PREFACE

No one can have been anticipating the appearance of the fourth edition of this Register more anxiously than the Editor, who now entreats that the lynx-eyed critics will be merciful: some one will, of course, know everything about one name at all events, while the Editor has to know something about every one.

It is inevitable that there must be many errors in a book which deals with so many tiny facts and figures, and many omissions or mis-statements where publication is necessarily spread over many months, and fresh material is to be found in the newspapers every day, without mentioning the fact that belated answers have dropped in casually up to the very last.

I am more grateful than I can express to many friends for sympathy and encouragement in an arduous task. The letters which have come in from all parts of the world, have been a great help as well as a great pleasure. I wish to thank especially: Mr. Jeans for reading through some of the proofs, and giving me the benefit of his wonderful topographical knowledge; Mr. Hawkins for the use of his bound 'Red Books'; Mr. Humphreys and Major Arthur Lushington for the loan of 'Crockford' and Hart's Army List; the Bursar for the map, which will add immensely to the value of the book; the Rev. W. H. Savile for his delightful poem; N. C. King for unfailing promptness in replying to questions dealing with medical O.H.s, and L. G. Dibdin and J. Strode, for similar services in the case of legal O.H.s; and my wife for untiring assistance with the Index, and in many other ways.

Mr. Turner and Mr. Toyne, the representatives of the 'Shop' and the O. H. Society, have always been ready with their advice when I asked for it, and it has been a real satisfaction to feel that I had them to appeal to.

I have not added much to the 'Historical Notes,' partly because a certain recent publication has largely removed the necessity, partly because the Register is already so bulky.

The addition of O.H.S. to the names of the members of the O.H. Society has given the printers—to whom I owe a great debt for the care they have taken throughout—a great deal of trouble, for it is very hard to get the letters quite straight with the rest of the line; but I am sure that this innovation will be found very useful. As the O.H.S. List is made out afresh every year, I strongly recommend those who use the Register to verify the addresses by reference to the current issue.

I cannot help emphasizing that many omissions are due—

- (1) To the modesty or express wishes of O.H.s who prefer their achievements to be unrecorded;
- (2) To the unwillingness of some to state the fact that they are (happily) working for their living;
- (3) To a reluctance to answer letters, which amounts almost to a disease.

I offer no apologies to the last class, especially when they belong to the O.H. Society or take in the 'Haileyburian,' and therefore must have seen one appeal, if not many, besides the original circular.

I am very sorry if I have unwittingly inserted any facts against the wishes of any one.

In response to a request from a correspondent, I have indicated the O.H. members of the Staff (and of the Council) by a †.

I may perhaps be allowed to repeat that addresses marked in () are believed to be correct, but have not produced an answer; that addresses or other information contained between [] have been added by the Editor—(in some cases I have had to invent an address, though the bulk of the return has been furnished by the man himself, for I wished to indicate that he had replied); and finally I should like to say that no one regrets more than I do that exigencies of space have necessitated a certain breathlessness of abbreviation, which detracts from the repose and dignity of the book: I was anxious to make the 'biographies' as full as possible, and this was the only way.

I trust that the book, in spite of all its errors, will be the means of 'knitting severed friendships up,' and keeping firm many that have never been broken.

March 1910.

L. S. MILFORD.

TO OUR MOTHER.

WHEN, at the whisper of the Spring,
The chestnut bursts her shining sheath,
When linnet, thrush and blackbird sing
Amid the summer-scented heath ;
When one by one the College lights
Gleam thro' the dusk at evenfall,
How oft our hearts have turned to thee,
The Mother of us all !

We thought thee somewhat stern, in sooth
When first within thy walls we crept ;
But when, dear guardian of our youth,
We bade farewell to thee, there swept
How deep a wave of fond regret
Across the silence of the soul,
As from thy portals forth we fared,
Each to his unknown goal !

Tho' wind and tide our paths divide,
Whose annals are recorded here,
Thy sons we are, whatever star
Shall shape our course as on we steer.
We have a goodly heritage,
A prouder title none can claim
Than ours who carry in our hands
The honour of thy name.

Within our veins her spirit lives,—
A power to kindle and inspire ;
And still her Sursum Corda gives
The wings that lift the soul's desire.
And while by those who run the race
The flaming torch is handed on,
She holds in tender memory
The names of those who're gone.

O dear companions of our days
 In Field and Study, Hall and Quad !
 Who in the old, familiar ways
 Are seen no more,—at home with God !
 As we who loved you turn the page,
 And read the record of your years,
 The heart will thrill, the eyes will fill
 With memories and tears.

From North to South, from East to West,
 Our old school banner flies unfurl'd :
 Some names there are, among our best,
 Have gained the plaudits of the world.
 Sing " Floreat ! " we are proud of you !
 In your renown we humbly share ;
 For in our own four walls were grown
 The laurels that you wear.

And many an honest worker breathes
 On this great globe of ours to-day,
 Content if only he bequeaths—
 When Evening beckons him away—
 To thee, our Mother (from whose eyes,
 In years now distance-crowned with beauty,
 He caught the joy of sacrifice)
 A life of silent duty.

Content if, in the quiet round
 Of fruitful, uneventful days,
 No pen records the deeds he does,
 Nor voice nor clarion sound his praise :
 Content, although his forehead wears
 No shining coronet of Fame,
 To leave thee, as his legacy,
 A pure, unspotted name.

W. H. SAVILE (O.H.).

REV. ARTHUR GRAY BUTLER, M.A.,

Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford.

Head Master, 1862—1867.3.

Resigned in December 1867; afterwards for a time Chaplain at R.I.E.C. Cooper's Hill, and then Dean and Tutor of Oriel College, Oxford. The Council founded the "Butler Prizes" for English Literature. His portrait by G. Richmond, R.A., hangs in the Library. Died Jan. 16, 1909, aged 77. See 'Haileyburian,' No. 389. (A fund is being raised to found a Scholarship or Exhibition bearing his name, and to put up a tablet in Chapel.)

Assistant Masters appointed by REV. A. G. BUTLER.

- 1862.—(1) Rev. Augustus De Morgan Hensley, M.A., Trinity College, Cambridge. Trevelyan,* 1862—1899.3; Senior Mathematical Master; Choir Master—1868.2. Left December 1899, and lives at Redehurst, Godalming. His portrait by A. B. Connor (O.H.) hangs in the Library.
- (2) Rev. Charles Walford, M.A., B.N.C., Oxford. Lawrence, for one term. Afterwards an Indian Chaplain, 1864–85. Vicar of Westhampnett, Chichester, 1892–1903. (Left from ill-health. The Rev. H. Walford came at a few hours' notice to take his place.)
- (3) Rev. Henry St. John Reade, M.A., University College, Oxford. Lawrence, 1863.1—1868.3; married and lived in Hailey Lane till 1870.3; afterwards Head Master of Beccles Grammar School till 1873; of the Godolphin School, Hammersmith, 1873–76; of Oundle, 1876–83. Died February 13, 1884, at Ipsden, aged 44.

* The House names now in use were not adopted until 1868. "Trevelyan" and "Lawrence" were long known as the "Reds" and the "Blues." Otherwise all Houses were called after their house-masters.

Masters who are O.H.s have † before their names.

1863.1.—(4) Rev. Henry Walford, M.A., Wadham College, Oxford. Bartle Frere, 1863.1—1865.2 ; Hailey,* 1865.3—1883.2. Appointed by Mr. Gladstone to Ewelme Rectory, Wallingford, in 1884. He resigned in 1889, and died at Malvern, Christmas-day, 1893. There is a tablet in Chapel to his memory.

(5) Rev. Lewis Newcomen Prance, M.A., Trinity College, Cambridge. Thomason, 1863.1—1868.2. Now Rector of Stapleford Tawney, Romford, and Rural Dean.

(6) Albert Charles Clark, Esq. (English Master.) Librarian. Died at Bournemouth, March 5, 1888. See 'In Memoriam' in 'Haileyburian' for June 19, 1888. There is a tablet in Chapel to his memory.

[Monsieur E. A. Oppen. (French Master—1869.2.)]

1863.2.—(7) Rev. Henry Couchman, M.A., Trinity College, Oxford. Edmonstone, 1863.3—1871.2, when he married. On Mr. Rhoades finally leaving, succeeded to Highfield, 1874.2—1900.1. Departure Master—1892.3. Has lived at 'Haileybury,' 7, Crick Road, Oxford, since he left.

1863.3.—(8) Cormell Price, Esq., M.A., B.C.L., B.N.C., Oxford. Colvin, 1863.3—1874.2. Head of Modern Side. Hall Master—1874.2. Head Master of the United Services College, Westward Ho! 1874—94. Lived for some time at Witney, latterly at Rudgwick, near Horsham.

(9) Rev. Edmund Hugh McNeile, M.A., Trinity College, Cambridge—1865.1. Incumbent of St. Paul's, Prince's Park, Liverpool. Died January 8, 1893.

(10) Rev. Charles James Marshall. Bartle Frere—1867.3, when he married ; left 1869.2. Study Master. Founder, and Head Master of Bengoe Preparatory School, 1869.3—1891.1. Rector of Shillingstone, Dorset, 1891—98.

[E. S. Burchett, Esq. (Drawing Master.)—1890.3.]

[Herr A. H. Scheibe. (Music Master.) Resigned in 1896, and died March 14, 1897, on his way home from Mauritius.]

* Hailey—or 'Hailey House,' as it was always called—was until 1879.3, the house of the Lower School. Thomason, until 1868.3, was the house for small boys in College ; the yellow stripes on the cap formed a star and were not prolonged to the edge.

1864.2.—(11) James Rhoades, Esq., M.A., Trinity College, Cambridge. Master of 'Highfield,' which he built, 1868—1874.1. For some time at Bournemouth. Assistant Master at Sherborne till December 1892. Now living at Kingsthorpe, Kelvedon, Essex.

