Author's Note

This book is a record of a most unusual set of communications. They are described in the everyday context in which they occurred. It is therefore not a scientific document, but it does contain observations at first hand from a number of reliable persons. Despite the necessity of selecting from the communications I feel that this book is faithful to the events it portrays. I hope that the interest – and perhaps controversy – that this book will generate will not centre on the brief notes at the end of the book where I offer some personal thoughts on the genesis of the messages. These notes are simply to encourage discussion, for in all these matters I am acutely conscious of the inadequacy of my own knowledge. But I share the opinion and optimism of Sir William Crookes who, when asked to explain how the psychic, D. D. Home, managed his feats, retorted: 'I didn't say it was possible, I said it happened!'

Chester, May 1988

Prologue

Most people do not take heed of the things they encounter nor do they grasp them even when they have learned about them, although they suppose they do.

Heraclitus (Fr 57)

DODLESTON: four miles south-west of Chester in that anachronistic enclave of Cheshire on the Welsh side of the Dee.

Take the Kinnerton road from Chester – leave behind the suburbs of Westminster Park and Lache – turn left through the dark ribbon of Bretton Woods. Dodleston one mile.

Ahead flat Cheshire farmland runs carelessly towards the first Welsh hills, Hope Mountain and beyond that the high moors of Minera.

Along the lane appear the chicken wire and weather-boarding of the hunt kennels; the maize fields and ancient Greenwalls Farm are hidden by decaying orchards. The road is uneven, showing the effects of council neglect and the filth of tractors and animals by turns. A sharp right and left and there, tucked shyly into the verge, is the village sign.

Half the village is a dormer for the heavily mortgaged. The rest live on two roads. Church Road connects, at one end, the village school and a small council estate to the Red Lion, church and village hall at the other. Bisecting Church Road is Kinnerton Road, which contains two more pivots of village life. Firstly Mr Hughes's shop and post office, Chapel Stores, and, further along, the farm from which milk deliveries are organized early each morning.

The name Chapel Stores bears testimony to some of the dissonant influences acting upon this otherwise quite typical Cheshire village. Welsh nonconformism built the tiny chapel, flourished briefly then withdrew, leaving only the building. Facing it are the hard Ruabon brick houses, built by the Duke of Westminster, which represent the deeply conservative tenor of rural life. Each has a 'W' picked out in blue bricks across its upper storey as a permanent reminder of the all-pervading influence of the English aristocracy.

Many of the Duke's villages and hamlets find their names echoed in expensive areas of London: Belgravia, Eccleston Square, Eaton Square. But not Dodleston. For in truth Dodleston was never entirely beholden to the Grosvenors.

And there it rests between the Welsh border, a mile across the drained and empty lands of the Burton Meadows, and the Duke's estate at Eaton.

From the Welsh side, from Town Ditch and Golly, Dodleston can be seen clearly, straggling a low ridge above the Meadows. A castle mound and its trees form one landmark and the twin silage towers of Moat Farm another, but clumps of trees and then ones and twos break up the middle distance. This settlement, one thousand years old in 1982, settled for insignificance centuries ago. It is a place both confident and obscure.

Dodleston is not quite spoilt, and consequently the village is brimful of would-be squires, aspiring businessmen affecting concern and love for the slower more sentimental pace of rural life. So the Red Lion car park has its scattering of XJSs and Porsches but very few are in awe of this kind of ostentation. The landlord's coffers increase 'at the same rate as the girth of his sons', said someone unkindly, but equally Frank Cummins, a die-hard villager in a demob hat and coat, will be found fixing planks with secondhand nails. The village has no dominant group and although the ebb and flow of traffic along its roads points to many changes it is an eventempered place. Sometimes the tempo changes at weekends, when the roar of motorcycles and modified Ford Escorts marks closing time or the sounds of a party drift across the houses. For the rest, the years bring noisy adolescents to the phone box at the junction to kick footballs, tin cans and occasionally each other, until they tire, grow older and gain entry to the pubs, falling in and out of love and the minicabs which ply to and from the city clubs.

Meadow Cottage stands between Chapel Stores and the phone box, the third in a row of four, tiny, 18th-century dwellings facing onto Kinnerton Road.

It is accessible at the front from Kinnerton Road and at the rear by Church Road. The village passes the door. Children throw wrappers and Coke cans into the small front gardens across the knee-high brick wall. In the sharp, raw mornings cars queuing alongside its gate, their engines ticking over excitedly, clog up the road by the shop. This is my house. It is late autumn 1984.

Nicola Bagguley stood with her luggage on the pavement outside the funeral director's in Delamere Street, Chester. I pulled across to her side of the road and parked on the double yellow lines. It was six o'clock in the evening and dark. The city was shutting down for the day and the traffic circulated slowly and painfully, all steamy exhausts and stoplights up and down the Ring Road. Despite this I was happy. Seeing Nic was always essentially soothing. She came perhaps in the hope that I knew something of the whereabouts of Rob Jones, a good friend, but the transatlantic wires were quiet and had been so for three months. Perhaps she also came for the company and to see how the renovation of the cottage was progressing. I had made much of the rigours of living without kitchen or bathroom all summer; of the money I'd spent and the frustrations of it all. Deep down I was pleased just to be able to sit on my own settee in front of my own fire without moving a bag of cement. Nic's being here was a statement of intent, signifying normality, simple pleasure and a better end to a shaky year.

Nic was broke, having come back from three months in East Africa. She had been living less than salubriously in hotels and trains which had insect infestation and bugs by the squadron. The better hotels, she said, had canisters of a spray called 'Doom' which, far from killing the roaches, served only to stimulate them. As Nic related her experiences it became clear that she had not escaped from her own recent past: teaching, unsatisfactory relationships, a sense of time slipping away. Life at the cottage, if not ideal, was a marginally better proposition for her. In return she was to help redecorate.

I was emerging from a long, terrible six months which had seen all the downstairs of the house gutted and then restored. There had been months of living in one room with only a kettle and dust for comfort. That and teaching. I was shattered. But for a holiday in Austria with the school last half term I'd have crumbled. Debbie, my girlfriend, stayed with me through the building work but our relationship suffered; it felt as if cement dust was eroding it. Now the work was all finished on the ground floor but it made the upstairs look shabby. Another season of work was inevitable but, please God, not until spring.

Some people love to tinker with their homes, but not me. I do what I have to do. This now meant decorating the finished part. Painting was on the agenda and alternating with bouts of eating wholemeal pizza, drinking wine and a few quarts of tea, some painting did get done.

'What's this?' asked Nic, pointing to some marks on the wall between the bathroom and kitchen. 'Has someone been putting their feet on here?'

I went over to her. 'They do look a bit "footprinty", don't they? You've got to be in the right place to see them. They've been there for ages.'

'Whose feet are they?'

'No one has owned up, too small for me or Deb. Deb says she can see six toes in the print.'

We laughed. All three of us began re-examining the dusty outlines for signs of an extra toe. Opinion was mixed. We then imagined how it was done, whether it was by standing on a chair or the table or both, for after seemingly emerging from the small, oblong electric wall heater they ambled diagonally upwards as far as the edge of the ceiling.

They had appeared in late August or September 1984. No one had much to say about them other than that they were size five. Quite obviously somebody was fooling around. By late autumn they were very faint indeed.

I remember those footprints disappearing and the kitchen area growing more homely as colour replaced concrete drab and grubby first coats.

At night Debbie and I slept in the front bedroom on an old creaking bed with a lumpy feather mattress. Nic got the back bedroom with the four-track recording equipment, electric guitars and a single mattress on the floor.

The morning after the footprints were painted over I had been downstairs to the bathroom and passed through the kitchen perhaps twice before I looked closely at the wall (life's too interesting to spend time wondering about walls) but it stopped me in mid-stride when I did look. The footprints had returned. They were not exactly in their former position so it was not possible that they were the old ones come through. They were new, six-toed, composed once more of dust from the floor. I called the girls. Nic and Deb came down, they were more than just puzzled and Nic was, I'm certain, quite horrified. She had painted them out the day before. I thought she was just about ready to pack her belongings and go.

None of us had stirred that night, but we asked ourselves all the usual questions about whether the door had been closed and so on. We decided that one of us must have developed a strange form of sleepwalking. Nic soon recovered and was persuaded to stay, but equally none of us felt easy about it. The footprints were painted out once more. They did not reappear but, like children, all three of us avoided going downstairs in the night.

Some two days after the footprints had been painted out for good and the entire episode was beginning to seem hilarious we made a large-scale foray to Chester to stock up on food. On our return we left a raggy pile of about a dozen catfood tins on the floor and too many packets, tins, loaves and so forth tucked into too little cupboard space. Nothing was done about sorting all this before bedtime but by morning the catfood tins were neatly ordered in imitation of a human pyramid, striking out from the brick corner pillar towards the fridge like a peninsula on a rocky coast. On top of the pyramid were three further tins. I discovered this piece of silent housework at about 8.00 A.M. and stood there gazing at it, all the while trying to remember if I had heard anyone get up in the night. The girls regarded it with a mixture of interest and trepidation. There followed a breakfast time edition of 'Any Questions'.

The principal suspect was John, a lazy guitar player who, along with keyboard player Stennet, often used the little four-track in the back bedroom. They had pretty free access to the place. John in particular was keen on seeing Deb and had been whiling away a largely tuneless couple of hours here every few days. Nic was convinced he was a likely culprit as he had a very strange sense of humour. I was not so sure. The cottage was not particularly secure; almost anyone could get in with a little effort. Why bother with footprints and making mock-art structures out of catfood tins?

Next morning there was no disturbance but the following night another stacking occurred. This time we found a single column approximately four feet high composed of a couple of two-litre bottles of lemonade, a packet of dry catfood and a kitchen roll. It was a precarious construction. It looked a little too good for John.

Slowly a sense of unease permeated the cottage and its inhabitants. The outside doors were more rigorously checked at night, the windows shut. It was affecting our imagination, and the creaking of the ceiling or furniture, previously unnoticed, became a matter for concern. One night Nic thought she saw a dense shadow pass her window above the kitchen. Deb and I awoke simultaneously the same night because we thought someone was in the room. In both cases there was nothing there. Sleep became less settled. Anxiety came with darkness; a sense of foolishness with daylight.

Meadow Cottage is very small for three people. If I wanted to be alone I would drive a dreadfully noisy but reliable Volkswagen out on to the lanes and just motor for an hour or two. After one such occasion, a few days after the stacking of the lemonade bottles, I returned to the cottage to be told that there had been a further twist. It was a calm, mild December evening. Nic and Deb had been sitting around the fire chatting when the temperature had dropped slightly and a strong gust of wind drove under the door from the kitchen. It was forceful enough to catch the day's paper, which was folded up on the floor about six feet from the door, and take it capriciously up into the air above the level of the chair arm. It came down in three sections. Other pieces of paper were also scattered. Nic and Deb looked at each other in silence for a few seconds before Nic suggested checking the back door and the kitchen window. All was secure. John wasn't responsible this time. A freak of nature perhaps, but our sensitivity to the slightly unusual was not about to be alleviated.

Nic had left her job teaching English in July. She vaguely planned to join or create an 'alternative' cabaret band in the hope of gaining enough performing credits for an Equity card. To this end she wanted to write sketches and dialogue in preparation and I suggested that she use a word processor as it would be smarter and more creative than a typewriter. She could cut chunks out, stick them in different places and get a perfect copy every time. Hawarden High School, where I taught, had over a dozen simple but useful BBC microcomputers and at least eight containing the word processing chip EDWORD. Perhaps one of the reasons I went to the trouble of booking, collecting and delivering a computer, disc drive and screen to the cottage was quite selfish: Nic was full of energy and enthusiasm and at that fag end of the autumn term it was hard to find enough emotional energy to match hers. Give her a computer and she'll entertain herself, I thought. And so she did.

Providing you remember to get a 'floppy disk' to store your work on, a word processor is very simple to use. I explained to Nic that all she needed to do was type in *D, press RETURN and then * EDWORD, another RETURN and the word processing system was there, all ready to go, with a simple menu of choices before you on the screen. You can create a document, revise one you have begun, just look at it, or look at the index. I told her that every piece of work, every file, has to have a name. These names are kept by the computer on an index so it is easy to find your work or check what other work is held on the disk you are using. It was designed for primary-school children and is simple and fun. We set it up in the kitchen as the only table we had was in that room. She loved it to bits and slogged away for hours.

A Sunday evening in December. I was bored. Dave Lovell's house in Hawarden looked like a good way of passing a few hours. The idea of going into school on Monday! Nic and Deb agreed to come, so off we went, leaving stuff lying around as usual.

David Lovell lives on the Penarlag estate. A backwater of a backwater, the land of the rattling camshafts I called it. This is unfair, but in those streets there is a continuous theatre of irritated men struggling under the bonnets of broken-down Fords and Vauxhalls. Like many old people their cars wanted to be left in peace to die in dignity, instead they were mistreated in the name of life.

Weaving between these eternal actors are the toddlers and their dogs. Their purpose is to create havoc. The estate is not uniformly poor or even ravaged but Dave hates it because, or in spite of, the fact that he has lived there for ten years. His wife Sian stays slim on the nervous energy consumed in keeping a good house and despising every corner of it.

Nothing was complicated at Dave's. He boiled problems down. There were just two: not enough money or too much money. Depending on his mood he would elaborate upon one or the other. No pretentiousness here. Dave is a practical man – a builder, car mechanic, friend. Indeed there is a comfort in this sort of routine and besides he had some things that the cottage didn't have: a video and a television. On this occasion I think we spent about three hours setting the world back on its feet and drinking tea until restlessness took over again. Back, then, the six or seven miles to the cottage. The weekend was gone.

The computer was still on, nobody had remembered to see to it. The screen no longer showed the EDWORD menu but the basic screen message:

BBC B 32K Acorn DFS

Nic must have pressed the BREAK key by mistake so I had to get back into EDWORD. I idly called up the index to see what she'd been doing. I had a mind to read one of her sketches. I also wanted to avoid making the coffee.

There appeared to be a new file named KDN. Nic's work was under single letter file names, e.g., D or O. The only other material on the disc was a colleague's timetabling outlines, as it was a borrowed disk. I called file KDN up, the disc drive hummed and clicked.

I couldn't help it, the most disturbing and cliché-ridden feeling came over me. A shiver ran down my spine that threatened to shake my feet. I caught the first two lines and read and reread them. The rest I didn't seem to see in those first seconds. It was obviously to us. It was appalling. I felt bad that I had called it into view. Deb started off the questions, and they got nowhere.

Hawarden School is a neat collection of brick buildings alongside the old A55 beyond Hawarden Village towards Ewloe. It used to be a grammar school and the ethos and prestige still linger. Most of the parents felt, and still feel, that this made Hawarden a 'good' school. I taught economics and worked most of the week in the school house: at one time the Headmaster's house, then a library but most recently the sixth-form area. The sixth, in their playfulness, had eaten away at the fabric and furnishings like adolescent mice, but the essential character of the building remained despite this. Solid, red-brick, Edwardian aspects stretched upwards, encompassing metal-framed windows with leaded lights, and leading towards a red-tiled roof and two, now redundant, chimney stacks. The roof leaked and damp permeated the walls of the remedial department, housed in the attic.

On this Monday I parked at the other end of the school, as near as possible to the computer rooms. The 'poem' was stored on a three-and-a-half-inch diskette. It wasn't possible to print it up before lunch as bells were ringing for registration. Bells, bells, bells. As the diskette belonged to the maths department I had to leave it in a clanky metal cupboard with the others.

Tao-Tao-Bay-Beep ... the computer club was ... Beep Whee ... little more than Space Invaders for kids deprived ... Takka ... of the arcade or practising for the evening. The room was divided into two ... Beep ... 'Yes! Darren!' ... Beyond the partition was an oasis of comparative quiet as it was out of bounds. I found the diskette and printed the poem up. It looked quite impressive. Then again the printing up of any old rubbish improves its status immeasurably. The tabloid press is founded on this principle. I made a few copies all the same. It now seemed less resonant, less perturbing, to have it on paper.

Christmas drew nearer and the nights became unbelievably long. The end of term sagged like an overburdened washing line: carol services, cheap films and, as a backdrop to it all, fatigue. The last of my emotional energy had dissipated amongst the children weeks ago. I should have just walked out and gone home to bed. Most staff felt that way.

The cottage continued to brood. Nic decided to take Christmas with the folks, so she bussed down to deepest Basingstoke. The day before she left, a four-pack of lager was rearranged into an insecure tower. Parallel to it was a stack of four catfood tins. Once again the area within three feet of the exposed brick pillar in the kitchen was the focus of activity. Already the novelty of these things was wearing off but the discovery of blackened, drawn-out threads of plastic – all that remained of the ties around the lager pack – suggested that whoever was responsible was now playing with fire. I groaned inwardly. Neither Debbie nor I wanted this feeling of edginess to add more anxiety to our domestic arrangements, but it seemed beyond our control.

The stacking of objects continued every few days and on one occasion chalk marks were seen on the brick corner support. But it was the day before a party and we assumed it was part of the joke.

Next time I borrowed a computer was in early February. There were several reasons. Nic, by now returned to the cottage, wished to continue her sketches. She was certainly beginning to make contacts down south and talked of prospects on the alternative cabaret circuit. Deb and I wanted the distraction of a few computer games. Lastly I wanted to use the word processor to draw up an agreement between John, Stennet and myself. We were going to attempt to push a handful of songs towards a few music publishers. It was an act of faith, as there was no real unity of purpose between us. I suspected John of being behind any hoax and moreover of being as keen to see Debbie as to record a good song. Stennet was a really nice guy but a leaf in the wind.

It was not a conscious decision to leave the computer in the kitchen, once more completely unattended, on another dull Sunday in winter, but there it sat, the power on, while we three rambled off in the rusty Volkswagen with its wheel bearing giving off the sound of a herd of buffalo.

Back at the cottage later that evening Nic said, rather camping it up, 'Shall we have a look at the computer, chaps? You never know, John might have been at it again.'

I fetched up the index.

'Not again!'

'Oh no!'

They weren't the most original reactions I've encountered. Once more there was an extra entry: this was called 'REATE'. Another click and burr and a short message unfolded.

I WRYTE ON BEHAL THE OF MANYE

WOT STRANGE WORDES THOU SPEKE, ALTHOUGH, I MUSTE CONFESS THAT I HATH ALSO BEENE ILL- SCHOOLED. SOMETYMES METHINKS ALTERACIONS ARE SOMEWOT BARFUL, FOR THEY BREAKE MANYE A SLEPES IN MYNE BED.

THOU ART GOODLY MAN WHO HATH FANCIFUL WOMAN WHO DWEL IN MYNE HOME, I HATH NO WANT TO AFFREY, FOR ONLIE SYTH MYNE HALF WYTED ANTIC HAS RIPPED ATTWAIN MYNE BOUND HATH I BEENE WRETHED A-NYTE. I HATH SEENE MANYE ALTERACIONS (LASTLY CHARGE HOUSE AND THOU HOME), 'TIS A FITTING PLACE, WITH LYTES WHICHE DEVYLL MAKETH, AND COSTLY THYNGS, THAT ONLIE MYNE FRIEND, EDMUND GREY CAN AFFORE, OR THE KING HIMSELVE.

'TWAS A GREATE CRYME TO HATH BRIBED MYNE HOUSE L W.

I write on behalf of many

What strange words you speak, although, I must confess that I too have been badly educated. Sometimes it seems changes are somewhat obstructive, for many a time they disturb me sleeping in my bed.

You are a worthy man who has a fanciful woman and you live in my house, I have no wish to alarm you, for it is only since the half-witted fool [trick?] ripped apart my confines have I been tormented at nights.

I have seen many changes (lastly the school house and your home). It is a fitting place, with lights which the devil makes, and costly things, which only my friend, Edmund Grey can afford, or the king himself.

It was a great crime to have stolen my house.

LW.

All the time I was wondering, quite ridiculously, why the file was called 'REATE'. It came to me, the menu screen offers:

CREATE VIEW REVISE FORMAT INDEX

Someone wanting to 'CREATE' a file would press C and the computer would instantly offer up a clean file; the rest of the letters would then form the file name 'REATE'.

Another message; what a crazy business! No one had seriously expected anything. I had felt pretty uneasy after the last one but this was completely different. It was 'old' or 'quaint' in style. It was signed LW. Twelve lines of lousy spelling, disjointed sense and obscure reference. Whatever it meant, whatever Nic or Debbie felt about it, it sang to me. It wasn't a coldness or a dark apprehensiveness on this occasion. After the initial shock I became absorbed by it. We all were. The questions flew faster than storm-driven hailstones and vanished as quickly. A ghost? A spirit? A joke? A poltergeist? No clear answers, no answers of any kind. I scanned the disk index for other new entries. I found two more but both were blank.

When the fuss had subsided we looked at the content of the message from 'LW'. I was baffled by at least three words. They were 'wrethed', 'charge house' and 'bribed' (as used in this way). At face value we were in someone's house, someone who had felt the effects of the changes in the house. I was a 'goodly man' but I had committed a great crime. I had lights which the 'devyll maketh'. This prompted another round of discussion on ghosts and theories about them (which it was clear none of us had any grasp on). There was a feeling that we should try and link the disturbances, such as the stacking and the appearance of the chalk marks on the pillar, to this message. Perhaps we could tie in the 'poem'. That didn't take long: it was all some hoax. Look at the facts!

But it niggled me, those words of 'LW' spoke to me more than I could reason why. Nic was all for it being John. I scratched around for ideas, very few came. I'd show this message to a few of my colleagues, as I'd shown the poem weeks ago, to get some other perspectives on it.

Dinner – only the staff and a few children called it lunch – was taken in a garish school hall on unsteady dropleaf tables. These were trundled from a corner and returned there after every meal of every school day. The dinner queue, for a school, was tolerable but to minimize the amount of noise I took dinner as early as possible. Peter Trinder, Head of sixth form, had similar inclinations, I suspected. He was good, lively company; perhaps the one man in the school who would speak his mind to anyone on any subject whatever. He felt it the duty of an educated man. And, at times, almost everyone disagreed with him profoundly.

Long ago Peter had taught me English. Ignoring many of the technical details, what he really taught was the imperative that one should open up one's mind. Peter was a man of passionate conviction, which was more valuable, more provocative than anything most staff could offer. Education is about life not packaged mediocrity.

It was from him, then, one lunchtime before the milling of children and the noise began, that I detected some interest about those odd words on the computer.

The table was moderately busy and I sensed other ears picking out the crazy bits; some knew already, others would store up the snippets for future reference. Peter was alive to these words. 'Charge house' was an important one, 'wrethed' another, 'barful' yet another. I think he knew straight away that there was something most curious going on but I was surprised by his enthusiasm. The word 'wrethed' was completely unknown to him. At his request I supplied a copy of the whole message to him later in the day. He wrote a little note about it that afternoon and put it in my pigeonhole in the staff room. It began, 'Utterly fascinating', and the rest was an analysis of the words with a little comment. It ended with the following '... if it's a hoax, what a romp!'

A day or two later Peter came to sit by me in the staff room. He then looked at me quite seriously and asked if it was a hoax, if I was stringing him along. I knew I wasn't making it up so I answered him quite sincerely. He asked if I would mind letting him have a copy of anything further I might receive. I readily agreed. From then on I knew that there was another person to whom I could turn for advice, someone outside the immediate experience who understood the position.

The following Saturday, 9 February, John Cummins, a good friend and part-time villager, as he now worked as a solicitor in London, sat briefly in front of the fire then stood up and resumed his exposition (it could be called nothing else) on the possible source of the message and the simple necessity, damnit courtesy, of a reply. He filled the air with his enthusiasm and pipe tobacco smoke as he moved from kitchen to fireside and back again. It began to seem quite natural that a reply could embarrass no one. John was discreet; after all, he was a solicitor. Debbie was already finding him pen and paper. Silence. What do we reply? Who were we talking to? John said, 'Of course the date, our date, must come first.' The pipe came out of his mouth and the perambulations continued. 'It seems that the message comes from someone using an older form of English so let's try the 17th century.' A disorderly run of questions followed, none of them carefully thought out.

We settled for the following imprecise jumble of questions. It was clumsy but on it went; it was little more than a joke after all. I typed it up on the computer.

In the reign of Queen Elizabeth the Second.

Dear LW. Thank you for your message.

We are sorry for disturbing you. What would you like us to do? Did you live in a house on this land in about 1620? Do you want us to tell you more about our time? Why write a poem? Who is Edward Grey? Is he related to the Egerton family? Do you have a family? Is the King James or Charles Stuart? What is the charge house? Was this village called Dodleston in your life and how many families lived here? Thank you very much for your messages. Thank you for not making us afraid.

Ken, Debbie and John

John stood beside me adapting and correcting as he thought fit, all the time enthusing in his charmingly tongue-in-cheek manner. If he so much as laughed I was going to pack it all in. But he was restrained.

Later, feeling a little bemused, I sat by the front window and looked out on to Kinnerton Road trying to take in the course we had set out on. However, John's enthusiasm had taken root. I was already planning that we should leave the cottage that evening to give 'it' a chance to write back. As if!

Later the following afternoon John had returned to Islington and I was reading him the reply to our message down the telephone as Deb shouted it to me from the kitchen. It was tremendous! John was scribbling it down as he heard it. I hardly stopped to consider it as I spoke to him. John said he'd look up what he could and then ring back. Slowly, a degree of reflection and some analysis crept in.

'The Kyng, of cors, is Henry VIII who is six and fortie' was one confident line but the message was signed 'LW 28 March anno 1521 (?)'. Not only was the date incongruous but the construction — especially the question marks within parentheses and the date — was a modern idiom. Deb joined me in the living room. I was now more sombre. I felt most strongly that we were being hoaxed and I wanted to have a good look at that message from LW. Debbie went to call it up again from the disc. No chance, it had gone completely. Things were getting worse. A dodgy message and a dodgy computer. John was the only one with a few notes about the message. I'd have to recover it as best I could. I was most unhappy about this. Poor Debbie got the blame but it was unfair of me. She said she hadn't touched anything. I rang John to ask him for his notes. We were all unhappy about the information the message contained.

Below is a transcript of the message, adapted from memory and from John's notes. Words which are in italic are as originally received.

Edmund Grey, brother of John Grey lives at Kinertone Hall(?)
Thy Kyng, of cors, is Henry VIII who is six and fortie I ne woot of Kyng James Myne charge house is a place of loore (schoolyng(?))
LW 28 March anno 1521 (?)

King Henry, one of my favourite kings. He was the only one I found interesting. I knew something of him and it came clearly to mind that Henry VIII was not even close to forty-six in 1521. He had been on the throne about twelve years and was still a young man. Even given that the 10 February message we had was secondhand via John's notes it stank of fraud.

It was some days later that Peter Trinder found out that Kinnerton Hall was built at the end of the 17th century and nowhere was there evidence of an Edmund Grey this side of Ruthin. This latter point didn't bother me as much as did the discrepancies over the date. John Cummins even doubted that the house would be built of 'oke and stoone'. This seemed to leave the definition of 'charge house' as the only reliable item.

16 February.

A Saturday. The computer had been brought to the cottage once again but quite deliberately with the intention of obtaining, if possible, some more words from LW. I'd asked about his family and whether he went to Chester market and so on; I didn't want to challenge him, I'd let it ride, give him enough rope, etc. I was also keen to get down to Rick Steele's garage in Holt. I had bought an old XJ6 Coupe from Rick a little before Christmas. It was ready to be moved to another garage, in Ewloe, for some bodywork repairs. Being a Jaguar fanatic was a lovely diversion from teaching.

It was bitterly cold at Castle Garage and the car wouldn't start. They had to leave a fan heater on the engine for half an hour, and I wondered if it was an omen of things to come. But as I followed the Jaguar along the Chester southerly bypass it looked good and my spirits rose a little. Back to the cottage. A stack of three milk cartons on the kitchen floor. That was unexceptional but, by heavens, the monitor screen was full of text. More, two screens were full: evidently LW could cope with the scrolling action of the word processor. Gentlemen from other times can't do this!

But I thought it wonderful to see so much material. With this to work on we'd soon find out what was what. I saved the message to disk very carefully each time I looked at it. No mistakes.

My goodly friend, I must needs say, how is it that there are many things of which I have no knowledge. It seems to me that if you cannot say why you are in my house, then I can no more help you than if my wits had gone. I have no kinfolk I can tell you about, my wife was taken with the pestilence and the Lord did take her soul and her unborn son (1517). My farm it is humble but it has a pretty parcel of land, it has red-stone footings and clean rushes on the beaten floor. This season I have much to do, I have to sow my barley early for my ale, it is this that is my craft and which I am best at I fancy. Also I have to go to Nantwich to my known friend Richard Wishall whose farm is so great as to allow him a four-year rotation of fallow. I do so envy him, he has much there, but nothing that delights me more than his cheese it cannot be equalled by any other for pleasantness of taste and wholesomeness of digestion. I shall also call at Nantwich market it is not so great as Chester market by the cross but it is of some interest. I shall need to go to Chester this season to get my shoes, my goodly friend Thomas Aldersay, a tailor by craft, makes them sometimes, I also make shoes but none of my swine are ready it is far too costly unless I need kill one. Do you know the country of Chester the Water Gate is a place that brings many traders it is a shame the port does shrink I can remember great ships now they get smaller by each tide, but Chester port is still greater than that of Liverpool. I am often to the east wall of Chester, Cow Lane, it is not so tiresome there than by the cross that is when my fowl or swine do not trip up my poor body I hear tell that you are a teacher in Hawarden do you mean Haordine(?) Do you still earn the great sum of twenty pounds per year(?) I remember my unpleasant dean Henry Mann, who is likened to a fish. 'If any boy shall appear naturally averse to learning after fair trial he shall be expelled elsewhere lest like a drone he should devour the bees' honey'. Nay I cannot make merry on holy day for fear of my life my friend was once a-fluting on a holy day and did have his ears pinned to the wood block I think when you say Dodleston you mean Dudleston. My queen of course is Catherine Parr.

Lukas

It was the work of an intelligent man. His first name appeared in this message: 'Lukas'. Welcome to the puzzle.

The phrase 'red-stoon footyngs' caught my eye. We had red stone blocks, sandstone blocks, in a heap by the damson tree. They'd been dug up during the renovation work. Indeed, Dave Lovell recalled that several lay in a line parallel to the pillar and old outshut wall. They were originally within three feet of the bathroom wall and the apparent centre of stacking and related activity alongside the pillar. They were certainly red sandstone. This meant nothing to the sceptic in me – well, it nagged perhaps. Anyone could see those stones whilst snooping around in the garden or house.

It seemed from that third line that we were in his home. He was quite indignant that we were actually asking him to identify what items he possessed. It should have been obvious but it wasn't. It was all quite confusing.

There were a whole lot of things wrong with the communication. Since we had not given a thought to Liverpool why mention it? Was 'Leverpoole' a natural choice for comparison with 'Cestre' in Tudor times?

The uncharitable found the line about his chickens and pigs tripping him up at every turn very twee. The punctuation still looked very modern, with its liberal use of full stops, commas, brackets and question marks. There were dozens of questions to be answered. For example, was it true that no one made merry on a holy day? I don't think I wanted it to be a hoax anymore, I was so intrigued by it, but a clever hoax was still the only likely answer. After all we were always out when a message appeared, and it was becoming predictable that I would bring a computer home at weekends. There was opportunity for 'Lukas' but still not motive, for if the idea was to scare me away or drive me mad it was failing. I was becoming excited by the puzzle, so were Debbie and Peter Trinder who, interestingly enough, had traced a number of Lukas's words and found them to be exactly right for the period, though naturally he was puzzled by the punctuation. As a result he was hooked on them.

I was still more interested in 4.2 litres of Jaguar engine and the prospect of driving away from Deeside in the summer with all the windows down. My Mills and Boon adventure I called it. But, of course, I couldn't resist the thought that what we were seeing might be from another time.

Monday 18 February, half term

Unfortunately the exact questions we put to Lukas in reply to his message of the 16th are not recorded because I accidentally left the five-and-a-half-inch disk I was now using in a pile of papers the caretaker threw out(!) Principally I asked him how he could possibly use a computer if he was from the 16th century. Peter persuaded me to include a vague reference to Bristol, as the words he was using looked like a regional dialect form of the language of the time. How Peter found the time to discover this I have no idea but in the question went.

Since Lukas went to market occasionally in Nantwich I asked him if he used a bridge at Aldford. There is a private bridge these days, just for the Westminster estate, but I thought it reasonable to assume some crossing at the point, especially with a giveaway name like Aldford (old ford).

We left the message on the screen from around 9.30 A.M. on the 18th. Meanwhile an old friend, Peter Benbow, and I were making a dreadful row with drums and guitars in the living room. Nothing arrived while we were there. Debbie joined in on the saxophone. The neighbours were understandably pleased when we gave up about 4.00 P.M.

I took Peter back to Hawarden. Still nothing on the computer, so at about seven we locked up the house and went for a drive. We came back an hour later.

'Yes!' I said, calling up a file called KEN1. 'This is getting good.'

I liked the way that if I put in a message on a file called LUK1 he'd pick a file name that echoed it in some way, as above, 'KEN1'.

MYNE GOODLY FREEND, MAYEST THOU TELLE THEE FOR WOTREASON ART THOU AXING MANYE QUESTIONS FOR WHICHE I NE CAN ATYNE I AM CONFUS MYNE SCRIT DEVISE IS A WONDEROUS THYNG SOMWOT UNKYNDE I FANCY UNNIST TO MYNE SELVE IT MAY BE BUT I HATH SEEN THEE MAKETH LEEMS ON THY BOYSTE AND ART SLYE. YEA I

LUKAS WAINMAN

My good friend, can you tell me for what reason are you asking many questions which I cannot understand. I am confused. The writing machine is a wonderful thing; somewhat unnatural I fancy, unknown to myself it may be but I have seen you make lights on the box and am cunning. Yes I know of Bristol my kinfolk did come from Bridgewater and Taunton by the river Tone until they died. To make merry I like to be at the ale. Yes sometimes I use the bridge at Aldford. Your merry-making pleases me but it is rather noisy at times. Will you tell your woman to play more of the flute thing. 'Tis a pleasant sound I think. How do you travel to your school in Hawarden(?) I must hurry as my dogs are loose and are being troublesome to my fowl.

Lukas Wainman

I'd hardly ever been inside Chester City Library but Debbie urged me to use it in search of some confirmation that 'Lukas' was talking history not bunk.

I looked in on the 1980s interior: all chrome, cloth and air conditioning through its Edwardian façade. Perhaps Lukas's messages were also a stylized pastiche. An inauthentic product of a clever little man with a few high-tech toys.

I hoped we'd find all the people Lukas had mentioned in the local history section upstairs. The librarian told us that someone else had been looking into the history of Dodleston only recently. This reinforced my doubts and as I followed our guide to the appropriate shelves of red hardback volumes it became quite clear that whoever or whatever we identified in these volumes from the 16th February message would ultimately prove nothing. If we found them all then surely it was a hoax – what were the chances of Lukas knowing people who were all significant enough in some way to survive the randomness of history over four centuries?

I became bored. The city people passed silently outside. How many of their lives will be recorded and endure four centuries? The hoaxer would have the same sources as ourselves and would, therefore, be revealed. If but a few turned up in obscure reference books it was no better. Anyone worth their salt would reach for, say, the references on 'declared wills' for the period, pick a few local surnames and invent the rest. One chap Lukas had mentioned, Aldersay, sprang to mind. The Aldersay Arms (now the Shropshire Arms) was next door but two to the library. A common name. It showed nothing but an ounce or two of scholarship.

Debbie took more interest than me. I began to feel uncomfortable, stifled by the heating system. She found Richard Wishall, I think, or maybe his father, but don't expect to find a reference about this. We weren't interested enough to keep proper files or folders on the affair. Bits of paper littered the bookcase or got chucked out or used for shopping lists. This was the fate of Wishall. Debbie still refused to be discouraged. She couldn't find Aldersay despite his being a skilled man and presumably, therefore, an important citizen; but there were a number of Aldersays to follow up. I was still looking out of the window at the people wrapped up against the cold. I wanted to go home, to read about something else.

Deb said, 'There has to be a way of proving it, doesn't there? We could wait up to catch the intruder or something, we could do lots of things ...'

'Let's go home.'

Walking across the city up beyond the Northgate and the city walls I thought some more about John, the guitar player. He could break in quite easily ... he wanted to upset me so that he could appear smooth and clearheaded to impress Deb out of my life and into his. I tried to dismiss such thoughts as nonsense.

21 February

John Cummins's flat is on the third floor of a large Victorian terraced house in Balfour Road, Islington. We had come to stay for a few days and I'd brought the messages with me in a red plastic folder.

John had bought Colin Wilson's Poltergeist. I realized then that I hadn't read anything at all on the subject before this moment and as I read I began to feel a little uncomfortable. Poltergeists, according to Mr Wilson's research, could remain for months and indeed could develop quite destructive tendencies. Some could even bite! I shuddered. This could be dangerous. A little later I read that this sort of behaviour is rare. Overall, their usual activities – stacking objects, rapping noises, etc. – are extremely well documented.

It was hard to obtain any clear understanding of what 'they' were. An adjunct of our own personalities? Unconscious activity on our part? Elemental or primitive bundles of some kind, 'entities' feeding upon the anxieties and emotional stresses of recent months in such a way as to preserve and reinforce these emotional states? Much poltergeist activity is fraudulent, an adolescent's prank, or perhaps due to someone slightly older looking for attention or developing an active fantasy world.

A little knowledge is often said to be a dangerous thing. Debbie was nineteen; had I been paying her enough attention? Before reading Poltergeist I had felt confident that she was uninvolved. Now I was less so. But it was only a popular book; perhaps I needed to look into the subject more deeply – make fewer excuses.

Poltergeist has very little to say on communication from such a source, which is rare and confined to the odd scribble on a wall. I was thinking of Matthew Manning's experiences at this point. Apparently, he had been the focus of a great deal of poltergeist activity and on at least one occasion the walls of a room were covered in signatures. He also seemed to be able to transmit the writing of others, supposedly famous or articulate people long dead. So-called 'automatic writing'. This train of thought led down the road marked mediums, seances and spirits. It was very hard to take it seriously. It all looked exceptionally dodgy and a long way from economics, the social sciences and education.

But still John and Debbie pursued their ideas. The latest was ley lines, the old straight paths, the 'lines of force' supposedly crossing England – and elsewhere of course – which could be identified by lining up sites of antiquity. It was not a subject I should normally choose to discuss in company but since we had drifted as far as the 'biting poltergeist' and automatic writing, an excursion into ley lines seemed quite moderate and reasonable. On large-scale maps spread across the floor of the living room Dodleston was easily accommodated by two lines and John had once read of an association between ley lines and the frequency of 'parapsychological' events, especially poltergeists.

Our thinking led us to draw up this model: we had a rare type of poltergeist, a sophisticated entity, adept at word processing! Try again. We were experiencing activity commonly attributable to poltergeists about which, descriptively at least, quite a lot is known. The classes of activity commonly associated with this phenomenon were present: movement of objects, stacking of objects, noises and so forth. In addition the cottage may (or may not!) be close to a ley line, which supposedly increases the chances of this sort of occurrence. But we had no theory to offer about the genesis of the messages. This appeared to be unique – so it was just a big hoax!

A friend of John's, Rod Emberton, a gangling, intellectual, but talented architect, was the arch sceptic. 'It's obviously a hoax. You're all being made fools of ... Anyway I can prove it. There's never been a bridge at Aldford over the Dee. If there was a bridge a town would have grown up around it.' As an argument it sounded quite reasonable. Why mess around with pseudo-science when a little analysis, a little thought could bring you the answer?

In the gracious presence of Bartok, the huge, friendly, but somewhat incontinent Balfour Road cat, we considered the messages as a group. The first message, the 'Poem', didn't fit anywhere and was clearly unrelated, not only to the language but to the whole tenor of the later material. These later communications appeared to have one author, but the essentially modern punctuation cast a great deal of doubt on their authenticity. The message of 10 February was appallingly inaccurate chronologically, and contained the untraceable Edmund Gray at the then non-existent Kinnerton Hall.

16 February contained the needless comparison of 'Leverpoole' with 'Cestre', the spelling of 'cross' as 'crios' and the use of the well-recorded saying of Bishop Mann. Additionally the word 'rotacion' in an agricultural context was unrecorded at this period. This was a major concern of Peter Trinder as it was about 220 years out; hardly a mere detail. More subjectively there was the reference to Wish-all's cheese: Cheshire cheese is famous and the stereotype of Cheshire country life was being, we sensed, unnecessarily reinforced. Similarly quaint or twee, to our sensibilities at least, was the reference in the 18 February message: 'Myne lyme hounds art free a art beyng troublesom to myne fowl.' I could more readily understand this closing sequence from someone at the end of a telephone but it seemed to have been placed in this context to persuade us that Lukas Wainman was an approachable, gentle countryman with a needful eye on his livestock. So it was a big problem. Not as big as trying to explain the mechanism by which messages appeared. This alone would be enough to convince a thinking person that it was a set-up.

Nevertheless I wanted to find a copy of Wilson's book for myself so we took the Tube to Leicester Square and headed for Watkins Bookshop in Cecil Court. This is one of the major bookshops in London catering for the more obscure or esoteric topics, and it acts like a sensory waterbed for the insecure fan of parapsychology or the occult. Rows of books tell you that magic exists and you can learn it; books on astral travel, occult knowledge, poltergeists, ghosts, clairvoyance, philosophy, reincarnation, witchcraft. In such a place the curious messages thrust upon us could seem unremarkable or at least acceptable. My gaze wandered up and down the shelves. I don't belong here, I thought. I pulled Poltergeist off the shelf, hesitated, then decided against it and fled, confused, to a café in Charing Cross Road for a comforting cappuccino.

The poltergeist activity continued at the cottage; objects moved, sometimes in our presence, while our backs were turned. Debbie and I were quite edgy, but we attempted to diffuse our anxiety, to weave small threads of it into daily conventions and rituals so that nothing unmanageable remained.

The school in those early days acted as a kind of sounding board and moderator. In a sixth-form class I struggled with SJ 26 and 36 of the Ordnance Survey Pathfinder series and expounded on the suggested relationship between ley lines and the incidence of poltergeist activity. We should have been working on something like indifference curve analysis of consumer behaviour, but this was a sharp class. Any two points on the map would of course be connected by a straight line but what of others? The writers on leys insisted that it should be four.

I traced a line from Trueman's Hill, near Peter Trinder's house in Trueman's Way, Hawarden, through an earthwork at Broughton and on towards Dodleston. 'Isn't that interesting?'

They were more interested in my interest than the line or the map.

- 'The pencil line's a bit thick,' one said.
- 'Well, yes I suppose so.'
- 'Aren't they supposed to be precise?' said another.
- 'I don't know.'
- 'I bet you could just extend the line until you found something you wanted to include.'
 - 'Yes, you probably could.'

This wasn't very useful and after a few more minutes I conceded that it was pretty vague theory. I put the maps away and returned to the safety of the syllabus.

The school knew about the 'poltergeist': that was almost acceptable. Indeed, in lower school a good ghost story is always welcome: 'Ere, sir!

Have you got a ghost that walks on walls?' I related something of the adventure: the stacking of objects, the footprints – always the footprints – the noises and the chalk marks on the wall. Sometimes I spoke about the messages but nothing much. This was a sensitive area. It was too close to the heart of the problem. I let slip a small item here and there, but for the rest I preferred to keep complete silence until I felt happier about the whole business.

27 February: a Wednesday afternoon. There had been no computer at the cottage for over a week. Debbie had started to rent a house in East Green, out of the way. I was in school. I took sixth form on the Wednesday, double upper sixth and double lower sixth and only one lesson of third year.

Period seven was the polite, middle-class Humanities group. Bright, well-mannered, dreadfully conservative: it wasn't their fault, but I was suffering from utter tedium by period eight. I was still tired from London and helping Deb move house but mostly it was the time of year. Late February has almost become a traditional time of absence for many teachers; too many classes, dreadfully dull or cold weather and no sign of the Easter break. To sidestep this general malaise I was keeping a very low profile and imagined myself as a walking shadow, although a rather broad one, sliding along rooms and corridors.

I drove home at the very earliest opportunity and I parked the wrong way against the pavement. Inside the cottage it was calm and quiet. The newspaper was in several parts. A mug, a woollen scarf and a tie were piled against the base of the kitchen door. The old brass pan had come off its hook on the purlin above the fireplace. From the windowsill had come the file containing the messages and the floppy disk, only the disk was not in the folder. Outside its paper cover it lay neatly face up on the kitchen table. It read Lukas W. That was what I had written on it but it said to my awakening mind quite clearly, 'Lukas W wants to communicate. He wants the computer back. If it doesn't come there could be a disturbance.'

Ah, the power of symbols: before me was such a disturbance. It seemed that from behind the kitchen a force strong enough to drag the plastic file eighteen feet to the door had caught other insecure objects in its field. I imagined the lightness of its touch but also its potential for violence, its determination. The cottage was calm and quiet. I fed the cats out in the yard, collected the mail, and left. I put nothing back, but slipped the disk into its paper cover for safety.

East Green. In the loneliest, saddest corner of Deeside. Within earshot of the 'crack, crack' of the clay pigeon shoot, it is a late 1930s estate facing flat fields of arable or stubble. There is no sense of space, only dislocation. These same fields are confronted by a dual carriageway, shabby Garden City, the canalized River Dee and the dignified Queensferry swing bridge now painted blue – 'Clwyd Blue'. Clwyd has no identity. It is a makeshift county concocted out of the local authority reshuffles of the 1970s. The house on East Green was a makeshift house furnished from a skip, the whole thing a DIY nightmare: fake panelling, a plastic bath, the toilet at the wrong height for the bathroom floor. But it had a bed in which we could sleep at ease. Comfort and security. It was not home but a very welcome shelter against the rising swells and cross-currents of our anxieties. Or so I told myself.

In the cottage we could not sleep without the light on and yet the light kept us awake. We wondered if Lukas might appear by our bed (I should never have read about poltergeists). Would the light keep him away?

I don't believe we were being rational but there was still no way anyone was going to go downstairs in the cottage late at night. This was some poltergeist! Still, I borrowed a computer at the weekend and we left a message for him. It was a bit raggy because we were not sure what was going on, or what we should say and we were trying to make it sound reasonable even if someone owned up to a hoax. Lukas replied:

MYNE MOSTE NOBLE FREEND HATH I NAT BEENE ACCORDANT WITH THOU AND YET UNLEST ME FAYLE METHINKS THER IS NAT YNOGH AFFYE DESPYTE THYS I HATH BEENE APERTFUL WITH YOW I KNOWEST NAT WER THOU CAME OR WITHER WIL YE GO NOR DO I HATH

ACCOUNTYNG FOR WY YOW BEEST IN MYNE HOME BUT THOU ART A GOODLY VYSTER AND YOW MAY ABIDE AS LONG AS YOW LYK

My most noble friend, have I not been friendly towards you and yet, unless I am mistaken, I think there is not enough trust. Despite this I have been open with you. I know not whence you came nor whither you will go, nor do I have an answer for why you are in my house but you are a goodly visitor and you may stay as long as you like.

We were in his house! Later the same message:

MYNE GOODLY FOOL MYNE LINKMAN
THINKETH THAT THOU ART BE AL IN MYNE PAN H'SAYETH THAT ME MAKETH LYK DIVINSTRE BUT I KNOW YOW LYVE NOWE HE ALS SAYETH THAT MYNE BLOOD BE POYSOND AN
THAT IT BE MYNE WEEK HINGED FANCY BUT LUNE ME NAT
METHENKE AN TOLDE HEM SO I ALS SEID 'TIS LYK
FAIRYMGOLD AN THAT TO HOLD IT CLOSE TIL ME WRYTS
BOOKE

My pleasant fool, my servant, thinks that you are all in my head. He says I act like a seer but I know you live now. He also says that my blood is poisoned and that it is my weak-hinged imagination; but I am not mad, I think, and told him so. I also said it is like fairy gold [that he should] keep it secret until I write a book.

What a prospect! Either he was dead and we were alive or he was alive and we were more than four hundred years from the dates of our conceptions. In fact we were alive and so was he. He thought it 'fairy gold', this communication. He was making notes of it for a book.

For such a book to refer to these events in recognizable detail – should this book still exist – would suggest the most overwhelming ... er ... 'coincidence'. This sort of coincidence would deafen one's thoughts, or prove us fools for even considering it. Lukas was convinced that he wasn't mad and that we lived, as indeed he did, physically tied to a human body.

Endless puzzles arranged themselves before us. The past is another country; a country without entry visas.

The last part of his message gave an answer to why he was here if he was born in Somerset.

I CAME TO CLIMATE HEER BCAUSE OF THY WORTHY FEEDYNG FOR WHICHE AT O-TYME I HATH TO PAY NO TAX UNLYK MYNE KINFOLK NOWE CHANGED HATH THYNGS FOR MYNE UNFAVORABLE KYNGS SHERYF DOTH PLAUGES ME SO METHINKS HE IS HEER FOR EVERY TURN OF MYNE GLAS I HATH HADDE SOM MISHAPPS WITH THY CONCEILD DEVYSE WHICHE MISFILLE MYNE WORDS BUT 'TIS NAMOOR UNDUN METHINKS IT IS TO FYTTING FOR MYNESELVE ATYMES BUT IT DOTH REFRESH

I came to settle here because of the excellent pasture for which at one time I had to pay no tax, unlike my relations. Now things have changed, for the unfavourable king's sheriff does plague me so it seems he is here every hour. I have had some mishaps with your hidden device which does not place my words but it is no more undone. I think it is too agreeable for me at times but it does amuse.

The final section went like this:

I FISSH FOR HERYNGS AN SAMUN IN MYNE DEE AN SOMTYMES IN MYNE FLOOKERS BROOKE TELLE MYNE FREEND JON WHO YOW HATH DEELEN THAT I KNOWETH MUCHE OF MYNE FYSHYNG METHINKS THOU JEST WEN YOW SAYETH ABOUTE MYNE HORSLESS CART TYGER 'TIS GOOD THAT WE CAN BE WANTON AND JAPE SO LUKAS

I fish for herrings and salmon in the Dee and sometimes in Flookers Brook. Tell the friend John with whom you spoke that I know much about fishing. I think you are jesting when you talk about the horseless cart tiger. It is good that we can be carefree and joke like this.

Why did he call it a 'conceild devyse' when it was plainly on show? It was a nuisance clogging up the kitchen table. He could have meant the disk drive or the disk. Or perhaps it was concealed in part of his house. I tried to be pragmatic. Although this was one of most fascinating messages to date there were some very odd references, e.g. fishing for herrings on the west coast, that were obviously dodgy. Nothing as dodgy as a 16th-century gent using a computer though.

Another problem was Flookers Brook. It is a mere stream, mostly underground, running through Hoole. Rod Emberton saw this as more damning evidence. 'Impossible to fish there, its just a muddy ditch!!'

Every sizeable message to date had been like the fresh wholemeal loaf you discover next to the firelighters in your shopping basket. Probably delicious but smelling a little odd. So it had to be someone's joke, but every message came and went without anyone being seen or heard, without any let-up in the richness of the vocabulary. It was very disconcerting.

Lukas's line, 'Tis good that we can be wanton and jape so', was quite apt, for this long message wasn't the only one that day. Under another file name we found a short item:

MYNE MOST NOBLE FREEND HATH I NOT BEENE ACCORDANT NOR TREWFUL WITH THOU AND YET UNLEST ME FAYLE METHINKS THER IS NAT YNOUGH

He was having 'difficulties' with the computer. It was, from its construction, an alternative start to the last message and looked like a telex that had gone astray or jammed in transmission. A nice touch if a hoax. If not, it wasn't the sort of problem that would arise from difficulties in keyboarding. He would merely have carried on. There would be no reason, no computer error that would give the line of dots for example.

Whatever the cause I had to laugh at this befuddlement. It was more 'real' to me than ever because it was so human.

Peter was doing a running analysis on the language, using the Oxford English Dictionary to date the forms of the words. This was proving positive with only an odd word needing further investigation or not recorded in the dictionary. The words used continued to be appropriate, and as far as Peter could tell they were used in a way which, in its entirety, was not only evocative of the period but was from the period. There was now no evidence of pastiche or parody, no howling errors. But the messages were infested with dialect and odd grammatical constructions associated only with certain regions. The language looked beyond good scholarship, it was top-drawer stuff. I didn't know enough about language to comment but I was impressed.

I replied to Lukas the same day with a few comments on cars and an invitation to talk more about fishing and his time at college. In addition to the message there was a photograph I had snipped out of a colour advertisement for a Jaguar XJ coupe. It was a different colour from mine but I thought it would do.

