Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your letter of 8 March, addressed to my colleague, [REDACTED] in which you describe in more detail your sighting of an 'unidentified flying object' on the evening of 28 January and your belief that there were RAF Tornadoes in the vicinity.

On receipt of your sighting report from RAF Valley, a check was made with air defence experts who confirmed that there was no evidence to suggest that UK airspace had been breached by unauthorised military air activity on the date you gave and no air defence aircraft had been scrambled. However, as you seem to be certain that the aircraft you saw were military fast jets, I will make further enquiries and I will write to you again in due course.

Yours sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Check with stations for F3 at 20:20L on 28/1/2001.

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your letter of 05/03/01. I must admit that I was pleasantly surprised to receive a reply regarding my original contact with the RAF.

In reality I would not expect to have my sighting corroborated by any official body, however this does not mean that I did not see what I believed I saw on that evening. While I appreciate that it may not be cost effective to further investigate this incident, I feel it is worth sending you this, which is my account of the incident I witnessed, along with my 15 year old son, if for no other purpose than to give you some food for thought.

At approximately 20.20 hours on the evening of Sunday 28/01/01 I was out near my house walking my dogs. I was returning to my house and was walking down the grove when a movement in the sky caught my attention. At an approximate 45% angle, directly in front of me I could see an object moving left to right, at a slow but noticeable velocity.. The object appeared to have an orange glow, and I surmised it may be Skylab, which I had not at that time seen. I quickly put the dogs inside the house ,called my son, and collected our two pairs of binoculars.

When we got back outside, perhaps 30 seconds had elapsed,. and now the object was moving towards us, in a clockwise direction, and was clearly not as far away as I had first thought. I estimated the object was at an altitude of between three thousand and six thousand feet and traveling at perhaps three hundred knots.

When viewed through the binoculars the front of the object was glowing orange. As the object passed within a mile of us I could see bright orange pieces falling from it . My thought at that time was that this was an object that had suffered damage, possibly from a collision or possibly from re-entry . Due to the circular course it was following it was clearly an object flying under some sort of control . Only the front of the object was visible to me as there were no other lights showing and I would estimate the size of the visible portion to be perhaps thirty yards across. The object disappeared from sight for a period of approximately one to two minutes when it reappeared behind us on what would be the opposite side of a circular flightpath .

It is worth noting that no noise was audible despite its relative closeness to us. Just about then we heard aircraft approaching. I turned to see where the noise was coming from. From the north east I could make out two aircraft approaching and they were following a flight path that would bring them directly over head and in the general direction of the object my son was still observing . The planes were flying in what I would describe as a tactical formation, with one flying slightly behind the other and roughly eight hundred yards apart, and at an altitude of between two and five thousand feet.

Given my basic knowledge of RAF aircraft gained over visiting many air shows around the country I have no doubt these aircraft were military jets. I thought it to be extremely unusual or unlikely that RAF fast jets would be carrying out an exercise over Liverpool on a Sunday night therefore these aircraft may be interceptors, making them almost certainly Tornado F3s.

As they passed overhead although the night was very clear I could not honestly say they were F3s for certain ,but they certainly sounded like them. Soon however , I was to have a large chunk of doubt removed. The jets now were clearly on course to intercept the flightpath of the object which was now roughly five to ten miles away, and it's altitude had risen to between five and ten thousand feet.. They flew on towards it,picking up speed and height, and it looked as though they might bracket the object, but as they approached it, the object suddenly reversed the direction it was flying in, away from the approaching aircraft. The two aircraft clearly accelerated towards the object, changing direction to pursue it, and it was about now that I began to think. What if the thing turns on them and they can't hack it, what then? If this was an example of one of these "black" projects, then it was obvious that for it to be able to maneuver as it was doing,given the significant damage it had sustained, it was employing a kind of technology I had never heard of, and it was a very capable craft. If it was terrestrial in origin,then why would it fly away as it was doing , and then I thought,if it is terrestrial or otherwise, is it flying away to avoid more damage i.e. the damage had been inflicted by the interceptors earlier ,and they had caught up with it as it was waiting for some kind of backup or rescue..I began to think about rules of engagement in such circumstances, and also about the vehicles we send into space, and do we send them up with any kind of defensive armament?

Anyway, the three craft flew a very short way in line before the object simply shot upwards, and the jets also climbed vertically in pursuit. They were lost to sight then as they all went up through one of the very few clouds visible in the sky that night. By the speed the jets climbed I would say they almost certainly must have used afterburners,,as I have seen Hawks,Tornadoes , F15s, SU27s etc all going vertical, and the Hawks do not climb at such a rate as this pair were doing. Afterwards the heavy kerosene smell you get at displays was noticed by my son and I , which may seem unlikely, but there was very little wind that night. Perhaps thirty or forty seconds elapsed when to my relief I saw one of the jets coming back down with the second following soon after.