[John Seager Warman, Esq., M.A., Balliol College, Oxford, for two terms. Afterwards ordained and Assistant Master at Richmond School. Now Rector of Boxford, Colchester.]

1865.1.—(12) Basil Edward Hammond, Esq., M.A., Trinity College, Cambridge—1865.3. Fellow and Tutor of Trinity.

1865.3.—(13) Rev. Matthew Herbert Wilson, M.A., B.N.C., Oxford. Left for a time in 1867.1, from ill-health; returned in 1869.3—1875. Vicar of Lyminster, Sussex. Died December 26, 1879.

(14) Rev. Thomas Edward Platten, M.A., Lincoln College, Oxford—1866.1. Vicar of Hindringham, New Walsingham, 1877.

(15) Edward Philip Ash, Esq., M.A., Caius College, Cambridge. Thomason, 1868.3—1873.3. Study Master, 1867.2—1883.2, but left College on his marriage. When Mr. Walford left, succeeded to Hailey, 1883.3. Head of the Modern Side, 1876.1—1902.3. Lived at Hitchin for a short time, afterwards at Petersfield. Died at 'Downton,' Petersfield, May 25, 1909. See 'Haileyburian,' Vol. xvii. No. 393. A tablet will be erected in Chapel to his memory.

1866.1.—(16) Rev. Henry Robert Huckin, M.A., St. John's College, Oxford. Bartle Frere, 1867.3—1869.2. Afterwards Assistant Master at Merchant Taylors'; and in 1874 Head Master of Repton. Died 1882.

1866.2.—(17) Rev. Thomas Roach, M.A., St. John's College, Cambridge—1866.3. Afterwards Assistant Master at Repton. Later lived at Kingsmede, Chandlersford, Southampton. (Not in 1908 Clergy List.)

(18) Henry George Hart, Esq., M.A., Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. Lawrence, 1868.3—1873.2. Left, on his marriage, for Harrow. Head Master of Sedbergh, 1876—1900. Now living at 'Sedbergh,' Hillside, Wimbledon.

1866.3.—(19) John Holland Stennett, Esq., B.A., Merton College, Oxford—1867.1. Afterwards lived for some time at Bournemouth.

HISTORICAL NOTES.

It has been thought better to cut out the bulk of the Historical Notes, but I have been glad to retain two or three of the longer articles, and to record the beginnings of some of our familiar institutions.

I am glad also to be able to reprint in this edition the interesting article which appeared in the 'Haileyburian' when the School attained its majority.

"TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO.

"On Sept. 21, 1862, Haileybury began its new life as a Public School. A dismal period had intervened since the time that the old East India College had been closed ; for long it was absolutely empty, though the solitude was broken for a few months by the arrival of a regiment from India, fresh from the Mutiny. One can imagine that Hertford Heath was a fine recruiting station for the tired veterans, but the building was not suited for barracks, and it was soon again deserted. For a while there was a talk of its becoming the Union Workhouse, but happily a better fate was in store for the place. The enterprise of several county gentlemen, and the energy of Mr. Stephen Austin, successfully carried through a scheme for turning it into a School. Mr. Arthur G. Butler, a Rugby Master, was appointed head, and we entered into existence just twenty-one years ago. But how different the place was then ! Imagine it after three years of neglect, only hastily got ready for a somewhat uncertain number of boys. The rooms, the Chapel, the Hall, musty and dismal to a degree, the grass in the Quadrangle like a neglected meadow, the paths badly gravelled, whilst on them stood furniture and piles of crockery, which had yet to be taken indoors, after the arrival of the boys. The gardens and grounds round about, though always beautiful, were rankly grown with vegetation and weeds, and felled timber obstructed progress in most directions. Arrival at such a place must have produced a depressing feeling at any rate to those in charge. We trust we shall not be breaking confidence if, in proof of the want of furniture, we tell how one master brought down with him, only the day before the opening day, his bed and bedding, but very nearly missed having a resting-place after all, as the railway company positively refused to convey it as personal luggage ! However, things got settled somehow, thanks to the energy of Mr. Butler and Mr. Hensley ; nor must we omit the names of Benjamin Jones and

George Dorset, who were true pillars of support on those opening days, as they were for long afterwards. The latter, however, caused some confusion at one stage of the proceedings. He had been told to collect all the boys' keys as they arrived, in order that the Matron might unpack their boxes. This he did, and took her the whole fifty mixed together, and without any names to them ! Those interested in Permutations may calculate how many times each key would have to be tried. Poor Mrs. Cope—let us hope she did not use any very bad language ! Those who knew her will remember her temper was sometimes ruffled. Besides Mr. Butler and Mr. Hensley, Mr. Charles Walford and Mr. Reade were Masters here the first term, and between them taught the fifty-four boys who had come. The class-rooms they used have long ago been altered or disappeared. Between the Master's House and the Lodge there were two big lecture rooms, with large lantern skylights ; the lower one was the head form-room, the next Mr. Hensley's, whilst Mr. Walford and Mr. Reade had form-rooms at the other side of the Lodge. Two Dormitories were opened (the present Lawrence and Edmonstone), Mr. Hensley was Master of the lower, and Mr. C. Walford of the upper one, and the space now filled by the Big School was then occupied by their dormitory class-rooms and their own private rooms. The Houses wore then as now the familiar blue or red-striped caps (Lawrence and Trevelyan), and went by no other name but the 'Blues' and the 'Reds.' As they were the first filled, they outstripped the other later ones for many a term in games ; indeed it was long before any other house aspired even to challenge them. For the first two or three years the match between 'Reds' and 'Blues' was the great event of the term ; and well can we remember how all the school flocked to see them playing for 'Cock House.' The rivalry between them was tremendous ; it was intensified of course by the fact that they were the only two possible rivals for supremacy at that time. Their feud was not merely in games, they carried it into private life, and as those were days when fights were much more frequent than now, the state of Haileybury was somewhat like that of Verona in the time of the Montagues and Capulets. Mr. Charles Walford left at the end of the first term, and his brother, who has but just left us, took his place. Mr. Reade, however, succeeded to his house (the Blues). There were 76* boys the second term, and the numbers went on steadily increasing, so that at the beginning of the second year the numbers were 173, whilst the third year was begun with 255. As they were required, new dormitories were opened in the Clock House, under Mr. H. Walford, Mr. Couchman, Mr. Prance, and Mr. Price. In the summer of 1864, when Mr. Hensley married, he and Mr. Couchman changed dormitories, taking their boys with them of course, Mr. Hensley going to his present one, so as to be near his House, and Mr. Couchman to the Lower dormitory, which was afterwards named Edmonstone. It was not till the School had been opened for a year that the Clock House was built, to make Masters' rooms for the new Houses. Let us go back to the beginning, however. The first boys to arrive were the two Michells from Yorkshire, the elder of whom afterwards became Captain of the XI, and later on commanded a company of the 60th Rifles at the Battle of Ulundi. They had mistaken the day and came a day too soon, so they were absolutely the first Haileyburians.†

“As the other boys arrived they soon made friends,—all were new alike, so there was a glorious equality, and the first thing young Haileybury as a body did was to run round and round the quadrangle hurraing and making a tremendous noise. Those must have been days when boys were more unsophisticated than now, for during the first week one of the smaller ones came up to a Master who is still here, and putting his hand in his, said, 'Do come and play with us, it's no fun without you.'

† There are other claimants, as will be found in the Register.—ED.

"Work of course had to begin soon, but, alas! through some mistake of the booksellers, there were no books ready, and the first two days had to be spent in a constant round of Arithmetic set on the black-board. We have in our hands a time-table of lessons for the first term, in Mr. Butler's own handwriting, and as it will probably interest some, we give it in full:—

7.—Chapel.	7.15—8.25.—Preparation.
7.15—8.15.—1st Lesson.	8.30.—Chapel.
8.20.—Breakfast.	9.—Bed for small Boys.
9.5.—Preparation.	9.30.—Bed for big Boys.
10—11.—Say Lesson.	10.—All lights put out.
11.15—12.45.—Learn and say Lesson.
1.30.—Dinner.	Tuesday, 5.40—6.40.—Verses.
4 (or 3.45)—6.45.—Learn and say Lesson.	Thursday, 5—6.40.—Learn and say Lesson.
6.45.—Tea.

"In the old Chapel—so long and narrow—the boys all sat near the door, a 'House' on either side, and as there was no gas in those days the place was somewhat dimly lighted with candles. It must indeed have looked ghostly. For the first few nights there was no music, but a harmonium was soon bought, and Mr. Hensley became the first choir-master. In the Hall and Great School moderator lamps were used (it was before the time of paraffin oil), though there, too, candles sometimes made their appearance, presumably when oil ran out. To illustrate the various uses to which inventive youth can turn materials at its disposal, we will relate how one night, when the master of the week was late in coming in to Preparation, he found the boys had whiled away the time by melting the candles on the floor, thus making a slide more than half the length of the old Great School, which they were briskly enjoying.

"At first the Hall, as well as the Chapel, was a place of 'magnificent spaces.' The boys sat there too according to their Houses, at either side of the room, and seemed to show their rivalry in trying which House could behave the worst! It had been arranged always to give the boys pickles for dinner, but they ate such a quantity that the practice was speedily dropped. The careful soul of Mr. Jones (the steward) was vexed and considerably surprised to find that fifty boys could eat £5 worth of pickles in a fortnight!

"As may be imagined, there were many parts of the building uninhabited, a few studies which existed at the Lodge side of the quadrangle were occupied at once, but the large block on the other side were desolate, save that a few were utilized as carpenters' and locksmiths' shops, or for stores of crockery, caps, etc.; and one we recollect was given up to a scientific boy who dabbled in chemistry and photography. Many will remember the dingy groups that Berthon and Bosanquet used to take.

