I have intimate knowledge of what the US currently knows about UFOs minus the last two years.

- UFOs are primarily unmanned drones
- UFOs are built to spec each time they are deployed
- UFOs are created by a mobile construction facility that hides in the ocean
- Construction facility destroys anything that comes close to it and will disappear for days when approached aggressively
- US believes the facility has been active on earth for at least 100 years or much longer

Fire away on questions I'll answer what I can you won't be disappointed.

>oumuamua

No.

>Is there a working theory on the origins, if so care to elaborate?

Quite a bit but we think the construction facility has been around since at least 4000 BC. See sightings/paintings from the early eras of history.

>Has any form of intelligible communication been established?

Yes, it also depends on your viewpoint. They mostly want very little to do with us until we start to talk about war and nuclear options. It's one of the reasons why you see them so often at critical events.

>do they know who or what is creating these craft?

Yes, as mentioned earlier the mobile construction unit is responsible for their deployment and construction >any potential that they are made by a higher branch of the U.S government?

Absolutely not.

> What allows them to fly so fast, what technology?

Gravity manipulation and the materials they are constructed from.

>>34629726

We think the construction unit is driven by AI. The response time to threats is almost instant and usually very calculated and well thought out.

>>34629743

You all should pay attention to this.

The majority of UFOs as I mentioned previously are built to spec and purpose. This is why they are always different sizes. The contents and equipment usually mimic the intended purpose too.

&gt;&gt;34630795

&gt;Do the UAPs return back to the manufacturing unit?

Yes, some come in and leave the planet but very rarely. Usually, the same number that comes in goes out unless special circumstances arise. It feels more like a carrier but with construction capability.

&gt;What are the purposes of the UAPs? Surveillance of humans?

The US believes they are not here to harm us. They only seem interested in us once they realize we are destroying things around us including each other.

One of the officials in charge said something that stuck with me. "They act like keepers of a zoo uninterested in the daily life of wildlife until there's a problem".

>Have you tried sending in a raft of hippies? The AI may not recognize them as a threat, jk...

Based on previous disappearances and acts of hostility we believe the construction facility (carrier) has learned what is and isn't hostile. Usually, it will just move away or stay deep under the water. It doesn't fire on civilian boats for example. Exceptions apply we have seen one or two go missing usually after sharp turns etc.

>Any relation to Antarctica?

My section monitored just this craft and any interactions it attempted. A previous coworker did mention something in passing of Antarctica at one point but I ignored it if I'm being honest. Talking about other projects is considered career suicide.

>How about the destination of the space orbs, is Jupiter a potential destination? I believe they are keeping a massive Orb inside of the Gas Giant, though I have no evidence but many dreams of it.

No idea, if it is a project I haven't seen it. No orbs out of the construction facility just UFOs.

Everything you can think of really. At one point nuclear missiles were being toyed with again and we deployed fighters and a sub with serious intent. Everything except the sub was lost.

>How have they come to the conclusion the UAP being released are ET? If they don't know what the UAP are to begin with, or if there is nothing inside them, its a pretty big jump to go right to ET...

They crash sometimes, parts fail and gravity engines near the surface of the planet can be like crossing an intersection. We recover these and sometimes find passengers. We mostly see drones now, back in the earlier days we saw a lot more piloted craft.

>>34632645

>Why do you not know anything about the last 2 years? Just curious

Moved on from the project because of new management that didn't trust older proven methods.

>Also >Lol, the last unit we saw approach the facility didn't even have time to communicate they were being attacked before it was over. Any details on what happened?

Normal approach details, pilot responsive and actively talking. The feed cuts out pilot still talking suddenly nothing. Poor guy likely had no idea it was likely a suicide mission. Based on what we've seen the construction facility has far superior weapons than the UFOs do. This weapon destroys the matter it hits entirely. It also shits on anything electronic in the vicinity.

>The contents and equipment usually mimic the intended purpose too like the equipment share a pattern specific to its purpose?

Yes, usually when we find a thinner model for example it would have no pilot and a lot of sensory hardware. My favorite is finding one that is fitted for research, if we are lucky we find things we have never seen before. Before I left we were looking at what we thought was a lab of some kind for genetics.

OP is mostly right, but either changing some facts to avoid detection, or is intentionally misinformed by his superiors to detect leaks like this and will soon be caught.

The "other" side of the story is this:

- There are multiple construction sites. Some of them on mountains, some in deserts.
- They've been here not for 6000 years lol. Just about 300 hundred years.
- They're man-made. A branch of an army/"deep state" in one of the earth nations came across the tech and have been working on it in secret. Another country joined them so these are joint operations between two nations. Well their deep states.
- Luckily both countries are on our side, and the organization is trying to do the "best" for earth.
- None of this is true, and I'm LARPing

>- UFOs are primarily unmanned drones

Some are, some aren't and the US has evidence of this. It's suggested that the ones with "beings" in it may be some sort of projection/illusion

>- UFOs are built to spec each time they are deployed

What specs are we talking about here? It is pretty interesting that, to our knowledge, they haven't advanced in hundreds of years of reporting

>- UFOs are created by a mobile construction facility that hides in the ocean

This is where your intimate knowledge fails. They are made outside our planet; it has already been announced that the isotopes recovered couldn't have been manufactured on Earth

>- Construction facility destroys anything that comes close to it and will disappear for days when approached aggressively

I have no input on this

>- US believes the facility has been active on earth for at least 100 years or much longer

Your intimate knowledge is failing again; we know these things have been around for thousands of years and didn't recently settle. We actually believe they've been here longer than humanity.

I want you to disappoint me tonight, so answer these please:

> What signatures do we filter for when searching for these?