I was unprepared for Lukas's subtle treatment of the message and the photograph and I was even more unprepared for his reaction to what it represented.

MYNE GOODLY FREEND I HATH FOND THY CART PORTREYNG BUT 'TIS A CROOD THYNG FOR WITHOUT MYNE HORS IT SHAL NAT GOON FARR PREY WOT UNCOUTHE WOLD BE THYS 'TIS LYK SYLK THEROF I CAN NO SKIL

My good friend, I have found your picture of the cart but it is a crude thing for without the horse it won't go far. Tell me what unknown wood this is. It is like silk, I cannot describe it better [?].

Lukas considered the shiny magazine clipping to be a strange kind of wood. And the photograph was charred at the edges, in fact, showing signs of heat throughout. It was very brittle and almost crumbled in my hands. Deb said that he must have 'taken it with him'. She laughed. 'I bet that if he's the Devil it would burn at the edges.'

I had opened my mind to the possibility of these communications being real. I didn't want to extend its range too far.

The message broke new ground in one other respect: Debbie was in the house, asleep upstairs, during the period when it 'arrived'. I was out with Dave Lovell. This was significant, for the Volkswagen was left outside the house and lights were on downstairs, so this meant that if there was an intruder s/he was taking a real risk of being discovered. There was no smell of smoke either (which one would expect if the intruder theory was reasonably extended to the charred photograph).

Leaving the issue of the photograph to one side we saw that Lukas had given some lively details in the remainder of the communication, which were, as requested, largely culled from his time at Oxford but included some domestic details.

LUKAS

I studied at Jesus College Oxford. My best subject was Latin and Greek. I had to dress with a gown and hat. John Colet was my most important schoolmaster. Some of my books were Epistolae Obscurum Vivarum by Mutianus Rufus, Praise of Folly by my friend of course, De Arte Poetica by Marco Giracamo and A Goodly Garland and Colin Clout by John Sketons for which he was imprisoned by the unlikeable Wolsey. He died at Westminster. The King's sheriff is Tom Fowlhurst. He will call on Tuesday. My favourite meal is Pumpes with pastry and peas. I don't know how to prepare it but my good woman Kathryn will tell what to say, 'Boil pork until tender, chop into fine pieces, take cloves and mace and chop raisins of Comth [Corinth?], take it and roll it as round as you can and place on a dish. Mix almond milk and blend with flour of rice, pour over the pumpes and set off each with a flower and cheese.' I follow it with mead. It's good, don't you think?

Lukas

Peter caught my eye a day or so later as I passed the duty noticeboards in the staffroom. 'It still has to be a hoax, Ken,' he continued with only the slightest of pauses. 'The college, Jesus College, is Elizabethan, founded 1571. It's too late for our man.' He also said that there was an error in the Latin and that obviously John Skelton was the poet not Sketons.

Peter catalogued the results of his inquiries and added them to other apparent anomalies. I felt I had to try and find excuses since Peter had spent so much time with the dictionary and in and out of the reference libraries in recent weeks; I didn't want the blame for his wasted time so I said it was just a mistake or a name for some other college very early on. It was no good; I was fooling myself too. Big historical blunders confirmed equals big joke discovered.

The other personalities in this message were traceable but for one Mutianus Rufus. The 'friend' he mentioned was Erasmus, one of the most important writers in the pre-Reformation era. The excitement that this latter information should have aroused was submerged: the whole twelve weeks since the first 'poltergeist' event was someone's joke.

Rear three-quarters view of Meadow Cottage showing kitchen and bathroom areas

The kitchen and bathroom area really is incredibly small but at the same time unoppressive, well-lit and quite airy. Rod Emberton's initial sketches had become a comfortable pair of rooms. It was so small that he called it a 'Bambi' extension after the Walt Disney cartoon character. We had to agree it was a small project for an architect. The original inverted 'L' shape of the extension had been preserved. It was and is a single-storey structure. A fine slate roof is supported on brick walls and a hip joint running across from the pillared internal corner of the 'L' to the wall of the main building. It is a very substantial roof set with 'Velux' skylights and the whole insulated with a layered styrofoam dry lining system. This helps reduce any outside noise.

The 'studio' bedroom overlooks the kitchen roof. There is no access to the roof from The Cottage (the house next door, towards the shop) unless the steep roof of the terrace is used. Corner cottage has a similar arrangement to Meadow Cottage in that there is a one-storey outshut but access is still difficult, if only because it means clambering about under the glare of the sodium lamps along the street at the busy junction of Church Road and Kinnerton Road.

This evening the Velux were closed. Above and behind the white wire chair at which I sat I could see the dark sky and the occasional star between the small knots of pale grey cloud just visible in the moonlight. The clouds looked awfully cold and lonely.

I was at the computer looking back through a couple of files on the disk. Deb was half-watching me, but her attention and conversation were also on the goings-on in her new neighbourhood. All this gossip for such a small estate, but she was making friends. In an instant our conversation was shattered by the sound of footsteps, heavy, deliberate footsteps on the roof. I stood up and looked fleetingly at the Velux.

'That's it!'

I strode quickly out of the kitchen deliberately trying to control the weakness which threatened my knees. 'Come on!' I shouted to Debbie. She seemed very slow. Out of the living room, through the front door and onto the pavement, without turning. For the first time I was really scared. Scared of being scared.

'I don't need all this, do I?' I said nonsensically.

Deb was much more excited and then again composed. I felt small, for a big man. Shame brought resolve. 'I'm not going to give up this bloody house,' I whispered angrily in Deb's ear, and strode back in rather boldly. Perhaps rather too boldly in order to give myself the appearance of being in control. An image of Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, stuck in a haunted house, came floating into my mind. A couple of fools like me completely out of control. Too late, of course, we looked around outside the kitchen. If it had been our hoaxer we'd see some cracked slates in the morning so loud were those footsteps, but early next day we were London bound.

Nic Bagguley had invited us to see Elvis Costello in concert at Imperial College, London; she'd even bought the tickets in advance. In the daylight on the Inter City and flicking through a copy of Classic and Sports Car I could put the previous night's incident to one side. It belonged to another time. Gone.

To pass the time before the concert Deb went to the Westminster City Library. She wanted to find out more about Jesus College in the hope that Lukas could be justified or excused his comments. I thought it rather like hoping your summons for speeding would land on next door's parquet flooring unnoticed.

Later, we were sitting on a wall opposite a tarted-up South London terraced house, staring into the ground disconsolately. I'd forgotten the number of Nic's house. We were in the right street but that was proving to be of little or no consolation. No Nic, no Elvis Costello.

A late-night train home. We were so tired that come Chester General we chose to drive to the cottage. It was closer to the station by many miles than East Green. We didn't care any more about poltergeists or footsteps. It could stack a container lorry in the garden for all we cared.

It was the custom for me to greet the new day first and – since I was up – make the coffee and breakfast, and, if it was a Sunday, take the car for the papers. It was just such a morning. I came back to the cottage perhaps half an hour later.

In a manner which seemed to mimic my more relaxed mood I found several tissues from a box I'd left on the kitchen table scattered over the computer and the disk drive. It appeared lightly done. Deb came down to inspect. We enjoyed this little display. Quite unexpectedly I felt encouraged to try and accept these events; to go along with them in an essentially practical sense. The six tissues, the soft morning sunlight and the fact that I had temporarily conquered my sense of fear encouraged me to plan new questions for Lukas.

Peter had said it would be unwise to correct Lukas on his errors about the college, etc. The idea was to make us seem still gullible. But on a day like this I looked forward wholeheartedly to the next communication. Last time it had come with Deb in the house so I went out in the car. Debbie sat in the living room very quietly with the door to the kitchen closed and everywhere locked up. A message was not long in coming. Debbie heard nothing and was surprised to open the kitchen door and see the following:

MYNE FREEND AGAYNE I MUSTE NEEDS SAYE I HAN NO WANT TO MAKE YE DISCONFORT I BEETH NAT ESEN MYNESELVE WEN I HATH ENTRECOMUNEYON WITH YOW BUT TIS SOE WE BOTHE ART FREENDLICH AND HATH INTELLECT YNOGH TO KNOWETH ANTICS OR DRONKES WE AR NOT AND TIS IF NOT TO YOURS MYNE COMMODITY FOR MYNE BOOKE METHINKS YOW NOT OF BEELEFUL FULL OF GOOD GOODLY UNLEST ME FAYLE MYNE COOKE SAITHE I SHALT REPENT FOR MYNE ADVENTURE AND THAT IT WIL COME TO FOUL ISSUE BUT METHINKS SHE BE YELOWE AN TOLDE HER SOE SHE DOTH NOT LYK ANOTHER SHE IN MYNE HOME AND NAT O AS FAIR AS YOWR MAYDE ME FANCY MYNE REDE BOOKE BE STRANGE WOT SKIN BE IT AND MYNE KEY BE STRANGE ALS WHOS CHARACTER IT BE IN MYNE BOOKEPREY YOW HATH MANYE BOOKES BUT I FEER THEY ARN TO ILLSCRITIN TELLE ME WERE MYNE SCRIT DEVISE CAME FROM AND HOW DOTH IT MAKE MYNE LEEMS I HATH SOE MANYE AXYNGS TELLE MORE ABOOT MYNE WORLDE

My friend, again I must say I have no wish to cause you discomfort. I am not easy myself when I have communication with you but 'tis so that we both are friendly and have intelligence enough to recognize that fools or drunks we are not and 'tis, if not for yours, my material for my book I think. You [know] now of 'beeleful' – full of good, goodly, unless I mistake. My cook says I shall repent of my adventure and that it will come to a foul end. But I think she is jealous and told her so. She does not like another woman in my home and not one as fair as your maid, I fancy. The red book is strange. What material is it? And the key is strange also. Whose handwriting is it in the book, pray? You have many books but I fear they are too badly written. Tell me where the writing device came from and how it makes the lights. I have so many questions. Tell more about your world.

Lukas

Initial reaction was mixed. Curiosity: that he had not himself discovered the error. Surprise: that a message could come while the house was occupied. Satisfaction: that he still spoke to me, not at me. I was happy to see that he was able to joke about his cook's jealousy and to answer Deb's question about the word 'beeleful', except that Deb had asked this some two weeks previously. I took his comments about the red book and the key as referring to the plastic folder in which I kept the print-outs of the messages. The key was the slightly stiff key in the lock of the corner cupboard. Did he walk about my house? How far? Why mention only these items?

I concentrated my reply on his request to know more of our modern world. It was hard to know how to start or where. I later added a few lines about Peter, mentioning that he was an Oxford man:

TIME YOU IN YOUR USE THE STRENGTH OF HORSES TO TILL THE FIELDS, THE POWER OF THE WIND TO MOVE THE SAILS OF SHIPS AND THE MOVING WATER TO TURN THE MILL WHEEL WE HAVE MANY NEW POWERS NONE OF THEM MADE BY THE DEVIL ALL ARE MADE BY MAN. THE LIGHTS ARE WONDROUS BUT THE POWER IS NOT A FLAME BUT SOMETHING CALLED ELECTRICITY. IF YOU SEE STRANGE STRANDS JOINED TO THE SCRIT DEVICE THESE CARRY THE ELECTRICITY. THE ELECTRICITY IS MADE MANY MILES AWAY AND BROUGHT BY STRANDS OR WIRES CAREFULLY WRAPPED TO KEEP THE POWER SAFE FOR IT CAN KILL IF INTERFERED WITH BY FOOLS.

Sunday 10 March, late evening: walking from the bathroom to the living room I heard the footsteps again in the same dreadful pattern, beginning by the wall of the house and moving across above my head. All resolve, all thoughts of acceptance and equanimity vanished. Fear resurrected itself. In a time-honoured way the hair bristled on my neck. Spooked. I was spooked. In another time, Lukas was also being spooked ... by us.

LUKAS

My friend, pray what strange demon are you? I am so confused. You are goodly, I feel, but your lies frighten me much. You said you are alive but this is not so. I have no wish to accuse you but you said also that you are an educated man and that you know of my friend Erasmus but you do not mention my misspelt words. If you were alive you would say you know not of Jesus College. You also spoke of a power of which I have no knowledge. Where does this power come from and what did you study in your place of learning? Where is it? Because if you do not explain this to me then I must make an end to my words with you. This would cause me much despair. It is not I that make you afraid, it is you that makes me afraid.

Lukas

A stiff wind cut across the field from the estuary towards East Green. Smoke blew from the chimneys every which way in the eddies and currents. I could see broken glass on the road, a child's tricycle, as I leant against the car. What a barren place! I was here not because I was poor, or out of work, unfortunate or derelict. I gazed across the fields, the street lights were very harsh. There was nowhere to look. I was here because my house was spooked and I was scared of a few noises. Oh, Lord! What a thought!

If Lukas was what he said he was I should celebrate in some way. This gave no comfort. The wind sharpened yet more. It drove me indoors. Melancholy and self-pity were joined by confusion. They were 40–15 up against celebration. Eating away at me was the terrible thought that Lukas was going to reject us as 'devylls' no matter how encouraging or how sweet my message. I became unutterably depressed.

We had been arrogant and mindless in assuming that he couldn't possibly want to test us. To him, we were the devils. That electricity stuff and all the talk about power. I could see it now but ... 'Sorry' wasn't worth saying. He was in the real world, we must be phantoms. I didn't laugh at the absurdity of it.

I wanted Lukas to write. I willed it of him, so I was very soothing, and a little awkward in my communication. I apologized for not noticing the errors and spelt them out for him.

The reply came next day. Debbie was smiling, simply grinning at the screen. She showed me the message proudly.

VALE LUKAS

My good friend, will you dispel my doubts in the last message? I was somewhat confused. Your friend from Oxford does much writing in the red book. Pray, what does he say? It is unknown to me but he uses some of my words. Does he come from my time? 'Tis true about my life. It was just a joke. My Latin is not so bad as that and I know much about my most worthy Desiderius's [Erasmus's] books. He was a most knowledgeable man for whom I had much love and he spoke much wisdom on the frivolous and misgoverned ways of the Christian doctrine. I think he has opened many eyes to such so-called learned men when he was given his appointment in Greek. I began my time at Brasenose College, Oxford, not Jesus College. As I said, in all manner of things, his [Erasmus's] best must be Colloquia than which I know no better. My cook Kathryn asks what is your most tasty meal and how you make it. My shoes are made of swine skin and sheep's coat. I have eight pigs and sixteen fowl. I tan the pigskin, cut the skin, then shape and sew it together and put the sheep's coat and herbs in to them to keep my feet healthy. I must go out, time is moving on. *Quid agis noscere de meus Adagia habere ye recitare hic meus Latinnus is non ut utilis.

Farewell, Lukas

All was forgiven. Peter tried to make sense of the Latin phrase himself but eventually gave it to Valmai Bayliss, the only teacher in school competent in the language. She considered it rather careless 'dog latin'. After all his efforts to convince us of his superior education he comes out with this.

I was taken by the question: 'Does he [Peter] come from my time?' Quite unselfconsciously Lukas was reinforcing the notion of two distinct physical worlds coexistent in some way but fluid enough to allow interpenetration. I think Lukas thought it rather more fluid than we did.

His talk was of the commonplace, of pigs and chickens, books, scholarship and scholars, friends and the lateness of the hour. I thought that this must be a starting point, for if this communication could be sustained I hoped that an investigation would uncover some of the mechanisms behind it. Some rather narrow-minded friends had said that since there was no explanation or even a hint of a mechanism to explain the messages then they should be dismissed out of hand. This I considered naïve in the extreme and, as I said at the time, very much 'flat earth' logic. An investigation was needed and soon, but there were lessons to be learnt from this recent confusion.

Understanding must be allowed to develop, unforced and unhurried by our anxieties. We must think, as Lukas might, like a pre-scientific man – a farmer, a villager alone with his thoughts and us. An educated man amongst superstitious and ignorant people who would burn an old woman as a witch if their cattle died suddenly. The medieval was only receding slowly before the light of the Renaissance. Dodleston, clustered on its rise above the stinking marsh close to the 'heathen' Welsh, was a good place to be aware of superstition and fear.

For evidence we would gather his words, at least it made for a good start. If the apparent inconsistencies continued, and indeed grew in number they would soon reach a 'critical mass', an overwhelming case for fraud. On the other hand if the inconsistencies declined or the 'clear-up rate' improved as our researches delved deeper, then we could feel less wary. It would not add up to proof but it would add up to something. Most important, however, was time. Time to think, to investigate, to live this adventure.

Debbie and I travelled up to Hawarden to see Peter. It was the first meeting in which we planned to consider a framework for the coming weeks. Peter felt confident that I should continue to allow the communications and that something would indeed be gained, and he was keen to be involved. I in turn valued his encouragement and knowledge. The fact that we were planning future strategies demonstrated that this 'experience' was not being dismissed lightly. In a way it never had been. But a more coherent approach to the problem brought complications; for example it might increase suspicion that there was a conspiracy behind the whole thing.

Besides anything else, the words used in the messages were of utter fascination to Peter. He saw their value more clearly, more immediately than anyone. As I listened I realized that this strange affair was being placed at the heart of his life and people and events were beginning to gravitate around it. And as if in a mirror I saw how close it was to my own heart.

Debbie and I would continue as before: collecting messages, asking questions, establishing patterns of behaviour, talking with experts, reading up. We would try to be open and aware. Peter offered his continuing support, and for that we were grateful.

And if it was, after all, a hoax Peter said that he would shake the fellow's hand. Scholar meeting scholar. I could hardly agree less; I thought that a smack in the face with a baseball bat was a more appropriate response.

Three problems were identified. Firstly, someone needed to know where both Debbie and I were at the moment a message was received. Debbie volunteered to ask her mother and brother to sit with her. It wasn't exactly scientific but it was a positive start and would help allay fears that it was a result of Debbie's sleepwalking or having a crazy split personality. If Lukas wrote whilst members of her family were present – or even if a new file was created or a few pages scrolled up – I for one would feel relieved.

The second problem was clearly that of external validation. Peter was looking into the history, aims, and current organization of the Society for Psychical Research (SPR). He said we should contact them asking for advice and, if possible, investigators. I was suddenly not so keen, now that practical details were being discussed. After all it would make for a cranky-looking letter. It was also my house that would be invaded, but I gave way eventually.

Thirdly, we'd have to try and improve security at the cottage. We were still planning on knocking bits of it about, and consequently I didn't hold out much hope, but I promised I would try.

Poltergeist activity continued at nuisance level. A milk carton returned time after time to the top of the coffee jar. It was amusing in a way. Perhaps because 'it' sensed we were tired of this game there was a change of direction. A sugar bowl and a coffee jar were found hiding rather shyly in the sink, like the children's story characters, Bill and Ben the Flowerpot Men, hiding from The Man Who Worked in the Garden who, in every episode, was thought to be coming back from his dinner.

Less funny was the colour of the XJ Coupe. It looked orangey when I saw it poking out of Jim Mackie's garage. Debbie laughed. Dark blue is my favourite colour so why had I picked coral red? The world was turning slightly unreal. A broad grin developed; I'd got myself an orange car, a poltergeist and a pen-friend from the 16th century. Lukas wrote while we were out, it was a long message.

MYNE FREEND WEN ME SAYETH DESIDERIUS GOODLY FREEND I MEENETH I HAN OONLY MET WITH HEM THRYES AT CAMBRIDGE I KNOWE MOORE OF HIS MOST FAVOURABLE BOKES BUT ME SHAL TELLE DEVYSYNG HE WER A GOODLY MAN HE BIFEL TO MALADYE FASTE FOR HE WAS SOE SMALLE IN HYGHTE AN WAYKE IN BOUK BUT MUCHE STRENGTHE IN MINDE AN SOULE THAT I HATH NAT SEEN BIFORE HE HATH BLAKE HEER WITH SOM GRAY AN IN BROW HE HATH GRENE EYES STRONGE IN NOSE AND CHINN UPON HIS SCRIT HAND HE HATH II GOLDS AND IV ON THYNE OTHER LENE IN CHEKE AN BOON WHYTE IN SKYN AND DIDST ETE LITEL AND DIDST OONCE SWOWNE IN MYNE COMPANYE FROM WOT ME RECORDE HE DIDST HAN BARFUL YOUTHE THAT MADETH HEM MOOR SOE DESPITIOUS TO WARDS THY CHRISTYAN DOCTRYNE AND HADD NO FAVOUR FOR MYNE MONKS AT ALLE BUT HE WERT SOE CRAFTY AND WERT NAT A MAN TO CONTEK WITH NOR AT-REDE FOR HE WOLD WINNEN AN LEEVE YOWR WITTS AND FEY TI FY HE HADDE GOODLY HUMOUR AN WOLD OFT BE PLEYFUL AN SINGE TO HEMSELVE WEN HE WERT NAT SYK HE DIDST APASS IN 1536 AT BALE

My friend, when I call Desiderius my good friend I mean I have only met him three times at Cambridge. I know more about his most excellent books but I will describe his appearance: he was a handsome man. He easily became ill for he was so small in height and weak in bulk but [had] so much strength in mind and soul that I had not seen before. He had black hair with some grey and in [his] brow. He has green eyes; strong in nose and chin. Upon his writing hand he had two gold rings and four on the other. Lean in cheek and bone, white in skin and he did eat little and once swore in my company. From what I remember he had a difficult youth that made him more contemptuous towards Christian doctrine and had no liking for monks at all, but he was so clever and was not a man to argue with nor to contradict for he would win and exceed your wits. Dear me! He had good humour and would often be merry and sing to himself when he was not sick. He died in 1536 at Basle.

Lukas

Peter wondered how Lukas had learned of Erasmus's death in Switzerland. It did seem to be one of those awkward problems but, I reasoned, even in the 16th century news of such a famous man would travel swiftly.

By the time he wrote this message, on 19 March, Lukas was full of confidence. Confident enough to write to Debbie, chide her for her lack of domesticity, compliment her on her good looks and request the presence of Peter Trinder.

LUKAS

My goodly woman, you are well schooled, I think, for a woman but rather a tomboy in some way. I do not wish to be offensive to yourself for you are a most perfect partner that would satisfy any man, but you must know your place and serve my friend well. Next you will say you have a cart tiger or can travel on some unnatural bird. Please ask your man if I can have words with the man you call Peter for I may speak with him in my own language. It is difficult to read the words you write. Then we can have more understanding of one another and our times. [To Ken] My goodly friend, I have many a good tale to tell you, but there is nothing that I think would interest you; nonetheless I will tell you. It was in the time of my friend who was a most noble man and who taught me before college. He sent me to the city of Bristol for some books. After a long journey I arrive at my friend's house the way goes through Temple Gate into Temple Street, turn left into Saint Thomas [sic], go past Saint Thomas, to Saint Leonard's Gate and it is middle cottage on the right. I was asked to enter and rest my tired body and take a nap. After about four hours I was pulled by my sleeve into a cellar and told that an official was asking for my poor self for some reason I did not understand. I then heard one of them assaulting my friend's wife and could endure no more, so I told the foul creature to let the woman be, but he would not, so I hit him hard and he fell. Then they put me in a cage on a cart and then into the dungeon. They took it upon themselves to torture my poor self before they took me to the judge who alleged that I was a rogue for I was a pickpocket. At that moment my 'brother' came riding through on his horse, said 'Here is your fowl,' and did pitch in a good heavy bird and pulled me upon the horse and fled. I think you are tired from this long tale so I shall go.

Lukas

The adventure he described was fascinating. Contemporary concepts of law and order and justice metamorphosed into prejudice, brutality and chance. It was action not words: 'due process' be hanged – or else you were. Lukas and his 'brother' appeared on the side of good. In the best tradition of storytelling: good triumphs, the maiden escapes (if slightly 'melled'). The prosecutor gets the bird for his troubles and the heroes escape in a cloud of dust. Bravo!

A detailed description of the location was an invitation to follow up; Bristol was the best place for that. Perhaps any decent reference library would have done but that was no adventure. We were on an adventure, I thought, so we might as well enter into it wholeheartedly. I would go in the summer.

Debbie was upset later that day. She was unwell and was trying to rest in front of the fire, her head on the arm of the couch. She heard noises from the kitchen. In the kitchen the white chair was poised, balanced on its rail. The coffee jar had moved to the centre of the floor, and it seemed to look up at her and whisper, 'Aren't I clever being here all alone?' To her right and on top of the fridge were two Schwartz herb containers, a salt cellar and a ketchup bottle in one stack. But there was worse to come as she recalls:

'There were many times when I was frightened, not by the communications on the computer so much but by the physical disturbances and the atmosphere it seemed to create. Ken referred to it as "polti-activity" in an attempt to make it seem quite normal. I called it many things.

On this night the disturbance manifested itself as small tapping noises on the door to the kitchen, which I kept bolted when I was alone. It made me edgy but I put some music on and they seemed to disappear. When all was quiet I took a look under the door into the kitchen to check if the coast was clear in the hope that I could go and make a coffee.

'Sure that all seemed clear I put the main light on, brazenly barged into the kitchen and made a drink. No problems.

'I came back into the lounge and sat down with the coffee. At that instant I felt a prickly coldness against the left side of my face and neck and something pulled at my hair. I thought it was my collar at first, until it persisted another four times then stopped, it happened so quickly I wasn't sure what to think until a few seconds later I felt a slight pressure bearing on my left shoulder. I froze until the pressure gripping my shoulder was unbearable.

'I knew some one was to the left of me but could not see at the corner of my eye – I turned round and nothing was there. I ran outside the house and waited for Ken to return – the cold, damp rain didn't bother me as much as the house.'

Debbie said that if it happened again she'd leave and not come back.

I was carrying out the daily routine of checking the noticeboard and pigeonholes at school when I was interrupted by another teacher, Reg Barratt. He had heard of Lukas and the connection with Erasmus, and he proffered a postcard-sized black and white picture of Erasmus that I could show to Lukas if I wished. It had been used in an essay of Reg's on education and I was to return it – if possible – as its absence made the essay look unfinished.

Various thoughts came alive: I'd leave this picture for Lukas. Perhaps it too would disappear ... I could use the picture to impress Lukas ... Lukas was very keen to hear from Peter and I had to let him know that Peter was coming down quite soon. Taking a message from Peter was easy enough but Lukas wanted Peter there. The main reasons for wanting Peter were, I suspected, the difficulties of understanding my messages and the fact that Peter was an Oxford man. Lukas probably saw me as uneducated, despite my earlier claims to a college background. Ironically it had been Peter's suggestion, nearly a month ago, that I write quite straightforwardly, i.e. avoiding pseudo-medieval construction, and the only outcome was that Lukas couldn't read my words. I was therefore cast as the ignorant peasant. Henceforth I tried to adjust my messages to suit the circumstances.

An unnecessary red-brick-university kind of inferiority complex arose in me when faced with these Oxford 'old boys'. Still, I had to remind Lukas who was in charge of this communication. I aggregated all sorts of imaginary affronts to my ego. I was like a selfish child with a new toy. I wrote to him that Peter would be coming down, left him the picture and questioned him further on the 'antic' mentioned in his first message. His reply:

MYNE GOODLY FREEND KEN WEBBSTER THYN CALLE SIGHT BE SOMWOT STRANGE YEA MYNE JAKES BE IN TA YARD BY MYNE SHEPNE BUT WY AXE THYS ME NOLDE ATEYNE FOR T'BE PLEYN DIDST YOW HATH MUCHE LAUNDE WHAN YOW LIVD THANK YE FOR THY PORTREYNG ME SHALT HATH IT PORTRAYD IN MYNE BOKE OF YOW TYME FORYEVE MYNE HASTEFUL LIPPES FROM LAKKE OF WITTS ME MEANST NAT TO CAUSE YOW JALOUSY BUT PETER METHENK WERT A MAN FOR MYNE RECONYG AN COULDST REMEDYE MYNE SORE EYEN A-NIGHT BY MYNE WASSAIL BUT YOW BE A PROFIT FOR MYNE WORDES I KNOWETH NOT OF A ANTIC UNLEST YOW MENT TA MAN WHO DIDST BETAKE THY COMUTER FOR YOWR TYME PREYE EXPOWN ME GOOS TO HAORDINE THRUGH MYNE KINARTON WODES THEN ONTO HE WAY I HATH BE BUT OONSE AND DIDST NAT FAVOUR THY WRETCCHED PLAS

My goodly friend Ken Webster. The sight of your name is somewhat strange. Yes, my lavatory [jakes] is in the yard by the cow shed, but why ask this? I cannot understand for it is plain to see. Did you have much land when you lived? Thank you for the picture. I shall have it put in my book about your time. Forgive my hasty words, it was thoughtless. I did not mean to cause you jealousy but Peter, I think, would be a man I could readily understand and be a remedy for my sore eyes at night. But you are profiting from my words. I do not know about an 'antic' unless you meant the man that introduced the 'comuter' into your time. Please explain. I go to Hawarden through Kinnerton woods then on to the high way. I have only been there once and didn't like the rotten place ...

Lukas

I felt rather deflated. He was answering a question left weeks and weeks ago. It was a suggestion of Peter's to probe his understanding of some particular words. 'Jakes' was one such word. It meant lavatory. Peter told me to write, 'Is the toilet in the yard?' No wonder Lukas thought me a peasant at times. The important point was the delay in answering it. Did this mean: a) a hoaxer had finally discovered the meaning of the word; b) Lukas had suddenly remembered the question; or c) the question had only just reached him?

This message was a real collection of current lines of questioning and areas left behind some time before. The picture did disappear and he claimed to have it. This was quite fascinating and ludicrous. I give him a picture today which turns up in his manuscript 400 years older tomorrow. I could never believe that. But I could see the funny side; it wasn't going to please Reg one bit.

Of some comfort was Lukas's interest in modern words. His word for computer was 'leems boyste' but he turned it into a Hounslow-to-Waterloo office worker – a 'comuter'. Peter wanted Lukas to stick to his own language and not to discolour it with modern terms. He thought it would help limit confusion if the words were at some time given to experts to analyse.

From the cottage the church clock is invisible but an ancient bell marks the half hour and the hour. On a drizzly, foggy morning or deep into a winter night the toll appears to sound across the years rather than across the gardens of Rose Cottages. The bell is inscribed 'Ava Maria', it is chipped and is possibly pre-Reformation. The parish church pamphlet tells me this. The bell joined the peal this Sunday morning, Passion Sunday, as it did every Sunday.

YOW BE GOOD OF MYNE SCRIT ME SHALT HATH WORDES WITH YOW AFT MYNE CHURCH ELS ME BE FINDE A SUM TO COSTLY FOR ME TO AFFORE

LUKAS

You are doing well with my words. I shall communicate with you after church or else I shall be fined more than I can afford [for non-attendance].

Lukas

How eerie! It was Sunday for Lukas too. He could hear that damaged but resonant bell as we do now. Ha! The bell wasn't chipped in the 1540s. It was quite new!

Last night Debbie dreamt that she saw Lukas fleetingly, standing in the cottage kitchen. The image of him, of his expression as he saw her, was remarkably clear in her mind. It was then that she remembered something more of the circumstances. She had been quite soundly asleep in front of the fire and had woken only in order to visit the bathroom, or at least it felt as if she had awoken. As she opened the door to the kitchen there before her was Lukas. In a moment he was gone; incredibly she continued on her errand, returning cautiously through the kitchen and eventually back to the couch and to sleep. Her recollection of it is quite distinct. She felt perhaps that she was getting too tense, that she was hallucinating. It unsettled her greatly and we talked it through for hours. She said she'd keep a note of any similar dreams, but only for me to see. I told her that she wasn't crazy. She put her arms around me and asked if she was safe.

Two days later it was very different. We had one hell of a row. Deb and I build up really quickly. 'More like TNT than gunpowder,' someone once remarked. The sniping, the little digs are more a cue to mobilize the troops than a warning of trouble. Neither one of us wished to give way and so in patterns of movement and gesture which imitated or parodied the theatre of war, we set to.

Some other dreams had been broken by recent circumstance: Deb's expectations in the antique business, where she worked for a time, had come suddenly to nothing. I was furious that she didn't want to tell me and she was furious that I wanted to know. My role in the business, as wise counsel supporting and, in my mind's eye, directing part of it – my role as ... well, who gave a damn? It was all as dust now.

'I do not need all this! Not only ... but the damn poltergeist is back, writing on the walls again,' I said, pointing to some chalk marks on the pillar.

^{&#}x27;What am I going to do about it?'

^{&#}x27;This isn't my home anymore, it's a cross between a prison and an asylum.'

^{&#}x27;What are you shouting for? My business is my business. I don't want to stay here either. What am I going to do? Do you think I'm writing it? Do you? Leave me alone ...'

And so on. Familiar enough to any domestic scene, some would say, with the exception of chalk marks on the wall. It wasn't until the next day, a calmer quieter day, that I looked very closely.

Lukas had left his name.

And so we spent more and more time at East Green. We slept there every night. It was not so much that the poltergeist activity freaked us at the cottage but it was the sudden and quite dreadful 'atmosphere' that could descend. It almost froze our thoughts, it brought on tense, unforgiving headaches, angry exchanges or even tears. If ever one of those clouds settled it was best to leave.

By 27 March and the Easter holidays I was absolutely shattered. The computer would be at the cottage continually for the following two weeks. I must have been mad.

The first message was received that night while Debbie was asleep downstairs. It appeared that we didn't have to go out at all. Debbie was worried that if she didn't go out people would think it was her. I told her not to be so childish, and another row followed. To get out of the way I took the message to Peter for his views on it. Peter was just so enthusiastic that at times it was embarrassing.

Next day I did some recording on a borrowed eight-track recorder. It came out badly, and I wrote in my diary: 'It is this Lukas business and the plans for the next building work. I can't concentrate. Maybe I'm bored with music. The New Musical Express still arrives at the shop every week but I only skip through it. My life feels that it's off course. I should be whacking round the country in a van with a band playing at village halls and the pubs, not messing with houses and cars, a mortgage and some poltergeist.'

Both Deb and I were tired all the time; just being in the cottage was tiring. Maybe it was because the house wasn't mine with Lukas there. (Like having lodgers, you can never relax.)

I was so tired that evening that I crashed out for a few hours downstairs. Debbie had gone to East Green before after I nodded off, and Lukas wrote while I was asleep. It was a reply to Peter's long piece about books and words and Oxford colleges ... oh well. In it was a great deal of reminiscing and this interesting section:

PREYE YEVE ME SOM REMEMBAUNCE WOT WERT THY WORDES OF WYSDME ABOVEN MYNE FYR WHOIS

POTREYING BE ON THY WALLE ... WE ARN ABOUTE THY SAME TYME O DAYE ARN WE NAT PREY ...

Please give me an idea of what were the words of wisdom above the fire, whose picture is on the wall ... we are the same age, aren't we?

Lukas Wainman had evidently seen Peter at the cottage. Peter was about fifty years old, Lukas too, it would seem. There was one difference about this message compared with other recent ones: the file name was a little odd. I had used PTR as a name but it had been changed to TRP during my sleep. Funny I didn't hear anything. In moving from one file to another the disk drive makes a whirring noise: changing the file name would mean using the disk drive. And the computer makes a 'beep' noise if one makes a mistake in moving items about.

Peter decided to go to Oxford to read the inscription above the Brasenose College fireplace, as requested by Lukas. He would also try and trace the early members of the college, looking for Wainman.

Debbie and I were a lot more confident that we were not being hoaxed for the simple reason that we could be in the house or out of it, asleep or awake and we could leave the computer for very limited periods of time and still this stuff kept coming. The only thing we could not do was be in the kitchen. Watching the screen did no good, though we spent some hours in an attempt. I wrote in my diary, 'If this a hoax we are now the only suspects.'

Apparent historical anomalies in the messages had declined markedly, and as for the language, Peter maintained that he would not be able to produce such high quality work. He said he might get a simple piece done if given days to pore over it but, he reminded us, Lukas was writing at length and usually replied within a day or even a few hours to what we wrote; sometimes the question would only be there for him a half hour before he answered. Peter just could not see that anyone was capable of such scholarship, and certainly we weren't. I wrote in my diary, 'But then again it can't be us, not bright enough.'

These issues were coming more to the fore now that the Society for Psychical Research had no doubt received the letter I wrote to them on the 25 March. It had been a hard letter to write. I was so shy about it, that I gave my parents' address rather than my own.

There was something of a lull in communications between late Thursday and Sunday 31 March. We took a trip to Aberystwyth for a day and we were busy at East Green for a time. I didn't leave the computer at the cottage when we weren't there for more than half a day in case of theft. Even so Lukas had had opportunity to write but nothing came. I wrote another greeting and told him that Peter was going to Oxford. The computer was left in position late evening; Deb offered to wait in with it.

Debbie was still troubled about her future prospects, or rather the lack of them, so she was not in the most cooperative of moods. When I came back home after visiting Dave Lovell, Deb was rather troubled for a different reason; she'd had one of those 'funny dreams' about seeing Lukas. She was very worried that she might be subconsciously making up his character, that she was 'suggesting' him. The dream was very clear. She wrote it down.

'It's a bit like glancing into a magnesium flame. For a while just white light, then incandescent green turning to purple, eventually shadows form around shapes, still unrecognizable, then becoming darker and darker, bringing dimensions to the eye and clarity to the mind.

'I blinked and blinked again. There was something different, very different. Yes, I saw the room was unusual but that posed no problem as I was obviously dreaming; I bit on my bottom lip. There! There it was again, a feeling of being utterly insane, and how strange too that I should be questioning my own sanity, this I have never done whilst dreaming. And again, yet another question arose, even stranger than the last. Had I spoken aloud to myself or had I just thought "aloud"? I felt myself frowning; how very odd. Why was I standing in an overspread fireplace? Another intrusive idea squeezed itself into my confusion and took possession of my thoughts: a picture of Alice in Wonderland trying very hard to reach the bottle from a giant table way above her head.

'As I took a step forwards out of the fireplace a movement to the right of me caught my attention. It was a man. A poorly dressed man, whose presence was unpredicted. "How odd this dream!" I reproached myself for not being able to think of any words to describe my feelings other than "odd".

"Tis strange indeed, maid."

'The man spoke with a thick accent and a look of complete surprise in his eyes. He placed some kind of hammer down on the large, primitive table then stood up in obvious bewilderment.

'Had he heard me think or did I speak? Why had I never had this problem in dreams before? I usually get a choice as to whether I'm heard or not. An unusual fear overcame me. I was not in control. Why was I so sure I was dreaming when I was dreaming?

'I knew that the man was trying desperately to hold a conversation. Was he listening to my thoughts again and responding? No, he seemed to be talking about Lukas, but why? What on earth did he have to do with the experiences at the cottage? Even for a dream this was an unlikely conversation to undertake with a stranger. I had realized that I was using the word "dream" every so many moments; why was this? Time appeared only to exist in my thinking of it. Why did I feel so insecure to the point of being suffocated by my own fear? What was this fear? Maybe, I thought, I'd died; it was a fear of no return. I withdrew into the fireplace in the hope that I could retrace my steps.

'The bright light returned and phased everything into the white. Then blackness hit me like an instant blindness. With a shaking hand I slid my index finger and thumb from the outer corners of my eyes inwards to meet on the middle of my nose. A feeling of relief flooded into me and out with a sigh – I had been asleep.'

Later that evening Lukas wrote:

IT NERE NAT DAYE AND MYNE WASSAYL LYTE BE TO WANE AND MYNE EYENS BE SOE WAYKE THAT THEM WERE LOOTH TO KISSE THE MORWENYNG SONNE FOR WAN IT CAME SOE ME DIDST PUT AWAYE MYNE CAS TO MAKE TO MYNE BEDDE WHAN ME DIDST SEE A FAYR MAYDE WHO DIDST PASS IT DIDST SOE AFEREN MYNESELVE TO SEE HER ANOON APPERE

AFROM THAT SHORTEST NIGHT

LUKAS

We didn't understand it all, yet it needed no translation. A love poem to a beautiful girl, a girl who appeared suddenly to Lukas one fateful night. A night like the night of Debbie's dream, perhaps.

Peter had the misfortune to choose 1 April to open conversation with a stranger in Oxford about communications on a word processor from the 16th century. The stranger took it as an excellent wind-up. Fortunately Peter had a great deal more luck with the assistant librarian at Brasenose, Robin Peedell. Peter introduced himself with more circumspection this time.

There was certainly no Lukas Wainman or anything near in the records of Brasenose. This was not necessarily a problem as the records are incomplete. Even so Robin could find nothing similar until over a century later, and to make matters worse the inscription Lukas had mentioned was above the stairs rather than over the fireplace.

Peter was much taken with the poem Lukas had left. I did not mention Debbie's dream, which, she said, would only cause unnecessary problems. It was, she repeated, 'only a dream'.

4 April

Lukas announced that he was to go to Stopford. This was, as we guessed at the time, Stockport. It seemed to us quite a journey.

He left a very long message to Peter the same day. It was in reply to Peter's discoveries at Oxford and his request to know more of the men at the college at around the time Lukas said he was there. Peter was trying to test Lukas's knowledge. He carefully pointed out the lack of an inscription above the fireplace in Brasenose but he did not disclose where in fact the inscription was nor what it said. I don't think he even told us. He hoped Lukas would offer the information. And he did:

ME MUSTE SAUF MYNE SHAME ME DIDST MAKE WRONGE THY WORDES PLACD ABOVEN FYR TIS POORE RECORD ON MYNE PAN THYN WORDES BE ON THY FYRST STEEP ANNO CHRISTI SOM DAYE ET REGIS HENRICI OCTAVI PRIMO NOMINE DIVINO LINCOLN PRESUL QUOQUE SUTTON HANC POSU ERE PETRAM REGIS AD IMPERIUM PRIMO DIE LUNII ... DOST YOW KNOWE ANY OF THISE MEN ROLAND MESSENGIR A RICHARD SHERWOODE A JON SMYTH A JON FORNBY A MAFEW SMYTH A RALF BOSTOCK A ROBERT HOLMES A TOM WIGHT AND TOM TIPPYNG

I must cover my shame, I made a mistake about the words above the fireplace, it is my poor memory, the words are above the first stairs ANNO CHRISTI – some date – ET REGIS HENRICI OCTAVI PRIMO NOMINE DIVINO LINCOLN PRESUL QUOQUE SUTTON HANC POSU ERE PETRAM REGIS AD IMPERIUM PRIMO DEI LUNII ...

Do you know any of these men: Roland Messengir, Richard Sherwoode, Jon Smyth, Jon Fornby, Mafew Smyth, Ralf Bostock, Robert Holmes, Tom Wight and Tom Tippyng?

Lukas had coped very well with the inscription and in pulling out the right names for his fellow students. Peter was delighted.

Lukas was as good as his word about leaving for a time and despite the computer being available he only returned to it later in the week, on 10 April. We had a name now for this waiting around: 'ghostbusting'. It was jokey and deliberately so. 'Ghostbusting' was becoming the central evening activity, messages weren't 'discovered' anymore, they were allowed for, sometimes expected, so calling it 'ghostbusting' helped us keep the whole thing in perspective. I didn't believe in ghosts. If Lukas wasn't a sophisticated hoax then he was real, a man out of time.

Deb's Morris Minor bounced along the very uneven road between Pentre and Saltney Ferry. Alongside the airfield ran Manor Lane. On the corner loomed an emplacement, a pill box from the last war, which guarded the junction of Manor Lane and the straight upon which we found ourselves. As the car turned up the lane I looked up and saw broken white clouds mottled with grey. I felt as if I hadn't seen the sky for days, so busy had we been. The light was penetrating, and a cold front had engulfed the west coast. Up on the wooded skyline the keep of Hawarden Castle showed clearly. There were no houses in view. The castle was on the ridge which carried the old road towards England. It was the 'way' Lukas would follow. We were in the marshland of Lukas's time. Deep drainage ditches run along Manor Lane at the Sandycroft end, deeper than any near Dodleston. If Lukas ever came to these places I wondered if the view included these woods and the round keep of the castle. Perhaps it was a little more intact in those days, before Cromwell's soldiers stole a stone or two. My thoughts drifted ahead to the cottage. I reread the print-out in my hand as best I could. It was slightly worrying.

GO ME DIDST SEE MYNE LEARNED FREEND ABOUTE YOWR TYME HE DIDST HATH MANYE A WORDE TO SEY AL BE IT HE THENKS ME BE SYK HE DIDST CONSELLE MYNESELVE WELL HE SEID THAT ME MUSTE NOT TELLE A CREETURE O THYS UNWIST WORLDE AN OF YOWR PEPLE ELLES TBE NON LESS THN CAPITAL BY MYNE CROWNE ANON ME AFFERME THAT YOW BE GOODLY BUT THAT IT SOMTYMES FORGES DREAD TO A WIGHT AS MYNE LINK MAN ALS HE AXE ME NAT TO WRYTE TIL HE DOST COME AND SEE MYNE COMUTER SOE ME SHAL SPEKE WITH YOW BY MYNE V DAYE YOWR GOODLY FREEND LUKAS

I saw my learned friend concerning your time. He had many a word to say although he thinks that I am sick. He advised me well. He said that I must not tell a soul about this unknown world and about your people, else it is nothing less than a capital offence, according to the Crown. I immediately swore that you are honest but that it sometimes makes some people fearful, such as my servant. Also he asks me not to write until he comes and sees the computer, so I shall speak with you five days from now.

Your good friend Lukas

Lukas needed reassurance. We had our friends with whom to chew over the latest turn of events. Lukas had not. Lukas had sought out an old friend in Stopford. Yet even he had counselled against Lukas writing more of this 'unwist world'. But this friend was to come to see for himself! Our fame was spreading. Five days. We should expect his friend around 14 April.

By 13 April work had been started on the cottage again. Outside the kitchen a whole lot of digging was in progress. A bulldozer, courtesy of a local farmer, a couple of very likely lads and a tractor and trailer had recently removed something in the order of forty tons of earth, broken bricks, tarmac and cobblestones. Mud was creeping in on boots and shoes, cement bags were piled up in a corner of the kitchen. The computer was switched on. It was often on despite the risk of dust damage. Inside the cottage it felt like a transport café, all teapots and plates and newspapers on the floor.

Debbie was looking at a cheap edition of a history of Chester. One incident caught her attention. This was a criminal case which was punished by 'pressing'. In a 'press' yard a prisoner would be made to lie down and a wide wooden plank or door placed over him. It would be slowly loaded with large stone weights until the victim expired. His only consolation was the right to pass on his land to an heir rather than having it confiscated by the Crown. I had come across it before in school and was the only one in the cottage who knew its other name – 'peyne forte et dure'. Apart, that is, from Lukas. The door to the kitchen had been open throughout our conversation. The screen had been blank yet now it read:

ME DIDST HEER YOW SPEKE OF MYNE UNFAVOURABLE PEYNE FORTE ET DURE WY BE THYS DOE YOW MEENST TO TELLE MYNE CROWNE

I heard you speak of the awful 'peyne forte et dure'. Why is this? Do you mean to tell the Crown?

Oh, Lukas! This was a strange lack of confidence on his part. He must have been fed a cautionary tale by the man from Stopford. This short message had two significant aspects. Deb offered the obvious: 'This means he can listen to our conversations.'

It seemed so. There had been no message from us to him, no hint or premonition of the events we were about to discuss. Secondly, Dave Lovell was with us both; none of us could have physically written that message unnoticed by the others. Deb also came up with the other idea: my/our thoughts had carried.

I left Lukas a message of reassurance. It was on the lines of, 'Please write to us, we can be trusted whatever happens; and so on. Dave and I went back to work. Deb remained indoors but left the kitchen door slightly ajar.

Nearly an hour later I went in and glanced at the screen on my way to the sink for some water. There was a message, but because my clothes were dirty and dusty I kept my distance and didn't take it in. It was a poem. It was good to see but for now back to work.

Outside, Dave was driving the great hulk of the Jaguar backwards and forwards on the soil, trying it for size in the newly cleared area around the damson tree. He didn't stop the car but called out from under his moustache: 'Anything?'

'Yes, a poem ... looks a goodie. Do you want to see it?'

'I'll look at it later.'

We were getting very matter of fact.

The noise and the practical implications of manoeuvring a large car in a small space prevented us from noticing the light in the kitchen go out and the music from the tape recorder in the studio stop abruptly.

There was nothing to see when we next went in. A power cut. The poem was gone, my message to Lukas with it. Work stopped. I tried to blame Debbie for not saving the information to disk and thereby protecting it from just such an interruption.

The power came back on at tea time and the music took up where it had left off. There was nothing there. If the information is not saved to disk then it can only live in the BBC computer memory while there is power to the machine.

Lukas didn't write again until his friend from Stopford arrived. Debbie asked him for the poem again but the first sign of his presence was this rather confused item:

FGGRRRPAIJBEPJJJJJJJJJJJJJJJGGGGGGNZ CCCCCCCSSSSSSSSDDDDDDDDDDFFNC

COMUTER THYS BE HOWE 'T MAKES MYNE LEEMS J O HN E4GZE55RTGR3JHGMNMBNSDFDGDF

Lukas then curtly introduced his friend, but giving no names. The 'freend' offered no names either.

A FREEND

My good man, I have heard of your griffons, lions and wondrous possessions and it is too fantastic to understand and your people are unnatural although I have no dread. You are a phantasm of great powers. It is my theory that you are in the future, so you can tell when the King ends his reign and who is to take the crown. How do you cure the people of your time? Is the computer yours, pray? The fashion of our time is such that I will not give my own name nor Lukas's true description and name. I beg you forgive me for my delay for I was uncolted [thrown from his horse?] from Stockport in my hurry.

A friend

Lukas was not his real name. It was now impossible for us to pursue our historical enquiries. It was not good news. Perhaps they were criminals, or scared that we were devils who would take them if we had their names, but we guessed that Lukas's friend was called John from the 'practice' message (above). This 'freend' could evidently see the screen, he could read our message but he could not see us. Lukas, however, appeared to have quite a different access to our time: via the screen, certainly, but he had apparently demonstrated that he could eavesdrop on conversations, and see some items in the kitchen (although not beyond), and it was possible that he could write on the walls. Someone said that 'John' could be an invention, another of Lukas's tests. If indeed this was Lukas's friend then the puzzle deepened.

The man from Stopford wanted hard information, some of it political. To me it was schoolboy history but as far as he was concerned this knowledge might allow him to place his loyalties with due and careful regard. Mischievously I did not want to tell him of Elizabeth's accession after Edward VI and Mary. He might confidently turn Catholic in 1554 only to be hauled up before the courts a mere four years later!

It flattered me to think we were a 'phantasime of grete powers'. I thought that the one really useful narrative we could give would be on how to rid England of the plague. How noble I felt as I looked through another schoolboy study. It's the rats, isn't it? That is the vague idea most people hold. Until one discovers that it might have been more than black rats, the rats needed a suitable environment in which to thrive. It might even have been a variety of plagues over the centuries. Even the Black Death in 1338–50 had three strands to it. It might ... I couldn't see much progress if all we could say to one man was, 'Redesign your towns, burn your flea-infested clothes and get the cats to work.'

Later that week a Mr John Stiles rang me at home. He was, he said, the research liaison officer for the Society for Psychical Research. He had a very academic, very correct manner yet he seemed relaxed and at ease with himself. I was trying hard not to sound silly or a crackpot. It is difficult to talk to strangers. I filled him in on the background and he moved quickly on to three theories. Firstly, the hoax. The usual schedule of culprits emerged, Debbie and myself top of the list. Secondly, he thought that one of us might be causing it unconsciously. This was something which deserved serious consideration, although the apparent authenticity of Lukas's language militated against it somewhat. However, John Stiles didn't see much of interest in the language. This irked me but he had only a snippet or two to go on and it can seem quite inauthentic on casual inspection. Thirdly, he introduced the notion of mental 'interference' with computers, although this usually resulted in nonsense or merely screen failure or equipment failure. There was, he said, only indirect evidence for it, but he gave no further clues.

To interest SPR we would need to eliminate the first two possibilities. John Stiles suggested putting locks on all the relevant doors and windows and depositing the keys with a bank while the computer was left on and waiting. I didn't take up this suggestion; I'm afraid I simply could not afford to be without access to the kitchen during building work, nor did I want to risk not being able to respond to Lukas during this sealed period; he might think us gone and stop his communication. Far better, I thought to keep it all going and accumulate material. If there was a hoax it would show eventually.

However, there was much we could do to remove suspicion from ourselves. SPR was rather underfunded but John Stiles promised to put us in touch with a suitable investigator as soon as we had made some progress towards eliminating the obvious.

