

Transylvanian Sunrise, By Radu Cinamar with Peter Moon

Since returning from Romania I have reported on my adventures with David Anderson, his Time Travel Research Center and my adventures in Romania which were centered around the Atlantykrone Conference. When I arrived at Atlantykrone, David told me that as the conference progressed throughout the week, it would become more deeply involved with the subject of astropaleology. This refers to the study of ancient stones or megaliths and how they relate to the position of the stars. There are various astronomical stone calendars around the world, but one of the most significant is in Romania and is known as Sarmizegetusa. It is well south of Transylvania and the larger mountain ranges of Romania. Sarmizegetusa was the capital of the ancient Dacian Empire. The Dacians were a very advanced civilization. If you look at the Romanian Sphinx, the oblong top of the head resembles an ancient Dacian helmet. Dacia is pronounced dysha by Romanians and sounds very much like the Germans pronounce Deutsche, the name for their native homeland. Although no one seemed to grasp it when I pointed it out, the two words sound so much alike that I could not help but wonder if the Germans descended from the ancient Romanians. The connection is obvious. More importantly, the ruins of Sarmizegetusa possess insight into the future. According to Romanian scholars I talked to, the knowledge of ancient Atlantis was coded into these ruins and their relative position to the stars in order to signal the return of ancient wisdom. Pursuit of this knowledge is part of the reason why I went to Romania in August of 2008 and this concerns the amazing discovery in the Bucegi Mountains not far from the Romanian Sphinx. The details of this discovery will be published in the next couple of months in the book Transylvanian Sunrise by Radu Cinamar with Peter Moon.

The new book, Transylvanian Sunrise, is not only about an incredible discovery that will change the way humanity looks at itself; it is also a book about the remarkable circumstances surrounding the discovery. This not only includes the political intrigue surrounding it, but the primary person who is the curator or local "jinn" of the area. We know him in the book as Cezar Brad, a psychically gifted individual since birth who was monitored closely by the then Communist government. It was Cezar's unusually long and almost impossible to cut umbilical chord that caused his doctor to report him to the authorities. As we learn from this book, Romania had all sorts of secret facilities that harbored people with remarkable or strange abilities. Ceausescu, the Com-psychology, sociology, and other aspects of the human condition. By the time he reached full adult status, Cezar himself was assigned to head up Department Zero. It is apparent that this assignment had been ordained by destiny and guided by key players such as General Obadea and Dr. Xien. A considerable part of Transylvanian Sunrise concerns Cezar's divulgence of his personal story and anecdotes to Radu Cinamar, the author. Radu, who seems like something akin to an innocent bystander at first, also has an important role to play in the story. Seemingly picked in the beginning as a trusted individual to tell Cezar's story, fate would also afford Radu a remarkably rare opportunity to visit the remarkable discovery site in the Bucegi Mountains and later communist Dictator, had them isolated and monitored for his own benefit. They were organizationally placed under Department Zero, headed by a mysterious General Obadea.

Besides dealing with individuals with mysterious powers, Department Zero dealt with all sorts of anomalous and psychic phenomena that would appear in the country. Although Ceausescu had arranged for the funding of the department, he pretty much left them alone. Department Zero was so secret that most people in Romania's government, including their intelligence services, knew virtually nothing about it or that it existed. When Ceausescu was deposed, this opened the door to political problems with regard to the possible misuse of these individuals and Department Zero itself. Fortunately, Gen-eral Obadea was a spiritual man who was chosen by fate to deftly guide Romania's most guarded secret department into a new era of government with relative freedom for the population. Secretly, Obadea never supported Ceausescu and fore-saw his downfall. He was also clever enough to secure his own position during the regime change. Despite the repressive times of Communism, there was still a ray of hope and Obadea was in the thick of it. He was the mentor of Cezar Brad and saw to his safety, but he was helped in this regard by an occult master from Red China, a mysterious Dr. Xien, who monitored Cezar and kept him on a positive path. Besides his tutelage of Cezar and other "spe-cial people," Dr. Xien had considerable influence in Department Zero. As a member of a communist regime himself, he was free from suspicion and immune from the Dictator. As Cezar grew up, his natural psychic abilities were enhanced and supplemented by more formal studies of become involved in investigations nothing short of miraculous. So that you have a better understanding of how these events are intertwined with David Anderson, myself and the Romanians mentioned, I will share some of Cezar's wisdom from the book.

"...some human beings are far above our conceptual, mental or organizational standards. If they so choose, these human beings can transform other people's destinies through the power of their superior abilities."

In this book, Cezar is demonstrated to have such superior abilities. To a degree, he explains how such abilities can be acquired through training. He not only trained hard and long, he had a special knack for it. What is more important is that this entire Romanian adventure in-volves transformation, not only for myself, David Ander-son, and the others involved but for the entire human race. Cezar, however, does not suggest that he is the be-all end or any such thing. He himself was being worked or influenced by General Obadea and Dr. Xien. The General, in turn, was influenced by a gifted priest from the Orthodox Church who seemed to thrive during a time of religious repression. Even Ceausescu sought his advice but did so in secret.

While Cezar's superior mind has transformed Radu Cinamar's destiny in a very powerful way, it has also had an influence upon myself albeit one that is not quite as dramatic, at least not yet. This now brings us to the mysterious prospect of David Anderson who "knows" Radu Cinamar but does not seem to have access to how he knows him. Their connection would seem to run through a parallel universe or perhaps David is blocked from his real world memories with Radu. Radu, likewise, does not remember knowing David Anderson. It is now time to con-sider David's role. Keep in mind that this book would never even have happened if it were not for David making his original trip to Ro-mania and then making contact with me. As David is literally a doctor of time who has literally accomplished the noble task of manipulating the fabric of space-time, he is a witness — willingly or unwillingly, consciously or uncon-sciously — to all of the accompanying phenomena that goes with that. In other words, when you build a better mouse trap or produce a hit record, the world comes to your door. In David's case, this represents the jinn and all the accoutre-ments that come with them. The mili-tary is an obvious gateway to all sorts of hidden phenomena. To some degree, David himself re-minds me very much of Cezar because he is surrounded by high security circumstances and has a tendency to work at the highest levels of government. Just as Cezar seems to be placed by invisible spiritual means into a closely guarded high security area that represents deep import with regard to world events, so does David. As opposed to Cezar, who seems to have experienced a relatively peaceful youth with intense instruction, David seems to have stumbled into the awareness of his quantum self by reason of the technology he has developed as well as serving a destiny that is still wait-ing to be revealed.

All of this represents an area of study which is known as Exopolitics. Exopolitics became a hot topic in the 1970's when Jimmy Carter, a known UFO sympathizer, took office. At that time, Peter Schwartz and Alfred Webre from the Stanford Research Institute, a quasi-government research lab, did extensive research and proposed a government program to study the UFO phenomenon. Considerable effort went into this, and it was championed by the Carter administration, but the Pentagon killed the program, telling S.R.I. "there are no UFOs." One of the researchers, I forget which one, ended up in Canada as an exile from this country.

The Stanford Research Institute included Scientologist Ingo Swann, but was essentially a bunch of government spooks who were operating their own "Montauk extension." The important point here, however, is that there is an extensive data base that has academically approached the entire gamut of extraterrestrial influence on the Earth. You can read more about exopolitics on the web if you like. There are also books on it. It should be noted, however, that cover-ups of strange phenomena are as old as the Presidency itself. Theodore Roosevelt was known to have kept secret the debacle of the Great Airship Mysteries of the 19th Century.

Since the beginning of time, rulership over men has had its privileges, hazards, and strange peculiarities. If you study the subject of control, let alone the specific aspects of exopolitics, it stands to reason that the more powerful leaders of tribes and civilizations became, the more and more phenomena they encountered or heard about. World leaders have always gotten all sorts of strange reports. It would also stand to reason that, in certain cases, controlling forces (whether they be ETs, jinn, or some other type of spiritual entity) placed an imprint on the affairs of man. How deep this imprint was is speculative and debatable, but the reaction of leaders to esoteric truth has been reactionary for the most part and often downright violent. Enough said.

The adventures of Cezar, Radu, and David Anderson offer a ray of hope that we can decode these mysteries. There is no question that all three characters work in a realm where access is restricted. In his work, Radu quotes Cezar who says, in effect, that access to such information is by way of initiation. Specifically, Cezar states that obstacles and barriers at the astral level are meant to serve as a selection process for those who want to learn certain secrets and mysteries. Further, that "this sort of restriction can be met where protection must be secured as in the case with treasures or special and secret storehouses, certain gates, galleries or quick access pathways to other spots on the planet or even other worlds. At other times, astral 'obstacles' restrict access to certain occult initiations or mysteries that are protected by specially summoned guardian entities. These should not be construed as immutable restrictions but they concern mostly those who are not sufficiently evolved and therefore not yet ready to confront certain mysteries without being intent on using them for personal and selfish purposes. There is a lot more to be said about the practical ways of acquiring conscious astral division powers as well as about other details concerning the very experience of astral division, but the time will come when we can talk about all this in detail." Cezar's insight is most relevant. We have all learned something about time by reason of our own initiation into the mysteries of life. Cezar's wisdom, however, is suggesting the mysteries behind the mysteries. The door has been opened a crack and we are in pursuit.

With regard to David Anderson, Cezar also has insight into time travel with his explanation that "traveling in time is nothing else than the expansion of consciousness which then has access to the reality of the energy of time. This is difficult to achieve and few people get to master and control it to perfection. But there are intermediary stages as well." It is obvious that all of this phenomena with David is an intermediate stage. While Cezar paints a picture of unlimited potential, and he is certainly not wrong about that, there is also an adversary which makes the task ahead a formidable one. We are talking about the presence of evil and the resistance to penetrating this knowledge and the more exciting adventures it brings.

A good deal of Transylvanian Sun-rise deals with the repression of the discovery that has been made and the effort to use its benefits only for the purposes of a corrupt Masonic elite. Before the discovery is even made, Cezar is approached through diplomatic channels by a high ranking Mason who is also a director of the Bildebergers. This Mason, Signore Massini, somehow mysteriously knows not only of Department Zero but of Cezar himself as the gatekeeper to mysteries in Romania. Long before the discovery was re-alized, the Pentagon had discovered an anomalous area in the Bucegi Moun-tains through advances in satellite tech-nology, part of which was made pos-sible courtesy of David Anderson's warp-field technology. Specifically, it was a closed-off and inaccessible area in the Bucegi Mountains that looked just like a similar area in Iraq. Quite apparently, the war with Iraq had much more at stake than the obvious rheto- ric led us to believe. Other independent sources have also suggested this.

Signore Massini has obvious ties to the Vatican as well as tremendous influence if not outright control of cer-tain important positions at the Penta-gon. Although very powerful, he has reached beyond the limits of his power with regard to the discovery in the Bucegi Mountains, an area which he very much wants to control. He is forced by circumstances to appeal to Cezar for his consent to open up this mystery. Cezar is in a tough position because he understands the evil that this man represents but also the fact that he might lose his position if he rejects his request. Massini also brings with him the technology of the Ameri-cans who can penetrate the physical barriers surrounding the mysterious hidden chamber.

Transylvania Sunrise gives a blow by blow description of the battle of wits between these two formidable metaphysical opponents. While it is not proper to reveal the entire outcome, the Americans do join forces with the Romanians and penetrate the mystery in a joint effort. In real world politics, one can view the truth of these matters with Romania's sudden emergence on the world scene as a member of NATO. America is also now putting military bases in Roma-nia and the two countries have enjoyed a new diplomatic relationship which is unprecedented. If you are a side-line researcher and look deeply into the matters covered here and in the book, you will find out they are indeed re-flective of the truth.

In the end, neither Cezar nor Signore Massini get all of what they want. A compromise is worked out, but the chess match continues to this very day. A room or cave full of high tech artifacts is discovered that make the concept of a stargate seem dull by comparison. One of these features in-cludes a projection hall where one can see the past history of Mankind. It is uniquely specific to each individual who views it and is tied to the DNA and biofeedback of the observer. There are also three tunnels which lead to mysterious places, including Iraq, Egypt and Tibet. Since the writing of the original book, these tunnels have been explored to varying extents. According to what Radu has relayed, one of these tunnels was the province of the Americans. The others, however, have been explored by both Cezar and Radu. After penetrating these tunnels, with technological help from the Americans, a very successful expedition was made last October where contact was made with beings from the Inner Earth. I cannot say more about it because that is all Radu has said about it. In his last letter to me, Radu has also stated to me that he is very sad because Cezar will be leaving him in the next few months as he now has a new job as an "ambassador" to their civilization. This all sounds very bizarre, but it is what was reported. Radu holds back a lot of information because he does not like to say things that he cannot substantiate. As a result of Cezar's imminent departure, I fired off copies of The Montauk Book of the Living for both him and Radu.

Although it is not in my power to prove any of these claims, it is important to realize that the Masons have paid attention to Romania because they have known for a long time that it is a potential powder keg for them. There are prophecies in scrolls from the Vatican as well as the Vienna Museum with regard to Romania and the role it will play in the near future. The priest who influenced Cezar and Gen-eral Obadea also made a similar prophecy which has begun to be realized. How far this will all go is anyone's guess, but it is my karmic destiny and assignment to report on this and ferret out what truth I can.

Most recently, I have had some interesting dreams about David Anderson wherein he has gave me huge rings with all sorts of different keys. That is a good sign. I expect to hear from him soon with regard to my return to Romania.

Secrets of the Bucegi Mountains in Romania*

Events of 2003 : The Secrets of the Bucegi Mountains

<http://illusionofpower.com/secrets-of-the-bucegi-mountains-in-romania/>

In the summer of 2003, in an unexplored area of the Bucegi mountains, Zero Team Department (a top secret section of the Romanian Intelligence Service -- SRI), has made an epochal discovery that could completely change the destiny of mankind.

Colossal diplomatic pressures coming from the United States of America on the Romanian Government for not disclosing to the whole world this discovery led to a temporary agreement between the two countries and an unusual collaboration in scientific and military special team went to Sea shipment. The implications are far more complex due to the brutal interference of the Order of the Illuminati, which sought to take control of both the location of discovery, and the Romanian-American expedition. Expert in studying and researching strange phenomena and also the leader of the exceptionally strategic importance of operations for the Romanian State, Cezar Brad is the "hero" of the shocking events that occurred in the Bucegi Mountains, but also two memorable meetings with a leading representative of the Illuminati and Bilderberg member.

The Bucegi Mountains

Bilderberg in Romania

In May 2003, Caesar was visited by an important character for one issue in particular, the meeting request came through SRI, as a result of government intervention. The person was a foreigner, but spoke very well Romanian. He also knew Romania very well. SRI knew only that he was part of a Masonic lodge very important in Italy that has a high-ranking nobility, and has a very strong financial influence in Romania. His political influence was also very high since he managed to penetrate the wall of SRI agents and reach the DZ.

Caesar felt a high pressure and a heavy weight around this person. He was surrounded by a cloud of heavy, unpleasant radiation which concealed his true intentions. For this meeting, Caesar prepared thoroughly, isolating himself in a room and falling into a state of deep meditation, to learn more about the person. A SRI helicopter brought this arrogant, tall gentleman, wearing a black suit. He had a cane with ivory handle and gold inlay. His face expressed harshness and his green eyes had a strange effect, radiating unusual coldness. It was presented as Senior Massini. He was very sure of himself and created the impression of a person who was used to give orders. He was leading one of the most venerable major Masonic Lodge in Europe and was one of the most influential Masonic organization in the world: the Bilderberg Group.

Massini entered directly into the subject by saying that people are of two kinds: those that can be manipulated and led (most), and others -- who have certain virtues and a strong personality. He said that his group is part of the highest Masonic order and is very interested in the outcome of the discussion. Caesar said he knows some aspects of Freemasonry. Mister Massini said that the Bilderberg Group is not itself a lodge, but it means much more than that. He said that the lodges are just facades and the real power is much higher than the thirty-third hierarchical level. Massini invited Caesar to join the group, letting him understand that he will have many advantages. Massini manifested a great power and an unusual psychical force, in contrast with his age. Unfortunately for him, his power was centered on a huge ego, arrogance and sense of superiority over others. Massini said that he requested a meeting with Caesar through the power and the relations he had, because they appreciated Caesar's powers.

The Pentagon Spies with Satellites

A Pentagon satellite used for geodetic espionage, based on bionic technology and shape waves, discovered in 2002 a separate unit in a specific area of the Bucegi Mountains. The empty space inside the mountain was not identified in correspondence with the outside; the empty space begun directly from inside the mountain, at a certain distance from its slope. The empty space had the shape of a well made tunnel and the route of it was perfectly plan.

The satellite scan of the mountain revealed two major energetic blocks. The dams were made of artificial energy: the first was the plan, as a wall, a wall that was blocking access to the tunnel. The second was huge, like a dome or hemisphere, at the opposite end of the tunnel, near the center of the mountain. Massini acknowledged that there is something extremely important and was very well protected. The whole tunnel-hemisphere was in a plane parallel to the ground, and the dam is vertical hemispherical corresponding rocks on the ridge called "Babele". In fact, the vertical slope ended at about 40 meters (131.2+ feet) between Babele and the Sphinx of Bucegi (Sfinxul din Bucegi).

A similar structure in Iraq

The Pentagon team noted that hemispherical energy barrier has the same vibrational frequency and the same shape as one another very secret underground structure that they had discovered before, near Baghdad, Iraq. Shortly after this discovery, the Iraqi war broke out and after a few months Americans had access to the biggest secret in the area, which the Iraqis knew nothing about.

(Editors Note: One reason I believe that the American Military Industrial Complex is in Iraq. Access to Ancient Ruins, Secrets and their Destruction so others will never find the truth!)

Massini also said that what was there was about the planet's mysterious past and the history of their organization. When the Pentagon investigation noted the similarity of the data between the underground structure near Baghdad and the one from Bucegi, Massini and his masonic lodge was suddenly very agitated. Initially, they've almost panicked. The panic was due to the fact that this structure -- much larger and more complex than the one from Iraq -- is on Romania's territory (From Alexander: It seems that Romania has a very important mission in the years to come and the Reptilians also have this information. Above The Bucegi Mountains we also have an energetic pyramid – its shadow can be seen twice a year -- which has a protective purpose and also keeps safe the true knowledge that is about to be revealed to everyone when the time comes).

Massini provided the correct plan to reach the tunnel, as it has been calculated by experts in the Pentagon. The breakthrough was possible close to 60-70 meters from the first energy barrier on the side of the mountain. Massini promised ultra sophisticated U.S. military technology to achieve breakthrough into the first energy barrier. It was a very powerful device for high speed drilling of rock that used a strong plasma jet and a rotating magnetic field. Massini urged strict secrecy on this matter.