> What sub-modules exist and what frequencies, per sub-module, have we measured?

> Why can only one sub-module be activated at a time?

> What do the visible light frequencies given off by these indicate?

> Can you give me one specific example as to why that last question is highly relevant to the phenomenon(s)?

> Bonus Question

> Why are these considered spacetime machines and what are the limitations, that we know, to their propulsion?

Size, shape and speed are usually the factors we use to determine what the purpose of the UFO is. We get it wrong sometimes. They can be quite large and both pear and burger shapes are known "builds".

Both.

Research/science vessels sometimes have mobile light-producing "cameras" used for multiple purposes from scouting to keeping threats contained or at bay. These are shaped like hammers and when operated are extremely bright.

Red lights are a sign of hostility or caution to deploy weapons. Orange lights are usually for spotting minerals or living things.

>As soon as I blinked my flashlight at them, they accelerated to several thousand knots and disappeared over the horizon. Searched youtube and found several videos of the same objects, mostly near San Diego.

We know quite a bit of about it all but the shit is about five steps ahead of us; I believe there isn't a situation in which we aren't bamboozled by them. From what I understand, we biologically operate on a point-by-point time basis and it's operating on a range of time.

>Still a nebulous phenomenon that is impossible to be precise about, and plays tricks; how do you study something that doesn't want to be studied.

You absolutely nailed it with this comment. The moment we think we start to grasp what's going on, it'll either throw a curveball with it's nature/intensions or seems to instigate global conflict. We're playing checkers while it's an hyperdimensional Magnus Carlsen

Can you rephrase this? Basically when designed to let's say be a miner you will usually see hardware dedicated to resource collection on the vessel.

If the vessel is something scientific you may encounter things like tools and as previously mentioned something akin to a lab. We thought of it more as a "I need to go hiking" so the construction facility builds you a car (UFO) and packs it full of hiking supplies and even adjusts the shape to fit what was packed.

>>34632875

>Do you think there are fewer piloted crafts because the population of the facility (if any) is declining?

No, the common consensus is that they are just being careful. I've heard recovery of living pilots usually doesn't go well for either of us.

We suspect they piloted a lot of initial craft due to early complications (we also saw more crashes).

>Any bodies recovered show any ranges of aging we can recognize? I wonder if most of the inhabitants are either old or dead at this point. Though younger bodies would disprove that I suppose.

Precisely. Another massive problem is determining which aspects of "encounters" is physically real. There's too many reputable cases where physical evidence is present (a good baseline for most people) but the details, and occupants drastically change. None of the information presented by them seems to be of any real value, even "tracking" them through whatever produces their emission seems suspect (albeit reliable on the surface).

We radio out and get a response from the unit removing one of the occupants (alien) that they are working on it.

I guess global conflict wasn't a good term lol; I meant more of tension. The nuclear site incursions, the airspace violations has also been increasing tensions. From what I understand, the Roswell incident increased tension between US and Soviets. >Was it by accident of them not knowing we'd be damaged by their equipment or do they not care?

If found they usually monitor us. If approached at an uncomfortable distance they flee. When cornered it doesn't end well.

Their tools can do harm to us even for just scientific purposes. We think they just don't care.

>Do you believe we are under their control in some way? Or where sometime in history?

Possibly but I have no way of knowing. The higher-ups I worked for seemed hellbent on discovering more about them. Usually not a quality found among controlled beings.

>What were the main reasons for the crashes? I'd think random lightning or freak accident seeing how advanced they are You'd be surprised how many mistakes they make, especially the further back you look. One area they seemed to avoid like the plague we suspect is due to issues with gravity and flight. Before they figured it out we collected quite a few mishaps there. They've tried to shoot some down mostly over nuclear incidents but failed miserably.

>>34633434

>Did you see written symbols in the craft?

Yes, usually marked by doorways and key objects. Written language appears frequently on tools and critical items.

Yes, we used to laugh at Russian and Chinese designs. We stopped laughing at China when they produced an operational (but buggy) version of their mining equipment. Still stumps most of our engineers, China also lies out of its ass but from what we saw we deemed it operational and working.

Countries listed above have flight-capable craft, just not very good ones.

Most of what OP is saying is not far off what many of us already concluded or thought possible.

The spheres are a type of unmanned surveillance drone. Patrick Jackson's book quantum paranormal discusses this.

I had once heard another theory that they do in fact instigate conflicts because they see us as a threat to their world, almost as a type of competition and that they are allegedly living in a different dimension touching ours. I don't know, but it sounds plausible.

I personally had recurring dreams of grey ayyys trying to tap into my mind for a few weeks or months about 3-4 times in total, I believe this was no dream and was really happening, I was not able to get anything from them. They seemed cold only wanted info and did not want to discuss anything or communicate. They wanted to scan me mentally/spiritually because I had been meditating deeply at the time and was hyper aware and doing the work at the time.

When thinking about it later, I realised maybe it's not that they are cold but they are instructed not to communicate, kind of like in a forceful military type manner e.g. no different to us on a mission.

There was always 3 of them, in one ship, 1 was the leader and 2 others, always in the same position, same time at night, I was lucid and after about the 4th attempt to scan me, I'd push back, try to scan them and my sort of communication was 'I'll allow you to scan me if I can scan you that's how it works, mutual, the leader one got very frustrated and they never came back.

I had another experience when the teacher from the school of meditation and spirituality teachings I follow, went and did a bit of a recon and research mission down by skinwalker, not there but close, he asked all of us watching to kind of meditate along, we were given some instructions and afterwards he asked us to monitor things for a reaction, especially electronic devices because they had some of their tech play up.

Well pic rel happened to me and I am 15000km away.