Debbie finally got round to inviting her mother and brother down which, although hardly scientific, would be a useful start. The conditions were to be as close to the usual successful pattern as possible. The computer sat on the table by the refrigerator in the kitchen. A short greeting or message from us would be put on the screen. Normally this was all there would be on the particular file we were using; the computer would be left alone. The door to the kitchen would be closed. If Deb was staying in the cottage she would sit in front of the fire very quietly. Perhaps she would fall asleep. Anything from half an hour to a couple of hours later she would open the door and check beneath the message by scrolling the screen with the cursor keys. If the computer then made an infuriating 'beep', the file was not open beyond the particular page and line indicated.

The next stage was to look for any new file names which might indicate a new communication. Lastly the existing files would have to be checked for additions. Lukas had been known to use existing files and tag something on further down or indeed wherever. On this particular occasion I left a message asking Lukas for some information on Thomas More then I went to Dave Lovell's house for the evening, deliberately keeping away. As I have said, the conditions weren't scientific but I should like to quote from some notes made by Debbie's mother.

'My son and I arrived at Meadow Cottage at approximately 7.45 P.M. on 15 April 1985. A few minutes later a friend of Mr Webster's called at the front door for something. After a few words were exchanged between my daughter and the caller he left and we three – my daughter Debbie, my son and myself – went into the kitchen.

'We checked the windows and doors in the kitchen and bathroom. The back door was locked with a chain on the inside. The windows were closed, including the sky lights though we did not have time to check if they were locked. We then gave our attention to the computer. All previous entries on the disc were inspected; Debbie typed a few lines on to the screen and as far as we knew there was nothing entered after that.

'At 8.03 P.M. we went into the living room, closing the door to the kitchen behind us. I noted that the light had been left on inside the kitchen.

We settled down, quietly reading or writing, occasionally speaking. I was not listening intently for noises, this was unnecessary as we were very quiet ourselves, but I did hear one or two noises which appeared to come from the kitchen: the sort of noise a mouse might make.

'I felt cold at times and at one stage was shivering, we all kept our coats on as there was no fire in the hearth ...

'We went into the kitchen again at 9.00 P.M. Debbie left a weight on one of the keys [to scroll the screen] because she needed to go to the bathroom and there did not appear to be anything entered [in the file] since we left it last. After a minute we were startled by a high-pitched noise coming from the computer. This indicated to Debbie, I believe, that something had been entered [Note: it indicates that the cursor has reached the bottom of the file]. She swiftly came to the computer (or rather the monitor) and we all saw a new entry displayed, starting with a poem. We were short of time and I was unable to understand all that was entered at the time, but did manage to read and understand one or two lines. We then left the cottage.'

Here is the text of the message received that evening: it contains the poem lost on 14 April.

Good night. Good rest. Woe neither is my share. She bade good night that kept my rest away And sent me to a cabin hung with care To descant on the doubts of my decay. 'Farewell,' she said, 'and come again tomorrow' Fare well I could not for I did sup with sorrow.

Yet at parting she did sweetly smile
In scorn of friendship, will not tell me whether
It may be she delights to jest at my exile
It may be again to make me wander thither,
Wander the world for shadows like myself
Who take the pain but cannot pluck the pelf.

Thomas More was not unlike Erasmus for he was a man of wisdom and had benevolence for any creature. He showed much concern for the Church and did not keep his thoughts to himself, and for that reason was hanged [executed?] by the Crown for being a traitor and not acknowledging that the King is supreme over the Church. He was an Oxford man who taught Greek and Latin and was close friends with Erasmus, and together they learnt with much haste [enthusiasm?] many things which I cannot speak of. It would be best for your understanding that you read his Utopia or Erasmus's Praise of Folly which More helped him write while living in More's house. When More died Erasmus wept for he knew no man as true.

Lukas

'Debbie?' I said, after I came back to the cottage, 'it looks like Lukas is upset over some woman ...'

'Nothing to do with me.'

'You mentioned a few days ago when the power went off that you had had a dream about Lukas.'

'It was nothing, just fantasy.'

'His words keep echoing your dreams, Deb. Won't you tell me?'

'No, it's soft.'

It was a long time before she told me:

'Katherine was working on the small kneeling stool, she was oblivious to my presence entirely. Lukas strode into the room speaking words I could not understand, they were for Katherine's benefit. He stopped and saw me and greeted me. Katherine stood up, she looked very worried. Lukas turned to her and told her not to be afraid and that I was harmless. But she just looked blankly at him. Then Lukas stiffened and his mood changed. I saw he was angry. He shouted something at Katherine and she ran to him, she seemed to be very frightened of him. I asked Lukas what he was saying but he cut me short. He pushed me into the centre of the room and asked me to pick up a knife from the table. To Lukas's and my own astonishment my hand went straight through the whole table; other than a prickly feeling in my right arm I felt nothing!

'Lukas seemed to think it was a conspiracy and started losing his temper some more. He pushed Katherine into the centre of the room to face me, she was very upset and confused. He seemed to be repeatedly shouting at her to look at me. She started to cry, she was very young. "Lukas, what are you trying to do? Please do not shout at Katherine," I pleaded. There is nothing more uncomfortable than seeing someone cry.

"Be still, why do you not show?" Lukas asked me crossly.

'By this time I was getting upset.

'Lukas shouted at Katherine once more and she ran out. I think I felt nothing but hatred – this ruined my image of Lukas as a kind and gentle man. He was a real bully.

'In my upset and temper I said something but I can't remember what, perhaps I was too upset to hear myself. But it really upset Lukas. He turned away to face the shelves, his arms were crossed, he gave out a little whine and just closed his eyes; I could not tell whether he was crying. I went to move closer but without looking at me he pointed to the chimney – he wanted me to go. I was so mixed up and so confused but I still hated him. I walked to the chimney and found myself once again back half asleep near the cottage fire, waiting for messages or a distant sound of thunder.'

The following morning in Peter's ill-lit study in the school house I handed him a print-out of Lukas's message about Thomas More and gave him the news that we had succeeded in obtaining Lukas's cooperation with a third party present. It was naïve of me but I was grinning with pride and pleasure. This would surely go some way towards interesting SPR in an investigation! Peter shared my enthusiasm but his joy at seeing the message was probably greater. Once more I said nothing of Debbie's dreams.

The computer was returned to school. I was full of confidence so it was a happy, easy week. I turned my attentions to the Jaguar and prepared for the annual Jaguar Drivers Club meeting at Oulton Park, Cheshire.

Frank Davies was the motor mechanic teacher in Hawarden. He'd worked on Jags, and through this and his interest in tales from Lukas we became friendly enough for me to suggest that he come down to the cottage in order to repeat the 'tests' we had undertaken earlier in the week. I suggested 22 April at approximately 7.30 P.M., thus keeping to the same day of the week and to the same time. Although, I could see no reason for such replication, it felt more 'scientific'. Frank readily agreed.

On Friday 19 April the ritual of collecting a computer (rarely the same one) took place once more. I was very keen to hear how the world looked to Lukas and his 'freend', so Debbie and I typed in a greeting on the screen, locked up the house and entered the maelstrom that appears to envelop Tesco on a Friday tea-time.

THOU BE A FOND RAG WHOE HAVE BROGHTE NON LESSE THN BLACK UPON MY WRETCH I HOPE HE COMYS NOT TO SCATHE FOR I WAR RANT THY DEETHE BY MY OWEN HANDE SOM WAYES TWAS UNAVOIDED WYTH YOR CHARM OF LEEMS AND NOWE HE SITTE IN THE PITT OF SHAYME YT BEE THY RUINE YF BUTT YOUE HELPE LUCAS HE SHALL NOT DIE YF YE SHEW THY SELVEN AND THE CROWNE FOR WHAT YE BEE AND DISPLEY THY POWERS OF CACODEMON THEYN HYS LYFE BEE SPARED LAYE OPENN THAT WICHE YS TROUE AND GIVE NO FALSE BODYNG AND WHAT NEED BE COMUTER

You are a foolish scoundrel who has brought nothing less than evil upon the wretch. I hope he comes to no harm for I guarantee your death by my own hand some way. It was not to be avoided with your charm of lights, and now he sits in the shameful dungeon. It will be your own ruin, unless you help Lukas he will die. If you reveal yourselves to the Crown for what you are and display your devilish powers, then his life is saved. Reveal the truth and give no false threats and explain what is necessary, computer.

Friend.

I guessed that 'scathe' means 'harm'. It sounded more like the action of a scythe. Cut down. Finished. What had happened? How on earth could we possibly show ourselves to the Crown and display our powers? What powers? I still held the shopping heaped up in Tesco's plastic carrier bags. Deb and I exchanged puzzled glances. We hadn't expected any problems. It was absurd: 'Man with shopping bag meets death threat from the past' ...

I replied immediately, and took it at face value.

DEAR FREEND

IF YOWR TYME BE TO COM THEN THAT WICH I HATH SPOKEN BE TREW. LET LUKAS WRYTE TO ME NOW SOE THAT I MIGHT KNOW WY HE DOST SUFFER YF I AM TO HELPE I MUSTE KNOWE HIS TREW CALLE

If we had his real name at least we could trace him and check whether he did fall foul of the authorities.

No reply to this. I drove around the lanes. Deb sat in the cottage, willing him to write but it was hopeless. We tried again:

YOW HAVE NOT WRITTEN. WY BEE THYS? I WOLD SPEKE WYTH THE CROWNE IF LUCAS BEE SPARED. WILL YOW BRING TOM FOWLEHURST I CANNOT SHEW MYNESELVE BUT CAN WRYTE AS TO WHAT YOU WOLD KNOWE. WHERE BE THIS PITT OF SHAYME IN WICH POOR LUCAS DOES STAY WHOIS WORDES SENT HIM THER YOW HAVE NOT TOLD ME

TELLE ME HYS TREW CALLE

KEN.

Such a jumble of thoughts. I was doing a very poor job of saving Lukas from the Crown. Thoughts of press yards, witches being burned, executions, crowded my mind at one moment, only to be replaced by a dull, empty feeling of helplessness. I wanted to help Lukas but was at a loss to know how it could be done. All I could think to do was to ask his real name over and over.

Saturday 20 April

Jaguar Drivers Day. There was a shadow over the proceedings but the smell of the racing oil and the sound of the cars on the circuit put my thoughts into a better frame. I was away with friends and the Tudors were long gone. Lukas was dead, whatever was done or undone. I looked at the sky and imagined being out in space looking down at the earth; a lonely planet covered in swirling seas of clouds. There was comfort in imagining an impersonal universe where nothing you did ever mattered.

I concentrated hard on the events surrounding me. A yellow Aston Martin won the Challenge race, the food we ate was appalling, but we didn't complain. These are the humdrum events against which life, by and large, is set. These days are all we own.

On 21 April Lukas's friend 'John' made his move:

I HAVE SPOKEN WYTH THE SHERYFF WHO SAITH YOUE ASKE HYM TO COM UPON SHORT WARNING BUTT HE SHALL COM TO MORROW THOU HAVE GEVEN TO ASKE OF THE NAYME OF LUCAS WAYNMANN FOR REASONES I KNOWE NOT HYS CALLE BE UNKNOWNE TOME I DIDST MAKE HASTE

I have spoken with the sheriff who says you ask him to come at short notice but he will come tomorrow. You have asked the name of Lukas Waynmann. For reasons I do not understand his name is unknown to me. I hastened to ask him this but he said he could not tell unless it be to your ear alone. He said if this is what it is to help my friend then I will hasten to press the matter to him. The sheriff told me that if you can show yourselves for what you are then you must give the mighty power to him and he will request pardon for our friend Lukas and he will beg the King himself to speak with you and your King. This is a thing that the sheriff himself has not had the pleasure of.

Monday 22 April

Whatever problems Lukas might be facing we had to continue with our attempts to make sense of the entire business. Frank Davies takes up the story:

'I arrived at Meadow Cottage about 7.00 P.M. My first impression was one of disappointment. There was no heavy or "spooky" atmosphere – just a lived-in feeling which was in no way extraordinary – not at all what I had been expecting during my drive down from Mold.

'Debbie showed me a number of messages which she said had been received via the computer. My interest was drawn to the word construction which was unusual to say the least. Some of the words I could read without difficulty despite the obsolete spelling ... but other words such as "wights", "leems" and "boyste" were quite unknown to me.

'We established a new file, checked that the room was secure and then withdrew into the living room.

'At 8.00 P.M. a noticeable drop in temperature occurred which lasted some two or three minutes. The coldness did not seem to be due to any air movement, though there must have been some as the fire was burning gently in the grate. After a few minutes the room temperature became comfortably normal again.

'On returning to the kitchen we observed a new message on the computer. The message was from someone calling themselves John and it told us that the sheriff had put Lukas into prison, apparently for communicating with us. Debbie appeared to be genuinely concerned at this turn of events.'

JOHN

It is not right that you ask for my friend's name if you can give no reason for why you are asking. How can it help him? The sheriff does ask that you speak to him in person rather than through the computer, which he can't see. Otherwise the computer must be taken to Lukas in Boughton prison or Nantwich, if he is there now, to show that he spoke the truth. But it is not easy to move the device as it seems to disappear when any have tried. Only when Lukas is here does it appear solid. I beg a quick reply so I may go to him.

The response hedged around the obvious problems. I wanted to talk to the sheriff, and I left the following message:

MY GOODLY FREEND

THOU MUSTE LISTEN WELL THE DEVICE CANNOT BE MOOVED. I CANNOT TELLE FOR WY BUT I LOVE LUCAS AND WOLD NOT LIE TO THEE. YF MY SHERIFF CANNOT SEE THE COMUTER THEN BRING LUCAS TO THYS PLAS SOE THAT YT SHYNE AS SOLYD THEN THES THYNGS BEE SHOWN AS TROUTHS THER IS NOUGHT TO FEAR BUT MUCH TO GAIN YF THEE FOLLOW MYNE BIDDYNG. ONLIE GOOD CAN COM TO ALL WHO SPEKE IN WAYS OF RIGHTEOUSNESS TO MYNESELVE

My reply was sharpened by my desire to help. We saw some hope if he could persuade the sheriff to bring Lukas back. Offer a man power and you offer him corruption – any damn thing to get Lukas back. I felt it most keenly as it was I who had caused these events by firstly allowing then encouraging the communication.

23 April, late evening.

Something had worked. The next message was from Lukas, he was back

YOWR HELPELISS FREEND LUKAS

My good friend, I know not where I can start to describe my misfortunes but it is so good that I can have your true words once more which I did not think to hear again. I have thought much of what you said and about the box of lights for it is this very matter I fear for my life. The sheriff has forbidden me to leave my house and I am guarded by the sheriff's men who are at each door but he agreed that I should be left to myself. There is nothing you can do because I have communicated with your time and here are the consequences. I think we are a history book that has its front and back pages joined together. We are each a side of it. The 'boyste' comes not from my time nor your time but from God, as it were a guide for some purpose. We are in God's book. I can see what is to come and what has been. You can see only what has been. When your box came there was a verse on it that said I was not to ask about your unnatural knowledge for the box of lights will be no more. It was in my language. My fellow Peter could not have done the writing so true as this was. I think you do not know about this? I have told the sheriff that though I have seen you and your sweet maid many times one cannot speak with them, nor can I either, and never had. But I said you are of strange description and appearance that it would frighten any man to see you, I told him it is not too wise. Nonetheless, I am still to satisfy his demands before the seventh day. I know not who betrayed me and accused me, but I know you are my true friends for whom I have much love. You would not do this to me and betray the trust we have. I think you know what my fortune is but I know not what you can do, my goodly friend. There must be some way of your time that can help me from my fate for I see only the iniquity and cold temper of the law around my neck. You are now my true friends who are my only hope.

Yes, I am old but I have so many questions to ask you for my book which is all I want before I go to my God. Pray you destroy my writing for fear the sheriff may ask what I have said to you.

Your helpless friend, Lukas

Deb was alone when this message came. She felt upset and replied immediately with a few words of comfort, saying she'd fetch me as soon as possible.

Perhaps it was the feeling of responsibility I carried but this communication moved me almost to tears. These were the words of a man in fear for his life, a man brave enough to face the future and speak out. He would be a condemned man if we did nothing. More than anything, this message had a heart, a soul of its own. It was no scholarly joke.

Lukas was writing throughout the day and into the evening. He didn't seem to be holding up too well, the messages were becoming funereal. It was desperately exhausting for us too. One message said, in part:

MYNE FELAWE PETER ... ALAS WOT CAN BE DOON I CAN NAT EVEN TAKE YOWR HOND BIFORNE MYNE SENTENSE O WANHOPE ME WOLD HEER YOWR WORDES BIFORNE ME BIDDS MYNE GOODLY PETER FARWEL LONGE LYV OWRN OXENFORDE

LUKAS

YOW SAYD YOWR TYME BE 1985 METHOUGHT YOW WERE ALS FROM 2109 LYK YOWR FREEND WHOM DIDST BRINGE LEEMS BOYSTE PREY

My fellow Peter ... alas, what can be done? I cannot even take your hand before sentence of death. I must have your words before I bid farewell to good Peter. Long live our Oxford!

Lukas

You said your time is 1985. I thought you were also from 2109 like your friend who brought the box of lights, pray?

I looked at this little communication with open mouth. Deb and I had to sit down and look at it over and over. He thought that we were from the year 2109? We'd written our date to him in February, I reminded myself, but had repeated it only a few days ago. Was he suddenly aware that he was getting not one but two futures? Who had he been talking to on the 'leems'? What was the verse he referred to in his message of 23 April? We read it all again. Even if Lukas was sometimes hard to follow, this section was impossible to misinterpret. From 2109? No, he must be hallucinating.

But we pursued the impossible. Had he too received the poem, the first message, which had been forgotten in recent months? A similar one? We watched or rather waited for a message from '2109'. We weren't confident of a response, as there had been no hint of another communicant until now.

'Apart from the poem!' said Deb.

'Well, that rubbish isn't much of a future,' I muttered. But I was intensely curious about it and, carried away by this feeling and suspending all critical faculties, I stepped into the confusion with a message of my own to '2109'. In case it was all part of the hoax I used what I thought was a very tongue-in-cheek greeting. It was a bit Star Trek:

CALLING 2109–

I wrote to Lukas at the same time, telling him about the poem and offering to type in what it said if he wanted. I wanted to see the poem he had received. And in my thoughts these preposterous communications were flung out into a vortex and the one spun upward and the other, more sure in its travel, spiralled into the past.

An hour later, each was answered according to its nature. On the screen from an unsigned source to Lukas:

FREEND
YOW MUSTE REKEN FOR THY VERS FOR THYS SHALT BE YOWR HELPE
I CAN SEYN NAMO

From this same source we too received a few words. Words that were far more unsettling than anything received so far because however we looked at it we decided we were being used.

KEN, DEB, PETER

WE ARE SORRY THAT WE CAN GIVE YOU ONLY TWO CHOISES

- 1) THAT YOU EITHER HAVE YOUR PREDICAMENT EXPLAINED IN SUCH A NON-RHYME WAY THAT YOU MAY HAVE INSTANT UNDERSTANDING BUT CAUSE WHAT SHOULD NOT BE TO HAPPEN, OR
- 2) TRY TO UNDERSTAND THAT YOU THREE HAVE A PURPOSE THAT SHALL IN YOUR LIFE TIME CHANGES THE FACE OF HISTORY, WE, 2109, MUST NOT AFFECT YOUR THOUGHTS DIRECTLY BUT GIVE YOU SOME SORT OF GUIDANCE THAT WILL ALLOW ROOM FOR YOUR OWN DESTINY. ALL WE CAN SAY IS THAT WE ARE ALL PART OF THE SAME GOD, WHAT EVER HE, IT (?), IS.

'It is a hoax. They can't even spell!!'

'But,' Deb kept saying, 'we aren't doing anything different from what we do for Lukas. I just sit quiet, or we go out for an hour.'

I didn't listen, I was incensed by just reading the nonsense in front of me. It had echoes of the poem in that it began with an address to three people (Nic Bagguley's name had been replaced by Peter's). Talk of Purpose and History; talk of Destiny! Bullshit! If my universe was anything it was random, meaningless, absurd even. I could not square with Destiny. Not any old destiny at that ... 'a purpose that shall in your lifetime change the face of history'. Rubbish! Who was writing this? Not me. I was ashamed, so ashamed, even making a note of it. Immediately I wanted to hide this material, wipe it out, but without denying Lukas it was impossible. He mentioned them. I didn't need this sort of complication. Lukas in trouble and some wacko from nowhere going on about 'destiny'. I was getting a rotten headache just thinking about it. I had to get back to thinking about Lukas. We wanted the verse from him. The waiting went on and Lukas came up with it at about 10.00 P.M.

My goodly friend, here is my verse but I think you will make no sense of this thing. I wrote it for a record.

'Take what is truly yours it be to your confusion before it affects a man who may be in trouble [or danger?].

'Many a year ago since your day. This knack [device?] is not incitement to evil but the opposite of that, an angel of good fortune for those who shine, whatever be your motive [?] questions about important matters from the three that shine who, nonetheless [?], you have seen, will cause the box of lights to be no more. Such conduct shall be [?] your correction.

'For an easy [?] death is near for a friend of a [wise man?] who chooses [?]. The foul man must see the King to tell him of the cat that frightened a mouse and cure your sickness.

'Each of you men that have understanding I do not doubt that your prayers shall be answered so that you may teach wisdom unto the foolish. Be wary, my friend, of your lust. The pudding may burn.'

I will write tomorrow. I am none too well.

Lukas, your loving friend

It was a collection of fragments rather than a poem. The other communicant said that it was all the help he could give Lukas, that there was a clue in there that would save his life. I rang Peter and asked if we could come and see him that night. It was now after 11.00 P.M. but Peter agreed. Time was short. It couldn't wait.

Such a long night but Peter focused on the part of the 'verse' which dealt with telling the King about the cat as he saw that it had similarities with part of the poem we had received. What would the King like to know? Who could tell him? The sheriff was the man. And the only reason he'd get near to the King? Treason.

Peter remembered Bishop Mann who had been the subject of a comment in one of the early messages, the one about the dean Lukas knew who was 'likend to a fissh'. Peter had been reading about this character recently. Mann, it turned out, had once been in touch with a condemned enemy of Henry VIII's new church, the 'Maid of Kent'.

It was after 2.00 A.M. by the time this was sorted through. We hoped it would be information Lukas could trade. If Fowlshurst was a King's man he could report it to the King, it might bring reward. A dirty business. All we had was a little knowledge. As another revolutionary once said: 'Knowledge itself is power.' We'd try it.

As we cruised home in the car Debbie started laughing. I had a furrowed brow and was still thinking about Lukas. She spluttered and said: 'We're trying to save a man from the 16th century ... Can I tell my friends? You know, when they ask what I've been doing. "Oh just trying to save a lovely chap who's been dead for four centuries from this thicko sheriff. We were up all night finding out how to do it too!" What'll they say?'

I couldn't see the funny side but I was glad someone could. Deb saw that I wasn't laughing and began to stare out of the side window in politeness. I could tell that she was holding back from being hysterical.

I left a message to Lukas when we got in:

28 April

Lukas replied towards noon. Deb was in, leaving the computer for about an hour each time. The first attempts did not produce results. It was never a certain business. We had expected him to write by the time we got up in the morning. No matter: as long as the bloke was still with us!

My friends,

I did not know of this thing about Mann nor do I know anyone that does, because of this, deny his loyalty to the King. If it is true, according to the law he will be a traitor but he cannot be arrested because it would cause the authorities embarrassment, so he will be told to go away for a while till it is enough time for none to have memory of such an unfavourable act. For by this reason Fowlshurst would rejoice to know and be sure to stop [reduce?] my punishment [?]. This would seem a fitting answer. It may also be my rescue.

I shall make haste to tell him.

Lukas

29 April, 5.00 P.M.

The silence was unnerving, I had written on two occasions trying to prompt Lukas. Finally I had to get away from the cottage. It was too much. I needed some air. I drove just a few hundred yards west to the edge of the village. There I could see the sky, the clouds, the huge open countryside. If a damp south-west wind blows, then sometimes pearl-grey clouds at one altitude pass over the hills below slower-moving and darker clouds. It looks like the approach of an army: the dense ranks preceded by skirmish line, the clouds appearing to spread out towards and beyond you across the meadows.

It might have been raining in Hope or World's End. While we were listening for the end of Lukas's own world. I was watching clouds while he fought for his life. That such thoughts invaded this scene and that such events could be the result of our own tinkering, our own interference: I wished I could melt into those clouds.

The Jaguar bled streams of steamy exhaust into the darkness. The engine choked momentarily, cleared itself and the car flew down the lanes. I couldn't just wait around for news, I had to shake myself free from melancholy. As ever it was to Dave's in Penarlag that those four wheels took me. An hour later the phone in the hallway rang:

'Ken ...' was all I said.

'Come back now, Ken, OK?'

'Why? Is it a sad message? Deb?'

'I think so ... Better come back anyway.'

I rolled the car slowly out of the estate. I must have appeared rude leaving with hardly a goodbye but Dave and Sian knew something of the situation.

It was so dark. I was not hurrying but I was feeling extremely anxious. The wheels rolled faster as I made into the straight between Hawarden Castle and the airfield. The lanes beyond Broughton seemed endless.

The car bumped up across the pavement and onto the back garden, stopping with a wheeze from the airpump. Without a clear thought in my head I brushed past Debbie, who was standing in the lobby. The kitchen was lit only by the light coming in from the corridor.

LUKAS

My true friend Ken,

No, I haven't spoken with the sheriff. Tomorrow I go before the court. I can't escape being condemned. They won't listen to my story of Bishop Mann. Only the sheriff could help but he is powerless when I am in the court. I am so weak that I don't find it easy to think clearly. I can hear Katherine crying for me. It pains me so. She is only fourteen, too young to be by herself without a man to guide her. I hope that she isn't taken as a witch like me but this would be typical of this prejudiced government.

I have thought for days and nights without sleep on what there was in these verses of ours that could save me but I cannot remember all of your verse as I am not allowed any writing materials. I beg you to think with me for time is running out. If you can't speak with me again then I must also beg you to write my book and place this in it:

to all people concerning good friends Ken, Peter and Debbie. Although I am long dead in your time I would like you to believe that my friends are not furies nor devils but great men and a good woman who write this book not for themselves but for your better understanding. Although many foolish people will turn away from this unknown thing those that can learn will find great knowledge, if you do not turn away from what is true. The people of my time cannot learn for we are thrown in prison for thinking and reasoning on what is not explained so we learn only what the Crown will teach and not what there is to be learned. I am a man of God's book but I will die for this very reason. I pray you understand me for life is too short to go to God with nothing learnt.

Farewell, my good honest friends, may your God receive you and long live Oxford.

Lukas

Oh Lukas! I shouted his name. I implored it to the mute screen. Tears of rage, of unhappiness welled up.

The following evening Debbie scanned the computer files and found these words:

NON PROGREDI EST REGREDI AD MOMENTO MORI DEUS VOBISCUM LUKAS

Not to go forwards is to go back to the moment of death

God be with you. Lukas

She called me in. The kitchen was very still and we sat there quietly. These words we took to be his last. Debbie asked me again if we couldn't have done something for him. I got up and walked out into the garden before some dreadful melancholy captured me.

Friends came round. Peter and Val Trinder came down too. Peter brought wine and proposed a toast to Lukas. It was straight from the heart – we all obliged, if self-consciously. Conversation then turned slowly but surely to what SPR might make of it.

We wanted proof but the business had come to a head abruptly, some would say 'conveniently', and there was nothing to work on. The Society for Psychical Research would file it under 'no further action'. In a callous way, providing proof for SPR seemed to matter more than Lukas's fate. Later I regretted feeling this way.

1 May.

A little secret housework had been undertaken. Fine grains of chalkdust mixed with a few sandy grains from the brickwork lay along the base of the pillar in a little ridge. The pillar was clean. Debbie's eyes focused on a dark patch on the kitchen table. 'Oh, the picture ...'

The picture of Erasmus had been 'returned'. It lay there fragile and discoloured, charred like the magazine picture before it. Symbolically at least there could be no surer knowledge that Lukas was gone.

How quickly life returns to its shallows, murky, slow-moving, tiresome. Shamefully, the state of my overdraft and the unmarked sixth-form essays loose on the back seat of the car began to assume spectral proportions. Lukas's death and my part in it (I didn't feel like sharing responsibility with anyone else) began to recede from my mind.

I turned my attention to the building work and for the rest of that week I forgot the contents of the red file which hitherto had meant so much. Peter was still keen that something should be written up and his constancy and enthusiasm were tremendous but, I reminded myself, he was at a safe distance. There was much Deb and I needed to forget.

The May bank holiday came and went, examination work held the foreground, bricks and mortar the middle ground. I could not see the rest.

To escape school, I walked the playing fields at lunchtime in the spring and summer. Large beech trees line upper Aston Hall Lane. I followed the high wall of the Convent of the Poor Clares, spiked with broken glass, past the magnificent oak adjacent to the tennis courts. If I walked wide of the oak the young 'rebels' smoking under the shadow of the pavilion remained unconcerned at my presence.

Many times I walked through the Penarlag Estate. If I stopped at Wirral View, Sian Lovell made me some lunch.

Today, 5 May, she was quite excited, Dave was working at the cottage and had rung her at about 11.00 A.M. because he had discovered chalk marks on the kitchen floor. I listened carefully and thought, 'Poltergeist.' Sian continued, 'He can't read it because it looks like another language.' My heart leapt. I left lunch and scrambled to the phone in the hall.

Tea-time: Peter paced up and down the cottage kitchen, avoiding the extensive chalk marks, and tried to make sense of the last words. He'd understood some of the earlier ones but the last of them were bunched up under the table. Peter was thrilled. The writing was entirely in Latin and was addressed to him. The hand was neat, flowing in the obsolete 'cursive' manner, a work of some care. It was not signed.

The message deciphered as:

Petrus
nimium postulas
Lucaque mortem obit mortem sibi conscivit di te era [...]

and with some difficulty translated as:

Peter
you ask too much furthermore Lukas went to his death he brought death upon himself the gods will [...]*

If not part of a joke we guesed that it had to be Lukas's friend from Stockport. It was a strange sight, a small group of us in the kitchen eagerly exchanging opinions on the mechanism and purpose of such an event. Taken at face value the implications for the phenomenon as a whole were important. Clearly Lukas had been able to interpenetrate our world and now, if we were right, so had John.

Naturally the computer was mentioned. It was to be brought back the following evening. I felt my senses sharpen little by little. Even if Lukas had gone, the phenomenon had not; SPR could perhaps catch something of it.

The writing on the floor was inconveniently placed. Everyone had to stretch and tiptoe from the living room to the bathroom to avoid disturbing it and every time they did I imagined them crossing a deep ravine, a crack in space-time. But no one ever fell down.

The machine was set up and a new file called up on the screen. In return just one word blinked at us. We had waited all evening for one word.

ERADICENT

But I realized that this was the word Peter couldn't make out in the chalk 'curse'. It now read, 'Di te eradicent' ('The gods will root you out').

Frustrated by the idiocy of another death threat from the past I took a chance on the future. I asked for information from 2109 about the author of the chalk message and whether to concern myself about it. Nothing more came until 10 May when we received this message:

YOUR QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERD

I wondered aloud, and on the computer: would the communications continue? I offered a brave face about poltergeist activity: '... there is nothing outside man which can harm him.' I wanted to know more of Lukas, too. No reply, perhaps it was a dumb question.

11 May: one phrase –

NOT ENOUGH POWER

Puzzled I wrote back:

EXPLAIN ... CAN WE HELP? NAME POWER SOURCE PLEASE KEN.

Another gap, this time almost exactly twenty-four hours. It was turning out to be a very difficult few days.

GO TO SLEEP

Curious idea. I talked it over with Deb. She agreed and typed in, 'Later today'. We took the nap early that evening. One word arrived ... what a bloody bore.

ALONE

OK, OK but who? I tapped in 'ME? HER?' An hour or so later the word 'ME' was deleted. It was now the evening of 12 May. Deb took a 'rest' (she didn't want to). I went out.

PETRUS

STUDIIS VACAS NOCTES AC DIES QUID HOC SIBI VULT NON ME FALLIT ISTA CAVILLATIO

Peter

You are devoting nights and days to your investigations. This is what he wishes for himself. That trick of yours does not deceive me.

Even when translated it was just as obscure as the chalk message. There was a second part to the communication, separated by a few lines, unsigned and very strange – not only the content but in that the spelling was perfect.

FIRST, WHAT HELP DO YOU REQUIRE?.

IF YOU WISH TO KNOW LUKAS WAYNMANS TRUE NAME WE CAN SAY NO MORE THAN THE MAN NAMED PETER HAS IT PAGE 26

THE PERSON WHOM YOU REFER TO AS JOHN IS NOT TO BE TRUSTED. ALSO THERE IS NOTHING TO FEAR OUTSIDE MAN, TRUE, BUT YOU ARE NOT FULLY CAPABLE OF KNOWING JUST WHAT MAN REALLY IS, WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE YOU HAVE FEAR WITH FEAR YOU CREATE YOUR OWN NIGHTMARES!

I tried again to get some details.

THERE ARE MANY DISTURBANCES CAN YOU INDICATE THE SOURCE?

WE MUST KNOW ALITTLE MORE OF LUCAS. WHICH VILLAGE OR TOWN DID HE COME FROM PRECISELY? DID HE GO TO TRIAL IN CHESTER OR NANTWICH?

THANK YOU FOR THE RIDDLES ...! THEY ARE SO HARD! KING? MOUSE?
A LITTLE MORE HELP PLEASE ...
KEN.

There was no signature to the following message but it seemed very familiar. We put it down to 'John':

MY FRYEND

THOU MUST GYVE THY COMUTER AND THY POWER TO MYNSELF OR ELS YE WILT HAV NON OF MY WORDES ABOUT THY FRYEND LUCAS

In the week following those puzzling few days Peter received a long letter and collection of notes from Robin Peedell, the shy librarian at Brasenose College. It was a detailed letter, written in a very precise but individual hand. Robin had picked out a Thomas Hawarden from the college records as being a good candidate for Lukas's real identity. It was obviously a confusion. Thomas Hawarden – Hawarden School – Peter lives in Hawarden. Robin's enthusiasm had led him to use word association. He probably thought the events were occurring in Hawarden. He noted another Hawarden in the records, a John Hawarden who became Principal of the College. But we reasoned that a principal of a college does not withdraw to a cold damp village in Cheshire to farm a few pigs and chickens.

Of real interest was the news that Robin had reviewed the list of books Lukas had said he was acquainted with in his student days. They were all contemporary with the 1520s–30s, but one, just one, had proved very hard to track down. That was the book by Mutianus Rufus.

Robin had been thrown by the term 'Rufus'. It was, it turned out, a nickname for Mutianus Giacomo who had had red hair. It was a very obscure reference. Robin's work paralleled the effort Peter was putting in to find references to some of Lukas's words that were not even recorded in the Oxford English Dictionary. This was good work but it required much patience. I was thinking more of SPR.

Mr John Bucknall rang. He was, he said, the SPR field officer which John Stiles had promised. I took to him instinctively, he sounded young, intelligent and precise. I felt relieved in the way that a patient often finds relief in simply knowing that the doctor will call.

John Bucknall, so I conjectured, with a few questions and a couple of evenings sitting quietly with Debbie in a sealed house, would proclaim us all extremely sane. He might even write a report for the Society describing just how valuable the case was. I even visualized the article, and furthermore I daydreamed of casually handing round copies. Peter was initially more cautious. He considered that even if some intricate hoax had been perpetrated on the inhabitants of Meadow Cottage it was of immense sophistication and therefore of interest. I couldn't agree.

I think that behind my particular daydream was the desire to see it all end tidily and for life to slip back into a more predictable rhythm. But that was also a daydream. Our lives had been altered more than we would admit. These events were part of us now for better or worse. If it was all somebody's joke we had been terribly diminished.

Back in the cottage. 2109's reply to my request was brief:

LUKAS W'S FARTHER SERVED ON THE KYNGS ROSE, BRISTOL. A FAVOUR FROM THE KING BROUGHT WEALTH TELL THE KING ABOUT THE MOUSE!

'We're not into the Mary Rose now, are we?' Peter gave me one of those piercing sidelong looks so beloved of old-fashioned schoolmasters and I felt fourteen years old for a second. A kind of irritation itched incredibly. No, not the Mary Rose. Please! Our credibility was climbing on to a raft in a fast-flowing river. The mooring rope was worn and taut. I wanted to suppress this little message, instead I made a good deal of the fact that the 'rose' probably meant the Tudor rose, the badge of the dynasty, and that in a port like Bristol there might be many ships or even organizations termed the 'kyng's rose'. I don't think that Peter was convinced. In any event this clue was not pursued. Lukas wasn't his real name, so how could it help? My interest was SPR: any message received in the right circumstances was useful (or fabulous, depending on my mood).

Peter, acting on his own initiative, arranged an 'exploratory' meeting with Mr Bucknall the following night. It seemed appropriate to hold it at Peter's house in Truemans Way. We could move on to the cottage if Mr Bucknall was sufficiently interested. I was glad we were to start in Hawarden: Peter has better furniture.

Up the cracked path toward the door of Peter's house in Hawarden came two amateur Sherlocks. I could only form this thought: amateur Sherlocks. John Bucknall looked like a young business executive dressing down for the occasion in desert boots and cords. The big man, bearded, with mobile features, was Dave Welch. He was older and rather rotund. He exuded the air of a skilled gamekeeper off duty.

Both conveyed a properly serious manner, scrupulous and polite, but as they settled into Peter's magnificent leather armchairs I imagined that they had popped in after a day watching a badger set. It must have been their honest amateur enthusiasm. I was at a loss as to what to make of these gentlemen and the agenda for the evening. My gaze fell on one of Peter's enormous bookcases and I had the desire to read something. I felt both that there was little to say and too much.

Dutifully I had brought the red folder containing the print-outs. I felt intimidated, insecure. 'Oh, Lor!' as Billy Bunter often exclaimed in darker moments. I was bound to become repetitive, over-enthusiastic, inarticulate. True to form I was all these. I spoke interminably, interrupted everyone, pressed on, held back and poured mild confusion over the whole.

Peter kept saying, 'I knew we had to bring it to you people. We need your scepticism. Excellent!' He was enjoying it enormously. I was conscious of being too open, of letting my feelings of confusion show.

John Bucknall asked us for our thoughts on the phenomena. Debbie was the focus of a lot of attention, which she didn't enjoy. She wanted to resist the connection between her presence in the cottage and the frequency of communications, so she was evasive, too ready to deny its relevance: 'I'm in a lot of the time anyway.' I felt undermined when this diffidence was measured against my enthusiasm, confusion and interest. Peter had been worried that he would catch the blame; the lead paragraph in his nightmare read: 'Ex-Oxford man, expert in Shakespeare and Chaucer, fakes messages from the past.' Both Debbie and I wanted Peter to be wearing the mantle of innocence he deserved. This became less likely as Peter delved, in impossible detail, into words such as 'wrethed' or 'charge house'; I wished I could slow him down.

John Bucknall was trying not to chain-smoke. He emphasized that many of these sorts of phenomena are entirely fraudulent or are massive elaborations upon some quite explainable occurrence. Was he here to investigate or to name the guilty persons? I couldn't help feeling that the accused were before him now. He told us that until the phenomenon manifested itself, while we were under lock and key (as it were), he had no option but to treat us as the main suspects. This looked a bit unfair. Why had we spent so long explaining the circumstances to him if he was going to insist on their being irrelevant?

However, it soom became clear that we were in fact convincing him that some of the Society's very limited resources should be spent on this case. Scientific methods would have to be applied; the Society for Psychical Research was formed to keep these investigations on the level which was expected of an organization run by scientists and well-respected because of it.

As we drove off to the cottage I was subdued; I didn't feel that I had put over my ideas successfully. The Jaguar arrived some seconds ahead of John's Fiat and as I waited for the others to pile out of the car I felt very tired. I began to care less than previously about the whole interminable pantomime. The cottage was not yet properly finished: more apologies. There was school in the morning and I wanted to shout, 'That's it, it's all very weird but clear off the lot of you! Thank you for coming but I want some sleep!'

Our amateur Sherlocks had left Baker Street and had now arrived at the Baskerville estate. We showed them around the house, illustrated the difficulty of gaining entry through downstairs windows, door, skylights and so on. I showed them the computer and wrote to 2109, 'ANY MORE RIDDLES?!?'

'Aha!' exclaimed Dave with conviction. He was now standing at the top of the stairs. 'Does the loft space connect with others in the row?'

I had to admit that it did. I also had to admit the general lack of security at the cottage. It was still a bit of a bombsite upstairs, but they had to expect this in my current circumstances. They suspected someone could 'quite easily' have-performed the whole routine via this route. While we were in the house? While Debbie rested in the living room? They were not deterred. These were the kinds of possibilities they were determined upon. I was too tired to object. I had given away my home to science. So Lukas was to be the creation of some academic housebreaker with a love for a practical joke.

Poltergeist activity had started again with a vengeance, as Debbie discovered:

'I dropped Ken off at school after spending the night at East Green then drove over to the cottage to feed the cats. It was 9.00 A.M. It was not until I walked up the path to the front door that I sensed something was very wrong. Perhaps it was the cats sitting on the garden wall watching me rather than circling my feet as they usually do which prompted this unease. I turned the key in the lock and pushed the door open. In the living room I came face to face with a six-foot-high pile of furniture. It appeared to me in that instant to have been tossed by the little finger of a giant. Instantly I took a step back and out of the door and slammed it shut. The cats still watched me in silence from the wall. I didn't know quite what to do.

'I walked round to the back with the intention of looking through the window but I felt unable to do this for a time. I dreaded to think what mayhem there might be. When I did look it was clear that the kitchen had gone crazy too. Only now did I start to rationalize. It was burglars or local kids, perhaps. Then I remembered what Ken had written on the computer last night and all the anger and frustration he'd felt. I ran round to the front of the house and in through the door. Trembling I recovered the phone from the hearth, fumbled with the dial, rang Ken's school and left him an urgent message. Then I rang Dave Lovell and got him to come straight down. Eventually I gathered enough of my thoughts to examine the havoc. Everything moveable in the room had moved towards the kitchen and was piled against the door: chairs, bicycle, Dave's tool chest; some of the tiles had even been pulled off the hearth. Up on the roof beam the old copper pan had twisted on its axis and the handle was at an angle of nearly ninety degrees.

'There was a knock at the door. I opened it slightly and put my head round to see a couple of unfamiliar faces.

"Hello, Mr Webster's house? We've come to measure up for the windows."

"Oh," I said trying to kill time and to think straight. I realized then that I was literally shaking, with my tongue jammed between my back teeth trying to cushion and disguise my chattering jaw. I replied awkwardly. "Oh yes, Lewis Glass, er ... you couldn't possibly come back tomorrow, could you? I'm a little busy."

"It's OK, won't take a minute – just show us the windows you want doing and we won't disturb you."

'I couldn't see a way out of it – I couldn't think.

"Um, you won't be able to get to the windows from inside, well, a couple of them, I'm very busy ..." I opened the door so that they could see "... doing some housework."

'They looked at each other. The slight frowns meant, "She's off 'er 'ead." One of them looked blank-eyed at me for a second before he spoke. "You're fairly busy – we'll come back another time. Perhaps you'll ring and let us know?"

But for the power cables anchoring them to the wall the cooker and kettle would have moved further. The cooker was tilted at forty-five degrees, the grill pan hanging out. Many of the items were stacked on top of the kitchen table, the chair and broom included. The rubber plant, all six feet of it, lay across the floor: head to the lobby, pot to the cupboard. It was very careful vandalism. I found one cracked egg, a broken earthenware bowl and the top of the salt cellar in two pieces. That was all, even though almost everything loose in the kitchen had moved and the cupboard itself emptied.

Debbie spoke to Miss C, the next door neighbour at Corner Cottage. She remembered us leaving the cottage after midnight and recalled Debbie arriving at approximately 9.00 A.M. the next day. She had, as is her custom, woken early at around 7.00 A.M. and had certainly heard nothing outside until Debbie turned the key in the door.

Miss C was convinced it must have been a hooligan or thief and I could see her mind close up at the suggestion of a poltergeist. Even a friend of Dave Lovell, as he clambered over the furniture and fittings to get a better shot with a camera, would accept no explanation other than thieves or pranksters. He didn't believe in God, he would not even go into church the day they held the funeral for his teenage son so he was equally sure that it was ignorance to talk of 'poltergeists'. These gentle people. I admired their certainty. It makes the world easier. Someone once said that we aren't looking for the truth just a fiction we can live with. Deb and I were not finding living very easy.

This mess could have been made by ourselves or thieves. Some people would say, let's not invent other reasons that would suit us better. But Debbie and I were not inventing anything at all. We were receiving computer communications, the house was turned upside down, objects were moved, objects were removed, writing appeared on the wall and floor. We could be forgiven for associating all these events, one with another, and walking in that morning and saying, 'Poltergeist!'

Peter came later and brought his son, Richard, and camera. It would take a lot of work to put the house to rights again. I could also guess what John Bucknall and Dave Welch would think. The cynic in me whispered: 'They'll think you laid it on!'

On 17 May, 2109 offered some more 'advice'. I had put down questions about their names, how many of them were involved, what they did for a good time and so on. I tried again for Lukas's name, that was the main issue. I was hoping for some real help on this and on the poltergeist question.

I didn't get it.

KEN, DEB, PETER,

AGAIN, WE GIVE YOU TWO CHOISES, TOGETHER WITH SOME HELP:

WHAT IS OUR NAME?. TOO PERFECT THAT WE MAKE MISTAKES, AS WE MUST HAVE A CHARACTOR. MOVEMENT THAT CASTS NO SHADOWS, THOUGHT WITHOUT CHEMICAL REACTION, LOVE WITHOUT PASSION, HATE WITHOUT ANGER, WARS WITHOUT LIFE LOST. HOW CAN WE HAVE A NAME? WE ARE MANY BUT NO MORE THAN ONE IN THE TIME TO COME. WE HAVE NO RETIREMENT, AH, WHAT AN AGE TO BE IF THE DIGETS WERE REVERSED!. MARRIGE.

- 1) DO YOU WISH TO KNOW OF LUKAS AND WHAT OF HIM?. CAUSE THE COMPUTER TO HAVE BEEN NEVER IN HIS TIME, THUS HE SHALL FALL TO NO UNATRAL DEATH, HE WOULD HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE OF YOU AND YOUR TIME TO COME, YOU SHALL HAVE NO PROOF!
- 2) YOU CONTINUE WITH THE COMPUTER AND RISK THE SIGHT OF YOUR DESTINY, AS LUKAS. BUT, AH, BUT SOMETHING WILL BE PROVED.

YOU 3 MUST SIT UNDESTURBED AND TALK AND LISTEN-MOST IMPORTANTLY. THE ANSWER WILL COME TO YOU ALL NOT FROM AN INDIVIDUAL!

'How very tiresome,' I said to Debbie, looking over the top of my glasses in a disdainful, almost Victorian, manner. 'At face value they have no physical qualities. A joke has no physical qualities: only its effects are detectable. What do you say, my dearest?'

The effect on us of this splendid confusion was considerable. I was disturbed by it whatever the truth behind it. Peter didn't think much of the spelling. Debbie treated it as a joke. It provoked hours of discussion. I showed it to Dave Lovell and to John Cummins as he was visiting the village. John chuckled boyishly and began throwing out surrealist ideas: it was computers in the future talking by themselves, sixth formers in a future hyper-tech playing games with their machines in the lunch break. Laughing at it was by far the best way.

Peter hoped it wasn't the future if this was what would become of the language. I said it obviously wasn't the future but I became very tangled in the difficulty of separating the existence of these words from what might lie behind them. I was stuck on the horns of a dilemma, for if I denied the existence of these communications then I denied Lukas. I was nowhere near doing the latter. Lukas's last messages had been profound and honest. I reread them and compared them with this rubbish.

I still needed to write a reply.

The 'choises' they offered appeared as inadequate as their language. They first suggested that knowledge of Lukas's true name would undo what had happened. Surely quite impossible, an interference with the 'arrow of time'. Of course, if we were communicating with Lukas's friend then this irreversibility appeared threatened, if not overthrown already. Total confusion.

'Choise' two was to risk 'the sight of our destiny'. This worried me. I had always feared being told that I had three months to live or that I would die by drowning or by fire. The child in me saw all these possibilities. The adult in me did not want to see. It was clear that if 2109 had access to different times then my fate, all our fates, might be there for them to see. But perhaps, our fate was not at issue ...? 'Destiny' might refer to some sort of fulfilment of a purpose to our lives. To know that my life – our lives – were important to some scheme; that we were more than dust. I was tempted to believe that this was the meaning of the phrase, but then we all believe in our own importance from time to time.

I struggled with a reply. I resolved to abandon it all, as it was beyond my comprehension and beyond my tolerance.

Later that evening, to add drama to tension, as it were, there came the prompt.

TIME IS SHORT

I looked at my response so far. It was already overdramatic.

WE HAVE NO WISH TO SEE OUR DESTINY AND SHALL NO MORE ASK OF YOU OH HOW 'JOHN' CRIES FOR THE EMPTY POWER OF THIS MACHINE. HE TOO WILL BE DISAPPOINTED. FOR A SHORT TIME I SHALL CONTINUE WITH WORDS TO 'JOHN' BUT THERE IS NOTHING I CAN SAY THAT WILL SATISFY HIM. THE MASSIVE DISTURBANCES ABOUT WHICH NO ONE WILL COMMUNICATE HAVE MADE ME RESOLUTE TO GIVE UP THESE THINGS. LUCAS IS GONE. MY FRIEND IS DEAD I SHALL NOT PURSUE HIM BY THESE MEANS. HE ASKS ONLY THAT A BOOK BE WRITTEN. I SHALL DO THIS. KEN.

I had tagged something on before:

IF TIME IS SHORT WE MUST CHOOSE ... BUT HOW CAN WE AS WE KNOW SO LITTLE OF YOUR PURPOSE. I DARE NOT APPROACH THE FUTURE I CAN ASK NO MORE AND MERELY ADMIT CONFUSION. I DO NOT REALLY UNDERSTAND THE CHOICES SO HOW TO CHOOSE??

and after:

MYNE FREEND JOHN THOU SHALT LEARN THOSE THYNGS THAT YOU SO DESIRE IN FOWR OR FIVE DAYES. BE PREPARED.

KEN

... and looked again. It was hardly an improvement. If these were important decisions I was making they looked raggy and inadequate. I was going to admit defeat; I had done! Even the spelling had slipped. The only purpose I could see that would justify keeping the computer going was to enable SPR to witness a message, poltergeist activity, anything, and to keep Lukas's friend hanging on. That was my final objective. A pretty lowly one compared to destiny perhaps but it had a kind of logic.

John replied within minutes, which in itself was interesting:

NOWE

I laughed. It erupted from deep inside. 'The greedy little bastard,' I said over and over with varying emphases. Almost childishly trying out the sound of my voice in the short echoes of the kitchen. John, too, was being childlike. The illusion he suffered: that we had a power! 'Let me tell you,' I said to the dumb screen. 'Don't think that because we are the future we have gone so far. We're not gods, you creep!'

'Who are you talking to?' Deb's gentle voice floated down from the studio.

My mood was much improved; I strode off around the village leaving Deb alone once more. So much better to be out in the evening air. Saturday night at the Red Lion, the same voices, the same faces glimpsed through an open door. I did not go in. The churchyard was a better, quieter place. I walked its gravel paths from yew to pine, from wall to wall and, slowly now, to the church gate and home.

NOWE

The bastard wasn't giving up. I replied:

NO ... A FEAST IS WORTH A FAST. KEN

It felt good, for all the shabbiness of my last communication to 2109, to have decided in that moment that I would not allow anyone to communicate with them again. It was my prerogative to run away from the problem. Peter, I knew, would have liked it to go on but there was no fascination in it for me, just embarrassment and confusion.

I flicked through a few files, not expecting anything but a few memories, a few regrets. This was dangerous complacency. Nothing was ever simple or predictable with this damnable business. On the file opened on 17 May, below the reminder 'time is short', was a new jumble of letters; it got clearer as it progressed.

FRENDTHYSBEAFRENDOFLUKAS YE MAYE CALLE THOMAS MY NAM IF THEE FINDE THYS RIGHTLY

I AMM KNOWEN TO ALL MEN OF EVERYE MANNER IN THYS PLAS LUKAS WHO BE IT A GOODLIE MAN DIDST TAKES TO ASKS ME TO TEL THE KYNG OF HENRY MANN I AM ALSA TAKEN TO WANDER WHAT BE THYS QUESTION TO THE KYNG SO THAT I MAYE TELL HIM AS IS ASKED

THOMAS

I called Debbie down. It wasn't shocking. I can remember that. With the events of recent days in mind this communication was just one more for the collection. It could easily be 'John' trying another tack. I sketched out a few lines as a reply the same night. As an afterthought I tried a guess at who it might be if it wasn't 'John':

BEE YOW THOMAS FOWLESHURST

Within twenty minutes, before I had time to get myself ready to go out there was the word:

YEA

The sheriff himself, Thomas Fowlshurst. Well, this was a nice surprise – our first man of history. Because of the effort to save Lukas we had dug up what we could in the library on Fowlshurst. He was based in Nantwich and was a beneficiary of the dissolution of the monastery of Combermere, very much a King's man.