The Discoveries of 2003 in the Bucegi Mountains

The machine first drilled by a strange deviation of the magnetic field, but later corrected its trajectory. The gallery looked like a subway tunnel, was perfectly polished and led to the enigmatic tunnel discovered by the satellite. At the end of the tunnel was a huge stone gate which was moved by sliding it to the left. But before this gate, there was a huge energy barrier. Three people from the first special intervention team were very close to the invisible barrier. They touched it imprudently and died of cardiac arrest on the spot. Any object (rock, plastic, metal or wood) threw at the barrier, immediately turned into fine dust. Two generals from the Pentagon and the U.S. presidential advisor came there.

Secrets of the Bucegi Mountains

The Great Gallery

Massini knew most about the origin of this discovery and had knowledge of at least one item that was in the Great hemispherical hall. Beyond the formidable energy barrier, which caused the deaths of three people, was the solid rock gate. Into the tunnel's wall, just in front of the gate was an area of 20 square cm. On this square, was precisely drawn an equilateral triangle pointing up. The square was located between the huge grinding stone gate and the invisible energy barrier. Caesar felt that there is some compatibility between the energetic barrier and himself, something like a mutual "sympathy". His hand lightly touched the surface of the energetic barrier and he felt tingling on the skin. He submitted and passed completely through the dam no more than an inch thick. U.S. officials were absolutely stunned.

Tapping the triangle from the the center of the squared polished rock, Caesar initiated a huge stone gate which silently slid into the wall. This single command canceled the energetic barrier and also opened the stone gate. The Great Gallery was now show in its entire splendor. Even though there was no light source, the Great Gallery was lighted. But after turning off the first energetic barrier, the huge hemispherical shield at the other end of the room, suddenly turned to a higher vibration level and begun emitting higher radiations.

On a closer analysis, the wall inside the Grand Gallery seemed synthetic but also felt like something organic was part of it. It had the color of oil, but the reflections were green and even blue. The wall material was somewhat rough to the touch but it could not be scratched or bent. Resisted any attempt at breaking, piercing scratches or cuts. In a strange way, the fire flames were absorbed within itself. Practically, the fire could not “stay” on that material. Americans have recognized that the material is a strange combination of organic and inorganic matter. At 280 feet, the gallery suddenly turned to the right in a sharp angle. At a greater distance a blue light was noticed, that sparkle like a star. The blue light at the end of the gallery was just the reflection of the protective shield of energy.

In the Iraqi Underground

The U.S. adviser on national security issues was notified that the energetic shield from Iraq (in Baghdad) was suddenly activated, pulsating at a high frequency. In front of the shield also appeared a hologram of the planet, which sequentially and progressively depicted the European Continent, then south-east, then The Bucegi Mountains from Romania and then finally showing their location within the structure’s corridor. It was obvious that the two hemispherical energy shields were in a direct connection.

The bad news was that the U.S. presidency was notified and contacted the Romanian diplomacy through intelligence. In just a few tens of minutes, the whole operation had been disclosed. Lord’s Massini plan went down the drain. Initially they wanted to take political control, but the Romanian politicians who were entitled to be aware of these issues have panicked and could not cope with events. The diplomatic tension grew increasingly more pressure as Washington demanded an urgent communication with the Pentagon generals at the scene of operations.

CSAT (Supreme Defense Council) Emergency Meeting

An emergency session of the Supreme Defense Council (CSAT) has created a huge wave of sympathy for the Zero Department. Most were shaken by the news they’ve received. The CSAT decision was to continue the research, but under the Zero Department’s control and inventory everything found in the Great Room. From Bucharest the orders came in waves, canceling each other, some very vehement, others elusive, everything betraying a very high tension. CSAT members were in continuous session, keeping in touch with the Bucegi Mountains. They’ve decided to make public the discovery after having first discussed the problem on all sides. Romanian State was to make a formal statement to the entire World. But some CSAT members vehemently opposed.

Romania’s Official Statement

When the US diplomacy has been informed that Romania will release to the press the discoveries everything tuned into chaos. The President was called for a direct phone conversation with the White House. Within hours, the US blocked all financial transactions with Romania and its access to all other financial institutions. Romania was about to declare “State of emergency” in the Bucegi Mountains and the capital.

The talks between the U.S. officials arrived in Bucharest and the Romanian Emergency Department took place without a translator. They were very violent everyone was shouting and the USA has uttered many threats of retaliation on Romania. Other countries in the world knew nothing of the problem, and Americans knew well that there were some very powerful countries that would united with Romania to support the immediate public statement. The official declaration would have provided evidence to the world about everything discovered in the Bucegi Mountains, including photos and anything else essential for a complete clarification. Leading scientists and researchers were to be invited. But most importantly it would have revealed the truth about the very distant past of humanity and the real history which is almost entirely counterfeit.

The Americans have reacted very badly because that statement would have shattered in a second their global influence and power, and would have probably thrown into chaos their society. This was the main reason cited by them, to not create panic. But they forgot to acknowledge that this state of anguish and possible social disruption would have occurred as a direct result of deliberate deceit and manipulation made over the centuries by the Freemasonry. Also, a Papal intervention occurred, who called for moderation before this great fundamental step for mankind. The Pope promised to make certain documents available to the Romanian state from the ancient papal secret archives, which are of great importance for Romania and the evidence supports the discovery of the mountains. After 24 hours of talks, a final agreement occurred between the Romania and USA and they've choose to cooperate in some precise terms. The Romanian state was to postpone the disclosure, and gradually present everything to the people.

The Projection Room

The Grand Gallery ended abruptly with a giant aula, 30 meters in height and a length of 100 meters. The Projection room was smaller than the lecture hall of the mountain and was protected by the energy shield. Advancing towards the energy shield, a portion of it disappears like a door, allowing access to the projection room. The shield protects the room by any outside influences. Once inside the room, the shield becomes compact and looks like white-golden wall.

In the back, the shield doesn't descend to ground level like in the frontal area because at the back it's a stone wall. The wall has 10-12 meters high, and there were three enormous tunnel holes: one straight ahead and the other two -- symmetrical on both sides. They are lighted by a diffuse light in a greenish tint. Access to these tunnels was strictly prohibited by the secret protocol was signed between Romania and the USA.

Tables for Giants

From the front of the entrance hall contains a series of huge stone tables arranged along the right wall, following its curvature. Similarly, there is another series along the left wall. None of the tables have a height less than two meters. On the table tops were cut in relief, with precision, different signs of an unknown writing, characters that resemble ancient cuneiform.

The writing also contains more general symbols such as triangles and circles. Although the signs are not painted, they come out with a fluorescent light radiation in different colors from table to table. There are five tables on each side of the room. On some of them are different objects that appear to be technical tools. From many of them descending to the ground, are a lot of white, translucent wires which gather into rectangular boxes of shiny, silver material. The boxes are placed directly onto the ground. The cables are extremely flexible and lightweight and light pulses can be seen circulating along their length.

When approaching any of the tables, a holographic projection activates showing aspects of a particular scientific field. The three dimensional images are perfect and very large, with a height of almost two and a half meters. The projections run by themselves but at the same time they are interactive and depend on one who interacts with the tables by touching their surfaces.

The Discovery from The Bucegi Mountains:

Genetic combinations

Climbing on a specially brought tripod the table surfaces can be seen. They are covered with a film of a dark glassy material. The film is divided into several large square bounded by straight lines, forming a kind of grid. At one table the subject is biology and the projected image are of plants and animals, some completely unknown. Tapping one of the squares, the hologram shows the structure of the human body. It develops holographic images of various areas of the body that always rotate. Other squares show projections of other beings, on other celestial bodies. By tapping simultaneously two different squares, a complex scientific analysis shows the DNA of both beings and possibilities of compatibility between them. On the side vertical lines appear, containing explanations (but in the strange writing seen everywhere) and at the end, the most probable mutant form appears as a result after combining the two genetic information.

Disclosure operations

The bad news was that the U.S. president was notified and contacted the Romanian diplomacy, through intelligence. In just a few tens of minutes, the whole operation been compromised. Massini lord's plan goes down the drain. Initially they wanted to take political control, but our politicians who were entitled to be advised of these issues have panicked and could not cope with events. Caesar decided to reveal all aspects of the plans and intrigues involving links with Massini. Diplomatic tension grew increasingly demanding more compelling as communicating with Washington's pressure on the Pentagon generals at the scene of operations.

CSAT Emergency Meeting

The discussions were successful in Bucharest, in the sense that the facts were brought to the attention of people with great moral integrity and who are deeply patriotic. An emergency session of the Supreme Council of National Defence (CSAT) has created a huge wave of sympathy for the Zero Department. Most have been shaken by what they have learned since then. After the CSAT decision to continue research under the Zero Department, to inventory what was in the huge room screenings. From Bucharest, orders They spent some more than others, canceled each other out, they were vehement, when elusive, and betrayed a high voltage. CSAT members were in a meeting continue, maintaining about the Bucegi Mountains. They have decided to make public the discovery of the formidable mountains of Romania, after having first discussed the problem on all sides. Romanian State was to make an official statement to the world. Several members of CSAT opposed vehemently.

Romania's official statement

When American diplomat was informed that Romania will send a press release World of crucial importance for humanity, everything was chaos. Nobody knew, but everyone suspected that something is very serious and important. The President was called for a direct phone conversation with the White House. Within hours they had been blocked all transactions and agreements with international financial organizations of the Romanian state. It is expected momentarily order declaring a state of emergency in the mountains and the capital.

Talks between U.S. officials rushed to Bucharest and had arrived on the Romanian side were made without a translator. They were so violent that few have not been moments of crisis that diplomats were shouting at each other as much, proferand multiple threats of retaliation. Other countries in the world did not know anything of this problem, and the Americans know well that there are always some very powerful countries would be united with Romania to support immediate public statement.

The statement had contained the main data discovery Bucegi Mountains, providing evidence to the world, photos and other elements essential for clarification. It would have been invited leading scientists to study and research. But most importantly it would have been revelations about the very distant past of humanity and real history that was almost entirely counterfeit.

"In no-way!"

Americans have reacted so vehemently that statement would be shattered in an instant their planetary influence, and perhaps it would be thrown into chaos in their country's economy and society. This was the main reason cited by them, to not create panic. But they forgot to acknowledge that this state of anxiety and possible social disruption would have occurred as a direct result of deliberate deceit and manipulation made over the centuries by Freemasonry. He received a special intervention of the Pope who called for moderation before this great fundamental step for mankind. Pope sent even as the state will provide certain documents ancient Roman papal secret archive which are of great importance for Romania and the evidence supports the discovery of the mountains. After 24 hours of talks reached a final agreement by the Romanian-American cooperation in some precise terms. Position of the Roman state was to delay the disclosures, the presentation of their humanity gradually.

ESSENTIAL INFORMATION

A few months after the last meeting where Caesar told me stunning revelations the venerable Massini, I was again contacted to meet with him. Was in early June, 2003 and that was to be an extremely important moment to deepen the elements on which the world had learned about masonry. Caesar's explanations I had built when I look at issues were still unclear from the story that first interview he had with senior Massini. This clarification was necessary for me to have a fair view of the current situation as wide mankind, certain subtle mechanisms and laws are beyond understanding and the profane some direct relationship between traditional handling of Freemasonry and the illusion most living human beings. Another fundamental aspect of that meeting knowing the information was highly confidential Massini revealed that a senior Caesar. The otherwise, that was really amazing foundation for development which would be made in the Bucegi mountains, shortly after the disclosure. Events were carried out quickly and I played the movie viewer who seeks ecstatic extraordinary of ancient mysteries.

After a period of several months from their first issue, and the senior Massini kept his promise and visited again a Caesar, but by that time In a meeting held luxurious villa in Bucharest, which was high entertainment center, at the diplomatic level, the one of the most powerful country in the world. The invitation and the necessary preparations have been made

Massini senior through diplomatic channels at the top of the state, almost like and if the first meeting. The difference was the fact that it was the General Obadiah He warned that a direct Caesar that invitation, but even a secretary of state government to order one of the ministers.

The meeting between the two was much shorter than the first meeting and consisted of a rather strange proposal, made on the venerable Caesar, he offered when an extremely confidential information in exchange for a promise to provide Masonry representatives access to the discovery of what was to be made on the basis that intelligence, little by little, uncover the hidden intentions of the venerable began to be pushed aside. Caesar guessed then that mobile is the first meeting with senior Massini was in fact, preparing the ground for his consent is sought from the second meeting, in those circumstances, it was likely that proposals tentantele Venerable had not, in fact, than throwing dust in the eyes to gain confidence Caesar and to a cause it to facilitate control of what Masonry what could be a big state secret in Romania. Subsequent events were to Caesar's confirm these suspicions.

The second meeting with senior Massini took place in May of 2003, when Caesar came into possession of secret data which has provided great Mason. Due position they have in DM and that this department was the only body action was empowered to intervene in that kind of special situations, Caesar quickly understood The main reason for which he was urged by senior Massini. So after how he or she specified, leading representatives of global Masonry had a terrible power in almost every government on the planet, yet their influence can exceed a framework for action. They could, for example, to "make" and trigger wars between countries and populations, but could not force in certain directions held mainly by the internal structure and mode of bodies security and defense of the country. In other words, they could provide a relatively easy general framework for conflict on a continental area, but still could not compel a engagement within a country, if there was a major reason usually struggles involving ethnic or conquests of new territories.

Case information of exceptional importance that gave him a senior Massini Julius Caesar fit into an entirely different category. That information concerned a certain location in the Bucegi mountains, but it was incomplete. Just as Caesar had learned from reverend, there is something there that could not be identified even by means technological edge and that was, in fact, the big question mark problem. Caesar realized that venerable still have some more information that he did not disclose them. Although unaware of the reason, he understood that the information Those were probably very important for world freemasonry leaders since they have used all their influence to secure access. It was obvious that could not question of armed raids in force foreign troops in Romania regardless of reasons. Even if, for example, would have escalated territorial conflict Transylvania, this would probably require a long time, more campaigning, war destruction, especially a European diplomatic scandal, clearly, this time Masons did not want it. The conclusion was that what was needed was of interest to her at greatest strength and excluded an intervention, especially knowing that aspect excluded by certain people. Among other things, this explains the secret to peak which was requested Massini senior in the two meetings, as well as leading representatives of the decision Bilderberg to Caesar only one contact in this matter. The reason was simple: had found the right person to have a huge office and operational decision particular case, then she had tainted with many promises, and thereby winning the confidence, the Finally, she had determined to accept collaboration with the great Masons and enable them to exercise control and influence at that level. Caesar was considered the ideal person for this plan, but co-option action had to happen quickly, not to leave too much time to think and also to avoid unpredictable side of him. Perhaps the mission was regarded as vital for Masonry world and she really needed to succeed. That is why he was sent a representative Bilderberg's leading expert in the psychology of recruitment, which, moreover, was fitted with certain distance psychic influence.

From the data we had available then, Caesar realized that freemasonry World sought to acquire in a short time control of a site Bucegi secret, without any form of publicity and wanting even concealing Staged power there to that place in Bucharest after representatives had the elite had access there.

Such situations were on edge. As always when the big secret state, the leaks could jeopardize the entire action because there Rival political parties were not fully controlled by Masons. Therefore, the operation is seemed to be a particularly delicate. They had skilfully combined influence, discretion, action to exercise control and power. Even for master masons, the case was one very difficult, especially due to limited access that they had to coordinate it the research activities of the area of the Bucegi Mountains.

This was the general situation that I described it at the beginning of Caesar our meeting in previous months reflected the multitude of issues and implications deriving from the story first interview between Caesar and senior Massini. Oripilarea that had been included in some way explain the inability to understand all the nuances elements that we have learned since then. With no one to collect information on additional parent content to just make some discreet inquiries and to sort out in my mind a few items general high even existential problems and waited patiently for the signal a new meeting with Caesar, to find answers to them. He would be a meeting full of valuable meanings and explanations, which culminated in finding the secret that senior

Massini revealed a Caesar.

Contrary to custom, technical director of the DM asked me to interview only two weeks after the second meeting he had had with the venerable Massini. He testified that he had done so because things are shown to be of utmost importance and that if no proper sanitation focus on future actions, they could escape from control, and the effects could become negative. Caesar did not know if in the near future would be had time and opportunity to meet me to reveal everything to me, therefore he preferred to expedite the meeting with me, to be sure that I will find all the information necessary to publish them in a credible manner. The following months would be extremely tense and the novelty amazing discovery was made in the Bucegi Mountains. as for my meeting with Caesar, which preceded the main event in August, 2003 it was very well integrated in the oasis before the "storm" that had already appeared in sight.

Explanations initiation

Glad I had the opportunity to clarify uncertainties about some aspects the first interview between Caesar and senior Massini, I asked what was the cause for Masons and those who are recruited into their ranks choose - often deliberately - the evil and actions are specific. I knew that in the current era, the general trend of humanity is to slip on the slope of moral decay, ethical and spiritual, yet I convinced that good can overcome this state of depression in people.

With a very serious mine, Caesar explained to me then that the fundamental element Human destiny is free will.

- As structured, the human being includes both good and evil. The We can therefore say that if human nature coexist both its upper and nature lower. What is important is which of these two aspects is awakened and then amplified ourselves. I ask you now, perhaps, what is good and what is evil. No I want to digress into philosophical observations and comments, but I will say however that the Most simply, good can be understood as the absence of evil. Of course, with the same sense, evil is the absence of good.

I think it's not a secret for you that combines these two Christian traditions aspects heaven and that, hell.

Beyond the spheres or planes but subtle their respective expressions, heaven and hell - or in general, good and evil - are found Variety complex daily life of every man. Therefore, some people do not accidentally get to say, in their misfortune, that "my life became a living hell" or On the contrary, very happy when they say they live a life as paradise.

It is clear that the option or choice you make, man can headed, metaphorically speaking, to hell or hell or to heaven or paradise. If the choice It is there to do evil, no doubt he will go to hell and then, in a sense, hell it will manifest itself, radiation and influence of such a person will then be This will remove the evil and the realm of good and happiness.