"During the first term, the part we now call the Clock House (it had then no projecting part or clock) was firmly believed to be haunted, and there were many who would not have gone near it at night on any account. Possibly the scarcity of light at that epoch had something to do with the belief, for the ghost or ghosts disappeared when the gasworks were built.

"What is now 'The Residency' was originally fitted up at the house of the second master; but Mr. Hensley preferred to live in rooms near his dormitory, and thus what had been meant for him was used as the Sick House, and continued so until the New Buildings were put up; for when Mr. Hensley did move, it was not there, but to his present house.

"Hailey House was also then uninhabited, and had most romantic stories attached to it. Boys used to creep in through broken windows, and roam about in the empty and dusty rooms, and one brown mark on the floor was always pointed out as the spot where a murder had been committed. Probably the legend had some connection with the pond which used to exist in the Hailey House field, near the white gate, for that was always called 'Dead Man's Pond.' The garden was a charming rambling ground. It was rankly overgrown, and had probably not seen or felt a gardener's hand for six years, when Mr. Walford first went to live there in 1865. Roses straggled in all directions, and many another flower, rapidly passing into the semi-wild stage, grew carelessly beautiful. The lawn was the recognized fighting ground of the School for its first few years; and many is the carp that has been pulled out of the Hailey House pond, where in those days the fishing was entirely free and unpreserved. We regret to say that Sunday afternoon was the favourite time for the sport, but this was probably merely because the regulation tall hats made such capital baskets for the fish when caught.

"The only cricket-field was the Pavilion ground, which was not then more than half its present size. The field below the Terrace sloped gently away to the road, and though used for football, was not levelled for cricket until eighteen months later. When first it was made, it was the ground of honour, and the foreign matches were played there. Cricket and football, combined with a little poaching, were the chief amusements of those days, for there were no five-courts to start with; those in the Avenue were built in November 1863, and some covered ones behind the studies a little later; but the two old racquet courts in the Pavilion field were much used, and though they had no side walls, and one of them not even a back wall, it was thought a capital game.* Dorset sold fives bats and racquet balls at the Lodge for the first few years. This was one of his multifarious duties, for those were the days before division of labour.

"The Grub Shop was actually in College. The front part of the form room that is now occupied by Mr. Lea† was then a lobby with doors opening out of it into form-rooms at either side. Beyond this lobby was a room about the size of a study, and this was the Grub Shop, to which Mr. Young used to come up every day from Hertford, with a gig full of hot tarts and other delicacies.

"With mention of this important department of the School we must pause for the present, and conclude these rough notes about our early infancy.—R."

* The "Field Racquet Court" has long been altered into uncovered Fives Courts.—ED.

† Now one of the Le Bas 'House Rooms'.—ED.

1867.3.—On November 30 the first Old Boys' football match was played under the captaincy of P. T. Bainbrigge.

In December Mr. Arthur Butler was reluctantly compelled to resign from ill-health. According to the Lawrence 'Vive la Compagnie':

B stands for Butler, whose excellent rule,
Vive la Compagnie!
In five years has made us a great Public School,
Vive la Compagnie!

1868.1.—The Rev. E. H. Bradby, of Rugby and Harrow, was chosen to succeed Mr. Butler.

On March 1 the first number of the 'Haileyburian' appeared. The form and arrangement have remained unaltered from the start.

House names were started about this time.

The "Literary Society" was set on foot by Mr. Reade. The first meeting was held in the open air under the fence outside the Hailey House garden.

1869.1.—Haileybury made its first appearance at Prince's, and scored 81 points to Rugby's 83.

1869.3.—The Committee of Games was instituted.

1872.3.—N.S.S. started on November 6. R. W. Bowyer, Esq., President. F. Podmore, Secretary. Committee, G. J. Howson, W. E. Smith, C. H. Wingfield.

1873.1.—"Agra Mission" started, with Rev. F. J. Hall as Secretary and Treasurer.

The "Red Book" began.

J. R. Twisden read the first paper at the N.S.S. on "Structure and Classification of Phœnogamous Plants."

1874.1.—The "Antiquarian Society" was founded. Rev. F. B. Butler, President; H. C. Cotterill, Esq., L. S. Milford, and E. W. Howson, Committee; G. C. P. Williams Freeman, Secretary.

1874.2.—On May 5 first meeting of the Antiquarian Society. E. W. Howson read a paper on "The Misereres of Chester, Exeter, and Worcester;" and L. S. Milford on "History and Antiquities of East Knoyle."

1877.2.—Singing competition instituted. Lawrence won quartett with R. T. Milford, E. H. Montresor, C. G. N. Trollope, F. W. Hayne. W. D. Hamilton won treble, W. R. Pollock bass solo. Both in Trevelyan.

The chapel was consecrated on June 27, and it was permanently used after July 15.

1877.3.—XV started, and consequently the "XXX" superseded the XL.

1878.3.—Burning of the Chapel, Friday, October 4. The following account appeared in the 'Haileyburian'—

"THE FIRE.

"Our holy and our beautiful house is burned up with fire."—Isa. lxiv. 11.

"Violent fires soon burn out themselves."—Shakespeare, Richard II.

"On Friday, October 4, a terrible disaster befell us. To prevent any unwarrantable exaggeration of the circumstances, we will print them here as accurately and concisely as we can. In a word, our beautiful dome, built after so much deliberation, and at so great an expense, has been suddenly burnt down; but the walls of the chapel, and the octagon on which it rested, have, as far as we can judge at present, not suffered seriously. The causes of the disaster have been clearly explained. For a few days past the ventilator in the centre of the dome has been under repair. A skilled and experienced workman, who had superintended the building of the dome, and understood its construction, was sent down by the contractors to do the work. On Friday, the 4th, at about a quarter to five, he had completed his task, and was making his way with difficulty along the narrow beams which were laid at intervals above the plaster of the inner dome, when his foot slipped, and the lighted candle, with the aid of which he had been doing his work, flew from his hand against the hair-felt, with which the shaft connecting the ventilator with the cupola was cased, and at once ignited it. A great flame burst forth, which the unfortunate man strove to quell with his coat and the carpet on which he had been kneeling. But it was of no avail, the fire was spreading rapidly. He stopped in the dome till he was nearly suffocated, and then rushed down to summon all the aid he could. Soon after five o'clock the fire had been observed in all the form-rooms, and the whole school was in the quadrangle, every one wishing to do some good, but few finding any work to do in the first moments of excitement.

"The eagle and the harmonium had been removed, and also as many books as could be got at without danger, for already the hot lead was falling fast. Happily what little wind there was happened to be in the right direction, and blew the flame towards the north away from the surrounding buildings. Our own engine was soon on the scene, and was supplied with water from the cistern. Meanwhile bicyclists or riders had started for Ware, Hertford, and Hoddesdon; and before or soon after six the engines from these three towns had appeared. About this time the flames were at their highest, and to any one who could for a moment forget the awfulness of the disaster, the spectacle was indeed grand and beautiful. There was, as it seemed, a transparent network of fire, for just the outline of the woodwork and the lantern was visible.

"Every minute the great flaming beams came thundering down upon the oak seats and flooring below. As the engines could not possibly reach to the top of the dome, they had been deluging the walls and seats, and the interior of the Chapel. They were supplied for the most part by long lines of boys, who passed on one side the full, on the other the empty buckets. Water was at first procured thus from the Moorhen Pond, until the water was found too dirty for use. Then lines were formed to the water tower, and subsequently very long ones to the bath, and these last worked hard at the tiring task of passing and repassing heavy buckets from about half-past six till half-past nine. By that time the fire had been got well under, though the flames had not quite gone down, and there was no further dread of its spreading. Our own engine, which had been supplied from the cistern, was working well, and the drenching of the lower parts of the Chapel had prevented the downward spreading of the fire.

"By ten o'clock the dense crowd which had assembled began to disperse, and the boys were hurrying off to the dormitories, as their assistance could now be dispensed with.

"During the night a careful watch was kept, and two of the fire-engines were at hand in case of a further outbreak, but fortunately none occurred. In the morning the only external signs of the fire were a faint smouldering, and the octagon, with its elegant brickwork scarcely scorched at all, standing out bare against the sky. It was wonderful to notice how clean the action of the fire had been; it had just burnt away the dome and nothing more. But the view inside was certainly appalling, though we were thankful to see how apparently little damage had befallen the walls and the carving. The seats were covered with the débris, which awaited the inspection of the insurance officers. Still more plainly from within could we see how accurately the fire had swept away the dome, while the octagon was scarcely touched. Not a window was broken, except those which had been purposely pierced for the admission of the pipes. Two of the seats were utterly burnt; but the greater part of them, though much soiled, had escaped the violence of the fire, by the opportune drenching they had received. The altar appeared totally unhurt. The carving, though much discoloured, was scarcely chipped. The gas standards were for the most part wrenched down by the weight of the falling timber. The nave had escaped all damage from the fire, and only bore signs of the water with which it had been soaked. So much for the bare account, imperfect as it is, of this melancholy mishap. The members of the school have publicly received the thanks of the Master for their ready assistance. But surely it was the bounden duty of each boy to do what he could at such a moment. Probably also the men who worked so willingly at the engines have received thanks enough. Many of us can bear witness to the energy and devotion with which the servants of the College did their work, and especially to the brave efforts of the originator of the fire."

The N.S.S. and Antiquarian Society held their first combined Exhibition, in the Big School.

1881. I.—Junior Literary Society started. President, R. G. Legge. Vice-President, E. Malden. Secretary, A. C. Blomfield. Committee, W. A. Wheeler, J. T. W. Perowne.

First "Praeteritus" letter.

1882.3.—House matches (football) limited to one day.