I asked him what change of heart was this, to put a man to death and then to communicate with the very 'devylls' Lukas loved. Perhaps he too dreamt of power.

Dave Welch huffed and puffed his way to and fro with a reel-to-reel tape recorder, bags of wires, rolls of sticky tape and other assorted items. John Bucknall detailed the plan for the evening. In the studio they would set up a 'listening post' with a microphone run out of the window across the kitchen roof and through a slightly open skylight into the kitchen itself. They would set it running and wait in the living room. Debbie would wait with them. Peter, Val and myself would spend our time in the lounge at the Red Lion. We got the hard work.

All windows and doors abutting the kitchen would be taped up. If a message was received it would not eliminate us from the enquiry but it would eliminate an intruder and suggest some sort of bugging of the computer or that the computer had been 'seeded' with the information, i.e. the messages had been left hidden in the disk, or in the computer's memory itself, waiting to emerge when prompted by an internal timing device or external trigger.

This all seemed very reasonable but my technical knowledge wasn't up to understanding the detail so I merely repeated the procedure for obtaining a computer from the Maths and Computing Department: choose one to hand, add a disk drive and monitor, put it into squeaky foam covers, sign for it, load into the car. The disks were my own purchases. John asked whether it was possible for a member of the Maths and Computing staff to prime a suitable computer. I said that the choice of computer was mine and so there was a good chance I would not select a suspect machine. Prime them all? I didn't think they'd have the time ...

This line of enquiry was duff. We alone had the 'motive' and the opportunity to prime the computer or disk drive. SPR were after us. I felt it was useless to put my hand on my heart and swear that I didn't know anything technical about computers. I didn't know anything. I felt as if I were under wrongful arrest.

It was now even more important to show that these events were genuine. I needed to clear my name! Naively, I had let these people come along and expected them to start from my point of view. Peter Trinder, however, remained pleased at the proceedings. He admired the direct, honest methods of SPR. 'We are the prime suspects,' he said. 'They're absolutely right in their approach.' I gave him a puzzled look.

Later that evening there was a disturbance of some sort, a noise from the studio. John and Dave were unwilling to investigate at first hand so Debbie crept upstairs and peered round the door. Looking at her from the corner was a round, furry, stripy creature. 'Koshi!!' She put the cat out and apologized to John and Dave. It had jumped in through the window and knocked over some equipment. Smiles all round.

A greeting to Fowlshurst and 'John' had been left on the screen since 7.00 P.M. By the time SPR concluded their session it was about 9.30 P.M. There had been plenty of time for a message. My frustration when I discovered nothing new was intense. The SPR tape would be analysed but I doubted there'd be anything on there.

Tea and biscuits followed. The atmosphere was most cordial. SPR were not discouraged and promised to return in a couple of weeks time. I stressed the importance of absolute quiet and appropriate behaviour. I believed what I said but it must have sounded like an attempt to restore confidence and I regretted speaking almost as soon as the words were uttered. I wanted it proved. I knew it was real in my own mind, perhaps that was dangerous but since the messages came every few days and in similar circumstances they had to happen when SPR were there, if those circumstances were recreated often enough. John and Dave said they'd come again on 3 June.

Peter kept at the main issue: 'It is in their hands. John has promised to write up all his findings.' It was 'something positive to look forward to'.

'Even if it's us?' I asked.

'Yes,' he said.

About 10.00 P.M. on Saturday 27 May the sheriff wrote describing how Lukas behaved in court during the trial:

... HE CRYE NOTT FOR MERCYE BUTT DID SAYE THE COMMUTER COULD ONLYE HAVE COMME FROM GOD AND THAT THEYE WERE NOE MORE THAN IRREGULOUS HALFWYTTED BOTCHES WHO BEEITT THEME TO BE SNEKKE UP ...

It seemed that Lukas was suggesting that it was the court that needed hanging.

At that stage I felt tired enough to be indifferent to what Fowlshurst was doing. I fixed in my mind the date of SPR's next visit and was satisfied with that. 'Can I leave this to you and Debbie to carry on while I'm away next week?' Peter readily agreed, promising he would come down after the weekend.

28 May

The tyres rattled over the white lines and the Catseyes reflectors as I turned from the M56 toward the M6. A dull sort of day but my mind was on Scotland and my eye on the fuel gauge. Speeding northwards, the wind, the sounds from the stereo: the grey-green of the Cumbrian mountains. Shap summit. Across the border, and down to two lanes, I needed to stop. Ecclefechan was the next township. A sign said 'services' but apart from the house where Carlyle lived and a sad little garage there did not seem to be anything. I growled through onto the bridge across the M74 then I stopped and got out. With a half-full bottle of Perrier in my hand I looked from the bridge at the traffic. Glancing over at the Coupe I noted with satisfaction the grey colour of the exhaust pipes. We were 180 miles from home. It was far enough to feel that it was safe to look back. I raised the Perrier in triumph. No one was looking.

Meadowhead Cottage is reached by a bumpy track between the green forest and the yellow of oilseed rape fields in flower. Magnificent beech avenues presented themselves as I looked across the Deveron valley. The car edged forward. Rod Emberton, John Cummins's friend, had already made up the fire in the cottage and smoke rose vertically from the chimney.

More than usually tired, I was glad to ease myself from the car and stretch my legs before settling in front of the fire. The cottage is stone, with a slightly damp but very reassuring smell. I planned to stay until Friday. Rod and I went for a walk along the path which leads to the main house. Rod wanted to know the latest on the 'hoax', so I told him at length, and to his evident amusement, that SPR had so far discovered or confirmed nothing. Greater amusement still when I indicated that they suspected, if not us, then neighbours or even property developers keen to push me off my land. His insensitivity grated on me. I was trying to be straightforward and report on developments as requested but, striding through the meadows and parkland with his nose in the air, Rod took it for entertainment. 'But Ken, where's your proof ... eh?'

Where indeed?

29 May

A few shreds of mist hung around the mid-point of the valley but the beeches were clearly visible on the hill above me. It seemed as though the whole land was exhaling. Its breath tasted sweet. Buchan is blessed with an exceptional quality to its light. Across the Deveron, crows circled a copse, a vehicle moved along a lane a mile away. My thoughts, so disturbed by the strange events at the cottage in the last months, now began to flow more freely. I imagined them taking to the morning air and brushing the leaves off the beaches as they turned northward and eastward then, sensing the sea, fell back to the rich soils of Buchan.

I took stock of myself: I was physically heavier, slower, my wits were duller but my enthusiasm was returning. I chose to read Orwell's Coming Up for Air, it kept me looking to the future. George Bowling went back in search of his past and discovered it wasn't there. I would not but I had a need to find out how I had changed, where I was ... I was coming up for air in Turriff between the infinite sky and the endless rolling hills.

Here too ran the road we'd take down to the sea. And sea meets river at Banff; the Deveron slides quietly into the waves. Across the small estuary from the castle mound there is MacDuff, a curiously religious, dour tenor to the place as opposed to anglicized, livelier Banff. Rod said he would like an office in the creeper-encrusted tower adjunct to the grassed castle moat in Banff. I could see him holed up there in a kind of Dickensian fusty gloom, poring over plans for granite-grey fish markets or museums for those who collected fragments off this land. Oh, and he was still muttering, 'Humbug.' 'Naïve realist,' I muttered to myself. 'He belongs in that tower.' Though in deference to him as my host I spoke little more of the affair at the cottage.

The light, such starkness even at noon. The swash rumbled up the beach towards the washing lines, the old net lines, quite bare along the sea front. We were at Pennan, a village clutching on to a cliff, which had been one of the locations for the film Local Hero. The car was parked about five yards from the now mildly notorious phone box (from which the film's main character would ring Hacker, his boss, in the USA). The bonnet was up and the distributor cap hung by its plug leads while the publican tried to sell me his Lotus between snatches of sympathy. I rang Jaguar dealers and Debbie from the mildly notorious phone box. Some wag had written above the dialling codes: 'Phone Hacker, Houston 763882' (or some such number). Debbie was also another world away. Or at least in touch with one. She quoted me the latest.

I continued my travels with Rod: Aberdeen, Fraserburgh, Pitmedden Gardens, cafés, endless fields, lanes and hills. In the Forglen estate there were deer and red squirrels. This was not just any port in a storm.

On Friday I left Turriff early. Many hours later, tired and irritable, I sat in traffic near Warrington as the temperature rose steadily inside and outside the car. Welcome back. Debbie turned out to be depressed and unhappy because her landlady had on some pretext attempted to evict her from East Green.

An exchange between Peter and Fowlshurst had taken place over the few days with varying degrees of confusion. One message was received whilst Peter, Val and Debbie sat in the living room discussing the latest turn of events. I wrote in my diary, '... leaves me out of it at least.' This is one short example of that exchange:

SHERRIF WHERE MUST YOU GO TO NOW? WHO LIVES IN THE HOUSE OF LUCAS NOW HE IS NAMORE? PETER

MOSTE NOBLE SIRR

I AM TO CAST AIM AND THINNKS YE KNOWE NOTT OF LUKAS FORR THOU SAYE LUKAS NAMO YE BEE NOTT A MANN OF VANITEE FORR YOURR WORDES ARE WISE MEE TAKES TO THINK MEE AKNOWE YE DELITS TO THE LEEMS IFF THYS BEE NOTT YE UNDERSTONDIN FORR MEE TOO AMM STRANGED BY THYS. LONGG LIFFES THE KING

FOULESHURST T.

Most noble sir

I will take a guess and say that you know nothing of Lukas for you say Lukas is no more. You are not a man of vanity for your words are wise, it occurs to me. I know you have a strong interest in the 'leems' even if you don't understand it. I too am confused by it. There will be opportunity enough to speak with you another day when I have time to spare. Tell the woman that I have no reason to have harsh words with her nor with yourself.

Long live the king.

Fouleshurst T.

No one was particularly interested in Fowlshurst's unpalatable words, and this message was only half-digested before being passed over. I certainly did not read it with care. Had I done so I could hardly have failed to notice that our good sheriff was no longer as sure as he had been that Lukas was dead.

On 3 June, a Monday, the SPR were back.

This looked fun, little bits of tape on doors and windows, secretive little traps to catch the 'intruder' out. They'd given up on tape recorders and so forth. The house was quiet and the green screen glowed all alone on the kitchen table. We were in the Red Lion eating and drinking. Debbie commented that this was becoming an expensive habit. John and Dave repeated their suggestion that we were being fooled by someone in the village, by the neighbours possibly.

Peter calmly accepted this suggestion as a serious one and probed for more detail. The crux of it was that somebody had to be doing it and perhaps a boorish character in the village, a property developer, was scheming to frighten me off my property in order to increase his empire. It was my fault for mentioning this Machiavellian rogue at the previous meeting. John and Dave were on the hunt for a motive.

That someone in this time and at this place was the culprit was already beyond question as far as they were concerned. What little comfort I could take from the implication that Debbie and I were innocent victims was dispelled.

'So you don't believe we are doing it?'

'Oh, we haven't eliminated any of you yet.'

Peter was disconcerted and sensing it I came to his defence. Not Peter. I always resisted the spreading of the net to this man.

One hour, two hours. Sometime between two and three hours later the house was opened up. John and Dave went in alone. Standing outside my own cottage while strangers nosed about gave me a strange feeling – a little like indecent assault, I imagined, perhaps inadequately. There was no message.

I checked every file on the disk. Next time we'd try with Debbie and the researchers alone in the cottage, sitting quietly in imitation of the previous two successful occasions. I was very tense, very angry. I was almost prepared to accept this intruder theory if it would allow me to relax. Poor Debbie, she sensed my frustration and she caught it up with her own; the atmosphere was terrible. If there was ever a chance I'd sell my soul it was now – for the evidence that what we were experiencing was not of our doing.

I turned to my work as a way out. There was much to do in school, the examination season was underway. But school bored me. However, there was time, as I walked between the rows of tables in the sports hall, to consider my next move, to dream this and that, about the end of the building work at the cottage, about a new job. Most of all, when the weather was hot and sticky and the fire exit was open at the back of the sports hall I'd dream of just walking out, down the Dell and across the fields beyond. Days passed.

Ching! The sound of a small piece of metal hitting the wall, then silence. We listened to this silence, to the hum of the refrigerator. The kitchen door was ajar, I edged it open. No one there. Silence ... Ching! A two-inch offcut of copper pipe rolled along the concrete floor towards the bathroom. Debbie picked it up. It was slightly warm to the touch. A further three pieces arrived, all but one in the kitchen. Never did we see any in flight: after our ears had heard the 'ching' of contact we would see a piece as it came to rest or we'd find it in the corner rocking slightly as it stilled. Nor did the disturbance stop when we had visitors, as Dave Lovell recalled:

'Lots of strange things happened at Ken's. One of the oddest events that I witnessed one evening with Sian was in connection with these copper pipe offcuts from my recent plumbing work. On this occasion Ken, Deb and I were standing in the living room by the fire, talking, when I heard Sian's voice from the bathroom. I went in to the kitchen where I saw Sian looking down at the lobby door. It was one of those pipes, the long one of the bunch, which we had previously put outside the back door. Sian had heard something hit the door and wondered what it was. I remember that she was pretty surprised, and shocked even. We were all surprised but not to the same degree because we had many first-hand experiences of this sort of thing. A few days before, one of my tools, a bending spring, got kinked. This was the only time these goings-on stopped my work.'

9 June

I did not sit down to write on the computer, I just wanted the machinery to babysit the poltergeist. I hoped it would cut the pipe throwing in some way. Ching! The first one of the evening.

'Try and laugh at it.'

Deb smiled. I smiled, my reflection in the screen smiled.

Ching!

'Smile louder ...' We tried.

Deb gave up and sat with her head in her hands ignoring all around her. I read the paper in the kitchen, hoping to catch a piece in flight. Chank! We both looked up. Something different. It had landed on the hearth - a 2p piece.

'Thanks. A gold sovereign now? ... Make it worth our while.'

That kept it quiet for half an hour. I abandoned the paper and considered going for a walk or for a ride in the car. Then I saw three one-pound coins sitting next to the screen on the mat cream surface of the BBC. 'We're rich, Deb, they've brought three pounds.'

'You might be but it's mine, off the mantelpiece.'

After this, matters improved. Fowlshurst wrote late that night in his usual impenetrable manner, this time wittering on about eating too much white meat and being involved in a scuffle in Handbridge.

Sultry June. The examinations wore on. The staff came and went on supervision duty or to prepare for internal examinations. In the sports hall the extractor fans continued to whirr noisily but there were fewer pupils to suffer them, as the last week of the month brings the last of the examinations. I continued to look out across the fields and dream. There was an ambience here: of a night club in the early hours of the morning or a high street at 5.30 P.M. on Saturday. Like the night club, like the shops, the school had exhausted its energy for the moment. Everyone knew it. In four weeks it would be the summer holidays.

Perhaps it may seem odd to mark the passing of twelve days by the hum of extractor fans but the examinations of not just this year but the past six years are stacked haphazardly one on top of the other in my memory and it has all become one moment apart from those fans.

In the 1540s also, one moment seemed to have stretched across those twelve days. Thomas Fowlshurst had left us with a tale of a corrupt baker, John with threats to Peter and Dave Welch. For my part I had promised that Peter should come the next day but there was many a day between the intention and the action.

Yet the messages of 21 June betrayed no signs of impatience and, since it did not matter much at 'their end', it increased our lack of interest in communicating with Fowlshurst and co.

Deb's sleep was disturbed at this time. One dream came back repeatedly to her: she was in a dark, claustrophobic room lit only from above. The light filtered through a heavy, square metal or wooden grille. The air was fetid; she couldn't breathe very easily. To keep up her spirits she was singing or humming a tune ... always the same time. I heard her once or twice in her sleep. It was barely audible at times, like a radio broadcast on medium wave moving periodically off station. She was dreaming of a prison. The song was a plainsong, or lament, but I could never catch the words and Debbie could never remember them.

Meanwhile there was another message:

FRYEND

THOU WANTS LUCAS NAME ME DIDST HIDE YT WHENE HE DIDST LEEVE YT THOU MAYE HAVE YT YF THOU AWAYES THE RAG WYTH BERD FOR HYM BEE A FRAMPOLDE

Friend

You want Lukas's name. I hid it when he left it. You may have it if you dismiss the sour-tempered fool with the beard [refers to Dave Welch].

From our slumbers we awoke. Lukas's real name, his 'trewe calle', was known and for sale.

Meantime Fowlshurst wrote to Peter in reply to some questions left on the 9th:

Between you and me my education is absolutely appalling and it is hard to make myself understood so I ask my friend to write for me but I also think the 'commuter' may take my fingers and work evil on them if I write to you. But if it is not so rather then I may abolish the evil so he may die without a corrupt soul. To avoid further problems I shall write my own name at the end of the message. Please tell me what does Peter want with so many questions, none of which I have to answer unless a good reason is given. I have told Richard Grosvenor of the good land here and it is certain he will pay a good deal to acquire it ...

Down a screen there was another short message from John:

fryend

aske not for lucas nayme forr fowelhurst wilt have hym to die he ys kempt alyve soe that thy leems dost stile shyne i knowe for i have heard hym singe there art few that doe singe yn latin yn the prisun telle not of these words to eny eles me shalt be ragged

Friend

Don't ask for Lukas's name as Fowlshurst will have him killed. He is kept alive so that the 'leems' still shines. I know this because I have heard him sing, there are few that sing in Latin in prison. Don't repeat these words to anyone or I shall be in great trouble.

Lukas was alive. The 'leems' could not work without him. And when Debbie dreamt of prison she dreamt of Lukas looking up through a dungeon grille, but till this moment she had not associated the dream with him. With hindsight the plainsong she mumbled was his lament.

25 June

The whole house brooded silently and darkly. The tape had run to the end in the cassette player. I couldn't think. Deb was suffering too, she walked to the kitchen, plugged in the kettle and looked around her. I suppose we were waiting for the pipe throwing to begin. It had returned last night with a vengeance. All was quiet now apart from the hum of the motor in the fridge. Two sharp cracks and a dreadfully familiar metallic ring split the silence as the metal rolled off into a corner of the kitchen.

The door was open, I could see the metal. I got up and tried to see where it had made contact. It wasn't hard, for the pipe had hit the wall so fiercely that holes had been carved half an inch deep in the plaster near the door jamb.

The rooms recovered their silence. I went back in the living room with a cup of coffee. Deb collected the metal.

Another sound: a scream from the kitchen. Deb was bent over as much from shock as from pain. She clutched at her shoulder, a piece of pipe had hit her. I helped her on to the settee and carefully pushed back her blouse from her shoulder. A blue-black bruise was already beginning to fill an area of redness.

Back where the real battle was taking place it was clear that Fowlshurst was rather more cunning and rather more vain than we had imagined. This revelation did not free Lukas. Discussion of the problem had reached a dead end. It was hardly possible to converse with the sheriff, let alone persuade him in all reasonableness that Lukas should be returned.

At the eastern end of Hawarden school between blocks A and B is a car park. Monica Rowlands-Price crossed it from her parked Cavalier to Deb's Morris from which I was decanting exercise books wrapped less than reverently in Tesco carrier bags. She had been following with interest the events of recent weeks.

She has an educated voice with a tuneful Welsh ring to it and she used it to suggest that I threaten the sheriff directly. Since Fowlshurst was scared of the 'leems' and obtained John's support in leaving messages he might well be open to this kind of bluff.

'Threaten him with the loss of his soul,' she said. It wasn't cricket, I thought. All of us had tried to be honest and 'trewe', but I could see from Monica's expression that I was being pompous and no help at all. Okay, let's do it, let's lie and cheat. I wrote:

THOU DOST HOPE THAT HEE MAY DIE WITHOUTT CORRUPT SOULE. DOST THOU MEAN LUCAS, AND IS HEE NOT DEAD. FOR WE WERE TOLDE THAT HE HADDE DIED. WE WOULDE REJOYCE TO KNOWE THATT LUCAS LIVES, TREWLY THOU LACKS NOT NOBILITEE BUT WE KNOWE IN OUR TYME THAT NOBILITEE IS FORGIVING AND HAS UNDERSTANDING. CANST THOU NOT UNDERSTAND THAT LUCAS IS A GOOD MAN AND SHOLDE NOT DYE. WE ARN NAT DEVYLLS BUT WE HAVE POWR. LUCAS MUST NOT DYE BUT MUST BE SET FREE TO RETURNE TO HYS HOUSE AND TO KATHRYN. THEN WILL WE SPEKE WYTH YOW AS FREENDS AS WE DOE WISH FOR WE TOO ARE FEARFUL FOR THYNE SOULE IF LUCAS DOES DYE AT THY HAND.

No reply at first. Deb wrote a few lines. Fowlshurst began to falter:

YE MOSTE NOBLE PETER

FFURST I MUSTE KNOWE WHOME DID TELLE YE OF LUCAS. IF YE SWERE NOTT TO USE YE POWR THE I SHALL BRING LUCAS WITHIN ONE ROUND OF THE GLASS I DOE BEG YE FORGIVENESS BUTT I MENT TO CAUSE NO HARM TO HIMM I SHALL DOE THYS FOR YE BEE ME FRIENDS THOMAS

Linking Debbie's persistent dream and the information from John I wrote back. The aim was to reinforce our position independent of any role that John had played.

'TIS NAT THAT WE NEEDS BE TOLDE ON EVERY OCCASCION WHAT HAS COM TO PASS LUCAS SUFFERS IN THY PIT WE HATH SEEN THE PITIFUL LIGHT THAT COMES THROUGH THE GRILLE OF IRON AN FELT THE LACK OF AIR TO BREATHE YET HE SINGETH IN LATIN

While Deb slept and I was upstairs a short rejoinder appeared on the screen:

TIS JOHN THAT DIDST TELLE

I wrote:

WE HADDE SEENE HYM AFOREHAND JOHN DIDST CONFIRM OUR KNOWINGS WILT THOU DELAY? MAKE HASTE. HARM NAT JOHN

Fowlshurst soon replied:

YE BERE WYTH MEE ANOTHER HOURE LUCAS B

Yes! Thomas wrote this message at 10.00 P.M. but it was interrupted at the letter 'B' and never continued. Frustrating, but at least we were getting closer. I responded merely by typing:

I CAN WAIT FOR A FREEND

Another hour. In rising excitement I abandoned, as so often, my plans for the evening. I climbed into the car. It was close up to the shed so I backed it down the drive a little way and sat there in the dark with only the light from the cassette player and the music of Paul Hardcastle jagging into the gloom. It was a very long hour. I was restless.

It was 11.20 P.M. by the time Deb was driven to the bathroom, as it were; she could not help but glance at the screen. There was a largish paragraph on it but an hour is an hour and she did not disturb the kitchen again for another ten minutes. She then appeared from around the back of Miss C's Anderson shelter garage and gestured frantically to me to come in. It was now 11.30 P.M.

My three true friends,

I do weep so; that I am again free to be with my friends again at least for a short time. It is wrong that I cannot hold you close but am only to show such love for my friends on the 'leems'. I know you as well as my own family since your time was opened to me, before that I never knew friendship so true though it is over many years of change and we are so often confused ... But I need your words so that I may take comfort from them. I must rest so that I may speak with you tomorrow or else I will make no sense of my words to my good friends. I need time to weep.

He was utterly fatigued but he wanted to have our words straightaway. To have Lukas's lyrical words again and some sanity returned to the communication was welcome enough but to know his affection for us was undiminished despite his incarceration was overwhelming. With more than usual care I saved the message to disk. The file was then recalled: I wrote briefly to him of our affection for him and our happiness.

In celebration we cruised into Chester to be reassured by the still-beating heart of the city at midnight and to join the queue at a fast food outlet in Boughton – not far, we supposed, from the site of the stinking pit where Lukas was, until a little while ago, imprisoned. Ah, the obscurity of it all!

5 July

In the middle of the sports field a tent with awning stood newly erected. The morning chill had hardly retreated as the pupils arrived, kitted out in a motley of white, near-white, or not-at-all-white athletics costumes. The tent was the equipment base and for an easy life I had gravitated there or, in truth, been detailed there, for it was sports day and I was not enthusiastic. The air of machismo and a kind of naïve 'jolly hockey sticks' enthusiasm mixed rather sourly with the massed indifference emanating from a significant section of the school population. Frank Davies came by, and he too was looking for an oasis. There was a breeze and the tent sighed and sagged at its bidding. We discussed the events of recent months. It was a good time to reflect. School had wasted itself of purpose: exams finished, fifth and upper-sixth years gone, some kids on holiday or just sloping away for a day here, a day there. Most of us teachers aching for summer.

'Do you know what time of year it is for Lukas?'

'No, Ken, I don't,' he said.

A tannoy burst into life. 'Will the competitors ... race ...'

'We asked him.' I picked out a scrap of paper from my wallet. 'He wrote: "This daye which be yere o myn lorde in reigne o king henry viii thy ""

"... report to Mr Jones at the start"

"... eigthe monthe 1546"

'He's about a month ahead then?'

'I'd say he's about 430 years behind!'

'The winner of the under-14 girls' shot was ...'

A pause. Frank looked up at the clouds and the showers disappearing beyond Drury. 'Did you ask him about the weather?'

'No, not yet.'

'What are the SPR doing, the psychobillies?'

'Annoying me, not so much Peter, me though ... John Bucknall came down to try and get a result but the machine went out of EDWORD. He said it was probably just a power surge. Apart from that failure something strange happened to the file on Wednesday last, it's happened before. There were only five items on the index, and then after a "ghostbust" a whole lot more appeared, all empty.'

'Did Lukas do it, do you think? SPR will think it's the "hoaxer".'

'How can you ask him? I can't explain so much as a car to him without getting utterly bogged down. How can I explain word processor file names?' I paused for a second, wondering why I must defend Lukas but then did so. 'No, not Lukas.'

'Then –' began Frank, and I knew it was coming '– how does he make the words? He doesn't type them.'

How many times this question had been put and how many times an explanation had evaded us.

'We thought he typed them for a long time,' (I was rehearsing an old discussion) 'but it never squared with the quiet in the kitchen. It is always so quiet.'

Frank, remembering his own visit, agreed.

'And no matter how often the message is interrupted by someone coming into the kitchen Lukas never mentions it. Nor is he seen. If he were "here" it would mean that an interruption would be quite an inconvenience but if "there" in 1546, an interruption to the process between "here" and "there" caused by our presence need not be noticed by him as he would not necessarily know about it. Could he be in both places? What does "place" mean? It's so messy trying to say what might be happening.'

'Would it be easier to assume some sort of mechanism controlled or influenced by a third party?' asked Frank.

'That's why SPR say it has to be a hoax.'

'What about our numerical friends?' chipped in Frank before I could become depressed about the psychobillies.

He meant 2109. Frank called them 'our numerical friends'. Some friends! Even worse to think that they might be behind all the messages.

'Lukas saw an image of a screen, his "leems". This image, the box of lights, brought him our questions, our conversations. He answered them through the "leems", creating letters and then words. He's confused by it too. That's it really ... Oh, and Lukas says the "leems" appear brighter or duller depending upon who is close by. Lukas's friend from Stockport wrote once that psychobilly Dave – he called him the "rag with furre on chin" – made the "leems" fade. This friend also wrote to the effect that the "leems" cannot be moved because it "misappears" and, most curious of all, that it cannot be seen by everyone!'

'But could 2109 be inventing it?'

'Sir.' A small, round face peered at me. 'Have you got a tape? Miss wants one.'

I reached for a tape in the box. 'Last one, Jane, tell her from me. OK?'

I was suddenly irritated. I think it was just knowing that there were too many questions. I closed the discussion by repeating my best guess. 'Sorry, Frank, I don't know about 2109 and to get back to your original question I suppose he "thinks" up the words or the letters.'

It was embarrassing to say it once, never mind repeat it. As I spoke, the fuller version flitted across my mind: 'Lukas Wainman (1546) thinks up words which appear on my BBC computer across 400 years.'

Frank was very gentle, very forgiving and didn't come back to this conversation, despite his obvious curiosity.

'Look,' I said quickly, 'have you got a new job yet? It's pretty late on now.' He shook his head slowly.

Frank eventually moved off towards the long-jump pit and I was alone with the sagging and sighing tent. I fetched other scraps of paper out of the wallet, flimsy print-outs. With the smell of hot dogs and onions and the sounds of the track and transistors bringing out the worst in me I was glad of a chance to look again at the latest messages from Lukas. For the past week Lukas had been worrying over a number of things. He had traced Katherine to a tavern where she was hanging around with some 'grosse beggars' and others of 'outlandische faschions'. He did not know how he could persuade her to come back. More ominously, a man called Grosvenor had been visiting him. I read from the print-out:

PREYE WY DOST THY GROVENOR* PLAUGE MYNESELVE FOR OWR LAUNDE

My reply:

FOWLSHURST DID SAYE THAT SINCE YOU WERE IN THE PITT YOW WOULD HAVE NO USE FOR THE LAND AND THAT GROVENOR WOULD PAY A GOOD SUM FOR IT.

I later proposed that Lukas show Grosvenor the door. I dared not tell him that the land on which my cottage stood was sold out of the Grosvenor estate in 1919 and had therefore fallen into it at sometime.

The round face appeared again at the tent. 'The tapes, sir, we've finished it all now.'

Despite Lukas's problems he was becoming bolder. On 7 July Debbie asked about Grosvenor and included the line:

WE DO NAT LYK TO SEE SUCH TROUBLES FOR OUR FREEND

To which he replied that afternoon:

MYNE FREEND METHYNKS YOW WILL SEE MYNSELVE SOONE.

He seemed to have misinterpreted Debbie somehow.

Debbie was very quiet when I got home from school. She complained of tiredness and said she had slept a little and 'dreamt' of Lukas again, once more in the kitchen. I read over the short exchange of the morning.

I was not curious about the dream or the message, although Debbie wanted to talk about it. It was insensitive of me but I couldn't fix the house with words and dreams. I was impatient and dismissed the communication from my mind. I went about some work upstairs, tidying or moving tools and pieces of wood. It wasn't until 9.00 P.M. that I felt I should leave the cottage for an hour and maybe give Lukas an opportunity to write, since there had been nothing further. Deb didn't want me to go. Could she come? It was boring being alone, she said. Lukas would write anyway, she said ... and so on, through a dozen entreaties. Unmoved I repeated the reason for her being there: it improved the chances of contact. I didn't want to risk missing out on a message. Deb was unhappy.

'You didn't even read the last one. It's not a game. I get scared sometimes.'

'And I suppose I don't? Do we just forget about it?' I was tired, angry even, at having to remind myself of the old, old questions. Debbie stayed in. I went out. And sure enough, Lukas wrote to us again:

LOVE LUKAS

My friend

I think your maid is something of jester but she must understand this important thing: it is certain that she saw me appear and yet she insults me by not opening her mouth. I tell you, maid, speak to me, I won't harm you, I am not malicious or dangerous. If you speak with me and perhaps take to me I will be allowed to take your hand so that I can see if I can touch a person of your time. This would help us communicate better yet I will do nothing that you would not wish. This is why I must go very cautiously and ask you, my fellow, for advice.

So I listened to my beautiful girlfriend tell of her 'dream' of talking with Lukas and even so I did not understand.

8 July

Quite out of the blue there appeared on the concrete of the kitchen floor two chalk outlines, shields. They were about ten inches deep and seven inches across. They meant nothing to us. It wasn't a big shock to see them, all that kind of reaction had been drained out of us long ago. Curiosity remained. Deb wrote asking Lukas about them as he had made no mention of them himself in his last message an hour or two before the chalk marks were seen for the first time.

She asked about them again on the 10th. If they were from Lukas they were a further pointer to suggest his 'presence' in our time. Debbie remained concerned: 'I don't feel safe if he can come here like that.'

Peter couldn't place the designs on the shields* but began enquiries. Since Lukas had returned there had been a correspondence between Peter and Lukas on the subject of language and religion and lately a diversion into high-speed travel. Peter described his ability to use a 'cart tygre' to reach Oxford in three hours and also had a go at describing aircraft: 'carts ... like bridds and thise can flie around the whole world.'

Lukas was appalled at these ideas.

You talk of things which I will never understand. If a man were to go as quickly as you say would not blood ooze from his ears ...? I told my horse of this and it thought me mad. It threw off its saddle for fear I might force this feat upon it. You ask of my God. Men of my time have many thoughts, mostly contrary to each other. A learned man can make good use of His gifts and constraints. Love and honour for a man can set loose all kinds of ideas with a few wise words. We are here to communicate. This is all we really have, don't you agree?

A few days later Lukas wrote to say that he had been forced to do a deal with Grosvenor, who would now take over his house and land in 'non less than tweye [two] monthes'. Lukas thought it was probably for the best as it was possible that Fowlshurst would return when he had recovered from the shock and realized that his soul was still intact.

From 12–21 July the messages flowed easily. The format was very stable. A message would be typed in either by myself or by Debbie. The room was then left for between half an hour and an hour, sometimes longer. I would go out for a walk or a drive or just sit in the car outside the house. Music might be playing on the tape recorder upstairs or Debbie might doodle on a sketch pad or have a bath. It was important for her to be relaxed. This view was based on accumulated experience. The computer was on all the time during the 'ghostbust'.

The issues, the problems at both ends, were clear enough. Yet this was the pattern that had settled into place by July, and was aimed quite deliberately at providing as many opportunities for Lukas to write as possible, while at the same time giving maximum time for the rest of our lives.

The task did not end there. We had bought a computer some time previously but could not afford a printer, so during the school holidays when there was no access to a printer we had to copy messages out by hand.

And there was Peter. He was so enthusiastic about the words that I got into the bad habit of delivering messages for his comments almost every day. It was no longer necessary for Peter to translate as the meaning was pretty obvious, but Peter was someone to talk to who really knew what we were facing. In a way he was facing it too.

We were all becoming more skilled at imitating Lukas's language in our replies but it was clumsy at best and we knew Lukas was having to struggle with it. Peter would often compose his own messages to Lukas which I would take to the cottage and type in.

With the burdens of a full-time job, altering the house and writing out by hand the latest message, it is not hard to understand why Deb and I would seldom follow up what Lukas wrote to any great extent. The list of historical items alone which we needed to check and discuss grew longer and longer. Big questions were given ten minutes, really important ones an hour. Only Peter was doing any serious work on the messages as he probed every single word, assessing its accuracy and writing copious notes on everything he found in the Oxford English Dictionary.

Lukas rarely came through now on files other than the one we were using, which was a relief as it meant less searching around. He'd write below the message left to him, sometimes without leaving any space between our message and his. Equally there were times when the message was a long way down in the file and a lot of empty pages were created. It was now no inconvenience as we had learnt that typing 'Command B' shot the cursor straight to the base of the file. It was about time we read the computer manual. If a message was seen during this 'fast scroll' we'd just shuffle the pages back using the cursor keys. I was now in the habit of dating the messages. I sometimes noted the times, especially after a day when a number of different messages came up.

During this period John Bucknall and Dave Welch visited the cottage to talk over the possibilities of achieving a result now that Lukas was back and might be persuaded to co-operate. Peter wrote to Lukas asking that he write when next these 'learned' gentlemen, 'our friends', called.

Lukas looked at this very differently.

My good fool,

What do these persons, these visitors you speak of want? Aren't they scholars from our beloved Oxford? Why do they come to see the 'leems'? What cause do these men serve by doing so? To avoid offending me you should tell me more about them. Give their background and check their reasons for being here. It is very important. Take good heed to me ... I remember that Fowlshurst said that a person caused the 'leems' to disappear when close to it. Is one of these men the same person ...? You will not ruin me nor will you use me like a toy or plaything. I don't think you will so I will go along with your wishes and consider their questions with the hope that you tell only men of wisdom who will not destroy my 'leems' and friends.

Lukas

Peter explained at great length that these were 'goodly men'. He gave their names and thanked Lukas for his promised co-operation. Lukas wrote once more, emphasizing that we must 'pace slowly wyth thys man jon'.

21 July

Lukas was becoming very suspicious. Perhaps never fully recovered from the possibility of the 'leems' being 'undone' by John Bucknall ... or others ... he began to wonder why Debbie sat in front of the computer and wrote for Peter.

The question of why a particular person affected the screen was put to him. He couldn't offer much on this.

I have no power over who causes the 'leems' to shine when near it. Ask me why your maid is here and I have no answer. Either we are ignorant of these things or confused by another 'ether'.

The message concluded with an interesting, and unexpected aside about 'Jon Kabot':

'DOST THEE KNOWE O JON KABOT FOR WY HE WERT CLOTHE IN MYNE WEN PLAS AND DIDST TAKES GOODLY CRAFT WYN MYN KYN ON MYNE SHYPPS. LUKAS

Do you know of John Cabot, for he was living in my home area and took good ships with some of my kinfolk on them?

Lukas

Bristol, from where Cabot sailed, was my target for a flying visit to celebrate the end of the school year. Bristol had been mentioned in the cottage and thus he might have 'heard' the name, but this tie-in with a famous explorer caused some renewal of the scepticism to which, I am glad to say, we all fell prey at regular intervals. I'd rather Lukas were no one and knew no one now remotely important to history.

Peter wrote to Lukas saying that holidays were upon us and that John Bucknall would be visiting soon. Lukas thought our dispersal, Peter to France, me to Bristol and Debbie later on to Oxford, was at the insistence of enemies of the 'leems'. He was especially concerned at Peter's 'exile' to France, taking it to mean that he would never come back. Peter had meant only to reassure Lukas but had been roundly misunderstood. Following on the doubts Lukas was having over the visit of SPR and the reluctance of Debbie to concede that she had indeed spoken to him it was an unfortunate coincidence of problems. The main effect was to waste time getting his confidence back when more interesting questions could have been put.

But during this process of soothing Lukas something rather special cropped up:

DOST A WIGHT OF YOWR STATES CAUSE ANNOYANCE TO YSELVE. METHYNKS IF THY CROWNE DOST FONGE AN DISPENSE MYNE QUAYNT NAK FOR THEYM SILFS URE THEN TWOLDE BECOME THIR POWNCETT BOX. WOT GRETE POWRE THAT TWOLD DERADYNATE THY WHOLE O HYSTORIE BEEST SURE MYNE FREEND OR METHYNKS UNSURE PARDIE. TIS MOORE CERTAYNE IN MYNE TYME THAT THER BE LITEL FEWE THAT NILL FERE MYNE LEEMS BUT TIS NAT SOE IN YOWR WORLDE PREYE. TIS PRIMER THAT THAN YOWR CROWNE DOST NAT TAKES OWRN BOYSTE AN YOW DOE LEEVE YOWR BROTHIR LUKAS

Does one of your peers seek to cause you harm? I think if your Government takes over control of the device for their own ends then it will become their plaything. A great power would destabilize the whole of History, it is sure or rather unsure, forgive me. I am sure that in my time there are few who would not fear the 'leems' but it is not so in your world. It is essential that your Government does not take our 'leems' and you do not leave your brother Lukas ...

The 'leems' was not our computer, if he was right, but something rather more. Who had told him that the 'leems' must be protected and that the 'power' could be accessible to our time? These were our questions. We took for granted that he was mistaken in the substance of what he said.

But we did not pursue the questions with him. The reason for this was that the message came close to the holiday period; it contained difficult words ('deradynate', 'powncett') and our attention was on soothing Lukas, reassuring him about the immediate future: in particular that holidays in France were not a sign of exile in the year 1985, and that we would all have 'many a word for our felawe' before he must leave. Eventually he calmed down and I took 'carte tyger' and left for Bristol.

Bristol. Through the spanned gorge at Clifton runs the Avon and past these cliffs the sailing barges of the 16th century may have carried members of Lukas's family. I wished I could see them now and hear the creak of the ropes and the cry of the gulls following the ships down to the Bristol Channel.

I'd found the tower, the Cabot tower, on a hill in the city. It prompted many thoughts. A kind of irony that Lukas's family looked towards a new world with Cabot, as this tower commemorates those voyages, and yet Lukas himself could see an even stranger world from a village above the marshes of another west-coast port.

Up among the shading trees and mown grass a woman was feeding cake to a grey squirrel. I photographed it. The heat and the noise drifted upwards from the city. The woman left and the squirrel bounced off into a bush, but I carried something of their passing world in the camera. This moment, like every other, was unique — worlds, universes distinct from all others. But there is movement, seamless change. Nothing abides. Yet if Lukas was who he said he was it would mean that this infinity of moments is never lost. Time is curiously an 'ever-present'. Somehow the squirrel eating the cake crumbs was always there — but always changing, the moment unfolding into others. There is the paradox. In the hard material world Lukas is a ghost, a joke, or a delusion. 'That,' I said aloud, 'is what everyone is bound to say.'

But it did not stop me entering the mezzanine of the Bristol museum library and finding on the wall a map by Joris Hoefnagle, its title: 'Brightstowe' the place-name, the rare version which Lukas used. It was good to see. I withdrew Lukas's description of his journey through Bristol from the manilla folder I was carrying, swung the camera out of the way and traced his progress with my finger across the glass protecting the map. There was something missing, the left turn at the cross at the centre of town. It was necessary to complete the journey but was not included in the description. I don't think it mattered, it was an obvious change of direction.

I wandered off to a café and to George's Bookshop and bought one or two small volumes on Cabot and a reproduction map of Somerset. I felt like an adventurer just being there. Nothing I saw and nothing I bought was unobtainable in a dozen other cities, but I had chosen to go to Bristol and I learned much, mostly about myself. Next evening, back at the cottage, I gave Lukas a potted version of the life of Cabot, from his Venetian background to his successful voyage of 1497, and then to his ill-starred voyage of 1498. I also told him that some Portuguese sailors found a Milanese sword and Venetian rings among the possessions of a Newfoundland tribe in 1501.

Lukas was very grateful, it seemed to me, for this information – as though his family was connected with the success or failure of the voyage. Perhaps as shipwrights they had been blamed for the failure of Cabot's last journey.

I asked Deb if she had written much to Lukas. She said she had not, other than to chide him for ignoring her greeting. She had, she said, 'seen' him once more. She then showed me a message from him that she was supposed to keep from me. Most of it was a love poem but before that was written:

Deb, sweetest of all creatures,

... Please do not be so upset for it overwhelms me with sorrow that you think I do not wish to speak with you. From the first time I saw you I was choked by my own breath for although your fashion is unknown I must say I was full of melancholy. I think it would be quite wise not to think of such conversation with you and ignore my feelings of love. Ken is a good man who I also love ... Do not show this to Ken and say no more on this matter.

My foolish love to you, maid,

Lukas

This is Deb's account of her encounter with Lukas:

'As Ken was away I thought I might wait in to see if a message came. I lay quietly on the couch, it was 4.30 P.M. but I drifted half asleep ...

'I caught Lukas singing to himself in the "barrels room" and I walked in quietly. Amusingly, Lukas was headfirst inside one of the bigger barrels, which was lying down on its side, and all I could see was his feet. I could easily have imagined Lukas to be fixing the underside of a Cortina, one minute he would lie still in some sort of concentration and the next his feet would begin to waggle as he continued to sing again.

"Lukas, pray, why are you lying inside a barrel?" I asked mockingly.

'Lukas's body jerked and he pulled himself out, emerging with knife in hand and cap on head. He was just about intact, though a little ruffled with surprise. "Maid, you brings yowr troublesome self always when Lukas beest up-sa-down."

'He did not answer my question about the barrel but stood and stared at me for a second or two as though he had misheard me. As was so natural to Lukas, he then turned on his heel and swiftly walked into the kitchen with an unspoken "follow me" demanding attention in the swirling air behind him.

'Lukas seemed a little awkward this day and he struggled to make sense of what I was saying, perhaps he was just in one of his "not so patient" moods. In Clint Eastwood fashion he put his feet up on the table, as he always did when he was about to make a statement. I think he did it to look in control, it always worked impressively.

"Maid, yow stay with Lukas all day."

'I thought it was an odd thing to say and reminded him that the choice being mine I would gladly stay all day but the "leems power" governed my stay. "Nay, maid, yow will stay with goodly Lukas, tis yowr will, an' not that of the leems."

'Interestingly enough, several hours passed by and I was still with Lukas. He had kept me occupied with rolling candles, which he had made from soft fat of some kind, they were fairly thin. Things seemed to get less serious as we both worked at the table and talked. I wasn't doing so badly with the candles, I thought, but I applied too much confidence to my hand and a candle broke in two. I tried quietly to stick it back together but the damn thing wouldn't hold properly, apart from the fact that the grass, which was its wick, had also crumbled. Lukas, without raising so much as an eyelid, spoke. "M-a-i-d, yow wall nat to breikss a candle of Lukas, p-rahy."

'Uh-oh, I thought as I stiffened, he's not going to have one of his unpredictable fits over a little candle, is he? I felt my face redden. Lukas looked, while his hands continued to work, at my guilty hand then slowly his eyes met mine. Immediately he grabbed the cap from his head and flung it straight at me. For a second I thought that he was going to get violent but instead he picked up the two pieces of candle from the table and held them both at eye level, laughing. "Whhat, maid, with all questi-uns, does breikss candles? – Yower man I am tuh pity!"

'Lukas playing chauvinist again. I was provoked enough to retaliate. I picked up the cap and was about to throw it back at him when I caught sight of some herbs which were lodged in a small pocket inside his cap. This was my best attack: "And what man, p-r-a-h-y, keeps his brains in a pocket as small as this?" I sang out, pointing to the herbs. This was getting childish and was perhaps low-level humour but, for a change, Lukas actually could relate to this mischief. We were both laughing now.

"'Pray return Lukas's cap so that his wits may be restored an yow will nat make fool of my goodly self!" Lukas joked as he went to grab the cap back from me. But as he moved I took a step back away from him – he wasn't going to be let off that easily!

"Nay, methinks to prefer yow with no wits, Lukas!" I said, taking another teasing step back.

"Then, alas, 'tis tuh-be, witless Lukas be my name, forsaken by this pretty maid that stands before me."

'Lukas fixed me still with his sad look and took the cap from my hand and placed it on my head. I hoped, stupidly, that it wasn't infested with fleas but did not insult him by removing it from my head. Again Lukas looked at me with some seriousness.

"Maid, now tell me, now that yow have taken all Lukas's wits, what thoughts in mine cap do I have of Debbie?"

'I wasn't sure whether we were still playing a game, or for that matter how I would reply to keep up continuity in the atmosphere. I pretended I didn't understand and tried to break the seriousness by taking on a modelling pose – tilting the cap and saying in an American accent. "Guess the cap suits me, honey."

'Lukas smiled gently but obviously did not catch the intended humour. He left the room for a moment then came back in again with a small book in his hand. He handed it to me and continued to work with the candles, saying that it was the only book from his teacher that he had not sold. I flicked through the pages, but it was in Latin and there were no illustrations. On the cover was engraved a staff with two snakes entwining it. The book looked as though it could have been handwritten rather than printed, but it was so uniform that I decided against this. I felt that Lukas was waiting for a reaction.

"Lukas, Latin be not in my language."

"Yey, me know," he replied as he stood up from the table and took the book back from me. "Tis a special book to Lukas – I wished you to hold it, nothing more."

'Oh well, I thought, another conversation bites the dust, but Lukas continued on a different tack: "Maid, will you carry these candles for goodly Lukas?"

'He took two bunches of candles from the table, one for himself and one he pushed towards me, saying that this would be a good opportunity to show me where he slept at night. He moved awkwardly to what he called the stairs, though these were really a ladder, which didn't look particularly safe by any means. I tried making excuses but he was not listening and had already climbed up the ladder, taking my bunch of candles from me so that I could climb with both hands free. Near the top he gave me his hand and pulled me up from the ladder and on to my feet; for his size, Lukas was deceptively strong. Through a door and into his bedroom. I was almost crouching, the roof was so low. The whole room was panelled, including the roof and the door, unlike the combination of stone and oak downstairs.

Again the room was quite sparse. A low cupboard one side of the bed with candle holders on and a folded spare blanket on top, a wooden bench seat under the window and, by the door, a chest covered with various items of clothing, including the cloak that I had seen Lukas wear on a previous occasion when he had been outside – I thought it had looked good on him.

'Lukas boasted that he had a new mattress and new blankets on his bed. He sat down, again a little awkwardly, and told me to sit down next to him. I felt very uncomfortable, almost claustrophobic, and instead of sitting down I looked around, spied my bunch of candles on the floor and picked them up. There was no hay on the wooden floor and I remembered that Lukas had said that hay took the heat away in bedrooms. I wondered if he was referring to the heat rising from the kitchen but thought better than to mention it, convection was not an easy topic of conversation. Again Lukas told me to sit down next to him. His seriousness and his strength of voice worried me to the point of nervousness.

"No, really, I have to go now, Ken will worry. What shall I do with these candles?"

'Lukas grabbed my elbow and pulled me down to sit next to him. I was noticeably shaking now, but not too numb to feel the prickly mattress under the blankets and the sharp wooden edging of the bed. I couldn't understand why my nerves were so on edge — I am just not the nervous type. Lukas made things worse by asking if I was cold, to which I had replied "yes" to cover up my real reason for trembling, and he placed a blanket over both my legs and his. Again I spoke — I forgot to try the "Middle English" idiom.

"Lukas, I've got to go, Ken's going to go crackers if I'm not back soon, what shall I do with these ca ...?"

"The candles are of na matter, Debbie," Lukas interrupted. He pulled the candles from my tightening grip with one hand and covered my mouth with the other. My jaw ached with the tension. He removed his hand and we both just sat silently for what felt like half an hour, then he took my hand and held it tightly. He did not look at me and I was glad, but he spoke. "Yowr perfume haunts my house, yowr hand is softer than any fair hand ..." He lifted my hand to his face and closed his eyes, then continued. "Be yow nat real, nat only for yowr unnatural beauty but also that yow make me 430 years too old for yow, maid. One day Debbie will know Lukas as namore than history – am I tuh live knowing nothing else?"

'I could not speak, he was so serious and so sad. It was a very sensitive situation and I just couldn't understand – I was so mixed up. My only reaction was to move my arm away and make for the door before I burst into tears with the pressure – it just wasn't like me to be so weak. Lukas was so swift that he had moved ahead of me and slammed his back against the door with his arms folded, it must have hurt his back. I could feel the tears welling up but I fought them back.

"Maid, 'tis lacks of mine cap that makes me foolish ..." He took the cap from my head and brushed my face gently with the back of his hand before replacing the cap on his head. "... Forgive me, Debbie. What would I if I were 430 years younger in the space of time? Pray do not leave it so long before yow see foolish Lukas again."

'Lukas, still with his back to the door, lifted the latch and opened the door for my exit. I slipped through and caught his eye; he smiled and I forced a smile back.

'The time I spent with Lukas must have been at least four hours and yet once I had "returned" the fire was still burning brightly and the clock face showed 5.20 P.M.'

I put my hands over my face and rubbed the top of my forehead, trying to ease some sense into my head. 'Let me see what was in the poem, Deb.'

'He said it was written for the prison guard – to give to his woman.'

24 July

With Lukas willing to answer questions for John Bucknall it was only left to create the right circumstances for the latest atempt. John Bucknall and Debbie sat in the lounge and amused themselves playing 'guess the next card', using a special pack of cards with only five kinds of symbols – Zener cards.

The rest of us were at the Red Lion for a time. We met John and Debbie half-way between the pub and the cottage on our way back. No result, I could read it in their faces. John and Deb retraced their steps as we all walked the remaining 100 yards to the house.

Inside, it was no good looking cheerful, pretending that we were not disappointed. Debbie had said that the files had all been checked before they came out and there was nothing new, but to distract myself I began to search them. One file kept running, scrolling through page after page. Thirty-five pages down there was a new message from Lukas.

John read it but was unimpressed by its existence. He said he had seen no new message up to the point when Debbie and he left the house. Since it had occurred in the minute or so that it took to round the street corner and return there was room for fraud. I protested that even to open a file to thirty-pages would take probably eight minutes, never mind the time to write the message. Deb reminded him that none of the files was open that far when they had examined them. He replied that he didn't note how far exactly they were open. I felt like asking him why he wasn't sure, as it was his business to be certain. He was, however, certain of one thing: that disks could have been swapped in under a minute. The culprit would only need an identical copy with the added message. I wasn't taking this in clearly: a disk is swapped while I am walking down the road and in sight of the back door and while Debbie and John are within sight of the front. This disk also has to carry the exact form of the greeting to Lukas which Dave Welch had put on the screen before coming with me to the Red Lion.