Those who choose evil is not meant to understand the existence of complete and they have fighting so furiously against the good, harmony, love and beauty. However, need to know that human beings are completely free to choose between the two extremes ie between good and evil. Nobody forces, no one undertakes, it is pure choice. Here, certainly has a great influence personal destiny, and some very deep trends in mind sub-conscious, but even when the strength and determination of these impulses seem to be insurmountable, is still a certain percentage and freedom of choice. Free agency do not ever go away completely. If so, then man would no longer be a mere puppet, fully subject to external forces obscure. Therefore, even in the dramatic situations, human beings are free to choose, so she can choose a good inspiration, they can move towards an unexpected chance and here, almost close, she can rebuild their lives in a completely amazing on other bases. It is equally true, however, that any choice involves sacrifice for the better. You heard someone that you ever make a sacrifice for the worse? Evil is always easy, slippery and are based on the force of inertia, and ignorance has also proved, because it involves effort.

Therefore they say that it is very easy to do evil, but it is very difficult to FAP tuiești a well. The main idea I want to understand here is that when their man "Sacrifices" inertia and act in a harmonious way, he is already moving to another state and condition of life. It evolves because it sacrificed what that surrenders is less than to accede to what is superior. But many people do not have the inner strength that is necessary to stop their bad habits or negative trends that manifest and therefore exist at the global level of humanity, a pronounced tendency to regress and amplification of evil and perversity.

- Means that just using Masonic elite of this inertia, laziness and mental darkness of most people to control world population! I spoke eu.

- It is perfectly true. Masons are very easily handle this power lack of reaction, slowness, inertia, obscurantism which most of people is structured very low vibration levels. In such situations Masonry generates practical, a true state of "drowsiness" collective, which serves very well interests. This is very important to correctly understand how Freemasonry action.

Often, these actions - which in some circles involving high Masonic realization of complex rituals of black magic - are made even from a distance, and those who are receptive to these energies înlănțuitoare, pressing them to fall easy victims, Gliding in a bizarre sort of sleep as lead.

I do not mean, however, sleep only physically, but also a kind of state that are included aboulic people, make them to be very obedient and behave like puppets. That is the ideal in which they can be controlled and led without resistance. Here, then, one The main purpose of Freemasonry, which they try to generalize the one whole planet. From another perspective, you should know that this "sleep" of the strange people is just a way of protective forces to defend the demon revelation of certain spiritual truths. If you are careful and you'll see the reaction people at times when issues are communicated very lofty, spiritual and valuable about existence and evolution, you'll find with great astonishment that, especially when, most of they face a strange drowsiness, obviously, such a state inertial excludes any higher understanding, any feedback and any constructive attitude.

- As I've exposed you things, understand that organizations have almost Masonry all the levers of action in society, that people use to division and their effective control. I'd say they vehemently attacked everything is spiritual genuine, sublime, aiming to transform humanity into a kind of living facility, you can act and will result in exactly as they want.

I was dejected. An impotent rage stirred my being and I could not find them antidote. Sensing my inner state, Caesar came to me with great kindness.

- You are right in what you said. Unfortunately, people have become well some "robot", listening to the orders they are given and just executing them. However, good to know that the force is tremendous and that any action in this regard may be proved extremely effective. There is always hope, just to know them feeding with great faith and purity. It will sharpen your alertness and will inspire you to act in a timely manner. Masons know that they have their weaknesses.

- Just wanted to ask you, in previous months I have sought documents the subject and learned with amazement that there are many different views, contradictions and misunderstandings between the various Masonic lodges in the world. If so, then means that they themselves are divided and powerless.

Caesar smiled with understanding and explain my dilemma.

- One of the big tricks that made the Masonic elite is to create the impression that two or more Masonic lodges are fighting among themselves. In reality, the tip

Their Masonic pyramid structure forming the greatest masters of the ruling elite freemasonry means well, but at the enemies as they appear.

The idea is to create confusion and confusion, because they know that they sleep vigilance man. In fact, it is a devilish trick, one that falls into its place without be advised not to choose one of the lodges - believing that bad - but it will choose the other, who will think is good. Such things are only in appearance, because in reality, Freemasonry is and remains the same regardless of the "fireworks" that used for cheating man. You have to trust and be persistent in beneficial actions they commit, ultimately, even the forces of evil are subordinate forces of good. And because it comes about, you know that a great mystery of occult universe is the role it plays in the context of the evil forces of evolution, ie how in which the evil creation in the economy.

I was dumbfounded. Like most people, know that white is black and white is black. Now we learn that in fact there is even a sense and a correlation between these extremes.

- What do you mean? That even evil has a purpose in our lives?

- And still very important. However, to properly understand this issue must have an open and unprejudiced mind. Fanaticism, especially at religious or ideological, not good house with spiritual growth.

I nodded in silence. I was all eyes and ears ready to listen to explanations I gave them valuable Caesar.

- The fact that the universe, as one can find, there is both good and evil is striking evidence proving the existence of human freedom of choice, ie his individual wishes to exercise free choice in life. Often, this delicate is the man to choose evil, which by nature is autodestructive. In other words, in ignorance man chooses to self-destruct, thus preferring to deny himself. Therefore, a deeper analysis, the choice of evil means first choice to fight against his own being, which ultimately will destroy itself. This Mystery deepens the relationship between good and evil, because it implies the existence of a goal presence of hidden forces of evil in the universe and therefore each of the beings in the life human. I do not know to what extent you are familiar with the ideas about the meaning of existence and with the spiritual progress, but I will say that human evolution is, above all, the primary source's return, purely spiritual, from which came. Imagine yet the very fact that this origin is that sublime eternal happiness and a every man wants. This return to its spiritual origins of human beings must be but fully conscious and free of any temptation bottom, all that could mean illusion, coercion, prejudice. If you understand this correctly, you can say that You understand the need for the forces of evil in creation.

I was a little confused, because not yet caught the essence of the problem. Caesar continued to explain a lot of patience.

- If evil did not exist, you were not able to realize the need return to the source and you linger indefinitely by who knows which parts of the universe. So,

But evil] is the creative role of humans test. In this way the practical test of knowledge, spiritual realization and the capacity to love each individual on the path of spiritual evolution, depending on the reactions and the choices he them, can tell whether the test passed or not that life.

- As the exams in college, I did a parallel.

- Exactly. As the exams as those in college or professional except that while they are illusory and ephemeral nature - being surrounded by a limited temporal and spatial domain - life tests or exams that make sense spiritual is very important steps in personal development. Passing success of such a test is an important victory in the fight for domination of nature inferior man and this victory can develop into an increased capacity to understand Some subtle aspects of life, gradually acquiring maturity and discernment spiritual or a multitude of other beneficial and positive aspects. Caesar was a brief pause, as if to leave me time to think and reflect Indoor.

- I want to be sure I understand. What is being tested and how to recognize these tests? I asked very carefully at the new course of discussion.

- Most exams test your faith and discernment of life. Often However, due to ignorance, people interpret these tests as some great evil, as a curse or a bad hitting him, causing him to falter in such cases, Evil manifests itself primarily for human testing and purification. Nobody beyond, over its evolution, tests, lessons and exams for all sorts of life. Practically speaking, these tests are our confrontation with the forces of evil itself, which Plans are subtle and satanic demon creation. This is applicable both individual case and if a couple or even a people or a community nations.

- Well, we are often helped by others when we are faced with trouble or when we ask for advice in a very difficult life. Who goes then the test: new or individuals helping?

- You must be aware that help is not to force. A person can be advised and driven on the right path, but remember that she has her own free arbitrator. To have free will, however, in other words to have a choice, involves that man is responsible for the freedom they have and they manifest. It can be helped, supported, but beyond that it boosted his freedom to choose between various possibilities at its disposal. If he were forced others to follow called path, even if this path is highly beneficial, it would mean that freedom s is practically annulled. It is therefore very important for human beings to be let freedom of choice, but choice is good given the awareness and understanding that it is that being.

Now know enough information about the implications of Freemasonry at world and are aware that on this planet is already giving a fierce battle between the forces forces of good and evil. However, every moment you are free to choose whose side want to be. If your inner structure, as is obvious, you have chosen well, then you act accordingly and will diligently pursue plans to fight for the annihilation Masonic. The same is true for other people, only that many they do not even know the facts regarding the mode of action and influence Masonry in the world. Furthermore, the game is so perverse evil forces that they are infiltrating insidiously find anywhere a "fertile ground", that wherever there is a weak consciousness or perverted enough to cause it to say that word with great violence we are surrounded only by the paranoid who sees all around them only attack conspiracies, covert manipulation or games, that in fact, none of this does not exist that all is well and naturally and natural place, in reality, such a behavior is typical for a demon being tormented by multiple influences, which she plays the game. If the person is part of the intellectual elite, whether it is man scientist, journalist or writer, then the better for Masonic plans. Feedback such a bad person, which can be assumed to have a certain authority intellectual, unfortunately contributes significantly to influence design other people. In fact, probably know that one of the greatest tricks of Satan is to a man to be convinced that the devil - that Satan himself - no. This is how it works and Masonic organizations, giving the impression that they do and want good. It is but an appearance, because in reality they battle more or less openly against the good, religion, faith and spirituality.

- I do not understand how it is possible for people to live in this huge conspiracy and however, not aware of its existence! I cried myself full of riot.

- Why are you surprised? You yourself, until recently, I used to go there and not have any clue about Masonry and appalling about her plans. Probably see just like everyone else, that many things go wrong, but still not addressed the problem In a more mature. Now you know your inner truth and substance, which is very good of you made immediately take attitude and want to share this knowledge to others. You already able to do extraordinary, publishing what I told you so far.

The first step is to draw public attention to the reality that surrounds. It is analog speaking, that when you pull the bells on Sunday, in a city asleep, people start to wake up slowly and will then require more details. But even more importantly is that they will become much more careful everything that is happening around the world and even, because then they already have a basic solid information. Their vigilance is a first shot, very heavy, which is given Freemasonry, as a vigilant man is more difficult to be deceived, manipulated or controlled. Then will arise a general current of opinion that will ever catch much force and so many plans and initiatives will be blocked even in masonic bud.

Caesar stood and looked at me keen to see if I understand.

- However, the reactions seem to me very weak and I really wonder how we manage to achieve what we wanted, I said.

- Most prophecies predict that, eventually, defeat the forces of good will. On Moreover, it is very difficult fight. Freemasonry world as a horrible hydra is one that performs all this satanic guidance that supports the people of entire planet. in Romania, for instance, especially lately, Freemasonry acts almost at will. Poor people who are kept in ignorance and handling, no not even suspected that the cause of the tragedy that has always under the eye and lives oppressed. If the hydra would be defeated, then we could talk about regeneration Quick in all aspects, the whole world. Unfortunately, the vast majority of Western people not to notice how careful handling - some them very obvious - of Masonry. Apathetic and selfish, most prefer to isolated in a strange form of "hibernation" town, having mistaken impression that it guides own life. Even if they learn about the evil actions committed by Masons, prefer to deny the convenience or to rely on the fact that others will take action in their place. More than that, they adhere to a crass ignorance to certain guidelines that are infused and satanic Masonry encouraged rampaging through rock music, drugs, alcohol, tobacco and the materialist conception, these conditions gradually stupidity, but steady, the human being who becomes devoid of will and determination of its own is pretty easy the freemasonry to fulfill the plan.

Caesar suddenly silent. It was a rather long pause in which we both remained

deep in thought, in the end he continued to speak, but his voice could see a slight hint of sadness

- Unfortunately in our country the situation is identical. People like "sleep" are not awake, not lucid. Although some data have been published about the fundamental Freemasonry and its global plans, inertia and dramatic state of "drowsiness" people-which is correlated with the sleep of reason - has grown so much that they are catadixesc very few who even believe that what is being said about Masonry as possible and that is a cruel reality. They find it so monstrous and incredible that in a subconscious impulse of fear and self preservation, they prefer to believe that Perhaps not quite as bad as it is described that such information may defamation actions are actually the destabilizing forces for who knows what obscure reasons, so prefer to close their shell again and stay longer on the inertia of which were covered before. The situation is even worse than one in which they knew nothing about plans satanic Freemasonry, because he knew and however, not to act in accordance with what you know is a big coward and a serious violation The basic moral code, in such a bad situation is not one who does not know, but it poorly at that, knowing, acting as if they knew. Therefore, the first step and important is the awakening consciousness of the people of this terrible "sleepy". If they do not become lucid, they will not understand why conditions are so difficult and why it is happening so many absurd things. This also happens because many times, the essence action is hidden Masonic symbols that are highly obscured.

It was one of the "sticking point" that we wanted to clarify one because I had done some correlations but still I needed more explanation. We took So I asked one occasion, and Caesar:

- They use certain symbols in ritual actions to influence outcomes their satanic plans?

- There are indeed some Masonic symbols that are already well known such as compasses and trowel. Others, however, are more obscured, for instance, the pyramid "All-seeing eye" on top of them, represented not by accident on U.S. bill a dollar. In addition to symbols, Freemasonic estimates are also very Masonic Lodges important for devotees, but they are little known other people. For example, all on a dollar bill is the Latin motto "EPluribus Unum," which in translation means synthetic "The chaos to order," which Now you can suggest so many correlations. If you analyze the current situation soberly the world and also in Romania in terms of social, economic and political will easily able to determine how this chaos is structured so as to ensure gradual establishment of the New World Order, which is not saying New Order freemasonry - so ignorant not to know who are actually creators - but the New Order. Another principle that it applies strictly Freemasons, especially Lodges and the Masonic Brotherhood "them, is the imperative that says:" All for One and One for all. It may seem strange, but know that compliance with this mandatory state confers unit and a display of strength and toughness which are considerable. For this terms must confess to you that if people from Romania or from any other part of the world manifests the same state of tenacity, the same driving force and the same systematic engagement and if Masons - but, of course, facing a deep sense beneficial and positive - when the current state of humanity, or at least a portion of it would be different.

But - and this is very important to note - while the common man always has the choice available, guidelines are behind the Freemasons profoundly evil, even satanic, members of this organization that gives a certain state of terror, an attitude of subordination to the army almost. This makes those who act in these groups or to Masonic lodges in almost implacable their decisions. An order in Freemasonry is not discussed because at the start of the organization, those who are willing to accept an oath and perform a ritual horrible pervert which actually requires a total submission and obedience, otherwise agreeing to be killed.

- It means that beyond their actions in the physical, applied and some Masons ritualis-occult processes and political initiatives which are evil, I found myself.

- They are an integral part of their practical and ideological system, but only from one level up. To understand better, evil rituals and invocations are made only those members who have reached a certain rank or position high in the tree the lodge to which they belong. Typically, information that is revealed about Freemasonry does not insist on such subtle or psychic impact you has giant sphere of influence of this evil group of people who joins it. Therefore, for the common man who learns some truths about her Freemasonry is more of a mutual aid group, something like a gang thieves and charlatans. However, membership or integration of human beings in freemasonry has strong negative effects such as the occult, which will resonate with Distinctive features of the organization. In fact, this merger by joining the Masonic groups will create negative changes in the aura of being so deep that, as compared the status it had before joining it will be forced to recognize the fundamental nature evil freemasonry has the guidance.

- Then how do you explain their formidable power in areas of basic life contemporary example in economics or politics?

- Indeed, Freemasonry is one of the most powerful groups at today, I would say that it is the only occult group that has political purposes. All other occult groups or organizations that exist are usually spiritual purposes. They are not engages to carry out actions jpolitice because in their view they are ephemeral, if Freemasonry, the situation is completely different. Freemasons make a big This emphasis on political involvement to make stagnant those who adhere to their organization only at this level, the influence and power they can have a the masses of people. This evil of Freemasonry result in so-called "Broken heart" for those who enter its ranks. In fact, it is natural Masons to act this way because they use occult initiation is not intended in any way to develop and raise the soul of joining the organization. If the soul were that human beings wake up, then it could not be manipulated and determined to take numerous actions are clearly evil and satanic. From this point to the feelings of affection, kindness and compassion are completely alien to a Mason, as if he had not been allowed to order any longer. By means initiation ritual occult freemasonry of adhering to the "remove", in fact, these feelings because of the subtle point of view when he makes a pact with the forces fe demon, the forces of darkness. Unfortunately, most times being concerned or not even realize this terrible setback that occurs in its existence.

When promoting an elite member of a Masonic lodge in a high and very important position in the organization, it has some subtle criteria by which their if that person is aware enough to "model" in the direction of actions demon.

I myself have found out later, after my first conversation with senior Massini, many of these revelations about Freemasonry. It is almost incredible how much dirt human can exist above the top of their hierarchical pyramid, but everything is polished and made appear bright and noble, fabulous wealth through their possession of relationships, influence and control they have in the extraordinary world. provided they are experts in testing those we receive from or on advancing its position very high in their organization, I was naive to imagine that I cheated a venerable Massini, making one to believe that I accept his proposal of membership without discussion and collaboration.

The old man was very astute, very amazing information that I provided them with on their methods of action have been included, in a way, the test or, rather, "Race" to which I was subjected. Most likely, however, that he knew long before that there was no problem for me to accept it. indeed, did not meet their standards rotting soul, and I had a great spiritual force and a strong discernment to realize the truth hateful in respect of, without being lured to their proposals. However, as you'll see, "the book" the game was too important and they had to risk, but they did it in a very complex.

Masons are not stupid, by contrast, have very high intelligence, but it has a perverse nature, even diabolical, so you can serve in the administration of evil plans, In addition, at higher levels in their hierarchy, they currently use some occult energies Natural, but they use the bad or the very low, lower. Not accidentally, Freemasonry is, just as I said, the only group that has for occult political.