The jets flew a couple of circuits of the area taking perhaps another five minutes, before they departed in the general direction they had first appeared from. As they flew off I could hear another, larger aircraft approaching. My first impression was that it may be a commercial flight as our house is directly under one of the main flight paths into Liverpool airport , Before it flew over us however it banked sharply and began a tight circuit and my belief is that this aircraft was a Nimrod engaging in a search for the object using its electronic detection systems. The silhouette of the aircraft and the noise of its engines and the position of its engines would tell me it was a Nimrod. The aircraft continued to circuit the area for some fifteen to twenty minutes before it flew towards us , with all its forward lights on . As it approached our position it turned all of these lights off leaving only its running lights visible . It then began to gain altitude gently and continued in straight flight in south westerly direction, until it went out of sight.

I have already obtained feedback from the CAA regarding air traffic that evening and all they could confirm was that two Ryanair Boeings had been in the area over Liverpool that evening.

I do not expect you to confirm or deny any of these facts but I would ask that you give them some serious thought.

Whether this object is of terrestrial or extra terrestrial origin one thing is for certain. We as nation or we as a race had better get our fingers out as we are definitely second best to who ever had built this craft.

Yours Sincerely

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your letter dated 17 April 2001 in which you report a sighting of an 'unidentified flying object' in Grimsby on 16 April 2001. This office is the focal point within the Ministry of Defence for correspondence relating to 'UFOs'.

First, it may be helpful if I explain that the Ministry of Defence examines any reports of 'unidentified flying objects' it receives solely to establish whether what was seen might have some defence significance; namely, whether there is any evidence that the United Kingdom's airspace might have been compromised by hostile or unauthorised air activity. Unless there is evidence of a potential threat, and to date no 'UFO' report has revealed such evidence, MOD does not attempt to identify the precise nature of each reported sighting. We believe it is possible that rational explanations, such as aircraft lights or natural phenomena, could be found for them, but it is not the function of the MOD to provide this kind of aerial identification service. We could not justify expenditure of public funds on investigations which go beyond our specific defence remit.

With regard to your particular observation, I have looked back through our sighting report files and can confirm that we received no other reports of 'UFO' sightings for 16 April 2001 from anywhere in the United Kingdom. We are satisfied that there is no corroborating evidence to suggest that the United Kingdom's airspace was breached by unauthorised air activity.

Dear Head of M.O.D.

on the 16th April 2001 I was out walking my dog at about 1:30 am (I was going to my girlfriends house). As I entered Hilton Road, Grinstead, I looked towards the school fields on the left of the road when something in the sky caught my attention. It was ball shaped and looked about  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile up. It gave off a glow like a hot coal ember (orange / red). What was freaky, was that it dropped about half its height out of the air. I thought the object was going to fall to the ground, but instead it shot up like a stone from a catapult and vanished. Why I had to write about this to you - im not sure, I guess while I was watching the object, I feared it to be a weapon of some kind. Could you offer me some explanation for what I saw?

Yours Faithfully

P.S. One thing's for sure .. it left me feeling very excited.

Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing with reference to your report of an 'unidentified flying object', seen on 3 April, the details of which were passed to us by RAF West Drayton. This office is the focal point within the Ministry of Defence for correspondence relating to 'UFOs.'

Firstly, it may be helpful if I explain that the Ministry of Defence examines any reports of 'unidentified flying objects' it receives solely to establish whether what was seen might have some defence significance; namely, whether there is any evidence that the United Kingdom's airspace might have been compromised by hostile or unauthorised air activity.

Unless there is evidence of a potential threat to the United Kingdom from an external military source, and to date no 'UFO' report has revealed such evidence, we do not attempt to identify the precise nature of each reported sighting. We believe it is possible that rational explanations, such as aircraft lights or natural phenomena, could be found for them, but it is not the function of the MOD to provide this kind of aerial identification service. We could not justify expenditure of public funds on investigations which go beyond our specific defence remit.

With regard to your particular observation, I can confirm that we received no other reports of 'UFO' sightings for 3 April from anywhere in the UK. We are satisfied that there is no corroborating evidence to suggest that the United Kingdom's airspace was breached by unauthorised military aircraft.

Yours sincerely,

UNUSUAL LIGHTS SEEN NEAR CHIPPEHAM, WILTSHIRE ON TUESDAY 03 - 04 - 2001, 0235 HOURS.