John and Dave left for Liverpool soon afterwards and John at least was entirely unconvinced that there had been a genuine communication. Lukas, too, when we looked at the message we believe he left was confused for it appeared his words had been moved on the 'leems'. He wrote:

... PREYE TELLE WY YOW DOE MOVE MYNE SCRIT SOE 2109 FOR ME DOST WYSCH COMUNIOUN WYTH MYNE FREENDE JON LAT ME SPEKE WYTH MERE AFFECIOUN WYTH THYS WIGHT LUKAS

Please tell me why you move my words, 2109, for I want to communicate with my friend John. Let me at least exchange greetings with this man.

Tagged on a few lines down was a reply from our disagreeable little numbers. Alarmingly for me but of interest to those who believed them to be behind the whole set of communications, it was in Lukas's 'tunge':

LUKAS

YOW CANST NAT REKONE WHYE WE ART TO SPEKES NAT WYTH SYCHE MEN. NOMBERS ARENE NAT YOWR VANTAGE METHYNKS.

2109

You cannot possibly understand why we are not to speak with such men. Numbers are not to your advantage I think.

We had another visit from John Bucknall and Dave Welch a few days later. As the evening wore on, the conversation turned to 2109 and in my imagination I saw all of time as a vertical plane, climbed by a spiral staircase. Unfortunately, although it is an important but little-known and understood path (I imagined), there is no janitor to keep unwanted visitors off the treads. 2109 were unwanted. No doubt this is harsh but the cipher '2109' behind which any person or agency could hide merely spoke to me of gatecrashers at a party pretending that they knew the host. They seemed to have missed a turning somewhere, a corridor on the landing.

They did not 'speak' unless spoken to; they'd call this leaving room for our destiny, others would infer it to be at best freakish, at worst highly suspicious. For if they were 'real' and 'powerful' why didn't they come for what they wanted? They may have been fraudsters, or a splinter of my or Deb's personality.

From 14 May my distrust and apprehension about whoever or whatever 2109 represented had actively prevented anyone from, as it were, opening the door to the landing and asking them in. That instruction was quite explicit and understood by all involved. It was my house; I assumed it would be respected as such but I was wrong.

Later that evening the 'psychobillies', Peter, his wife Val, Debbie and I went to the Red Lion. That night's attempt to 'test' the phenomenon had failed and the annual long vacation would deprive us of further opportunities for about a month. Talk was of a hoax and possible enemies that I might have. In short it was still an excursion in search of a motive, and not much advance on last time. It was a platitude to say that everyone has enemies but I doubted that I warranted the honour of this sort of convoluted 'putdown' from mine. Talk sagged a little in our corner of the lounge bar. It was disappointing to have nothing even when Lukas had promised to co-operate. Dave Welch suggested to Peter that the two of them should go back to check the computer, which was still on in the kitchen of the cottage.

Thinking little of it I was happy to oblige them with a key and hardly noticed the lounge-bar door close on its stop. John Bucknall was something of a sports car enthusiast and to slide the conversation along we talked of ACs and Jaguars. He smoked nearly continuously, but he was excellent company. Shortly after Peter and Dave Welch had returned – with nothing to report – we all set off for the cottage by a sort of intuitive mutual agreement for a last look-see.

I let everyone in and then inspected the screen. It was not full of 16th-century text, as was my waking and unholy dream, but there was something. Added to a greeting to Lukas left by myself was a short 'hello' to 2109 signed 'David'. My hand came out of my pocket and went straight for the delete key. I disapproved! Oh, I disapproved, as much because it was wilful deception as because I dreaded involvement with 2109. I hoped 'they' had not seen it. Rather half-heartedly, considering their circumstances, I complained to Dave that 'it was not helpful', 2109 were 'over the top', 'riddling'. But I could see that SPR, and Peter and Val too, wanted some answers or at least to give the investigation the widest scope possible. Unwillingly I conceded that my stance was a potentially disastrous inhibition of what was necessary. The argument ran like this: Lukas fitted into a relatively comprehensible world view, a man who, through his words, their clarity and apparent authenticity, threw light into our darkness as we struggled to make sense of this seemingly impossible communication. I could stand by him. But 2109? They couldn't even spell. However, just because they presented more problems did not entitle me to neglect or ignore them.

Disheartened by the lack of anything positive, SPR left. After a general desultory chat (resembling a half-time pep talk form a manager whose team is 4–0 down) Peter and Val retired also. Peter was still wary of my stubbornness over 2109 and also aware of SPR's interest in 'them'. Valerie remained completely sceptical and worried that her husband was being duped. I was still confident that under the right conditions Lukas would write for John and Dave just as he wished, and yet dreadfully sure that, with our luck, 2109 had seen Dave's smiling face through an open door.

Next day:

DAVID

MORE ANSEWERS THAN YOU HAVE

QUESTIONS. BUT WHAT ARE THE RIGHT QUESTIONS. A MAN CANOT ASK QUESTIONS IF HE IS UNLIKELY TO UNDERSTAND THE ANSEWERS. YES, YOAR CORRECT TO SAY THAT ONE WILL NOT LEARN WITHOUT QUESTIONS, BUT THERE IS A TIME TO UNDERSTAND AND A TIME TO WALK BLINDLY. A MAN WITH HUNGER WILL EAT BAD FRUIT AND SURELY DIE. WAS IT THE FRUIT THAT KILLED THIS MAN OR

WAS IT THE KNOWLEDGE THAT THE FRUIT WAS THERE FOR THE TAKING. DO NOT WASTE FURTHER TIME BY ASKING IF THE TREE THAT BERS THIS BAD FRUIT IS IN FRONT OF YOU. IT IS BETTER TO HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE AT ALL THAN TO HAVE A DISTORTED VIEW OF THE TRUTH BECAUSE OF YOUR LACK OF UNDERSTANDING. WE, 2109, ARE NOT WITHOUT COMPASION BUT IF YOU CONTINUE TO DISRUPT OUR EXPERIMENTS THEN IT IS LIKELY YOU WILL FIND YOUR DESTINY. WE SHALL, HOWEVER, ALLOW ONE MORE COMMUNICATION WITH YOU SO THAT YOU, MAY ASK YOUR PROFOUND QUESTIONS. WE SHALL ANSEWER AS YOU WISH, IF IN TERMS OF PHYSICS THEN IT SHALL BE SO, BUT REMMEMBER THAT OUR LIMITS ARE SET BY YOUR OWN ABILITIES AND NOT OURS.

THERE IS NO ONE AFTER THE MAN YOU CALL LUKAS. THE CHANCE FACTOR WILL NOT REOCCUR AGAIN IN A TIME SPAN YOUR KIND CAN RELATE TO.

So I was defeated. 2109 were as riddling as they had been in May and as obstructive. They seemed to have some power over communication and could block Lukas's messages. I was sure SPR would say this was just part of the joke.

Debbie wanted her own break and decided to go to Oxford straight away to see what Brasenose College looked like and maybe find Robin Peedell. She left a message telling Lukas of her plans.

Next morning, after Deb had left, I received a plea from Lukas for Debbie not to go.

MAYDE PREYE DOE NAT GOO LUKAS

There was no message to follow and it wasn't until she came back on 30 July that Lukas wrote once more saying that she shouldn't have gone, that she risked discovering what should not be 'unclasped'. I replied that she had 'discovered' nothing. Lukas was satisfied, we were even more confused.

4–10 August

'Mayde, preye doe nat goo.'

Soon after this episode the 'mayde' left once more. This time I took her away. We left with the Lovell family one damp morning in that excuse for a summer, bound for York and beyond: to ancient and unfashionable Whitby and then to Scotland. 'Preye doe nat goo.' The rain and the wind and the sway of the wiper blades kept this thought in my mind. With the briefest of lies to Lukas – about my having to go to Jedburgh to collect some money and being gone seven days – we left him, and put the computer away for safety.

And still the wipers and the rain but every mile and every song on the radio separated us, split anxiety from possibility until some hour or two later, standing with an enthusiastic Dave Lovell under the shadow of a huge Chinese locomotive at the York railway museum, I was left with only the hope of Lukas's communications surviving our absence. Nothing could be done now. We were on holiday and without doubt we needed it.

We came back in as few hours and with as few stops as possible. It really was manic. Petrol stops like pit stops, fast lane all the way. We dropped off Dave, Sian and their children in Hawarden at three-thirty in the afternoon. By four-fifteen I was in front of the computer hoping my words would get through to Lukas and at the same time begging Deb to leave everything else till later and to sit quietly in the living room.

A long wait of nearly two hours followed, made worse by the fatigue of the journey and a late-afternoon slump in spirits.

LITL POWR

That was it. He was still in contact. Deb wrote asking why there was little power and asking advice on how we could help, if at all.

Half an hour later:

Nothing more. 2109? Or about 2109? Next day saw more extensive communication and from that the confidence that all was 'safe'.

As the days passed Lukas was happy enough to answer our questions. Peter was still on holiday, I was busy with the house. Deb wrote more often and on one occasion she asked if he was much confused by our words. In response he gave us this well-nigh impenetrable taste of what he called 'auld tunge':

18 August

Deb was annoyed about poltergeist activity, especially noises on the roof, which had begun again after a break of over six weeks. I wrote to Lukas one morning asking if his house was affected: 'Doe smalle platters or nik naks move without your touche?' It was, however, 4.00 P.M. before any response came. He had indeed been plagued by such events and asked if we were causing them.

I replied in some detail to reassure him that we were not disrupting his household – at least not that we were aware! I suggested 2109 (always a useful scapegoat) might have a hand in it.

Less than twenty minutes later and without us making any attempt to 'ghostbust' my message was deleted from the screen. It wasn't the first time in recent days that this had happened.

Later Lukas wrote:

MYNE VISE BE WYTH YOW THAT WE SPEKES PRIVERLEY ENSAMPLES WEN OWRN UNFAVOURABLE FREENDS ART NAT IN ARN COMPANIE METHINKS ME DOST HATH REMEDIE FOR OWRN TROUBLSOM ME SHALT SPEKE ANYGHT

My considered opinion is that we communicate privately when our disagreeable friends are not in our company, and I think I know how to remedy our troubles so I shall write tonight.

On both sides 2109 were suspected of influencing the activity of the 'poltergeist' and certainly of deleting messages but it was beyond me to see how Lukas had a solution to the problem.

Since 2109 appeared to have a grip on the computer communications Deb offered Lukas a piece of paper and charcoal in an imaginative move to bypass interference. Lukas had written in chalk before now so it could be a way round the problem. It looked weird, it felt crazy, making all these preparations. She left the paper on top of the monitor screen, which was itself on the marble shelf besides the pillar.

An hour later, while Deb was making toast, I came through and checked the screen out of habit. There was only one new line. Lukas had for the first time written whilst Deb was in the same room.

PREYE DOE AS I DOE AXE PLAS COMUTER WER BE MYNE WORDES

Please do as I ask, place the computer where my words are.

It was a curious instruction. I wrote:

WER BE YOWR WORDES ... I BE CONFUS

'Aah!'

I looked around. A surprised Debbie was holding up the piece of paper with one small, flowing word on it in charcoal – 'take'. OK, so he'd written ... but put the computer where his words were? ... We looked for more words. None on the pillar, the floor, we even checked under the computer! A thought occurred. Perhaps put the computer where the piece of paper had been. He must have meant to write more words on the paper. 'Take' is the beginning of a phrase. Stupid of me.

Since there was a small cardboard box nearby this was relatively easy. I checked with Lukas and eventually (more waiting around) 'YEA' was the reply. Lukas continued:

MYNE FELAWE

YF YOW WALD PAS TWEY LEGGS TO THY RYGHTE O THY LEEMS AN RYGHTE GEYN OUNE THIN PLAS LEEMS EYGHTE HONDS SCANTENS ABOVEN MYNE FLOORE ME THYNKS ME CANST QUYTE YOWR AXYNGS AS T WY BE THYS BUT SESSA WYTH SPAKEN WORDE TIL YOW DOE THYS FOR YOWR GOODE FREEND LOVE LUKAS

My fellow

If you would pace two legs to the right of the 'leems' and right again then placed the 'leems' eight hands above the floor I think I can answer your questions as to why this is, but keep silence until you have done this for your good friend.

Love Lukas

I marked out the two paces and another to the right. It brought me to the other side of the pillar, near to the sink and the diamond-glassed window. Deb and I tried measuring eight 'hands' from the floor. I didn't know what 'scanten' meant but guessed that it meant 'scarcely' or 'just'. It was probably meant to keep our measurement on the low side. We used Debbie's hand as she guessed Lukas was smaller than me and my hand would have overstated the measurement. I marked the height on the pillar and we set about trying to find some support for the computer at that height and in that position.

A bamboo plant stand with one phone directory on top was the closest. It made getting to the sink difficult. All was wired up and I asked him what was going on. How did he know what to do with the machine? One more ghostbust. I sat in the car in the drive and listened to the cassette player. The reply:

YEA GYVE TYME TO MAKES AL SAFFE ME DOST THYNKS THAT YOW MAYE KNOWE AL NOWE ALS MYNE TREWE CALLE LOVE LUKAS

You give me time to make all safe. I think that you may know all now, also my real name.

Love Lukas

I wrote: 'Pray continue, goodly felawe.' Deb and I were early at the cottage and set about giving him every opportunity to write. We were quiet, tried not to go into the kitchen, took walks and sat silently. Perhaps we were trying too hard because there was nothing all morning. Then, at about 2.00 P.M.

Brother Ken,

I am happy that we are by ourselves without 2109 for we have much so far unspoken to exchange. I can't think why and with what method we are able to continue without restriction now. Your 'leems' sits in my dark chimney where the 'leems boyste' first appeared with brightness. And the person who made it work is here with me. Before I tell you what is the truth and my name you must tell me what is your philosophy, I must be acquainted with your position because, my good friend, I think you know better than I do what might happen after this decision is taken.

The 'leems' was supposedly in the place it was when it first came. Not from our point of view. True the computer was near the corner of the pillar but it was never so close to the sink as it was now. Secondly and most seriously: what did he mean, 'Yow muste seyne wot be yowr thenkyng and me muste appreved yowr condycioun'? What was my thinking? I was supposed to know something about him and his and our 'condycioun'. And according to the last line I was supposed to know what 'chaunces awayte caused wyth owrn disycioun'.

I wrote that I would have to think about it because my interpretation of his words was not satisfactory. Instead I asked about the 'wight', the person who had appeared with the 'leems', and about the first time the 'leems' came.

Since the confusion over the position of the computer we had left out paper and charcoal. It was a 'reserve medium' but I was so keen for him to tell me his name that I would have pinned huge sheets of cartridge paper to the wall if it would have helped. Later the same afternoon whilst Deb took a nap Lukas wrote on the paper.

My friend

I have told Debbie the answer to your questions. I think that she doesn't understand all that is spoken but she has some facility with most of my words.

Lukas

^{&#}x27;Debbie.'

^{&#}x27;Yeah,' she mumbled from behind a newspaper.

She put the paper down and looked straight at me. 'What do you think?'

^{&#}x27;Lukas says he has spoken with you. Did he ... ? Have you?'

^{&#}x27;I went to sleep.' The pages turned.

^{&#}x27;Did you dream anything?'

^{&#}x27;Well, what did he say ...?'

'That the "leems" was brought by a man. A man who told him it was important and ... you still promise you won't tell Trinder that I spoke with him? He'll think I'm making it up. Lukas said he loved you very much, too.'

There was silence for about half a minute. Deb looked at me. Her eyes searched my face for some sign of reaction. I shifted from one foot to another and then sat across from her, looking at the message and at her in turns. It didn't answer my questions but that was of less concern than Peter's possible reaction.

'OK. We'll keep it quiet. Peter might not mention it, but he will have to see the message.'

21 August

We took Lukas's message to show Peter, who did not make too much of what it said because he was so intrigued by the mere fact of him writing. He threw up all sorts of questions. I said that writing in charcoal was only an extension of what had happened before, the chalk shields, etc. Peter asked, 'Why charcoal?' Deb chipped in that she thought a man used to writing with quills would prefer something recognizable and adaptable to his style of writing. It did smudge, however. We hurried back to the cottage and left Lukas a few questions, including one from Peter about the word 'elyful'. Here we were trying to get Lukas's one and only real name and Peter wants to know what 'elyful' means! I also asked again about the 'wyght'. He replied once more on the paper.

myne freend tha wight beest afrom yowr tyme methynks. elyful be that wythoutes lyght

love Tomas

My friend, the person is from your time, I think.

'Elyful' is that without light, with brightness gone.

Yes, you have my name in your book, I think, if not 'John' put 'Tom' and I think you will understand my name, it is also the place of Peter's house. What does this book of names and ages say about me?

Love Tomas

If not Jon then put Tom. TOMAS HAWARDEN!!! In an instant I remembered Robin Peedell had put this man forward months ago as a likely candidate. 'Impossible,' I had said at the time, but he had been right.

'Real HISTORY!' I shouted to Deb above the sound of the cassette as we drove towards Hawarden. Deb was amused by all this over-excitement. Peter was very happy to know the name – and get an answer to the 'elyful' question!

This is what was written about Tomas Hawarden [or Harden] in the reference which Robin Peedell had provided many months ago:

HARDEN (or HAWARDEN)* THOMAS BRASENOSE COLLEGE FELLOW IN 1530 STILL IN COLLEGE 1538.

CHARGED WYTH EXPUNGYNG THE NAME OF THE POPE 'E QUODAM MANUALI' DECEMBER 1538; BA ADMITTED XII DEC 1530; DETERMINED 1531; MA INCORPORATED XXII MARCH 1535.

Back after long discussion to East Green. It was only later as I walked down to the River Dee by the old swing bridge, to watch the muddy waters swirl and slide towards the sea, that I realized how exhausted I felt. Deb was already asleep when I went out. It felt as if the cottage took something out of you, physically, mentally, emotionally.

I could have fallen asleep on the riverbank. Instead I thought of Tomas Harden, of the past months, and watched the traffic lessen and the sounds from the Ferry Hotel fade away after closing time.

Tomas next wrote that the description of him and his time at Oxford made him 'glee' (laugh). He said that the reason given for his expulsion was wrong. Peter doubted this but checked back with care. The standard reference on the history of the college, from which Peter obtained the information I put before Tomas, should have been correct. But no! Deep in the bowels of Brasenose some weeks later Robin Peedell plucked out from an original source record that Tomas Harden was expelled for not crossing out the Pope's name. The standard history is in error. Tomas was an 'old faither' and had evidently withdrawn to an obscure village in Chester to ride out the Henrician revolution.

Tomas asked that he still be addressed as Lukas, as the name had become his own and he preferred it. We agreed readily.

22 August

I had thought I was coping so well. But the excitement of the previous few days must have touched off a manic reaction to the endless progress of this task. After the light, the darkness.

I was alone in the kitchen and the cottage brooded about and within me. I felt overwhelmed by the echoes of all these months. They called upon me for some resolution, some answers, but I did not have any. I was sinking, and began to cry uncontrollably.

They might be the most important events in my life but I did not understand them or why I was in tears when I should be ... I just wanted to escape, to be anywhere else, but more than that – the greatest escape of all – not to be me anymore. I did not recognize myself. I was almost continually tired, anxious, insecure. I felt old, weary. Not one moment from my past could I recall to please myself. Instead I recalled an image of a dark, broad river with, from its banks, large willow branches dipping the surface and colouring the eddies. Then I imagined diving slowly into that river, which shivered as it let me in, and I spun slowly in the current, towards dissolution. And the waters showed no sign of my passing.

Lukas 'heard' me and an hour later wrote on the computer:

HIT COME TO MYNE REKONYNG TAT YOW DOE DYSLYK MYNE COMPANIE WY BE THIS CHAUNGE OF HEARTE ME NATHE WORNGED MYNE GGODLY FREEDN DOST YOW LYK THY POET WYAT ME CAN QUOT YOW SOM WORDES IF THYS WAL HATHE YOW MYNE FELAWE STILL LOVE LUKAS

It seems to me that you dislike my company. Why this change of heart? I have not wronged my good friend. Do you like the poet Wyatt? I can quote you some of his verses if this will restore our friendship.

Love Lukas

And next day he gave me two beautiful verses of Wyatt's poetry* but admonished me for my weakness:

... WEN YOW BEEST MYNE TYME O DAYE YOW WILT HATHE FEWE A TERE SHEDE FOR YOW WILT KNOWE THA LYF BE A GLORIEN THYNGE ... ME WILT HEERE NAMO WOE.

... When you are my age you will shed few tears for you will know that life is a glorious thing ... I will listen to no more woe.

The grief I had created for myself was private and the reply just as private. It is hard to describe how close I felt to this man and how ashamed I was of the previous night, for Lukas next wrote that he had heard a rumour among the village people that his dear young Katherine had been burnt as a witch.

I replied the next day, but Lukas did not answer. Peter told me there were no recorded burnings of young women in Chester in that year and I passed the information on to Lukas.

Lukas was still not sure what had happened to Katherine but our attention was on the computer, which was suffering from physical 'poltergeist' attacks. Twice in the previous few days one or other of us had found the machine twisted on the plant stand and on one other occasion the plant stand had shifted to the edge of the pillar. I was worried in case the computer was damaged. I couldn't afford to replace it and it was another week until term started and there would be one available to borrow.

Lukas was apparently oblivious to the disruption and requested poetry from Peter, his 'oxyan felawe', from Debbie and myself. He said that he needed this material for his book about our time, and that it needed care as it 'wants gaze bimanye', i.e. must be able to be read by many. I suppose he thought that otherwise it would be taken for nonsense and would not survive. He was collecting poetry and human, intimate recollections, readable, everyday stuff. I have not heard of it. The twist is that if the book were still available I could not write of our 'communyion', I would be merely fulfilling a prophecy with the benefit of hindsight. If this book exists and is found before I publish this account then all is undone. But paradoxically finding his book is the one sure piece of evidence that we are not crazy. Please, someone find his book at the right time.

So much happened in those last weeks that before going back to school I decided that I needed to go away on my own again for a few days. I set off for Stratford, collected my old friend Sara and then into the Cotswolds in search of a sense of the 16th century – and as fate would have it I was introduced to Snowshill Manor.

Old am I so very old Here centuries have been Mysteries my walls enfold None know deeds I have seen

Snowshill Manor (Charles Wade)

It is a house with a western elevation, a house for the evening hours, as permanent and unimaginably beautiful as any I have seen.

Charles Wade, an extraordinary eccentric who died forty years ago, had through his care for this ancient house set himself as firmly in other centuries as I longed to do in order to become closer to Lukas. In all those months I had never really felt in my heart what an aching expanse of time lay between us until I stepped silently, reverently, into Snowshill.

I was aware, in those quiet rooms, of much more than the 439 years since 1546. I felt the stability and permanence which abounded, even in Henrician England, compared to our own more shattered times.

Time has settled at Snowshill and Charles Wade has honoured it. In an upper room is the mechanism of a large clock which, by the fall of its weights, points to the hours marked off on the wall, and in words too:

The life of time is motion, his glory perfection.

TIME Attendeth none, yet is servant to all.

Swifter than the wind, yet still as a stone.

The true man's friend, the thief's perdition.

The lawyer's gain, the merchant's hope.

He openeth the eye of the day and spreadeth the cloak of night Agent of the living, register of the dead.

Nicholas Breton (c.1600)

Charles Wade lived for the most part the life of a medieval or at least pre-industrial man of learning. His collection grew so large that it forced him to make his home in the former stables. Here, too, reigned absolute calm; the rooms devoid of all those modern comforts which so successfully keep us from ourselves. Amidst oak and stone, rushlights, a hooded, red leather chair and kindly light through mullioned windows I felt I knew Lukas and the thoughts which surrounded him. In that instant I enfolded all those moments between 1546 and the present. I knew still more strongly that Lukas's world, for all its misery, poverty and superstition, was not inferior to our own. We have lost so much and gained only trinkets for our amusement.

It occurred to me that Lukas asked little of our time. He relished our words and ideas, not our times. So often he had mused over the impossibility of such a thing as a car or daily newspapers. Perhaps he wondered more at the wisdom of it, the necessity that drove us to such ends, than at the phenomenon itself. Could I explain our loss?

And there I stood, a visitor, with my hand on the jute rope keeping me to the edge of this world. 'Olde England.' I reproached myself for the thought.

Easing back into the car, into Broadway and simultaneously into the inauthentic, the unnecessary and the inevitable we joined the slow crawl towards Chipping Camden where, eating tea and scones in a courtyard overhung with vines, I felt a headache vying for attention and became aware that my powers of conversation had dulled. I was becalmed, then weary and rather depressed.

I put down a hello to Lukas the day I got back. Deb said he'd been writing on and off but yesterday he'd announced he must find Katherine. I wrote and asked if he'd had any luck. I wasn't expecting trouble but twenty minutes later:

DON'T HAVE NIGHTMARES

Just what I needed – 2109! I deleted it, and told myself to ignore them. I knew what they were hinting at. The poem long ago last winter, I had never forgotten the way it began: 'True are the nightmares of a person that fears.' The computer was staying where Lukas had asked for it to be put, even though it was now obvious that 2109 could write on it in its new position.

Lukas wrote after another hour. Katherine was dead.

Friend Ken,

Yes, I have returned but Katherine is burnt. You said there were no burnings in Chester but it is otherwise for there are many for so-called 'uncleansed souls' that have been taken this way by the people of my time. The King's men only shrug at this practice and look the other way. Katherine was a good maid and I brought this upon her. She was perfect and didn't know the corruptness of man and such that could harm her, for I did all I could to keep her from these wretched people. My sweetest, sweet Katherine, you will never leave my thoughts ...

I was so unhappy to hear this. I remember the sorrow and pain we had felt when Lukas himself had been taken, I remembered it had been my responsibility to say whether these communications should continue. Because they had continued I had helped destroy his Katherine. She was only fourteen.

Around the beginning of September the computer was being disturbed again. On 3 September it disappeared entirely from the kitchen – only to be found, all of it (the monitor, the plant stand, the cables) in the bathroom. No damage.

On the marble worktop there was a chalk message, angular and quite distinct. It was not from Lukas. I thought, 'Poltergeist!' Everything untoward was blamed on the 'poltergeist' or 2109. The message read:

ONE MORE CHANCE!

MEASURE
WHAT ELES OTHER THAN SOUND AND LIGHT?!

I hadn't a clue. It happened to be there so I wrote it down.

There was another disturbance involving the computer on 5 September. Deb heard the crash of falling metal and found the disk drive on the floor and the computer and monitor teetering on the edge of the plant stand. The disk drive was out of action. The last incident before this attack was the creation of seventeen new files, all of them empty, all of them opened to several pages. This had last occurred in July. It looked like a childish attempt to confuse or delay our work.

Before the incident I had left a message to Lukas, returning to the subject of the person he claimed had brought the 'leems'. Did Lukas know anything more? Since the disk drive was now malfunctioning a paper and pencil were left.

My brother Ken,

The man who came to our home when I last spoke was the man called 'one'. I asked him if he had come to take the 'leems boyste' away. He spoke straight away and said that he had no want for the 'leems' but that it wasn't mine to offer. I could see that he was intending to stay with both feet planted firmly here so I didn't try to move him. He continued: 'Any mishaps that have befallen you are your own. You have no power over this thing [poltergeist?] for it is like a child without a caring family. It doesn't know the forces within its reaching arms. You and your brothers are in great trouble if but you put the 'leems' back on its own [meaning unclear]. Think well but don't tell your fellows.'

This is why I haven't written on the 'leems'. What do you think? What mishaps? Can we come to ill? Answer soon.

Lukas

Poor Lukas didn't know that even if he wrote on the 'leems' we could not see it now that the computer was in for repair. However, the feeling at the cottage was that we should not give in, despite the loss of the disk drive. Even though the crucial passage in the pencil message was unclear it looked as if the 'wyght' [one!!] was warning us off cooperating with 2109. It was impossible to answer Lukas. We were his future and he expected so much, too much.

In the middle of the night of 7 September I packed up my clothes and made my way out to the car. Downstairs in the kitchen of the house in East Green was a small, black puppy whining and moaning for attention. I could not stand it. I had enough to do without some unnecessary animal. It was Debbie's idea and Debbie could live with it. I was off. Unfortunately there wasn't enough petrol to go beyond a mile or two so I went back in and settled for a row.

'But he loves you.' Deb smiled like a little girl asking for pocket money. 'No he doesn't.'

She fetched him into the bedroom. 'See, he does love you, he's wagging his tail he's so happy.'

'I'm still going when the petrol station's open.' I went back to bed while she and the puppy played games on the covers behind my back.

Deb woke me at about nine, leant over and pushed the small black bundle towards me. It had the most wonderful eyes I had ever seen, like jewels. 'Say goodbye to us then.'

I stayed, and she called the dog Lukas, after a friend of ours. The puppy seemed pretty sensitive to what was happening in the kitchen at the cottage from the start, for he would prick his ears and offer a display of curiosity and anxiety at the kitchen door. Calling 'Lukas' was growing to cause confusion around the place but who would mind if they both came running?

Even with the disk drive under repair and a borrowed one in place I still refused to contact 2109. Then this appeared:

SILENCE BEFORE THE STORM, FIRST SILENCE ...

I only had to remember 15 May and the havoc which erupted then: I dared not resist any more. So much for resolve. But I still wrote to 2109 unwillingly and with contempt.

FORGET THE 4TH FORM GLOOM AND DOOM AND EXPLAIN YOU WANT AS YOU ARE PREVENTING COMMUNICATING WITH OUR FRIEND. OF WHAT HARM IS THAT? WE LOVE THE FELLOW AND HE US. A half-hour walk and the reply was there. The sly bastards even echoed my deliberate use of the sixties expression 'dig'.

DIG!. YOU ARE MISTAKEN, WE DO NOT SPEAK ANY GLOOM AND DOOM, BUT POSSIBLEY YOU REFER TO THE FORCES THAT YOU YOURSELF HAVE UNLEASHED. – AGAINST OUR BETTER JUDGMENT!. IT IS CORRECT FOR YOU TO ASSUME THAT THE POLTERGEIST PHENOMENA IS PRESENT IN THE COMMUNICATIONS, BUT WE CAN SAY VERY LITTLE ABOUT THIS SUBJECT AS ONLY WHAT YOU WILL KNOW ALREADY. FOR REASONS SURELY EVIDENT TO YOU THREE! POLTERGEIST PHENOMENA AS FOLLOW: -

THERE IS MORE SAID ABOUT THIS PHENOMENA BUT IT WOULD NOT BE OF INTREST TO YOU. WE HAVE STOPED COMMUNICATION BETWEEN LUKAS AND YOURSELFS UNTIL THINGS 'COOL DOWN'. THEN YOU MAY CONTINUE AS BEFORE, LUKASES TIME WILL STAND STILL RELATIVE TO YOUR TIME SO THAT YOU MAY START WHERE YOU LEFT OFF 2109

An interesting and suitable treatment. Upon reflection it seemed to be an exercise in psychology, rather than an exercise in knowledge and application, e.g. the statistics, the hint at the future ('2006'), the suggestion that they were in control. If it developed anything, this communication helped fix our attention on 2109. They said they were blocking Lukas but it wasn't true for long because after a couple of days he was there writing on paper. And as for slowing his time ... well! I rang Dave Welch, it seemed appropriate, and asked him if he wanted to write to 2109. He said he wanted to be able to ask them a series of questions if possible. The last word from 2109 on that had been at the beginning of the holidays: one set of questions only. Dave repeated his opinion that one set was useless, it couldn't prove a thing, especially since 2109 talked in riddles at the best of times. Dave was nevertheless interested to hear that I was in touch. I told him that it was against my better judgement.

The computer was not set up again until 14 September, the following Saturday. I wasn't going to rush around for them nor was I going to be serious with them unless I was forced to. I adopted a 'Captain Kirk' approach and wrote:

THANKS. AM I TO BELIEVE THAT P. GEISTS ARE WANDERING ENTITIES WHO SEIZE UPON STRAY ENERGIES? PLEASE COMPLETE YOUR OBSERVATIONS UPON THEM SINCE YOU HAVE STARTED. HAVE TIMES COLLIDED AT THIS PLACE? WHERE WAS THE LAST COINCIDENCE? MANY THANKS KEN

They replied:

NO, THESE ENTITIES HAVEN'T A CONSCIOUS AS SUCH. IT IS THE ENERGY THAT IS FORMED INTO A CHARICTOR. IT IS SUGGESTED THAT AFTER SEVERAL SMALL P.G. INCIDENTS THE INDIVIDUAL/S ATOMATICALLY IMAGINE THE WORK OF A GHOST WHICH MOST PEOPLE ASSUME TO RESEMBLE HUMAN FORM-THERFORE-AN IMAGE IS CREATED BY THE PERSON/S CONCERED WHICH STRANGELY ENOUGH INFLUENCES THE FORCES

INVOLVED. AGAIN, IT SEEMS THAT THERE IS A STRONGE CONNECTION BETWEEN THE ENTETIE/S AND THE PERSON AS A NUCLIUS SOMETIMES IT IS CONSIDERED THAT TO STUDY THE PERSON/S CONCERNED IS AS INFORMATIVE AS THE PHENOMINA ITSELF LAST COINCIDENCE 1941 2109

More tantalizing propositions: that this sort of communication across time had last occurred in similar circumstances in 1941. It was well judged to stimulate interest, but a damned inconvenience that in 1941 there was a war on – it must have obscured reporting, rather. And there were no computers.

Next day, however, 2109 were much less pleasant:

KEN DEB PETER

WE HAVE REASON TO BELIEVE YOU HAVE LUKAS WAINMANS TRUE NAME. IF THIS IS CORRECT YOU MUST SAY SO SO THAT WE MAY RECTIFY THE PROBLEM IMMEDIATELY BEFORE IT IS EXCEPTED. YOU MAY NOW CONTINUE TO WRITE TO LUKAS TO ESTABLISH YOUR RESPONSABILITY TO OUR EXPERIMENTS AND TOWARDS A BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF TIME AND ITS FORCES 2109

I did not let 2109 know I was in any way grateful. I wrote:

I HOPE LUKAS WILL BE ALLOWED TO WRITE FREELY FOR IF YOU STUDY TIME I CANNOT SEE WHAT PROBLEM THER IS OVER NAMES WE WOULD USE SUCH INFORMATION WITH THE GREATEST TACT. HOW MANY MESSAGES HAVE YOU EDITED AGAIN I ASK PLEASE EXPLAIN YOUR 'PROBLEM' I WISH TO KNOW MORE OF TIME AS WELL.

ONCE LUKAS IS CLEARLY WITH US AGAIN I SHALL BE HAPPY TO COOPERATE FULLY. PLEASE DONT FAKE A MESSAGE FROM HIM KEN fake a message?!

please, you must understand that we are not here to play games. THE PROBLEM is greater than we can explain – what with your lack of knowledge. What is a greater problem than placing an unbalanced card on a card tower and watch it collaps with devastating consequences, even though you may save the ace you will have lost the pack, what use is a single card for the game?

I said we had his name. They wrote back within the hour. The tempo was picking up.

OH, IF ONLY YOU HAD LISTEND. AT PRESENT YOU HAVE TWO LUKASES RUNNING AROUND YOUR HOUSE, IF AT ANY TIME THE TWO ARE TO MEET WE CANNOT EXPLAIN THE DEVASTATION THAT WILL ERRUPT WITHIN THE TIME CONTINUM. WE MUST STOP COMMUNICATION WITH LUKAS ONE, BUT WE CANNOT INTERFERE WITH THE OTHER, WHILE WE DECIDE WHAT CAN BE DONE TO RECTERFY THE PROBLEM. YOU MUST HELP BE GIVING US EVERY WORD UTTERED BY THOMAS HAWARDINE FROM THE SECOND YOU RECEIVED HIS TRUE NAME. YOU MUST ALSO STATE HOW MUCH INFORMATION YOU HAVE ON THIS MAN – EVERYTHING!, WORD FOR WORD.

AVOID ANY OTHER COMMUNICATION YOU MAY HAVE WITH HIM.

DESPERATION. BE QUICK! 2109

This did cause a minor panic. Even though I could not understand all they said I thought I knew enough not to take chances. I rang Peter, explained and arranged to pick up the little we had on Tomas Harden from Trueman's Way. Meanwhile, 2109 had moved us up a gear by suggesting that major disruption could occur if we did not comply. Rather tartly I reminded them not to instruct but to explain and wrote: 'This could still be a con trick to fill in your missing knowledge ...'

I dashed off in the car to Hawarden and back, put down some information and then left the house alone overnight. They asked for more information about this character 'one' Lukas was chattering about. I fumed and just told them that he glowed green and was impolite, then I suggested that they ask Lukas. Accompanying this rather tedious missive – full of talk of fundamental particles yet to be discovered and the monitoring of particles using magnetic fields – was a chalk message written down the brick pillar in angular capitals.

WHAT ARE YOU SCARED OF

KEN DEB PETER?

- 'Who the hell wrote that?'
- 'Me perhaps?'
- 'Bloody "one" eh?? Or 2109, or the poltergeist, or the man next door or ...' I was just angry.

'The stacking is very good though!' Debbie said, defusing the situation and pointing to the obvious – an almost impossible tower of catfood tins and kitchen rolls. Well, it was good and once more we could laugh. One more exchange took place before lunch.

I wrote:

CANT YOU GET THESE POLTERGEISTS OUT OF THE PLACE? IDIOT THINGS. I HOPE YOU CAN PUT US BACK IN TOUCH WITH LUKAS SO THAT WE CAN TALK FREELY? KEN.

And got this in reply:

YES, WE SHALL HOLD BACK AS BEST WE CAN ON THE PG. SORRY YOU FIND US SO FREINDLY!?. ASK THE MAN DAVID WHAT HE THINKS OF CONJECTURAL TACHYONS AND WHAT ARE HIS THEORIES OF CAUSALITY, WHAT ANSEWER DOES HE HAVE FOR ITS PARADOX?.

CHEERS 2109

It was, I realized, a cue to wake the 'psychobillies' from their armchairs.

15 September

Extraordinarily enough Dave Welch was very interested in tachyons – which he explained were particles whose existence could only be guessed at (hence the term 'conjectural'), and which move at above the speed of light and thus through time. He had been talking about tachyons to his sixth-form class that very morning. I was mildly impressed by 2109's apparent awareness of Dave's predilection and their sense of timing.

2109 wrote in the evening saying that if we would say who 'one' was they would give us proof. This was an extraordinary deal. I said I would telephone David. (I had already done so! I had this urge to lie to 2109 or to deceive them wherever possible out of distaste for their interference.) The rest of my message was thinly veiled anger.

PLEASE GIVE TIME TILL EXPERIMENT SHUTDOWN. WILL WE HAVE 'TIME' TO COMMUNICATE WITH LUKAS ONCE MORE? WILL TELEPHONE DAVID TONIGHT. REMEMBER TELEPHONES? ... DID YOU USED TO PUNCTUATE LW'S EARLY MESSAGES? PLAY THE GAME INFORMATION FOR ALL? KEN

ha, you have left the caps off once more – such a simple mistake!!. WE ARE ALL CAPERBLE OF MAKING MISTAKES, ARN'T WE. YES, TELEPHONES ... THE THINGS THAT YOU MAY CONSIDER ADVANCED COMMUNICATION – IF ONLY YOU COULD SEE WHAT IS TO COME!.WE, IN YOUR BETTER INTRESTS MADE SLIGHT 'ADJUSTMENT' TO YOUR

CONVERSATIONS (– BUT PLEASE LET US CALL HIM BY HIS TRUE NAME)WITH THOMAS. WE ARE NOT ENTIRELY IN COMAND OF THIS EXPERIMENT, SO WE CAN ONLY SAY THAT COMUNICATIONS WILL CEASE NO EARLYER THAN NOVEMBER (NOT NESSESERALY WITH THOMAS),AH, WE SEE, YOU WANT SOME PROOF FOR YOUR LITTLE COMIC!,WELL WE THINK YOU SHOULD FIRST TRY TO REVISE ON WHAT HAS ALREADY BEEN SAID. IF YOU TELL US WHO IS 'ONE' THEN WE SHALL GIVE YOU 100% EVIDENCE FOR THE PEOPLE DIRECTLY INVESTIGATING YOUR PHENOMENA. 2109

So they made 'adjustments' in OUR interests, did they? Rubbish! They did it in their own interests.

I wrote first to our little numbers and my contempt showed quite clearly:

IF YOU WERE TO COUGH UP THE APPROPRIATE EVIDENCE THEN I'M SURE WE WOULD ALL BE MOST GRATEFUL TO YOU. I DO HOPE YOU LIKE THE GENTLE ENGLISH UNDERSTATEMENT. 'ONE' IS/WAS ASSUMED TO BE ONE OF YOUR CHAPS ON A RECCE TO CHIVY THAT CHAP LUKAS INTO PLAYING WITH A STRAIGHT BAT SEEMS NOT EH? DASHED IF I KNOW WHO THE FELLOW IS OTHER THAN THAT HE HAS FRIGHTFUL MANNERS AND THE GREEN GLOW ALL YOU CHAPS GET TRAVERSING TIME. LUKAS ASKED HIM IF HE WAS GOING TO TAKE AWAY THE SCREEN YOU(?) LEFT HIM. HE WAS RATHER TERSE ON THIS POINT AND SAID 'ITS NOT YOURS TO GIVE' LUKAS RECKONS ITS ONE OF OUR 1985 BODS BUT I DO THINK THIS IS UNLIKELY DON'T YOU? 'ONE' WON'T LEAVE WHEN THE ODD HEAVY HINT IS DROPPED AND HAS A GENERAL HUMANOID ASPECT BUT THEN AGAIN HAS A CAPE THAT'S THE LOT ON 'ONE' AND ITS NOT MUCH MORE THAN YOU HAVE ALREADY.

ANYWAY LESS OF THE 'COMIC' BIT. YOU SAID THAT ALL THIS WOULD BE MODERATELY INTERESTING TO US

PRIMITIVES. WHAT REVISION HAVE YOU IN MIND? CHEERIO FOR NOW KEN AND DEB.

PS I HAVE BEEN IN ALL DAY AND YOU DIDNT WRITE TILL DEBBIE WAS ALONE. WHAT A CRASHING BORE.

Peter decided to be rather more circumspect and spent some time preparing a detailed response. He invited me to send this:

IN ORDER TO COMMUNICATE WITH YOU WE REALLY HAVE TO KNOW WHAT KIND OF THINGS WE ARE DEALING WITH. I SUSPECTED THAT QUANTUM PHYSICS, A CONSTRUCT AND CONCEPTION OF OUR SCIENTISTS, WOULD BE OLD HAT TO YOU SINCE WE THINK OF YOU AS FUTURE - AND FUTURE IN OUR TERMS YOU MUST BE. IS 2109 YOUR DATE BY OUR RECKONING?IF SO THEN IT IS A DATE ALSO BY YOUR RECKONING SO THAT LINEAR TIME IS AN INESCAPABLE CONCEPT IN ONE FUNDAMENTAL SENSE. NOW DO YOU INTEND US TO BELIEVE THAT YOU CAN ALTER OUR PAST -ALL OUR PASTS, YOUR OWN AS WELL?KEN ASKED IF THE LACUNA IN THE PUBLIC RECORDS IS YOUR DOING. A STRAIGHT ANSWER TO THAT QUESTION WOULD HELP US. I ACCEPT THAT YOUR WORLD IS MORE COMPLEX, MORE DIMENSIONAL, THAN OURS AND DO NOT ASK BY WHAT STAGES YOU HAVE REACHED IT NOR WHETHER YOU ARE IMMORTAL. SUCH MATTERS WE CAN ENVISAGE BY IMAGINATION IF NOT QUITE BY COHERENT LOGIC. WE ARE PERHAPS A PART OF SOME EXPERIMENT YOU ARE CONDUCTING, BUT YOU MUST COMMUNICATE WITHIN OUR TERMS FOR NOW. FROM OUR POINT OF VIEW LUKAS IS APERSON OF APPRECIABLE CHARACTER TALKING WITH US IN THE LANGUAGE OF THE 16th CENTURY. I AM ENGAGED IN STUDYING THAT LANGUAGE AND TAKING HIS SPEECHES AS VALUABLE EVIDENCE OF ITS FORMS. I WOULD HOPE THAT IF WE CAN GET THE AUTHENTICITY OF THIS STRANGE EXPERIENCE IN WHICH WE ARE ENGAGED VALIDATED BY OWR OWN CONTEMPORARIES THEN THESE SCRIPTS FROM

THE 16thCENTURY WILL BE ACCEPTED AS PROVIDING IMPORTANT EVIDENCE OF THE STATE OF THE LANGUAGE OF DEMOTIC SPEECH WHICH IS OTHERWISE A GREAT GAP IN MODERN LINGUISTIC STUDIES. CAN YOU CONFIRM THAT HIS LANGUAGE IS GENUINE AND CAN YOU PERHAPS HELP TO ESTABLISH THE CREDIBILITY OF THAT FACT?FOR THE REST GOOD LUCK WITH YOUR OWN RESEARCHES. PETER

I couldn't agree with the idea that they were either superior or necessarily in the future, nor with Peter's comment to me as he handed the message over to be typed: that 2109 might best be described as 'angels' – messengers from the gods – without 'O' level English?

As expected, 2109 took to Peter's words rather better than they took to mine:

PETER

YOU ARE, WITHOUT ANY EXAGERATION, A CLEVER AND CAUSIOUS MAN WHOM HAVE THOUGHT WITH GREAT CARE YOUR WORDS. THE USE OF THE WORD 'DIMENSIONAL' HAS MORE RELEVANCE THAN YOU ARE GIVEN TO BELIEVE – BUT WE CAN SEE YOU CARE NOT FOR 'BEATING ABOUT THE BUSH', YOU WANT TO KNOW ONLY FACTS, WE CAN UNDERSTAND YOAR FEAR THAT COMMUNICATIONS WITH US MAY JEOPARDIZE YOUR AUTHENTICITY OF THIS PHENOMENA AND CONSEQUENTLY THE LANGUAGE OF THOMAS HAWARDEN, – BUT YOU STILL MUST HAVE SOME FACTS!. UNDERSTANDABLE!

YES, IS A STRAIGHT ENOUGH ANSEWER, WE HAVE MISSLAYED WHAT EVIDANCE WE COULD, BUT YOU WILL COME ACROSS MORE THAN YOU HAVE ALREADY. SOME FACTS EXCEPTED IN OUR TIME: 1 IF A PERSON IS TO PHYSICALLY TRAVEL IN TYME THEN THEY MUST TAKE THE LIVING PLACE OF A PERSON AT THE POINT OF DESTINATION AND VISE VERSA=IMAGINE A SET OF SCALES, BALANCED PERFECTLY, WITH eg. PEBLES. TO REMOVE A PEBLE FROM

ONE DISH TO THE OTHER AND KEEP THIS PERFECT BALANCE YOU MUST, INSTANTANIOUSLY, REMOVE A PEBLE FROM THE OTHER AND REPLACE THEM IN REVERSE ORDER. YOU MAY MOVE A COUPLE A PEBLES ALREADY IN THE DISH BUT THE VITAL BALANCE IS STILL KEPT. IF SOMEONE IS BROUUGHT IN FROM ANOTHER DIMENSION THEN AGAIN THE SAME PROCEEDURE APPLYES.

- 2 MATTER WILL NOT, AS WE KNOW, EVER TRAVEL IN TIME (THIS IS NOT A CONTRADICTION TO ABOVE INFO.)
- 3 WE ARE NOT IN CONTROL OF THIS EXPERIMENT.
- 4 THOMAS IS A PERSON LIVING IN THE 16th CENT.,BUT, UNKNOWN TO HIM, HE IS NOT QUITE WHAT HE SEEMS TO BE.

KEN

IS THERE A POSSABILITY THAT YOU MAY PERSUADE THOMAS TO CALL UP THIS CHAP 'ONE' TONIGHT AS IT IS IMPERATIVE THAT WE SPEAK TO HIM IMEDIATELY 2109

Differences of opinion between Peter and I aside the 2109 reply was, I conceded, 'interesting'. Dave Welch, when I read it to him, was most intrigued. Perhaps he was their target, for later that week and after much patient discussion among themselves, SPR indicated that they were now willing to ask 2109 a discreet set of questions, but in circumstances which would 'eliminate the hoax'. This was progress once more.

2109's interest in 'one' continued unabated. It was embarrassing to tell Dave Welch, and I am sure that with this proliferation of characters SPR must have considered us deluded, gullible, vain or all three.

Here was the plan. Since there seemed to be difficulties in obtaining messages to order while Deb was with SPR personnel or while we were all out (and in the Red Lion) it occurred to someone that leaving a message on the screen in the form of questions to 2109 for say forty minutes – questions, incidentally, to which those close to the phenomena were not privy – and then deleting the questions should, if the questions were answered at some future time, allow SPR to say that we were not involved.

It could and should signal to SPR that we were involved in a remarkable if completely bizarre set of communications.

Little Lukas, the 'doggit' as I called him, had a restless night on Saturday 21 September and shuffled around the bedroom. We were staying at the cottage now that the upstairs was liveable. Sunday morning revealed all too plainly that he was ill. Debbie knew at once, intuitively, that it was serious, very serious.

A cloud settled over the whole of our lives that moment as little Lukas huddled sometimes quiet, sometimes restless in my old GPO coat in front of the fire. By 10.00 A.M. Debbie was in tears and I stormed out because of an argument over her reluctance to ring the vet. But the vet came out by midday and told us quite firmly that it could well be parvovirus, a very dangerous disease for dogs. Lukas seemed better after an injection and lots of special food taken in solution. Debbie loved and nursed him and tried to maintain his body fluids. The computer sat mute in the kitchen. There had been some activity – a message began on Saturday was completed – but neither of us cared very much.

The situation was emotionally draining. I had Dave Welch coming that evening and here was this fine, brave little dog fighting for its life. Poor Debbie.

Dave Lovell rang up. He invited me to take him and his family to Ruthin to catch the sunshine, saying he'd pay for the petrol. Since the Jag wasn't sold and I was getting sadder every minute I stayed in the cottage looking at little Lukas, I agreed readily. Deb didn't mind. She was not going to leave her dog.

In Castle Park we just watched the kids tumble and cartwheel. Hoping aloud, I told Dave that it was all going to be OK. The dog wasn't so bad and as for Lukas and 2109? Sure, SPR will do it, they'd get an answer to their ten questions. I was convinced, there in the sunshine as I gazed down from the wooden bridge into a blue-green stream, that the future was good.

Dave was not sure and played devil's advocate. 'But ... but ... if ... if ... 'He was wrong. I was comfortable. Positive we would get our proof, or as near as ever one could. Back on the playing field Julie and Clare did more cartwheels and I hung by my legs from the climbing frame. The sun began to move towards the horizon.

In the café bikers stoked up the jukebox and the kids had pop and cake.

There had been some stacking at the cottage, cutlery arranged in a row and a one-liner from 2109 in reply to my announcement that SPR were coming.

BE THER BEFORE YOU!!

Later that evening Dave Psychobilly positioned himself by the fireplace and swivelled towards us. He had brought ten questions to put on the computer to 2109 which, from his demeanour, he obviously thought both provoking and subtle. At my suggestion this was to be a test to eliminate four of us (Peter, Val, Debbie and myself) from the suspects list. Only Dave knew the questions and three quarters of an hour after he put the questions he was going to delete the file.

However, Peter, smartly dressed from church, was losing patience with Dave Welch. He tackled him about authenticating this before it was too late. His agitation had been on the surface all week. 'We'll have missed it,' he said. This rise in temper came about because Dave had suggested that the messages may have been sent along the mains earth to the computer. It could, he said, have been rigged by a neighbour. Peter almost choked. 'Are you still suspecting the neighbours? Impossible! Impossible!' Debbie and I looked at each other and exchanged the same thought. The earth cable?

Everyone and their camel knew that the BBC B is too simple a machine for such trickery. We had asked the camel. I asked Dave how it would work. No answer of course.

The experiment began. The computer was switched off to clear out any 'secreted' information and then switched on to allow the test to begin. We gave Dave Welch simple instructions on how to get EDWORD and how to create a document, then we shut him in the kitchen and left him to type in his questions. Conversation in the living room centred on the puppy, which was curled up in my black greatcoat.

