which no one at all was killed, but that was judged to be a mistake later. People attributed the “loose tongues” to the ritual not being effective without a human sacrifice. I doubt that that was due to the “occult effectiveness” of human sacrifice, so much as the psychological affect of it. It could cause one to think twice before opening one’s mouth. One class tried to kill a person a month, much like the later “Get a man” fundraiser.

After Custer’s Last Stand, there was a shift in their writings. They were more concerned about getting caught; killing was viewed as a more serious crime as the days of the Wild West receded ever westward. They wanted to make their rituals more effective since there was more risk involved. They began looking into occultism and spells, and began formalizing the rituals. The first change that they made was to insist that the victim have a medical examination first and be found to be free of disease, and a virgin, if a girl. That change happened after 3 of their members died in rapid succession from syphilis. Those were older men that had graduated decades before and the deaths in a cluster was rather coincidental. That requirement, that a medical examine occur before the ritual, had far reaching consequences both in the choice of victim and the ritual. A Yale medical man had been bribed to give a go-ahead before receiving a specimen slide to examine under the microscope for spirochetes. The initiated class that year developed a fresh crop of the painless chancres characteristic of syphilis. Consequently, the wealthy parents demanded that the specimens be shipped off to Harvard medical school for the microscopic examination. As a result, of this time delay problem, the victim had to be held hostage for 2 weeks in the crowded crypt with the 15 students. Having a sex slave in residence had long been the case, but having 2? That issue was a thorny one and much discussed in the papers I had.

It took almost a decade before a strategy was settled on. It was partially settled by two of the Bonesmen students in differing years, two years apart, spilling secrets. That had landed a few other ones of them in prison until their wealthy and powerful fathers could illegally free them. After they were released, the bean spillers were killed in a particular violent ritual of torturing the two of them to death over a period of some days. [Probably, 1883, or 1892]. It was only when complaints from the locals of the screams got back to the Bonesmen that they ended their torment by killing them. For the next twenty or so years, until about 1910, it was not uncommon for one of their recent members to meet with “an accident”.

[Note; I did not look up the data until after I wrote down the basic framework from memory. The following Bonesmen died remarkably early in that period of time, (and not in the summer months either when the other Bonesmen would likely be dispersed!);

Number of deaths by year elapsed since initiation into Skull and Bones for 1881 to 1908

The premature deaths in this era were worse than in the preceding period (which included the Civil War) and the latter period (which included WWI). It appears that the Skull and Bonesmen were more likely to die from the violence of their “friends” than their “enemies”. It is no wonder that none has dared to speak of their rituals. When murder is committed of two people in the same location, it is unlikely that the death dates would be listed accurately. Three young college men died in the Fall of 1883. Whether that was the start of a crack-down on loose lips or not, you can decide for yourself.]

The man sacrificed was the one judged most likely to spill the beans or who had talked the most. That meant that for at least a year each member lived in fear of death. The diaries were solemn affairs brooding over death. The rituals were not killing the innocent, but a partner in the various other crimes that they committed together, which were many. Those crimes were competitions in stealing horses, buggies, and breaking into buildings on campus. The ritual itself at that point was to quickly cut the throat of the classmate, drain his blood into a basin, add 50% hard spirits, drink it, and then sexually violate the body.

That era came to an end when one of the parents of a sacrificed boy found out about it. The other students in that year were given a choice to serve in WWI or be put in prison. They chose military service. It was a curious choice to give them as the US was not in WWI yet—in fact, no one was. It would take several more years before WWI started. The Bonesmen elders were behind schedule in getting it off the ground. Per the documents in the Rockefeller Archive much preparation had been done to ensure a world war. It was a relative of a VIP that had been killed, I believe, albeit a fairly unimportant one. He was considered a runt in the family, a distant cousin, and a “tag-along good-for-nothing” by the other boys forced to accept him as a member. He had furthermore a limp left over from an attack of polio, if I remember correctly, and lacked the athletic charisma that the others wanted Skull and Bones to be known for on campus.

Never mind that a good number of them flunked out of Yale, even after correcting for the considerable intimidation of professors used to “up their grades”. After a Yale professor was found dead with a note pinned to his chest, most professors were willing to give a Skull and Bone’s student the “benefit of the doubt”. That led to one Bonesman student graduating 3 years behind his class in about the 1920’s when a professor let him take an exam three years running. When he still couldn’t pass him, he gave him the test on the “honor system” and another Bonesman student passed it for him.

During WWI, the diaries were filled with war news, particularly war news that came from the Bonesmen on the front about eating the hearts of the enemies. Ironically, having killed one of their own, the Bonesmen students had divided over who should take the blame for offing the runt. The choice had been a democratic one, a secret vote written on scraps of human skin from previous victims. One man complained that his scrap being from a black man had been hard to read. He complained that he may have been deprived of a vote because others voted on white dried skin and were more legible. Out of that discussion, it was revealed that the Bonesmen were in the habit of skinning their victims and making parchment from their hides. They used a different victim for each voting slip. Furthermore, they used parchments sometimes as “blankets” to sleep under to prove that they were not afraid of death. They were already living in the midst of many human bones in the crypt. Given that their fellow Bonesmen were in the trenches in WWI violating bodies when they could, it is perhaps no surprise that things in the crypt got more macabre. It got weirder than that and I will not go further to spare the reader.

The next standard ritual in the 1920’s was for them to sacrifice a young white girl who was a virgin by first gang raping her and then cutting out her heart and eating it raw. The girl captured was often the daughter of their father’s business competitor to help cut off his blood line. These were girls that they saw at cotillions in the hey days of the 1920’s when girls were no longer well chaperoned. The Bonesmen voted on who they wanted to capture, often deciding on 2-3 girls and abducting them over the course of a year. Because they wanted a sex slave to have sex with during the whole year, they went to abducting 2 and sacrificing one quickly and enslaving the other. She was then sacrificed when they got tired of her, and another girl was abducted. In about 1926, one girl escaped after a two-month long episode of being raped nightly and went to the police. Her wealthy family accompanied her. The Bonesmen, on discovering that, used their powerful contacts to call in the National Guard. The police station was set on fire and burned down with the girl, the family, and the police inside! The young men were told by their Bonesmen elders to be more careful; the locks on the crypt were redone. For a few days after that, the diary entries were morose again—some of the men had had their allowance cut because they had “gotten caught”. There was no moral embarrassment at the deed of enslaving the girl, only at the work their parents had had to go to in order to clean up the problem.

After that, the Bonesmen fathers picked who was allowed to be in charge of the policemen in the neighborhood of Yale and eventually in the whole state, just for good measure. After a Harvard girl of very wealthy parents disappeared into the crypt in about 1932, never to be seen again alive, the fathers extended their coverage to Massachusetts. By the end of WWII, they bragged that they had 24 States sewn up against possible murder reports originating from their activities that included drug running and the stealing of girls to sell into sexual slavery. Because the stealing and selling of American children as sex slaves increased, they needed more men to do the kidnapping and transporting of them. It was also helpful to have a border with another country close by to skip over, if one side got onto you.

Children and most adults are in the dark about the dangers of Secret Societies. They are secret because others would not approve of the criminal or mind control aspects of them.

There is nothing nice about being tortured, raped, and enslaved by others. So, Skull and Bones has tried to make to look cool or fun. But any group that one joins that terrorizes its members in an initiation ceremony and threatens to kill them if they talk, go to the police, or try to leave its control, is a criminal organization. The Mafia, the KKK, and street gangs are much the same as Skull and Bones; they all require their members to commit crimes so that they have a blackmail hold over them.

Running Illegal Drugs

See the following well documented books on the CIA/Cabal's drug running, a continuation of the Skull and Bone's tradition since 1832.. Please be sure to see the clip How the war on drugs scam works - Alex Jones at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=A_VIUej-Uu8.

In the forward of the book, Barry and the Boys, the author mentions that CIA operative Barry Seals died a violent death with Bush, Sr.'s private phone number in his pocket. Barry Seals was helping bring illegal drugs into the US for the CIA. The War on Drugs was a war on the competition's drug running, not the CIA's. It ensured that the CIA/Cabal had a monopoly. But the CIA sometimes shot FBI and DEA officers that were slow to figure that out. See the movie White Sands as an example of that type of problem. The author goes on to say in the forward that his research into the book answered a question that he didn't know he had, "Why would a Presidential candidate spend millions to get a job that pays only $200,000 a year? (paraphrased from memory).

There are many books documenting CIA drug running. A few of them that I know about are;

Dark Alliance by Gary Webb

Reporter Webb carefully documented using mainly court records that the CIA was running crack cocaine into black neighborhoods using the Contras.

