Dear Mr. President,

As one who has long been interested and involved in our national park system, I am pleased to write you to endorse the nomination of Robert G. Stanton as the next Director of the National Park Service. Mr. Stanton has worked in such varied parks as Grand Tetons and Virgin Islands where I have had long associations. He has acquitted himself extremely well in those assignments.

In his capacity as Field Director of the National Capital Region he has been an outstanding example of a Park Service executive working in an urban area with sensitivity and good judgment. I know he will be a credit to your Administration, and I warmly urge his nomination.

With warm appreciation and regard, I am

Sincerely,

Laurance S. Rockefeller

Dear Mr. President:

Thank you very much for your personal presentation of the Theodore Roosevelt National Park Medal of Honor. You were extremely kind and gracious to receive us so warmly in the Oval Office. Mary and I are most grateful.

In anticipation of a more formal ceremony, I had prepared short remarks expressing my thanks to you, my gratification at being associated with Theodore Roosevelt, and some brief views on pending park issues. I thought you might like a copy for review and consideration by your staff.

With warm appreciation for all you are doing, I am

Mr. Laurance Spellman Rockefeller 734 Fifth Avenue New York, New York 10021

Dear Mr. Rockefeller:

Happy Birthday! I hope that your 83rd birthday was filled with all the joy and happiness you so greatly deserve.

Sincerely,

Pru Clenta

Mr. Robert E. Rubin chairman National Economic Council The White House Washington, DC 20500 BY HAND Dear Mr. Rubin: You may be interested to know that Mr. Laurance S. Rockefeller will celebrate his 83rd Birthday on Wednesday, May 26th; and, Mary Rockefeller (Mrs. Laurance S.) celebrated her 83rd on May 1st. Beyond their inseparable "advance maturity," both Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller remain extremely active in their individual pursuits. In fact, Mr. Laurance (as his personal staff refer to him) joined the 1968 steering committee for the Federal Triangle renovation that currently permits visitors to our nation's capitol to enjoy the improved landscape as well as modern office facilities for the Federal workforce. Mr. Rockefeller's sustained support of many bi-partisan projects of benefit all Americans have preserved key cultural and historic aspects of our Americana (eg. Lincoln Center in New York City). Such anecdotal news may be of interest to you since Mr. Laurance has traditionally characterized his personal involvement as a "catalyst rather than an icon" (a role very much a kindred spirit to your present White House tasks). In the spirit of fellowship, President Clinton would be well advised to share his personal birthday greetings to Mr. Rockefeller on this memorable occasion by: first, a brief morning telephone call to his home office (212-734-0947) where the schedule begins at 9am daily; and second, a brief personal note of birthday greetings to Mr. Laurance Spellman Rockefeller at 734 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10021 to follow. Such personal gestures of individual accomplishment are consistent with the leadership imprimatur of President Clinton that inspires so many Americans.

Perhaps, you would present to President Clinton the merits of these proposed birthday greetings. And, we may be confident in knowing that Mr. Laurance's nephew, Senator Jay Rockefeller (WVa), will be impressed by such Presidential sensitivity.

Regards, Brich

Dear Friends:

Thank you for your letter regarding increased funding for land acquisitions in national, state, and local parks. I regret the delay in response, but your letter was misplaced and only recently reached my desk.

I appreciate your support for all of our parks -- from the "crown jewels" to the lesser known urban and wildland parks -- which many consider to represent "the best idea America ever had." As you are aware, my Administration insisted during negotiations with Congress on the bipartisan balanced budget agreement that an additional $700 million be provided for priority federal land acquisitions and exchanges. Secretary Babbitt and Secretary Glickman are leading the formulation of the Administration's recommendations on priority projects for special funding with these new funds. We will give serious consideration in our final deliberations to your views on the need for state funding from the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

With regard to your recommendation of a review of America's system of parks to determine their needs and how they can best be addressed, the National Park Service is developing, with significant public input, a strategic plan and goals under the auspices of the Government Performance and Results Act of 1993. In addition, Congress recently reauthorized the National Park System Advisory Board to ensure that you and other leading park advocates have the opportunity to have input in the park management decision-making process. The NPS will closely review your recommendations as it considers the new roles and responsibilities of the reauthorized Advisory Board.

Again, thank you for sharing your views and for your continuing support of our parks.

Sincerely,

BILL CLINTON

I've been asked about a letter from the American Conservation Association signed by John H. Adams, Harry L. Diamond, Patrick F. Noonan, and Larry Rockefeller regarding the national park system. The incoming is dated 1/31/97. Has this gone out yet? I know that I inquired about this letter a couple of times a few months ago, and refaxed it to you for processing. Please let me know what the outcome on this was as soon as possible. (IGA is following up on it, and would like to know if the letter ever went out.)