Dave joined us after ensuring that the screen had been made invisible from outside the house or the skylight by the use of cardboard surrounds and that the kitchen was locked up in the usual way. For the bulk of the period we all stayed together, going through the usual speculation. A lot of it now included bowdlerized quantum physics, which was crazy enough in itself, so much so that I began to think that what was going on at the cottage was, on the face of it, not as nutty as it at first might seem.

Dave Welch was seated near the fireplace with an eye on the door. After the allotted time he let himself back in the kitchen and deleted the message from the screen. Because it had never been saved to disc it could not be recovered once deleted. The kitchen was once again left alone.

It was now 10 P.M. Dave still had to check the files for a reply. I guessed that there would not be one as 2109 never played it easy. There wasn't.

I was asked to report if any reply was received. Someone said that we'd not recognize a reply, as such, as we didn't see the questions.

The dog passed the night reasonably well but Debs had to stay downstairs with him and she got little sleep. Throughout Monday he became weaker. Deb was now nursing him at her mother's. He had to be carried, still silent, in a cardboard box to the car; I just wanted him to look eagerly out of the window. The vet gave him a fifty/fifty chance of lasting another day and injected him with some more nutrients. Lukas was so very sick and was dehydrating badly. Deb was to give him a syringeful to drink every ten minutes or so. I began to feel his pain and his courage all at once. By six o'clock he was looking bright. Deb brought him to the cottage and I would lift the old jumpers from over him and watch for a wagging tail.

I rang the cottage next day at lunchtime for news. Debs said he looked up because he could hear my voice. I loved him. He was doing OK but needed Deb's continual attention. After school I walked towards Ewloe Green and my mother's house, but had got no further than the caravan sales office when I glanced round to see the Jaguar coming over the rise by the junction of Wood Lane. Deb pulled the car up beside me and told me to get in.

Lukas had died that afternoon. He was in the boot of the car in a plastic bag. She was taking him to the vet to dispose of. Did I want to see him? I said no.

As we drove slowly home Deb told me how Lukas had suddenly risen from his bed and staggered a few paces to her side. His eyes had tears and they pleaded with her for help. She could not help him and the puppy had died stricken with pain in her arms.

Out across time Tomas had sensed this small dog's fight and our reactions to it and next day into our private world of grief arrived a beautiful and sensitive message of support.

Maid,

I could feel your sorrow and was griefstricken myself that you lost the dog. It was an unfortunate thing and although I am wise to the world I know that a dog is the truest friend of all, big and small. But if our God demands our company then neither love nor hope will sustain us here. Death can be life, you must not cry, my maid, for most of the time we are but shadows for we are with people's thoughts more than we are in their sight.

I shall tell you of the Lukas from whom I took my name. He was the greatest man that ever lived. He was a man of true dignity, worthy to his fellows. In Bristol when I was but a child he took me into his house and offered to let me stay for ever. He told me things I would never reveal, not at any price. Of his quality, for he always spoke wisely, I could not place my father his equal, he was the nearest man to God. He was sent to prison for taking a book for me to read, he often did this but always returned them, and as he told the court to do this is not a crime. He died in prison and I took his name in the hope that I could be as much like him as possible, but in some ways your dog was very like him for he also stood and fought. And because of your small dog I am ashamed that I used the name of Lukas for I am not worthy of it.

I have found this better pen, more paper, fellow Ken, for I have some words for you.

I have never had so unhappy an evening and poor Debbie broke her heart. We went to the theatre where there were crowds of people so it was too embarrassing for us to start the tears again.

Next day.

'What does this mean?' asked Debbie. "... He welcom myne steye for eren an tolde mynself manie a thynge that for nagolde waldst leeve me."

'Tomas has a few secrets.'

'What secrets?'

'Honestly, Deb ...'

'Must be vital information if he won't even tell us.'

'He's a man of honour. He may have been told to tell no one. Tomas would stick to his word.'

In the sadness surrounding the arrival of the message this conversation was all the discussion that took place on Tomas's 'secrets'. But some days later this section prompted rather more thought. Debbie said it might be a secret about communicating through time, some form of training or initiation. 'The Tibetans and all sorts say it can be done,' she said. 'Such a power had to be kept amongst the few.' I laughed and replied that I thought Tomas was as surprised to be in touch with us as we were to be in touch with him. It was hardly the attitude of an initiate into a secret society. I was more interested in his philosophy or his attitude to life, which were also hinted at in the message.

... deeth can beest a liffe yow muste nawoe myne mayde for mooste tyme us beest al shadowes forwy we art wyth pepels thoughtes moore than we beeth in thir syghtes

Tomas as philosopher and Tomas as a man of secrets. There was further speculation: how about a secret society whose secrets were quasi-religious? Talk drifted around this possibility. I remembered what Peter had said recently about alchemy, alchemists and Bristol. He had been chasing words again and had detected alchemical terms such as 'quintessence' in Tomas's writing. A spot of research uncovered Bristol and the surrounding area as containing practitioners of alchemy at about the time Lukas Wainman would have lived in the city. One Tomas Norton was mentioned in particular. Tomas Harden might have had access to that group of alchemists. If so it would give some structure in which to place his love of learning, his initiation into various 'secrets' and his deeply philosophical but not quite mainstream commentary on events.

True alchemists were very learned 'clerks', for alchemy has at its root a philosophical tradition, a society of initiates in search of a transformation of the human soul from the base – the leaden – to the pure – gold. And with this our thinking creaked on like an old water-mill in a dry season: the wheel turned but precious little grain was being milled. It was another item to add to our list of avenues for exploration.

In memory of little Lukas, Deb hung his small collar and lead from a hook under the stairs and put his favourite toy, a blue, plastic, squeaky frog, on top of the kitchen cupboard. An hour or two later the 'poltergeist' threw it off the cupboard and we heard the squeak as it hit the floor. Deb came near to tears as she imagined for a second that the dog was playing with it. I comforted her but became a little choked myself.

I replaced the squeaky toy carefully and threw out a half-empty packet of chocolate sweets I had seen on the cupboard. The puppy had never finished them. To keep and to discard; to live and die. Some memories must stay, some go. As Tomas said, 'We are but shadows.'

I asked Tomas to write of 'one' and 2109. He wrote the next day, on paper. And as tears and laughter oppose and yet complement each other he told such a tale of innocence and confusion that I had to laugh.

Myne goodlie felawe Ken

yow dide axe a won afrom 2109 him seyn manye thyng o non sense to myne erre an wert a avauntyng his powre somdele an biforn me wert toffire sete hym forepast goon soe him tale than him wilt wrytes myne boke an us naspake to 2109 for thye art gekalles that beest oonlie to force thir wynn synge thoughtes to us bot las me canst ne rekone for syche talke fro a wyght that beest gene that be a tyme viagire wot thynke yow preye me art confus me dost axe wy yow doe speke wyth thise wyghtes fore thir beest non cause preye you onlie speke wyth yowr felawe wretchyd Tomas an nat wyth thise gauberynge 2109 for fere yow mayhapp be taken by jack for woode

Tomas

My good fellow Ken,

You asked of 'one' from 2109. He said many nonsensical things to me and was boasting of his power somewhat but before I could offer him a seat he had already gone. He said that he will write my book and we were not to speak to 2109 for they are taunters that only want to force their thoughts on to us. But I can't square with talk from a man that looks green and is a time voyager. What do you think? I am confused and ask you why you speak with these persons because there is no need. Please speak only with your fellow, poor wretched Tomas, and not with these gabbering 2109 in case you may be taken to be insane.

Tomas

It is a mirror of our confusion, Tomas.

I hung the script in a 'klip' frame on the bedroom wall as a constant reminder to keep things in perspective.

Debbie asked me if I thought that 2109 and 'one' were part of our dreams or Tomas's dreams. I could see that she wanted to marginalize them by this arrangement. If they did people Tomas's dreams or ours when were we going to wake? It was possible rather that we were all half-awake to something rather more profound. There were moments when it seemed we were at the edge of a drama, but unsure whether we were actors or acted upon.

Some more days passed, a whole week without a computer in the kitchen. Deb tried to stay busy, and went to her mum's or for drives. On the Thursday I went down to the Royal Oak in Kinnerton with an old friend and in a small way cheered up – normal life, just a taste of it, in very strange and difficult circumstances.

The computer was either with Deb's mum or in its box. I think I neither knew nor cared. But 2109 had not disappeared or chickened out. To their credit they responded to the ten questions at the next opportunity we gave them, 27 September.

DAVID, JOHN.

DAVID. YOU INTERFERE WITH COMUNICATION. NEXT TIME YOU DECIDE TO PERFORM YOUR LITTLE EXPERIMENT YOU MUST BE CLEAR FROM HERE. WE SUGGEST YOU TRY SOMEONE ELES TO SIT WITH DEBBIE.

YES WE ARE WHAT YOU WOULD CALL A TACHYON UNIVERSE BUT YOUR UNDERSTANDING IS INCORRECT. WE ASK NOTHING MORE OF YOU THAN TO CARRY ON AS YOU WOULD PREFER. WE WILL HAVE JOHN PRESENT IF GIVEN CHOISE OR YOU MAY BRING ANOTHER AS MENCIONED. NO, IT IS NO CONCERN TO US THAT THIS IS NOT PROVED. WE WILL GIVE YOU A PLOTTING OF A STAR NEXT TIME. WE MOVE AT A SPEED SO THAT WE COVER EVERY POINT IN YOUR TIME AND UNIVERSE. WE HAVE NO FORM WE FEED OF A NEET ENERGY THAT YOU WILL NOT HAVE HERD OF 2109

I read this down the phone to Dave Welch. He said 2109 had not answered the questions but it seemed that they had picked up all of the questions left for them and in the same order – down to the acknowledgement of a repeated item. I was passively listening to this on the telephone. Then it struck me, 2109 had seen the questions that none of us in the cottage had seen. I put the telephone down and began hopping and dancing around the room in exultation. 'We've done it, we've done it, we've done it! It's OK. We're not hoaxing. We're not being hoaxed. It's proved. This is real!!'

For once I loved every crummy spelling 2109 made. We knew that this was excellent progress. When we had a chance we looked again at the reply. Very strange, they appeared to be suggesting that they were coming in to this universe from another 'dimension' or perhaps that their universe was passing through ours. Not 'angels' then, unless in transit. Pretty wacky stuff. They were capable of following every path and every turn of our history as well. They were not the 'future', that word was dissolved of its meaning, time seemed to be of little importance. This suggested some sort of 'alien' intelligence, though none of us was comfortable with the word 'alien', let alone the conclusion. And I for one did not care a twopenny fig – they saw the questions, we didn't, and they replied!

Tagged on about a page lower down the screen was another strange and extremely unlikely communication.

Captain Kirk to starfleet command? A cipher for added 'interest'. We were never allowed to become settled with a view of the experience. New snippets of information arrived to challenge our models, our conceptions. Perhaps no 'conception' was any longer possible: there were too many inconsistencies for me, for any of us, to construct a framework for the experience in which all the 'facts' were accommodated. This was in itself suspicious. More than one person said to me, 'You're being manipulated.' But few now said, 'You're having us on.'

Dave Welch came through on the telephone that following Sunday, 29 September. He'd be very happy to ask some more questions. Everyone, including 2109, appeared to have forgotten that the original parameters had been that one discreet set of questions would be answered. I put the questions on the screen for Dave. No need for elaborate screening of the computer now, I noticed.

2109 COULD YOU SOLVE THESE FOR DAVID PLEASEKEN

I THINK THAT THE LARGEST PRIME NUMBER WE KNOW IS 2 TO THE POWER OF 216091–1 CAN YOU GIVE A LARGER PRIME NUMBER OF THE SAME TYPE AND A LARGER PRIME NUMBER OF A DIFFERENT COMPOSITION?

FERMAT THOUGHT THAT THE EQUATION X TO THE n=y TO THE n+2 TO THE n COULD NOT BE WRITTEN IF x,y,z AND n ARE ALL WHOLE NUMBERS AND n IS AT LEAST 3.*

CAN YOU GIVE A SOLUTION OR WHEN WE WILL PROVE THAT THE ANSWER IS POSSIBLE?? KEN

DAVE

YES, BOTH QUSTIONS CAN BE AN SEWED, ONE DIRECTLY, THE OTHER REQUIRES AN UNDERSTANDING OF A NEW CONVERSION FORMULA. BEFOUR WE TELL YOU, DO YOU SWEAR TO GRANT US OUR WISH?

So I did and Dave, greatly to my surprise, sounded unsure, even reticent. I dutifully put down his words.

IF IT BE IN OUR POWER SO TO DO AND THAT WE DO NOT LOSE OUR MINDS OR SOULS OR BODIES TO YOU

^{&#}x27;The cunning bastards! Deb, look at this.'

^{&#}x27;I bet Dave says yes. Go an' ring him. He said to,' urged Deb.

Another walk around the village. I could hardly bear to be away. They wrote:

THEN LET THE MAN WHO IS WILLING TO LOSE THESE STEP FORWARD!

I asked them to be reasonable about all this, but they continued:

TO LOSE YOUR SOUL IS TO LOSE ALL. BUT SURELY THIS WOULD NOT BOTHER DAVID – CALL OUR BLUFF!

I rang Dave again, feeling a bit unsure of myself but confident that a scientist would call that bluff. Perhaps this is expecting too much of scientists who are, after all, quite human. The answer, surely, was not to go on hedging around the problem. But Dave kept hedging.

I did consider whether to cheat and just put in 'YES' but decided against it and for my pains still got no further with 2109. No compromise.

ANSWER EITHER YES OR NO. YOU ASKED A QUESTION WE ANSWERED IT, YOUR TURN IF WE ARE TO ANSEWER [sic] QUESTIONS AGAIN. DO YOU WANT THE ANSWER?

But 'no' it was and 'no' it remained. Debbie was still all for volunteering Dave's soul for him but to this day I don't think it would have been wise. 2109 might have been bluffing and quite probably holding no cards whatsoever but it was an extraordinarily difficult moment which, to an onlooker, must have had a farcical air about it.

Next day 2109 chirped up all sarcastic and patronizing.

YOUR MIND IS HALF MADE UP. I HOPE YOU DON'T THINK WERE LAUGHING AT YOU NOW THAT WOULD ANOY YOU! WE'LL CATCH THE BULLITS BEFORE YOU PULL THE TRIGGER! LOTS OF LOVE 2109.

So 2109 had the answers for David before he even thought of the questions? Later on 2109 promised me the answer to Fermat's Last Theorem but only after David had visited on two more occasions. He came only once more ... hence it was quite easy to promise if they already knew the likely outcomes. And of course in the above exchange 2109 had effectively pulled the plug on SPR. They were now under no obligation to answer any questions SPR put before them. I was convinced that there had been another SPR blunder.

30 September

Brush in hand, cat at heel, I opened the door to John Bucknall. He had a colleague 'from work' with him who he introduced as Jim, a frail academic on first impressions. Jim was an expert on ciphers, and his presence puzzled me as we had had very little number traffic over the computer and whatever else we had appeared comprehensible. Still mine was not to wonder why, mine was just to make polite conversation. At this stage my politeness was in danger of wearing thin. In the kind of circumstances currently prevailing, where 2109 appeared to be the only topic of conversation and my growing collection of handwritten scripts from Tomas was summarily dismissed as 'not proving anything' it was hardly surprising that I felt frayed.

I had arranged these scripts neatly and with pride in small cheap 'klip' frames on the chair. I could readily agree that they didn't prove anything but, I argued, as part of the complete experience they offered opportunities for investigation and enquiry which could support or render less likely a hoax. It was like talking to myself. I was talking to myself. I put my scripts away like a rebuffed travelling salesman and brought instead coffee and tea.

Peter arrived shortly. All except myself and Debbie were still dressed for work. SPR were understandably irritated at the taunts from 2109 but John had a firm response all lined up:

THIS WILL BE OUR FINAL COMMUNICATION UNLESS YOU DEAL WITH US MORE REASONABLY. SO FAR WE COULD EXPLAIN ALL YOUR ANTICS IN TERMS OF A FEW ELECTRONIC BUGS AND A COUPLE OF SCHOOL TEXTBOOKS. WE HAVE NO ENTHUSIASM FOR TRYING TO PERFORM EXPERIMENTS WHEN YOU, DELIBERATELY OBSTRUCT US. IF

YOU ARE WHAT YOU SAY YOU ARE YOU CAN GIVE US SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO PROVE IT. IF NOT YOUR SILENCE WILL SPEAK FOR ITSELF.

THE QUESTIONS WE GAVE YOU WERE NOT THEMSELVES IN SEARCH OF KNOWLEDGE. WE WILL HAVE ALL THOSE ANSWERS WITHIN A FEW YEARS. WE WERE JUST GIVING YOU A CHANCE TO SHOW YOUR ABILITY.

WE REFUSE TO CO-OPERATE WITH YOUR OUTRAGEOUS REQUEST BECAUSE WE VALUE MIND, BODY AND SOUL MORE THAN ANY KNOWLEDGE THAT WE COULD POSESS. IF YOU ARE A FRIEND YOU WOULD NOT ASK US TO BE SO STUPID.

IF YOU DECIDE, WITHOUT CONDITIONS, TO SHOW THAT YOU HAVE KNOWLEDGE BEYOND OUR OWN WE MAY BE ABLE TO PASS THIS INFORMATION TO THOSE WHO COULD HELP YOU. PLEASE REMEMBER THAT ABOVE ALL WE VALUE PEACE OF MIND. DO NOT ASK US TO DO THINGS WHICH BREAK OUR ETHICAL CODE.

DAVID AND JOHN.

Seated around the living room were John, Peter, Jim, Debbie and myself. John began the proceedings. The theme had not been in any way modified by last weekend's events. This shocked me. I held back from the discussion only out of politeness. The picture of a hoax he presented was quite frankly almost as incredible as what we generally believed to be the truth of the matter. Pure electronic wizardry was at work, he said. Bugging the screen was his theme but additionally he saw the possibility of someone having stored the questions Dave left for 2109 on an EPROM, whatever that was. The questions could then be examined at leisure, at school perhaps, with the help of some decoding device for the EPROMs. I was furious. SPR hadn't, as far as I knew, spoken to anyone in the computer department at school. Who had stored it anyway? Dave was the only one at the computer, he had controlled it throughout.

John continued with what I thought were trite answers. The hoaxer returned to centre stage.

As an alternative to the EPROM he suggested that sensitive microphones could have picked up the sound of the keys and then recordings interpreted to determine which keys were depressed. I could not believe my ears, nor could Peter or Debbie. John was walking up and down to emphasize his ideas. Once or twice I thought he paced up and down to convince himself. He was 'ninety-nine per cent sure' it was a hoax because 'it had to be'. He repeated that phrase over and over. Sitting, as I was now, on the stairs because there was little room, I felt not only outside the conversation but the guilty person. All this 'trickery' if it was to be believed, had to be done with my full and active co-operation. Something had happened over the intervening week to make John so forceful. From the suggestion that a third party had been bugging the kitchen the argument had changed, swung in on me.

Just how the messages were returned to the screen in this scenario was never explained. Why, if they were so sure that EPROM chicanery was the likely method, hadn't they brought their own BBC or why didn't they take our machine away for testing?

They were obviously caught out by there being a response, and a useful one, to the 'ten-question test' and were rationalizing after the event. They had, in short, been careless and we were taking the blame – although they never accused us and were never less than 100 per cent polite.

There were multiple objections to John's view, and much that was unaccounted for: poltergeist activity for one thing, the testimony of witnesses who'd sat with Debbie for another. Debbie couldn't contain herself and spluttered into laughter.

The language? Tomas's words? 'Good scholarship' was all I remember John saying when this was mentioned.

But we didn't have a row or a dreadful breakdown in communication. We pressed John earnestly to continue his work. He did, he conceded, have questions for 2109 in his pocket. All was not lost. We had more tea.

Underneath I was quite miserable but kept on hoping for something to turn up. John was now asking 2109 for the date of the next supernova and its location ...

October crept in with that certain awareness that the days are drawing in and yet the delightful calm of those moments kept winter from my mind. I decided to pick damsons from the venerable fruit tree in the garden. Two days had passed since John had given us his thoughts. 2109 had written back that evening – but not, I remembered with irritation, whilst John was present. On the Tuesday there was a direction to David and John to cast their eyes upwards to heaven.

DAVID&JOHN

OBSERVE: BOTTOM RIGHT HAND REGION OF THE SOUTHERN HEMISPHERE NEAR TO THE 7th CELESTIAL BODY IN THE EOUATOR DELPHINUS CONSTELLATION. COULD SOON BE A QUASOR

I hoped at the time that they were to be offered a thunderball but, perched in the damson tree with a red bucket and a view of the village, I was less aggressive, as indeed in such rustic circumstances I should be. Dodleston is a great place.

Unfortunately in any ordinary atlas the Delphinus constellation lies to the north of the celestial equator!

David Welch was most suspicious. I was unhappy. When I was a child I used to escape all responsibilities as best I could by climbing the oak tree down the road and hiding in its stubby branches. Here I was again up a tree at the age of thirty.

Frank Davies got me down from the tree, so to speak, by bringing me a map of the galaxy drawn as if we were outside it. Here of course Delphinus was south of the celestial equator. And if 2109 were rather more aware of the galaxy than we were then it was a reasonable description. Indeed Frank suggested that a hoaxer was not at all likely to have considered this point. Far easier to quote the accepted standard description.

The 'quasor' message was very odd in another way. Its layout was not typical of 2109, neither was the lack of signature. 'It could be from this "one" character,' suggested Frank but the spelling of 'quasar' was reassuringly 2109.

It was becoming obvious that there was a need for other researchers to become involved. Peter suggested the soon-to-be-appointed Koestler Professor at Edinburgh University. I was against contacting him, as I thought it rather a bold step. I imagined Peter would go ahead anyway, that being his character.

But looking again at our investigators, I concluded that John Bucknall and Dave Welch were intelligent, thoughtful gentlemen in the only substantial organization for this kind of work in the country. Loss of faith at this time would suggest that we were just not happy with their point of view and that we sought merely sympathetic and gullible researchers. Far from it, but our position was extremely difficult.

I was very aware that Tomas was due to leave us: we expected him to be gone by the end of November at the absolute latest. Poor Tomas was still writing on paper with whatever pen or pencil we left him. He was writing about his village and the people he knew, as well as castigating us for writing to 2109. I told him that we had no real choice.

To counter some of SPR's criticism in relation to VDU bugging we asked 2109 if they needed a screen to communicate.

KEN

ALTHOUGH WE HAVE NO NEED FOR AVISUAL MONITOR 'GOODLIE' TOM HAS. EXPLAINING THIS TO YOUR KIND IS NOT AT ALL EASY, MAYBE IT IS BEST COMPARED WITH ECHOS.

THE EAR OF THE RECIVER. THE SCREEN IS A GUIDE FOR COMUNICATIONS.

In support of this idea a message turned up on the disk as soon as the machine was next switched on. It was written at some time between 8 and 9 October but it was not, as far as we knew, on the file when the computer was last used. Either that or it had been inserted whilst I examined the upper part of the file.

2109 wrote that they would go along with a test using a different computer and no screen. It was suggested to John Bucknall that an experiment be set up using SPR computers and equipment. 22 October was chosen as a date for this new experiment. In the interim 2109 asked unexpectedly about our friendly motor-mechanic teacher, Frank Davies. They wanted to know why he was involved, his work, character, etc,. then they asked for his doctor's name and address. I could not supply that information but Frank gave the details. They replied quite promptly giving, according to Frank, an excellent summary of his medical history.

2109 invited questions from Frank and from Deb and me. In retrospect it was chitchat to bide time until the next experiment by SPR. When Dave Welch wrote that he was unimpressed with their inability to come up with a solution to his mathematical questions and that furthermore they were a cheap hoax they replied:

WE WONDER HOW MUCH DAVID WOULD LIKE TO KNOW THE NEXT PRIME No. IF HE KNEW THE CONSEQUENSES!, WHY SHOULD WE GIVE IT TO SOMEONE WHO BLANKLY REFUSED THE ANSEWER BEFOUR – WE AR'NT HERE TO IMPRESS. WE SUPPOSE THEY HAVE TO PUT SOMETHING IN THERE LITTLE BOOK THAT THEY CAN RELATE TO. Mmmmm, CHEEP HOAX Eh?!, SOMETHING TELLS US THEY HAVE'NT BEEN DOING THERE HOME WORK! (TUT. TUT). YES ANY COMPUTOR WILL DO FOR US – THOMAS ALWAYS NEEDS WORD PROSSESSOR THOUGH. SPEED IS OUR VERTUE, TELL HIM(DAVID) THAT WHATEVER HE WRITES WE WILL SEE BUT HE'LL HAVE TO GIVE A GOOD REASON WHY WE SHOULD

Added to this was a warning not to allow any of Tomas's messages into SPR's hands, 'as there are many amaters'. Hardly worth the mention except for the fact that this last line was inserted as I lay in the bath, and the bathroom adjoins the kitchen. I was thinking of whether to offer Tomas's words in quantity to SPR (they had a couple of samples already) but had not put the question on to the screen.

Into the half-term break. Waiting for the day when SPR came. Waiting for an answer to the mystery of the 'leems'. Messages from 2109 almost every day, on the fraudulent nature of most mediums, the power of suggestion and, in reply to the question about where objects go when they disappear from the kitchen – 'nowhere'. Very fine! Tomas, too was keeping up, mostly on paper.

This short message arrived late on Sunday 20 October. I wrote it down on a scrap of paper. It was of a different quality from the usual:

I KNOW YOUR GREATEST FEARS
I KNOW HOW TO BE EMOTIVE
I CAN INTERFERE WITH ALL SIGNAL TRANSMITTING DEVICES (INCLUDING COMPUTERS)

I HAVE THE POWER TO MAKE YOU DO EXACTLY WHAT IS REQUIRED ARE YOU ANGRY: VERY ANGRY I CAN MAKE THE COMUTER NON COMMUNICABLE

ALL IS NOT WHAT IS APPEARS TO BE YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO BE ANGRY SOMEONES IN TROUBLE The spelling and the style, our only clues for unsigned communications, led Deb and me to think it was not 2109. It would seem that if the vertical plane is opened up almost anyone can play. This little twist in space-time is, it seems, a type of honey pot.

'Someone's in trouble.' It would be me if 2109 did not cough up the goodies on the 22nd. I saved the message to disk but it was deleted by the next time I went to look for it.

22 October

I had a job interview in Manchester. I was pretty confident, but bad luck awaited me. The long arm and swift heels of a police motorbike caught up with my untaxed car. The copper wished me luck with the job, but booked me all the same.

At seven o'clock and not in the best of moods the only food I could afford that night was a bag of chips, which I devoured between pieces of dry bread. John Bucknall and Dave Welch were due. A quick coffee, just time to light the fire and I was almost ready. An appalling lifestyle.

Frank arrived just ahead of the psychobillies, eager and more than willing to tell SPR what he had experienced of 2109 and Tomas.

'Hello, Ken, this is Nick.' John Bucknall came in with a large confident man of about thirty-five. We shook hands. 'Where's Dave?' I asked, looking at John.

The reply was waffly. He wasn't coming that day. I can't remember any reason being given. Frank stood up to greet our visitors. Nick sat on the edge of the settee near the fire. He was a carefully dressed man in a dark jacket and trousers and he seemed to be in control. I thought that he must be John's superior. Did they have a hierarchy in SPR? The question once thought immediately subsided. John smoked all the time as usual. In my mind, at least, he kept to the edges of the conversation. That night I saw John in the shadows of the room, by the stairs, in doorways, by the corner cupboard. Nick was asking straight questions. 'Where's Debbie?'

'She's in Oxford,' I lied. She was in London but did it matter? I volunteered the information that she was 'doing some research, seeing some people ...'

He seemed a little disappointed; he was obviously well briefed on who we were and what was going on. I didn't like his pointedness, which conflicted with the air of cordiality and informality I was trying to project. I felt we could be meeting across an oak table in a city office.

Frank, gentle Frank Davies, was not questioned but interrogated. Although encouraging him to speak about his experiences in the affair Nick wasn't listening at all. 'Are you a physicist?'

'No ... indeed no. I am an engineer by trade and ...'

'What is your theory of what's happening?' And so on.

Frank was getting involved with his tale but Nick wanted facts. Nick wanted to take the computer away to look for bugging devices. I agreed to this, and during twenty minutes of intense activity SPR set up their own computer and screen, and down-loaded information from a disk. Questions for 2109.

I sat in a corner of the living room willing 2109 to pick up the transfer. A lot of my self-respect was riding on this experiment. The information was left on SPR's computer, but not on the screen, for a short time. They continued to question us for a while but Nick gave the impression that he was tired or slightly irritated and within an hour they had left. I had instructions to ring John if there was a reply from 2109. Frank and I were extremely unsettled by the very cool and formal end to the meeting. I tried to forget them but it wasn't easy. Frank wrote those notes on the latter part of the evening.

'Ken asked me if I would mind staying in the cottage alone for a short time while he went for a walk. I agreed to this and after Ken had gone out I sat on the settee in front of the fire and thought over the events of the evening.

'Even though I was alarmed and somewhat annoyed by SPR's request to remove the computer I suppose any failure to comply could have been construed by them as an attempt to conceal material which they felt may have aided their investigations.

'I thought of an earlier message from Lukas in which he expressed alarm at a forthcoming visit from SPR and had ended his message:

WYTH HOPE THAT YOW TELLE OONLY MEN O REKONYNG WHO DOTH NAT UNDOO MYNE LEEMS AN FREENDS.

'Now the "leems" was undone, at least at our end.

'While I was waiting for Ken's return I did not notice anything unusual, nor was I expecting anything. I thought of nothing in particular. However, on hearing Ken's approach to the door I stood up and immediately saw that Ken's name had been written in chalk, in the style used by Lukas, on the tiled floor not more than a couple of feet in front of me.

'As soon as Ken entered I drew his attention to the chalking. I then felt a little annoyed with myself as I thought I should have been more observant, so that I could have seen the name being written. But then I did not expect anything to occur. Had Lukas been trying to communicate? I thought so. Was he puzzled, annoyed, dismayed or saddened? All these questions I took home with me.'

I was offered the Manchester job and would leave teaching at Christmas to take up a research post. We continued to use a borrowed computer while SPR tested ours, and received this from 2109:

PSYKABILLIES

HELLO GROWING IN NUMBERS ARE WE! NO HE DOES'NT INTERFERE WITH THE COMMUNICATIONS – WHAT'S HIS REAL NAME, MORE INFO NOT ENOUGH GIVEN ON THIS MAN. BEFORE WE REPLY TO YOUR QUESTIONS THIS MAN APPEALS TO US. WE WOULD SOONER HAVE SOMEONE WITH MORE EXPERIENCE.

YOUR TRYING TO ACHIEVE BUT WE ARE NOT THE ONES IN NEED OF HELP. ANSWERS AFTER MORE INFO ON THIS MAN. 2109

No salvation yet. They seemed to want to focus on the big man, Nick. I think they knew who he was but were taunting SPR.

There was another part to their message, an add-on item for my eyes only.

KEN JUST TELLE JOHN THAT SOMEONE DISRUPTED

THE COMMUNICATION BY COMING TOO CLOSE TO THE COMPUTER WHEN IT WAS IN OPERATIONS.

GET THE OTHER COMPUTER (BBC) AND WE SPEAK TO YOUR PSYBILLIES. NO POINT OTHERWISE. THOMAS WILL SPEAK LATTER

I thought, 'Stuff this, just give me the answers!'

I rang John Bucknall the next day and told him the news. He thought that 2109 were backpedalling very fast and being unreasonable. 2109 had got the test they wanted so where were the answers? John refused to give any more details on 'Nick' as, he said, it was irrelevant. I was stuck in the middle of all this, feeling very foolish. I gave the gist of our conversation to 'the little numbers'.

They replied between 5.15 P.M. and 5.45 P.M. and tried to persuade me that they would certainly obtain the answers to the questions just as soon as they had tracked down Nick. There was the inescapable feeling that trenches were being dug and that I would stay between the parties in no man's land. 2109 told me they thought Nick had disrupted the communication on the 22nd and that they needed to trace him so that they could, er, alter history a touch ... I thought, 'Here we go again!' and wrote: 'Sure, fine, anything you say!' Then I tried in the other trench. Could I please have Nick's name? John very reluctantly gave it – Nick Sowerby-Johnson. He also said that they couldn't get the disk drive to work and had been unable to check the disk yet. I groaned to myself over the likely expense but thanked him profusely for Nick's name then went over to the other side and told our 'time monsters'. They assured me that in a matter of forty-eight hours or so they would have found out what they needed to know.

I left the following message in frustration:

2109

FORGIVE MY FORGETFULNESS, HOW MANY HOURS TILL YOU TRACE NICKS PATH? ... DON'T DISAPPOINT ME OR ELSE I WILL ... WHAT CAN I DO? NOTHING!!

They responded:

KEN

WE CANNOT AT YOUR PRESENT TIME FIND WHAT CAUSED THE DISRUPTION AS THE QUESTIONS WENT OVER QUESTION: DID THE PSYKABILLIES CHECK THE INFO. WENT ONTO THE COMMPUTER? IF YOU COULD JUST ASK THIS QUESTION IT WOULD SAVE MUCH TIME, IF THEY MADE SURE IT WAS ON THE COMMPUTER TRANSMITTING THEN THERE SHOULD BE NO PROBLEM AND WE WILL HAVE THE ANSWERS BY TOMORROW 8.15 AM. BY THE WAY - YOU

So infuriating that it was not completed, but tramping the village for so long was getting to be a drag. There had been too much tramping and not enough constructive action all month. I'd been out twice that day already; now the unfinished message determined that I'd go again. I sat in the car on the drive. I only gave it ten minutes but we were in luck.

YOU CAN DISRUPT THE ENTIRE EXPERIMENT!

In this whirlpool of activity and confusion I hardly felt that we had any part other than to facilitate someone else's manoeuvring of the computer and the pen and paper. I was still deeply pessimistic. Perhaps the hardest thing was not being able to concentrate on Tomas. I decide not to co-operate:

PERHAPS YOU HAVE NEGLECTED '1'S INFLUENCE. I DON'T HAVE BUCKNALL'S NO AND DAVE WELCH WASN'T INVOLVED. SORRY TO BE PESSIMISTIC. IF JOHN RINGS I SHALL ASK.

KEN.

Next morning was the end of British Summer Time. 8.15 – the time 2109 promised to have the answers – came and went. I inflicted my insecurity and my irritation on everyone. 2109, on the contrary, were brassily confident.

KEN

DON'T BE PESAMISTIC. YOU SHALL HAVE YOUR PROOF WE GUARANTEE. PLEASE DO NOT COMMUNICATE TO THOMAS ON PAPER THANK YOU 2109.

I gazed at the message a few moments and shrugged my shoulders. So what? I was going to lie to them again. I would not jeopardize the only worthwhile communications – those with Tomas.

There was some cipher traffic at the bottom of the screen. More shrugging of shoulders. I decided to do some work outside. I came in ten minutes later looking for a plastic bag, and as I did so I saw some more evidence of activity 'elsewhere' and 'beyond' us.

SM FIELDS WILL CAUSE MORE THAN DISRUPTION WITH THIS KIND! ... NO MORE GAMES TELL THEM

WHY DON'T YOU

YOU KNOW WHY!

'Who sent this?' Deb inquired as she peered over a mug of coffee.

'It's "one" and 2109 arguing about something,' I said, not really looking at it, not really thinking.

'Why do they argue?' she continued.

'Don't know.'

'Why does it come up on the screen?'

'Don't know, perhaps its just for our benefit.'

'Why?'

'To convince us that 2109 are doing something about the SPR questions.'

'You mean 2109 wrote it all? Why is the spelling OK?'

I was getting irritated again. I was so edgy by now. Why was I supposed to know what was going on? 'Look. If 2109 answer the bloody SPR question does it matter about the small talk?'

Deb wasn't giving up. 'What does "SM" mean? Sadomasochistic? Secondary modern? SM fields? Secondary magnetic? Why that's it! It's to do with "lines of force" stuff.'

With a groan I walked out and then sat in the car and began unnecessarily to retune the radio as a distraction.

In school the next day I rang home from the phone box, after rudely shooing away some kids wanting to ring mum about their PE kit. Deb answered. No change. 2109 had not written. But my enthusiasm for them was returning. It was probably only a reflection of my changing moods but they had promised an answer.

The enthusiasm soon waned. The evening and morning of the second day passed.

Tomas continued to write, but this message at lunchtime on the 29th was very strange indeed.

felawe ken

Fellow Ken

2109 asked me to put their words to paper so you may see them and in return they will give paper when I need it. If they don't give me any more then there is a big problem, with caution I think. I wonder if you can understand my writing for your characters are like those shown by the 'leems'. I hope you enjoyed my tale. I have drawn 'place of grains' as you asked, Debbie.* My love to you, brother.

Tomas I envied as he usually took no messing from 2109. But this message seemed to introduce another twist to the problem. When he said 'an yn retorne [for carrying 2109's messages to us] thei wyl gyv papyr wen nedes me' did he mean that 2109 controlled his supply of paper? Obviously unlikely! Especially odd since 2109 had told us not to communicate with Tomas on paper, presumably because they could not interfere with the process. Anyway the paper was in my kitchen. It was my paper and my decision. They had bullshitted him into compliance unless there was some facet of this communication process that we had overlooked. Tomas urged caution, so I went along with the arrangement and said nothing to him about it.

2109 axith to plas thir words intyl myne scryt to myne felawes/ thoforthy

sorry to communicate this way but were trying to sort things out. continue wyth experient, we'll doe are best 2109

Good Tomas had copied every word. If he was copying it and if he was 'in' our time when he wrote to us on paper – as we supposed – how was he able to see the 'leems' at the same moment? Evidently the 'leems' carried 2109's message for Tomas to be able to copy it – but not on our computer on this occasion. Discussion did the rounds but as usual no one could sort it out.

Tomas went on to offer a verse from the poet Gower and to ask his 'brothyrs' to visit him – 'lyks yow mayd' – and to share his best wine. This was all very puzzling ... Later the same day:

'What's this about Tomas wanting us all to visit?'

Debbie replied, 'He says if I can do it everyone can.'

'I didn't know you "did it", I thought it was accidental!'

'It is mostly ... He's given me some hints about relaxing.'

'He's done what! Well, forget it, I am not going anywhere.'

'It's only like a brill dream ...'

'Forget it.'

'I'll show you ...'

'No way. You're only dreaming and he's in your dreams.'

'Is that how he writes to us then with a dream pen and dream paper? Talk sense.'

'So you're doing what Tomas does? Oh, this doesn't help us, Debbie,' I said with vague and unformed anxiety. 'Anyway I have to say something to Bucknall about the SPR questions. How about, "2109 gets Tomas to write 'we'll do our best"? Huh! That's the real problem. I can't let Bucknall know all this.'

love Tomas

Fellow Ken and all your friends,

I thank you for your words and I shall reply to each of you but first my Ken. I am so anxious tonight and can't bring a pleasing thought to my head so lend me your ear, good brother, so you may cure my unhappiness. Grosvenor says three weeks and I must leave. Oh, what strength in my love, what power that time be cut apart and there is nothing that we can do. Tonight I watch my candle burn, neither my eye nor my heart will leave it as I go to my table to write all the questions that I must ask my good brothers and maid.

Love Tomas

Three weeks and he goes. Three weeks. I wrote back with heavy heart that we loved him dearly.

1 November

Still no news from 2109. I wove a little more imitation Star Trek into the next message:

STATE OF PLAY??

They merely wrote:

WHO KNOWS!!!

It sent me into a silent, seething anger. But I moved to the 'Biggies' character. Some approach had to work!

WHAT'S BEEN HAPPENING CHAPS?? KEN

Nothing immediately. It was too late to go out again so Deb and I did some serious talking about how we should use these last days with Tomas. A priority, prompted by Peter's questions about words, was to try and take him back to the beginning of the experience and ask for an explanation of how it all began and then to check on those early messages, one by one, and line by line, if necessary, so that we got a true idea of what he wrote. It was possibly the last chance to disentangle his words from 2109's 'editing'.

Deb left out copies of the first two messages for Tomas and the next day we received a reply – in two parts, due to it having been interrupted by someone walking into the room.

Good Ken

Please forgive my words to paper as I think they may be removed if 2109 see them. The words your maid showed me are not altogether what I said, though they are all my words they are jumbled. The words on Edmund Grey I didn't write though these words are like mine. The first script said as follows:

So the second message was entirely fake and Edmund Grey could be laid to rest along with the more speculative notions of Tomas's 'antic' and 'breaking atwain' his 'bound'. These had been of interest throughout the last year.

Tomas said the 'leems' shone 'lyks devylls teethe atte myneselve' and he noted the primitive wording he saw on it. Tomas had been in communication with someone else before us.

2109 were not absent from the screen for long. They wittered on about Nick Sowerby-Johnson.

YOUR FRIEND NIK IS A CRASHING BORE, WHERE DOES HE WORK?,MI5?.USSR? – CANT FIND HIM ANYWHERE, MAY BE HE'S 'ONE'?!!. NO MORE GAMES WITH SPR.,WE'VE HAD ENOUGH – JUST LET THEM ANOY US ONE MORE TIME ... – THEYLL SO KNOW THIS ISNT A HOAX!! 2109

I didn't know if they were serious. However, the upshot was that 2109 couldn't trace Nick, our bossy investigator. (Deb had never believed they had the power to do this.) 2109 thought Sowerby-Johnson a 'crashing bore'. They'd obviously detected my Biggies. I wasn't in any mood for this childishness. What a bore they were.

2109 kept up the friendly banter, and even analysed Frank's wife's medical problem! What a magic box this was turning out to be! 'The oracle is in: bring your problems – obscure words, illness, missing persons, computer communications – all will be dealt with circumspectly and ambiguously by the very shady Dr 2109; or directly, if you can read the writing and put your case in late Middle English, by Dr Tomas.'

Some proper control was needed, there were important questions to be pursued and just about none of them were for, or about, 2109. That was my prejudiced opinion. And these questions were about more than the use of late Middle English words. 'It's my time, my problem, my house!' I said rather desperately.

Debbie was also concerned. 'I never see you,' she said. She was right. When I was not at work I was out so she could 'ghostbust'. She said that half the time we were probably 'ghostbusting' some other person's questions. They got the benefits, we got the costs. I must have been asleep to let this happen.

I wrote to Tomas, trying to latch on to a few problems from the earlier messages as this was proving a most fruitful avenue. I also included a few names and historical facts. It was all madness and impossible to sustain at this intensity, for we were receiving up to four messages on each of the good days and 'ghostbusting' for about four hours every night, though not always with success.

There were other kinds of madness 'out there', as this vicious exchange, presumably between 'one' and 2109, showed:

POOR, POOR, JACK-IN-THE-BOX, WHAT WILL HE DO WITHOUT A SPRING, NOW HE'LL NEVER BE ABLE TO PERFORM FOR THE CHILDREN. OH, AND HOW THE CHILDREN WILL CRY!

WON, WE PRESUME?!. CUT THE CRIPTIC, YOAR TOO OBVIOUS ANYWAY!. TRYING TO PLAY THE BRAVE

SUMARITAN EH?!! REVERT TO CIPHER YOAR JUST CONFUSING 1985E. THEY KNOW NOT TO TRUST YOU!.

'In action watch the timing.' So says the Tao te ching. 'One' had, we surmised, taken the spring out of the 2109 jack-in-the-box at exactly the right moment. The spring, their raison d'être, had been the promise to catch the message transferring between the SPR computer and disk. 'One' had knocked it out and 2109 couldn't meet their obligation.

Curiously, if we were the children we did not cry. Personally I was relieved, happy that 2109 were defeated. Maybe it was their arrogance, perhaps just their failure. Debbie and I went to town to talk over what to do next and to drink tea in the cathedral. The cathedral cloisters are old enough for Tomas to have known them. I would ask him. It felt good to be in the even coolness of those reassuring stone walls. We talked for an hour or more and our attention moved to the second part of this most recent exchange.

YOUR ENGLISH IS APPALLING!. DON'T YOU HAVE ANY OTHER PURPOSE THAN TO LECTURE THIS KIND WITH EXISTENTIALISM AND QUANTUM PHYSICS. WHAT A MEANINGLESS EXISTENCE! BUT IF CIPHER, THEN CIPHER IT IS – IF YOU CAN KEEP UP WITH ME!!

NOT THIS FRQ. RANGE!!

It struck me then that 2109's defeat would also be my own in the eyes of John Bucknall. No proof: no interest. But I was still enjoying 2109's failure. Naturally, I would tell John nothing of the above. As it didn't refer to SPR's questions he'd not be interested. Strangely I was determined to wait a few days and see if anything turned up. I was clearly confused – one moment celebrating an end to 2109's boasting and at the next waiting for an answer to SPR's question. It was rather like Mr Micawber, hoping without reason: more faith than hope, more desperation than faith.

Deb had been working on me to at least try and visit Tomas, and I promised I would as he'd be gone soon. Back at the cottage with Deb's encouragement I settled down to relax every part of my body slowly and deliberately and looked up through closed eyes at the infinite (I imagined), at the starry, swirling, arched patterns. At one moment I felt I stepped into that vortex but I could not let go. I opened my eyes. 'Oh, it's bloody stupid all this.'

I told Deb how it was. She thought I was doing OK and should try again but I made some excuse. I'd be saying mantras next and painting prayer wheels on the wall.

Deb was miffed. 'You're just a cowardly hypocrite ... after all this, all that's happened, you still won't go all the way.'

'Goodnight, Deb.'

Tomas's response:

Good Ken,

I was overjoyed that my fellow visited me but sorry that he didn't stay very long. I think that when you try again then you will stay for my best ale and meat ... then perhaps all men will believe in your time of our communication as very few take the word of a woman. Tell me if you saw me ... and show me again your last message, so I know what is true.

Love Tomas

'Oh, for God's sake!' I paced up and down in agitation.

FULL NAME	BIRTH DATE	DIED

I COULD FILL IT IN!

^{&#}x27;It says "I". Anything with "I" in it tends to be "one".'

^{&#}x27;Does it matter who wrote it if it gets filled in?' I said, still in some agitation.

^{&#}x27;But 2109 wouldn't fill it in. They're on our side.'

^{&#}x27;But there are no sides,' I said, quoting Spike Milligan. 'We're all in this together.'

Not for the first time I shouted out in the kitchen, at the room and at nothing: 'F off!'

4 November

Debbie showed Tomas another of the very early messages. It was, I think, the long communication of 16 February in which Lukas described his visit to Chester and Nantwich. Tomas said it was a fake. He didn't remember writing any of it, though he again said they were his words. We assumed that 2109 may have been trying to 'help' us by adding ideas of their own. We therefore doubted the usefulness of all those messages with modern punctuation. This seemed to tie in with most of the substantial problems of language and detail found in those first few messages and would therefore help explain the sudden decline in errors thereafter; 2109 left his communications largely alone.

The same day, 2109 put in a short message asking if we could get Nick Sowerby-Johnson in front of the screen, saying they could trace him better if he was there. Bullshit!

In my heart I knew that 2109 would not save the situation. I should have taken the machine and gently wrapped it in its box, like venerated remains at a religious ceremony. I should have pushed that box into the cupboard under the stairs and tried to forget it was there. I wish. I dreamt so many things. I dreamt it would all work out. At the same time I avoided the right action, I failed to follow my heart. The machine stayed on duty. Worse, part of me kept believing something would come of it.

When Carl Jung, the psychologist, was asked on television in 1959 if he believed in God, he answered, 'I know. I don't need to believe. I know.'

I watched that programme in about 1970 and was struck immediately by Jung's confidence, his careful choice of words, his honesty. I didn't know how or why he knew but there it was. Tomas Harden I knew. I didn't believe in him I knew him – or something of him, and the fact that I had never seen him did nothing to alter that knowledge. Let's not beat around the bush. In those months the space-time barrier was annulled almost daily in one direction or another. This conclusion, hard upon my knowledge of Tomas, was inescapable, yet the opportunity to test it scientifically dwindled from the end of October until now, in November. Tomas had but a week or so left to him. SPR had gone quiet. They were waiting for me, perhaps. I would not pester them. If scientific proof were produced tomorrow it would no longer be for myself but for the sake of the face I turn to my fellow humans, and this is a kind of vanity.

Autumn weather, and here I was reflecting on the signs of the fall of the sap, the thinning leaves on the sycamore tree outside the window of the school house. Something in me still called for help – to look at Tomas's words, his ideas, his history – and this too was a kind of vanity, but I told myself to keep calm. It had to wait. Tomas would soon be gone from his home. This was my quiet obsession. I wanted information: people, places, gossip and 'goodlie words' ... each and every day.

I pushed the exercise books into the metal locker frames unmarked. How futile this 'schooling' was. I could almost taste the frustration; I could feel the guilt those unmarked books gave me. Would the kids forgive my decline in the manner that the eccentric, the frail and the addled are forgiven? Did they say, these children, these students: 'He's off his head.

Have you heard that a ghost writes to him! (Even Mr Trinder believes it.) He writes back on a computer!'

The books stayed unmarked. I was tired of this pressure to conform and please. One day I would please myself first.

But if the books remained untouched our lives continued to fray. Deb wanted to go away to Oxford to see Robin, take a few pictures and so forth, to get some time to think, to be away from the cottage. She knew that it would probably inhibit communications but she'd keep it to two days or less. There was nothing she really had to go for, except for the going.

Before dogs go to sleep they turn round as though flattening a patch of grass. It is an echo of their origins as wolves or wild dogs. Alone in my house I rearranged some of my possessions and petted them, walked around, tried to feel as though I was in charge and really 'at home'. I bathed and then relaxed before the fire with some wine; the kind of thing many people can do almost any day but for me it was like the taste of everyday life of which a prisoner up for parole dreams of. There was no message, no computer screen, nor any reason to do anything but drift, listen to some old records and repair senses which had been nearly burnt out. I drank as necessary.

'An hour of real pleasure is worth a lifetime of indifference.' An old teacher once told me that when he tried to rationalize the deplorable state of his marriage. I did not agree, but only twenty-four hours after my night of pleasure, indifference and awkwardness were stalking around.

I met Debbie at the station. She was unhappy with her trip. The film in the camera had been used on nothing much, Robin couldn't be found and she was exhausted from having to stand up on the train all the way back from Birmingham New Street. I wired up the computer, it was like putting on chains. It was duty at one and the same time; my weakness and my obsession, and my love.

But my love was for Tomas, not 2109 or 'one', or poltergeists, yet to remind me of the grind, of the incubus upon my back there was soon a new message, unheralded, unbidden.

YOUR REASON IS NOT A GOOD ONE BUT NEVER MIND IF IT WAS A HOAX THEN WOULD I SPEAK WITH YOU NOW? RECOGNISE THAT I EXIST WITHOUT NUMBERS, COLOUR OR SOUND (THEREFORE) ANY QUESTIONS RELATIVE TO THESE ARE NO USE TO YOU, ONE IS A GREAT POWER THAT MUST BE OBEYED AND ANSWERED IF HE SHOULD CALL. I WILL GIVE NO INSTRUCTIONS AS YOU ARE OF NO MATTER WHAT YOU SAY, I MAY OBSTRUCT IF THIS IS MY DESIRE.

THINK: IS YOUR LIFE REALLY LIVED WHEN YOU ARE AWAKE OR ASLEEP. YOU ONLY KNOW WHAT IS TRUE WHEN YOU CAN CONSCIOUSLY BE IN BOTH ALL YOU BELIEVE IS YOUR REALITY ALONE!

'That's not much use,' said John Bucknall after I had dictated it to him down the telephone. For all I said that I didn't care I was feeling really stupid and small.

'That's not much use,' the telephone voice rattled around my lifeless brain. We made some vague arrangement to call each other, the details of which I didn't remember too well. The impression I got was that he'd call us. I wasn't going to call him. I'd had quite enough. Maybe he felt the same

The weather was turning cold. It was nearly a year since the phenomenon had begun and we were little further on in one sense but in others very richly endowed. Only our weariness and the drawing in of the year darkened our sight of these things.

10 November

The 'cart tygre' swung across the road to Meadow Cottage and tucked in behind Frank's small, rusting Toyota. Frank, Debbie, Dave Lovell and Emrys, an old school friend, were there. I hadn't been expecting anyone but Frank. There was a good fire in the grate and good conversation amid the usual disorganization and chaos. Frank, Debbie and I decided to take a walk to talk over the latest events.

After an hour we rested a little on Windmill Hill and looked towards the village. I could see the church spire and the pine trees on the motte. It looked a friendly, sheltered place. I felt closer to Tomas here than at the cottage somehow. It was a safe distance, close enough to know you belong but far enough to allow for reflection.