Barry and the Boys

This book is about CIA drug runner Barry Seals who died with the private phone number of Bush, Sr. in his pocket. He had been running drugs into Mena, Arkansas while Clinton was Governor. Duffle bags of drugs were dropped out of small planes into a ranch to be collected on the ground.

Whiteout by Jefferies and Cockburn

This book is a valuable, though dated overview of the CIA's drug running and misdeeds. It talks about drug running in the Vietnam era mainly; the CIA's airline Air America was flying opium out of the Burmese triangle.

The Politics of Heroin

Afghanistan was a major producer of heroin until in May 2000 the Taliban ordered the farmers not to grow opium poppies. That ban was about 90% effective and cut heroin profits to the US shadow government enormously, until the US re-established the growing of opium poppies early in its occupation of Afghanistan.

The Conspirator's by US intelligence insider Al Martin:

Martin admits that he wrote a lot of the illegal financial scams to make money to fund the Contras without Congressional approval. Remember that the Saving and Loans Scandal was CIA run and netted $16,000 per US taxpayer. Also, the CIA had contras selling cocaine in the US to make money. He says Ollie North was devastated to learn that only 3% of the stolen moneys went to the Contras. The rest went into the pockets of private politicians. He quotes Bush, Sr. as saying that the public “is going to lynch us when they find out”.

Bush, Jr. Granted Rare Clemency to a Cannibal Sex Slave Trafficker/Mass Murderer

From SHERMAN SKOLNICK

See "The Overthrow of the American Republic", www.skolnicksreport.com

“One of those convicted of the satanic cult mass murders in the Brownsville/Matamoros region and elsewhere was a fellow named Henry Lee Lucas.

When George W. Bush was Governor of Texas, he mysteriously granted clemency to this mass-murderer.

Yet, there was no basis in law or fact for the Governor to so favor Lucas, other than the Bush Crime Family was in business with him in respect to the drug [and sex slave] trafficking and satanic cult operations of the Brownsville/ Matamoros region.

With terrible-to-look-at pictures, the horrors of the one or more satanic cults so operating in the Brownsville/Matamoros region are detailed in a little-known, hard to locate book, "Hell Ranch" by Clifford Linedecker.

By 1999, some reporters had attempted to question George W. Bush as to some of the foregoing, while Bush was planning to run for President in the U.S. 2000 Election.

As the head of an investigative group and Founder/Chairman, since 1963 of the Citizen's Committee to Clean Up the Courts, Skolnick began relating, on various radio talk shows, the problems the reporters were having in confronting George W. Bush with his apparent complicity in the satanic cult mass murders in the Brownsville, Texas area.

“These websites apparently gave the impression to poorly-informed, naive people that the whole series of events in the Brownsville/ Matamoros region were purely imaginary, and never occurred and there was no complicity of the Bushies including George W. Bush. [This mirrors Nazi supporters denying that the Holocaust happened].

Obviously to detail all the persons and entities involved with the satanic cultists, human sacrifice locations, and drug-traffickers and mind-control dictators, in the Matamoros/

Brownsville region would and could fill a series of encyclopedias on the dope business, satanic cults, corrupted dope enforcers, and related topics.

[A book that does go into many related details is "The Strength of the Wolf---The Secret History of America's War on Drugs" by Douglas Valentine, Verso Books, 2004, New York. The American CIA needs the drug-lords to be able to penetrate otherwise hard to spy on nations, is a theme of the book.] “

From: “ Bush pardons MKULTRA stooge” <http://portland.indymedia.org/en/2005/01/308857.shtml> [see full article in its original]

“As Texas Governor, the only person Bush, Jr. pardoned from the death sentence was the mass murderer who very likely killed more than any other serial killer in U.S. history. And Henry has explicitly stated that the cult included among its members various prominent persons, including high-level politicians. Could this be the reason for the actions taken by Governor Bush in June of 1998?. ”...

Henry has said that this cult operated out of Texas and from a ranch in northern Mexico, trafficking in children and drugs, among other nefarious pursuits. Some of the murders were political hits, according to Henry, including the occasional assassination of foreign dignitaries... Henry Lee Lucas, mass murderer/cannibal was reported to have liked to take little kids along and force them to participate in the ritualized killings and cannibalism....Henry's crimes were of a particularly brutal nature, involving rape, torture, mutilation, dismemberment, necrophilia, cannibalism, and pedophilia, with the number of victims running as high as 300-600 by some accounts - including Henry's own, at times”

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jim_Jones He was CIA. I meet him twice inside CIA Headquarters. See Was Jonestown a CIA Medical Experiment? by Robert Meiers

[Henry claimed he was] a close friend of Jim Jones of the People's Temple. Henry has claimed on numerous occasions that it was he who personally delivered the cyanide to Jones that was used in the infamous Jonestown massacre. So in the world of spooks, Henry would be in good company. As would his partner, Ottis Toole, who wouldn't even have the distinction of being the only cannibal recruited by the CIA.

Strange that Henry would claim a connection to a man whose operation was notable primarily for being a breeding ground for mind control and mass murder. Of course Henry, being uneducated and illiterate, would not likely have had access to this information.

"By all accounts though, Lucas, frequently working with partner Ottis Toole - a self described arsonist and cannibal - savagely murdered literally scores of victims of all ages, races, and genders. All indications were then that this was pretty much of a no-brainer for America's premier hanging governor. But then a most remarkable thing happened. On June 18, just twelve days before Henry's scheduled demise, Governor Bush asked the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, whose members are appointed by Bush himself, to review Henry's case. Strangely enough, eight days later the Board uncharacteristically recommended that Henry's execution not take place... And why is it that Henry was granted full clemency, rather than a temporary stay during which his case could have been reviewed? ... Clearly, there was something more at work then in the Lucas case than simply a question of guilt.

There had to be another reason why Bush would take such extraordinary steps to spare the life of a man who had led a life of such brutality. And this was certainly not the first time that the criminal justice system had shown such extraordinary leniency towards Lucas. ...

Sentenced to 20-40 years, Henry was released after serving just ten.... Clearly of relevance here is the fact that Lucas, during his prior ten year prison stay, spent four and a half of those years in a mental ward. During this time, he received intensive drug and electroshock treatments. He would later describe this period of incarceration as a "nightmare that would not end." [It is possible that he was programmed as an MKULTRA assassin during this time.]

Nevertheless, the board decided that ten years was an adequate amount of time to serve for the crime of killing one's mother and then violating the corpse. Within a year, of course, Henry found himself back in prison, this time for attempting to abduct a young girl. Despite his prior record - which began long before killing his mother - Lucas served just four years and was again released early, this time in August of 1975. Shortly thereafter, Henry and his new friend Ottis would commit an untold number of lurid murders spanning the next eight years. Henry would finally be arrested in October of 1982 on suspicion of two murders, only to be promptly released. He was not arrested again until June of 1983, and has been imprisoned ever since.

After his final arrest, Henry was taken on tour, so to speak, by various law enforcement officials around the country, during which time he confessed to some 600 murders in 26 states. There were various charges made at the time that Henry was being used by his escorts to clear troublesome unsolved murders in places he had never even been.

This quite likely was the case. Henry seemed to have a very chummy relationship with his captors, particularly the Texas Rangers, and provided a valuable service for them by taking the rap for an amazing array of murders. .

*In 1985, just a couple years into his incarceration, he attempted to tell his story in a book, written for him by a sympathetic author. The book, titled The Hand of Death: The Henry Lee Lucas Story, available at Amazon.com, tells of Henry's indoctrination into a nationwide Satanic cult. Lucas claimed that he was trained by the cult in a mobile paramilitary camp in the Florida Everglades in the fine art of killing, up close and personal. Other training involved abduction and arson techniques. Following his training, Henry claimed to have served the cult in various ways, including as a contract killer and as an abductor of children, who were then taken just over the* border to a ranch in Mexico near Juarez. Henry has said that this cult operated out of Texas and from a ranch in northern Mexico, trafficking in children and drugs, among other nefarious pursuits. In essence, Henry claimed that what appeared to be the random work of a serial killer was in fact a planned series of crimes often committed for specific purposes.

Some of the murders were political hits, according to Henry, including the occasional assassination of foreign dignitaries.

“Could Henry have been telling the truth about being a contract killer? And if so, did the contracts he was receiving have some kind of government connection? Though Henry never broaches the subject in his book, the training camp as he describes it clearly had military connections.”

