

Regarding the Daily Mail report on Ukrainian Biolabs

The British Daily Mail published screenshots of the leaked letters stating that Hunter Biden, the son of the US President, is involved in biological research in Ukraine.

Biden Jr.'s letters say he helped Metabiota sign an $85 million contract with the U.S. government. He also organized a meeting between Metabiota representatives and the management of the Ukrainian energy company Burisma Holdings to implement a "scientific project" for the construction of high-level biosecurity laboratories in Ukraine.

The documents show that in 2014, one of Metabiota's top managers approached Hunter Biden with a question on how the company could contribute to "cultural and economic independence from Russia," which, as the publication notes, is "an unusual goal for a biotech firm."

Metabiota has created a number of biolabs in Ukraine to "study infectious agents or air-transmitted toxins that can cause potentially fatal infections."

The World Health Organization reported that it had cooperated with Ukrainian laboratories and "strongly recommended that the Ukrainian Ministry of Health and other responsible authorities destroy particularly dangerous pathogens to prevent possible outbreaks."