So there are no fools, but in some extreme cases they can be turned, aiming for a particular purpose, they are fools. This was the case of the two meetings that we had with senior Massini. It is very likely to be screened mental venerable yet before, the whole discussion - I mean the first date - he has had with me. In fact, it was more of a monologue of his own, which calls for my hypothesis. He knew exactly what my say, how to behave, how to make my proposal for collaboration and how to tempt me to accept it. Above all, however, knew how to let me believe that I myself have a wrong, giving them know that I accepted the proposal. He knew, therefore, that lie eu, But I do not I thought he knew it! Only after several weeks, I was surprised to find out the truth, through secret channels of information and intelligence of the RIS. It seems that Massini told, full of pride, something about the discussion held with me, personalities high-ranking political hierarchy in Europe and so I learned, actually "score" the first real meeting. The situation remained, however, very complicated. If he knew that I lie and pretend it then why he played all that charade, telling me that I will even make a second visit when I had to communicate something very important? The role played in the first meeting was exceptionally well played. Telling me all these shocking truths about Masonry, he practically forced me to my "schedule" strategy of deceit, which was waiting. Then was necessary for me to be convinced that he believed the lie of my acceptance. Moreover, the scheduled a second meeting, which would be even more important than the first. What was However, the plan's complex and highly obscured? What Masons strenuously sought if were willing to risk even a misleading attitude on my part? mean that the objective was really important to them and that gave not stop at anything to a get. A first conclusion was that, in a sense, constituted mainly pion all that mysterious problem, which still did not know anything. It was obvious that if I still asking, could not be based only on me in relation to this objective. But who was that? By the nature of which make long-Zero Department, could suspect that their interest was related to something quite exceptional, which was related only intervention teams operating in the department, teams that run them myself. Logically speaking, this implies that they wanted to have access to a state secret that no I do not know, but they knew they could not reach except through me, thanks I had the special function in the department. They thought I was the only sensible conclusion that could be correlated with Massini venerable attitude. It was clear that to achieve this goal in this case, it was willing to risk everything. What could determine, however, the world's largest Masons to orient with so much interest to Romania? I already knew about the existence of prophets very obscured, Christians made two great saints of the past century, they concerns the future of Romania in the context of the future of all mankind. I also learned, top secret existence of a very valuable parchment, in the vast library of Vatican, which exhibits the same problem with the Romanian territory, a situation close mentality and great pride inconceivable states and world powers. There Also in the secret archives of the Museum of History in Vienna, a very old document exhibit extremely distant historical past and also fabulous civilization that existed those times in Romania. Therefore, these are all different sources, two of them very old, which largely covers the same things, in these conditions is difficult believe that we are dealing with a scam, in addition, there are many other aspects that correlate. The

For instance, the prophecies say that it is a matter of just a few years until outbreak of "signs" that will draw attention to that area. On the other hand, must know that the Freemasons are very careful in this country because they know that most long big problem for them at the planetary level, this is the place. They themselves know very well prophecies about the future of Romania and I know that most problems are will even in this part of the globe. Therefore, they are very attentive and interested in what is happening in our country. This explains their backstage intrigues and machinations of the economy and country's policy, in order to ensure that control and generate the same kind of groups and The weird and often claim they finance with fabulous sums of money. in these groups they have attracted and still attract naïve people with a weak character, but hungry for easy gains, which are even willing to sell their soul to arrive only in the so-called high society and rich. The main purpose of these mini-organizations is to block any attempt spiritual or social development and economic normality of the population, while creating impression that their work is very hard in these areas.

So when I learned that you concepuseră cunning plan of the elite Bilderberg group, we linked all these issues, because the situation seemed obvious in Furthermore, I know about some secret items which related to the future people, they had learned from the parent Arsenic Boca, with more than fifteen years ago. One who is endowed with a minimum common sense, a lucid and pay a certain intuition, is virtually impossible to not notice how - often amazing and very complex - it is most of the prophecies come true.

Based on what we already know and seeing the insistence of senior action in Massini this case, I sensed that the issue was of utmost importance for Freemasonry, and for the entire country. There I remained, however, than to wait next meeting with the patriarch to understand what they actually Masons from me. Basically, It did not matter at all if I lied to them or not anyway because it would not be met extravagant promises which I never had them. For them it was important to them facilitate access to something that now no one I do not know. It seems that the problem was very delicate, since it no longer afford to intervene in people power highest decision, ie the figures in the political sphere and state leadership. If just wanted secrecy and concealment to those with whom most of the intrigues and costly plans, mean that the situation was extreme and fit the parameters maximum security. I confess that I myself was very excited by this, but then I had no other additional data. Although I rely on logical inferences only on intuition and information Security had received the second meeting would confirm all my suspicions. Power policy had been circumvented.

- Even I wondered why the venerable decided not to intervene in this matter through diplomatic channels very high, I said. I understand that the elite did not want all Masonic advertising if you plan to have, but on the other hand, a direct order, the very top, it would be increasingly sophisticated meetings with senior exempt Massini. in your case might not even be sure The final result, while direct government intervention in the case could have very easy and immediate access to what they wanted.

- Your observations are correct. However, remember that they have certain limits of influence policy, which differs from country to country. Probably felt that way as uncertain Romania, although obviously it would be easier. Even if this option were to go, they had only had access but no control over what was of interest. However, senior Massini I stated very clearly the terms of cooperation at the second meeting, told me that they Their people have there, which must work together closely, thus following directives Masonic elite. In case of involvement of political figures in this issue things would not be able to be just because of vanity or some unpredictable reactions expressions of power, I was therefore quite clear that in this respect did not want to risk nothing. From here we concluded that what was of interest mainly, I would say even highest grade, was firmly in keeping a secret problem.

Therefore preferred roundabout and difficult way out to contact me, to I "convince" and I "recruit" in their ranks. Were used diplomatic channels just to get to me very quickly and to avoid any confusion from other High-ranking individuals.

- However, political influence and interference in their country are very high, so can manage or even block, if necessary, any rumor or story that you do not agree, I noticed.

- In addition, this nation's interest to maintain a degree of poverty and stupidity which has reached unbelievable. You know very venerable Massini said it. However, their politics has become, especially lately, quite obvious. No they almost do not even bother to hide it, appearances are maintained only the hypocrisy and deceit, showing boundless contempt and total disrespect for nation. Their very strange and cunning policy aims primarily to the secătuiască point of view that a nation and to bring that state of total dependence aboullic, requiring among other kinds of foreign aid loans, which creates obligations. The main goal is to keep people in this strange state of Unfortunately, as you see, in many cases succeeded. If things continue in this and so there will be a revival of the elements of liability, it is possible that this critical condition of things that can not be denied by anyone, to continue and even increase in next period. That's why I told you it is very important that people know the causes underlying this situation that exists at national and even global. Then you can be sure that those who necessarily have a certain openness of mind will be able, in turn, to "awaken" and others. It's like an avalanche effect in which, after reaching a critical point - which is about 5% of the population - development his is almost exponential, just as the snow which bulgărele it started small, rolling - accumulating more and more snow - and it quickly becomes very high.

In their ignorance, many people unwittingly act in consensus guidelines Freemasonic without even suspecting that they do so practically, the dirty game Masonic groups. However, using intermediaries, are very virulent and insidious. Method of using intermediaries - who then are like a "cannon fodder" - in action they engage Freemasonry is very old and frequently applied. By this, they Take responsibility and if things go as they watched, they blame always the source term, a finger-pointing it to incriminating facts

I breathe deeply and I turned in his chair. This information seemed to me almost hilarious, but still could not deny the evidence. I thought that there must be a path to victory, even when suffering is unbearable. Therefore I - I asked with great interest Caesar:

- Now things are quite clear, but I wonder what would be the most appropriate ways to neutralize the force of evil and diabolical plans of Freemasonry?

I felt that Caesar was pleased with the attitude that address.

- It's a good start, "he answered me smiling. The most practical, current context, is primarily disclosure of such evil actions of Freemasonry other people, either directly through discussion or by posting them as I suggest do with my stories. It creates a common front of those who are not engaged in Masonic organizations, which will make many of the plans and actions to be Masons unmasked by creating a clear current of opinion against them. Sure that their actions were and are often very insidious, especially geared to blocking, for instance, any brilliant ideas, any great invention, that any qualitative leap able to improve the livelihood of the people. They are the ones that give instructions for both counteract such invention or idea and for bringing the inventor and dismay of a total state of depression, stress and helplessness. Therefore, many prefer to leave the country Saxon and provide exceptional intellectual capabilities in other areas of the world in a way that is absolutely paradoxical situation, you do not believe you had the opportunity to meet the other countries. Although Masons seek, in general, promotion of non-values and annihilation of human beings or even eliminate special initiative and have a great power beneficial action, however I would say that in our country, this plan is made predominantly application. Moreover, political and economic situation of the country shows that masons work just as (I described, they almost always seek to promote men of straw, corrupt people and even to establish a general atmosphere of corruption, in order to thereafter to ensure that infiltration to ensure their success dirty games that they do. Think that if the key items would be placed intransigent and good people faith, they could not admit of intrigue, backstage games and miseries, which, as well you know, currently infest politics and economy. They would not follow, therefore, directives Freemasonic and soon there would be a great revival in people's lives in all areas. The fact that, conversely, things do not follow this course - although for years are "Test" changes, reshuffle or commitments and are taking all sorts of promises - it can show the true face of Masonic influence, which maintains a very deliberate tension in the country by hiding the truth, by lying and hypocrisy.

The more people become more lucid and knowledgeable Freemason plans, especially soon they will oppose this dirty game. Then be made to expose Masonry's evil intentions public. Unmasking is a very useful element in the fight against Freemasonry. Already many of their actions are obvious to everyone, but not are correlated with the Masonic organization. Even if I refer to one example, at the drain Intelligence in Romania, would be enough to attract serious attention to how Masonry handling the population. There are many others who have noticed this, who wrote indicating its concern over this phenomenon, though they do not know the true source Because of this "run" of the Romanian intellectuals abroad. knowing nothing or almost nothing about Freemasonry, they put this on account of poverty in the country and the desire for enrichment with great intellectual ability to undertake abroad. However, when such a state sluggish for many years, it is necessary to analyze the problem from another angle, in fact, Masons often momec beings with extraordinary intellectual endowments to a life attractive, carefree day tomorrow, research institutes and companies West, in this way, the departure of hundreds and thousands of brains endowed in Romania, they fail to implement eventually, their diabolical plan to annihilate the impact spiritual awakening must occur in this country, to which the very talented intellectual who went to other states, would have made a significant contribution. This revival is very useful because it allows people to become aware of their mission in these difficult conditions. She even gives them the strength needed to withstand certain vicissitudes inherent in the period that Romania, where they are staying just to help "awaken" fast track people and other people, but by massive exodus of those special human beings, spiritual awakening may be delayed, a gold alloy is even more valuable as the amount of noble metal - ie gold - is sea. If this quantity decreases, then it reduces the amount and even resistance alloy.

- You mean that eventually it is possible to defeat the forces of evil Masonic? I asked, slightly worried.

- I only said that the revival of this nation may still delay a time, but there is no doubt that it will happen eventually, even if this struggle frenzied seeks to invalidate the freemasons. Spiritual transformation is inherent even if some human beings skeptical, negative ideas resonating with Masons, their doubts and even the belief that we will not win. This political subversive evil which is maintained by the Freemasons, is mainly intended to generate a negative resonance absence of hope in people, lack of confidence extraordinary benefits of this nation until the whole nation can even reach not to have no hope, but when a large mass of people is a hope they cultivate, nourish and maintain an enthusiastic, thinking about it creatively and positive, it creates a huge current of spiritual force which greatly accelerates realization of that collective aspirations of the people. So I say, if an idea deeply includes beneficial and spiritual masses, then it generates a tremendous wave of positive energy that can be very key to turning this nation. This is valid for any other population in the world. The most important benefit of the ideas would be for people to wake up from "deep sleep" imposed by the Freemasons and becoming lucid, to act firmly on all other positions, then having an understanding higher on the overall situation.

At the other pole, but it is terrible when one idea includes negative masses.

The principle of resonance is the same but the nature of energy which is then amplified in excess is profoundly negative, destructive, evil. It causes a state of depression in people, the absence of hope, of confidence in self and what is more serious, it is heavily contaminated, resulting in a state of indolence, laziness, lack of positive engagement, in such a situation, it is clear that the game's evil masons can be achieved easily enough. This is how and why they act extremely virulent and a maximum persistently by the media when some people or groups are The spiritual known world horrifying truth about the actions and intentions. Masons from Top search then by all means to destroy those persons or organizations, Tampa advantage of the credulity of the ordinary man, which can be easily manipulated.

- Yes, I was amazed and I deeply cunning and manipulating their perfidy people, especially after you told me of the venerable complex plane Massini, I commented eu. It is conceivable that their intelligence drug fiend.

Caesar approved me for that time they had available was very limited, the I began to relate the discussion to have with great Mason.

Panic at the Pentagon

- A second meeting with senior Massini the situation somewhat balanced. While meeting continued in the spirit of a game of cat and mouse, just like the first time, though now it already knew the true intentions, the venerable, but did not know it. It is true that little My advantage over him does not change too much the problem, but at least allowed me to be more vigilant. My actions had to be very clever, not to disturb relative equilibrium situation. If, for instance, I would not have been outraged and I threatened to reveal all state peak, most likely I would have been immediately passed on a dead line with a unpredictable results towards the goal of Masons and even in terms of life My. ultimately, we can say that practically I do not exist in this country: the only file Registration is at the office of General Obadiah. I do not have political ties, diplomatic relations business economics or social obligations. It is a very special situation, which has many advantages, but carries certain risks. The advantage is that it can access the important data and state secrets related to certain findings or events completely species across the country. By "special events" refer to situations which are domain inexplicably, at least in terms of modern science or design normal. The disadvantage is that we as a general support than Obadiah, who approaching retirement. I have no enemies, because the department is obscured, but he remains a "territory" can be claimed by SRL Only then can problems occur. The scandal was not therefore a solution. I am interested to help this country, not to miss opportunities favorable arise. Perhaps the venerable Massini was not very difficult to get my replacement - with all the opposition to General Obadiah - but it would have meant more much restlessness, uncertainty, and most unpleasant for the great Masons, led to a indefinite postponement of action. This seems to bother him most.

- Why the great hurry, especially for what? I asked with an obvious interest.

- I will tell you immediately, but please keep in mind that neither I nor even those of the elite Masonic world - at least from what I could tell - do not know much in this direction.

- From what I understand, it seems they have accepted a solution "compromise" does not like working with you, although I confess to you otherwise, but neither are willing to complicate things which may escalate into a genuine scandal, by removing you from office.

- Yes, it is clear now that would be done already, to place their man in my place, which that would have solved the problem completely and immediately. But, although they may cause my removal function, however it seems that they lack the main lever for me who will replace them and then they decided for a compromise solution that has to adjust on the fly. "

- Who changes the function currently set at DM? I asked the innocence. If we know the diplomatic channel, do not think it's too hard to figure which are In fact, the real games and who makes them backstage. Unfortunately, the function that we had in government has not allowed me to have access to such information.

The room has left a heavy silence. in a later, Caesar replied in a low voice:

- Let's leave things as they are in this respect. The fact that the influence that Massini is not guaranteed venerable problem solving just as he wanted us can give to understand that not all are corrupt. This is a good thing. Perhaps after the first confrontation with me, after the group reported its results

Bilderberg has proposed to continue the venerable Massini initial plan, although it was relatively Masons risky, however a more rapid action and my induction error in the meantime, however, I found the venerable pretense, and I plan reworked initially. If the first meeting thinking to make the game, apparently agreeing to work with them at the second meeting already knowing their perfidious intentions, I had

I just pretend the decision until I get to what really interests them, as was going to block access by revealing that the top state issues. It was in fact, the risk posed to them, but that - just as I said - a thought - largely annihilated.

- How say the books were already made in each "camp", I said very story about Caesar.

- Yes, he replied with a smile. When I was informed, a month ago, that Massini venerable going to visit me again, I knew that was time peak. These people never do something for free or without a personal interest, therefore, I Massini expected that my senior exhibit "hot spot" of the problem. The fact that he again announced visit made me understand that their decision to the top court decided to build on the version that directly involves me, after the first meeting tatonaseră and somewhat prepared "land", the very fact that Mason was great this time host meeting in the luxurious villa of foreign diplomats, where the security systems were Perfect, my conviction that what I learned was very important. Throbbled with anticipation. I begged my Caesar quickly reveals secret. Easily Amused, he continued to speak:

- The meeting did not take long, maybe a little more than an hour. You must confess, however, that the information they gave me a perplexed me senior Massini even me. I was able to convince myself once again as they have immense power Freemasons even at the highest state bodies in the world, infiltrating more much in them and having access to information of paramount importance for humanity and for her safety. Moreover, the Masons want to control and manipulate these highly confidential information for the benefit of their own to carry out its earliest Plan to control and dominate the entire planet.

I met with the patriarch in that villa and after a few minutes as people I maintained friendly and joking - during which I was careful to reiterate in my veiled willingness to adhere to their elitist organization - went directly to senior Massini subject, according to its characteristic style. He then told me that he has information top secret that comes directly from the Pentagon's General Staff and that this information is refers to a certain place in Romania. He testified that the Bilderberg group has most important representatives of political bodies, economic and defense U.S. connections going up to the presidential chair. Beyond the position of influence U.S. President, there are several groups whose occult power is very high, Special thanks to links, and complex political interests and mutual relations they have with some leading figures, heads of state and bankers at the level international, finally, beyond even these groups there are three very strong Masonic which oversees the elite formations, namely, the development of life science and technology around the globe, the orientation direction of movement of the global economy, and establish trends and political trends, the parts of the world. Above all is the Bilderberg group, and within it there are three people who have ultimate discretion over the shares important ideas to be implemented across the planet. But here we Senior Massini noticed some uncertainty, such as steady as if to make me or not a confession. I felt then that it is an extremely important issue, I would be disclosed fundamental secret of Masonry itself across the globe. However, after a brief hesitation, Massini venerable appearance gave the revelation that by continuing to talk to me about highly confidential data from the Pentagon. Spns me that everything is important and reveals planet is immediately brought to the attention of the global elite. This was the case Secret observations regarding Romania.

Pentagon runs several programs in parallel military and intelligence secrets geodesic, and for this he has invested fabulous sums in a technology that exceeds much current knowledge of science. Some sources of this technology are fabulous but maintained a complete secret. Important to note is that, due to capacity extraordinary technology available to it - and you must know that they exceed twenty years the present possibilities, the current pace of development - The Pentagon has more satellites in geostationary observation that specific tasks. One of them, which is based on bionic technology and the waves form, he saw in 2002 a separate unit within a group of mountain territory our country, specifically in a particular area of the Bucegi mountains. Initially it was thought there was about a strange karst formation, as many others have been identified throughout planet. However, just as he showed me Massini senior specialists compartment data analysis and intelligence at the Pentagon were later informed his superiors that there are three elements distinct raises lots of questions about the data were recorded, characteristic of that area of the Bucegi mountains. First, the empty space inside the mountain was not identified correlation with the outside, but directly within the party began the mountain at some distance its slope, secondly, he would form a tunnel that it records data had to be very regular and turning sharply at an angle of 26 degrees, to the center mountain, in addition, the tunnel was perfectly flat trajectory, the baseline report mountain, considered as a reference, the tunnel started at third base but the place in a perfectly horizontal plane, but the third element has one more thoughts Pentagon staff. Satellite scan of the mountain revealed two major structural blocks within the solid stone, which bordered the beginning of the tunnel and late. Venerable then showed me a copy after a strange computer drawing structures inside the mountain, which was checked and filled with numerous facts and figures. Blocked areas were marked with red and venerable explained easily and that they rejected sounding or just any type of analysis, as if to protect something there.