Reporters asking Bush, Jr. about a Satanic Murder were Threatened

From: “Bush part of the Brownsville satan cult; Bush pardons MKULTRA stooge (Henry Lucas)” <http://portland.indymedia.org/en/2005/01/308857.shtml>

“Republican presidential candidate George W. Bush declined to answer questions Monday concerning his alleged involvement in a 1984 Brownsville, TX, mass murder, in which 17 people were ritualistically murdered and skinned. 'I will not stoop to discussing that,' said Bush during a campaign stop at a Bay Area software-packaging plant. 'We've got people across this country without health care, a broken educational system, taxes that are way too high, and all you want to talk about is something THAT MAY OR MAY NOT HAVE HAPPENED 16 years ago? I'm sorry, but I find that offensive.' ” (Emphasis added). Bush, the son of a billionaire, was strangely living in the most impoverished place in America, Brownsville. Bush was living nearby to and also inside the headquarters of a Satanic Cult of which he was a member. Bush disappeared for three days during which ALL of the other of his fellow Cult Members were slaughtered. After he reappeared he could not explain where he had been.

The local prosecutor continued to pursue Bush, sole Cult survivor, on mass murder charges for six months thereafter, heavily pressured by Daddy Bush to stop the investigation.

For asking these questions the reporters were threatened with reprisals later by Bush and thereafter have feared for their life.”

Skull and Bones Initiation Ritual Captured on Video by Reporter Rosenbaum

Skull and Bones Initiation Ritual Captured on Video by Ace Reporter by Rick Wiles

www.indybay.org/newsitems/2003/01/07/15577101.php

'Rosenbaum said much of the ceremony that he videotaped on Saturday, April 14, "centered on its death fixation"....According to Rosenbaum's eyewitness account, the new members were led forward by a figure dressed as Satan. His appearance was greeted by,..."a shrill, menacing and sometimes blood-curdling chorus of cries and screams and imprecations."

The video shows one member—known as a "Patriarch"—posing as President George W. Bush, wearing a cape, and speaking in a Texas-twang threatening an initiate: "I'm going to ream you like I reamed Al Gore."

That statement was followed by the initiate saying, "Help me! It's the devil"

The initiates are referred to as "neophytes" and are bombarded with sexual insults.

Alex Jones's Account of a Skull and Bones Ritual at Bohemian Grove

The ritual was called “The Cremation of Care” when it was performed in 1990.

From The Bohemian Grove is an Offshoot of Skull and Bones by Alex Jones's www.infowars.com/exclusive_new_bg.htm

“...documentary filmmaker Alex Jones infiltrated Bohemian Grove, becoming the first person to capture the bizarre occult activities of the all-male elite club membership on videotape. This footage recently aired in England, Ireland, and Scotland[as]: The Secret Rulers of the World...

For over 128 years, world leaders have traveled to Sonoma County California in the month of July. Almost immediately, bizarre rumors began to circulate in the local press that something dark and occult was going on. The rumors entailed dark stories of men in black and red robes and a giant 40-foot stone owl....He brought a bound body to the high priest who was waiting for it.... Then, in a very macabre fashion, the two black clad priests rubbed and caress the sacrificial body [person] and brought it before the owl.

The body [person] begged for its [his] life, over a speaker system. They refused it [the person] mercy. They took it [him] up onto the altar. The “great owl” told them to burn the body [person]Right above the altar there was a large stone lamp that was burning that they call the eternal flame. The body [person] again begged for mercy. The high priest then walked down...and lit the pyre on fire. He began to say that he would read the signs in the remains, a deep occult tradition....

The body [person] continued to scream in pain. Suddenly, all of those little metal crosses that we had seen along the bank during the day burst into flame. So, I was there witnessing something right out of the medieval painter Hieronymus Bosch's Visions of Hell: burning metal crosses, priests in red and black robes with the high priest in a silver robe with a red cape, a burning body screaming in pain, a giant stone great-horned owl, world leaders, bankers, media and the head of academia engaged in these activities. It was total insanity."

Skull and Bones is a secret society for running drugs, slaves, and weapons running. Like the Ku Klux Klan they claimed to be Christian while murdering blacks, and raping women. In the 1800's, their members were funding eugenics research, denying civil rights to blacks, and advocating population reduction.

Having to Falsify Autopsies after Cabal Rituals

Please see Ex-FBI Investigator Ted Gunderson's video Child Prostitution, Satanism, & The CIA - 3of7 , if you have not already seen it at www.youtube.com/watch?v=ydwOiZraJ2o . He says there about 3 million practicing Satanists in the US, sacrificing about 50,000 victims a year, he estimates from his sources who are Satanists.

"It would be unwise to condemn as irrational the practices of those savages who tear the heart and liver of an adversary and devour them while yet warm....For the Highest Spiritual working must accordingly choose the victim with the greatest and purest force. A male child of perfect innocence and high intelligence is that most satisfactory and suitable victim. " ---Alistar Crowley

Skull and Bones/CIA makes credible disinformation by having inner and outer ceremonies, with the outer ones being purely symbolic. It is common for large audience ceremonies to have an element of plausible deniability built into them. Namely, the audience may not be able to tell from what they see and hear whether a murder has been committed or not.

That said, as a CIA physician I was coerced into performing autopsies on a number of people afterwards. The point of those autopsies was to falsify them which I did under threat of death to my family. When you have to cut the kidneys out and weigh them, there is no longer any doubt that the person is dead. If you saw them live at the beginning of the ceremony and then dead right after it, that leaves murder or suicide. I have yet to see a person cut open their own chest and take their own heart out before expiring. So, suicide is not what I believed happened.

I falsified 37 autopsies on the orders of George Bush, Sr.. Most of those were while he was Vice President and President. On one occasion I discussed with him the need to have fewer such incidents. He agreed and there was about a 50% reduction.

In my work as an intelligence negotiator for the CIA, I had numerous meetings with members of the KGB after the Cold War was over. Because they had penetrated the White House with bugs, cameras, and foreign agents, they had much more information on Skull and Bone's and its rituals than Alex Jones or other US journalists who have bravely tried to discover the Truth. Several times, most recently in 2004, they showed me color photos of the Skull and Bone's rituals and crimes. They wanted to know how much the US Administration would pay to buy them back. Collecting such incriminating evidence was their ticket to getting rich. There were a lot of them trying to get that information and some did quite a thorough job of it. So, then I would have to call the US Administration from Moscow. Since they needed to know what was in the evidence to judge how much to pay, I had to look at it. It made the photos of the US torture in the Abu Ghraib prison look like the coverup they are. The really bad pictures of that have not been released. Nowhere do you see a person screaming in pain from electricity or having their skin peeled off in thin strips. Nor do you see a knife being stabbed into someone and their heart being cut out.

Once I looked into the question of how many people in the US were showing up in the CIA's morgue without their hearts in their chests. The autopsies said that they all died of 'natural causes' or accidents. But the CIA pathologists were not statisticians so when they made up missing data they did not do it right. They used easy numbers like 300 grams, 250 grams, or 200 grams for the size of the heart. So when one plotted the internal organ weights one saw nice bell shaped curves for the kidney weights, but not for the heart weights. That bar graph looked like 3 tall buildings on a gentle hill. That is, more than half of the CIA autopsied bodies were delivered to the CIA without their hearts in them. That was about 60 deaths a year from Skull and Bone's rituals in which the body was transported to the CIA in Langley for disposal, per the autopsy numbers on file. It is not quite true that there were that many transported since some people were tortured to death in the basement of the CIA. That would be about a third of the 60. It is also possible that the numbers of deaths were much higher than the number of autopsies saved in the CIA's files.

The bodies that were transported came mostly from a very short distance away--a CACI facility with 3 underground floors. The building looks like and is an auditorium on the ground level. Its roof is the shape of an ocean swell. Rich men looking for S&M sex have had their fantasies fulfilled there.

I have been inside its basements. The first floor down is mainly offices, and lounge for the staff. The interrogation rooms are lower down and include a large vat with a tilt board so that the victim can repeatedly be drowned. Vomiting and seizures were common. The reason it is called water boarding is that they strap the victim to a board so that the staff are not hurt when the victim starts seizing.

When a person is electrically tortured, electrodes are placed in orifices to invade the person's sense of self and leave no visible marks that others can see. The pain is all that exists at that moment. There is no room left for a perception of self. The will of the torturers or those that give them the orders take over the use of that body to control it. They inject victims with drugs to make them helpless. Those drugs may be paralyzing so the person can not move or even breathe on their own. They can also be hallucinogens to deny the person the use of their own mind. They upset the body's health until it is dying over and over again. That gives an intense feeling of instability. Monarch children, those tortured in the mind control programs, are named after a butterfly because the whole of their mind and body flutters helplessly in the pain and dying experience. Such cruel treatment of human beings is not consistent with a true belief in God. People doing those things, or ordering them done, are Satanists as proven by their deeds.

As long as a person has insufficient faith in God, the experiences in this world are periodically quite upsetting. Some people get upset just by someone cutting in front of them on the road, even though they get to work on time. Under torture, either the victim learns to Let go and Let God, or is broken by the suffering of it. Some people cannot see why they should go on living. People who lack a conscience are incredibly cruel without thinking twice about it. The Skull and Bones rituals are designed to kill the participant's conscience and largely they succeed.