At 0235 hours, Tuesday 03 April, 2001, whilst in the garden of my home at [REDACTED] Chippenham, Wiltshire (I'm an MoD Police officer currently stationed at [REDACTED] and as a result of many years of shift work, I tend to be a bit of a night owl so to have a cup of tea in my garden at this time of night is quite the norm!) I saw a pair of bright red lights moving from the SouthEast, heading towards the NorthWest, crossing just to the North of Chippenham. As the lights came parallel to my position I could see that they appeared to be approx 100 meters apart, with the trailing light 10 – 20 meters higher than the leading one. Each light had a double flashing pulse, approx 1 second apart, with the trailing light flashing first, immediately followed by the leading light. Judging the altitude is fairly difficult, but I doubt if they were much higher than 1000 feet, and were certainly less than a kilometre from my position. A small jet aircraft was following the lights approx 50 meters (maybe less) behind the trailing light. Visibility was excellent, with almost no cloud around at the time. There was a bright moon, and I could clearly see the silhouette of the pursuing aircraft and it's navigational lights. I was struck by the fact that I could clearly hear the engine of this aircraft (it was a very clear, still night) but not of multiple aircraft. I could see the background sky between the red flashing lights, which ruled it out as a solid object, and whereas I could clearly make out the silhouette of the jet, I could make out no solid objects in the vicinity of the red lights! It was very clear that both red lights and the following aircraft were on the same perspective because all maintained comparable speed, distance apart, and direction of travel. I observed the objects and the pursuing jet for at least 10 seconds before they passed from my view towards the NorthWest.

RECORD OF MESSAGE LEFT ON DAS(SEC) ANSWERPHONE FRIDAY 20 APRIL 2001 @ 16:15

[REDACTED] rang to leave details of an 'unidentified object' he saw on the Isle of Man at 19:35 on 19 April 2001. He described what he saw as 3 very large objects which resembled the constellation pattern of Apollo. They were travelling in formation about 5 miles away. He looked through binoculars at the 3rd object and saw a series of large (about 1-2 ft diameter) lights. Then a distinct formation separated, which was beautiful to look at, and headed off in a SE direction possibly towards Fylingdales or Norfolk.

Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing with reference to your letter of 12 March in which you enquire about an 'unidentified flying object' over Northern Ireland on 13 February and the possibility of an aircraft accident. This office is the focal point within the Ministry of Defence for correspondence relating to 'UFOs.'

Firstly, it may be helpful if I explain that the Ministry of Defence examines any reports of 'unidentified flying objects' it receives solely to establish whether what was seen might have some defence significance; namely, whether there is any evidence that the United Kingdom's airspace might have been compromised by hostile or unauthorised air activity.

Unless there is evidence of a potential threat to the United Kingdom from an external military source, and to date no 'UFO' report has revealed such evidence, we do not attempt to identify the precise nature of each reported sighting. We believe it is possible that rational explanations, such as aircraft lights or natural phenomena, could be found for them, but it is not the function of the MOD to provide this kind of aerial identification service. We could not justify expenditure of public funds on investigations which go beyond our specific defence remit.

With regard to your particular sighting, I can confirm that there were no military aircraft accidents anywhere in the UK on the 13 February. Also we are satisfied that there is no corroborating evidence to suggest that the United Kingdom's airspace was breached by unauthorised military activity on that date. I am therefore unable to assist you with your questions and can only suggest that you may wish to contact the other organisations mentioned in your letter.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir / Madam,

I am writing to you in the hope that you may be able to assist us in one of our current investigations concerning reports, from the public and media alike, of a possible plane crash in Northern Ireland in mid-February.

The incident occurred on the evening of Tuesday, February 13th, when members of the public contacted the Royal Ulster Constabulary after seeing what they thought was an aircraft, trailing smoke, crashing onto Benoughlin Mountain, near Kinawley in County Fermanagh. Following these calls, RUC and Army personnel conducted a search of the area, with negative results.

The incident was reported here in the Republic on RTE radio news bulletins that night, and again early the next day. However, I've yet to hear what the conclusions reached by the Northern Ireland security forces were. In order to put this case to rest, I would be very much obliged if you could please let me know the following.....

1. Was anything found?
2. Did astronomers at Armagh Observatory - or elsewhere - conclude that it was a meteorite, etc., so that I can contact them for further details? If this conclusion was reached, who reached it?
3. Can you let me know which other agencies, besides police and army units in Northern Ireland, were either alerted to this situation or took part in assisting in the search? (Hospitals, mountain rescue, etc.?)
4. Could you please check and let me know which agencies in the Republic were also alerted to this incident? I understand from news reports that members of the public phoned the Garda (police) in County Cavan, but which bodies were alerted or consulted by the security forces in Northern Ireland? The Garda Siochana, for example, or the Irish Aviation Authority, the Republic's airports / Air Traffic Control centres, military, and so on?
5. Without revealing sensitive operational details, could you let me know if this incident was in any way connected to the sealing off of land near Tempo, County Fermanagh, the following day, after a 'suspicious object' was found?