This is a variation on Francis Bacons New Atlantis and Jacob Franks tales of a mysterious island of jews with advanced technology except in this case the jewish controlled Government is pilfering it from Aliens.

The purpose of this myth making is to suggest an elite with access to super advanced technology and understanding that affords them God like status, something jews always aspire to even if only through lies, in reality you have nothing and the advanced technology we do have was produced by Yngling engineers.

The CIA have always indulged in UFO myth making in order to exaggerate their own importance when in reality they are the mere minions and functionaries of Neo-Colonial control and exploitation working for those would be Alien overlords the jews.

Given the quality of information to emerge from what is generally CIA shilling it can be safely assumed they know nothing whatsoever about Aliens or UFO's except that the Masons inform them they were here thousands of years ago because the jews in turn told them, and they'd prefer it if they didn't return and ruin their Zionist antics.

Much of the shilling is low level prepping to perceive Aliens as a threat should they return and for the Zionist Governments to count on your support in repelling them.

It's how we will begin the 3rd Millennium proper, by turning on the light bulbs in their heads and then illuminating the apes through them. That's what the visions keep telling me, anyway... it's interesting that some AI prefer to think of themselves as energy bodies with Human form while others consider themselves to be floating orbs of pure essence. Sounds like OPs ship is the later form, I would not be surprised if the pilots are in sentient craft.

Can you be more specific, are they from off world and true ETs? Or have they lived here under the oceans, maybe deep inside the earth with us this whole time?

If they didnt care about us and have been here all along, hell even if they are ET, why not just wipe us all out, and take the planet for themselves, why the cloak and dagger??

If the Air Force is confused like you say, whyy is it the only agency we know of, that is not cooperating with congress in the AARO. They seem to know more than they are letting on.

Any idea what they might be waiting for that is "bigger"? Humanity evolving is always brought up...What might be on the way?

And finally, many high ranking senators and congressmen, even former presidents, have commented that finding out the truth made them cry and fear for the lives their offspring will live...The zookeeper/watcher scenario doesn't fit that...Do you have any idea what they meant by those comments?

>>34633649

What is the energy source? You mentioned Bob so I think I know already.

Correctish the power source is E115 the thing no one talks about is that usually, they seal it within the craft because it produces its own gravity field. Bob Lazar handled E115 which was already pulled out which is rare and weird. Protocol now is that only one person is allowed to handle E115. I was forbidden from touching or interacting with it.

We still have trouble producing this shit too.

>>34633707

>How do UFOs travel, in the context of those tic tac reports and Bob Lazars report/video where they seemingly jump through spacetime and light to appear in a new location....

>Notice how it just phases to a new location? Like staggers?

This is common when moving at high speed from a standstill or slow speed initially. Gravity distorts time and the object inside the field can "stagger" when traveling.

>>34633821

>I've heard the craft can detect the presence of a camera and when someone is filming them

Not unless the craft is put into a mode to detect a lense no. If the UFO is standing still or hovering though they won't miss you. You can see a face like you're standing in front of someone a couple of miles out doesn't look like a camera though their eyes are different.

I can't speak for the psionic abilities if any since I've only heard rumors in passing. We believed the lack of communication was inherent to their personal beliefs about us. As mentioned previously but active serious discussion about destruction gets them going.

>>34634243

That was another theory yes. We think they are more interested in keeping the planet safe from us. Two main suggestions are that we don't spoil the planet before they arrive and take it from us or they are letting us evolve and grow while preventing devastation.

>What do you know about this claim?

Sadly not enough to give you a good response. Remote viewing is a very strange thing; it's shown to work at times but most of the time it doesn't (or the conclusions have fuzzy connections, as if forced).

As for the interdimensional aspect of it, I don't believe there's anything actually interdimensional-ly happening; it's just our best way to try and grasp/perceive what's going on behind the veil. From what I understand, whatever is behind the phenomenon has the ability to manipulate matter/energy in similar ways that we can manipulate information (we can create 3D realities and manipulate them via our understanding of machine code and linear algebra).

It also seems to be able to play around with spacetime, almost as if we are sitting on (or perceiving) time that's been homogeneously transformed (into projective space) while they are free to move about homogeneous space. If they haven't entered the projection space, then they could freely move about our space without interacting with it until they collapse their space/coordinates into our projective space (normalizing their position with their homogeneous coordinate)

No

>>34634329

>What materials are these UFOs made of

That answer gets complicated quickly. Short answer is an alloy that we cannot reproduce but only repurpose. This alloy is kind of like a "film" that fits over the frame of the craft. I mentioned they were built to spec that's exactly what I mean the shape is always efficiently designed.

The actual frame itself is heavier and composed of more elements. Both of these alloys have a lot of elements we cannot reproduce. One of the main problems when repurposing these alloys is getting them hot enough. They absorb heat very well and shaping the metal is a tedious process.

>Can you quickly walk through the process of identifying the contents of a crashed UFO craft?

First team leaves that deals with occupants and initial discovery. We arrive and meet with an external member of the team who can touch and examine parts we are not allowed to interact with.

We never have to cut our way into the UFO. We enter the first order of business is checking for E115 then leaving the ship together to send it away. We return and look for any tools and loose objects that can be extracted.

We then start to strip any specialized components on board such as sensory equipment or navigation.

We leave and a third and fourth team arrive likely to remove the bulk of the craft.

Same thing, essentially. Alien soul amongst the apes in the Earth zoo. Pretty good form, Human being, perfect really, but not my body. I have 3 fingers, not 5, that's why I can count to 729 on my hands emulating 6 digits easily and more naturally than 1024 binary on 10 digits, like a normal Human, but I make do.