Such people rarely apologize or admit errors. They are selfish and only concerned about what they want without any regard as to how it effects others. They often believe that the truth is whatever they say it is because they assume they are like a god and can create reality. They have thrown God out of their lives and tried to take His place. Satanists believe that they have the right to kill anyone who gets in their way. They have no respect for God's creation. Without a functioning conscience they leave death and destruction in their wake.

The Mining of Prisons for Violent Criminals to Join the Skull and Bones's CIA

"For anyone who doubts that the CIA (or any other of the numerous interwoven intelligence agencies) would recruit murderers, it is important to remember that we are talking about the same agencies that recruited some of the most bloodthirsty butchers of the Third Reich - men such as Klaus Barbie, Joseph Mengele, Adolf Eichmann, Otto Skorzeny, and Reinhard Gehlen."

"A U.S. Navy psychologist, who claims that the Office of Naval Intelligence had taken convicted murderers from military prisons, used behavior modification techniques on them, and then relocated them in American embassies throughout the world ... The Navy psychologist was Lt. Commander Thomas Narut of the U.S. Regional Medical Center in Naples, Italy. The information was divulged at an Oslo NATO conference of 120 psychologists from the eleven nation alliance ... The Navy provided all the funding necessary, according To Narut.

"Dr. Narut, in a question and answer session with reporters from many nations, revealed how the Navy was secretly programming large numbers of assassins. He said that the men he had worked with for the Navy were being prepared for commando-type operations, as well as covert operations in U.S. embassies worldwide. He described the men who went through his program as 'hit men and assassins' who could kill on command.

"Careful screening of the subjects was accomplished by Navy psychologists through the military records ... and many were convicted murderers serving military prison sentences."

"As Douglas Valentine writes in The Phoenix Program (Morrow, 1990)- concerning the CIA's assassination, torture and terror program waged against the people of Vietnam - the Phoenix teams consisted of SEALs working with "CTs," described by one participant as "a combination of ARVN deserters, VC turncoats, and bad motherf__ker criminals the South Vietnamese couldn't deal with in prison, so they turned them over to us." The spooks were only too happy to employ the services of these men, who "taught [their] SEAL comrades the secrets of the psy war campaign." So depraved were these agency recruits that some of them "would actually devour their enemies' vital organs." All in a day's work for America's premier intelligence agency."

Both are satanic cultists, members of Skull & Bastards Society.

Knowledgeable sources contend that concealed, in part, by Kerry's divorce from his first wife and his silence about his episodes in England, are some horrors equal to the foregoing.

With the help of entertainers, Kerry in London, England, reportedly engaged in sexual perversions with 13 year old girls and even with those much younger; with Kerry somehow complicit in porno snuff rituals. That is, where after the weirdo event, the victim, whether three years old or thirteen, becomes a human sacrifice, and is killed on camera. “

“More on Bill Clinton's long history of sexual violence against women

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Two weeks, Capitol Hill Blue first published an account of more than a dozen women who have reported being either assaulted or raped by Bill Clinton over the last 30 years. Since that story was first published, Juanita Broaddrick, one of the women mentioned in this story, has gone public with an interview and two other victims have given us permission to use their names. The updated story appears below)

*By Daniel J. Harris
& Teresa Hampton
Capitol Hill Blue*

Juanita Broaddrick's terrifying story of a violent rape by Bill Clinton is only one of more than a dozen cases of sexual assault by the President that go back 30 years.

Capitol Hill Blue has confirmed that the charge is but one of many allegations of sexual assault by the President.

A five month investigation into the President's questionable sexual history reveal incidents that go back as far as Clinton's college days, with more than a dozen women claiming his sexual appetites leave little room for the word "no."

Juanita Broaddrick, an Arkansas woman who worked on Bill Clinton's campaign when he was attorney general, told NBC's Lisa Meyers two weeks ago she was raped by Clinton. NBC, under intense pressure by the White House, shelved the interview. The White House also threatened Fox News Tuesday after it reported the story. Broaddrick finally took her story to The Wall Street Journal, which published her account of the brutal rape at the hands of the future President.

But Broaddrick's story is only one account of many sexual assaults by Clinton. Among the other incidents:

- A 1969 charge by a Eileen Wellstone, 19-year-old English woman who said Clinton assaulted her after she met him at a pub near the Oxford University campus where the future President was a student. A retired State Department employee, who asked not to be identified, confirmed this week that he spoke with the family of the girl and filed a report with his superiors. Clinton admitted having sex with the girl, but claimed it was consensual. The victim's family declined to pursue the case;*
- In 1972, a 22-year-old woman told campus police at Yale University that she was sexually assaulted by Clinton, who was a law student at the college. No charges were filed, but retired campus policemen contacted by Capitol Hill Blue confirmed the incident;*

- In 1974, a female student at the University of Arkansas complained that then-law professor Bill Clinton tried to prevent her from leaving his office during a conference. She said he groped her and forced his hand inside her blouse. Clinton claimed the student "came on" to him and she left the school shortly after the incident. Several former students at the University have confirmed the incident in confidential interviews;
- Broaddrick, a volunteer in Clinton's attorney general campaign, said he raped her in 1978;
- From 1978-1980, during Clinton's first term as governor of Arkansas, state troopers assigned to protect the governor reported seven complaints from women who said Clinton forced, or attempted to force, himself on them sexually. One retired state trooper said in an interview that the common joke among those assigned to protect Clinton was "who's next?";
- Elizabeth Ward, the Miss Arkansas who won the Miss America crown in 1982, told friends she was forced by Clinton to have sex with him shortly after she won her state crown. Last year, Ward, who is now married with the last name of Gracen, told an interviewer she did have sex with Clinton but said it was consensual. She later recanted that interview and said she had been threatened by Clinton supporters into claiming the sex was consensual.
- Paula Corbin, an Arkansas state worker, filed a sexual harassment case against Clinton after an encounter in a Little Rock hotel room where the then-governor exposed himself and demanded oral sex. Clinton settled the case with Jones recently with a cash payment.
- Sandra Allen James, a former Washington, DC, political fundraiser says Presidential candidate-to-be Clinton invited her to his hotel room during a political trip to the nation's capital in 1991, pinned her against the wall and stuck his hand up her dress. She says she screamed loud enough for the Arkansas State Trooper stationed outside the hotel suite to bang on the door and ask if everything was all right, at which point Clinton released her and she fled the room. When she reported the incident to her boss, he advised her to keep her mouth shut if she wanted to keep working. Miss James has since married and left Washington.
- Kathleen Willey, a White House volunteer, reported that Clinton grabbed her, fondled her breast and pressed her hand against his genitals during an Oval Office meeting in November, 1993. Willey, who told her story in a 60 Minutes interview, became a target of a White House-directed smear campaign after she went public.

"In an interview with Capitol Hill Blue this week, the retired State Department employee said he believed the story Miss Wellstone, the young English woman who said Clinton raped her in 1969.

"There was no doubt in my mind that this young woman had suffered severe emotional trauma," he said. "But we were under tremendous pressure to avoid the embarrassment of having a Rhodes Scholar charged with rape. I filed a report with my superiors and that was the last I heard of it."

Miss Wellstone, who is now married and lives in London, confirmed the incident when contacted this week, but refused to discuss the matter further.

Capitol Hill Blue also spoke with the former Miss James, the Washington fundraiser who confirmed the incident, but first said she would not go public because anyone who does so is destroyed by the Clinton White House.

"My husband and children deserve better than that," she said when first contacted two weeks ago. After reading the Broadrick story Friday, however, she called and gave permission to use her maiden name.

The other encounters were confirmed with more than 30 interviews with retired Arkansas state employees, former state troopers and former Yale and University of Arkansas students. Like others, they refused to go public because of fears of retaliation from the Clinton White House.

Likewise, the mainstream media has shied away from the Broadrick story. Initially, only The Drudge Report and other Internet news sites have actively pursued it.

The White House did not return calls for comment. "

Texas Woman Who Sued Bush, Jr. for Rape was Found Dead

WOMAN WHO SUED BUSH IS FOUND DEAD

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2006/07/19/white-house-i-would-not_n_25406.html?p=22

by Orantes Moore

A black woman who claimed to have been raped by US President George W Bush and was planning to take him to court has died of a gun shot wound to the head.

LAST FRIDAY (December 12), Margie Schoedinger, 38, was pronounced dead as a result of a 'gunshot wound to the head'. The death was officially registered as 'suicide' by the Harris County Examiner's Office.

As reported exclusively by New Nation in July, Schoedinger of Sugar Land, Texas, had filed a lawsuit against President Bush (a former Governor of Texas) in December 2002 accusing him of a series of 'individual sex crimes' against her and her husband.