If you could kindly furnish me with some details, then we can contact these agencies and Irish Government departments, and so forth. After initial enquiries, the only air crash in Northern Ireland in that time frame was that of a privately-operated Jet Provost, on Monday the 12th. The aircraft ditched in mudflats at the mouth of the Foyle river, and it was subsequently lifted clear by an RAF-operated Chinook.

Thank you very much indeed for your time, and I hope that you may be able to put an end to this mystery!

Yours sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing with reference to your report of a sighting of an 'unidentified flying object' on 31 March 2001. The report was passed to this office by the Aeronautical Information Service (Military) at RAF West Drayton as we are the focal point within the Ministry of Defence for correspondence relating to 'UFOs.'

First, it may be helpful if I explain that the Ministry of Defence examines any reports of 'unidentified flying objects' it receives solely to establish whether what was seen might have some defence significance; namely, whether there is any evidence that the United Kingdom's airspace might have been compromised by hostile or unauthorised air activity. Unless there is evidence of a potential threat, and to date no 'UFO' report has revealed such evidence, MOD does not attempt to identify the precise nature of each reported sighting. We could not justify expenditure of public funds on investigations which go beyond our specific defence remit.

With regard to your particular observation, I have looked back through our sighting report files and can confirm that we received no other reports of 'UFO' sightings for 31 March 2001 from anywhere in the United Kingdom. We are satisfied that there is no corroborating evidence to suggest that the United Kingdom's airspace was breached by unauthorised air activity.

Yours sincerely

Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing with reference to your report of a sighting of an 'unidentified flying object' on 26 March 2001. The report was passed to the Ministry of Defence by Edinburgh Air Traffic Control and this office is the focal point within the MOD for correspondence relating to 'UFOs.'

First, it may be helpful if I explain that the Ministry of Defence examines any reports of 'unidentified flying objects' it receives solely to establish whether what was seen might have some defence significance; namely, whether there is any evidence that the United Kingdom's airspace might have been compromised by hostile or unauthorised air activity. Unless there is evidence of a potential threat, and to date no 'UFO' report has revealed such evidence, MOD does not attempt to identify the precise nature of each reported sighting. We believe it is possible that rational explanations, such as aircraft lights or natural phenomena, could be found for them, but it is not the function of the MOD to provide this kind of aerial identification service. We could not justify expenditure of public funds on investigations which go beyond our specific defence remit.

With regard to your particular observation, I have looked back through our sighting report files and can confirm that we received no other reports of 'UFO' sightings for 26 March 2001 from anywhere in the United Kingdom. We are satisfied that there is no corroborating evidence to suggest that the United Kingdom's airspace was breached by unauthorised air activity.

Yours sincerely

Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing with reference to your report of a sighting of an 'unidentified flying object' on 1 March 2001. The report was passed to us by the Aeronautical Information Service (Military) at RAF West Drayton as this office is the focal point within the Ministry of Defence for correspondence relating to 'UFOs.'

First, it may be helpful if I explain that the Ministry of Defence examines any reports of 'unidentified flying objects' it receives solely to establish whether what was seen might have some defence significance; namely, whether there is any evidence that the United Kingdom's airspace might have been compromised by hostile or unauthorised air activity. Unless there is evidence of a potential threat, and to date no 'UFO' report has revealed such evidence, MOD does not attempt to identify the precise nature of each reported sighting. We believe it is possible that rational explanations, such as aircraft lights or natural phenomena, could be found for them, but it is not the function of the MOD to provide this kind of aerial identification service. We could not justify expenditure of public funds on investigations which go beyond our specific defence remit.

I should wish to assure you that the integrity of the UK's airspace in peacetime is maintained through continuous policing of the UK Air Defence Region by the Royal Air Force and we remain vigilant for any potential military threat. We are satisfied that there is no corroborating evidence to suggest that on 1 March 2001 the United Kingdom's airspace was breached by unauthorised air activity.

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your recent letter, in which you report a sighting of an 'unidentified flying object' on 16 February 2001. I can confirm that we received no sightings reports from Nottingham, Leeds or Hull for the date in question. You may wish to know, however, that we received the following reports:

| Date     | Town/City  | County         |
|----------|------------|----------------|
| 16/02/01 | Stanford   | Lincolnshire   |
| 16/02/01 | Ruskington | Lincolnshire   |
| 16/02/01 | Minsterley | Shropshire     |
| 17/02/01 | Bradford   | West Yorkshire |

We are satisfied that there is no corroborating evidence to suggest that the United Kingdom's airspace was breached on these dates by unauthorised air activity, which, as you will be aware from previous correspondence, is the only interest we have in these matters.

Yours sincerely