- It may have been about some artificial energy dams, I said in one breath, amazed by what I found.
- Just once concluded they were removed one by one, all other possibilities, which included possible interference, metal or other composite but it made them consider a more delicate issue ...
- Who probably made the whole structure, is not it? I rushed I excited.
- Yes. There have been quite dismayed by the data and immediately rose to a maximum their security level. The first energy barrier at the top end of the tunnel inside the mountain was flat, straight as a wall, a wall that was blocking access to entering a tunnel. The second dam, but the energy was huge, like a dome or hemisphere that located at the opposite end of the tunnel, near the center of the mountain. Venerable I Massini explained that, obviously there is something extremely important to driving tunnel, but also was very well protected, I'll draw and I scheme we seen, but much easier to be able to have as clear a representation of what been identified there.

Almost dumbfounded, and watched the movements draw precise scheme Caesar Approximate strange structure inside the Bucegi mountains.

- Most of the Pentagon could not understand why the tunnel quotas between a sort of zig-zag towards the center of the mountain, and no significance angle 26 degrees to his involvement in construction. The assembly was in a plane parallel soil and hemispherical energy barrier is on the vertical cliffs which corresponded ridge which is called Old Women. In fact, as later determined measurements our data at the Pentagon, came to about forty vertical feet of

Caesar drew it onto another flat sheet of the assembly scheme.

- Senior Massini let me understand that the internal structure elements, artificial Bucegi Mountains had not yet attracted much interest Masonic elite world whether representatives of the Pentagon made no observation that the energy barrier hemispherical has the same vibrational frequency and the same shape as one another very secret underground structure, which they discovered several months before near Baghdad. For reasons not yet known and that Massini venerable revealed it to me, their Masonic elite was extremely interested in time data provided by satellite intelligence about military intelligence strange energy structure in the basement of Iraq. Shortly afterwards they initiated war and after a few months Americans had access, the biggest secret in the area concerned about the Iraqis knew nothing. Venerable told me that however hard they tried, failed to penetrate the wall of energy, but also gave me other details, the whole operation was held in the strictest secrecy. He said only that I what was there was about the planet's mysterious past and, in some way with history of their organization. I guessed then that senior Massini holds further information may and even certain documents or evidence in relation to these issues which, however, not was willing to talk to me.

The fact that the Pentagon investigation noted the similarity between the structure of data underground near Baghdad and the interior structure of the Bucegi Mountains very agitated than those of the elite Masons. As we could notice a large share of this agitation which originally has almost turned into a genuine panic was caused by that that structure - much larger and more complex than Iraq - is on Romania. That in itself seems rather strange, but correlated with some aspects of a which I have already talked about Romania's future, you'll be able to get an idea fairly accurate in terms of the concerns that we now have great Masons. Much as they would like to disimulze this, actions and intentions show otherwise abundantly. Great haste to solve the problem, risk factor who have taken a, the express desire to have access and control structure that are just some things that reinforce my inner direction.

Senior Massini gave me all reference data, very secret, the location of Bucegi Mountains, from where it could get better and faster at the mouth tunnel. A great mystery was how they managed those who were built to a out the structure and goals directly inside the mountain, without any correspondence outside. We both assumed that it was done as a measure for maximum protection against possible that the combination blows. The only explanation of the technology used would be that somehow covered the main entrance to the tunnel after activated energy barrier of protection, but it would have involved a huge amount of rock not to mention the tools that were needed for such work.

Senior Massini has provided me, also plan to reach the correct tunnel, as it was calculated by specialists from the Pentagon. Closest breakthrough could be achieved in the mountain front, after the point of optimal direction power is on its coast, somewhere at a distance of about sixty to seventy Energy meters from the first dam was in depth the massive stone. Although this was the solution fastest, however, no inconvenience dam at the mouth of the tunnel energy which Do not know if it can be străpus. Even if he does not have the same vibrational frequency as a great hemispherical energy barrier, we did not know whether or not we have an opportunity to overcome. Working around his was possible but difficult technological problems involved. A second variant consisted also pierced the mountain rock, but this time it worked, somewhat over tunnel to get behind the dam. Drilling distance was greater, as needed to observe a particular angle of advance, but even there the chance to bypass the dam energy.

As for me, I was quite skeptical about this solution because it could very well to imagine that the ancients who made that they could build intuit this and to take certain precautions. However, my venerable guaranteed ultrasofisticat support of U.S. military technology, providing a amazingly powerful device in high speed drilling of rock, which use a plasma jet very strong and a rotating magnetic field in this way could be reached in the tunnel wall Less than two days, taking into consideration the necessary preparations. We understand, therefore, First go on this option and if they failed to address the shorter version, the direct breakthrough of the tunnel to the barrier energy.

But the whole operation had achieved the greatest secrecy. If our venerable provide senior technology means we had to organize the rest in such a way that everything seem not only an ordinary action of diabetes. In addition, one of the essential conditions of

Mason was so great that, exceptionally, this action would be reported incorrectly RIS and the Presidency as a simple intrusion detection of karst mountains, in addition, Massini senior wanted to make a special team from the United States of America to accompany along with several representatives of the elite Masonic our own team during operation. I agreed to this request, citing the inability to ensure information leaks out, but I immediately suggested the presence of these teams Tunnel breakthrough achievement, in reality, there would be no problem ensuring stringent security even in the presence of the American team, but I exaggerated the can intentionally exposes the former secret, just because I knew that was the point Masons' heel of the problem. I do not want, of course, that they entering along with me there, inside the mountain but I want to first convince me myself what it is and depending on what you discover, to take a decision on the site. The situation seems to be very tense, with too many variables, therefore it can ever to become unpredictable and even dangerous for us. However, it is important to reach the tunnel and then hemispherical energy barrier. For this it is necessary to give him the impression venerable that I will work openly as he can provide us important technical means.

S are quite high pressures, but on the other hand, he is limited in action because of the desire retention of absolute secrecy. Apparently, none of us knows what is there, but after like I said I feel that an essential element venerable know which one I was not and revealed that one wishes to control exclusively. As I explain, for example, insisted him to be present when the breakthrough. It seemed I was dreaming. It was to be produce something of exceptional importance, and yet I felt everything was almost surreal.

- You never talked to anyone about it? I asked a Caesar.

- I spoke privately with Gen. Obadiah. It is the only one who knows all ramifications of the problem. We agreed together to postpone the announcement of the action structure senior police, because otherwise the reaction could be elite Masonic terrible. I did not want to risk, especially because we need very advanced technology that they are willing to available to us. This is an action involving national security, and

Depending on what is found there, it will be perhaps the greatest secret. No We can therefore act blindly.

Caesar looked at him meditatively. Strange destiny of this man made me seriously consider a complicated gear of human relations and interests this world. ultimately, we all are like "bad", more or less sophisticated rightly or wrongly convey "information" of life. Complexity situation then grafted onto the approaching crucial discovery, made me feel the whole body of an unexpected thrill of intense emotions.

- And now? at what stage is the action?

In my inner forum, harbored the secret hope that I succeed and I can see mysterious structure inside the mountain, after being discovered. Sesizându me thought, Caesar said to me:

- For now we are in the midst of preparations, which have to target the attention. I first secured the area, luckily for us, it is difficult accessible and relatively unexplored. We resorted to military service, even organizing a minibază outside perimeter-outbreak, which we have identified and isolated one with Our team of specialists. We have already secured the guard ring area, bringing there almost two hundred soldiers. He built a small access road and was surrounded circular perimeter with barbed wire. We fitted also over thirty pickets guard. Inside we have established a second security circle formed by the third team department. There are two improvised road access barriers, which are provided control points. This time is massive and complex logistics, especially the duration action may be spread over several weeks. General Obadiah has dealt with the relationship Military Ministry for material support, have been brought tents Campaign and military communications relay mounted. I wanted to print all actions look an apparent military applications. Perhaps everything will be ready in the next two to three weeks. In late July arrives plasma drilling device, and thereafter not we only have to penetrate inside the mountain.

While no one enters the area only with my consent or General Obadiah I will do so as you can see what we discover. This, of course, if things are as normal, just as they were established. There are many other details are however not much importance. You know now essential in principle, the first outer drill will begin in the last days of July. Until then we see, because the events fall in a straight line and their specific I calls in particular presence there. But as I promised, I will call when everything will be safe and well prepared.

Having said that, Caesar stood up and took leave of me. We left with the hope of seeing us again very soon in extraordinary circumstances. We preferred to walk home. Invading my thoughts and assumptions mind, and the myriad possibilities and complexity intrigues almost gave me headaches. I fell asleep that night thinking about the mysterious civilization that all built inside the mountain, making it a proven technology incredible. Who were these beings? From the abyss of time we send the message them? No idea but hardly a huge surprise waiting for thousands of years to be revealed in the mountains ...

BIG DISCOVERY

After that meeting with Caesar all the time my mind was preoccupied with the mystery structure identified within the Bucegi Mountains. I wanted very much and I take part in all preliminary and operations at the time of entry into the big tunnel, but realize that it was not possible. I should just thank the opportunity of access for a while Short place great discoveries, if not complicated things until then.

For a month and a half conversation I had with a Caesar waited feverishly sign from him. I did all sorts of scenarios in mind, I imagine different possibilities and virtually every moment became for me an intense desire to get myself in that place mountains. I had complete trust in Caesar knew he would do everything possible to me facilitate entry in the "main area" of the area. Do not ignore the fact that the tension that period must have been enormous and the general's shoulders headpiece, because game very complicated scenes that had maintained a fine balance. What happens when the mountain was really an exceptional case, whose importance was aimed not only national security situation but also to all mankind, if we take into account the enormous interest which is manifested in that direction the world elite of Freemasonry.

Operations on the spot and the plan you conceived and Caesar were hampered that, in parallel, it was necessary deception of alertness and other senior Massini the venerable elite. To this, add the pressure of the danger that information to reach the peak of the state structures in such a case, it was unlikely that the situation longer be controlled effectively. Caesar's plan included informing the political leadership state at a definite time.

Secret base in the mountains

Long-awaited moment arrived shortly after mid-August, a sunny morning I was contacted through the usual channel, but soon had to realize that precautions that time were much more severe. I will not go into details, which anyway does not matter too more. Shortly after lunch we arrived at a secret military bases in the foothills, the where I was taken by helicopter Zero Department, escorted by two soldiers with special uniform, who were armed, from Bucharest, known as alerts or I escorted one of those who did not utter a word. Changes in vehicle security orders were accompanied only by short, targeted, all the action proved to be rapid and accurate. Although the issues involved and knew only too well why it was necessary ensure maximum security, however, confess that I was less annoyed by the strictness safety measures were taken-derându considered them excessive. But I came quickly realized that I was hardly able to appreciate its true value at all operation and had to consider myself a very lucky because I was offered Unexpected opportunity to have access to what we consider to be probably the most important discovery of modern times. The fact that I was called Caesar and that measures Security was extraordinary gave me confidence that, indeed, there had been discovered something of immense importance. Reflect the fact that while the vast majority of people leading their daily lives, often in a manner as may be trivial, this discovery could radically transform all concepts in a very short period time. She smiled bitterly at the thought that the present world situation, my view was probably too idealistic. To determine a major transformation involving a fair analysis and understanding of both humanity's past and the profound meaning of life it takes a skillful diplomacy, intelligence and noble virtues to you "sneak" among the many obstacles such as mental, physical or material which still dominates masses mmersed in these thoughts, I noticed almost no lowering of the helicopter, which closer to the new base had been built in the mountains. My reflections have evaporated as the charm to the whole which is a few tens of meters below me. Although I was somewhat familiar with the operations of military tactics and equipment used in such occasions, however, what I could see it far surpassed any imagination. First I realized the massive presence of American forces because of the large SUVs and they are characteristic of massive assemblies, hidden under some huge tilt who see the U.S. flag painted. We could also observe only way to arranged, rather large, coming from the valley through the forest, and the two belts access to basic military security, they seemed like a wide border, forming each almost a complete circle swore a great entry into the wall rock of the mountain, between the two concentric belts there is a park security of military trucks, some vehicles land, and two three vehicles whose form and purpose we could not identify the place. I estimated that during those two belts were placed around two hundred soldiers. The inter-quently the belt wore a special uniform, black and soldiers the outer belt wearing normal uniform. Each of them had automatic weapons, and the distance between them was only a few meters. I saw that soldiers were placed in barracks between the two borders, while the special teams were just behind the second belts. The road was blocked by barriers and massive next to each double seat, double Picket control every part of it. I appreciated the distance between the two belts Security at about fifty yards. It appears that the activity was frenetic, as we see a come and go continuously between the two commanders, especially within perimeter-focus, up to the wall that had been cut into the mountain. My general comments were interrupted by a helicopter landing place arranged inside the main perimeter, after the second ring of security. I got and immediately I was framed by two soldiers, who this time were Americans. We moved only about twenty feet from the helicopter, the two special team is in front and the Americans behind me. I was told to stop and I was standing there, all five, about an hour, obviously waiting for my download order. Only then I began to realize the true scale of the operation that place in the area and to infer its exceptional importance. Initially I was surprised by the "treatment" I was subjected to, not because I would have felt offended, but especially for strictness almost incredible that the shares were held in the database, which I watched on the four I fell politely but firmly, did not budge from the position they were in, did not relaxed, have not talked about that have not blinked for an hour as I waited there. Completely complacent, they gave me the impression of more robots than human beings of. Having no choice, I was still too close to each other, I just bend time when not to sleep. I tried to find out why our expectations, and other detail, but it was as if I had talked to four concrete pillars. I understood that orders were extremely harsh and strict and I never asked any questions, waiting for his coming resignation Caesar.

Although it was quite tiring to stand in a fairly long time same place, I used that opportunity to observe closely what is around me. The emotion that had been included since the departure from Bucharest is exacerbated. I was basically less than a meter of the target roll dreams and my assumptions, a phenomenal breakthrough that can expect tens of thousands of years to be revealed. Thrill floating in the air contained unknown if the entire base, in a mysterious way insuflând each person there a special air, seriously, the enigmatic inner focus. In front of me, than the right side where I was, opening the mountain wide mouth of a tunnel. I could see the modern lighting system was installed in entry and continue through the tunnel. Unfortunately, the angle in which I was, and presence of a large campaign tent and two modern modular construction, in the form hemispherical, I block the light, in the same area where I was principal there were

More American jeeps and vehicles, and in my left side were two sets huge covered each with a sheet, which by form suggesting that housed huge crates, whose contents do not know. Mouth of the tunnel was blocked by a wide barrier metal being guarded by one side of two American soldiers, suggest that they formed part of their uniform troops of the elite U.S. Marines. But what particularly caught my eye was the huge hangar carved in stone mountain, which is guarded on the right tunnel. It was huge, measuring about ten feet height and, as far as I could I judge, about fifty meters deep. It was perfectly done, with finished walls and the curved vault flawlessly. I asked what technology they used if they managed to build what I saw in about a month. Later I learned with astonishment that the completion of drilling if not lasted only one hangar day.

Inside the hall were several boxes stacked on one side and on the other side there were three special buildings, like rooms whose long end, I think, could only be the analysis and research. Moreover, within the hangar was somewhat agitated because I could observe many people with white coats, who rushed from those entering or leaving mini-labs, carrying various objects or papers in their hands. The middle lane hangar, and out near the mouth of the tunnel, I saw several small vehicles electric motor, which some of the people there used to move them inside. No tunnel or hangar doors were fitted with sliding, probably due to complications construction, which were not currently necessary. Hangar was still on top, a mechanically "curtain" made of a translucent material, which was not left only a quarter of the height of entry. The lighting was impeccable and I observed two large generators that operate somewhere down on the side of the mountain, between two belts of security and control. At some distance from the big tent campaign, my left was a series of modern barracks and behind them more tents medium-sized campaign, which surely represented the night shelters research and military personnel. But I have not seen anything that resembles the place to prepare food, my conclusion was that it is made with a daily truck, probably a very severe security. Later I learned that the kitchen had been fitted few miles further down the road and that, indeed, a special group of soldiers from the DM team Daily road was a truck bringing food to those in the base. This solution was preferred to further reduce staff activity and peripheral decrease also security risks. The table was served separately from each group military to their barracks. outbreak in the area, it was served in big tent campaign, both Romanian and American soldiers and teams of researchers. We learned that Americans came with their food and their chefs, but they were sent together with the Romanian, in the kitchen at the foot of the mountain.

The two buildings were hemispherical Romanian and staff residences, respectively the U.S.. Caesar later revealed to me that one of them, which was lower living General Obadiah he and the other two generals were at the Pentagon and an adviser national security issues from Washington. These extraordinary buildings Ergonomic buildings resembled more of research stations on other planets and let a very pleasant impression, great comfort and safety. The material from which they were made was and was bordered in white hexagonal surfaces and there is a peak near wide band of dark blue material. On this band were arranged one kind of huge lights, which I was told that, when lit at night, creating a calm and very beautiful.

I watched a while activity in the area, each person moving quickly and gave the impression he knows exactly what to do. From time to time come or leave a jeep, military or downloading anything from the boxes under the tarp. Unfortunately, distance and obstacles not allowed me to observe objects that were clearly moved. I was still wondering relatively massive American presence, because Caesar had let me understand that it will be only one team to handle the drilling device plasma.

Even in times when I was doing different assumptions on this issue, we noted that one of the Romanian military, which was in front of me took a hand at right ear, he listened carefully and spoke a few words quickly. Immediately after Therefore we turned to the dark mouth of the tunnel, which as I approached my everything seemed bigger and more threatening.

We stopped in the same formation near one of the two hemispherical building in Just a few meters in the side of the tunnel. My heart started to beat me down, beyond the barrier wide, guarded by two American soldiers inflexible, is perhaps the most terrible mystery planet. What happened within a month and a half since the last discussion we had with Caesar? What he discovered in that area of the mountain? I then noticed that the front inside of the tunnel and over a wide swath of about two meters there is a rubber band flute, which were lined some U.S. manufacturing electric vehicles. I saw Now the tunnels, neon-lit facilities discreetly placed on the ceiling and walls, but the tunnel curve to the left after just ten meters, so I could not I see more.