1883.3.—Haileybury came of age in September. Rev. A. G. Butler preached in Chapel on October 7.

Dr. Bradby announced his retirement. The following appeared in the 'Haileyburian':—

“DR. BRADBY'S RETIREMENT.

“It is idle to attempt to conceal the fact that our Christmastide this year is overshadowed by a sense of bereavement. In a few days, we might almost say hours, after these lines are published, the link which has bound generation after generation of Haileyburians to an honoured and beloved Head Master will be finally severed. Before the year is out Dr. Bradby's official connection with our School will have terminated. It is not our purpose, nor would it be altogether becoming, to indulge in anything approaching to a critical survey of the career of him whose impending departure we so deeply deplore. The history of Haileybury has yet to be written, and until that task is accomplished, we can hardly hope that full justice will be done to the work of one of her twin-founders. Ours be it to indicate a few of the debts of gratitude which we owe to him. Assuming the reins of government early in 1868, and armed with the experience of a Harrow House Master, Mr. Bradby found himself face to face with a problem of no ordinary difficulty. Haileybury had been in existence for less than six years, and had started from nothing, yet it was a very marvel of precocity, and those who had the opportunity of studying its inner life and the material already formed, felt safe in predicting that no ordinary University distinctions would fall to its lot. A great position was in course of being achieved in a country where public schools were already so numerous and excellent, and it is not too much to say that the world at large began to regard ours in Hertfordshire with interest and expectation. No Haileyburian needs to be told that this achievement was due in a great measure to the devotion of Mr. Butler to the creation of a worthy companion to Marlborough and Wellington, and to the incessant labour involved in the enterprise. The success so far as it went was complete, but it was purchased at the heavy cost of his health. He resigned his post, or rather repeated a former unaccepted resignation, and Mr. Bradby succeeded to his responsibilities and to his as yet unfinished work. The position had been gained, but it had to be strengthened and maintained, and even to be boldly extended. An ordinary man might have been content to allow the school to go on just as it was, and being numerically weak, and having no other traditions than those of recent growth, in course of time it might have subsided into a large private school, producing its quota of trained scholars, but doing little to infuse a worthy spirit into the hearts of young Englishmen. A 'doctrinaire,' on the other hand, might have overturned the existing order of things, and have endeavoured to reconstruct the institution on entirely new lines. Mr. Bradby's course was essentially diverse from either of these. Cordially accepting the conditions of the situation, entering fully into the large views and aims of his predecessor—he resolved that Haileybury should flourish, and flourish as an English public school; he set to work to consolidate and systematize, to prune and develop, and in all such development to pave the way for the greater extension which he felt was inevitable. What he wished Haileybury boys, and therefore the Haileybury men to be, may be gathered from the following extract from his beautiful 'Carmen Haileyburiense'—

'Felix prole suâ, viris
Felix qui patriam colant,
Qui Deum venerentur,
Haileyburia floreat.'

Looking back now over the 16 years of his administration of our school, and reckoning up the long tale of those who have come up under his influence, and who are now, here or elsewhere, endeavouring to do justice to the lessons taught by his precept and example, we venture with all respect to congratulate him on having in no small degree attained his lofty ideal, on having nobly won his noble purposes. Hitherto we have spoken of Dr. Bradby's mastership in somewhat general terms. We feel we shall not weary our readers if we now lightly touch on a few of the leading incidents of his reign. As has been already said, it was early in 1868 that he came into residence, and we note with pride, that within two months of that event, the first number of our School Magazine appeared in print. In the third number it will be observed that mention is made of the fact that Speech Day was attended by a larger assemblage than previously, and this phenomenon is attributed to 'a general wish to do honour to our New Head Master. This is interesting, as indicating from the first that he had the good will of the Council and the County. In November 1868 the 'Literary Society' was started under Mr. Bradby's auspices, and this was but the precursor of other institutions of a kindred nature. Thus, in 1872, the 'Natural Science Society' first saw light, to be followed after an interval by the 'Antiquarian Society,' while the 'Indian Mission'—valuable as a link with the country where the name of Haileybury has long been held in honour—was also organized in 1872. These may appear to outsiders very trivial affairs, but to us at Haileybury they are a boon, and like all else that flourishes here, they owe much to the master spirit of the place. The great movement, however, with which Dr. Bradby's name will be especially and permanently associated is our New Chapel. Keeping in view the inevitable increase in the numbers of the school, he not only arranged for the provision of dwelling-houses, and rooms for study, but also devoted infinite pains to securing a worthy place of worship.

"Early in 1874 the first note of appeal or aid was sounded; in three months nearly £4000 had been subscribed; in January 1876 the work was commenced, and on the ever-memorable 27th of June, 1877, the new and stately building was consecrated. The burning down of the dome in the following year is an incident which scarcely calls for mention here, save in that, owing to the indomitable spirit of our Master, it was a mere accident, and that no unworthy compromise was made in its re-erection. In mention with this subject it may be recorded, that

March 1879 Mr. Bradby was installed as Honorary Canon of St. Albans; and that last year he received the distinction of Doctor of Divinity. For a notice of the leading facts of the latter part of the period under review we commend our readers to an article in our impression of March 25, 1882, entitled 'What the last few years have done at Haileybury.' In this seven years' retrospect reference is made to the opening of the new buildings in the Christmas term, 1879, and the consequent simultaneous development of the school by a system of parallel forms. On this and on kindred topics we would gladly dwell, did space permit, but for the present we must content ourselves with pointing out that the opening of the chapel and the enlargement of the school were but the crowning acts of a settled policy for the development of the school on a broad and lasting basis. Dr. Bradby may indeed be well satisfied with the success of his work, and though his voluntary and, we can well believe, self-sacrificing act of retirement from the scene of his labour deprives him of reaping all their fruits, yet, even when absent from our midst, we know full well that his mind will often turn to those whom he loved so truly, and for whose higher interests he worked so unceasingly. Let him be assured in turn that his influence will ever abide in their hearts, and that, if they need an additional incentive to manly effort in the world that lies before them, it will be furnished them by the thought that wherever their lot may be cast, they may do credit to their school, and to him to whom that school was so incomparably dear.

“We cannot conclude our imperfect expression of the thoughts which at this juncture occupy the minds of Haileyburians, without tendering our acknowledgments to Mrs. Bradby and her family for the rare tact with which they have helped on our school life. The rôle that they have played has been important, and although in the nature of things they have been debarred from participation in a large portion of our duties and pleasures, yet, wherever their influence could be exercised with advantage, it has been bestowed graciously and without stint. Not only those elder ones among us, who have seen more of Mrs. Bradby, and known her better, but every one who has been laid up here by illness or accident, will always remember with gratitude her kindness and attention.”

* * * * *

Dr. Bradby had a fall from his horse, but was able in spite of all advice to read through the lists as usual, and then, “instead of the familiar phrase, ‘The School will leave in the usual order,’ went out first amid the heartiest cheers ever heard at Haileybury.”

1884.1.—Mr. Robertson entered upon his Head Mastership.

1887.1.—The Rifle Corps became a reality, and took part in the Public Schools Field Day at Aldershot.

1887.2.—The Eight made its first appearance at Wimbledon, and was third for the Ashburton Shield, only ten points behind Eton, the winners.

1888.2.—The Bradby Hall was opened. The Master of Trinity spoke at the lunch.

“Our School, the year I was begun,
Her silver wedding’s course had run,
Fivefold five circuits of the Sun:—

Nos quintum hoc, decimum clausit Victoria lustrum.

That happy year of years, when she,
Whose throne we serve, blessed land and sea
With joy of golden Jubilee.”—J. R.

(The Hexameter is over the principal door of the Bradby buildings.)

1889.2.—The Corps joined in the Public Schools Camp at Churn. The idea of the scheme, which proved very successful, was initiated by our officers.

1890.1.—Mr. Robertson resigned during the holidays. The 'Haileyburian' of April 9 contained an article of warm regret and hearty farewell. He did not leave until the end of the term.

L. R. Lempriere (1st), and W. J. Keen (3rd), won the Public School Gymnastic Shield.

1890.2.—Mr. Lyttelton entered upon his Head Mastership.

"O. H. Guild" started after a meeting held in the Church House on July 7. Eventually the first Council chosen consisted of Rev. the Hon. E. Lyttelton, Canon Kirkpatrick, Rev. A. De M. Hensley, E. P. Ash, W. E. Russell, Rev. L. S. Milford, Rev. E. Hoskyns, E. T. Gurdon, W. S. Cope, R. C. Gilson, F. H. Trench, J. Howard.

The Bradby Hall was regularly used for the meetings of the Natural Science and Antiquarian Societies.

[In 1893.1 the same privilege was extended to the Literary Society. Since 1898 the three Societies have shared the Monday evenings in rotation.]

1893.3.—Dr. Bradby died on Dec. 1, 1893.

It is very hard to make a selection from the "impressions and recollections" of Dr. Bradby, which were published in the 'Haileyburian' of Dec. 20, 1893 (No. 226), but I have tried to take a few characteristic passages from a few of the papers.

The Master of Trinity, formerly Head Master of Harrow, wrote—

"One other sermon, one of his very best at Harrow, must be just named. It was his last. It was preached on January 26, 1868, on the first or second Sunday of our Term, a few weeks after he had been elected to Haileybury. The first sentence still lingers in my memory, as it lingers in the memory of at least one distinguished man, now in the House of Commons, who entered Harrow that term as a new boy. 'Tell me your ideal, and I will tell you something of what your life shall be.' And then the preacher spoke, with his usual grace and force of language, on various ideals of life—the ideal of skill in games, the ideal of getting on, the ideal of self-culture, and lastly, the Christian ideal. And then, in his closing words, he asked us what was our ideal of what our own School ought to be.

"This was his farewell to us, and I think those who had known him before—his work among us, his honesty and justice, his strong sense, his friendship, his Christian example—felt that it was a worthy farewell.