In the amazing seven- page document, filed at Fort Bend County Court in Texas, Schoedinger claimed that Bush had abducted, drugged, raped and beat her.

She also suggested that she 'dated George W Bush as a minor', and the President may have been the father of a child she miscarried following the alleged rape.

Schoedinger said she had filed the lawsuit on December 3, 2002 and although court documents filed on the following day mention Bush and offer him 20 days to respond or appear in Fort Bend, it is still unclear whether the President was ever served with the suit.

Schoedinger was attempting to claim US$1 million in actual damages, plus US$49 million for punitive damages including emotional distress and loss of freedom.

Speaking earlier this year to American journalist Jackson Thoreau, Schoedinger said that the President had personally contacted her to say that he wanted her dead, but could trust no one to carry out the crime...

Of the lawsuit she said: 'I am still trying to prosecute, but as yet, I haven't had a court date set.

'I want to get this matter settled and go on with my life. People have to be accountable for what they do and that is why I am pursuing this lawsuit.'

The US media had largely ignored the filing of the lawsuit and the story had only appeared in a local newspaper."

From "The Strange Death of the Woman Who Filed a Rape Lawsuit Against Bush"

By Jackson Thoreau <http://www.opednews.com>

http://www.opednews.com/thoreau1103bush_rape_suicide.htm...

"Early one Saturday afternoon in July 2003, I made a simple phone call to Margie Schoedinger, a Texas woman who filed a rape lawsuit against George W. Bush in December 2002. ...To be sure, Schoedinger's accusations - which include being drugged and sexually assaulted numerous times by Bush and other men purporting to be FBI agents - are bizarre and hard for most people to believe. But her story fits in with those told by a growing number of people who say they were used as guinea pigs or whatever by members of the CIA or another U.S. agency who wanted to test out the latest mind-controlling drug or just have a strange form of release. And her death - let's just say government agents have made murders look like suicides before.

In her court petition, Schoedinger said police in Sugar Land, another Houston suburb where she said some assailants linked to Bush attempted to unsuccessfully abduct her from her car shortly before the 2000 election, refused to take a report or do anything about that incident. She filed a lawsuit against the Sugar Land department and said that in preparing its defense, Sugar Land police found out that she dated Bush as a minor. ..

The Fort Bend Star story quoted a Sugar Land police captain saying his department had no record of any complaints by Schoedinger. All he had to do was what I did - go to the Fort Bend County Internet site and do a simple search on Schoedinger's name in the area of civil court records. I found the lawsuit Schoedinger filed in December 2000 against Sugar Land police, and it even had numerous responses by the department's attorneys in that case...

I wondered why she didn't seek publicity to at least provide some form of protection. I've long learned that being as public as possible is one of your best defenses against rogue intelligence agents. But she didn't even seem to want any media to cover her story. I told several writers I knew, some of whom tried to contact Schoedinger. None succeeded, as far as I know.

I remember thinking, "I hope she doesn't wind up on the wrong side of a gun." And sure enough, in late September, Schoedinger did.

I called the Harris County Medical Examiner's office, and a clerk told me the cause of death: a "suicide" by a "gunshot wound to the head." I hung up amid bombs going off in my mind.

For one, using a gun to commit suicide is predominantly executed by males, according to psychiatrists and other sources like pharmaceutical firm Merck & Co. Women are more likely to overdose on drugs, although the number of gunshot suicides among women has increased in recent years.

Besides Pravda and Internet ezines... I haven't seen stories on this strange death of a woman who filed a rape lawsuit against the U.S. president and wound up dead nine months later. I can't say I'm surprised. Or even angry. I don't know what the hell to think. All I know is I was one of the last - if not the last - reporters to speak to Schoedinger, and she didn't sound "deranged" to me in July 2003. She sounded like someone who had gone through something weird and was trying to sort it out. She sounded like someone who wanted the truth to come out. And now she's dead.

If this had happened to Clinton when he was in the White House, do you think the story would have been covered non-stop on FOX, CNN and the right-wing talk shows? Do you think we'd have reporters asking Clinton and his people about this death in press conferences? Is FOX unfair and imbalanced to the point of being "deranged?"

....since 1997, Margie Schoedinger had filed for at least five assumed business names for various ventures - including a communications firm, health and beauty business, travel agency and publishing company. Could a "deranged" person start all those businesses or even know how to file a lawsuit?

Schoedinger's lawsuit can still be viewed on the Fort Bend County site at <http://ccweb.co.fort-bend.tx.us/localization/menu.asp> - then go down to the bottom and click on civil court. Then type "schoedinger" in the plaintiff box and click search. You should find another lawsuit she filed against Sugar Land police, as well.

I can really understand media members being intimidated, even frightened, of the Bush administration. As I've detailed before, these are not Boy Scouts running the show. The Schoedinger death is just the latest in a string of strange ones surrounding the Bush family - Bush biographer J.H. Hatfield, Sen. Paul Wellstone, Sen. Mel Carnahan, and others that are detailed on various sites, including at <http://members.boardhost.com/gwbush/msg/362.html> .

It appeared that the Sugarland Police were afraid that her complaint of Bush's men trying to abduct her could indeed be true; they refused to take her statement and refused to investigate. In addition, if you read her statement against them, they appeared to act in a hostile manner. In short, they appeared to be acting like security forces that knew they had to cover-up a crime of a VIP over them. If this woman had been crazy, all that would have been necessary is for Bush's lawyers to quickly prove that in court. If Bush, Jr. was innocent, why did his lawyers not move to get the court case quickly cleared up by expediting it through the courts? They did know how to hustle the Courts, if deemed necessary, to get a quick ruling. Meanwhile, the court had given Bush 20 days to respond or appear. Since there appears to be no record that Bush was served with the notice, did Bush managed to have the record of it expunged from the record? No one was going to simply "forget" in such a case. Bush's side managed to stall for nine months, were they spending that time trying to bribe or intimidate the DA into dropping the case? When they didn't succeed, did they feel the evidence would be too strong against Bush and they decided to go for a "black op"? Were they just waiting to try to make her death look less suspicious? Had she simply committed suicide, why did the Sugarland Police to lie to the reporter and say that she had not filed a complaint? So, the cover-up that occurred and tried to prevent reporters from discovering the truth is very suggestive that she was telling the truth. It appears that Bush, Jr. was so afraid that she would be able to prove her allegations in court, that he had her killed. According to her statements, he had told her he wanted to have her killed. He certainly had a motive and the opportunity; all it would have taken was a word to the CIA. When a man is used to ordering troops to kill, he can easily lose his inhibition against ordering the deaths of others. In the case of Skull and Bones members, they may have lost the inhibition earlier, not just from digging up bones, but creating them.

Having to Vote for Pirates

While the US has appeared to be a two party-system in which a vote could make a difference, the voter was never given a meaningful vote to oust the pirates. They used to be called the “Robber Barons” in the 1800’s. Now most of the time people politely refer to them as “the Cabal”.

“...the two presidents Bush have endorsed a powerful conservative interest group specializing in removing the cross -- not from schools or courthouses, but from churches.

Moon [the leader of the group] also gave $1 million to Bush's presidential library. And when Bush was Vice President, it was a generous check from Moon that opened Oliver North's Contra Freedom Fund.

But Washington conservatives are most thankful to Moon for lavishing more than $2 billion on the money-losing Washington Times. The paper was an important building block in the construction of an alternative, Republican media machine as we know it today. But many conservatives were quietly uneasy -- fretting that a pact was being made with the devil.

Moon was no accidental VIP that night. Far from being on the fringes of Washington, he's the supermogul behind a political and media empire that includes the Washington Times and United Press International, as well as being a longtime friend of the Bush family... The president has built his reputation on being a good Methodist, but he rarely attends church, come to think of it. And he has cozied up to a desecration spree that Tim LaHaye couldn't make up in his Left Behind books. Is he what he pretends to be?”

The Council on Foreign Relations

“The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) was incorporated as the American branch [of the Institute of International Affairs] in New York on July 29, 1921. Founding members included Colonel House, and ‘such potentates of international banking as J.P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Paul Warberg, Otto Kuhn, and Jacob Schiff...the same clique which had engineered the establishment of the Federal Reserve System.’ according to Gary Allen in the October issue of ‘American Opinion’ Professor Carroll Quigley characterized the Council on Foreign Relations as ‘...a front group for J.P. Morgan and Company in association with a very small American Round Table Group.’ Over time Morgan influence was lost to the Rockefellers, ...John D. Rockefeller, Sr. had said: ‘Competition is a sin.’ and global monopoly fit their needs as they grew internationally.”

