MFA to let world know about brazen Ukrainian attack in Bryansk Region — spokeswoman

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs will make this information available to all international platforms as another proof of the criminality of the Kyiv regime, said Maria Zakharova

MOSCOW, March 2. /TASS/. The Russian Foreign Ministry intends to provide full information about the Ukrainian sabotage attack on the Bryansk Region to all international platforms, documenting yet another crime by the Kiev regime, Spokeswoman Maria Zakharova told the RBC television channel on Thursday.

"The Ministry of Foreign Affairs will make this information available to all international platforms as yet one more piece of evidence of the criminality of the Kiev regime, highlighting it in particular. [This is imperative] because the Western 'partners' - which are, in fact, regimes that long ago discredited themselves - are working overtime to completely ignore all of the facts of those criminal actions that, regrettably, are becoming more and more prevalent on the part of the Zelensky regime. Today's developments, I think, leave no illusions as to the goals of and methods" employed by the Ukrainian leadership, the diplomat stressed.