“I have not one memory of his Harrow days which clashes with it, or makes it seem unreal. A man in whom the ‘Love of Truth’ is a sacred passion, and the Ideal of life constantly rising and working itself out in unselfish deeds, is a man for whom boys and men may well give thanks to God that they knew him and loved him.”

Mr. Arthur Watson, a former Colleague at Harrow, wrote—

“Probably what struck those who knew him as his most prominent characteristics, were his absolute genuineness and sincerity. Mr. Bosworth Smith, in a letter to me, rightly calls him ‘the straightest of men’; Dr. Butler speaks of him as ‘Vir servantissimus æqui.’ No one could fail to appreciate his transparent honesty and simple piety, or to feel that, under any circumstances, he could be implicitly trusted. One of the humblest and most unselfish of men, and utterly free from the taint of personal ambition and self-assertion, he was greatly valued and admired by his fellow-workers. His clear, calm judgment, and the terse and masculine English in which he expressed his convictions, made his opinion of great weight in our councils. In fact, during the time that he was at Harrow, I do not think that there was any one to whom his colleagues appealed with greater, or even equal confidence for the solution of knotty questions, or for guidance in any times of difficulty. There was universal regret for the loss which Harrow sustained when he was summoned to the higher responsibilities of the Head Mastership of Haileybury.”

Mr. Bosworth Smith, another Harrow Colleague, wrote—

“I well remember a sermon which, perhaps more than any other, showed the man, on ‘Charity,’ as treated by St. Paul—a sermon of which it is enough to say that it was worthy of its subject. In it he gave a noble definition of Charity in one of its aspects as ‘a kind of divine credulity, a feeling which is far removed from weakness, but yet which prompts a man to see good or the possibility of good where others might see only evil; to be very slow to believe what is really bad of another, and very quick to credit him with the reverse.’

“What he did at Haileybury, and what he has done in East London since he left Haileybury, living with his wife and family amongst the poor, and working for them, absolutely effacing himself, aiming at no worldly promotion or worldly ease, and declining it if offered to him, is exactly what might have been expected from the man, as I knew him, nearly thirty years ago at Harrow."

The Rev. A. G. Butler, the first Head Master of Haileybury, wrote—

"It was a cold December afternoon when he first arrived, after his election, to inspect the place and to learn his duties. We had a long conversation, at the close of which he said with a quiet smile, 'I see my place is to be everywhere and to do everything—I'll do my best.' Strength, dignity, generosity, wise insight, and transparent honesty and self-devotion, these were the qualities that at once struck me in him, and left no doubt of his capacity to consolidate and enlarge the work which I was leaving with so much anxiety. And yet that work differed materially in many respects from his work at Harrow. In a young school, a Head Master has (or thinks he has) to do much which, in an old school, is better diffused and delegated to others. He has to watch over beginnings, to direct movements, and to create traditions which, in an older body, are already established and powerful. And he has also to be 'careful of the type' of school which he is called upon to govern; and to preserve, while educating, its more special characteristics. And all this Mr. Bradby did with a fidelity, a steady enthusiasm, and administrative skill, which made his rule so beloved and so successful.

"Of his personal relations to myself, at a trying time, I can only speak with the utmost gratitude and affection. He was a true friend—loyal and unselfish in the highest degree. And he has left behind him a lesson of making the most and best of life, without a thought of self, under all circumstances, which is the richest of legacies to his family, and friends, and Haileyburians. 'Do your best work wherever you may be: succour and support the truths, the classes, the causes that most need it: and forget yourself!' These were the principles on which he lived and acted with a rare earnestness and simplicity, and in which he was such a model to us all."

The Rev. A. De M. Hensley wrote—

"From the very first moment of coming into contact with him he inspired confidence. We felt his strength, recognized his sincerity, and trusted him. We saw he had no respect for persons, and that what was right would be done, be the consequences what they might. As a worker he was an example to us all: though naturally sensitive, he never shrank from responsibility, and we were sure that, so long as we did our duty, he would give us full sympathy, and would stand by us through fair weather or foul. And this confidence speedily ripened into a respect which was almost passionate, and in affection which bore the test of years of absence."

Mr. H. G. Hart, Head Master of Sedbergh, formerly Sixth Form Master at Haileybury, wrote—

"It was this combination of gentleness with strength that made us love him. But there was a third quality, no less conspicuous, that made him so great as a leader, and so trusted and so helpful as a friend. This was his clear judgment. Those who have heard him discuss any difficult question will remember how he began by stripping off all unessential facts, or misleading notions, that had gathered round the central truth, and obscured it. And what he was in argument, that he was also felt by his friends to be in the whole tenor of his life. You felt that the mainspring of his existence was a love of truth, which made him hate not insincerity alone, but anything that might lead to it, any ostentation, any exaggeration, any conventionalism.

"It was inevitable that such a character should be not loved only, but leaned on and trusted."

Reginald Blomfield (O.H.), Architect of the Bradby Hall, wrote—

"I recollect one's feelings as a small boy when he entered the old great School, or rounded the corner by the Water-tower on his way from the Pavilion to the Terrace. Awe and trembling filled the soul of the most hardened runagate, and yet there was not one of us who did not feel absolute confidence in his justice, and an assurance of fair play all round, in the knowledge that he was there and about the place.

"Even we boys could see, beneath his grim but kindly humour, a keen appreciation of courage, hardihood, and endurance—qualities which were always the tradition of Haileybury, and which no man did more to create and develop than our great Head Master. The more one knew of Dr. Bradby, the more one respected and loved him. He was a man of singular indifference to popularity and current reputation. He had his own standard of duty and his own ideals to aim at, and he went for these with a characteristic directness of purpose which sometimes led to misinterpretation, but seldom failed to be justified by the result. The consequence was that it was not till one reached the Sixth, and came under his direct influence, that one began to feel his personal magnetism, and to understand something of his real greatness.

“To his friends there was an indefinable charm in his ripe wisdom, in his patient tolerance of all things but injustice and wrong, in the sincere modesty and complete absence of self-seeking which marked his life's work from first to last. We who are both his pupils and his friends have to mourn the loss of one who is an abiding influence in our lives, and must feel the truth of the words of one of his intimate friends, ‘He was one of the greatest men I have ever met.’”

R. C. Gilson (O.H.), now Head Master of King Edward's School, Birmingham, wrote—

“It was a live interest and a power of doing real work that he evoked, not a mere school-boy facility; and by the sheer dignity and straightness of his character, he made all kinds of shirking seem contemptible. This dignity, earnestness, and transparent sincerity were the secrets of his strength; and it was an education in itself to see what unimagined forces gather round the man who never deviates by a hair's breadth from the truth; who is visibly above fear or favour; who uses no shift, subterfuge, or evasion; who has no room in his heart for vanity or false sentiment; who looks you in the face and expects you to do your duty as he does his own. It is not too much to say that a word of rebuke from him was more effective than the heaviest punishment; and when he punished, which in the Sixth Form he did with great but very rare severity, though it may appear incredible to some, I verily believe that the task was accepted with cheerfulness as the lesser of two evils, of which the greater was a fall in his esteem. Yet he was tender as only great natures can be; and his ‘God bless you,’ as he parted from a group of Old Boys who had gathered to meet him in the cloister after Chapel one dark evening in November 1883, just after his resignation was announced, will still bring tears to the eyes both of those who have known him well since, and of those—and there were some—who were never to see him again.”

Canon Barnett, of St. Jude's, Whitechapel, in whose parish Dr. Bradby helped after leaving Haileybury, wrote—

“The simple record of the things done by Dr. Bradby is long—things which in an East London neighbourhood there are none to take up now that he is gone. But the things done represent the least part of his value. It was the man himself who helped others by what he was. His unostentatious service as he went in and out among his neighbours opened men's understanding to the fact that sacrifice may be quiet as well as noisy. His strength of principle, alongside of the tenderest consideration and most painstaking care, drew them to trust a friendship which could rebuke as well as pity. His intellectual activity, which never hesitated to attack new problems, and took its pleasure in unearthing the antiquities of dull streets, or the secrets of common weeds, showed itself in his quick rapid walk,—in his manner as in his words—and stirred other minds to action and effort. His modesty—his liking for the low place—together with his fearless performance of duty, drew men to look beyond him to the source of his strength, and find his Master, his Helper, to be God.

“He was both strong and humble—fearless and reverent—stern and tender—a man in his caution—a boy in his simplicity—a Christian in whom indeed was the life of Christ. He was above all things a true friend.”

F. W. Bourdillon (O.H.) wrote—

“One voice there was, not thunderous nor shrill ;
 One life as steadfast as a star, that shone,
 For me and many, a beacon on a hill.
 Others preach other things ; but thou art gone,
 Dear Master ! from whose life I first did learn
 How gentle Justice is, and Love how stern !”

1895.—On May 10 the “Old Haileyburian Society” was founded.

1897.—On July 2 nearly 100 O.H.s came down for the O.H. Match and a dinner in commemoration of Queen Victoria’s Diamond Jubilee.

On July 7 Sir Pertab Singh visited Haileybury.

1902.—The New Organ was dedicated on February 22 ; Dr. Alan Gray played and Mr. Walter Ivimey sang.

1903.—The “Haileybury Wanderers” Football Club was started on July 4.

Sir John French unveiled the Obelisk which was erected at the end of the Avenue in memory of the 35 O.H.s. who fell in the South African War on July 25.

Mr. Robertson died on October 19 ; (for ‘In Memoriam’ see ‘Haileyburian’ Vol. xv. p. 73), and Mr. Russell on November 11 (see ‘Haileyburian’ Vol. xv. p. 97).

1905.—Mr. Lyttelton was elected Head Master of Eton, and Rev. St. J. B. Wynne Willson, an Assistant Master at Rugby was chosen to succeed him.

