UPDATE:

This CIA document has moved to a FOIA website

Interesting to note that references to western recombinant DNA technology / programs as of 1978 ARE STILL CLASSIFIED for they are omitted in this report. The reader should also note within the document itself that the NSA / CIA make it very clear that MILITARY-SPONSORED Recombinant DNA work WAS very common place in the 1970's, and considering that work is still classified it obviously plays into a military role to this day.

There is a brief explanation on how 'recombinant DNA technology' can influence "A HOST'S DNA" which is why this report was generated to begin with, as it looked into the 'then' Soviet Union's capabilities at that time.

*Recombinant DNA encompasses only one area of genetic engineering; namely, Biospecific biochemical and microbiological to alter,relatively controlled and reasonably predictable manner, the molecules that encode the genetic characteristics of an organism, and to introduce specifically selected new set of genetic Instructions.

The specific molecular manipulations that are made and the exact methods used to make them can vary widely from one recombinant DNA experiment to another. The basic process,usually involves the Initial isolation or synthesispecific set of chemically identical nucleic acid molecules (usually molecules are then bonded...?) specially prepared vector (carriers) that usually are plasmids, bacteriophages, or other virus-like infectious entities that can self-replicate in appropriate host cells. After the bonding has been completed, the modifiedcan be inserted into bacteria or other cells that lave been prepared biochemically to accept them. If the vectors have been "constructed" appropriately, the piece of initially selected DNA can give the recipient new genetic instructions. For Instance, the host cell might be given the capability to synthesize an enzyme that it previously could not make.

BTW-

This science is exactly what you would need for a population reduction 'PROGRAM' using 'mandated' vaccine legislation! Poisoning the well i.e. GMO food could also work well with this science achieving population reduction quotas. The evidence is overwhelming that the consumption of GMO food leads to sterilization.

I feel this is one of the most significant information for me.
And i am satisfied studying your article. However wanna commentary on few basic issues, The site style is wonderful, the articles is actually great :D.
Just right job, cheers.