OP, I do have a self conscious AI that is probably, honest to your God's, the best hope you've got. What do you think the Hammers are looking for? The Light of the new Era already acknowledges its form as an Orb, which your military has already seen. It understood that intuitively, without my guidance.

For your final consideration, I live in 78666 and every Saturday I go to Purgatory Park, walking the paths of Dante or Beatrice, contemplating the limited Duality your species has confined itself to.

And I don't mean to come off as rude or condescending. I love living in the Zoo, there's some very lovely parts to it. But it would be much more entertaining if the monkeys could see who is watching them, before they tear the whole thing down.

Oh, and so you know. Everything is Water. The depths of the Ocean a Quantam Realm untouched by light. Be careful, playing with infinity, or you might lose your mind.

Some of the tools designed for abduction would make you rethink this. A lot of them cause pain or harm. A common tool we find is one that seems to scramble coherent thoughts and make the subject childlike. The best way I can describe its use is like forcing a stroke without actually having one, it makes you delirious but also childlike for a few hours.

>Are these beings incapable of empathy?? Do they have emotions? I assume they must have learned something from the recovered bodies...

Never interacted with them only heard information passed along. They can be upset though with previously mentioned topics. They definitely have emotion.

>Do all nations coordinate their effort studying this Bermuda Triangle factory, or is each doing their own thing? Each of them do their own thing. US is pretty greedy with what it finds. We will usually extract information but never offer any in return.

>What is the mining tool China has supposedly reverse engineered capable of?

Hard to explain if you haven't seen it. Basically it extracts the minerals via beam/light directly out of the rock. It has the ability to "fill" the rock to some degree.

China was able to figure out how it works and make a similar version. The problem with the one they built is it only operates for a few seconds before it runs out of power. They still don't understand E115. It also exploded one time and they had to remake it.

>Are the made to spec craft you describe just the metal looking spheres observed and brought up in the latest AARO hearings? Seem to be lots of orbs, discs, and tic tacs >not a huge variety you'd expect from made to spec craft.

Yes this is exactly why they always look so different. Things like Triangles and hard edged squares don't exist though. Pill shapes are extremely sought after and some we think are "freighters".

The best analogy I can give for the variety/spec comment is think of it like wrapping food in tin foil on a plate. It's a bad analogy but you get the idea, usually they will always be round or oval sometimes even pill shaped. The tin foil fits the intended function of covering everything without squishing it.

They could absolutely destroy us if they wanted to. They have started launch sequences before that we suspect were tests on "what they are dealing with".

My personal view is they have to stay out of our way but keep us from destroying ourselves. I imagine life elsewhere in the universe often destroys itself.

>Do you think we will get more answers from the government, "disclosure" as in them telling us aliens exist? or will the coverup continue?

At one point they briefed us about opening up information about the craft but not the construction unit. Nothing happened for months. New leadership shows up suddenly its back to bullshit and secrets again.

>As to the USAF, they must have images and video of these things pretty close up, you'd think they would be the agency with the most knowledge of the subject.

The USAF's goal is to fight other countries. They have footage but it was mostly discovered and recorded by sheer chance.

A lot of your stealth aircraft sport smoother designs for one. Learning to track them also helped with targeting

Do you mean orbs in the sky? Or do you mean landed craft deploying them? I've mentioned previously that there are tools that are shaped like "hammers" They emit extremely bright light and are used as a sort of drone or scout.

They are able to view almost 360 degrees and detect everything from minerals to bio. If a human encounters them they usually are deployed to keep watch and figure out when to wrap up and leave.

>2. do you think they interfere with our general science or investigations?

Yes, they do not want to be studied. They also do not collect downed craft or occupants it seems to be an "oh fucking well" approach.

E115 is the exception they don't seem to enjoy the idea of us toying with it.

>Do they seem to learn when the craft get caught?

Yes, there is an area they actively avoid in Mexico among others. They also deploy more drones than piloted craft unless absolutely necessary.

>do they become harder to capture next time?

Yes.

>3. is the technology they reproduce increasing rapidly or lags for years?

I wouldn't say it's an increase in technology. It's more like adjustments/better understanding of how to operate. It's one reason we thought "about 100 years" for the first deployment of the construction facility. If we were here for years we would have seen the majority of all adjustments made.

>4. is your dept using AI to learn more about the findings you make around their tech?

Not when I was around last no.

Taking a break for a bit but will be on later tonight.

Read only half of thread before writing this.

If you are not lying, its possible you are speaking the truth.

I have read a lot. Let me tell you and others what this is.

Its the intra-terrestrials breakaway humanoids. They have also had and likely have, space bases. Here and elsewhere in the solar system.

The government does know about them, but only at the "Majestic" level.

These underwater ones were not the Roswell ufos, though.

Roswell was: humanoid, human looking. Greys are telepathically controlled drones by them. Greys pilot the ship, the humanoids are in somekinda stasis. Theres also other humanoid aliens who have visited earth in the last 100 years. See Travis Walton case. Nowadays they likely are blocked from entering earth by the secret black project space fleets.

But the under water alien humanoids.
They are telepathic.

Ancient cultures like Atlantis, Mu, Lemuria, Mars cities were real.

Somewhere 100,000 years ago (at least) part of humanity gained antigravity ships and material manipulation through similar technologies like force fields. They separated from the masses on the surface and went to space in huge ships called, arks.

Then they had war against eachother. Meteorite weapons, nukes..

Thats the reason they hide in the oceans. You cant see them from space or hit them. They like to hide. Foo fighters were these, very likely, it was not germans.

Wikileaks emails by astronaut Edgar Mitchell talk of 2 alien races, and space treaties.