When Caesar came. It came from the corridor leading vehicle electric. With him was an elderly man, gray hair, but a face with features farms, full of determination. Both were serious and silent. Caesar down beside me and only when four soldiers were quietly withdrawn, having welcomed. I met with General Obadiah, who looked at me a few sharp moments, shook my hand vigorously and after we exchanged a few pleasantries he retired in hemispherical construction. It was obvious to me that Gen. Caesar knew all of what I was concerned and that he had given consent to be brought there. Perhaps this move was part of their plan the exposure of Masonic activities and found that I needed to be and there. Even though I was only a cog in this giant gear items misterio, issues and intrigue, I was really glad that I had that golden opportunity and I decided to I pay most of the burden of responsibility that I assume.

Great Gallery

- The situation is quite critical, "said Caesar concerned. Relationship with the senior Massini become tense, but what is worse is that everything was on the tips of state power. We expecting that, but in any case so quickly. Our intention was to present data problem at a time in the future, which should be more favorable. Now things are very tense, both internally and externally. Do not know how many were spent the last month. Come, I'll summarize the main points while we go through tunnel, "he said, heading toward the entrance.

In this way save time, I got an electric vehicle, just as Caesar can let me briefly recount how it happens, moreover, had everything can look more closely and carefully.

The tunnel was "paved" with a thick sheet of rubber. On both sides of it, perefii until it was just stone of the mountain rock. At entry and still a long meters were then infiltration of water, but after Cotea smooth tunnel to the left, about ten meters from the entrance, everything became perfectly dry. I was amazed at the accuracy Drilling and especially finishing of stone walls that almost seem sand. White Light

It is apparent in a splendid colors of the various parties geological, discreet lighting inside the tunnel in a surreal game of flashes and shadows.

Noise of our footsteps was muffled by the rubber mat, and reigned in the gallery enigmatic atmosphere but very exciting for me. It was pretty cold way I coated, but Caesar told me that this situation will not last long.

- The machine has drilled to the top after a strange deviation of the magnetic field. Shortly time, however, I realized the error, so we proceeded to the trajectory correction. Look, right here

Caesar said, pausing in the curve to the left of the tunnel.

I stopped and I admire the elegant way of connecting the gallery. After curve it is perfectly straight path lay fifty feet in a way very like a subway tunnel, although it was perhaps something wider. At the end of this range, the heart of the mountain I saw what looked like a huge gate, which seemed to move through sliding to the left, now occupies less than one fourth of the width of the gallery. There were also two armed soldiers, and the place was well lit throughout circumference tunnel. There was also a modern lodge, narrow but quite long on right side, just before the big entrance to another gallery, one could already see; This entry was guarded by the enormous sliding door. I knew then that this was beginning of the adventure, the great discoveries had been made. I remembered the sketch which Caesar drew our last meeting and I realized that it corresponded to reality when I saw that, at least as regarded the mysterious place in the mountain galleries.

- I was amazed at the technology they had available to Americans, he told me Caesar. Plasma drilling machine is not large, but it requires special equipment for those that are in place around her and drilled. It is something similar equipment anti-nuclear radiation. I myself have put on such a boring suit and watched very close. Show that when you are behind the lens that portrays containing a sophisticated protection is almost incredible. You have the feeling that the stone is actually "melts" under the action of the plasma jet, but actually made very rock malleable, up near the pour point and is immediately shaped circular pressure exerted by the rotating magnetic field and also targeting the plasma jet. There is no dust and debris are even negligible. Penetration rate is tremendous for such work, the distance from the entrance up to the two soldiers that you can see there was flown in just five hours. In the end everything remains as it was polished and very clean so that the rubber mat and plants were already prepared at the mouth of the tunnel before drilling machine to be ejected.

As we headed to the big gallery, Caesar told me that initially drilled in a different area of the mountain to seek to avoid the energy barrier of entry The main tunnel inside the mountain. They chose a location above, on the coast about three hundred meters from the area in which it was set upon and have drilled a few days because the distance to the tunnel was much higher and the penetration was not horizontal, which Why make more difficult technical procedures. Eventually they arrived at the tunnel wall, but any an effort to break through was in vain. Do not assign any of the plasma jet or the magnetic field the teeth or cutters. They had to abandon that option and to bridge into foraseră just a gallery. He therefore returned to the starting point and started flat rock pierced the wall until they reached the barrier energy.

- Drilling was being watched every moment on the control screens and was correlated with distance to the energy area. A few meters before the start of this I gave gallery you see now, so everything had to do was connecting the two tunnels, "he said Caesar.

Meanwhile we reached the entrance which was guarded by two soldiers of the forces special. After the uniform and insignia on it, one was Romanian, and one American. A military greeted Caesar, who turned a few yards right to the booth. The American went inside, where probably have a control desk, for a niche construction immediately appeared long metal arm with a complicated way. Was articulated arm, Caesar raised an eye-level and after a few seconds there was a Access beep.

- Were taken every precaution, I called him back with me.

My iris fingerprint was analyzed and stored as an information-code. Security System not react until a laser beam to read my iris or General Obadiah.

Now, for instance, was off laser sensor system, very complicated, which was mounted right here, at the entrance. It is invisible and if I would have gone directly to the fire Basic alarm automatically. We generals refused fingerprinting of Americans and I Iridology insisted that access to Great Gallery belong exclusively to us. From here they started, in fact, the first problem, "he said thoughtfully.

I noticed that the booth was an extension beyond the gate, the Grand Gallery of Also coming out of a laser device to read the iris. Caesar explained that this was the return of the Grand Gallery. I also learned that he could cancel the system security through the application while reading the iris, palm and fingers his right in a particular place. This method was used when they had to be made mass transport through the Great Gallery.

Caesar went back a few feet and began to explain:

- Energy work around the dam area. It is basically a projection energy, but we could not figure out how it was done. We can not understand also how was it possible that the energy barrier to subsist continuously for millennia on end. No you know the source of fuel or technological means by which this is achieved work. Basically, except that I was able to penetrate beyond it, we were not clear in any other respect, however, involved a matter of overcoming tragedy.

I was in Caesar's back on the ceiling of the gallery, where realized connection with the great tunnel. In fact, the first gallery were a few meters from the mountain rock on a larger diameter than the gallery dug by U.S. plasma device, this portion of the walls were not finished, but irregularly, with many corners, in addition, this area gallery, which was about six feet in length, but was not being circular section square. Connection was made only two galleries at ground level, which was leveled a slight downward slope, from gallery to gallery antique scale higher. The height difference was about one meter and one could well observe the area ceiling, the combination of the two tunnels. Drilling was almost concentric with antique gallery, but none could explain how it was possible that the tunnel begin suddenly, within the mountain. It was clearly an artificial work.

The possibility that the entrance has been covered a distance of about sixty meters was not credible because of the massive stone structure was identical to that of surrounding rocks. I asked him what happened when Caesar came to the energy barrier.

- At that moment talking with General Obadiah and the generals Pentagon certain aspects of database security. We have been notified that it has achieved piercing and unification of the two galleries. By the time we arrive and we, the military had already started retract the plasma in the gallery. The first three of a special intervention team Department crept in to see the conditions of the new gallery.

This was a big mistake, because they ignored protocol action. They jumped step level of a meter between the two galleries and began to investigate the area about four meters that knew that have up to a barrier energy, was invisible. Unfortunately no one could explain how things happened. Perhaps three were very close to the energy barrier, because moments later to heard a strange noise, but strong, like a short circuit. I found collapsed on the bottom invisible barrier, with strange twisted bodies, as would be bounded by precise edge of a wall. All three were dead. Doctors said their deaths instant cardiac arrest. This created some panic, although we have tried to defuse the incident. As I would soon realize, the panic was determined more among the American staff and due to the fact that initial fears of members its starting to come true, really, at that time I had virtually no way Ancient gallery access. Lateral drilling failed due to unknown material resist any attempt to breakdown and energy barrier proved to be impregnable. Venerable Massini was also present there and asked me to say at that time,

American commando battalion had not yet come. There were only specialists with device drilling, a team of researchers and representatives of senior Massini, who are now: two generals The Pentagon and presidential adviser. However, not so sure that U.S. President This transaction was announced. It was obviously an internal matter, behind the scenes, from which they wanted to draw as many advantages. Venerable knew more about the origin of this discoveries and, as I realized he had knowledge of at least one element was in the Great Hall, where we arrive shortly. Mason was Impatience retained, but firm, at that time I have been able to remove them from this area, but not I would do anything except that I really complicated things. Massini's influence senior would lead ultimately even mine and general replacement of Obadiah management of an operation that had not yet been brought to the attention of political power. I, course, all reasons and mitigating circumstances, but it was better that this information come from November and not the foreign ones. A totally unexpected feature, however, radically changed the situation on a slope pointing to a very tense and dangerous, there are today. Hope however, that these tensions do not escalate beyond a certain point, then there will be difficult to say what might happen.

Caesar come closer to the huge stone gate that guarded the entrance to Great Gallery. Approaching from the left wall of the tunnel in the side sliding door and I said:

- Now you're even in the energy barrier, when activated. View something on the wall near me?

I looked carefully and noticed the uneven rock a portion large enough to square with sides of about twenty centimeters, perfectly finished, which seemed embedded in the wall of the mountain. On it was drawn with precision as an equilateral triangle pointing up.

- This is the "key" which gave us a people who built this ensemble.

Without it we were completely helpless. After the death of three soldiers have come to the right where you are now and I researched the place look carefully, noting the square stone the wheel well which is the triangular symbol. Then, however, the gallery was giant locked gate you see here. The problem was that I was very close to me energy barrier, which is found about two feet in front of the gate, ie where are you now. As you can see the square that is embedded in rock grinding is between the huge mountain energy barrier gate and stone. Naturally, it was assumed that the function of Therefore the command to open the gate. But how to reach him if the road was blocked by the wall invisible energy?

Caesar watched them baffled. The two soldiers had entered the booth much, leaving us alone at the entrance to the mysterious ancient corridor. I was deeply marked by emotion inquire secret for thousands and thousands of years ago I gradually asserted. Due excitement, my body seemed easier and I arrived somewhat Caesar's words Soft ear. However, acquired an extraordinary lucidity and understand everything very quickly, intuitively.

- It was a matter of frequency of vibration, "I said, the calm mirându me that I said those words. Caesar looked at me with surprise.

- Exactly, he confirmed it. Seeking a solution, then closed my eyes and I energy focused on the dam. After some time I really felt that it was "alive", but a very special way that one could not explain the present. Just think venerable could understand, but he was even at that I did not want to reveal anything of the mysteries they are.

I felt between myself and there is a certain energy dam "compatibility", something a kind of mutual sympathy and that the test "personal vibration 'is passed. No I could not stop, however, to wonder what the exceptional degree of technological development and spiritual who had settled the true "threshold" energy check on the science current can not even conceive too small to achieve a practical. Then I got down some remnants of rock and I threw the invisible wall of energy. Once the stone reached the barrier energy was converted into a fine powder that falls on the ground, forming a line right. I asked them to bring me and other metal objects, plastic, wood or leather. Conclusion was clear: all that was composed of amorphous substance was turned into dust and all instantaneau organic matter was what was rejected, if not have some high frequency individual vibration. I sent the powder to the lab for analysis and then gently touched invisible hand of the surface energy barrier. I felt fine just some tingling on the skin, which were very pleasant, so I submitted the whole body, moving in the opposite side of wall energy. I appreciated it a thickness no more than an inch.

Faces now looked stunned American officials and some members of the My team, who were in power across the dam. I approached the wall and I pressed the triangle on the ground perfectly square rock that you see here. Not really it took only one to touch because he does not play, do not move, only its surface is bounded on the wall. Stone Gate, which you see now only a small part, began almost immediately to slide smoothly and quietly left and stopped in the position it has present. That was when we all saw for the first time, the Grand Gallery. A was a particularly moving moment, first I was shocked that she was lit, as you see now, however, do not contain any source of light, at least of conventional ones that we know.

Caesar made a short break. I looked inside the Grand Gallery stunned and only then I realized that in it there is no source of lighting. Too absorbed in what I tell Caesar and my own observations of the area of merger between the two tunnels, I thought that light came from the Grand Gallery, also the lighting installations probably had mounted over it, as was the case recently drilled tunnel. Only But now realized, stunned, as if that light that he had no source, although I was tempted to say great that it came from material which enveloped the gallery walls. This light was more less intense than in our gallery, but it was very pleasant, inducing a state of obvious the physical and mental relaxation and stress relief.

- Then there was this feeling very deeply complex and (i-1 causes size corridor, color and model material he is made, continued to Caesar speak. Hardly see it end here, but I say tunnel turns sharply to the right About three hundred meters. You'll soon convince yourself. But to return to the energy barrier.

I reached again polished triangle, and the gate slid back, closing access Sea Gallery. Only after I opened the back door, through the dam energy, I realized that it was canceled. So a single command and remove the energy barrier while opening and stone gate that was blocking access to the Great Gallery. Later, I did many experiments, especially after we delimit precisely the energy action dam. General Obadiah came and touched the belly of a single finger of the invisible surface energy barrier, but though nothing serious has happened, however, he was overcome by dizziness and a vague feeling of nausea. U.S. presidential adviser, however, was violently struck down, although contact between the skin and the wall energy was only one very fine. He recovered from fainting later under medical care. Then no one wanted to try to walk wall energy. Probably the three soldiers who died had a contact once a much larger area, which was fatal.

The problem behind this is that no invisible barriers, ie between the gate closed and wall energy, those who can not stay cross for long. We did tests with some military and after I closed the gate and the energy system, they told me that I have while choking that is becoming increasingly acute. I was therefore forced to leave energy barrier and opened as the gateway, but as you see we placed two people watch and have resorted to such alarm system that prevents any unauthorized entry Great Gallery. Iris identification system is reset after five seconds of the termination s, which are sufficient to cross the line input in the gallery, beyond the sliding system gate. Come to me, I want to show you how the gate.

Caesar achieved easily square of polished stone. The huge gate, which had a thickness of about thirty centimeters and height as the Grand Gallery, over six feet, was moving very silent, thanks to a gear system that we could not identify one. When the gates are closed I have full entry to mention that it was perfectly polished, but without any inscription on its surface, it was just a huge wall of rock almost glossy, weighing probably less than twenty tons. What it did, however, to move so easily and delicately? Just when seek an answer to this question carefully researching the lower, I felt that starting to breathe with the weight that I contains a vague dizziness. Caesar, which I watched carefully gate open again and the effect disappeared as suddenly as instruments. He read in my eyes question.

- Do not know what triggers this specific effect. Maybe it was an action interaction between the surface of the gate when it is closed and the energy barrier, which appropriate affect every living organism in this intermediate space. We were unable to no movement decipher the mystery gate, which is gigantic. If you look carefully, find that when moving to the right, it pushes the stone slab covering space thickness of the gate. When slid to the left is the slab of polished stone and it tightly against the gate edge, as pushed by a spring. However, I do not think it is such a method rather primitive technology, because everything is done in a much too smooth and silent. You must be a completely different technology. American generals have come up with proposal to break the threshold of stone to see what is underneath, but we never accepted it. I have seemed a child solution. I looked carefully path portions, joints were incredibly accurate and highly polished. He could not enter anything among them, nor could see what was underneath. Accurately modeled Gate "came out" pure and simple wall gallery and slide left to right wall where it blends perfectly.

- While doing these experiments and observations after disabling barrier energy, one of the soldiers who provided security at our group came and told us that American technicians based requested our presence to let us know something special to Caesar continued to recount events that happened. One of the two generals General American and Obadiah went out quickly, where the technical center interpretation of data. Shortly after they told me that, strangely, soon after First off the energy barrier at the entrance to the Grand Gallery, huge hemispherical shield at the other end of her passing suddenly turned to a higher vibration level, emitting a large light radiation. Saying this, Caesar soldiers walked by the booth.

- Come on now, he told me. It's time to enter the Grand Gallery. You will be able to get convince yourself of what you've said.

Resume with iris recognition, and so we could cross the threshold gate, walking material for the first time that so strange and very particular ancient tunnel behind

Our two resume their quiet military guard posts.

Even the entry into the Grand Gallery were two electric vehicles, but we preferred to we're walking, because Caesar have I time to relate what happened in While he talked, I studied with interest the gallery.

At a superficial to say that its walls and floor on which you were right Stone Mountain, carefully polished. I approached a wall of the left and I felt: it was covered with a material that seemed synthetically, but also create a strange sensation that has organic part in it. She colored oil, but his reflections were often green and even dark blue. Disturbing impression came from water that is irregular stripes streaked in all directions. Amazing was the fact that when we move, its stripes also altered the position, width and color, but this is going very smoothly, creating impression that it was merely an effect of our motion relative to the wall. Color shades had a deeply relaxing effect on the psyche and changed the meaning accurately assess distance. When I remarked on this, Caesar said to me:

- And we have asked the same question. We had to measure the total distance and segments of the gallery and even to place some signs on the edge.

Indeed, on the right side of the gallery could be seen indicating terminal distance in meters and yards from the entrance to the tunnel. We also observed that the material was somewhat rough to the touch, but he could not be scratched or bent. Caesar told me that resist any attempt to tear, puncture, scratch or cut, no matter how sharp device was used, in addition, strangely, the flames of fire were absorbed within his, practically speaking, the fire could not survive on that material.

- Researchers can not rule on the nature of this material they do not have at its disposal a sample of the substance's. The only thing we have a could say is that the material is a strange combination of organic matter and inorganic, but how they are organized in its structure is the most internal entirely mysterious to her.

At the terminal that indicates the distance of two hundred eighty feet, steer sharply to gallery Right, in an acute angle. No reason this could not be deciphered trajectories. The a much greater distance in the distance, I could foresee an enchanting blue light, which sparkle like a star. Seeing the excitement on my face, Caesar smiled and told me:

- There is the end of our journey. But, somehow, he is also a beginning to something even more grandiose, according to data that they know now. How technology that we have been disclosed such data is immense, but the Unfortunately you can not have access to such information. You'll understand better when we projections reach the room, as we agreed to call it.

- Means that Americans have taken off there, I said.

- As soon as I managed to solve the problem first energy shield, a senior Massini wanted to enter the corridor and reach the great hall. We raised the issues of high risk who have otherwise determined the death of three soldiers, and the need for a severe safety and alarm had ordered the entry into the main corridor. Has not agreed, but had no choice. Aim to draw as much time, but especially to arrive in the Great Hall without being accompanied by any Mason. Do not know what they wanted there, but

I hope to realize as soon as I entered the room and I would be inventoried its contents. satellite records show a huge space at the end of major gallery, but it and he was protected by an energy screen.