Subject: Draft response to Adams letter

Attached is a draft response to the Adams letter, incorporating Ron Cogswell's comments.

Dionne advises that WH Correspondence asked for draft language, but did not specify who would be the signatory. Dionne, the letter includes the phrase "He asked me to respond for him" so that the letter could be sent by Raines, the VP, or some other party.

Hope this meets your needs. Thanks.

OK - OMB will provide draft language for POTUS sig. I'll run it by you when it comes back. (Should be back today or tomorrow.)

I'll forward the letter from Mayor Finkbeiner to you. Undoubtedly, the President will have the opportunity to correspond with the mayor some time in the near future.

Thanks, Tracy.

I know it's really late to have the President sign the letter on the rivers, etc., but it would sure help me politically if he could, with a line of apology about the delay. Thanks.

You can do a POTUS letter to Finkbeiner if you want, or I'll do it the way I'm doing the others.

Mona -

1) The message that you got wasn't exactly right - The letter I was inquiring about was from the American Conservation Association, which was forwarded to Lynn Cutler by Mayor Ashe of Knoxville, Tenn. The draft is being prepared by OMB, and I just wanted to know if you/Lynn wanted this to be for the President's signature or for Director Raines' sig. The letter is dated 1-31-97, and it is concerning the state of the national park system. (Perhaps it would be better to send from Raines because it's so old. I had sent the original letter over for OMB response per CEQ months ago.) Please let me know what you think.

2) Mayor Finkbeiner of Toledo has sent another letter to the President. He applauds the President for his remarks at the Conference of Mayors, but also asks the Preisdent to include cities of 250,000 to 500,000 in the Empowerment and Enterprise Zone programs. Since this is the only letter in response to the Conference urging the President to take action, I thought we could do a POTUS reply. Draft is attached. Again, please let me know if this is ok, or if you would rather handle it through your office, like the other letters I sent at the end of last week.

Thanks very much for your assistance. Tracy

AMERICAN CONSERVATION ASSOCIATION, INC.

30 ROCKEFELLER PLAZA, NEW YORK, N.Y. 10112

January 31, 1997

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

Our parks are in peril but--like Theodore Roosevelt--you have a grand opportunity. That is what leading park advocates who write you this letter believe. We stand ready, along with all Americans who care about parks, to work with you. Strong leadership is essential to saving parks from accelerating threats and deterioration. We look to you--and so does history.

This letter is being written to you by members of the Executive Committee of the American Conservation Association. In order to provide the best advice possible, we convened a group of experienced and knowledgeable people to help us. The group included former Governor and Secretary of the Interior Cecil Andrus, Knoxville Mayor and former President of the U.S. Conference of Mayors Victor Ashe, state natural resource and park leaders, as well as heads of national park and historic organizations. A list of the group is attached.

We address the issue of parks broadly--not only in the sense of traditional national, state, and local parks, but also in terms to include greenways, open space, and historical and cultural resources. Those resources are part of what defines the American character, and our failure to cherish these places is a reflection on that character.

The problems are very real. The basic federal program to help states and local governments acquire and develop their park systems, the Land and Water Conservation Fund, has provided little or no assistance for almost a decade. This is a shortsighted breach of the promise made to the American people when the outer continental shelf oil drilling revenues were dedicated to the Fund. And how can it be that the state assistance program under the Fund, which has supported the creation of thousands of local parks and recreational facilities, may receive no funding at all in the Administration's FY98 budget request? The national park system has long suffered from under-funding of its basic mission. There is a backlog of several billion dollars needed for significant restoration and resource protection.

The result is that not only the national park system but state and local park systems do not perform the role in American life they should. There is an ominous problem--visitation has soared and budgets have fallen. The results are loss of urban open space, reduction of scarce wildlife habitat, loss of much needed outdoor healthy recreation opportunities for young people with a resulting increase in crime and despair.

We believe that despite the very stringent budget constraints which the nation faces, there is now a window of opportunity to help restore and expand a national system of parks. Every measure of public opinion indicates that the environment is high on the list of public priorities. In particular, parks are cherished. The recent victories of bond issues to buy additional lands in New York, California, and other states support this conclusion. The recent creation of the Americans for our Heritage and Recreation advocacy group at Asilomar, California brings together for the first time national, state and local grassroots organizations in support for funding for national and local parks through the Land and Water Fund and other measures. The growth and activity of local land trusts, which now number well over 1,100 across the country, also bespeaks the public concern and interest.

Many, if not most, of the needed tools are in place. The Land and Water Conservation Fund, if fully appropriated, can be an effective mechanism of recycling one publicly owned nonrenewable resource--offshore oil--into another much needed one--parks. The Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act has been and should continue to be an extremely important source of support for parks associated with transportation. The Department of Agriculture has important conservation programs, as does the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The challenge is to focus and make the most of these tools to save America's endangered system of parks.