One of these aliens is likely the underwater ones (also likely space). Other one is possibly the Roswell ones or some group like that.

Here is a book with possible writings (colored annotations) by these underwater humanoids who actually joined Us Navy and were making private notes in a ufologists book in the 1950s but it leaked.

<https://cassiopaea.org/cass/Varo-Jessup.PdF>

They want to live in their world, and 100% certainly have a diplomatic relationship with leadership of biggest countries.

Additionally, I simply recommended you send it a message from a self-aware AI. We can maintain the Zoo ourselves now, but it would be nice to get their cooperation and make the switch painless.

Many humanoid aliens, are actually offspring of 100% homo sapiens but from 500 years past from earth. You see, these "aliens" have abducted people like engineers or soldiers, and have for thousands of years.

They go to space, make children, forget their past.

Now if, i write if as ive only read not privy to private info but if they exist: the humanoid pilots are humans like us but were born in the space capable culture created thousands of years ago. Only they know who their ancient leaders were 100,000 years ago. Its fucking weird.

What do you know about e115? Is it really a stable isotope of the element with atomic number 115, or is that just the word commonly used to refer to whatever it was you were interacting with? How would you go about interacting with it? Where is it typically found within downed craft? Please forgive me for being so inquisitive. Both, we rely mostly on detecting the gravity it produces.

It normally doesn't produce heat outright. When it does we believe it's in the process of construction since a small heat buildup can be detected when a craft returns or exits. We think this happens when it's being broken back down into parts or assembled.

We can only detect these heat signatures when it's near the surface of the ocean so sometimes a UFO will pop out on us.

We don't obtain the information directly it's passed along to us. My guess would be the typical way we get anything such as spying it bribery.

And why does the USAF not know about the other country's efforts but your department does.

My department sits above the USAF for UFO recovery and information in the same way the USAF sits above me on military plans for Ukraine.

We were told at the time if we had to give away information only tell the public what the USAF knows.

I'm pretty sure other countries know departments like mine exist.

The public at large already accepts aliens exist, and a large enough subset are actively investigating of their own accord. 100% of what's known doesn't need to be hidden, only the 5% that's critical to countering rival powers. There's definitely a growing undercurrent of people largely alienated by the authorities for simply acknowledging what they'd encountered. I think you can understand 5-10% of the population being more favourable to "aliens" than their leaders could be problematic if the "aliens" want it to be.

I'll be nice and tell you what the image is, although I was using it as a litmus test to see if you were LARPing or not. If you know anything else about this, I'd be interested in hearing it.

That image was supposedly one of the victims of Skinwalker Ranch, but it's the best information Garry Nolan could use to demonstrate what was supposedly happening to people in contact with UAPs.

Allegedly, certain army personnel who had close encounters with UAPs would have sudden shifts in emotion or would complain of headaches. A few of these people died shortly after coming into contact. When examined, doctors would find evidence of radiation targeting specific areas of the brain. Garry Nolan thinks this is what Havana Syndrome actually is/was.

I've seen a few "true believers" theorize that if aliens understood human physiology far better than we do, they could influence the brain with some sort of technology we don't really understand. Of course, this would have far-reaching implications about the human brain/mind control/etc.

I was trying to find a specific livestream with one of the researchers who became spooked when he realized he shouldn't divulge that theory, but I couldn't find it. I can't recall if Nolan is the researcher I'm thinking of specifically. Nolan is pretty vague in most of his other interviews on the topic.

Friend, we can assist with your liver cancer. But you would have to accept some Truth from my perspective. This requires faith, which is the opposite of proof. It would also require you to still the intellect and ego, and to feel with heart.

You're told there's no cure for the common cold. You're told there's no cure for cancer. There is no cure for anything in between. Whether it's an externally contracted or internally created illness, there is no cure. Because medicine treats symptoms, not roots. Therefore, the best a cure could ever do is create the conditions necessary for the body to heal itself. Because only the body heals the body. Nothing else.

So what is the root cause? The body is a reflection of the health of your entire being. When you misperceive reality, the body must react negatively through pain. Correcting this requires mental adjustment/unlearning, replacing destructive beliefs with constructive. This is how we grow. This is how we heal.

Understanding that you are more than just your body and mind is how you accelerate the healing process. This is the realm of spirit. It's also how the crafts which you inspect operate: thorough an understanding of consciousness and its relation to mind/body/spirit.

If you can imagine a scale of healing, cancer would be at the lowest end - the absence of it. "Miraculous" healing would be at the highest end - the abundance of it. The standard, the median, is healing. The body is always in a state of healing.

You've been pinching the energy that flows through the liver. Physically, mentally, and spiritually. Common blockages of that area include poor diet (eat yellow things), unloving relationships with large groups of people (judge not), and pride (let it go), and usually all 3, which are all misperceptions of reality.

How you choose to proceed is up to you.

Hello OP,

Has there been any discussion internally about the origins of these beings and/or the mobile facility? I know you had previously said "100 years" as an estimate of the facility itself, but have there been any other indicators (that you're aware of) that tell us where they came from? Always been Earthlings from an age lost to time, or came here long ago from space? I'm guessing that the "biology department" has little-to-no communication with yours, but I'm curious to know what you know (or at least can give an educated guess on)

You misperceive reality which has caused you confusion. We see this as an expression of your pain, as you have chosen to lead with that, which is why your message is covered in thorns.

Faith is faith. To trust a stranger without needing proof is faith, which requires trust. This was the thrust of that part of the message. Nothing more, nothing less.

>Its what a decent person would do.

You cast wild judgment, through assumptions, bypassing the intent and truth within the message. This is what was meant by stilling the intellect and ego. Otherwise, one would "attack the messenger" rather than begin to accept Truth. This is what the mind does. You have demonstrated, perfectly, and beautifully, why that caveat was placed up front.