1907.—On Speech Day the Marchioness of Salisbury laid the foundation stone of the new block of Form Rooms in the Avenue.

The H.C.R.V.C. became the Officers' Training Corps.

1908.—H.R.H. Princess Alexander of Teck, accompanied by Prince Alexander and the Marchioness of Salisbury, opened the New Form Rooms on Oct. 17.

1909.—Mr. Butler died Jan. 16. (For 'In Memoriam' see 'Haileyburian' No. 389.)

[I am sure that the following list, which shows how the buildings and grounds have grown and been developed, will be interesting to all O.H.s.—L. S. M.]

Before the "East India College" could be used for the present School, a number of structural alterations were necessary. Blocks A, B, and D were turned into dormitories, the Water Tower was built, and so on.

1863.—The Bath. The Fives Courts in the Avenue. Terrace Field levelled.

1865.—Hailey House altered. The Racquet Court.

1865-66.—Pavilion ground levelled and extended.

1866.—Highfield built.

1867.—Sanatorium.

1869-70.—New form rooms. (The "Cock Pit," which occupied the site of the Melvill House Room which is nearest to the Lodge, then disappeared. Mr. Price's form room, another room lighted from the roof, was between it and the Deanery, now the lower Trevelyan House Room.)

1874.—Laundry and Bake-house built.

1875.—New Big School. Lawrence and Edmonstone House-Masters' rooms and class rooms.

1876-77.—New Chapel. Six new Fives Courts, to replace the old ones which stood where the "New Houses" and "Little Quadrangle" are now.

1878.—Loggias blocked up. Gallery in Hall. Two new form rooms by the Master's House. Terrace Field enlarged. Asphalt in Quadrangle replaced gravel.

1878-79.—Three "New Houses," with Masters' rooms and single studies. New Sick House.

- [“Batten” was opened 1879.3. Le Bas 1880.1. Melvill 1880.2.]
- 1880.—Hailey House, after alteration, used 1880.2. The Library—formerly the Chapel—in use 1880.2.
- 1882.—The levelling of the “Lower Pavilion,” where the old Brook jumps used to be, was begun in 1882.2.
- 1885.—New Gas Works. New Cloisters. New Pavilion.
- 1887–88.—The Bradby Hall and the form rooms below it, with the Laboratory, Gymnasium, and Carpenters’ Shop. Shops for the College Carpenters.
- [The Gymnasium came into use in 1887.3, the form rooms in 1888.3. The first of the ‘Drying’ Rooms was in use in 1888.3.]
- 1890.—Two of the four studies by the Lodge were turned into a “Parents’ Room.”
- [The Museum, in half of the old Hailey House Big School, was opened in 1890.3.]
- 1891.—The Field Racquet Court was turned into four small Fives Courts. Bath lined with Portland cement, and High Dive put up.
- 1892.—Highfield extension. New form rooms in Hailey Yard, taking the place of the Fives Courts.
- 1894.—Sanatorium completed by the new wing.
- 1895.—New Grub Shop, with department for sale of bats, balls, etc. Two Eton Fives Courts presented by Mr. John Henry Buxton.
- 1896.—New Servants’ Quarters on the site of the old Grub Shop. Handicraft Shops. The Observatory on the Terrace. New dark-room for photographers.
- 1898.—End of Terrace Field levelled. Bowling Shed in use 1898.1.
- 1899.—Music School on the site of the right-hand lodge at the end of the Avenue. Large Reservoir on College Arms Hill, and Water Main from New River pumping station.
- 1902.—New Organ in Chapel; the former Organ was put up in Big School. The Master’s House was enlarged.
- 1903.—New Safety Rifle Range. South Africa War Memorial. Roll of Honour in Cloisters.
- 1904.—House built for the Bursar (“Highwood”) in the lower half of “Rose Cottage” Garden. New Physical Laboratory.

- 1905.—“Rose Cottage” was restored.
- 1906.—Parents’ Room near Grub Shop. Tea-room. New Games Shop. Additions to Pavilion. (College funds defrayed cost of Parents’ Room only.)
- 1907–08.—Dormitories re-modelled. Annexes to Dormitories, with bath-rooms, boot-rooms and other conveniences. New block of twenty-six form rooms in the Avenue. Eighteen form rooms in Quadrangle turned into House Rooms. Six New Single Studies. New Racquet Court and four covered Fives Courts in XX Acre. New Sanitary block and entire re-modelling of the drainage system. Running Path round Terrace Field widened and made more level.

[O.H.s at a distance, and even many of the residents, will be glad to have the following table, by which the development of the College Estate can be seen at a glance. It is a comfortable thought that we cannot be built in on any side, or robbed of our ancient light and air.]

GROWTH OF THE HAILEYBURY ESTATE.

- 1862.—Purchase of the old East India College from the British Land Company, which had bought it as a speculation when the E. I. C. ended.
- 1866.—Field on which Sanatorium and the late Bursar’s House¹ stand, purchased from Mr. Pratt.
- 1890.—Twenty-two acres (football field) purchased from Mr. Pratt’s trustees.
- 1893.—Hailey Lane Cottages, etc., purchased.
- 1894.—Field between Wood-field and Hailey Lane Cottages (now mostly turned into kitchen-garden ground), and large field on south side of Hailey Lane (where the two Masters’ Houses are built), bought from Mrs. Charrington (16 acres in all).
- Six acres (from W. Gray) on north side of Hailey Lane beyond cottages.
- 1895.—Mississippi fields (50 acres) from Lord Townshend.
- Hailey Wood and field (23 acres) from Mrs. Carrington.

¹ The house built for Mr. Clark and afterwards occupied by Mr. Russell and Mr. Bell.

1897.—Rose Cottage and paddocks (5 acres) from J. Walby.

Mr. Heard's fields (south side of Hailey Lane), 43 acres.

1899.—Irrigation field (10 acres) from Lord Salisbury.

1900.—Hailey Cottage (2 acres); 87 acres of the Amwellbury Estate; and 64 acres waste of the Manor of Great Amwell (known as Hertford Heath) from the Charrington Trustees.

1901.—Prior's Wood (by the Heath Village).

1905.—A strip of wood, about one acre on north side of Dell's Wood, was sold to Mr. R. Barclay.

12 acres north of High Wood and opposite the end of the Avenue were acquired in exchange for 12 acres on west side of Dell's Wood.

EXHIBITIONS, SCHOLARSHIPS & PRIZES.

FIVE Exhibitions for 60, 50, 50, 40, 20 pounds, tenable for three years at Oxford or Cambridge, and in some cases elsewhere, are open yearly for competition to members of the School who are under nineteen years of age on the preceding 1st October. The Master has the power to dispense with the age limit if there are not sufficient candidates within it of adequate merit. The above amounts may be reduced or Exhibitions withheld at the Master's discretion if candidates do not attain a sufficiently high standard.

An Examination for the following Scholarships is held annually in November or December.

Five Senior Scholarships, varying in value from £50 to £20, open to boys in the School over fifteen and under sixteen on October 1st. The maximum may be raised to £70 in recognition of very marked ability.

Ten Junior Scholarships, tenable for three years, or until a senior scholarship is gained, varying in value from £50 to £25, open to boys in or out of the School under fourteen on October 1st. Of these three are restricted to sons of Clergymen. The relative ages of candidates are taken into consideration.

Six or more Grants, value £15 or £10, tenable for five years, open only to sons of Clergymen, who state that without such assistance they cannot send their sons to Haileybury. Candidates must be under fourteen on October 1st.

These grants are intended for boys below scholarship standard who show intelligence and promise.

The following Prizes are also open for annual competition :—

The late R. Hanbury, Esq., has bequeathed the interest of £500 for two prizes annually for knowledge of the Old Testament, and in the Modern Side two prizes for Modern History, and two for Natural Science.

The late Mrs. Bosanquet founded a prize, the interest of £50, for the best examination in a given portion of the New Testament in English.

The late Rev. Canon McNeile founded a prize, the interest of £75, for the best examination in a subject taken from the Greek Testament.

The late Rev. T. Cornthwaite founded an annual prize, the interest of £100, to promote the study of Natural History.

A prize has been founded in memory of the late J. H. Pratt, to be called the Pratt Prize, for the encouragement of Greek Verse Composition.

A prize has been founded in memory of the late C. D. Argles, to be called the Argles Prize, for the encouragement of translation into Latin Verse.

A prize has been founded, by subscription, in memory of the late Rev. F. Brisbane Butler, to be called the Brisbane Butler Prize, for the encouragement of the study of Shakespeare.

A prize has been founded in memory of the late H. C. F. Mason, to be called the Mason Prize, for Elocution.

The Council has established annual prizes, to be called the Butler Prizes, for the study of English Literature and History.

G. B. Hudson, Esq., gives three prizes annually, amounting to £10, for the encouragement of Latin Prose Composition.

The Council gives two prizes annually, amounting to £5 5s., for the encouragement of Latin Verse Composition.

The Master gives a prize annually for Greek Prose Composition.

The Rev. F. J. Hall has founded a prize to be called the Hall Prize, for the encouragement of the study of Latin on the Modern Side.

T. J. Bowlker, Esq., has founded a prize to be called the Bowlker Physics Prize.

Prizes are also given by the Council for the best English Poem, for the encouragement of Latin Verse, Latin Prose, and Greek Verse Composition, and for the study of Mathematics, Chemistry, Modern Languages, and of Art.

CARMEN HAILEYBURIENSE.