The Cabal tries to hide its membership and its finances. However, within the CIA, some understanding of it has to exist to decide whose calls to the CIA get through to a person ready to help you and whose calls get dead ended. Calls come through to an office in the CIA either with operator assistance or by computer automation. Once a caller did get through to my office, I was expected to help them to the best of my ability. I once asked an operator for the list of those outside calls that got “priority”, she said that it was classified and she couldn’t give it to me. I checked and found out that the list was not classified, it didn’t officially exist! I then obtained a copy of it. Desperate to contain my ever-burgeoning work load, I kept a list of people that called me off that list. By-the-way, there were no Congressmen on that list, not even the head of the Senate Select Intelligence Committee, Jay Rockefeller. The three Rockefellers on the list at the time, were all at the top of bank buildings. Practically no one could call inside the CIA if they were not in the top floor of a big building in the best office of all. There were less than 100 names on the list, about 86 in all. And I was getting calls from about 132 people considered VIPs; calls the programmers of the CIA's computerized phone system decided it could not politically afford to block using its usual methods.

I tracked down the analysts whose sole job it was to make and update that list that the computer used to decide. He was not very forth coming and mumbled something like “movers and shakers”, “top producers”, “money in the bank”. There are thousands of such people in the country. I asked him how he decided and he said something about flak potential, and then he out and out said the truth “these are the people that founded the CIA”. When I asked him how old they were, he amended it to “and their families”. So, I asked him why Jay Rockefeller was not on the list, but David and Rodman were. He said, “Plausible deniability”. I did understand why the Rockefellers wanted to pretend that their family member on the oversight of the CIA Committee was not one of the ones calling the DDO to give him assignments. Frankly, more assignments came to the DDO in a week from the Rockefellers on the list then came to him from the DCI who was supposedly in charge. The Shadow Government worked really well at the CIA. The DCI might be kept in the dark on the matter but not the Rockefellers on the list.

I then went down to the creative accounting dept and talked to a man who was in charge of figuring out tax dodges. I showed him my list of who was actually calling me and asked him if he was also getting calls from off the operator's list of the 86. He hemmed and hawed a while and then pulled out a file of people who he had to call the offices of whenever the tax laws changed. He said it was considered a personal courtesy for the CIA to call them and tell them how to “opt out” of having to pay those new taxes. His list was longer than mine, about 155 names of accountants on it.

Over the next few months I was able to figure out a bit about what that all meant. I had in front of me lists of the Trilateral Commission members, the Bildenbug, etc.,. But the names of the calls getting inside the CIA were not merely a compilation of all of those. I started looking into the accountant angle. I checked the phone records of the man that gave me the list in creative accounting. It was largely bogus; he was making precisely 3 calls every time a new tax law was passed in Congress. As I researched it, I discovered that all of the people that the CIA had on the list of 86, used those 3 accountants. Then I looked to see who was calling him. He spent almost all his time speaking to 5 phone numbers; the 3 above, one at the White House and one at the IRS. I made it my business to investigate the man at the IRS. That man also had a list of names. That is, whenever one of the VIP's tax returns came into the IRS, they were sent up to him and he and that CIA creative accountant “worked the case” until modest to no taxes were owed. In the end, it was that list that I decided was the one that defined who was in the Cabal—since they were getting this ultra-special care.

I did once see that identical list in a magazine, so the list per se was not classified. Maybe magazine is not quite the word for it, it was in the Council on Foreign Relation's Journal. The list was touted as the 57 most successful people in the US, without saying how success was defined and who had selected those people. The man writing the article was a Bones aficionado and the article was basically an ad trying to hype his cult as the best, the brightest, and the best to know. Looking at the list as an outsider, the article was puzzling to say the least. Many people on it were so secretive as to be not just unknown into unknowable. Most of the people on the list appeared income-less per their IRS returns. Now, I will give you a clue for you sleuths among you, that article was written by Cheney, probably back when he was Chief of Staff for Ford. He needed the list to figure out who could call into the White House. Remember that Nelson Rockefeller was Vice President under Ford, not an elected position as Nixon had resigned. Rockefeller did not have campaign contributor that he had to let call him to make himself popular; he already had plenty of money.

All three accountants above were in Connecticut where the Skull and Bones Russell Trust had that special law passed for it exempting them from filings corporate reports since 1943(see George Bush: The Unauthorized Biography --- by Tarpley & Chaitkin Chapter -VII- Skull and Bones: The Racist Nightmare at Yale at <http://www.tarpley.net/bushb.htm>).

I went back to the creative accountant with my hard won knowledge and asked him to explain to me how it was that 57 of the richest men in the world paid no taxes to speak of. He said that there was a special law exempting them from having to put their income on the books. I was puzzled and asked him to show it to me. Sure enough, there it was in about 1934, sandwiched into some other US Congressional bill on something like “Water Usage and Utility Exemptions for the Tennessee Valley Authority.” I am sorry, I don’t remember the name of it, but the tax returns of those men all cite it. They just put that magical phrase in their filing and that exempts them. It is not quite that simple, your name has to be on that special list. To add a name to bill retroactively is not simple, so people in a family append their names in fancy ways. When I looked into it more closely, all the 20-odd “cousins” of the Rockefellers were on that list as “Rockefeller, party of”. I then called that IRS man and said I was a Rockefeller and wanted my name on the list of “Rockefeller, party of”. He had no trouble adding my name even though I gave a name without a Rockefeller in it.” About 20 minutes later, there was a knock on my door and an FBI official asking me to explain how I got the name and phone number of that IRS man. I interviewed the FBI official and he was knowledgeable about that list and who was supposed to be on it. He called Rodman Rockefeller and the upshot of it was that my name got left on the list and I didn’t get arrested.

But is that really what the People of the United States vote to have—the wealthy who steal their children, send them to die in war, and run scams to drain the US treasury, exempted from filing meaningful returns and paying taxes? The members list on their tax returns their outer legitimately acquired wealth, in case anyone looks. The rest is kept off the books. According to these loopholes it is legal.

Not all of those original 57 names are of Skull and Bones members. Only about a third of them. It was a conglomerate of wealthy men that decided to band together to outsmart others. Later, they decided to outsmart the US Government and have the taxpayers foot the bills for their business operations through forming the CIA. If you want to see their names, the list of who tried to overthrow FDR in the 1930’s, the American Liberty Alliance is a close approximation (see “Wall Street’s Plot to Seize the White House” at http://coat.ncf.ca/our_magazine/links/53/53-index.html)

That was a very long-winded explanation for the basic fact that the Cabal is a specific set of individuals who are crafty criminals who outwitted the American Public to exempt themselves from taxes and business expenses. Many of them are in the Fortune 100, the list of the top hundred wealthiest in the US even though they pay taxes as if they were the average millionaire, not billionaires. I do hope that Congress will look into my allegations and correct that situation. Congress made the loopholes, it is their job to close them.

“Since 1934 almost every US Secretary of State has been a Council on Foreign Relations member; and ALL Secretaries of War or Defense, from Henry L. Stimson through Richard Cheney. The CIA has been under CFR control almost continuously since its creation, starting with Allen Dulles, founding member of the CFR...he was an in-law of the Rockefellers, Since that time nearly ALL presidential candidates have been CFR members.... We have also had (though his name strangely disappears from the membership list in 1979) CFR director (1977-79) George Bush (Sr.), and last but not least, CFR member Bill Clinton...

Admiral Chester Ward, a member of the CFR for over a decade, became one of its harshest critics, revealing its inner workings in a 1975 book, Kissinger on the Couch. In it he states ‘the most powerful cliques in these elitist groups have one objective in common: they want to bring about the surrender of the sovereignty and national independence of the United States. . a ‘much smaller group but more powerful...made up of Wall Street international bankers and their key agents. Primarily, they want the world banking monopoly from whatever power ends up in the control of the global government....This CFR faction is headed by the Rockefeller brothers.’ ... www.theforbiddenknowledge.com/hardtruth/council_on_foreign_relations.htm

“Member’s influence and control extends to ‘leaders in academia, public service, business, and the media’ according to the CFR 1993 Annual Report... Their founding they describe as: ‘American Participants in the Paris Peace Conference decided that it was time for more private Americans to become familiar with the increasing responsibilities and obligations of the US...there was a need for an organization able to provide for the continuous study of US foreign policy for the BENEFIT OF ITS MEMBERS (emphasis added) and a wider audience of interested American.’”

“1957 George W. Mahone, US Senator (Nevada), speaking before Congress in 1957, alluded to the families that secretly own the “Federal” Reserve Bank and control the finances of the US.. He stated;

“I believe that if the people of this nation fully understood what Congress has done to them over the last 49 year, they would move on Washington: they would not wait for an election...It adds up to a preconceived plan to destroy the economics and social independence of the United States!”