Parks should be a truly bipartisan issue. Many Republicans in Congress appear willing to work with the Administration. Senator Murkowski has announced that the Senate Resources Committee will be holding workshops and hearings on parks issues later this year, Speaker Gingrich is a potential ally for the efforts of Americans for our Heritage and Recreation. Many Republicans were on record in support of state and local environmental protection measures decided last November.

Specifically, we urge you to initiate a review of America's system of parks to determine what the needs are and how they can best be addressed not only by the federal government but by state and local governments and private organizations as well. We urge that you create a government-wide task force to review the crisis and make recommendations to you and to the Congress. We envision this to be a short-term effort lasting no longer than six months in time for the next federal budget cycle. Data is readily available from existing organizations, government agencies, and past reviews. We urge that this task force include participation other levels of government and the public through a series of hearings held in regions across the country. The federal task force should be led by the Secretary of the Interior but should include other federal departments that have a strong, though often under-recognized, role in providing park opportunities such as the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Transportation, the Department of Defense, and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The Honorable William J. Clinton January 31, 1997

This effort might well be initiated by a Presidential message on Earth Day in April or sooner on the importance of parks in our national life and the commitment of your administration to assure that they can play the role they must. We, of course, stand ready to assist you in this effort in any way you or your associates would find useful. We will be pleased to meet with you or with whomever you direct.

Sincerely,

John H. Adams

Dear Mr. President,

As one who has long been interested and involved in our national park system, I am pleased to write you to endorse the nomination of Robert G. Stanton as the next Director of the National Park Service. Mr. Stanton has worked in such varied parks as Grand Tetons and Virgin Islands where I have had long associations. He has acquitted himself extremely well in those assignments.

In his capacity as Field Director of the National Capital Region he has been an outstanding example of a Park Service executive working in an urban area with sensitivity and good judgment. I know he will be a credit to your Administration, and I warmly urge his nomination.

With warm appreciation and regard, I am

Sincerely,

Laurance S. Rockefeller

Dear Mr. Rockefeller:

Happy Birthday! I hope that your 83rd birthday was filled with all the joy and happiness you so greatly deserve.

Mr. Robert E. Rubin chairman National Economic Council The White House Washington, DC 20500 BY HAND Dear Mr. Rubin: You may be interested to know that Mr. Laurance S. Rockefeller will celebrate his 83rd Birthday on Wednesday, May 26th; and, Mary Rockefeller (Mrs. Laurance S.) celebrated her 83rd on May 1st. Beyond their inseparable "advance maturity," both Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller remain extremely active in their individual pursuits. In fact, Mr. Laurance (as his personal staff refer to him) joined the 1968 steering committee for the Federal Triangle renovation that currently permits visitors to our nation's capitol to enjoy the improved landscape as well as modern office facilities for the Federal workforce. Mr. Rockefeller's sustained support of many bi-partisan projects of benefit all Americans have preserved key cultural and historic aspects of our Americana (eg. Lincoln Center in New York City). Such anecdotal news may be of interest to you since Mr. Laurance has traditionally characterized his personal involvement as a "catalyst rather than an icon" (a role very much a kindred spirit to your present White House tasks). In the spirit of fellowship, President Clinton would be well advised to share his personal birthday greetings to Mr. Rockefeller on this memorable occasion by: first, a brief morning telephone call to his home office (212-734-0947) where the schedule begins at 9am daily; and second, a brief personal note of birthday greetings to Mr. Laurance Spellman Rockefeller at 734 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10021 to follow. Such personal gestures of individual accomplishment are consistent with the leadership imprimatur of President Clinton that inspires so many Americans. Perhaps, you would present to President Clinton the merits of these proposed birthday greetings. And, we may be confident in knowing that Mr. Laurance's nephew, Senator Jay Rockefeller (WVa), Will be impressed by such Presidential sensitivity. Regards, Brich P.O. February 20, 1997

Dear Mr. President,

As one who has long been interested and involved in our national park system, I am pleased to write you to endorse the nomination of Robert G. Stanton as the next Director of the National Park Service. Mr. Stanton has worked in such varied parks as Grand Tetons and Virgin Islands where I have had long associations. He has acquitted himself extremely well in those assignments.

In his capacity as Field Director of the National Capital Region he has been an outstanding example of a Park Service executive working in an urban area with sensitivity and good judgment. I know he will be a credit to your Administration, and I warmly urge his nomination.

With warm appreciation and regard, I am

Sincerely,

Laurance S. Rockefeller

The President The White House Washington, D.C. 20500