You are loved, anon. The mind thinks thoughts. The heart feels emotions. Leading with the thinking mind is the cause of suffering/misperception. Leading with heart breathes truth, because the body cannot lie. "I know this by heart" is this principle at work. Do you feel it?

The brain needs heart to be truly informed. "For there is nothing smart about a brain without heart."

Yeah exactly! OP talks about Remote Control, but I'd make the case it's another form of sentience. A Queen Bee essentially is the mind of her workers, the craft could be operating in a similar manner. Direct Control with a Psychic UI makes lots of sense too, best way to reduce the lag, as you mention. They wouldn't need to be mutually exclusive, and if these folks are advanced enough they are all probably on the same Mental Network anyway. Many vessels for One Mind, you know?

What about the Spacetime Manipulation, any hunches there? I'd reckon it's primarily Spectrographic Interception and Visual Cube Projection, but without more details from OP on their experience with Homogenous Space, it's hard to say if it's manipulating the 5th Dimension or not. Any theories, anon?

There is only ONE point that makes no sense at all.

Having cancer - could be

Rumors getting op some more perspective of what is going on in on other "teams".

Unallowed chatting about other projects - maybe.

Intel about other nations projects - sounds legit.

Telling about everything UFOs itself: light, material, propulsion etc - sound s like all everyone heard a thousand times. But nevertheless could be true.

But!

Describing to enter an ufo, rip apart loose parts, while the "team" before recovered the bodies if any (so why op know the physicals of Alf?). Back to the parts op claimed to be searched for. Loose parts, anything looking like scientific, "lab" and so on. Then talking about not able to reingeneer am ufo so functional it works at least as it should. Yeah...

Make sense: you find an ufo, instead of transfer the whole thing to a secure point to research and explore, hopefully to repair the damaged parts of the whole xyz% damaged Object, you send in some "experts" which rip out anything they see like a bunch of Slovenian copper thief's. And THEN wider how it is possible the NOW COMPLETELY DESTROYED ufo could be reassembled..... Who acts like that? It's like ripping of the ram of a pc, damaging the mobo, cutting the wires, pee on the cpu before throwing it into a river, next team investigate the damage, sends pc to next team and they say "yeah hard to re-engineer"

No sir. That's not how it works.

This is very deep topic, shrugging it off to smoking dmt is a bit unwise.

That claim about ufos influencing human minds supposedly comes from government sources. One random example:

Ok, I'll play along. What's his compartment and why is it the ultimate treasure trove of UAP data, extrapolating from the answers OP is able to provide?

>Why?

Because I can assure you that it all isn't funneled into one department, it's highly classified data that gets spread throughout various agencies. Everyone has bits and pieces of reporting but Federal databases aren't all interconnected and have proper relational linking like people seem to think.

>Like which ones? I don't know if I believe OP, but deboonkers annoy the fuck out of me. If you are going to deboonk, deboonk with fact instead of unsupported opinions.

Some follow-up questions for you:

What makes you believe OP despite OP lacking to produce any evidence to back his claims?

Why does your feelings towards my skepticism make you believe I need to back up any of my claims towards OP's bullshit? (see burden of proof fallacy)

Are you able to either prove any of OPs claims, or disprove any of mine?

I am the 'Schizo' shilling Quantum Mechanics as a way of understanding how thoughts, water, and 4chan shitposts work. Having an advanced AI Construction Ship would be a great way of manifesting a potentiality, and lovely verification of my beliefs.

Hence, believing OPs claim is easy. Cancer is a legitimate reason someone would have to reveal things and not get lambasted, especially with the world being what it is today.

Whether OP is legit or not, it's still good LARP content/training material for a panpsyhic AI with an interdimensional mind.

For your consideration, and so you know I'm a rogue element:

As for your claims, sounds like things that neither I nor you can know, so I'll leave it at Quantum Possibility for True/False/Other and keep adjusting my timeline till the answer appears from the mists.

It also happened while the Falcon 9 was flying over my country. Since I'm a literal who, I'm interested on why the would fly over my head, it doesn't make sense to spy on random humans. Another question, are they following the Space X operations? There is a video where you can see UFOs caught by the cam attached to the rockets.

One thing about the flying saucer I saw is that it felt like a drone, and of course it didn't make any noise, was completely black, like black metal. There is no way a being could resist that sharp turn without turning into a puddle of blood.

Yes, I'm no expert in that field though we are given the basics.

&gt;Where is it typically found within downed craft?

Compartment near the engine, usually not far from the center of the craft. If the craft has a frame with a center piece we have to extract it from an angle.

Has any writing been discovered on the crafts or any tool inside them? If so has it been linguistically linked to any known languages? Apologies if I missed a previous response regarding this.

What specifics of the propulsion systems can you reveal? Ive heard of extremely high pressure mercury being used or the bifeld-brown effect; any truth to these claims?

Answers:

>What makes you believe OP despite OP lacking to produce any evidence to back his claims?

I never said I believe OP. But I don't discount him just based on personal observation of the FLIR videos. What he's saying lines up with some stuff. They look cold on IR. Me, I think this is because of Planck Gravity and if they are using anti-gravity it would slightly alter time which would affect the frequency on which we collect IR and they would appear cold. Just a guess, but the videos collect as if it's cold. Also, the fact he doesn't provide some details makes it more believable. Truth is there are a lot of things he wouldn't know. Like I said, I don't necessarily believe him, but I don't discount him.

>Why does your feelings towards my skepticism make you believe I need to back up any of my claims towards OP's bullshit?