A Secret Society Side of the CFR and the Autopsy of an HIV Positive Corpse

I was saddened that the information I needed which was the number of physicians getting HIV from doing a single autopsy on an HIV corpse was not in the CIA's files when I needed it. I made a note to the Deputy Director of Operations (DDO) recommending that further data on the risk to physicians be acquired from the US Army's Biological Warfare Lab. By that time I had already done about 2-dozen autopsy falsifications at the White House under Reagan-Bush. Some of the autopsies I ended up doing were on CIA officers killed to prevent them from testifying to Congress in the Iran Contra Scandal. That is, they were interviewed first by the Bush, Sr.-loyal CIA people and even by Bush, Sr. himself at the White House and quickly "dispatched" before they could testify. In most cases, it was not necessary to kill them directly at the White House and their bodies could be run through the CIA or the Pentagon or the Walter Reed Hospital morgues. Most people do not even know about the White House morgue. It is called a Meat Locker and some of the time it had sides of beef hanging in it while I worked. In that case, it was officially a "cold room". It was always kept pretty cold anyway. See Al Martin's [The Conspirators, he said that 400 CIA officers that he knew of died under clouded circumstances right before they were due to give testimony at the Iran-Contra Hearings.]

That CIA file on AIDS in the DDO's "Special Operational Tools" Library was not something that CIA analysts had access to, except by special authorization. So, I was surprised to frequently find one CIA analyst's name in the log in the front of it of those who had read it. I paid him a visit after not finding what I wanted in the file, in the hopes that he knew the information that I wanted. I spent almost two hours talking to him before I went down to the morgue. He was a CIA analyst devoted specifically to making sure that the CIA was using the HIV virus most efficiently to kill people of color in its black ops. He was a racist of the John Birch type and he called blacks "niggers", though I asked him politely not to in my presence. His motivation in doing his work was abundantly clear—to kill as many blacks as possible, as quickly as possible. He did know a lot about HIV and the risk of killing black people with it. He had written a lay person's pamphlet on the dangers of killing black people infected by HIV. It was officially supposed to be a guide for CIA officers in Africa. But when I looked at it the type of language in it made me think it had been written to disseminate to the Ku Klux Klan. When I asked him about that, he didn't deny that.

He quickly amended his bragging to include that the manual had been officially declassified by the CIA prior to his passing it out at White Supremacist Meetings. When I asked him what meetings he meant, he said the Council on Foreign Relations. I said that I didn't see why they needed to know the hands on details of the best way to kill blacks, such as to wear goggles, gloves, and a meat cutters plastic apron underneath a white shower curtain outer robe covering the face. He said that they did need it, because they had a special "After Hours Club" for terrorizing the black neighborhoods in DC. I suggested that it was hardly likely given that this was in the 1980's that the KKK was still operating.

He assured me that I was dead wrong and invited me to join them at their once a month "Get a Man" fundraiser. This was an invitation that I definitely wanted to miss without being very obvious about it. I said that I was not a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and so couldn't go. He allowed as how there was a special exemption for CIA officers. That gave me an excuse to ask whether there were other exemptions. He pulled out a rule-book written by the Council on Foreign Relations and looked at it. There were other exemptions listed-- FBI and local DC police. They were allowed to participate in the monthly man-hunt, if they agreed to also get paid for it on their regular salary time. He said that enough security always came out for the event; that no private security needed to be hired for it.

I asked him if people still wore the white KKK pointed top robes. He said that they were most often going out in the Black Robes. He showed me a picture of them. They had a white upside down cross on the forehead and a Skull and Bones underneath that or on the chest, or over the gonads. I said, "Gee, that looks like no one would want to be so blatant. He assured me that most men went out in the gonad sign post display of "I want to rape you" outfit. He pulled a picture out of the file to prove it. It showed about 18 black peak hooded figures, all but two of them with the Skull and Bones emblem on the gonads, one with it large in the chest, and one elsewhere, I think on the forehead. He said the one with it on the chest was the leader of the group, but that was not always the case as not all leaders wanted to take the greatest risk of being shot at. In the gonad covering position, it was possible to gather the emblem into a fold of the robe and hide it. That was not the case in the chest and forehead versions.

I then said something along the lines of "those guys must be the real losers on the Council on Foreign Relations". He frowned and then he started telling me who was in the photo from reading off the back of it where they had signed their "get well messages" to him. The photo had been a card taken to him in the hospital when he missed one of the monthly meetings. I asked him if he always went. He said no that one was allowed to go on more than one a year unless one was a really bigwig. How big? I asked him. "Like the President", he said. "President of a company, the Council on Foreign Relations, or the country?", I asked him. "President of the country, probably," he said. I asked him if he knew of any cases where a sitting President had done it more than one. He said that he knew of the President taking 3 turns in one year, in the recent years. I asked him what it was like to hunt a human to get him to talk more. He said it was more fun than a "duck hunt".

I then enquired about their methodology of hunting a man in a city the size of DC. He said that they picked a black person by name, and used satellites and sophisticated equipment to track him through the city as he left work. Then after their meeting they went out to a bar and got loaded. Then they went out and "painted the town red". I objected and said that he had said one man. He said that one got more points if one killed that man, but that one could get points for killing any black person, less for a Hispanic, or Oriental. He pulled out the scoring sheet. It gave more points for killing with a knife, and more points for biting into the heart. I asked him about the risk of his turning HIV from that. He said the virus was safe for a "blow job" and for "big cherry picking" (the euphemism for cutting the heart out of the chest to perform the ritual cannibalism that supposedly allowed you to gain the personal power of the victim). He quoted me a 2% risk of getting AIDS over a lifetime of doing this. I asked him how that figure was arrived at. He pulled out of his files the scientific looking paper out of Ft. Detrick on it. I asked him if he had read it. Then he pulled at a layperson's manual on the Skull and Bones ritual and how to do it. Not much of it was on the medical risks; they seemed to be downplaying that part. There the risk was listed as 2% if it was the person's "regular sexual outlet". I took that to mean about a 3 times a week habit. But the medical style of report from the Biological Warfare Lab figured the 2% risk from a once a year cannibalism of a person with known HIV positive status. I wondered how they had arrived at that figure, but didn't want to call them up and ask.

Later, after reading that material in my office, I returned and asked him about that discrepancy. He said that he had written the manual based on a talk that he heard. He figured that since the members of the Council on Foreign Relations could usually only go on one DC Man hunt a year that it was fair to list it that way. I pointed out that they might have "extracurricular" habits. He then launched into a series of stories of DC VIPs "going it alone" and how hard that made in on the DC police and the FBI. It was hard on them because they often forgot to call in their hunting ground area in advance to have all the police in the area the right ones. He said some of them were in the habit of getting drunk and then starting their hunting in an impromptu fashion, sometimes before even leaving the bar.

He told me one cover-up horror story in which the VIP was not wearing a mask and because of his position in the White House was recognized by about 20 people as he shot a boy and then sodomized him as he was dying on the street under a street light! He said it took the CIA and FBI a couple of months to kill all the witnesses and most of them were not even black. The VIP was coming out of a DC Party on an estate in a nice section of town. The fallout was truly massive. A lot of DC socialites got listed as committing suicide in short order. It was remembered in the CIA as the Summer of Blonde Suicides. He said it wasn't all bad; a handful of men got "new wives".

I did look into it a bit later, mainly by asking others in the hallway to tell me. To lead into the conversation, I asked them about how hard all that overtime was for them back then. Some of the men in the Dept of Ops (renamed Plans) said that it was "a blast". Others of them said it was a PR nightmare for the CIA. I asked why. They said because the VIP was known to be associated with the CIA and that a lot of the blame flowed down hill. I asked him what he meant by that. He said that hits were put out against the CIA officers who didn't cover up their hits on the socialites "up to standards". He complained that was unfair given that that White House VIP had dropped his drawers and sodomized the 9-year old kid right outside to front gate of the estate. I asked him if there was a "ritual" going on that night. He said yes, but a smart man in the intelligence business should know the difference between inside a gate behind the house, and outside the gate on the street. I later found out that the excuse the VIP gave was that he had let the kid go after terrifying him in order to have the fun of the chase. Then the kid had gotten away for him and gotten to the street before he had caught up with him. I did look at the cover-up file, the file on the incident that lists all the loose ends in order to cover them up. The VIP's blood alcohol level was safe to drive on; it could not be used as an excuse for the murder. Whether he was on CIA designer drugs was not mentioned. I later heard that they pulled one drug from the bag of drugs that they used at those parties. Whether he had taken such an agent voluntarily, or at all, was not in the file. Given his position in the power structure, it was unlikely that he was man-handled to force a drug into him. But drugs were often added to the food and punch as well.