1. ADSIS, Musa, canentibus,
Laeta voce canentibus,
Longos clara per annos
Haileyburia floreat.
2. Qua placens aditus domus
Inter castaneas patet
Hinc illinc viridantes,
Haileyburia floreat.
3. Qua nos, heu ! trepidum gregem,
Primum porticus excipit,
Cum custode benigno,
Haileyburia floreat.
4. Qua quadrangulus ambitus
Scrupeo (at procul, o procul
Gressus este profani !)
Claudit limite caespitem ;
5. Per conclavia qua frequens
Musa, non sine Gratiis,
Vitam alit iuvenilem,
Haileyburia floreat.
6. Latum qua super aggerem,
(Nostrae grande decus domus)
Rident sole columnae,
Haileyburia floreat.
7. Pallas scilicet huc vagans
Esse hic, esse tamen suas
Crederet bene Athenas !
Haileyburia floreat.
8. Qua pilam revolubilem
Pelli nunc pede nunc manu
Campus novit uterque,
Haileyburia floreat.
9. Qua piscina natantibus
Praebet frigus amabile,
Praebet grata salutem,
Haileyburia floreat.
10. Qua (sed, Musa, pudet loqui !)
Vicinam fremit improba
Circum turba popinam,
Haileyburia floreat.
11. O virtutibus indolem
Masculis docili gregi
Augeat, colat, ornet !
Haileyburia floreat.
12. Felix prole suâ, viris
Felix qui patriam colant,
Qui Deum venerentur,
Haileyburia floreat.
13. Et nos, quotquot eunt dies,
Laeta voce precabimur,
Ter, quater resonabimus,
Laeta voce iterabimus,
O dilecta, canentes,
Haileyburia floreat.

E. H. BRADBY.

VIVAT HAILEYBURIA!

THE Romans were a knowing race,
 Vivat Haileyburia!
They made a road down to this place,*
 Vivat Haileyburia!
Romans came and passed away;
Normans † followed; where are they?
But we are here, and here we stay.
 Vivat Haileyburia!

Then shout five hundred voices all,
 Vivat Haileyburia!
Our days of old we first recall,
 Vivat Haileyburia!
But whatsoe'er their fame of yore,
We've got a mind to make it more,
Our age of gold still lies before.
 Vivat Haileyburia!

Then vivat, vivat, round the board,
 Vivat Haileyburia!
And yet once more with louder chord,
 Vivat Haileyburia!
For we've been boys and men together,
Have wielded bat and hunted leather,
When life was bliss in summer weather.
 Vivat Haileyburia!

And sweet was then the victor's crown,
 Vivat Haileyburia!
But friendship's joy struck deeper down,
 Vivat Haileyburia!
And though our distant feet may roam,
Our hearts will ne'er forget the home,
The dear old School beneath the dome.
 Vivat Haileyburia!

Then close your ranks and lift your song,
 Vivat Haileyburia!
That life is short, but love is long;
 Vivat Haileyburia!
And all through life, where'er we be,
School of our hearts, we'll think of thee,
And drink the toast with three times three.
 Vivat Haileyburia!

July 1892.

HAILEYBURIA QUADRATA.

“Four-square to every wind that blows”
Are built the corners of our nest,
To sunny south and Zembla’s snows,
To rosy dawn and purple west:
So shall the banner of our pride
For either fortune float unfurled,
To woo the breeze of summertime,
Or breast the waters of the world!

The temple of our boyhood’s home
’Mid busy life embosomed lies,
Yet takes upon her stately dome
The impress of the vaulted skies.
So may each trusty heart that here
Fulfils his level course below,
Be rounded to the perfect sphere
Irradiant with ethereal glow.

Oh, never be the memory drowned
By manhood’s strife, or worldly care,
Of happy laughter ringing round
Through all the fragrant summer air;
Of honest work and mimic wars,
Of bosky heath, and misty vale,
Or holier thoughts beneath the stars
To music of the nightingale.

Baileybury Register.

NOTE.—When the form at leaving was below U.M.3 it has been omitted. The “House names” are really an anachronism until 1868, but I have thought it less confusing to begin them from the first term. The abbreviations are those adopted by the O.H.S. Report, except that T., not Tr., stands for Trevelyan.

* denotes a prefect.

O.H.S. shows a member of the O.H.Society. (I have retained the letters before the names of members who are dead.)

Information in square brackets [] is added by the Editor ; not infrequently a change of address has occurred after the original return was sent in.

If the full name and address are given below the name, it implies that the man or a near relation has replied. Addresses in ordinary brackets () were believed to be correct, when the Register was printed, but have not produced an answer.

It is strongly recommended that addresses, especially of soldiers and the younger clergy, should be checked by the current O.H.S. List, as that is corrected as far as possible every year.

I hope that the abbreviations which exigencies of space make inevitable will be easily intelligible. There is a list of a good many of them a few pages back.

I have omitted Sandhurst and Woolwich, assuming that “R.M.C.” and “R.M.A.” will be enough.

A Tablet, by East Door:—

IN MEMORY OF
GEORGE DORSET,
PORTER OF THE COLLEGE, FOR 40 YEARS
A LOYAL SERVANT
OF OLD AND NEW HAILEYBURY,
WHO DIED 17TH MARCH, 1881.
FOUND FAITHFUL.

[Two of the Alcoves under the Dome are to be lined with marble, marked off into spaces, for memorial inscriptions. There will be room for 24 names in each. Those who wish to put up a memorial to an O.H. will have to apply for leave to the Committee of the O.H. Society, who will consider each application; and after this the sanction of the Council must be gained. It has been felt that it would be more satisfactory to have some such definite form of procedure as the space is limited. Leave has been granted (March 10) for a memorial to G. S. Oddie. Tablets will soon be erected to the Rev. A. G. Butler and E. P. Ash, Esq.]

COCK HOUSE.

“For the first three terms the Reds (now Trevelyan) had it their own way, but the Reds and Blues (now Lawrence) tied for Football three years in succession, 1863-64-65. The Blues won the Cricket Match in 1865. In 1865 in the Cock House match at Football the score was one try on each side after three days' hard play.”

WINNERS OF THE BELOW BIG SIDE CUP.

In 1880.2 Mr. Fenning presented a Challenge Cup to be held by the Cock House in Cricket on Little Side. Since 1882.3 it has been played for at Football also. The 'Haileyburian' records were very irregularly kept for several years, and it is quite possible that several of these entries may be incorrect.

† The 200 yds. was "run on the Pavilion on a course with a curve." I suppose that the times of 1871, 1872 and 1874 are due to the same cause.

J. R. Brooke	.	.	.	English Essay	.	.	.	"The good and evil of war."
W. Y. Smythies	.	.	.	Hotspur's Speech	.	.	.	"I did deny no prisoners."

The Speeches being over there was a concert, under the direction of the Rev. L. (sic) Hensley. The following was the programme:—

Morning Prayer	.	Mendelssohn.	Serenade	.	.	Mendelssohn.
Flow down, cold rivulet	.	Ampe.	In a wood	.	.	Mendelssohn.
When shall we three meet again	.	King.	Lützow's wild chase	.	.	Weber.
Soldiers love	.	Kücken.	Hurrah for the Holidays.	.	.

(I cannot resist giving the words of the last song)—

" Hurrah! for the holidays—time full of leisure,
 May we drink our full of their joys and their pleasure.
 First of all we will cheer our Head Master dear,
 Whom we all are so glad to see again here.
 Three cheers for the Council—long may they live—
 For the week more they've granted three cheers let us give.
 Hurrah! for the Masters whose rule we enjoy,
 Who their time in our good and our pleasure employ.
 Next three hearty cheers for the Head of the School,
 And three for the Prefects, and well may they rule.
 For the Prizemen we'll give a good hearty three,
 Let us hope that next year greater honours they'll see.
 Three cheers for the Eleven, we all hope their score
 Next year may be equal to this year's and more;
 Their victories next season shall not be so few,
 When the new ground is old and the old ground is new.
 Three cheers for three fellows now going to leave,
 For their life at this College ne'er may they grieve.
 For the old and new Members let's give a loud three:
 Though hostile their colours, true friends may they be.
 Three times three for the Ladies both yellow and blue,
 Whatever their colour, it must match their fair hue.
 Three cheers for our Sovereign, long may she reign;
 And may Britain's great glory ne'er under her wane!

[The programme from which I have copied the above was kindly lent by C. Price, Esq., who, if rumour is correct, knew rather more about "Wah Tsa" than Confucius himself. It will be seen that the performance was more like a combined Speech Day and a Saturday Night Entertainment, than what we now call "The Pastimes." These began in December 1870.—L. S. M.]

1870.

[I have been able to recover the names of the actors in the first of the long series of "Pastimes," see 'Hyn.' vol. xii. p. 18, 19. I have ventured to add the initials in brackets. The Pastimes grew out of the old entertainments in Lawrence Dormitory—for which Mr. Reade used to write plays. In the early days there was no Scenery, no Stage, no Proscenium, and no pretence at accuracy of costume, but we enjoyed the performances none the less.]

THE LITERARY SOCIETY.

[THE Society was founded by Mr. Reade, who became the first President. I cannot find any record of the first Secretary; the 'Haileyburian' reports are irregular. For a short time, in 1873-74, there was a 'Ministry' and an 'Opposition.' In 1874.3 the Presidency was made elective, but the Head of the School was always elected, and in 1879.3 it was decided that the Head of the School should be ex-officio President.

In 1900 the name of the Society—which became 'The Senior Literary Society' on the birth of the 'Junior Literary Society,' but did not drop the title when the 'minor' died—was changed to 'The Senior Literary and Debating Society.' In 1908 the name was changed to 'The Debating Society.']

THE OLD HAILEYBURIAN SOCIETY.