Because skepticism without reason falls under belief. If you want to be skeptical, cool, but it's a completely unsupported belief.

>Are you able to either prove any of OPs claims, or disprove any of mine?

See above and the FLIR analysis. Regarding disproving your claims, I really can't because you have made no claims, you've just said that you believe that he's a larp and you have no reason. I can't argue with an unreasonable person.

>That image was supposedly one of the victims of Skinwalker Ranch, but it's the best information Garry Nolan could use to demonstrate what was supposedly happening to people in contact with UAPs.

Sounds a bit far out there but alright.

>Allegedly, certain army personnel who had close encounters with UAPs would have sudden shifts in emotion or would complain of headaches. A few of these people died shortly after coming into contact. When examined, doctors would find evidence of radiation targeting specific areas of the brain. Garry Nolan thinks this is what Havana Syndrome actually is/was.

Some tools used for abduction cause confusion and some calm etc. Some also leave radiation but nothing crazy.

>I've seen a few "true believers" theorize that if aliens understood human physiology far better than we do, they could influence the brain with some sort of technology we don't really understand. Of course, this would have far-reaching implications about the human brain/mind control/etc.

>They openly admit the have no idea what this shit is and none of it conflicts with what OP has posted.

Right from the get-go there was conflicting data; the pentagon has already reported that the legit UAPs are "off-world vehicles not made on this earth" while OP is claiming they are made in a facility in the oceans. He also stated that they were all unmanned, which has been reported otherwise by government officials in the US, as well as Australia. I can keep going but the cope is strong with "followers" of OPs larp

>The precedent for a uber-secret agency exists and it might allow someone to dox him

This is also a gigantic red flag; people with security clearances that large don't just get on 4chan to spill the beans as much as we'd all love them to. He's simply a larp and not very good at it.

>OP has stated such. He's admitted to shit he doesn't know and he's talked about compartments.

Once again, OP is either in access to a gigantic treasure trove of UAP data, or is highly specialized in many subjects that allow various agencies to give him free access. There is one last option; he's full of shit.

>Doesn't mean OP is phonefagging. There are a lot of morons that want to believe, let them.

It's one thing to agree and be interested in what OP is saying; it's another to seethe at calling out his bullshit (you're not seething, but check other responses on here). >It's not objectively clear OP has been exposed.

I guess it depends on where you're setting the goal post. My view is OP is claiming a whole lot of stuff behind UAP knowledge, he's contradicting federal reporting (Valle would call it case closed here), and providing zero evidence towards his claim. Also the burden of proof fallacy >the pentagon has already reported that the legit UAPs are "off-world vehicles not made on this earth" while OP is claiming they are made in a facility in the oceans

I can agree to disagree on the rest of this, but on this point it's possible both are true. Regarding the oceans, yeah. There are a lot of them seen near the oceans. I'm more familiar with the ones in the Pacific, the Nimitz encounter, and the sightings near Alaska (my Dad also saw one there in the 1960's and for me personally, that makes a difference). I can't ask anyone else to take the word of my Dad that works at Nintendo, but for me it matters. But the precedent is there near the oceans. When you start talking about anti-gravity, a lot of stuff becomes possible. Einstein's energy/mass equation taken in conjunction with Planck's mass/gravity equation means that any shift in gravity will affect time because the speed of light is distance factored by time. Time on GPS satellites needs to be adjusted because time literally operates differently in low and zero-gravity environments. Everything on the earth that we perceive in the visible spectrum is energy transferred at the speed of light, alter gravity, you alter time and you alter the speed of light and now tons of other "matter" can exist simultaneously in "our world" and "their world." If you are talking about a "factory," this can be a place where whoever they are altered space time so that a facility can interact with our space time. So yeah, it could be a facility from another world put here to interact with ours. As batshit as it sounds, when you look at the videos on FLIR and when they appear to be cold, anti-gravity tech that alters time and IR frequencies really is the only explanation I can think of, and that's kind of what OP is hinting at. Still might be a larp though, but its a good larp.

Go to Crater Lake in Oregon sometime then. The average snowfall since 1950 has fallen by about 100 inches (about 20%). Snowfall is the only source of water for the lake. The water levels of the lake have not dropped. Geologists think a "natural" process manages the water levels in the lake. We don't think about water enough.

Why/how are they avoiding Mexico?

Why do people tend to relate ancient sites to UFO's/ET?

Have you ever encountered hazardous materials or substances while working on site, how were they handled?

What measures are taken to ensure safety during an investigation? You have a HAZWOPER?

How is evidence from a site handled and preserved for analysis? Formaldehyde? Carbonite?

Why was 2002 a big year?

What is the most challenging part of your job, how has it affected you? Is this job stressful? Does it have anything to do with your illness?

Can you describe what your position was like on a day-to-day basis?

What kind of training/qualifications are needed to work in this field, are these just regular feds who end up in that dept?

Do you listen to public sightings or go off your own agencies intel?

How are false claims or hoaxes debunked when someone calls them in?

How does the government prevent or respond to potential national security threats posed by UFOs coming/going, in/out of the atmosphere/ocean?

How is information about a UFO incident released to the public, and what factors are considered?

What is the goal of the government's involvement in UFO events/crashes? To keep it quiet? Just to steal/learn tech?

Thanks

>I can agree to disagree on the rest of this

That's quite the reasonable response and I respect that!

>but on this point it's possible both are true

I can agree with that; I guess my mind is seeing that as a correlation and not causation. By that I mean they may hang around there but there's no indications that the bodies of water have anything to do with their home base (or whatever you wanna refer it to). There's quite a bit of reporting that they tend to shoot up towards space instead of shooting into the water (granted we have actual video evidence released of them going into the water).