The HIV positive man that I did the autopsy on was a homosexual CIA officer who doubled as a Vice Squad cop on the DC streets. His file showed that he was a pedophile who was stealing kids from bathrooms, if they were good at giving him a blow-job with his pistol cocked to their temple. He had "accidentally pulled the trigger once too often" and caused the CIA's clean up teams to come out to public bathrooms. The man was into his next kid and still getting a blow job when Clean Up came. One of the clean-up team members had perhaps taken things in hand and shot him with the intention to kill him. But the shot had been poorly aimed. The man shooting him wounded him in the thigh and killed the kid behind the thigh. It is possible that the Clean Up man thought that it was unfair for the Vice Squad man to have a witness in the bathroom that might be able to identify the Clean Up people. In any case, the wounded CIA officer was taken by the Clean Up crew back to the CIA's infirmary. There he underwent surgery. But with an entrance and an exit wound, he was not released for fear his girlfriend would know he was involved in a shoot out and report him to police not under CIA control. He was put in a prison cell in the CIA's basement, while his fate was decided. In the end, he was tortured, though the reason for that was unclear from the record. Meanwhile, his HIV test came back positive. He "died from suicide" officially, but the torture record extended over several pages.

He did have a large hole in his chest made by a knife and the heart was missing. That meant that I tried to track down who had likely bitten into it, to warn them that that 2% risk might be per incident, not per lifetime. It was a bit awkward, because it was not a single person but a group of about 7 men in the CIA that had eaten that heart raw as a "bonding" ceremony. They were the men who had tortured him. They were not all torturers officially at the CIA. One man had come down from the VIP's section on the 7th floor, and one from the DDO's office. I managed to get them to request the information I wanted from the Bio-warfare lab on the risk of "contact" with HIV infected "meat".

That information did not come until some weeks later. I did not see it for about 3 months, until I returned to the CIA and my HIV result had come back negative. So, I felt fairly safe by the time I read it. Their report was largely made up nonsense. They really didn't know the risk but were afraid to admit it. That 2% had no scientific basis. I wrote a memo to the DDO and the CIA infirmary, asking for the Bio-warfare Lab to "tighten up their reporting". That did not make me popular with them. They were not in the habit of having any peer review of their reports.

The Milgram and Stanford Experiments showed that ordinary Americans will act as torturers and Gestapo-like prison guards, when ordered to or when the social setting fosters it (see http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Milgram_experiment). Hitler himself did not load all those people onto trains and put them in the ovens. Nor was Hitler by himself able to prevent their rescue or the bombing of the gas chambers and ovens. The eugenics propaganda made it acceptable to consider some people as lesser citizens and to violate their rights. (see Daniel Jonah Goldhagen's Hitler's Willing Executioners)

Instead of acting honestly and taking responsibility for their actions, they lie, act deviously using black ops and secrecy. Fall guys get left holding the bag while they try to walk away a wolf in sheep's clothing.

In my opinion, the Cabal got their power from blackmail, murder, selling drugs, and being the best racketeers in the US; they had a lot of fancy uptown meetings wearing suits and philanthropy to launder their reputations before going to the bank to launder their money. Some of them were not happy when JFK wanted to shut down the Vietnam War and close the CIA as immoral; it could have hurt their bottom line.

Protecting yourself from blackmail

There are good ways out of blackmail. One way is to confess one's sins to God and ask God what to do from there. Another way, which works quite well, is to write down everything you can remember that led up to your misdeeds—how you were tricked or forced into being compromised. Have that information notarized and a copies of it mailed out to multiple addresses. Then tell the blackmailers that if they try to blackmail you with your exposure, you will expose how they set you up.

A good private eye can help gather the evidence to support your side of the story. The blackmailers like the CIA have done this kind of blackmail to so many people that they have a lot of loose ends hanging. It is not so hard to prove that they set you up. The public will even believe that the CIA set up up. Yes, the film the CIA took of your having sex with a child or killing the baby makes you look like a criminal. What they don't show is how they drugged you first and convinced you that the kid was a doll by stabbing a doll first and having straw come out not blood. The CIA and the Skull and Bones figured out how to entrap almost anyone. They did not want a single ethical person to be able to stand in their way. But instead of continuing to be a criminal by continuing to go along with evil, the thing to do is to stop one's collaboration with evil as soon as you realize what happened. In some cases it is difficult because of the drugs to know what happened. You can still help protect yourself by writing down the events leading up to the part that is confusing to you. For example, one can write down "I was invited to secluded location X with people I respected Y, but after eating and drinking I felt bizarre and lost my moral boundaries. The effect did not appear to be just alcohol because_____. I am not entirely sure what happened after that. I believe that the CIA had psy-op people at that event because of these unusual events_____.

Even if you believed that you actually killed a child that might not actually be the case. For example, at age 9 when George Hunter White blackmailed union leaders and politicians at the San Francisco Safe House, the men were given LSD unwittingly in their drinks. They were filmed naked in bed with a child even if they were not "with it" enough to even know what a child was at that moment due to the drug. As the drug wore off and they started regaining their senses, a long-handled knife was put into their hand while they were standing. As instructed, the child walked backwards and pulled them to fall on top of it. The blade retracted into the handle, but "blood" came out of a pouch in the child's shirt. Then immediately George White and an assistant rushed into the room shouting that the man had killed the child and pulled the child from the room. The truth is that under the drugs that the CIA uses, a person's morality and senses are paralyzed. Although many children are killed for real in such blackmail operations, whether a particular one was in often unclear. So when you write the information down give yourself the benefit of the doubt. It is likely that everyone at that location was blackmailed at the same time as you. A private detective coalating the data over several people would have the best chance of showing that the CIA was behind it.

CIA blackmail ops are designed to be able to reliably blackmail everyone at a given location, even those who are just by-standers who "failed to prevent the crime" or did not report it. The people they fail to blackmail are usually the frankly schizophrenic or professionally paranoid who refuse all social obligations. Normal people do not have a chance of escaping them—the CIA has designed them with them in mind—particularly the courageous and moral ones. Those are the ones that the CIA has the most need to blackmail and silence. So if you have been blackmailed, take heart—it wasn't necessarily your fault. But do get out of it ASAP. Juries like repentant people who cleaned up their act before anyone asked them to.

Here are clues that the private detective can look for. But first make sure that you have not hired a front for the CIA to begin with. To do that I would get a name from a person like Al Martin or Michael Ruppert, a person who was in intelligence or police work, who is now seriously exposing the corruption. They should know some whistleblowers who need work and are not afraid to stand in the line of fire.

The detective should look for signs that:

- The location was secured and that you were not free to leave (due to high fences, gates, long distances through the wilderness, bodies of water, people tried to leave early and were pressured into not doing so, etc.)
- More than one person acted drugged that night (people stayed the night, were unable to drive home, were hospitalized with adverse reactions, passed out early in the evening, people who are known teetotalers were affected, a contingent of the guests or hosts did not drink the punch even though they were not known teetotalers, people acted strangely compared to a normal party)
- Special clothing was provided by the host or people were offered or given showers at the end (blood or seamen evidence can be planted or destroyed by such means)
- Some events occurred in a dark room (for example it is possible to use night vision filming to show a man dancing with a woman with a naked child, but he may not even have known there was a naked child in the room). He may have been asked in a Skull and Bones ritual to go into a dark room and masturbate. The child is instructed to dance in front of him in a suggestive way.)
- The security personnel for that location have intelligence or Special ops backgrounds,
- The host of the event holds such events on days of satanic importance,
- Children were brought to the event by people other than their parents, or were kept up after a standard bedtime, or were brought to a late event that it was inappropriate to bring them to at that time,
- Drinks were poured for you by others or you were called away from one by a phone call, etc.
- Your personality, goals, work, relationships etc. were suddenly shifted after that event—you may have been mind-controlled and programmed

Beware of priests and confidants suddenly crossing your path that might take your confession which in fact might be a false confession. Confide in God or learn to speak in "possibilities" or what happened to you in a dream.

Check to make sure no money showed up in your bank accounts without your knowing how you honestly earned it. Beware of sweepstakes etc. that suddenly pay you. It is a favorite trick of the CIA to add money to your person while you are drugged or to your bank account to look like you accepted a bribe. If you don't know where money came from, return it. If the bank says they can't, call the FBI and report it to them—your bank is helping to frame you for someone with a lot of banking connections.

Try to give back any expensive gifts that you can't remember honestly being given by a trusted family member. All a CIA officer has to do to blackmail most people is give them a costly gift in front of a security camera. If he later says that it was a gift from “Pedophiles for America” what are you going to do? What if it was a gold plated phallus like Nelson Rockefeller used to pass out as if it was a gag, but then some kid turned out to have been raped with it and it still has that kid’s DNA on it mixed with yours from a stamp you licked that the CIA applied. It is better not to take any gifts.