The coldness of the wind was deflected by my GPO greatcoat and I wanted to stay and watch over the Meadows and see the thick, grey clouds build up over the Welsh hills. Conversation moved on to 2109. Frank had a copy of their latest. 2109 had said we 'all needed a break' and I agreed, but how? They said they would hold Tomas's time almost still relative to ours. An impossible idea. Yet they had successfully interfered with his communications before, and in late August and early September had for a few days cut him out altogether. If 2109 could provide a respite it would be gratefully accepted. They said that two months could be given to us 'to do what we wanted'. Nothing was too crazy anymore.

There was a pause in the conversation then Frank leant closer to me and wondered aloud whether the fact that 2109 were able to do this might suggest that they were inventing the whole business. It was an old argument and he didn't expect an answer, he knew what I felt about Tomas. Talk subsided for a few seconds.

2109 were also asking us to let a little of the story into the local papers. They said it was to get the right sort of help. If I did decide on this course of action I hoped that we would get some other researchers interested. Frank and Debbie voiced misgivings. Meanwhile the shadows were lengthening and the sky turning mottled pearl and slate grey.

T can imagine that this mound was once an outpost for the village motte, I can almost see the Welsh gathering across the marsh, preparing to raid cattle,' I said.

I think that little mound, its position and its two sentinel elms evoked the past for all of us. The feeling grew steadily that we were at the end of something that weekend, a part of our lives was behind us that had been so intense that we had to allow it room to settle more easily in our minds, to become more properly part of us.

Debbie was worried about Tomas. If he continued to write then shouldn't we keep up with him? 'Of course,' I said, but I hoped that he would stop. A rain shower squalled across the big field and we moved off. It was time for tea; a rainy English Sunday at four in the afternoon.

About 9.30 P.M. Deb found a scrap of paper I had left on the work top. It bore Tomas's writing. He had not stopped yet. His interest in cars was being developed and I had got as far as describing the fire in the engine.

felawe ken

preye telle wy cartygre dost na growith to hot wyth thy grete fyr for certs yow pepel wal be brent by thy unavoidaunt hete o thy forneys

Fellow Ken

Please tell me why the 'cartygre' does not get too hot with the enormous fire, for it is sure your people will be burnt by the unavoidable heat of the furnace.

I tried my best to explain that the engine is encased in a metal jacket filled with water and the water is pushed round by a pump. I didn't try to explain the pump. Where do you stop?

He continued about an hour later, on the same piece of scrap paper:

yow art amoost wyse wyght brothyr ken for yow maketh alle sympal for myn rekonyng o thise engenes as yow calle theym bot me wylt nat telle anodyr o thyse thyngs yow speke or theym wyll han me for jakke gaumercie me aske namo o thise gagdyts me thynks/ wot han yow o me preye

Tomas

You are a most wise man, brother Ken, for you make all things simple so I can understand these engines as you call them, but I will not speak of these things to any other person or they will have me for a lunatic. I ask no more about these gadgets. What do you want to know of me?

Tomas

I did not ask him anything nor did I tell him that 2109 were planning to 'hold' his time.

Later that evening as Deb sank quietly beneath the bedcovers she turned to me and said, 'I saw Tomas again. He was asleep in a chair. I kissed his forehead. He stirred a little and spoke in his sleep. "Katherine?" I felt so sad. He's still missing her.'

I felt Deb's sadness for perhaps a second but I smoothed the pillow for her and directed my thoughts towards sleep. I mumbled, 'You only dreamt it anyway, Deb. People dream all sorts of stuff.'

Were we to believe that as measured in our time, at or near midnight 10 November 1985, Tomas would fall asleep before his fire only to awake, stir the embers and it would for us be a new day sometime in January 1986?

I printed the 2109 message of 10 November out on Monday break time, but I was impatient, grumbly, ill and now, with the bell rattling in the corridor, short of time. I showed Peter the message. He was puzzled but pleased and swooped upon the first point, about press coverage: 'How about Neil Bartlem? Yes? He's a good man. I shall ring him.'

In a moment the decision was taken: the Tomas story would go into the local press.

Between July and November Tomas had managed to sketch parts of his village. It was something I was keen to see done as it gave a great deal of historical detail which could be looked into at a later date. The main details were culled between 10–31 October but it was 13 July when we first received something relating to his village. It was an outline of his house. This quiet period in mid-November allowed us time to sort through the material concerned with his village and its inhabitants. As we got a better feel for what Tomas's life was like I felt like a glider pilot beginning to circle upwards. I was conscious of my field of vision expanding, thanks to the information that Tomas gave us. There are many dozens of points of interest but the only conclusion I draw is that it is not the village I recognize, the village I walk from end to end and through and through.

Debbie, in one of her 'dreams', saw something of the village and she wrote about it. I think it is a good starting point: this is why. After I had struggled with the maps of the village Tomas had left me and failed to match them up to the present a good friend said, 'Use your imagination, recreate his world view! What were maps there to show? Was it the linear relationships between places? Do you expect scale like an Ordnance Survey map? Or do you expect he will draw what is important to him? Would the lie of the land be changed, or do you think he would draw important places larger than others? In short, look through his eyes!'

Debbie's account (below), whether symbolic or real, gave me confidence to 'look through his eyes':

'... As Tomas's departure drew closer so did our friendship; the stubborn chauvinist I had first met, his tasteless humour and criticism of my ill manner, had long gone, leaving a very open and real relationship. Although one would say it was special because of the circumstances of our relationship, I think that it was also special because it was almost as if we were the only two people in existence at times. It is perhaps hard to explain why but because of this it was a very personal relationship.

'Tomas was leaning back in his chair with his feet resting on the kitchen table, busy carving away at something small in his hand. As soon as he heard me behind him he jumped up and greeted me in the usual way, always with an enthusiastic hug. It amused me that we would always greet each other with the same lines. It became a comforting ritual.

"Pray, maid, how fare yow this day?"

"Me fares fine."

'He always laughed at my reply. It must have meant something to him other than I intended. Perhaps it was the way I said it.

'Still clutching tightly in his hand whatever he had been carving he motioned for me to sit down. I sat on the low bench which was against the wall to the left of the fireplace and asked him what he had been carving. He frowned and said, "'Tis namatir." Slightly hurt and made curious by such a negative response, I pushed for an answer. "Show me, pray, or I shall sorrow and think I have offended dear Tomas."

'Tomas, still frowning, moved slowly across the room and sat next to me. At one time his closeness had bothered me but not now. With his head lower than was natural he looked intensely at his clenched hand, seeming to will its opening, then reluctantly his grasp released and slowly and solemnly he spoke. "Twell n'worke."

'In his hand was a carefully carved replica of the Fountain Pentel which we had often left for his use when he wrote. I replied, witholding a smile, "I do not suppose it will!"

'Thomas's face showed great disappointment and some embarrassment – he seemed sensitive enough to pick up that I was witholding a laugh. Quickly I added the comment that he had done well to make such a replica from memory. He wanted to know how it made the ink and I had to put him right by telling him that the ink was made elsewhere and only a limited amount was stored in the pen itself. He was surprised at this, since he had believed it would magically last forever – I am not sure why, perhaps I had not made its mechanics too clear when talking about it with him in the past.

'Tomas stood up suddenly, placing the carving on his wooden shelves with some sort of impatience. He did not want to dwell on the subject. "A man is to come for my fowl, pray help me to box the wretched beasts."

'He left me no time to answer. I followed him through the barrels room and out into the yard. This was the third occasion that I had strayed beyond his kitchen and the second time I had ever been outside. On the previous occasion I had annoyed him by asking why his garden was so disorganized, since I would have thought that this would have made access to the plants and herbs awkward. He had been very defensive, if not rather sharp, in his reply. Every thing was carefully placed, he said. He then started to lecture me rather rudely saying that this herb was placed there because that plant next to it repels the mites that are harmless to the herbs but that feed on the mites that are not harmless. In some cases it was simply that "this herb does n'favour the company of that herb", and so forth.

'Obviously farming was more complicated and far more specialized than I gave credit for. Why have we changed? It seemed to work well enough for him.

'To Tomas's annoyance and to my great entertainment we found that the hens disliked my presence immensely. This naturally made hen-catching difficult for Tomas so he indicated that I should take a walk around the outside of the house. Interestingly enough, Tomas's new cook had no sense at all of my presence, just as Katherine had not.

'Whilst Tomas continued to struggle with the hens I took the opportunity to try and locate myself relative to the cottage in 1985. It was impossible. There were no real landmarks, at least none that I recognized! This was not the Dodleston I knew but very beautiful all the same. I took in the whole landscape through every sense. Thousands of little flowers scattered the land with colours ranging from mauves to yellows. Hedges and small woods seemed randomly placed in clumps and straggles. Even the houses seemed to follow a similar randomness as if they too had grown organically out of the land. The air was sweet and its lightness filled my head. It was so overpowering that I felt myself moved almost to cry, and more so when I thought that I was really in another world. I thought about the vivid, uniform, unnatural green of the fields now. Look what they have done to the land! How could all this be so changed?

'I saw a horse and cart winding its way up to the path and with some panic I called to Tomas, "Tomas, you have a visitor!"

'Tomas came up to me carrying several small, round baskets. He had squeezed the poor hens into these, they were packed tightly and this really annoyed me but Tomas made a leap ahead of my words and said that I shouldn't go but stay and see what happened. Another of Tomas's experiments, huh? I said nothing but stood behind him and waited. As the stranger approached, his horse stiffened and then reared slightly. The man stared straight through me; he could not see me, but he looked around slightly, puzzled by his horse's reaction. It knew I was there.

'Tomas grasped the horse by its bit and spoke some soft words which seemed to calm the animal down. Then he spoke to the stranger but not in a way I could understand. He seemed to be criticizing the man's horsemanship. This made me giggle. Tomas turned round fleetingly and gave a knowing grin ...'

Although the cottage was fairly quiet throughout that November, with the computer packed away in its box in a corner, poltergeist activity would still occasionally occur — a simple stacking usually, or objects relocated a few inches, sometimes more. The only event of significance I record here is the chalking on the pillar in the kitchen on Thursday 14 November. It occurred sometime during the night and was gone without trace on 15 November. I reproduce it as received. Although it only existed briefly we were quite geared up by now to making a note of things as soon as they were seen.

The month passed quickly. I sold the Jaguar to a Chinese doctor and bought an old diesel Opel estate car. Money was still tight. Debbie's kind 'Aunty M' helped us out by letting us have a large oak tree from her garden for firewood. Peter continued with his research into Tomas's language and contacted the local press.

One tea-time, a Wednesday in early December, I sat across from Neil Bartlem, a young, unshaven reporter from the Chester Observer. Beneath two-volumes-and-free-magnifying glass of the Oxford English Dictionary at the other end of the room sat Peter. As we three talked or rather, as Peter led the way with his enthusiasm, it became clear that Neil wasn't laughing at us or looking furtively at his watch out of embarrassment. We both knew Neil, he was a former pupil. I knew he could be polite and apply a middle-class gloss despite his generally radical outlook. Intuitively, I knew something had struck him as worthy of interest. To me, irrationally insecure, a little wary, this interest was a measure of success. I didn't like letting the story into the local paper, its first exposure to people who neither knew us nor cared. I dreaded having it fall foul of the usual half-witted hack, to whom it would be a diversion and a few laughs between the WI reports and the obituaries. It was an awful step, this thought was on a tape loop inside my head.

It was not even the whole story. At my insistence 2109 were excluded. Peter disagreed with this but since it touched me so closely the final decision had to be mine. Peter assumed that if we were being straightforward nothing untoward could be said about us that mattered. I did not possess rhino hide for skin even if Peter thought he did. I scented blood! I saw us reduced to a laughing stock in moments at the slightest ill-judged word. Peter could be so naïve.

I was daydreaming. The conversation in the room became obscured. I was thinking all the time of the possible outcome rather than the business at hand.

About half an hour later Neil put his notebook away and was gone. Despite the fact that we knew Neil, he could still write us up as backwater eccentrics, stewed too long in a pettyfogging institution, or as a fine pair of dupes. Another daydream: imagine being back at Hawarden High School after Christmas, the sniggers and questions in and around the classroom, the odd looks. It made me shudder to think of it. Peter would have no escape. I was, in a funny way, sorry to have brought him these problems.

A week or more passed, and there was nothing from Neil. Perhaps he'd found Bucknall and, having spoken to him, had reconsidered his decision to submit a piece. Worse! The editor had thrown it out as rubbish.

Finally Neil rang on 21 December. The paper had 'gone to bed', he said, being deliberately journalistic. He outlined the problem with the article; he'd been having trouble keeping it off the front page! I gave a silent prayer of thanks that he had succeeded.

'When is it out?' I asked, not realizing the relevance of the term 'gone to bed'.

'It's on the streets tomorrow,' he chuckled.

We obtained an early edition by taking the car to the newsagent's in Bridge Street. Next day we knew the village would be full of it. I presumed that, in the British tradition, they wouldn't have the bad taste to approach us directly about it. It was because of this that we didn't prepare for any reaction, but there were signs that they knew all right. Frank Cummins, called into Mr Hughes's shop for a paper that first morning and someone chipped in, 'It's on page seven. We're all reading it!'

The article covered most of a full page, which was quite something considering that the paper was not a tabloid at that time. The piece itself was not unkind.

Neil had been able to contact John Bucknall and it is the sections concerning him that are reproduced below. They're rather special as they form the last commentary on the subject that we ever received from John.

The case has been investigated by the respected academic body, The Society for Psychical Research, who are satisfied that 'human agencies' are responsible ...

On the ten-question test:

'We did not get a specific answer,' said Mr Bucknall. 'We got instead generalized commentary accusing us of not believing in what was going on. We got waffle ...'

On the culprit:

... having established to its satisfaction that human agencies were responsible it was not the job of the Society to point the finger. Mr Bucknall was convinced that nothing paranormal is occurring, 'something or somebody is doing it,' he said.

On the content of the messages:

The society has not analysed the computer print-outs for linguistic or historical accuracy. Mr Bucknall points out they could establish nothing which could not be shown to be within the realm of available scholarship and therefore would prove nothing.

'Oh, John,' I spoke in a whisper. 'Stop playing games ... all this bland nonsense.' I put the paper aside and spoke up. 'Well, Debs me ol' girl? What say you? Is he being honest?'

'You know what I believe. He said he always solved his cases and filed a report. We will wait for that.'

'But he always, he said, told the people involved the truth as he saw it. He's not been near us for six weeks.'

'We'll wait for his report before we tackle him.'

John Bucknall never filed a report on the case and left the Society in 1986. He has been impossible to contact since.

15 January 1986

The time was near to begin again, and Debbie unpacked the computer like a flower-seller setting up the stall she had known and worked from for twenty years. A warm familiarity prevailed. When the system was up and running she typed in a short greeting in a manner reminiscent of that first contact. How readily these little rituals became established. We kept it semi-serious.

COME IN 2109 DEB

For two whole days the message stayed there, the cursor flashing continually in readiness hour after hour after hour. Still nothing. Then very late on 17 January:

KEN DEB PETER
HELLO
DO YOU FEEL THAT YOU ARE READY TO CONTINUE COMMUNICATIONS?
HEARD ANYTHING FROM THE MEDIA?
[not signed]

The miserable Opel was giving problems which, together with starting the new job, meant that I for one was not ready. Deb agreed, and suggested to 2109 that a fortnight's delay would be appropriate. We also put in a bid for a little guidance on the choice of a new researcher, or more particularly who to avoid. The very nature of the experience was bound to attract every wayward dabbler it touched. It had already reached the ears of one very dodgy-sounding 'researcher' who specialized in recycling other people's stories for profit.

There was a reply next day at 7.00 P.M. As expected it was heavily seasoned with obscure references and/or bullshit, depending on your attitude at the time.

YES, WE CAN DELAY TH FURTHER, SAY ANOTHER MONTH IF YOU LIKE, AS YOU WILL HAVE VERY LITTLE TIME WITH HIM WHEN HE DOES RETURN. IT IS IMPORTANT TO POINT OUT THAT IF YOU INVITE ANYONE TO RESEARCH THE COMMUNICATIONS THEN ONCE THEY HAVE STARTED YOU CAN NOT DECIDE THEY ARE OF NO IMPORTANCE, AND, ALSO, YOU MUST REALIZE THAT THEY HAVE ONLY ONE OF TWO CONCLUSIONS THEY CAN REACH!!. OUR OWN COMMUNICATION WITH YOU HAS LITTLE IMPORTANCE THEREFOR WE SHALL BE AROUND FOR THE NEXT TWO DAYES ONLY TO ANSEWER ANY MORE OF YOUR QUESTIONS THEN SHALL AWAIT THS RETURN.

YOU NEED EVERYONE AND NO ONE, THAT IS TO SAY THAT PEOPLE WILL COME AND PEOPLE WILL STAY AWAY FOR THE BENEFIT IS TO BEGANED BY ALL WHOM YOU MEET AND ALL WHOM YOU DISAPOINT!! 2109

A day or two later Peter, rather surprisingly, had suggested over coffee at The Dingle that I might be telepathically creating the messages on the screen. He'd read that some people have been recorded as affecting computer equipment.

'Affecting is a long way from generating whole pages of script,' I said, but I was taken aback by this suggestion. Still puzzled, I put it to 2109.

I HOPE YOU CAN FINISH THE COMM ABOVE ... TO THIS DAY I CAN'T SEE WHY SPR WERE INVOLVE ... PETER CONSIDERS THAT I TELEPATHICALLY CREATE THESE WORDS KEN

They replied:

THEN ASK PETER WHY EVERYTHING WHICH APPEARS ON THE SCREEN DOES NOT PLEASE KEN

2109 gave the impression these days of being a helpful, counselling agency ... a bit like a telephone agony aunt. I suspected that they were manoeuvring once more.

They then returned to our problems over research and verification, and assured me that:

YOU ARE NOT LIKELY TO MAKE TOO MANY SERIOUS MISTAKES WITHOUT OUR INTERVENTION WE CAN NOT ASSURE YOU THAT THIS IS ALL GOING TO BE ONE GREAT 'THE DANSANT' WITH CRUMPETS THROWN IN. SO IN ORDER THAT YOU MAY PAY A LITTLE MORE ATTENTION TO OUR NEEDS WE ASK YOU TO DO THE FOLLOWING: THERE IS A BRILLIANT RESEARCHER (UFOLOGIST ... WE KNOW YOU DONT LIKE THE WORD!) HIS NAME IS GARY M ROWE, HIS IDEAS DIFFER SOMEWHAT TO YOURS BUT NEVERTHELESS HE CAN HELP YOU WITH A COUPLE OF YOUR PROBLEMS.

Luckily I was well aware of 2109's tendency to sound like a cheap seaside comic and instead of complaining I latched on to the hard information which followed:

YOU MAY PHONE HIM AT THE NO BELOW AND INVITE HIM TO TALK WITH YOU, WHEN HE COMES SHOW HIM THIS AND ASK HIM WHAT HE MAKES OF IT ... PETER MUST DO THE TELEPHONING RHYL  TELL HIM THAT YOU GOT THE TELEPHONE NO FROM A UFO ENTHUSIAST. 2109.

OK. So we had to ring someone we didn't know, who had researched into UFOs (which we are not very interested in) and who had to be told some corny message from nowhere. This was ridiculous. I was glad that Peter was given the job. I'd rather try and sell double glazing any day.

Settled into one of Peter's leather armchairs was Gary M. Rowe, styled from the 1950s. He was about five feet eight inches tall, hair Brylcreemed back, well-dressed, shiny shoes, restless, intense yet extremely polite.

The story of events since December 1984 unfolded. He listened intently, interposing with care several very direct questions. He did not seem put out or embarrassed. From Peter he received a bundle of print-outs, notes and analysis concerned primarily with Tomas. It was all something of a jumble because there was so much of it. We'd take him on trust as requested. He promised two things. Firstly, that he'd come and monitor the cottage kitchen with a spectum of equipment — video, audio, computer-linked sensors, and he'd write a report to go with it. Secondly he'd use 'other means' of probing for the truth.

'Meaning whether it is a hoax or not, I presume,' said Peter. 'I feel SPR have counted us out already. They have said as much.'

I looked at Peter in puzzlement but let it go. Gary M. Rowe said it would be improper to detail the nature of his investigation but that it would certainly get to the answer – at least to his own satisfaction. Peter was pleased, so long as Gary would reveal his method and conclusions to us eventually. This Gary agreed to do.

In Gary Rowe I saw a sharp, intelligent man obsessed with his ideas, and these ideas – as he started to talk about his interest in UFOs – were hardly ones I could share. 2109 had warned of this, I reasoned. But a vaguely ill-at-ease-feeling remained throughout the evening. I told myself to be fair to him.

2109 had cleared off, as they said they would, on 20 January, before the meeting with Gary Rowe. They were due back in about a month, which I interpreted loosely. We'd have the computer in the house in readiness.

They had been wrong about Tomas being 'held' or prevented from coming through. True there was nothing for the remainder of 1985 but on 23 January 1986 he wrote on a piece of paper in the kitchen quite unexpectedly, at about 7.30 P.M. From the start it was clear he was unaware of any delay or interruption, for he continued where he had left off with an example of his everyday handwriting, which Debbie had requested in early November. (We had been made aware that Tomas was writing carefully for us. Deb wanted to see something of the more natural style.)

This was the beginning-of-the-end sequence, the last week or so of Tomas's communication. We restarted our routine, bought paper and laid it out, found 'his' Fountain Pentel* and so on. It all jostled once more with the chaos of a busy kitchen. At least now, mentally, we felt a little more able to cope and we were a touch more organized. But only just. This piece came in reply to questions about Bristol and Lukas Wainman, Tomas's teacher. It filled two pieces of paper and was the longest piece he had written so far.

If it pleases you good brother,

Don't ask me to write in my badly presented script in case we waste time ... you ask about my teacher Lukas and Bristol. There is many a story to tell of this man ... so tell I shall of good Tomas and Lukas. When I was very young, a bairn as good Lukas would say, I lived with my father and brother and sat watching them work on the great King's ships. Often I would see a man of great learning pass by with his books and one day he left a book behind him after he had been reading by the river, so I hurried to return it to him. He thanked me and asked what favour he could grant me. But I said, 'Favour me not for I turned the pages of this book and felt the desire to read the words although they didn't mean anything to me. Please forgive me, I did not mean to take liberties with your property.'

He laughed at my affectations and said all books belong to the sum of knowledge and those who have the understanding for these books of wisdom, for to read the book doesn't spoil it but makes more men of learning that write more books. He talked about books and what they teach for many hours and also about his life, and knowing of my desire to hear of his science offered to take on the cost of food and lodgings for me if I would honour him in my studies, as I helped little with the ships. And so my love for Lukas and his books grew. He had many books of his own but when I had read all of them he took books from the King's court. Before he went to the dungeon he sold his precious books so that I might go to Oxford and remember his love for good men and truth. I think he would love you also for you too speak of truth and wisdom. If a man can speak the truth he is free but men who live in fear of their own thoughts are slaves to their intentions, don't you think?

Tomas

These sustained pieces of prose offered direct access to the soul of Tomas Harden, but we had to press on so I piled on the questions. Where was Lukas from? What was his occupation? Peter had suspected from some of the words Tomas used that he had a northern or Borders influence in him. Tomas's use of the word 'bairn' only fuelled this suspicion. What was your father's first name? Why did he go to Taunton? Are any of your family still living near Chester? When did you leave for Oxford? How did it feel when you first saw Oxford? How old were you then? I told him that news of his communication was spreading across the country. Something of an exaggeration but I wanted him to feel that we were giving as well as taking.

Eyeing the paper and pens and then the sticky spoons and knives around them Deb and I wondered if Tomas would like to use the 'leems'/computer link. Domestic convenience was only a part of the reason. It was important that we had as many of his words as possible in the short time remaining to us. The computer messages were on average longer. We were also aware that the chances of misunderstanding were greater with the script. Pressure of time was still there. My new job, although like a gale of fresh air compared to teaching, was demanding. We needed to know what we were asking, and why, when and how to tackle his replies.

Sweet maid

I do not want to write on the 'leems' for I am convinced that my words will be distorted and not represent my sentiment. Lukas was from Scotland, from a place called Aberdeen. He came to Bristol because of the plague.

Love Tomas

27 January

Problems for Tomas. He spoke of meeting a clergyman, a close friend, who advised him that he must abandon this communication and hold fast to his faith. The cleric said he could not keep both. Tomas was confused and worried, as well he might be. Late that evening I put down just a few thoughts which I hoped would help him. I include them here if only to show how we tried to imitate the style of the language and how far our efforts had taken us over the last year – and how far we were from being good mimics.

Myne brothyr Tomas.

Goode Tomas here be myne thinkyngs. Yt does bring sorrow to myne heart to heer o yowr confusiouns but though me hath not a parfit answer this beeth o merit I doe hope.

Nat anyman can know wot beeth the trewth o all mattirs for sych a man would plas himself wyth gode for gode knoweth all. That man ys nat parfit ys his condition an soe nat even a goodlie man o thy chyrche can judge wot be part o gode's wyll or wot wonders he doth dispence.

Wolde nat a man o this time say to myneselve: ken tis four hundred yeer since Tomas Harden passed so howe canst thou hath comunioun wyth hym. My answer is to look to theym an saye yea Tomas must be apassed like myne fathirs fathir an all sych mortal flesh but the Tomas who dost wryte is no spirit or daemon, he beeth myne freend. Both o thyngs be trewe yet they doe nat lye well togedir. A wyse man will nat despyre o thys confusioun. He will hold both to be trewe an gyue unto eache wot ys due for tis lik a blind youthe holding a bone yn one hand an a feather yn the othyr an knowyng the trewth of eache but nat the bird from whence yt came. Gode's will be hidden to us. Love both yowr chyrch an yowr brothyrs an fere nat for god beeth above us alle.

Ken

It was about as 'philosophical' as I dared go, and that wasn't very far. But it was as honest as I could make it. Some of it was written in a way I thought Tomas would accept. He displayed all the qualities of a wise, generous and educated man. He was a man of principle and faith, a man open, aware, and some way outside the system. He was for necessary change but against such opportunists as Bishop Mann who so plagued his life.

Tomas took heartily to what I had said.

myne trewe brothir

yowrn wardes be sych that onlie a man of gode can speke thys wey/ yow art a moste wyse man an me dost love yowr wordes me speeke mo amorrow

Tomas

My true brother,

Your words are such that only a man of God could speak this way. You are a most wise man and I love your words. I will write more tomorrow.

Tomas

Naturally I was touched by his words. Debbie thought that 'man of God' was the last thing I could be called. I rang Peter to see if he wanted to add anything to the disarray of papers on the work top.

He came down around tea-time, full of good humour and conversation, and stood in the kitchen for a while, talking about recent events. His message to Lukas contained a biblical quotation from the Acts of the Apostles. It matched the current trend in the communication, away from the everyday towards matters of faith, and Peter could always be relied upon for a quotation. Before he left he reminded us that Gary Rowe would be coming down with his equipment next week. 'What do you think of him?' he asked and laughed, not waiting for a reply. Peter loved these enthusiasts. 'What do you think, eh? Will he be all right?' I replied to the effect that there was not much choice now. He'd have to do.

I wasn't much interested, to be honest. The recent skirmishes with semiliterate 'researchers' had left me with little appetite for UFOs and the 'paranormal'.

There was no reply to Peter's words that day. Deb gave Tomas a nudge.

PREY YOW WRYTE TO PETER GOOD TOMAS'

He wrote within the hour, saying he saw Peter but that because he had a visitor he couldn't reply straight away. He added that Peter's words needed his full attention. When he did write, the next morning, he began in this way.

myne trewe brothir Peter preye tis nat resoune that leve myn feres bot that o myne fey for yf me wert onlie a wyght o reason hain me walna han trewst for myne brothyrs preye/preye tell me goodlie brothyr whome beest st paul ...

My true brother Peter,

Surely it is not reason that leaves me with trepidation but that of my faith for if I was only a man of reason then I would not have any trust for my brothers. Please tell me, good brother, who is Saint Paul ...?

The remainder of the message concerned family matters, and although we were a little puzzled Deb and I thought no more of his question until we were quite sure of the translation.

As we drove along the dark winter lanes we talked of the sadness that was creeping into the communication in advance of his departure for Oxford. It seemed so terrible to part with so much unsaid.

Peter read the first part of the message and stood there in what I took to be a state of disbelief and astonishment. It turned quickly to a kind of anger. 'What does he mean, 'Whome beest St Paul'? It must be a hoax! No one could say such a thing. He's supposed to be a deeply religious man.'

Taken aback by the force of the argument, I was pushed into an unenviable position. A hoax, was it? Then it was Debbie or I, or both of us. I'd hoped all this hoax business had been buried, at least between us. Tomas was real! As real as Peter was! But although I was angry I did not know how to reply. The only excuse I found was the obvious one. 'It is a misunderstanding.' I elaborated quickly that we were communicating via scraps of paper, much of it written hurriedly and so on. I could tell from Peter's face that he just wasn't listening.

Debbie and I felt extremely uncomfortable and we left as soon as decently possible. Peter, our closest ally, our valued sounding board for ideas, had even at this stage never given up the suspicion that all this was possibly a hoax. This upset me. In the car the silence was broken by Debbie as we sped down the dark tunnel formed by trees at the edge of Gladstone Park

'Asking about St Paul like that is pretty daft. Why did he?'

My blood had begun to slow its pace around my body but a new rush of adrenalin gripped my circulation. I was shaking with anger.

'I don't damn well know why he says these things!' I yelled at her.

For the rest of the journey an icy silence prevailed, I was pretty beat up over it. Deb was trying not to cry.

On 30 and 31 January there was nothing new. On the 1 February Tomas called for his pen, as the Biro we had left out was not to his taste. He sounded rather arrogant and aloof. He had written:

prey yow my pen/ then me wryte twey turne [two turns of the hourglass] Tomas

He had put no greeting, no 'my trewe brothyr' or 'goodlie felawe' this time. Perhaps I had been too curt in putting Peter's question about St Paul. But in his reply he was gentle and apologetic for the way in which he expected us to comprehend his meaning directly. As for St Paul, he wrote:

me sayne wot o st paul. Wot a thy worde yow urn for yowrn conseylyng to mynselfe.

I said: what of St Paul? What was it about these words you were using to counsel me?

As I had thought, a kind of misunderstanding. Yet 'whome beest' was what he had written originally. Questioning the identity of St Paul would have made him a heretic – which was an alternative explanation of his curious statement. I could feel that my questioning him on Peter's behalf had made Tomas feel slighted. The exchange was in any event worthless as no clear conclusion could be reached. I certainly wasn't going to pursue it further.

16 February

The machinery, the video, the audio sensors; the little bits of sticky tape, the car full of gadgets. The man himself wired up on enthusiasm and confidence – or just a wired-up personality. He said that if anything – sound, light, electrical energy – fluctuated in that room he'd have a record of it. We were blinded by science. His monitor screen showed 'event registered' every few minutes but he said nothing was happening. 2109 didn't write. This was strange since they had invited him. But they did recognize him, as this exchange the following evening showed clearly.

Hello 2109,

Mr Gary Rowe came yesterday and I think he was disappointed with the results, like us!, where were you, but i'm sure you had your reasons, I don't suppose you might tell us what they are though?!.

Debbie

HELLO,

THERE ARE QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED AND THERE ARE QUESTIONS TO BE ANSEWERD. HIS COMPANY POWERFUL BUT NOT LIMITLESS. WE ARE!.THERE ARE RESONS BEHIND MOTIVE AND MOTIVE IS THEREFORE REASONABLE TO THE MAN AND THE SELF.

THE EXPERIMENT WILL CONTINUE WITHOUT TOMAS FOR THE TIME BEING. WE SHALL WATCH AND REACT ACCORDINGLY IN THE VERTICAL PLANE.

GREETINGS GARY ROWE,

YOUR MOVE, WE ARE HERE ONLY TO AID THE EXPERIMENT, WE MEEN YOUR KIND NO HARM.

Gary wanted to leave a sealed envelope on the computer! I asked 2109 if they needed the contents typing up. Apparently not.

DEBBIE

YOU MAY READ THE FOLLOWING. DO NOT SPEAK ON PHONE.

GARY

THERE IS NO NEED FOR THE ENVELOPE TO BE OPENED, BUT WE WILL NEED TO HAVE A SECOND OPPINION OF THE CONTENTS. AS REQUIRED WE WILL MAKE NO COMMENTS ON THE CONTENTS, IT SEEMS THAT THIS IS SLIGHTLY UNPREDICTED. HOWEVER WE WILL NOT SHOW IT TO ANYONE WHO IS NOT UNOTHERISED, THIS YOU MAY NOT UNDERSTAND!. IT WOULD BE EASIER TO PUT YOUR COMPUTER INTO 'EDWORD/STAR' – WHAT EVER WHEN YOU WRITE TO US, THOUGH GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION IS USUALLY ESSENTIAL.

PLEASE STATE YOUR RESONS FOR THE CONCLUSIONS REACHED. WE SHALL ANSEWER AS REQUIRED AND YOU SHALL HAVE THE ENVELOPE UNTAMPED BUT PLEASE WAIT AS YOUR STATEMENTS REQUIRE AN ANSEWER OF THE SAME. MAY WE REMIND YOU THAT YOU HAVE SEEN SOME OF OUR HANDY WORK – CANADA?!!. 2109

Two suggestions here: that Gary has asked if they could write to him in Rhyl and that he had seen some of their activity. Gary did not comment on this, and it was no good asking him.

The envelope disappeared out of the kitchen during the days that followed. Neat one! I was at least partially impressed. Again, Gary did not comment. Most people would have been getting free drinks on the back of the story of this event alone. It showed how far we'd travelled since December 1984.

The next day, 2109 announced that there was a message for Gary that should be printed without us reading it. I did as they asked and printed it up with my back to the machine: since I was asked.

We had been requested by Gary not to put it in the post and by 2109 not even to read it and certainly not to discuss it over the phone, so all we could do was arrange to meet him in Rhyl that night in a pub near the hospital.

Gary met us outside and handed us a present: a cassette player for our 'new' car. It was only a cheapie he didn't use anymore but it was a kindness. The pub was tacky, empty of people but for a few boozy bar flies. The juke box was churning out metal and Tamla and the whole ambience of Rhyl, that shabby decayed feel, sticky with candy floss and grease burgers. It made me shudder. By now our man was in the corner, his back to the corridor to the toilets. He opened his message. We looked expectantly like children do at Christmas. His restless eyes scanned the page, he twitched slightly. Quickly and with hardly a word he put the message back into the envelope. He said he hadn't time to mess around. He wanted some hard information. He was, he said, making himself vulnerable by writing to them. Why? He wouldn't say.

We just left. Another waste of time for us. After all the events of late October and November with SPR why was I bothering with 2109? It only attracted people who didn't want to say anything about 2109 but who were very interested indeed in the little numbers. The reason was Tomas, of course, he was still out of action. This then was why I bothered with the endless toing and froing, and tolerated the obsessive interest people took in 2109. If Tomas was allowed through I'd do almost anything. I wanted to bid my fellow farewell.

As we left it was clear that Gary was irritated, for all his polish and self-control. He thanked us for coming. I did not mind coming so much as I minded Rhyl for depressing the hell out of me.

GARY IS VERY DISAPPOINTED. HE SAYS THAT YOU HAVE SIX DAYS TO COME UP WITH A DIRECT ANSWER TO THE DIRECT QUESTIONS HE HAS POSED OR ELSE HE WILL GIVE UP.

The only immediate reply was cipher; there was no one in the house at the time.

1 645.439574.57.3744 2109 RTF

5 March

2109 asked me to print up another document for Gary and warned me not to let Peter or Debbie interfere. A curious request. I didn't believe they had ever interfered.

KEN.

THERE IS SOMETHING FOR THE ATTENTION OF GARY ROW ON DOC. "V". IT WILL NEED TO BE UNLOCKED ONLY WHEN IT IS READY TO BE PRINTED, ASK GARY IF HE CAN GET HOLD OF THE MEANS TO PRINT IT UP HIMSELF, IF NOT, THEN YOU MUST REALISE THAT YOU WILL HAVE A GREAT RESPONSABILITY TO PRINT IT UP YOURSELF (IN HERE PLEASE) AS IF YOU ARE TO READ THE CONTENTS THEN YOU MAY LOSE ALL INCLUDING THOMAS, YOU DON'T THINK PETER WOULD LIKE THAT NOW, DO YOU?!!!. WE SHALL KNOW WHETHER YOU HAVE MADE A COPY, IT DOESNT AND IF YOU HAVE DELIBERATELY MATTER WHERE GLANCED AT ITS CONTENTS. THERE IS NO NEED FOR A MONITOR TO BE ATTATCHED NOR DO YOU NEED TO WATCH OVER IT AS IT IS PRINTING AS WE CAN TELL YOU IT WILL JUST ABOUT FIT ON A4 PAPER. WITHOUT HESITATION PLACE IT IN A THICK ENVELOPE, BEST TO FOLD IT FIRST – AVOID MISTAKES!, IF YOU CAN NOT FIND A THICK ENVELOPE RAP IT IN SOME PAPER BEFORE PLACING IT INSIDE. NO ONE, NOT FOR ANY REASON, SHOULD ENTER THE ROOM WHILE IT IS PRINTING – IT'S ALL ON YOU KEN! 2109

Later still they admonished me for asking why it was all so secret.

WE REMIND YOU THAT YOU HAVE BEEN HONOURED WITH THIS COMMUNICATION, WE ARE ALLOWED OWN PERSONAL COMMUNICATION WITH GARY WITHOUT QUESTIONS ASKED

– YOU EXPECT THINGS, WHY SHOULD IT ALL BE FOR YOUR BENEFIT???!!!

It was now 7 March and Gary had cooled somewhat when we next met him with a message. He gave us one in return addressed to 2109, not, as previously, in an envelope but for public consumption. It read oddly.

GREETINGS

I AM INSTRUCTED TO APOLOGISE BUT IN ANY EVENT I WOULD HAVE DONE SO OF MY OWN VOLITION. THERE WILL BE A LETTER HOPEFULLY THIS WEEKEND. I AM ALSO INSTRUCTED TO APOLOGISE TO KEN AND DEBBIE. I MUST TRY AND ANSWER YOUR LAST LETTER. IT WOULD APPEAR THAT YOU ARE MORE IMPORTANT THAN I HAD REALISED IN THE SCHEME OF THINGS.

GARY

This was crazy in two respects. Firstly it reminded us that we were by no means the only ones in touch with 2109, and secondly Mr Rowe was suggesting that they were important but he did not develop the reasons for this. It was no good asking him. Even at a meeting at Peter Trinder's where we questioned him in detail, and again much later at his house in Rhyl, he would only smile and utter sentences of calm obscurity. It was hopeless.

Meanwhile I was manoeuvring for Tomas's release. What madness! Suffice to say that there was to be another envelope and another sly comment about it from me:

I WOULD BE GRATEFUL IF YOU WOULD RELEASE TOMAS IN SEVEN DAYS SO THAT WE MAY CONCLUDE OUR COMMUNICATIONS WITH DIGNITY.
KEN.

KEN

THANK YOU, WE DO NOTICE YOUR HARD WORK!. THOMAS WILL BE BACK AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. OUR CONVERSATIONS WITH GARY WILL NOT BE OF INTEREST TO YOU, WE ARN'T PLOTTING ANYTHING AGAINST YOU

12 March

Debbie agreed to try a small test with the latest envelope. With Val Trinder as witness the door from the kitchen to the lounge was padlocked, and with the door to the bathroom lobby already bolted from the kitchen there was a reasonably secure space. Deb was alone as I was away on business in Hertfordshire. Despite the inconvenience and discomfort of walking right round the house to get to the bathroom Deb stuck it out in good spirit for the allocated twenty-four hours. She had the kettle in the living room and some food.

No one was more surprised than Val Trinder to open up the kitchen and find the envelope gone. This disappearance proved nothing but our impotence. We were reduced to the irrelevant, watching envelopes while Gary and 2109 went to it, and as hostage was the communication with Tomas.

HELLO 2109 ANYTHING FOR GARY OR MYSELF? IS TOMAS ABOUT? KEN

ANOTHER HOUR PLEASE, 2109

Nearly two hours later:

THANK YOU.

MESSAGE FOR GARY ON V. USURAL PROCEDURE PLEASE.
AFTER PRINTING WE SUGGEST YOU LEAVE SOME PAPER OUT!!!.

P.S. AGAIN SEAL IN ENVELOPE WITH "FOR GARYS' EYES ONLY – READ WHEN ALONE" WRITTEN ON THE OUTSIDE.

Deb asked at one stage whether this communication with Gary would help us. It seemed not.

GREETINGS,

2109, WOULD YOU PLEASE TELL ME WHAT PROGRESS YOUR MAKING WITH GARY AS WE DO NOT LIKE BEING LEFT IN THE DARK THIS WAY, DOES THIS HELP US (LIKE YOU SAID IT WOULD) OR DOES IT HELP YOU?. WHY IS IT THAT GARY, WHO, AS FAR AS WE ARE GIVEN TO UNDERSTAND, NEVER SPOKEN WITH YOU BEFORE CAN HAVE INFORMATION THAT WE ARE RESTRICTED TO HAVE?. IS GARYS INVESTIGATION GOING TO PROVE POSITIVE FOR US?. DEBBIE.

GREETINGS

THE COMMUNICATION BETWEEN GARY AND 2109 IS NOT OF INTEREST TO YOU. GARY HAS A BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF US THAN YOU DO, HIS EXPERIENCES ARE MOST DEFINATELY AN ADVANTAGE TO THIS. HIS PHYSICAL TESTS WILL PROOVE NEGATIVE, UNFORTUNATELY YOU PUT FAR TOO MUCH CONCERN IN PROOVING THIS TO THE "WORLD" -YOU KNOW THAT THIS IS A WORTHLESS EFFORT, WHY ASK!. 'PUSHY' WITH GARY, YOU YOU MUST NOT BE UNDERESTIMATE HIS ABILITIES AND THAT INDIRECTLY IS AN INSULT TO US!. IF YOU HAD OPEND YOUR EYES A BIT AND READ THE WIDER COMMUNICATIONS MORE INTENCLEY YOU WOULD HAVE HAD HALF THE ADVANTAGE THAT GARY HAS.

WE MUST MAKE A MOVE THOMAS HAS FOUR DAYS THEN HE WILL LEAVE WE SHALL FOLLOW. GARY ROWE HAS AND WILL SERVE HIS PURPOSE ... 2109

It was all a curious episode overshadowed by Tomas's return and to whom the story now returns.

At a later meeting Gary would only say that if we were 'further along the road', i.e. towards his way of thinking, then he might be able to explain.

He was polite but firm. He could not, I think, hide his disappointment. Something in the exchange must have held a fascination for him yet it was not enough, something went wrong. I can only say that I did as I was requested and not a single message that he left for 2109 nor a single word of any message they left for him on my little computer did I see or interfere with. I am proud of this. Gary alone can tell the story of what went on. For all his perfect manners, his esotericism, I couldn't help feeling sorry for him. He would not agree with me but in a way that does not matter. I am sure we were just looking from very different points of view.

As with SPR no report has ever been submitted to us.

I left a short message to Tomas saying I wished that there was something I could do to keep him there. For a second I succumbed to the desire to try and 'visit' him. Reason asserted itself, if somewhat unsteadily at first. There was no time to play games. Every working day began sooner and ended later and every evening after writing a few hurried words I became an outcast, waiting an hour, half an hour, or whatever, to see his words. I did not ask him much more than a few sentimental items: that he and Debbie should perhaps meet in the great garden of Magdalen College, or by the river; that he tell us about his first days in Oxford, where he stayed, what he did.

His sadness, too, was evident and instead of us pushing ahead, gathering a rich harvest of information and recollection, the communications stumbled, clouded by melancholy.

I provided paper but he did not continue. My questions did. I had prepared another sheet of scraggy, block-lettered words in readiness.

I told Tomas of the first days of the adventure, it seemed so long ago, of Nicola Bagguley, Debbie and myself and the 'comuter'; of how old the computer was (a year or so) what we did and why; and what or who we thought we were talking to. I embroidered a little on this 'me didst thenk yt was a ghoul or devyl'. I asked again about the 'antic' which had first brought sight of the 'leems' in his chimney space. I concluded by saying that not all computers bring messages across time! It felt like a legend I was telling: full of mystery, morality and innocent adventurers. It felt pretty good despite or because of this.

The irritating question of who was parson at the church haunted me. It was trivial in a way but I had read in the parish-produced History of Dodleston that Pennant was rector. Tomas had written some weeks before 2109 'held up' communications that Cowlie was the parson. The awareness of the 'end' forced us to go over old ground to make sure, even though Tomas was adamant about the facts as he knew them. I was even looking at questions which had been long answered, e.g. the 'half-witted antic'. There were hundreds of papers and messages bundled carelessly upstairs, I just forgot ... so many, many hours were lost in the dogged search for the trivial and obscure.

Debbie said we were acting as though we had all year and more to talk to him. I sensed a truth and still felt we were floundering in a fast ebb tide.

I thank you for your words. They have given me base upon which to understand the 'leems'. I will now tell you about what you might call an 'antic'. Kathryn was sleeping in the chimney seat so I went over to pick her up and carry her to her bed when I saw a green light shining from the walls of my chimney and from this light stepped what I thought was the devil himself. I never feared for my soul so much in my life but so afraid was I that I couldn't move away from this strange messenger. He said, 'Fear not, good Tomas, you are starred to be a great man, if you do not have fear but keep your faith strong.' Then after other words which I do confess were not like devil talk he was gone leaving the 'leems' which appeared to be the same as your computer. I immediately woke Kathryn but she didn't see the 'leems' nor hear me speak with the metaphysical person but she said, 'You, silly Tomas, were in your dreams, now don't frighten me with your disturbed thoughts.' So to mope I did for there shone the 'leems' but Kathryn saw it not. I was so worried for my sanity that I spoke the Lord's prayer all night but it would not go but sat with glee unseen by all but myself. Then two days afterwards Kathryn was singing in the chimney by the fire and 'leems' and I saw that her words appeared on it so when Kathryn went walking I tried verses myself and other words and gained knowledge about the 'leems'. Do you want more about the 'leems'?

Tomas

We were suddenly on the right track. More questions. Let's get the parson business out of the way quickly and move on. I tensed. No matter what, even in those last days I was still trying to prove it all, or at least question, analyse, probe, when a year ago I had resolved to let it run on, to put aside analysis until it was all done. It was a mark of my failure. Parsons and rectors ... pah! Ask him something vital or interesting and just for once get the question right. Make it something he will be interested in.

To calm down I took a walk round Chester and ended up on part of the city walls near the racecourse. It was a longish walk, and I stopped every hundred yards and peered out into the distance. I only had two thoughts for my 'brother': one was 'don't go' and the other was 'we all love you'. I was behaving like the hero of a second-rate novel: all moody and terribly serious. This had to stop. I forced my mind to concentrate on the coming days. I determined to ask only that Tomas write more of the 'leems' and let him say what he will. The 'leems': here was the real mystery. It occurred to me that he was asking nothing much of us. Guilt compounded frustration and sadness.

I walked slowly down to the river and leant over the parapet of the old Dee bridge, watching the surge of phosphorescence as the dark waters played across the weir. Here and there a log was jammed against the stonework. I remembered something: 'of that which is to be termed "time" we perceive the stepping stones of today and tomorrow but not the vibrant river that runs between our feet.'

I spoke. 'There you are then,' I said to the river. 'These messages have been a few stepping stones.' I looked across the weir. 'I'm missing an awful lot of river, aren't I?' The river gurgled its agreement beneath the piers. I smiled, then said to the gorged waters, 'You are my river of lost opportunity.' The river was blackness and constancy. Cars nosed around like landbound sharks on the narrow roadway at my back. 'Do you have any questions, river?' I knew the answer: Why are you looking down on me? The best way to understand is to swim along with me. It is effortless. 'I know. I tried that but couldn't let go.' I spoke softly and held my glasses lest they fall in. The river was full of spring rains.

Brother Ken and favourite fellow,

I shall tell you more of the 'leems' as this is your desire. I cannot remember the name of the verse I received but it was a ditty for a young child and it was easy to sing though I can't put it to paper. It was something about the high stars at night. After I was familiar with the 'leems' I asked why it was there and that was when the words I showed you on paper came, I think now they were from 2109. I was so shocked by this that I thought it was communication with the devil by this device. I made a promise not to allow myself to be damned by such madness but it wouldn't go away though no one saw it. After this I was haunted in my sleep by strange dreams and all day devils turned my house upside down, scaring Kathryn so. I went to the 'leems' and asked it why it wanted to bring such fear into my house. Then I think you wrote and all was still.

Yes, Pennant is rector though Cowlie is parson. I don't like either ... I can understand if what you say is true that you also thought I was the devil but now I know my fellows to be good men, you love brother Tomas and we have trust in one another, don't you agree?

Tomas

My ignorance and naïvety. Parsons and rectors are not necessarily the same thing. Peter gave Debbie a last message to write up.

19 March

I was still not prepared for his going. I had not written my last words, and I didn't know when I should have the time or what I should say. Early spring weather, blustery showers, the snowdrops I love so much had come and gone in Broughton churchyard. 'The sap's rising,' my grandmother used to say. 'The sap's rising. Another year safe on its way.'

I came back to a verse written by Philip Larkin, from The North Ship that I had left for Tomas some days before.

This is the first thing
I have understood
Time is the echo of an axe within a wood.

Paradoxically part of me felt that Tomas had already gone. He had become the echo. The burden was now on making something of it as worthy as the man himself, a book to mirror the one he was going to begin at Oxford. It would take more than another crop of snowdrops and another year 'safe on its way' to write such a book. Perhaps these books are an attempt to penetrate the wood; to be aware of more than the echo of the axe.

Debbie wrote her message:

Tomas myne goodlie brother, ... when do yow thynk yow are to go to Oxanford. We will miss yow very much. How will yow go, will it be on horse or shipp prey

... How is your cook? Will she go with yow prey? Doe yow have any animals left. Tell more goodlie Tomas

At about 4.35 P.M. I rang home from work in Manchester. Deb sounded full of a cold and not herself in a way that only people who have lived together for a time understand. Tomas was gone, she seemed to say. I was still in the office world. I joked almost. But she was upset, or at least had been; 2109 had gone as well. Peter's last message to Tomas didn't get through in time. I began to get a little confused and my mind was no longer firmly fixed on deadlines in the office but switched between the idea of Tomas going quickly without warning and my being here in Manchester. I wandered to the computer room and tried to finish a section on the Project Newsletter. I succeeded, but my hand was unsteady. I had to go home. I walked slowly, deliberately, from the office, following our secretaries, Nicky and Agnes, out and into the car park. I exchanged a few words with both of them, then Agnes drove off fiercely in an Alpine. I noticed for some reason that it was Scottish registered.

I soon found myself on Princess Parkway, traffic all around, middle lane, fast lane, the illuminated 40 MPH sign was triggered as I passed, on to the M56, where the sun was stretched between two faint grey bands of cloud. A spring day slipping away. I was driving with tears in my eyes, eighty miles per hour and I could hardly see. I was not really in a hurry but the sun, the beautiful grey of the clouds and the music on the car cassette player compelled me to go on like this. 'We belong together ... we ... be ... long together!' It was Rikki Lee Jones. The first day I took Deb out I played this tape. I couldn't help those few tears. I didn't see anything but the sun, the clouds in a mackerel sky, the white lines under the wheels. I didn't know why I was so helpless.

Maybe just not having to think of how to say farewell, just being at the end of something. This emotion was recognition of that. But maybe we did belong together, Tomas and I, his 'sweet mayde', Deb, and Peter too, and parting really did hurt. I did not understand my feelings. I drove on and on into the lengthening shadows. Lorries, cars, cassette, tears, driving. The journey absorbed every moment of the last fifteen months and it felt endless.

My true fellows and sweet maid,

Grosvenor has said that Tomas must go. I know it is for the best because the people of Dodleston are very wary of me; Grosvenor says they will burn my old farm down and that except for him all the village despises me – at least that is his view. It is good to know that all will change and there are true men to follow like Ken and Peter; though 400 years is a long time and there is much to happen to mankind. It is sad that men must learn righteousness from their ugly ways believing that they have to look for truth in ruthlessness and never follow a path that is for truth. I pray for my fellows at night that they are never imprisoned because of their love for their brother Tomas. Are we not true men? I say, 'Woe to all you men who are not true for you are marked by God, He will not have your company but you will walk with the beasts of Tartuss [Hell] for evermore – yes you that have no worth in this life.' I know that I mustn't sorrow for I cannot put these feelings to paper, but you must know that I weep and am emotional, I find it hard to write. Perhaps you will come to Oxford now I think there is no danger for me there, for I hear the King is very sick and all is quiet in the Church. I shall go by boat from Chester to Bristol, there I will buy a horse for mine will not go on a boat – it is as scared of water as it is scared of fives [horse sickness]. I also weep for him. I shall try to make my stay at Brasenose though I know I was expelled many years ago. I will write my book about my brothers and maid and of the end of Lukas and the little puppy and of our love for each other.