THE Old Haileyburian Society was founded in 1895, and now numbers close on 2000 members. According to Rule 4 :—"The object and purpose of the Society shall be to assist and promote the interests of Haileybury College and Old Haileyburians, and of any object connected therewith, and so form a bond of union between past and present Haileyburians." Membership of the Society is open to all Old Haileyburians and Masters, past and present, on payment of a minimum life subscription of one guinea. Annual subscriptions are also invited, and at present amount to £200 a year. One half of the life subscriptions received in each year must be invested, the other half, with annual subscriptions and interest on invested capital, constitutes the income of the Society. On May 31, 1909, the investments of the Society consisted of £1,235 in Consols, and the available income of the year was £290. It is only quite recently that the Society has had anything like this amount to expend, most of the annual subscriptions being the result of an appeal made in 1907. At present the bulk of the income is being applied to paying off the debt on the Racquet and Fives Courts, which were erected in 1909 at a total cost of £2,500. About £350 is still owing, and for this the Society and the Grub Shop at Haileybury are jointly responsible.

The Society for many years provided a Professional for "Colts," i. e. promising cricketers under 16. It has also on several occasions provided first-rate coaching for the Football XV, by asking prominent players, Old Haileyburians and others, to become its guests for a time at Haileybury at the beginning of the football season. It gives an annual grant to assist in maintaining a Racquet Professional at Haileybury, and is endeavouring to popularize Racquets among the younger boys by granting a sum of money for providing balls for chosen representatives under sixteen years of age from each House. These boys take part in an inter-house competition, for which a Cup has been presented by W. R. Burgess, Esq. The Society has also given each year prizes for the best tent in the Haileybury Company at the Public School Camp.

The Society organized the Memorial to Old Haileyburians who fell in the late war, and has undertaken the management of the Old Haileyburian Triennial Dinner. It has recently undertaken, by means of a sub-committee, an O.H. Cricket week. Finally, it issues every year to its members a report, which, in addition to giving the names and addresses of all members, presents a brief review of all that has occurred at Haileybury or been done by Haileyburians during the past year. An Exhibition of £15 a year is offered by the Society to the sons of Old Haileyburians who would without assistance be unable to send them to Haileybury.

The Hon. Secretary is E. T. Gurdon, Esq., 28, Lincoln's Inn Fields, W.C. The Hon. Treasurer is R. Merivale, Esq., 11, New Square, Lincoln's Inn. The Local Secretaries are at present :—

HAILEYBURY MISSION FUND.

EVER since 1873 £150 have been sent each year to St. John's College, Agra. Of this sum £130 support a "Haileybury Lecturer," and with the rest small scholarships have been provided from time to time, additions have been made to the Library, and a magic lantern for use in lectures has been bought. The Rev. F. J. Hall was Secretary and Treasurer from 1873 till he left in 1882. Since that time the Rev. L. S. Milford has filled the place. A report is published every year in February or March, when subscriptions are considered due.

O.H. GUILD.

IN June 1890 a Meeting was held at the Church House, Westminster, and it was resolved to form a Guild of O.H.s (a phrase which includes past and present Masters) to give assistance to the Clergy in town and country in any way they can.

The first Council consisted of: The Rev. the Hon. E. Lyttelton; Canon Kirkpatrick; the Rev. A. De M. Hensley; E. P. Ash; W. E. Russell; the Rev. L. S. Milford (Secretary); the Rev. E. Hoskyns; E. T. Gurdon; W. S. Cope; R. C. Gilson; F. H. Trench; J. Howard.

The Rev. L. S. Milford was succeeded by P. H. Latham as Secretary in 1897 and Matthew Vaughan took P. H. Latham's place in 1903.

C. J. Reid was appointed Treasurer in 1903.

The original objects of the Guild were :—

- (1) To induce O.H.s to assist in work among the poor in any parish where they may be resident.
- (2) To provide and manage a Club for lads in East London.

The latter has become the main work of the Guild. In 1894 a site with an area of 1910 feet was bought, fronting on Ben Jonson Road, Stepney, for £330, and in 1895 the Club buildings were begun by Reginald Blomfield.

Owing to the illness of the Architect there was some delay with the building, and in the mean time a Club was opened, by L. G. Curtis, twice a week for about 30 boys, at 167, Stepney Green, in what had been a butcher's shop.

In October 1896 the new buildings were opened by H.R.H. Princess Christian, and the Club entered into its new premises and was opened three times a week. In 1897 the need of a sanction for discipline having become very apparent, the Club became part of D Company of the 1st Cadet Battalion The Queen's Royal West Surrey Regiment. In 1898 it was opened every night except Sundays.

In 1901 E. Temple Gurdon gave a site at the rear of the Club buildings facing Durham Row, and in 1902 a house for Managers was built on this site by O. F. Stenning, and opened in August of that year. For this purpose £1,900 were raised by mortgage of the Guild's property in Stepney. This sum has since been reduced to £1,200.

There have always been three or four O.H.s resident at the House since it was opened, and others have helped by going down one or two nights a week.

The Club, which is open from 8 to 10 p.m., contains 70 or 80 boys, all of them Cadets, and for years there has been a waiting list of boys ready to join.

The premises consist of a fair-sized gymnasium, a small games room, and caretaker's rooms.

In 1902 the Club became a Company. The 1st Cadet Battalion, The Queen's, of which it forms part, is the oldest Cadet Battalion in the kingdom, and consists of eight Companies, containing some 700 London working lads. The uniform is scarlet and the facings blue. Martini Enfield carbines and bayonets and camp equipment are supplied by Government, and the Club buildings are exempted from rates. But there is no Grant and the whole of the expenses of the Club and uniforms have to be met by voluntary subscriptions.

Boys are admitted between the ages of 14 and 18 and have to be 4 feet 11 inches in height. The Battalion is regularly inspected by the O.C. the District, and is brigaded with the Volunteers (now the Territorials) for a week's camp in August.

In the Club, in addition to camp, field days, shooting, band, and drills, which the boys get as members of the corps, the boys are given gymnastics and physical training, club swinging, boxing, football, swimming, sing-songs, and a library and indoor games. There is a religious class once a week and Church parades are held from time to time.

In 1908 a Club for small boys was also started, from 7 to 8 p.m. two nights a week. The boys have drill, gymnastics, and indoor games, and a short religious class once a week. Their ages are from 12 to 14, and they are very poor and undersized.

The income is from £300 to £350 collected from the School and from O.H.s. Membership can be gained by a subscription of 5/- or a life contribution of £5, payable to C. J. Reid, the Hon. Treasurer, at Haileybury. An Annual Report and Balance Sheet is published, and the Annual Meeting is held at Haileybury on the day of the Old Boys' Match in the Christmas Term.

The Managers have been :—

*1895-1897, L. G. Curtis.
 *1897-1899, G. H. Morrell.
 *1899-1905, C. A. Nussey.
 1905-1907, V. R. Hill.
 *1907-1909, C. R. Attlee.
 *1909- C. A. Nussey.

Those marked with an asterisk hold or have held Commissions. D. K. C. Birt was an officer from Jan. 5, 1898, to July 26, 1907, and H. T. H. Bond from June 20, 1903; the latter is now Adjutant to the Battalion.

The residents at the House have been :—

C. A. Nussey, 1902-
 J. H. Hilliard, 1902-3-6-8-9.
 F. J. K. Hull, 1902-3.
 O. F. Stenning, 1902-1905.
 V. R. Hill, 1904-1907.
 C. R. Attlee, 1907-1909.
 O. H. Watson, 1909-

Numerous other O.H.s have helped from time to time—generally going to the Club one night a week.

THE 'HAILEYBURY WANDERERS' FOOTBALL CLUB.

ON July 4, 1903, a Club under the above title was started with the Master as President and S. E. Cash as Captain. Great credit is due to the exertions of H. G. H. Wilkinson and L. J. Morson. A private ground has now been secured at Ponder's End, and an 'A' team has played since 1907. The officers for 1909-10 are : Capt. : R. Sholto Hedderwick; Vice-Capt. : H. Sharpe; Capt. of A Team : W. B. Galloway; Vice-Capt. : A. P. H. Fowler; Hon. Secs. : L. J. Morson and C. Blaker; Hon. Treasurer : G. T. Adkin.

Since 1907 the Wanderers have organized a very successful dance in the Christmas holidays.

I give some of the results of the Easter Term which were not decided when I revised the proofs.

In the Sports the ground was very heavy for the races which were run on the grass, and for the jumps ; the broad straight finish for the races which were run on the path was a great boon.

Mile, B. S. Smith-Masters (4 min. 55 sec.). Half Mile, B. S. Smith-Masters (2 min. 13 sec.). Quarter, W. P. Geen (55 $\frac{3}{8}$ sec.). 100 yds., L. H. Wilkins (11 $\frac{3}{8}$ sec.). 200 yds., P. L. C. Webster (22 $\frac{3}{8}$ sec.). High Jump, R. Vaughan Roberts (4ft. 10in.). Broad Jump, C. Thorne (18ft. 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ in.). Hurdles, C. Thorne (18 $\frac{3}{8}$ sec.). Cricket Ball, W. P. Geen (91 yds.). Weight, H. S. Banner (27ft. 9in.). Team Race, Colvin.

The Jullundur Cup was won by Melvill.

The Army Bugle was won by Trevelyan.

H. L. H. Tate and T. L. Mallory were the Gymnastic Pair, and finished equal 6th at Aldershot. Tate was 5th in the whole order. E. A. Coad Pryor went up for Fencing and A. G. D. Gavin for Bantam Weight Boxing. G. B. G. Gripper, C. B. Girvin, F. Allen and R. C. C. Jenkins were the other members of the Gymnasium Six. The School beat St. Paul's, but were beaten by Dulwich.

J. F. Feild and F. M. Strawson were the Fives Pair. K. P. Smith, H. B. Salmon, H. G. Vincent and P. R. Frere made up the Six. They beat Felstead, but were beaten by St. Paul's in very different courts, with balls with which it was impossible to 'kill.'

B. Pawle and H. B. Salmon were the Racquet Pair.

The latest information I add in final proofs :—