In a break from the organization, taking advantage of the absence of senior American and Massini the tunnel, I got an electric vehicle and I traveled alone this corridor - after fifty thousand years it has been empty - until you notice the light away in front of you. However, what you see is just the reflection scclipind a portion of protective shield of energy in the form of huge hall auditorium, which will soon end. As you'll notice, in the final gallery made another short-angled bend. Harbored and hope that I could pass this barrier in a similar way as in the first energy barrier. When I arrived, I was overwhelmed. Gallery by which we go now suddenly opens into a huge hall in the heart of the mountain, which includes a huge hemispherical energy shield, in turn delimits the shield room with all the projections contains it. Assembly was matchless grandeur, but just when I was preparing to study the best way to penetrate inside, I was summoned urgently by radio base. The news you would receive would tremendously complicate things. That was a turning point, which however could not provide-a.

Great Diplomatic Tensions

I quickly came back to base and entered the American Board, which was expected and General Obadiah, Caesar continued to talk. Element intervened unexpectedly which he gave over his head all plans, both our own and Massini's senior. Moreover, Venerable was seated on a chair, further back, deep in thought. Perhaps he was already new calculations, reconsiderându her position.

- He knew something the media in Romania? I've tried.

- Worse. Remember that the venerable told me about the discovery that Americans have done in the vicinity of Baghdad? And also that there exists a barrier energy that could not be pierced, but whose nature was identical with that of the shield hemispherical energy surrounding the great hall here in Bucegi Mountains?

I nodded, tilting his head. The discovery was not made Americans not accidental, but followed certain guidelines provided by the same military intelligence satellite which revealed the approximate map data structure inside the Bucegi mountains.

- Well, Caesar continued, American adviser on matters of national security received a fax that was notified secret that the hemispherical energy shield footer Baghdad is suddenly activated, with high frequency pulsing. Information was amazing that appeared in front of a hologram of the planet that this sequential and progressive mainland Europe, then south-east of it, then Romania, then Mountains Bucegi and finally their location inside the structure, showing the Grand Gallery corridor and hemispherical energy shield that pulsate with power. It was obvious that the two energy shields hemispherical were a direct link but mysterious, so enabling one to lead him activation and others. Who knows, maybe there's even a network of such structures subpãmântene worldwide. The bad news was that the U.S. presidency but has been informed about all these things and contacted the Romanian diplomacy through intelligence information. In just a few tens of minutes, the whole operation had been disclosed. He had already announced imminent arrival of a state commission in Bucharest, established ad hoc, to evaluate the situation there.

I was so captivated by what I said Caesar, that I had given no account I stopped that, listen-du-one with all the attention. We had about a hundred meters to last side of the corridor and the light shield of energy that is reflected from the sea walls Galleries was now much stronger.

- They wanted to take control of the political body? I asked full forward.

- I think initially it was fine, but the problem is further complicated when when they saw what it really is. My fears came true, because Our politicians - those who were entitled to be aware of these issues - have entered into panic. It was obvious that they could not cope with events and decisions that were likely to be taken in an advanced state of stress.

General Obadiah was called to Bucharest was a very critical moment, which put at stake the very existence of the department's structure or at least independent. Concealing the General had to justify action against the state political power peak. That was perhaps the most tense moment of the whole operation, before leaving for capital with those of the commission, rim took counsel with me and we decided by mutual agreement to disclose all aspects of the intrigues and plans in the past year, involving links Massini my senior. The most difficult problem was to find exactly those right to make that crucial report to the country, because otherwise all our intentions and plans so carefully built up when it was disclosed and consequences could be among the worst in terms of both myself and the general, and in terms of national security in the meantime I had been recorded at the base, all work being stopped.

The American team has been isolated in a tent and tunnel security, and our was taken over by a special intervention of the army battalion. Increased diplomatic tension increasingly more pressure on Washington demanding that the communication imperative generals at the Pentagon and especially security adviser.

At that time, nobody knew yet what is in the great hall which was protected by energy shield. It stopped any initiative and any research operation. Nobody was allowed to walk through the basic security than patrols. The new state of affairs was coordinated by two leading generals of the Romanian army, which maintained constant contact the highest political structures in Romania. Well, all this conjecture extremely tense, the only character who managed to "sneak" off base, as Following a very special order arrived in Bucharest, he was senior Massini. From that Since I have not seen one, but believe me, I felt the full influence how or subsequently held things. I mean dull fight, but very fierce, behind the Romanian and American diplomats and political nature of decisions that were taken thereafter, in connection with the operation here in the mountains. Everything has happened very quickly; are only eight days after those events.

Listening to Caesar's account of twists and I was very surprised that they had taken but mostly things that I thought I was there, as I learned anything would not have happened in reality.

- If I'm here and if you, as I understand it, you have managed to penetrate the Projection room, then the General Obadiah succeeded in Bucharest. Caesar smiled enigmatically.

- To a large extent the answer is yes. The success mostly involved in bringing facts to the attention of people with high moral integrity, which are also animated a deep sense of patriotism. It was called an emergency meeting of the Council Supreme Defense - CSAT. Most were shaken by what they have learned. It has created then, spontaneously, an intense wave of sympathy for the general for his actions and was further research decided on the spot under the command of General and my total. Although However, the diplomatic crisis had not yet been released. American staff and has allowed leave the country the next day, but the team of researchers and specialists, and all logistics and equipment were still detained. For a moment I thought things were resolved and I'm almost glad it had happened so, because there was no need to pretend or to succumb more or less in the applications and venerable Masonic elite. Unfortunately, strength of their influence and the pressures exercised by diplomatic means were enormous. I came down the corridor together with Caesar, the quotas again suddenly, that date to the left and only about four feet. Show that we stand eye was really great. Giant dome that will form an energy shield color beautiful iridescent blue, being continually crossed by intense flashes of bright white. Although Caesar told me that the projection room was not isolated from the outside through a door, as if the sea galleries, however, could not see anything inside it through the energy shield. Corridor ends suddenly in a huge hall, carved in rock mountain that hemisphere. The corridor to the threshold energy shield were not more than seven to eight meters in that time, one side of four electric vehicles were lined corridor. Cupola energy shield that was done included in the hemispherical cavity of the mountain, but we noticed that the front was back joint wall rock. We found that the difference in level between the shield and the ceiling dome room was about ten meters. Fairy light that is reflected in the radiated energy shield wonderful glimpses and shadows on the rocky walls of the mountain. The beauty and grandeur that I was painting seemed unearthly and heart tremble with excitement and delight.

- How you managed to penetrate inside? I asked a Caesar, deeply troubled by intensity of emotion that I experienced that sight.

- You know it is much easier than you might expect. Perhaps those who designed the whole dam first considered a true "touchstone" for potential candidates, saying that it was sufficient for the security of the entire structure. Must admit that they were right: nothing can move unless it is first an energy barrier higher consciousness, profoundly beneficial. Even if an assembly is atomic blasts very well protected by mountains, so maybe the Grand Gallery begins abruptly, much inside it. I did not realize it, but how they managed to make the entire technology work.

When we received new orders from Bucharest I was very happy. Sensed that the fight just beginning, but at least I had an important political support and leadership operation, the same day I entered a room projections ahead. When I was and I found one that is obscured by the terrible mystery of fifty thousand years. You can hardly imagine the feelings you have tried during that time. However, some aspects you can not confided.

- You've mentioned this several years before, I questioned myself a Caesar. Where know that this is the time since everything here dates?

- It was the result of further scientific examination of data that "they" gave us and you will be able to see you soon, once we enter the room. last week spent all the events and relate them. Many of them were held very changing circumstances quickly and sometimes have put dramatic forms, I will tell everything here, before you enter the room, because there will be quite captivated by what you see. Nation stopped at the line of the Grand Gallery inside the mountain and gigantic auditorium, which housed hemispherical energy shield, you listen to while watching fascinated Caesar to nepământene blue glitter on the surface of the hemisphere.

- After the CSAT decision to continue research under the Department Zero, I entered the room several times and I inventoried all projections with Our expert team, said Caesar. The next day, however, began to arrive early conflicting signals from political power. They spent some orders over others, canceled each other, were the vehement, elusive and betrayed when a high voltage. I could suspect that there is a real battle theater. Already forwarded to a telephone line Hall secured the result of our findings projections. It seems that it was who lit the fuse bomb. Gen. Obadiah told me two days ago, after returned from Bucharest, the CSAT members were in continuous session, keeping in touch with us. They decided to make public the discovery of the formidable mountains of Romania after having first discussed the problem on all sides. Obadiah had been included in General CSAT structure and had a hard word for the statement that the Romanian state would make the whole world. He told me that there were some members of CSAT that were opposed vehemently, but they were outnumbered. Spirits were heated so much that a time these people have stood up and left the hall. Advisors to the President were in a continually come and go, passing information from the office of external diplomatic relations CSAT meeting.

When American diplomacy has been informed that Romania will send a World press release of crucial importance for humanity, everything was chaos. General told me that had never seen such excitement and so much panic among diplomats. Nobody knew the cause, but everyone suspected that something very serious and important.

At one point the President was called upon to make a direct call White House, that was a very special and top secret question. He did not return long after that, but reported that already headed to Bucharest at the American delegation high-level diplomatic

Information flew with the swiftness of wind, in a few hours had been blocked all transactions Romanian state and arrangements with international financial organizations. He expected the moment minute order declaring a state of emergency in the mountain area and also in the capital. Defense Minister had ordered the general alarm for the officers. There were moments of great panic and terror even among those engaged in the operation, because nobody knew the real cause that triggered this state of affairs.

Talks between the Romanian and U.S. officials have been conducted without a translator. They were so violent, that there were few moments of crisis that diplomats cried each other as hard as they could, proferând multiple threats of retaliation. The positive is that rest of the world did not yet know nothing of this problem, or the Americans knew too well that there always some very powerful countries would be united immediately Romania to support its statement.

- What they wanted to say in the declaration? I asked curiously.

- In essence, it would have included the main data discovery Mountains Bucegi, while making the world available evidence, photographs and other essentials to clarify different aspects of this structure inside the mountain. It would be invited leading scientists to conduct studies and research and would be mobilized all resources to solve many puzzles facing us now. But most an important aspect would have been revelations about the very distant past humanity and real history that was almost completely counterfeit, in addition, there were some very delicate items, which I will not and may reveal only part.

- But where is all they knew?

- You will see immediately. Do you have a little patience. Americans reacted with intently, because that statement would be shattered in an instant and global influence Moreover, he could throw in a chaos of their country's economy and society can even the entire world. In fact, it was a primary reason that they have relied, to not cause panic and not to upset peoples on Earth. They lost sight of that possible state of anxiety and social disruption would have occurred as a direct result of lies and manipulation that has been deliberately maintained for centuries by the classes leaders and especially by the Masonic organization.

Through a very special diplomatic channel even received a personal intervention Pope, who called for a greater moderation before taking this fundamental step for mankind. The Vatican had already warned Americans they are considered a potential ally to block disclosure, strangely, although the presentation of these issues to the entire world would be reduced the power of the Vatican and its influence on Christian faithful, the Pope did not yet taken a firm stand against, but called for better balancing the pros and cons before the declaration. He even sent that will provide the Romanian state some old documents from the Secret Archives of papal leadership, which are of great evidence supports the importance to Romania and discovered in the mountains. Finally, after nearly twenty-four hours of discussion and deliberation, it was a final agreement of the Romanian-American cooperation in some precise terms that balance the interests both countries. I can not disclose those terms, but I know that the position was that the Romanian state postponement of disclosure and presentation of their humanity gradually in the future. The next day, after longer liniștiseră waters, based on the agreement of cooperation between the two countries arrived extremely prompt a U.S. commando team with all necessary logistics, which you already seen inside the base. Once they have returned and the two generals and advisor national security issues, perhaps the task very well drawn. Then he was forced mountain huge hangar, which have a properly equipped. By understanding the protocol were established the most stringent security measures, protection and supervision to be developed in the coming days. Therefore, in some areas of the room you can not be projected access, but I will tell you briefly what is found there.

Projection room

Caesar beckoned me forward. Grand Gallery ends abruptly in the giant auditorium inside the mountain, which measures about thirty feet in height and had a length I estimated it at about one hundred meters. Projection room, which was virtually enclosed by the shield energy, a little smaller in size than those of the Aula of the mountain height Hall Projections was about twenty meters, I may even appear as mult.Ea huge. From the corridor to the energy shield, in a straight line were about seven to eight meters, this distance was bounded by two edges of the same material which enveloped and corridor. Advancing to the borders as a shield, just the width of the corridor. On both sides of these curbs were placed four electric vehicles.

I walked with emotion on the part of the corridor as a short track, demarcated borders. That moment seemed to me the truth. He was to enter the heart of a mystery concealed tens of thousands of years and I am among those very few who had access to the revelation of his enigma. - Energy shield is intended to delineate the hall, as a wall cavity from the rest of the mountain and also to protect the various adverse external influences, said Caesar, making me thus returning from my thoughts. He has only one way to unbundled, like a door, just in front of you.

Indeed, as soon as I got closer to the wall energy portion of the shield border was delineated by the two first became străvezie and then disappeared completely, marking the precise contours of an entry of about five feet high. I stepped into Inside the great hall, followed closely by Caesar has become the shield behind us compact. Caesar explained that that was the only piece of gym access, in any other part of shield would have acted like a wall he rejected any attempt to penetrate the impenetrable. However, organic and inorganic materials that come into contact with him was not hurt, as in the first energy barrier, but no-one could penetrate. The shield was like a holographic projection perfect, but his consistency was pure energy, delivering the same vivid impression as if material which enveloped the corridor inside the area no longer have the same color shield blue, but black and gold, reflecting a clear and intense light, but not at all tired eyes. I noticed that, unlike the great hall of the mountain, which contained the projection room was almost circular. I avidly watched that vast space, which by a strange optical effect seemed gigantic and space. The soil was covered with the same material as that of the Grand Gallery, but here the light of its composition or species coverage of the wonderful shades turquoise. I had definite impression that I was in another world, almost anything I saw did not correspond to the values of civilization and common dimensions in which we lived and I am accustomed.

My eye was drawn right from the start to the back of the room, opposite place where we were. Half of the circumference of the room was firmly attached to wall rock of the mountain. Energy shield not descend to ground level in front of the area by I entered, but the form of a domed curve until about ten meters in height ground, stopping in the mountain wall, so the room was half of the rear projection circumference wall of rock covered the mountain.

At the solid wall of stone, about ten high twelve meters, we saw huge tunnel located three holes: one straight ahead and the other two symmetrical one side of it.

There were diffuse light in a greenish hue. From that distance I could not notice clearly other issues, although I saw that around each of the three galleries were and other devices. We have to note, however, that the tunnel mouths and they were guarded, and entry into the Grand Gallery, the two soldiers for every tunnel.

I returned to Caesar puzzled.

- You have installed security systems even here? Why? Where go these tunnels?

- That is the area where you do not have access. It is strictly prohibited by the secret protocol which was signed between the Romanian and the U.S.. I can provide some general information this direction, but some things must remain hidden, at least for a while from now on. Let's start from here, "said Caesar showing me somewhere in my right.

I turned and saw a huge number of tables of stone, in the form of "T", which were arranged along the wall, following its curvature. None of the meals had no less than two meters tall. The top plate thickness were cut in relief, with a amazing accuracy, different signs of an unprecedented write, somewhat resembling cuneiform writing of ancient characters. There was only one such line signs on the thickness of each table. Writing was difficult, but also contains more general symbols, such as triangle and circle. Although signs were not painted, yet they were coming out with a fluorescent light radiation in different colors from one table to another.

There were five tables on each side of the room. On some of them we could see different objects whose function is know, however, seemed to be technical tools, serving certain scientific applications. Since many of them descended to the ground a lot of white hairs translucent, who gathered in rectangular boxes in some off the table, directly on the ground.

The boxes were a shiny metallic silver, which could not be scratched. I tried to move a of them, but was well anchored in the ground. Fine wires were extremely flexible and lightweight, and indoor light pulses may notice that "slipped" on its entire length.

Two of the tables were empty, were covered only with a very thin layer of black dust orange. Caesar told me that they have collected dust samples from that which was sent Preliminary laboratory for analysis in the base, but had not yet received any results.

The real surprise has been, however, the distinctive element that made the people of research team projected to give the name of Hall classrooms in the middle of that huge mountain.

When passing by a table is active simultaneously on its surface a holographic projection that this aspect of a particular scientific field. Three-dimensional images colors were perfect and very large, with a height of almost two and a half meters. Due the fact that the tables were high, I could not tell which was the source of ae projection holograms. I learned from Caesar that the surface of polished stone rectangular tables have the center a narrow slit, measuring a few tens of centimeters in length, parallel to the sea side table, the slot that appeared to holographic projections.

- The technology used was tremendous, "he said Caesar. Projections running alone But at the same time they are interactive and depend on one who pursues and table to the surface.

I went to the board which is a tripod made of scale-based teams and I climbed a few steps until we reached the trunk above the table. It had a length about five meters and a width of one meter and a half. It was covered with a film of a materials like glass, however, was not transparent, but dark. I could pursue my head and trunk that reflected like a mirror surface film that shiny blue dark brown tint. The film was divided into several large squares, bounded by lines straight, vertical and horizontal, forming a kind of cadrilaj. The central slot rays that came out hologram formed in a fully coherent beam. It seems that the field was biology, because my eyes were running pictures of plants and animals, some of them being me completely unknown. I gently touched one of the square, which was also the highest and the hologram began to portray the anatomical structure of the human body, in fact, I did soon realize that it was my own body as a specific sign that you had on your arm. Although I'm not moving, when I saw the holographic images of various parts of my body which always rotated is presented from different angles. If your finger on that square, images of plants and animals would come back, if moving your finger inside the square penetrated into the body image, thus providing the projection of internal organs in Depending on finger position on the surface of the square. We found that In a moving finger certain way, we get an increase in the largest area in which we observe.

My amazement knew no borders, because we have submitted to such dimensions incredibly small, moving individual cells, the nucleus and reaching the molecule. I thought I was dreaming, but actually seeing my own part of the molecule liver, which was presented at an enormous size in a few moments later and substantially exceeded wildest dreams of scientists today. Image appear more a sort of cloud of energy that always change their color, probably due to exchange energy that were done in real time, but we see a different kind of fused points, connected by a sort of bridge that vibrates continuously. I thought that those could be molecular cafes. When I went on with resolution, but I joined Atomic, the image is fixed on one of the atoms, but became unsafe and was blocked. Then see what could be interpreted as an atom, and a diffuse fog of energy with a very small and bright center.