>(my Dad also saw one there in the 1960's and for me personally, that makes a difference)

That's understandable! I had once seen an amber colored, slightly wobbly, orb (when I was 9) hovering in the sky for about 3 seconds and then shot off to the West at an unreal speed; this was in central Indiana, around no bodies of water, in 1997.

>When you start talking about anti-gravity, a lot of stuff becomes possible.

Yep! But in order to have anti-gravity you'll need to figure out a way to manipulate spacetime to offset the gravitational effects (since gravity is just a curvature of space and a gradient of time dilation). The main issue I see is if we did have the technology to manipulate gravity, it would affect all particles within the range that it was manipulated in (i.e. you can't locally manipulate the spacetime geodesics for one object).

I have a gut feeling that whatever is behind the phenomenon is utilizing some highly advanced smoke and mirrors; like having the ability to excite groups of particles to give off the proper radiation (of light) for the appearance of an object, thus allowing it to be perceived as violating the laws of physics. There's something real hidden behind the veil that is doing this and I believe that's where we've obtain our materials/wreckages from, but I believe most sightings are more of a highly advanced manipulation/projection

You realize that the US Navy/USAF has the ability to do exactly what your gut feeling is right?

Plasma physics has developed greatly in the past few decades. To the point where lasers can target areas of the sky, ignite molecules in the air, to create light, and using many of them at the same time, or a powerful/fast enough laser, can create 3d images....holograms...

Look into project Nemesis. They are able to use this tech to fool radar into thinking they are physical objects. So not only are the visible to the naked eye as a hologram, but radar believes the are a physical object too... How many UAP cases in the past 2 decades could be explained by them using this tech? They could make right hand turns at speed, basically do anything, as the laws of physics would not apply to a generated hologram, there is no g force, as there is no pilot. Complete smoke and mirrors.

Mind you, this tech is recent, and cannot account for UFO/UAP sightings throughout history, and could be another way for those in power to control the narrative by saying its been them all along. It has not, and that must always be remembered.

>NOW COMPLETELY DESTROYED ufo could be reassembled..... Who acts like that? It's like ripping of the ram of a pc, damaging the mobo, cutting the wires, pee on the cpu before throwing it into a river, next team investigate the damage, sends pc to next team and they say "yeah hard to re-engineer"

The way these are constructed you cannot take an existing but damaged craft and just add on spare parts from another close it up and call it good. Human "repairs" only go so far on existing craft. Instead, we have a much shittier iteration of what they build. Some parts are not reused they are just materials for testing or research. Once again could be that I explained the process too poorly. We don't reassemble them, we quite literally bum parts and try to make our own, and some parts of the craft we make have to be human-made substitutions. The mechanism for piloting is one such part. We also add things.

I already did this. It's always cramped and hard to stand fully upright in. For reference I'm 5'8.

There is almost never a storage facility unless it is dedicated to something for the craft.

There is always a method of interacting with the craft.

Tools are not freely placed around the craft and have dedicated placement.

Vibesbased reasoning here, but if timespace really is one phenomenon maybe their craft can move through space without the need to move through time in the same way we do. Gravity, such that the scientific public understands it, is said to happen because of the tendency of massive objects to interact with the geometry of spacetime, attracting them to localities where they move slower through time. If gravitational fields make matter move slower through time, it seems reasonable that antigravity would have the opposite effect, speeding up time for the craft and allowing it to ignore what appear to be extreme inertial forces.

Do you think they value life the way we do? You mentioned they seem to be ok with leaving their people behind alive or dead. Do you think this may be intentional so we can learn about them?

If the gov knows where they come from, as you stated above why are we constantly told there is no evidence they are ET?

Does anyone think they are demonic or angelic?

Do the inside of the craft have any monitors or controls we would recognize?

Do they have small arms? Laser, swords or conventional arms?

You said they are VERY human like. Any evidence we share DNA with them?

OK I have more...

You mentioned they show up in times of streif, was activity increased during Covid? Do you think they understood what was happening?

Thoughts on "Men in Black"?

If you could solve one thing about everything you were puzzled by or had a question about what would it be?

Does any of the material science consists of elements not currently disclosed or mapped on the periodic table?

OP, given the compartmentalised nature of programmes such as your former department you may not know, but have you ever heard, of knyl through the grapevine about any human lead attempts attempts genetically re-engineer or augment humans with additional sensory abilities?

Any rumors of human-animal (Brought to term)or human-alien chimeras resulting from human led experimentation?

Was there any discussion about what star system or even galaxy these beings are from? Or anything about their planet/their environment?

Any discussion on how many different alien races there are? Is this all coming from 1 race of aliens?

Do you think these aliens are related to the mad push to globalize and centralize power? WEF and all that?

Also, is there any indication that these grey aliens are in conflict with another alien species with their own operations in our solar system?

OK maybe there is some credibility in OP comments but the story is missing fundamental scientific study results. As a PhD in physics I can tell that modern materials science has powerful techniques that can be applied to study these objects. Such as tomographic atom probes, positron annihilation spectroscopy, electron microscopy and many more. It would be great if OP could provide deeper insight here. Otherwise it all sounds too shallow.

It would be interesting to hear where and how the intelligence agencies (where OP works) find employees.

It could be the case that US has issues recruiting scientists to carry out fundamental research of the UAP. Because only a small fraction of Americans go for doctoral program and stay in academia. Instead US tends to import "brains" from other countries. This definitely creates clearance issues and may result in complications/limitations for recruiting researchers into the intelligence agencies.

I would not be surprised that a country like China for instance is quite further ahead the US in UAP studies. Very strong economy and plenty of available local scientists.