Amazed, I met other cadrilaj square. For every square that is light orange, and inside it there are signs of writing unknown. I rode more fascinated square, watching incredible projections of life on other celestial bodies. I found that if the two square surfaces touched simultaneously different image holographic automatically get specificuj. a very complex scientific analysis, DNA molecules presenting these beings and possibilities of compatibility between them. The images were accompanied on the side of writing strange vertical lines, which probably were comments, reviews or tips from the analysis was performed. They were dynamic and had the sequence of possible phases mixării two forms of life, final mutant form appears most likely that a combination of the two data genetic.

I went down stairs trembling. My mind refuses to retry coherent started strange thoughts occur to me, that I was lying like a hoax or that everything is just a game dream. Realizing what was happening to me, Caesar gradually ease my paranoid tendencies that were most likely triggered by the shock caused by too much advance technology that had had access to a very short time. I came within minutes and said

- Here you can spend years on end without getting bored! I almost do not believe that have reached a technological level so advanced. Who were they? There might not know. When I answered, Caesar was very serious.

- However you may seem odd, until now we have no clue. It's like and how they wanted to leave us all the dowry of immeasurable value, but did not want to know who were. The only thing that one can infer is that probably were very high. Otherwise we can not explain the huge size of all objects from here. However, you can be proud, for the last fifty thousand years of investigation was the first mass "Biology" and still enough. I was impressed in particular crossings method. Interestingly, our researchers are not yet discovered variant of the simultaneous achievement of squares. E law, however, had to do very much in a short time. After all, are only five to six days since I entered this room and just three days of actual study.

I went further. On each side of the room by half, were prepared by five huge meals, about seven feet away from the protective shield. We passed quickly through against each, as Caesar told me that my presence there was limited time.

Actually, my bringing up the basic result of a very special interventions General Obadiah because even Caesar could not have that measure.

The projection room were five Romanian and three Americans. The three huge tunnels in Behind the hall was guarded by a pair of soldiers and two officers assured general supervision of the hall.

- Savings is to not touch anything and do not design anything when alone explained Caesar.

- Okay, but why keep them here? Rather, on who exactly? I asked annoyed.

- This is the protocol, in addition, as I said, there are some items you do not can you reveal them, but they are precisely about these safety measures.

I continued my "pilgrimage" next to each table quickly. There were projections of physics, cosmology, astronomy, architecture, technology, an area that this features several breeds of intelligent beings - who were apparently not all human - and a field of religion. Information only from what I could to give me my account in a very short time, were so vast that it would have required continuous study of numerous teams of scientists for many years without fear that they could exhausted. All my impression soon create a formidable library of the universe, which was the genius of a mysterious civilization, both from a highly advanced spiritually, and technologically.

I walked to the middle of the room, where there is a high podium as about two meter and a half, with five steps that ease access to its surface. The whole construction was made of the same material as that of the Grand Gallery. I climbed the stairs with Cesar and got in front of a device that resembled a circular booth, shielded from a transparent material. It was about three meters high and a half and one meter wide and a half. In fact, be a half cylinder, with more inside complicated installations. About a third from the cylinder, the wall coming out of the way platform, and above there was some kind of metal rods with sensors at the ends.

- We concluded that this emission is a mental facility, said

Caesar thought possible energy booster, a veritable "Car of mind. It clearly structured by its builders proportions. Metal sensors which see it fit perfectly above the head of a tall man of about three and a half meters, which is placed on the platform. Unfortunately, I have not yet had the opportunity to realize how they work. Have made some adjustments, but more will arrive next period American transportation equipment with latest technology and specialist teams to begin a systematic investigation of the whole place.

- Do you know which was the purpose for which used this device? I asked well interest. I think he gave great importance, since it occupies the central position room.

- It is true, but still can not know its true purpose. Perhaps being that connect to sensors inside the cylinder was able to control the mental energy very large and direct them accordingly, but for now it is impossible to give my figure out exactly which was the target of those energies.

I got off and went further, moving beyond that stage. At a distance of about fifteen feet on the same central line saw what, in current terms is considered a control panel. There was too much, take the form of a square with sides about meter and is supported by a central leg coming out of the ground. I could not see very well what is the area's because he, like other objects in the room, had a height respectable, slightly above my head.

I brought a different scale, tripods and climbed a few steps. I was amazed at how which had been conceived. It was very complicated, giving the impression of a network design plates computer, and what we call buttons, there were represented by symbols precise geometry with different colors. I noticed triangles, squares and spirals, which were most. In the middle of the control panel there were two parallel slits in coming out in addition, a height of about twenty centimeters, two metal levers that we learn to associate with two levers. Both were brought to the lower position in the slot and clearly they could slide towards the top. What drew my particular attention was large square, which was located on the right side control panel, to the bottom corner. In its middle is a "button" red, represented by a circle, with more than remaining signs of the picture. We have estimated about ten inches in diameter circle. He was employed by a complicated set of signs that seemed to belong to the same writing unknown. It was the only area of the picture that was marked in this way. Caesar, which I looked down, asked me not to touch anything on the panel control and even less "the" red, but I suggested to pass my hand over square that was it. I did what I asked and immediately in front of me, about two meters from the picture, there was a huge hologram that a picture of the Earth taken from the atmosphere, from about twenty-five kilometers high. We recognized emotion Carpathian mountain chain and their specific curve, but I noticed with surprise discharge of huge quantities of water to lowlands and plains, until the soil has remained free.

Then it superimposed over the image hologram, in part, square projection silver with big red button in its interior, which is on the panel.

Button blink, while signs of altered his side with great speed and constantly changing color. We have seen how gradually the land territory which today includes the whole of Romania and a large part of Hungary and Ukraine, there are more streams of water, like giant rivers in all directions, heading for the mountains and the Transylvania Plateau. Then, the image was focused closer and I saw in a while very short, the whole of Romania had become practically a new high, which appeared only in some peaks areas or small patches of earth, like islands.

At that time, the projection of the square with the red button on the image stabilized hologram without blinking. Immediately, however, the left side of the hologram appeared projection of the two central slots and levers on the control panel, which began slowly slide towards the bottom. Simultaneously observe as the waters begin to withdraw from the territory our country, but oddly enough they were heading south only to a single point, that I located somewhere in the massive Retezat most likely in the mountains Godeanu. All high water has drained into the ground through there and land occurs again in Romania, with geological formations that we know today. However, the curvature of the mountain area Carpathian at a certain distance from them to the east, i.e. Vrancea territory today, we observed a dark slit, whose length we found an approximately thirty km, but I could not tell what it represented. In addition, the Delta does not exist and also, instead of the Black Sea was a huge plateau that stretched to the Middle East. At that time the hologram image has disappeared as suddenly as it appears. I Caesar looked stunned.

- We have left even a "manual", eh? Me, "he said laughing. The process is similar for all other buttons and controls of the panel, but I wanted the especially to see what can lead to tap the red. There seems, however, a safety, the research team have so far identified a sequence of three complicated steps to be carried out on orders of work, so that pressing diluviul red button to activate and cataclysm that have pursued a synthesis. The way "they" we learn is very practical, easy and intuitive. We suspect that maintain these facilities - in a way that is completely unknown to us yet - a balance tectonic zone in the essential energy that is Romania. Have you seen the cataclysm that can occur if this balance is affected.

Amazed the way out, I nodded. Then I went on with Caesar, to the end of the hall. After screening the huge table in the form of "T", I sides of the room saw that some devices were placed very high, metal, coming out the side ramifications of the metal, different and very complicated forms. Caesar told me that no one able to realize, until that moment that the function of those devices was huge, which soon created the impression of giant spiders.

At a distance of about ten meters from the control panel after I arrived at a square very large, bounded in the ground material. Far side about three feet square and its surface perfectly smooth, the color was golden gal-bin. In the middle was a small dome with height of about six inches, which presented a slot in the top, before the dome, located directly on the surface is a square shaped container an ancient amphora, about half a meter high.

- Content amphora is one of the strengths of discovery, I Caesar explained. Personally, I am inclined to think that this is what he wanted with so much passion Massini venerable for him and for the elite Masons. Amphora had no models and no inscriptions. He saw that it was made from a metal particular, the red and was not handled. Stylish cover not let be seen content. Caesar has a high and then ducking me before I could discern in the interior bright dust, very fine, white. Curiously, the inner walls of amphorae radiated a small discreet blue light, which made more prominent and almost flashes magic white powder.

- To analyze a sample of this powder, "he said Caesar. Researchers Americans have remained dismayed to find that it is a crystalline structure unknown monoatomic gold. It is a derivative of gold, which has color bright white atoms placed in a two-dimensional network, unlike gold normal, which is yellow and atoms placed in three-dimensional network. Monoatomic gold powder is very difficult to achieve, especially purity formula very high, as have some few references to ancient texts and authentic alchemical the Middle Ages. Practically speaking, today's science could not get far the extraordinary purity of monoatomic gold powder, but even in this case were seen incredible therapeutic effects on living tissues, particularly in terms of their regeneration capacity. Therefore there are still very few sources of information about the technology of monatomic gold and from what I understand from one of American scholars, there is great interest from NASA for research in this direction, as huge funds were invested.

I had never heard until that moment, about monatomic gold, nor my was not clear what can be used.

- But why do some people show so much interest in this powder?

I asked Caesar. You said the senior Massini the existence of gold?

- Venerable yet was informed before about the dust from penetrating amphora. I do not know how, I do not know where he also Masons elite information sources, but Surely she knew of your existence in this place monatomic powder. I asked myself Senior Massini why he was so interested in her possession. We talked with our scientists and those Americans who seem to be more in theme with this topic. They told me that, as Her pure, very much powder stimulates certain trade flows and energy at the cellular level and especially in neurons. In other words it causes a very accelerated process rejuvenation. They confided in me that, in theory, a man can live in the same physical body for several thousand years, provided they eat at certain times and in quantities well established, this powder. It is astonishing and almost inconceivable for the condition and contemporary human mentality, but it explains many puzzling aspects of the history humanity, about the incredible longevity of important characters and also illuminates the hidden intentions of the global elite Masons.

I surprise vanished dialect. I was nailed in place, waiting for other explanations of Caesar.

- Modern technology does not yet allow us to obtain monatomic powder purity, is required to trigger a process of revitalization and rejuvenation of the overall energy body. Moreover, analysis of the powder sample showed that atoms gold are prepared in a flat network, but they are combined with atoms of another element which is not yet known on Earth. This further complicates things, because nobody knows what powder has other features, besides those mentioned in ancient texts, which otherwise conservative scholars completely ignore them.

Caesar urged me to walk on the surface of the square, the small dome in the center.

- This will be one of the biggest surprises that you'll have in this room, if you think you can impress something at this point, he joked.

I saw then, designed the dome slot, a massive hologram elements moving. I realized almost immediately that they were playing the main aspects of synthetic very distant past of humanity, even its origin. I was able to convince myself thus, very clearly, the falsity of Darwin's evolutionary theory in terms human species. Its fundamental error in design is not so much that he passed it, but especially in ignorance of specific factors that have occurred on Earth in a amazingly distant past, elements that I've watched it a synthesis of was conducted in an exceptionally intelligent and also deeply intuitive. The excitement I my legs felt soft and I sat down on his knees, looking still images Real's most important events in human history, including its true origin many controversies that arise today. Unfortunately I was not allowed to report in this book essential aspects of our planet's past, which we viewed in a condensed form, exactly as they were held, with tens and hundreds of thousands of years before. It was provided that Caesar asked me to observe, to fit us in terms secret bilateral agreement between Romania and the U.S.. Honestly confess however, that after my findings, 90% of what is formally known at present about history is false and counterfeit, in trust, which is deemed to actually happened is mostly lies, while the myths and legends that fill books and stories are seen by most people a product of fantasy overflowing, are almost all true. This strange "inversion" caused the Over-time problems and conflicts between people.

Most of the ideas and assumptions archaeologists and scientists are false, even if the remaining evidence is sometimes very obvious to change their views erroneous. Some "fantasies" of scientists and researchers, such as the disappearance theory hilarious

Now dinosaurs sixty-five million years old or considering continents Atlantis and Lemuria as a myth, are now completely shattered, for I have seen then and there, clear as can be, how things happened in realitatel Perhaps, however, that for many scientists is much more comfortable "sleep" in peace, instead of accepting Saxon and recognize the limits of the unknown challenge.

From time to time, when you reach a notable moment in time, the projection Store holographic image of the event, but the background sky map appears, with the positions marked the major stars and constellations at the time. Caesar explained that this proved a very simple method of historical dating, because scientists have not had anything do than to duplicate those positions of the heavenly stars above their current position, giving Such relative periods of time when those events occurred. The problem was that period of time covered by holographic projections was large, several hundred thousand years or precession cycle of 25,920 years of Earth brings the constellations - in their position relative to our planet - the same position in periods that are multiples of 26,000 years. The solution was to follow the holographic projection from start to finish and to notice how many "years Platonic-cien" (about 26,000 years each) are thus highlighted. Thus, for instance, could conclude that all of the Bucegi Mountains was built more 50-55000 years ago because it was designed even galleries and the Great Hall image main, with all exactly as we found new position with the background constellations from Earth. Then once the image has appeared as a benchmark to passage of cosmic significance of two periods of the precession of the equinoxes. "Lessons" were extremely light and yet astounding their content. I saw truth about the ancient Egyptian civilization and how they were built large buildings on the territory of Egypt, which is really rubbish other than fully supported Egyptologists now. We saw what happened in reality and where they were germs Flood human civilization that followed the great flood and then populated throughout Europe, Asia and Africa, but none of these issues I was not allowed to reveal yet, because it involves Facts too shocking to some thinking, ideas and human knowledge contemporary.

Initially I thought I would show holographic projection of humanity's past, from its origins until the whole building Bucegi Mountains. Then I projections showed performance that saw the main historical aspects of the evolution of various breeds our planet until the fifth century AD This meant either that the giants who built inside the mountain, traversing all very well dominating blocks access to time, either - which seems likely, because of the immense periods of time that has been covered with holographic projection - that they "updated" in a mysterious bag information Holographic. It seems that the last such update took place near the year 500 AD Nobody can say, however, which was why they stopped at the historical information period.

I saw a disturbing image deployment, and crucifixion of Jesus's existence on the cross, which is still denied by some. I must say that during that period were spent more amazing facts than those presented in the Gospels. My projections also revealed many of those persons who witnessed the crucifixion of Jesus on the hill, were not at that time, but had come there from other historical periods. Those human beings who did not differ from clothing of Jews present at the time of the crucifixion, however, had features image of their completely different and that is why sought to conceal the folds of clothes as well below.

The hologram also presented sequentially spiritual lives and missions of other characters exceptional truly amazing proof of the divine endowments, past mankind's distant. I have seen such spiritual activities reformers still large about 18-20000 years ago, which nobody knows anything. By then, however, social system and population distribution across the planet were completely different from what is known today, and archaeologists, anthropologists and historians would have to revise ground their conceptions about those times.

There were so many elements that I watched when they were presented and in a compacted so that I would be required, without doubt, a few hundred pages to describe them at least approximately. However, holographic projection lasted only an hour and half. Even the two officers who provided security room and placed six sentinel at the entrances to tunnels followed with amazement and silence all the slide show, albeit obviously not the first time you saw it.

After the disappearance hologram longer I stayed motionless, looking blank. In a Later, Caesar told me it was time to return to base, because that was limited to that I could have access to the interior Hall projections. I looked at the front. Beyond square surface I still find that there were no openings than giant almost terrifying, enigmatic of the three tunnels in the mountain wall, located at about twenty meters away. In front of each of them at a distance of seven to eight meters one panel was similar to control large panel located Central, but they were smaller than this.

I asked him who was Caesar's great mystery of the three tunnels. He explained that the evidence on this issue I can not reveal, but I can say that what has been learned about the color of the mountain giant was due also to holographic projections that were ordered from the control panel of each tunnel part. The only thing was I could reveal a tunnel that goes to three thousand km in three different areas of the planet. Tunnel on the left has another connection point in Egypt, a whole secret and yet undiscovered which is under the sand, between the Sphinx and Great Pyramid of Giza plateau near Cairo. Tunnel on the right is a correlation structure that also is inside a mountain in Tibet Plateau. This is but lower than that of our mountains and not so complex. In this second tunnel There are side branches leading to a basement area of Buzau close curvature of the Carpathians, and another is moving to and connect with the basement structure Iraq, near Baghdad. From this, still, there is a branch until Gobi in Mongolia plateau basement.

The third tunnel, which was located in the central projection room, the subject - such as as I said Caesar - a secret world, the U.S. wanted assurances that very farms. At that time, nor Caesar, nor General Obadiah new items were not aware of Romanian-American talks, but that certainly was the perfect way to "change" each rates. Knowing the terrible political influence and relations venerable Masons Massini political structures of the two countries, one could infer that they try to "take" gradual con-trol by external factors on the basis of our state interests. Fortunately, Caesar told me that there are also very important people in our political machine and administrative know now odious machinations of the world and Masonry vehemently opposed to its influence, especially in terms of control great discoveries in the Bucegi Mountains. He also told me that down the center tunnel within the crust of the planet and even that exceeds this, but I wanted to offer more many items. He noted that the images that corresponded to that gigantic hologram mountain corridor were unbelievable but at the same time, they could provide a possible response to the origin of structure inside the mountain where we were new and who built it.

Before leaving the room, Caesar told me that they already made the biggest secret intense preparations for an expedition to Egypt tunnel first, then to that of Tibet and finally just had to organize the great expedition to the Earth by central tunnel. Romanian-US bilateral talks have decided to form a team sixteen elite men, who actually came from the merger of six American teams and a team of ten Romanian. Management has been entrusted with the operation, Caesar, that on that occasion was immediately assigned the rank of colonel-SRI. He explained that degree in investment was especially important in the context of the team psychologically. Going to be held in late September, 2003, as preparations were complex. Caesar did not revealed anything that was in the tunnel, although structure was different from that of the Grand Gallery of the Bucegi Mountains. He told me no how will be moving through the tunnel, given that they had traveled thousands of miles Finally I did not provide any detail on which holographic images displacement corresponding to each target separately. Even so, however, believe that the evidence presented here may be subject to at least reflections of which prepare us for future events. Reasons I deliberately omitted the obvious indication of the data that lead to the identification zone mountain that has made great breakthrough.

At one year after my visit there as we continue to live in the mind and heart the overwhelming impression that I lived during those few hours of my presence almost unreal atmosphere created by the mysterious structure inside the mountain. Above all But these revelations floating mystery of Time and the ancestral wisdom of those who able to control one, waiting patiently for tens of thousands of years when we get to know the truth ...