One day you will all sit down at my table for wine and meat by the river in Oxford where we shall read each other's books and laugh and we shall speak of truth and good men, watching Oxford change together for evermore.

In your time my book is old but I shall not go to my God until it is written then we will all be truly embraced. My love to you all. I shall await you in Oxford.

Postscript

The communications of 21 March 1986 were not quite the end of the affair. Although I left the story of Gary Rowe on 15 March, he had at that time given us a small envelope containing a flattish object with the request that it be left for 2109. In this strange business that request was not in itself unusual but Debbie could not help noticing that there was a figure of an Egyptian deity drawn on the outside of the envelope. She felt that Gary was introducing an 'occult' connotation to the communications. This was ludicrous. We travelled to Rhyl and asked Gary to replace it with a plain envelope. He gave us the package again but it was patently obvious that the original envelope had been placed inside a new one. Since he was determined to be obscure we decided we had had enough of a game in which we were only spectators. Consequently we kept the envelope out of the way. Gary did not offer to explain his small deception nor did we pursue it. The envelope was never opened and it was given away.

2109 had gone and I promised myself that I would never again set up a BBC computer in the house. However, in July 1986 a friend of John Cummins was introduced to us. She expressed an enormous interest in 2109. In the end I gave way, with the expectation that a day or two of blank screens would satisfy her curiosity. To my surprise 'they' did communicate something. A part of it so struck our guest that she fainted as soon as she read it. Worse, she would not explain what there was in the communication that was so shocking. When she recovered she wanted to reply 'to help them' but I said no, I was not about to let it begin again, so the computer was immediately turned off and put in its box. Later Debbie gave it to her mother who has had it ever since.

Yet even at the time of writing (December 1987), over a year after the incident described above, the whole business will not settle.

Ernst Senkowski, a professor of physics in Mainz, contacted me in February 1987 after having seen a small piece on the affair written by Theo Locher in Schweizerischen Bulletin für Parapsychologie (November 1986). He gave me information about a gentleman in the Black Forest called Boden who in 1984 had suffered what might be termed 'paranormal' events, including interference on his computer. The messages he received were sufficient to turn the poor fellow to drink. The death of his friend had been predicted correctly and his own indicated, although the latter date, happily for him, passed without event.

Senkowski also sent me a cutting from Astrology and Psychic News (US). It was a story about thought and its impact on computers, part of which I quote here.

Norman Ling said he received the first message about a year ago ... 'I would enter something into the computer and when I printed it out there would be whole sentences that I had not put in the machine. They were about people I had never heard of ...'

Ling brought some of his computer print-outs to Mrs Standard [a neighbour] and asked her if the messages might have any connection with her psychic work. 'She was very amazed ... it was quite an experience to see words that had only been in her mind now printed in black and white ...'

Interesting as it was to realize that our experience was not entirely without precedent there was still nothing which touched us directly. But this changed in July 1987 when I received through the post a print-out of a message received in Luxembourg. It was marked 2105 and carried my name, if misspelt.

The people who received the message, the Harsch-Fischbachs, were able to contact me through the fact that Senkowski was also mentioned later in the communication and they knew Senkowski through a shared interest in Electronic Voice Phenomena (EVP). This is the term for the recording of voices emanating from specially tuned radios, not thought to be explainable as interference, stray transmissions, etc. Some researchers treat them as voices from the dead but critics refer to the 'mediumship of the tape recorder' and offer other explanations.

Maggie and Jules Harsch-Fischbach spoke to me for the first time when we met on 19 August 1987 in South Wales where they were on holiday. They knew very little of the events at the cottage apart from what was included in the Chester Observer article (24 December 1985), but to my surprise they offered further information relevant to our experience. At least three sections of a recent exchange (15 August) between Jules and Maggie and a contact they call The Technician are worth quoting:

Q: Could we explain the communication between Ken Webster and Tomas Harden as an overlap of time between separate dimensions because Tomas Harden is in the 16th century and Ken Webster is here today?

A: Yes exactly. This is an overlap of time of both dimensions

Q: Could you explain it also as an insight into the Akashic record in which all that has been and all is to come are found?

A: You could call it something like that yes. There should appear in this region other documents from that time to show the people, these unexplained experiences with this 'light box' have happened and what could be seen on the screen.

Q: Will Ken Webster find these documents?

A: Other people will find these documents ...

More questions, more puzzles, but I think it reasonable to say that the chances of my being on the receiving end of a hoax, or more importantly, perpetrating one, receded as the affair assumed international proportions.

Jules and Maggie asked me to set up the computer again and attempt to re-establish contact with 2109. I realized that this was probably the main reason behind their visit to the UK. I explained the situation and declined, but I offered to help the Harsch-Fischbachs with information and commentary on what they received either through EVP or on computer as long as it did not refer to me. I suppose I felt flattered that an attempt had been made to reach me through another country but it did not shake my resolve. To their slight disappointment I also said that I did not think 2105/9 were the important part of what had happened in Dodleston.

We sought John Bucknall's report of the investigation at the cottage from the SPR office in April 1986. We received a reply from John Stiles (Liaison Officer) to the effect that John Bucknall had left the Society and despite numerous efforts could not be contacted at all. We asked if either Dave Welch or Nick Sowerby-Johnson had filed reports. To our surprise we were told that neither of 'these gentlemen' was known to SPR. SPR were quite apologetic at being unable to help. I took this to be the end of SPR interest, but I have since obtained solid evidence, again through Professor Senkowski, that they have been trying very hard (as late as November 1987) to investigate the case without approaching me. I suppose it is because they are somewhat embarrassed by John Bucknall's conduct.

We have looked into the question of computer bugging and our enquiries have revealed that a BBC B without modem is impossible to bug in the manner suggested by John Bucknall. The 'hidden EPROM' notion, a mainstay of John's rebuff to the results of the ten-question test, was also invalid.

Given that one explanation of what happened at the cottage is that of 'time slip', how was it possible? These questions have been asked many times. Couldn't it all have been your unconscious? I have no means of 'proving' anything in regard to these experiences. I don't think I have any need to because what I have put in this book is a record of events, a source book, even if only a summary, for others, yet it would be naïve and indeed wrong to suggest that I have not sought to answer the knotty questions surrounding these events. e.g. If it was my unconscious (or Debbie's), where is the source for this rare dialect? How is the computer affected? But what follows is only a starting point for discussion and it should be treated as such.

In some notes I made in January 1986 and shared as always with Debbie and Peter Trinder I suggested vaguely that there was a quality about the place that allowed transfer between times to sensitive persons. Not physically of course, but perhaps something of or through their aspects of consciousness. Debbie and Tomas were two such sensitives. Peter and I were not.

This 'quality' must be present in both times that are conjoined in this way if some transfer is to take place. It was present in 1985–6 and in 1546. That is why we didn't encounter, say, a 17th-century figure. So the people and the place could matter immensely.

It is for me a time-related phenomenon, not something supernatural or spiritual. The notion of 'seeing' the future (since Tomas was looking into and was often in his future) might suggest an explanation for some categories of odd sightings occurring today, e.g. UFOs, as they might be just snatches of our future.*

In the same way, sightings of the Yeti, 'Surrey Panthers' and so on could be explained as glimpses of the past. The commonality is that they are merely little time slips, generated by a mixture of aspects of consciousness and 'special places'.

If this is so such sightings would be restored to the natural world, as natural as snowdrops and spring showers. There might be a revolution, centred around changing or recognizing different concepts of, and processes within, time.

I put these speculative ideas to a number of friends and out of amused curiosity to 2109. They replied on 18 January 1986:

TIME, UFOs AND MOST OTHER TYPES OF THE PARANORMAL ARE IN SOME WAY ALL CONNECTED:-

IN CERTAIN GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATIONS THERE IS WHAT WE CALL AREAS OF CONVEXUAL MAGNATISM. THESE CAN BE EXPLAIND BY THE MAGNETIC LINES THAT RUN AROUND THE EARTH. IMAGINE, IF YOU WILL, CIRCLES RUNNING

AROUND THE EARTH CLOCKWISE (THESE ARE POSITIVE LINES OF MANETIC FORSE – P.L.M.F.) AND ALSO CIRCLES RUNNING ANTICLOCKWISE AROUND THE EARTH (NEGATIVE ""– N.L.M.F!) WHEN TWO OPPERSITE RUNNING LINES ARE

CROSSED (USUALLY A PERMINANT CROSSING RATHER THAN RANDOM) THE LIGHT/TIME CONTINUEM IS VASTLY DISTORTED SO MUCH SO THAT A 'SENSITIVE' INDAVIDUAL MAY WITNESS WHAT YOU, MAY CALL A TIME SCAPE, THAT IS, A GLIMS OF A PAST EVENT OR THAT OF A FUTURE EVENT. AH!, WE HEAR YOU SAY, BUT YOU SAID MATTER COULD NOT TRAVELL IN TIME, THIS IS TRUE AS IF MATTER WERE TO TRAVELL BY PHYSICAL MOTION THEN MASS AROUND THE MOVING OBJECT WOULD BE SO DENSE THAT THE EARTH AND MOST OTHER CELESTIAL BODIES IN YOUR SOLAR SYSTEM WOULD BE CONSUMED OR INBALANCED IN SUCH A WAY THAT THEY WOULD DECAY RAPIDLY. THEN HOW: IMAGINE, AGAIN PLEASE, A PERSON FROM THE FUTURE HAPPILY FLOATING ALONG IN HIS SILVER SPACE SHIP CROSSING AN AREA OF CONVEXUAL MAG. ALL OF A SUDDEN HIS INSTRUMENT PANNEL GOES 'SHAKY' HE MAY FEEL SLIGHTLY DIZZY OR NASEAUS A GREEN MIST (CAUSED BY APTNOSPHERIC DISTORTION) FORMS AROUND THE VESSAL HE THEN WILL PROBERBLY FALL INTO A 'TRANCE' STATE OF SUCH DEPTHS THAT HIS 'SOUL' IS SQUEEZED THROUGH THE LIGHT/TIME GATE AND FORCED TO PROJECT A PHYSICAL MIRROR IMAGE OF HIM/HER SELF AS A [word missing] OF THEIR PLACE/TIME ORIGIN AND THEIR EMIDIATE VICINATY. THIS CAN OCCUR SOMETIMES FOR ONLY SEVERAL SECONDS AND DOES ONLY REGISTERS FOR THAT INDIVIDUALS SUBCONSCIOUS BUT ON- LOOKERS, FROM THE TIME WHICH IS 'BROKEN INTO', WILL WITTNESS THE VERY PHYSICAL SIGHT AND ACTIONS OF THIS 'ALIEN' FROM THEN, TOTALLY TIME BYANOTHER CONFUSION. ELABORATE ON THE FACTS. WE ARE NOT SAYING THAT THERE IS NO OTHER LIFE OUTSIDE YOUR PLANET, ON THE CONTREY, THERE IS LIFE ELES WHERE, BUT THE ABOVE PHENOMENA IS THE MOST USUAL AS SPACE IS INFENITE TO THE MORTAL AND THE CHANCES OF ANOTHER RACE COMING ACROSS THE EARTH IS NOT REALLY IN A BRAKET OF PROBERBILLITY. THERE WAS ONCE A GREAT PHELOSOPHER WHO LIKEND TIME TO AN INFINITELY HIGH BLOCK OF FLATS EACH FLOOR TO REPRESENT EVENTS ALL PILED ON TOP OF ONE ANOTHER (VERTICALLY TO REPRESENT THE GEORGRAPHICAL LOCATION AND LATERAELLY TO REPRESENT EVENT-EACH FLOOR). A LITTLE CORRECTING!, FINNISH AFTER. [unsigned]

No confidence had ever been placed in communications from 2109, but since this chapter merely contains ideas for discussion let us continue their theme. This disruption in the time/light continuum is itself attributable to variations in the pattern of certain magnetic fields around the earth. The disruption affects, if you will, the soul; the essential self-image. Tomas Harden managed to direct or draw out some form of control over the displacement of his consciousness. Debbie, too, in certain dream states, became lucid, self-aware, and although sometimes this was veiled by her reluctance to believe she could 'be' in another time she appeared to Tomas quite regularly, and from his side and in his inimitable language we are informed of their conversation. Unfortunately the mirror image of self would require an energy to be available everywhere for the self to manifest and act in another 'timescape'. What energy? And because not everyone can see the transferred image, perception and this energy must be related.

Now we are in deep water! It is partly because explanations of the phenomenon based upon the premise that what we recorded was real always run into such problems that the rational person will, on a priori grounds, dismiss the whole business. It suffers from 'antecedent improbability': it doesn't fit 'reality' therefore it must be impossible. Ah, well ...

But even on the edge of 'reality', reports are beginning to accumulate of mental interference with computers*, and several writers have posited the existence of lines of force† in fact as feng shui (Chinese geomancy), an ancient tradition which has had an enormous influence on Chinese thought and culture. But can even severe fluctuations in these extremely weak fields be tied in with consciousness? Is it within the bounds of science to have a situation where distorted consciousness allows access to other times?

Professor Jack Sarfatti certainly believes something of the sort, and was quoted in Timewarps by John Gribbin as saying:

I believe the gravitational distortion of space and time predicted in Einstein's general theory of relativity provides a possible scientific explanation of precognition, retrocognition, clairvoyance, and astral projection, provided we accept the additional postulates that individual consciousness can alter the biogravitational field of a living organism and that the biogravitational field distorts the local subjective space time of the conscious observer ... I conjecture that distortions can be manipulated in such a way that the rate of time flow at the location of the participator does not match the corresponding rate of time flow at the object being observed and influenced ... and can in principle be so adjusted that the participator working within his local light cone ... samples universe layers.

But is this the same as being in another time? The task is beyond me but I hope that someone will be interested enough, open enough, to explore further the relationship between mind, the nature of the world we perceive and time.

For myself I am hoping someone will find a book a friend left for me some years ago.

Notes on the Messages

Between December 1984 and March 1987 approximately 300 messages were received. These included chalk or handwritten scripts and the computer messages. In length they vary from one or two characters, to single words and phrases, to messages in excess of 400 words. The bulk of the communications (about fifty-five per cent) were addressed to myself, and the others were shared roughly equally between Debbie and Peter. This book contains approximately one third of the available messages, either in full or by way of extracts.

Punctuation

According to Tomas some of the early computer messages (at least) were doctored by 2109. Apart from 'editing', the interference apparently included adding some modern punctuation, especially apostrophes, parentheses and exclamation marks.

Tomas did on occasion use the full stop. This is perfectly normal for the 16th century but Debbie admits that in error she told him not to 'copy' our punctuation when she saw that he was using full stops. Some messages in July 1985 do carry this punctuation mark. In later messages he would often indicate the likely breaks by word spacing.

Translations

My aim was to render Tomas's words into a modern idiom. I accept that this has made certain inaccuracies inevitable.

With the written scripts it has not always been possible to make out Tomas's words and some sections carry a 'probable' translation based on the context of the passage.

The Scripts

Tomas indicated that he was making every effort to render the written word easy on our eyes. He did this by treating each character individually. I am told that these individual characters compare well with extant 16th-century examples, but the overall orthographic effect is probably uncommon. Even within Tomas's scripts illustrated in this volume 'careful' and 'quick' writing is discernible.

Appendix: the Language of the Messages by Peter Trinder

From the beginning of my involvement with the messages it was the language in which they were written that most intrigued me, then captivated and finally convinced me. I have grown increasingly sure that ultimately it must be the very nature of that language which proves the authenticity of the experience as a whole.

We have all heard Shakespeare's words, but none of us has heard his voice, and we cannot be absolutely sure of any single word that he wrote. He did not write 'to sleep, perchance to dream' but (more likely) 'to sleepe, perchance to dreame' and there is all the difference in the world. Moreover, on that difference our present tale hangs.

I have come across a book, Talks with Elizabethans by Percy Allen (Rider & Co., London, 1946), in which the author, in all sincerity, reports many conversations he held between 1942 and 1945 with Bacon, Oxford, Shakespeare and other Elizabethan figures through a series of professional mediums in London. Now all of these Elizabethans talked to him like gentlemen of the 1940s. Perhaps it is normal, for they spoke in the voice of a 20th-century medium, and of course the book is merely a transcription of those conversations. There have also been cases of spirit-writing, but I cannot trace any extensive examples of such writing in the English of a period other than modern.

It is generally agreed that the history of English can be divided into three (or perhaps four) main stages: Old English (or Anglo-Saxon) up to a time very soon after the Norman Conquest and the dominance of Norman French, say roughly 1100; Middle English, a transitional period when the language still retained enough of the formal characteristics of Old English to be decidedly not our Modern English. This period is generally agreed to run until about the advent of printing, say 1450. Modern English, though with many changes continuing, dates from roughly this period. Many scholars prefer to talk of an intermediary period called 'Early Modern', which could be dated roughly 1400–1600, and in which so many important developments in spelling and vocabulary took place as to make it quite feasible to talk of this as a distinct stage in the long-term development of the English language. During this period in particular the form, use and meaning of individual words were so diverse that it is relatively easy to place the writer of a script within a broad area of the country and within a certain time-span. If the piece of writing is long enough and the forms distinctive enough then the field proportionately diminishes until it can even become possible to date and locate the writing within a very narrow limit.

If the author is unknown it can often be a relatively simple matter to identify him (or, rarely, her) precisely. It is, after all, on such evidence that very many of the earlier examples of English literature have been associated with particular authors. Even some of the Shakespearian ascriptions are made on this kind of evidence, not to mention many others. The whole game started officially with a critical examination of Biblical documents in the last century, which caused a controversy that still disturbs many of the faithful. Much of the most recent research and development in the technology of espionage involves increasingly sophisticated methods of voiceprinting, and of course fingerprinting has been with us a long time. Blood prints and saliva prints are not unknown, and genetic fingerprinting is now in use. Just so a man's writing reveals himself, his time and his circumstances in many subtle hints, for truly, 'Le style c'est l'homme même'. Professor Higgins, like his original, Henry Sweet, could place people within five miles, and in London within two streets, by their speech. When people commit themselves to paper we have got them, providing only that the amount of material available for analysis is sufficiently extensive to provide satisfactory evidence.

The messages we received through the computer are certainly sufficiently extensive and they purport to date from the very period in which spelling, vocabulary and semantics were at their most idiosyncratic and variable in the whole history of the English language.

Fortunately we possess an incomparable reference work in the Oxford English Dictionary (OED), which charts this historical maze in incredible detail. This, of course, was the main authority to which I referred when working on the texts, especially to its dating system for the various recorded forms of words. Reference to the entry for the word 'champarty', for example, will show that the form 'champartye', (which is how it was spelt in our text) is recorded in the 14th and 15th centuries, and so on, with the modern form of this rare word dating from the 17th century. For many words in the OED this list of alternative forms and their dating is very long and complicated. The original intention behind the dictionary was that everything written in English up to the time of editing should be read and scrutinized, but this could never be fully realized, particularly as many important texts and documents were not available at that time and the later letters of the alphabet were in general more fully researched than the earlier. Despite this it is perfectly reasonable to take the evidence of the dictionary as conclusive. Consequently, if we have in our texts enough words whose dating, according to the OED, is consistent with the period in which we were led to believe they were written, then that evidence alone might go far to confirm the authenticity of the messages, and hence of the whole unlikely experience. For who could devise such documents using the dictionary backwards by searching out recondite terms and then checking every word used not only for its meaning but also its form in a particular period? The amount of effort involved in this process beggars belief. Even if the process of composition in this way by some modern hoaxer is conceivable, there was very frequently no time in which it could possibly have been carried out. Moreover, of course, we are looking only at the 'how?' and leaving out the bigger questions of 'who?' and 'why?'

I drew up a table showing the forms of words (i.e. their spelling), choosing to look not only at the 16th century itself but at periods before and after. If any word occurred which was not recorded in the 16th century then we had to be on our guard. This is what I was looking for when I first began using the OED. At that very early stage I thought that Ken was perhaps playing a game himself and I expected to be able to unmask him by the use of the OED.

The dating of the first messages proved most interesting, and slowly I was convinced that something very strange was happening, for these had to be the words of a 16th-century writer or of someone doing a very convincing imitation. In fact, as the experience proceeded and the evidence grew, the incidence of words and forms too modern for the 16th century remained credibly limited, to say the least. It was perhaps increasingly difficult to remain entirely objective in judgement but I certainly tried.

The dictionary is not, of course, by any means quite complete in its original intention. How could it be? Many words must have remained undiscovered in texts not read, or carelessly read, or as yet unknown. A literate person needing a new word frequently used the nearest Latin term, simply giving it an English form; in this way hundreds of words first occurred in English in this period called Early Modern, indeed that is one of the characteristics of the period. Many such words caught on and still remain: many more must have been stillborn or were used so very rarely as effectively to lie dormant until a later flowering.

I became increasingly interested to note how many of the forms and words in the messages were actually dated by the OED in or even before the 15th century. This suggested someone whose language was in some respects rather old-fashioned for its time. Of course, the fact that a word is not recorded in any particular period does not show that it did not exist or was not used, but merely that it was not found by those compiling the OED. But still, if a form is recorded as, say, 14th or 15th century ('4–5' in OED's abbreviations) then that is all the evidence we have in most cases. For my purposes, in view of the extent of the material I was dealing with, it was quite sufficient.

The messages contained, then, very many forms which the OED records as not in use later than the 15th century. This led me to suspect a South-Western English origin for our man, since innovations and change in the language tended to spread from the North, the Midlands or the South-East, and the area of the country which preserved regular forms longest was the South-West. This was partly why I prompted Ken to ask if our man knew 'Bristowe', an old form of the main city of that region. That question received a most encouraging and revealing answer.

Among the most frustrating of all words were the parts of the verbs 'to be' and 'to have'. Most puzzling were the frequent, but not invariable, 'beeth', 'arn' and 'han' for am, art, is, are and have. The other main puzzle has been the use of 'my' or 'thy' for 'the', the definite article. I have been assured by an expert researcher in the period that these forms do all occur in written material, but I have not found them, in spite of diligent search in many obscure corners. Letters of ordinary, undistinguished people from the mid-16th century are very few. Remember that the date we were given was 1546. The famous Paston Letters, though of some help, are from quite the wrong area, East Anglia; and the Cely Letters are mostly of London. The South-West was a quiet, secluded part of the country, from which very little of the 16th century seems to have survived, and certainly nothing of such relatively humble and obscure origins. Even supposing that we could prove our texts to be genuine writings of this period there would appear to be no comparable contemporary documents by which we could check their language. By the same token, naturally, it follows that if they can be proved genuine they will provide invaluable evidence of the state of the language at that time and in that area. As my adventure proceeded, of course, I became increasingly convinced that this is exactly what we have, a kind of linguistic missing link in demotic speech. I can only hope I will live to see our texts accepted and dictionaries eventually revised to accommodate them.

The evidence would suggest, then, a man of the South-West, probably well into middle age, still retaining the nationally outmoded forms of common words with which he grew up. After all it is not difficult to imagine this; I myself very clearly remember the older men who worked on my grandfather's farm when I was a small boy, with whose regular forms of 'I be', 'youm are', 'theym be' and such we were very familiar and even used easily. I doubt whether those forms can still be so commonly found among the newer and fewer farmworkers of South Northamptonshire and North Oxfordshire as they were among their forebears of fifty years ago, but this is because there have been very rapid and far-reaching effects of general levelling in local forms since the spread of television and popular radio. Many of us lament the passing of such riches in speech and all of us must be well aware of such a process of levelling at work.

Those old forms I remember from my youth had been preserved for hundreds of years, some of them going back well into the Middle English period, and much contemporary common speech goes back directly to Old English, the language of the Anglo-Saxons themselves. How did 'slog' survive in boy's cricket from the Old English past tense of 'slegan', meaning 'to hit, to kill'?

One has surely to realize too that writing, at the period we are trying to bring into focus, was a very uncommon practice, and our man would most probably write as he spoke with hardly a second thought, though he would be aware, as indeed he said he was, that his 'tongue was old' and that we spoke 'the tongue of Chester' as he called it. In other words, he had come to realize that his normal manner of speech was old-fashioned compared with the standard of a more cosmopolitan centre, though undoubtedly the streets of such a centre of trade at the borders of England and Wales (without a border at that time) and close to Ireland, with strong influxes from the north as well as his own south and from London, would have echoed to a veritable babel of mixed accents and dialects. Still, the local families of long-standing, among whom he seems to have had several and probably many friends, would have had a distinct regularity in speech fundamentally different from the common speech of his childhood home, sufficiently so for him to be aware of the outdated characteristics of his own speech.

In view of all these factors it seems to make good sense that he used very many forms which the OED does not record later than the 15th century. Just as my childhood was immediately before and during the Second World War, which in the 1980s seems a different world, so his would have been just after Bosworth Field and during the quieter, more settled times of the opening of the Tudor era in the reign of Henry VII. I did wonder if his father had been involved on either side in the Wars of the Roses but it did not emerge, and I do not think that we asked about this. The brief picture of his father at work in the shipyards of Bristol, as presented in later messages, seems to confirm our expectations, though we still cannot explain what is meant by the King's rose (or Rose) with which he says his father was connected. There was more detail of that famous sailor out of Bristol, John Cabot, as will be seen.

The vast bulk of the forms, words and senses contained in the messages which are recorded as in use in the 16th century would seem to be the most significant, but I have tried to show first why I paid special attention to those recorded later or earlier. Of the total words roughly sixty-five per cent are recorded in the 16th century itself. It is sometimes possible to be more precise than a span of a whole century, and here the OED's ample system of illustration by quotation is most useful, for the quotations are dated exactly in most cases, and the difference between 1520 and 1530, or 1560 and 1580 might be quite crucial.

To take all this evidence of dating quite objectively and to guess from it just when our texts might have been written was an interesting experiment. In fact I had a shot at this quite early, before we had been given a reliable date at all, and my guess was 1545. When the date was eventually given as 1546 we were somewhat gratified. Here, perhaps, was another example of wishful thinking, in which new material confirmed our previous guesses – like the placings in the South-West and the shot at Bristol. Sceptics will say - but not before we said it ourselves - that such serendipity is suspicious, and that perhaps the whole experience has been fabricated by our own subconscious – but collectively, by two, usually three, often four and sometimes many more of us? How could this be? Again, however any of it may be, the texts exist. They lie in files and boxes by my side as I write, the pages well-thumbed and fraying at the punched edge in many cases. Some of the handwritten originals are framed as precious mementoes of a frantic and heady excitement of more than a year's duration. This was no dream, singular or collective; no work of the subconscious.

The language remains to confirm it all; the fat volume of the glossary I have composed proves it genuine, with most of the words clearly substantiated as in use in the 16th century, very many of the words unknown to me before I met them here, and several words which still remain apparently unrecorded elsewhere and still unexplained. I hope the full glossary will be published later, together with our findings in historical and topographical research about the provenance of the messages and the identity of their author, but the list of unexplained words is so interesting and important that I include it as a tailpiece to this brief account of the language of the messages. These words were used by our correspondent and checked in the OED as I came to them in the process of annotation. Many words equally unfamiliar to me proved to be in the dictionary, but these words were not there, nor have I been able to find in any other source a satisfactory solution to such words as 'broatniss', 'stemeain' and the rest of the list. Tomas, our correspondent, and I talked much about words, as the messages will show, so that I was able to ask him about several of them. Except that his explanations generally confirmed my guesses, since the meaning was usually fairly obvious from the content, little was really gained in this way. However, because of their intrinsic interest, these explanations are given below. We hope that professional scholars and other experts may pick up this list and perhaps care to comment in some way. These words must form a part of our continuing work on the evidence of our experience. Perhaps we shall never be more firmly convinced by any historical or linguistic evidence of the genuineness of our experience than we felt at the time it was actually in progress. Tomas was entirely real to us, speaking intimately as a close friend, though over a space of four centuries. That conviction remains as strong – and as perversely commonplace in its essential feeling – as it was then. Now the evidence is published we hope for some public reaction. If the experience can be proved the consequences must be momentous.

Where is Tomas's own account, his book that was finished at Oxford and left somewhere in manuscript? We never forget that '2109' said it would be found, and we can only hope that this will happen in our lifetime.

There are some other interesting points to make about the language, in particular the number of words which the OED records as first used sometimes uniquely used – by Shakespeare. Of course, Shakespeare himself was a man from the Midlands countryside as well as a great inventor of words and a treasury of recondite terms. The fact that 'charge house', meaning a school, has not been found anywhere except in Love's Labours Lost does not mean that the word was not used. It may indeed have been in normal colloquial, if restricted, use but never written in any text that has survived. The same is probably true of several other words in the list of forty-seven which I compiled as first occurring in recorded use in Shakespeare. They all pose fascinating problems. And what of such words as 'deradynate', for example, obviously an alternative form of 'deracinate' since that meaning would fit the context precisely? It was more intriguing still to find that the first occurrence of 'deracinate' (perhaps a Shakespearian coinage) is in Henry V, a play with strong French interest which includes several such words apparently coined from a French root, whereas 'deradynate' in Tomas's use seems to have been taken directly from the Latin. One could go on with such speculations.

Two other areas of interest and possible significance in the words and forms used by Tomas are the legal terms and the evident Scots or northern connection. This latter element was evident quite early, particularly in such forms as '-ioun' for the suffix '-ion' (as in 'condicioun' or 'salvacioun'). By the 16th century this form seems to have been characteristically northern, (the 'northern' dialect also included southern Scotland). This point was well explained by Tomas's casual revelation that Lukas Wainman, his teacher and mentor, had come from Aberdeen.

A significant number of words have specific legal connections, such as 'champartye', 'lachess', 'validity', 'precedenten', 'exempcioune' and others. It seems from a passing reference that Lukas may have had a legal background; Tomas mentions that he himself was in London for a time and he was quite possibly at one of the law colleges before he went to Oxford.

The occasional term from alchemy such as 'quintessence' may be important in the light of the strange nature of the whole experience and the totally unexpected quality of its beginning. Was Tomas a secret alchemist? Again, there are more things in heaven and earth ...

In the following list of statistics I have analysed the evidence of my glossary into categories that might be significant in various ways, but the analysis was done quite objectively as an assessment of the verbal evidence as a method of dating the likely composition of the documents. Using the evidence of the dating system of the OED I divided the words by period, concentrating on the span from the 15th to the 17th centuries. It was obvious that a significant number of forms were earlier than the 16th century so my first category is those forms dated as last recorded earlier than the 15th century, and so on. After the 16th century, during which some sixty-five per cent of the total forms were recorded as in use, I listed those first recorded later in two categories: those belonging to the 17th century (on the grounds that a period which in practice is actually less than than a hundred years is allowable variation at a time in which many words are likely to have been in use but not to have survived in records): and finally those words which are first recorded at any time certainly later than the 17th century. No less an authority than Professor A. C. Partridge states that, 'It is doubtful whether any three centuries could equal the period 1450 to 1750 in the achievement of welding home growths and alien borrowings into a serviceable and resourceful instrument of the national mind ... it should surprise no reader that from 1590 to 1625 events moved more rapidly than in any other comparable time in the evolution of the language.' (Tudor to Augustan English, André Deutsch, 1969 p. 13). Now although 1590 is too late for our messages, for the dictionary the difference between the outer dates of this critical period is that of a century. The OED dates a form of, for example, 1595 as 16th century, and one of 1605 as 17th century. It is significant to realize that even by the mid-16th century events were moving extremely rapidly in the language as well as in the politics and religion of England.

The OED dating is of 'forms', i.e. spellings of words. For each main word in my glossary I recorded the OED's dating of the form in which it occurred in the message, if that form was given. A few words were listed more than once because they occurred in more than one form, but Tomas's spelling was very largely consistent, so this factor does not distort the statistics. Another few words, some twenty-five, could not be counted in the statistics because of some imprecision of dating in the OED or very occasionally the absence of dating altogether. I also included a very few characteristic prepositional phrases as well as words but have not at this stage compiled a list of idiomatic phrases as such.

- 1. Most of these are recorded as 13th–14th century, but some are as early as the 11th or 12th.
- 2. This includes many words recorded only in the 15th century.
- 3. This should include eleven numerals written in small roman, e.g. xiii or vii instead of 'thirteen' or 'seven'. Arabic notation was coming into general use during the 16th century.
- 4. Many of these are dated only up to the early 17th century and very many others are still current.
- 5. This low total reflects the very restricted period represented by a mere one hundred years in the history of a language.
- 6. Some of these are restricted to the 17th century, and many to the early years of that century.
- 7. Really an incredibly low total (the one word is 'Cestrian' for an inhabitant of Chester, first recorded in 1703).
- 8. The vast majority of these forms are very similar to other forms which are in fact recorded. Perhaps one letter is different (frequently 'y' for 'i' which is really of no significance whatever) but I tried to be extremely strict in all these statistics. This total also includes the 121 words which remain unexplained.

The following is the full list of words which are not in the OED nor have I found them in Wright's Dialect Dictionary or other regional or specialized glossaries which I have consulted. Several of them are easy to explain but others are very strange and even exotic specimens. (T=Tomas's explanation)

Chapter 8

* 'What do you have to know about my sayings? You read this my Latin that is not as useful.'

Chapter 16

* The last word was indistinct.

Chapter 22

* Interrupted at 'soul'. I inserted date and time in lower case and left lower case on in error. It didn't affect communication, nor was it referred to.

Chapter 24

- * Probably Richard Grosvenor, second son of Richard Grosvenor of Eton (1509–1542)
- * Lukas used the relatively modern expression 'Love Lukas'. Probably taken from Debbie, who always signed her messages 'Love Debbie'.
- * They were eventually discovered to be early versions of the coats of arms of Balliol College, Oxford, and All Souls College, Oxford, respectively.

Chapter 27

* Spelt variously through all records. Tomas used 'Harden'.

Postscript

- * The time overlap idea matches some consistent characteristics of those UFO sightings not eliminated as balloons, reflected lights, aircraft, etc. etc.
 - the dominance of 'humanoid' figures if any are seen
 - the prevalence of certain shapes for the craft
 - the short duration of the sighting
 - selective cognisance not everyone can see them
 - the predominance of UFO sightings near key spots or along certain lines, possibly 'ley lines' or where they cross.
 - the bunching of sightings in certain 'waves' (as two times conjoin according to fluctuations in 'convexual' magnetism)
 - common sense of colour green or presence of odd mists, e.g. Bermuda Triangle and other locations commonly cited.
- * Margins of Reality by R. Jahn and B. Dunne (see 'Further Reading').
- † Telluric currents, ley lines, 'dragon paths', prana, may all be related to what 2109 call rather oddly 'convexual' [convectual] magnetism or they may not.

Appendix: the Language of the Messages by Peter Trinder

* This word occurs in Hamlet but is a puzzle there as well.

† This occurs three times in Shakespeare as an apparent exclamation, but nowhere else. It is not satisfactorily explained.

Acknowledgements

No book develops in a vacuum and this one is no exception. Among those involved most intimately: my tolerant and artistic girlfriend Debbie, Peter Trinder, Frank Davies, Dave and Sian Lovell, Nicola Bagguley, and John Cummins. They all have their own important story to tell of these events, in particular Peter Trinder. He put many vital questions and offered continual support and scholarly commentary on all the communications. I was forced to leave out the bulk of the messages which dwell on language and history but I am pleased to say that Peter is preparing a full set of annotated messages with accompanying glossary for the serious researcher. Thanks are also due to Deb's mother and brother; Aunty 'M'; Carl Williams for introducing me to relevant literature; 'Haze' (Ian Hazeldine) for line drawings and sketches; Robin Peedell,* assistant librarian at Brasenose College, Oxford, for finding 'our man'; my mother Joyce and brother Brian for the love and money to keep me going. In Europe: Ernst Senkowski, Jules and Maggie Harsch-Fischbach and, for translation and liaison where necessary, Brigitte Meyer.

In preparing the typescript I had the benefit of the best secretarial team in the north west: Nicola Hamlett, who but for me would have made it perfect, and Penny Hevingham who worked long hours against the chaos of my writing. Thanks to Neil Bartlem and Rob Jones for reading the drafts and offering useful criticism, and to Jane Middleton at Grafton for copy editing.

Adjective

'Having rejected tradition: Unconventional.'

Merriam-Webster Dictionary

Acquiescence to tyranny is the death of the spirit

You may be 38 years old, as I happen to be. And one day, some great opportunity stands before you and calls you to stand up for some great principle, some great issue, some great cause. And you refuse to do it because you are afraid ... You refuse to do it because you want to live longer ... You're afraid that you will lose your job, or you are afraid that you will be criticised or that you will lose your popularity, or you're afraid that somebody will stab you, or shoot at you or bomb your house; so you refuse to take the stand.

Well, you may go on and live until you are 90, but you're just as dead at 38 as you would be at 90. And the cessation of breathing in your life is but the belated announcement of an earlier death of the spirit.

Martin Luther King

How the few control the many and always have — the many do whatever they're told 'Forward, the Light Brigade!'

Was there a man dismayed?
Not though the soldier knew
Someone had blundered.
Theirs not to make reply,
Theirs not to reason why,
Theirs but to do and die.
Into the valley of Death
Rode the six hundred.

Cannon to right of them,
Cannon to left of them,
Cannon in front of them
Volleyed and thundered;
Stormed at with shot and shell,
Boldly they rode and well,
Into the jaws of Death,
Into the mouth of hell
Rode the six hundred

Alfred Lord Tennyson (1809-1892)

The mist is lifting slowly
I can see the way ahead
And I've left behind the empty streets
That once inspired my life
And the strength of the emotion
Is like thunder in the air
'Cos the promise that we made each other Haunts me to the end

The secret of your beauty
And the mystery of your soul
I've been searching for in everyone I meet
And the times I've been mistaken
It's impossible to say
And the grass is growing Underneath our feet

The words that I remember
From my childhood still are true
That there's none so blind
As those who will not see
And to those who lack the courage
And say it's dangerous to try
Well they just don't know
That love eternal will not be denied

I know you're out there somewhere Somewhere, somewhere I know you're out there somewhere Somewhere you can hear my voice
I know I'll find you somehow
Somehow, somehow
I know I'll find you somehow
And somehow I'll return again to you

Are you a gutless wonder - or a Renegade Mind?

Monuments put from pen to paper,
Turns me into a gutless wonder,
And if you tolerate this,
Then your children will be next.

CHAPTER ONE

I'm thinking' — Oh, but are you?

Think for yourself and let others enjoy the privilege of doing so too Voltaire

French-born philosopher, mathematician and scientist René Descartes became famous for his statement in Latin in the 17th century which translates into English as: 'I think, therefore I am.'

On the face of it that is true. Thought reflects perception and perception leads to both behaviour and self-identity. In that sense 'we' are what we think. But who or what is doing the thinking and is thinking the only route to perception? Clearly, as we shall see, 'we' are not always the source of 'our' perception, indeed with regard to humanity as a whole this is rarely the case; and thinking is far from the only means of perception. Thought is the village idiot compared with other expressions of consciousness that we all have the potential to access and tap into. This has to be true when we are those other expressions of consciousness which are infinite in nature. We have forgotten this, or, more to the point, been manipulated to forget.

These are not just the esoteric musings of the navel. The whole foundation of human control and oppression is control of perception. Once perception is hijacked then so is behaviour which is dictated by perception. Collective perception becomes collective behaviour and collective behaviour is what we call human society. Perception is all and those behind human control know that which is why perception is the target 24/7 of the psychopathic manipulators that I call the Global Cult. They know that if they dictate perception they will dictate behaviour and collectively dictate the nature of human society. They are further aware that perception is formed from information received and if they control the circulation of information they will to a vast extent direct human behaviour. Censorship of information and opinion has become globally Nazilike in recent years and never more blatantly than since the illusory 'virus pandemic' was triggered out of China in 2019 and across the world in 2020. Why have billions submitted to house arrest and accepted fascistic societies in a way they would have never believed possible? Those controlling the information spewing from government, mainstream media and Silicon Valley (all controlled by the same Global Cult networks) told them they were in danger from a 'deadly virus' and only by submitting to house arrest and conceding their most basic of freedoms could they and their families be protected. This monumental and provable lie became the perception of the billions and therefore the behaviour of the billions. In those few words you have the whole structure and modus operandi of human control. Fear is a perception – False Emotion Appearing Real – and fear is the currency of control. In short ... get them by the balls (or give them the impression that you have) and their hearts and minds will follow. Nothing grips the dangly bits and freezes the rear-end more comprehensively than fear.

World number 1

There are two 'worlds' in what appears to be one 'world' and the prime difference between them is knowledge. First we have the mass of human society in which the population is maintained in coldly-calculated ignorance through control of information and the 'education' (indoctrination) system. That's all you really need to control to enslave billions in a perceptual delusion in which what are perceived to be their thoughts and opinions are ever-repeated mantras that the system has been downloading all their lives through 'education', media, science, medicine, politics and academia in which the personnel and advocates are themselves overwhelmingly the perceptual products of the same repetition. Teachers and academics in general are processed by the same programming machine as everyone else, but unlike the great majority they never leave the 'education' program. It gripped them as students and continues to grip them as programmers of subsequent generations of students. The programmed become the programmers – the programmed programmers. The same can largely be said for scientists, doctors and politicians and not least because as the American writer Upton Sinclair said: 'It is difficult to get a man to understand something when his salary depends upon his not understanding it.' If your career and income depend on thinking the way the system demands then you will – bar a few freeminded exceptions – concede your mind to the Perceptual Mainframe that I call the Postage Stamp Consensus. This is a tiny band of perceived knowledge and possibility 'taught' (downloaded) in the schools and universities, pounded out by the mainstream media and on which all government policy is founded. Try thinking, and especially speaking and acting, outside of the 'box' of consensus and see what that does for your career in the Mainstream Everything which bullies, harasses, intimidates and ridicules the population into compliance. Here we have the simple structure which enslaves most of humanity in a perceptual prison cell for an entire lifetime and I'll go deeper into this process shortly. Most of what humanity is taught as fact is nothing more than programmed belief. American science fiction author Frank Herbert was right when he said: 'Belief can be manipulated. Only knowledge is dangerous.' In the 'Covid' age belief is promoted and knowledge is censored. It was always so, but never to the extreme of today.

A 'number 2' is slang for 'doing a poo' and how appropriate that is when this other 'world' is doing just that on humanity every minute of every day. World number 2 is a global network of secret societies and semi-secret groups dictating the direction of society via governments, corporations and authorities of every kind. I have spent more than 30 years uncovering and exposing this network that I call the Global Cult and knowing its agenda is what has made my books so accurate in predicting current and past events. Secret societies are secret for a reason. They want to keep their hoarded knowledge to themselves and their chosen initiates and to hide it from the population which they seek through ignorance to control and subdue. The whole foundation of the division between World 1 and World 2 is knowledge. What number 1 knows number 2 must not. Knowledge they have worked so hard to keep secret includes (a) the agenda to enslave humanity in a centrally-controlled global dictatorship, and (b) the nature of reality and life itself. The latter (b) must be suppressed to allow the former (a) to prevail as I shall be explaining. The way the Cult manipulates and interacts with the population can be likened to a spider's web. The 'spider' sits at the centre in the shadows and imposes its will through the web with each strand represented in World number 2 by a secret society, satanic or semi-secret group, and in World number 1 – the world of the seen – by governments, agencies of government, law enforcement, corporations, the banking system, media conglomerates and Silicon Valley (Fig 1 overleaf). The spider and the web connect and coordinate all these organisations to pursue the same global outcome while the population sees them as individual entities working randomly and independently. At the level of the web governments are the banking system are the corporations are the media are Silicon Valley are the World Health Organization working from their inner cores as one unit. Apparently unconnected countries, corporations, institutions, organisations and people are on the same team pursuing the same global outcome. Strands in the web immediately around the spider are the most secretive and exclusive secret societies and their membership is emphatically restricted to the Cult inner-circle emerging through the generations from particular bloodlines for reasons I will come to. At the core of the core you would get them in a single room. That's how many people are dictating the direction of human society and its transformation through the 'Covid' hoax and other means. As the web expands out from the spider we meet the secret societies that many people will be aware of – the Freemasons, Knights Templar, Knights of Malta, Opus Dei, the inner sanctum of the Jesuit Order, and such like. Note how many are connected to the Church of Rome and there is a reason for that. The Roman Church was established as a revamp, a rebranding, of the relocated 'Church' of Babylon and the Cult imposing global tyranny today can be tracked back to Babylon and Sumer in what is now Iraq.

Inner levels of the web operate in the unseen away from the public eye and then we have what I call the cusp organisations located at the point where the hidden meets the seen. They include a series of satellite organisations answering to a secret society founded in London in the late 19th century called the Round Table and among them are the Royal Institute of International Affairs (UK, founded in 1920); Council on Foreign Relations (US, 1921); Bilderberg Group (worldwide, 1954); Trilateral Commission (US/worldwide, 1972); and the Club of Rome (worldwide, 1968) which was created to exploit environmental concerns to justify the centralisation of global power to 'save the planet'. The Club of Rome instigated with others the human-caused climate change hoax which has led to all the 'green new deals' demanding that very centralisation of control. Cusp organisations, which include endless 'think tanks' all over the world, are designed to coordinate a single global policy between political and business leaders, intelligence personnel, media organisations and anyone who can influence the direction of policy in their own sphere of operation. Major players and regular attenders will know what is happening – or some of it – while others come and go and are kept overwhelmingly in the dark about the big picture. I refer to these cusp groupings as semi-secret in that they can be publicly identified, but what goes on at the inner-core is kept very much 'in house' even from most of their members and participants through a fiercely-imposed system of compartmentalisation. Only let them know what they need to know to serve your interests and no more. The structure of secret societies serves as a perfect example of this principle. Most Freemasons never get higher than the bottom three levels of 'degree' (degree of knowledge) when there are 33 official degrees of the Scottish Rite. Initiates only qualify for the next higher 'compartment' or degree if those at that level choose to allow them. Knowledge can be carefully assigned only to those considered 'safe'. I went to my local Freemason's lodge a few years ago when they were having an 'open day' to show how cuddly they were and when I chatted to some of them I was astonished at how little the rank and file knew even about the most ubiquitous symbols they use. The mushroom technique – keep them in the dark and feed them bullshit – applies to most people in the web as well as the population as a whole. Sub-divisions of the web mirror in theme and structure transnational corporations which have a headquarters somewhere in the world dictating to all their subsidiaries in different countries. Subsidiaries operate in their methodology and branding to the same centrally-dictated plan and policy in pursuit of particular ends. The Cult web functions in the same way. Each country has its own web as a subsidiary of the global one. They consist of networks of secret societies, semi-secret groups and bloodline families and their job is to impose the will of the spider and the global web in their particular country. Subsidiary networks control and manipulate the national political system, finance, corporations, media, medicine, etc. to ensure that they follow the globally-dictated Cult agenda. These networks were the means through which the 'Covid' hoax could be played out with almost every country responding in the same way.

The 'Yessir' pyramid

Compartmentalisation is the key to understanding how a tiny few can dictate the lives of billions when combined with a top-down sequence of imposition and acquiescence. The inner core of the Cult sits at the peak of the pyramidal hierarchy of human society (Fig 2 overleaf). It imposes its will – its agenda for the world – on the level immediately below which acquiesces to that imposition. This level then imposes the Cult will on the level below them which acquiesces and imposes on the next level. Very quickly we meet levels in the hierarchy that have no idea there even is a Cult, but the sequence of imposition and acquiescence continues down the pyramid in just the same way. 'I don't know why we are doing this but the order came from "on-high" and so we better just do it.' Alfred Lord Tennyson said of the cannon fodder levels in his poem The Charge of the Light Brigade: 'Theirs not to reason why; theirs but to do and die.' The next line says that 'into the valley of death rode the six hundred' and they died because they obeyed without question what their perceived 'superiors' told them to do. In the same way the population capitulated to 'Covid'. The whole hierarchical pyramid functions like this to allow the very few to direct the enormous many. Eventually imposition-acquiescence-imposition-acquiescence comes down to the mass of the population at the foot of the pyramid. If they acquiesce to those levels of the hierarchy imposing on them (governments/law enforcement/doctors/media) a circuit is completed between the population and the handful of superpsychopaths in the Cult inner core at the top of the pyramid. Without a circuit-breaking refusal to obey, the sequence of imposition and acquiescence allows a staggeringly few people to impose their will upon the entirety of humankind. We are looking at the very sequence that has subjugated billions since the start of 2020. Our freedom has not been taken from us. Humanity has given it away. Fascists do not impose fascism because there are not enough of them. Fascism is imposed by the population acquiescing to fascism. Put another way allowing their perceptions to be programmed to the extent that leads to the population giving their freedom away by giving their perceptions – their mind – away. If this circuit is not broken by humanity ceasing to cooperate with their own enslavement then nothing can change. For that to happen people have to critically think and see through the lies and window dressing and then summon the backbone to act upon what they see. The Cult spends its days working to stop either happening and its methodology is systematic and highly detailed, but it can be overcome and that is what this book is all about.

Figure 2: The simple sequence of imposition and compliance that allows a handful of people at the peak of the pyramid to dictate the lives of billions.

The Life Program

Okay, back to world number 1 or the world of the 'masses'. Observe the process of what we call 'life' and it is a perceptual download from cradle to grave. The Cult has created a global structure in which perception can be programmed and the program continually topped-up with what appears to be constant confirmation that the program is indeed true reality. The important word here is 'appears'.

This is the structure, the fly-trap, the Postage Stamp Consensus or Perceptual Mainframe, which represents that incredibly narrow band of perceived possibility delivered by the 'education' system, mainstream media, science and medicine. From the earliest age the download begins with parents who have themselves succumbed to the very programming their children are about to go through. Most parents don't do this out of malevolence and mostly it is quite the opposite. They do what they believe is best for their children and that is what the program has told them is best. Within three or four years comes the major transition from parental programming to fullblown state (Cult) programming in school, college and university where perceptually-programmed teachers and academics pass on their programming to the next generations. Teachers who resist are soon marginalised and their careers ended while children who resist are called a problem child for whom Ritalin may need to be prescribed. A few years after entering the 'world' children are under the control of authority figures representing the state telling them when they have to be there, when they can leave and when they can speak, eat, even go to the toilet. This is calculated preparation for a lifetime of obeying authority in all its forms. Reflex-action fear of authority is instilled by authority from the start. Children soon learn the carrot and stick consequences of obeying or defying authority which is underpinned daily for the rest of their life. Fortunately I daydreamed through this crap and never obeyed authority simply because it told me to. This approach to my alleged 'betters' continues to this day. There can be consequences of pursuing open-minded freedom in a world of closed-minded conformity. I spent a lot of time in school corridors after being ejected from the classroom for not taking some of it seriously and now I spend a lot of time being ejected from Facebook, YouTube and Twitter. But I can tell you that being true to yourself and not compromising your self-respect is far more exhilarating than bowing to authority for authority's sake. You don't have to be a sheep to the shepherd (authority) and the sheep dog (fear of not obeying authority).

The perceptual download continues throughout the formative years in school, college and university while script-reading 'teachers', 'academics' 'scientists', 'doctors' and 'journalists' insist that ongoing generations must be as programmed as they are. Accept the program or you will not pass your 'exams' which confirm your 'degree' of programming. It is tragic to think that many parents pressure their offspring to work hard at school to download the program and qualify for the next stage at college and university. The late, great, American comedian George Carlin said: 'Here's a bumper sticker I'd like to see: We are proud parents of a child who has resisted his teachers' attempts to break his spirit and bend him to the will of his corporate masters.' Well, the best of luck finding many of those, George. Then comes the moment to leave the formal programming years in academia and enter the 'adult' world of work. There you meet others in your chosen or prescribed arena who went through the same Postage Stamp Consensus program before you did. There is therefore overwhelming agreement between almost everyone on the basic foundations of Postage Stamp reality and the rejection, even contempt, of the few who have a mind of their own and are prepared to use it. This has two major effects. Firstly, the consensus confirms to the programmed that their download is really how things are. I mean, everyone knows that, right? Secondly, the arrogance and ignorance of Postage Stamp adherents ensure that anyone questioning the program will have unpleasant consequences for seeking their own truth and not picking their perceptions from the shelf marked: 'Things you must believe without question and if you don't you're a dangerous lunatic conspiracy theorist and a harebrained nutter'.

Every government, agency and corporation is founded on the same Postage Stamp prison cell and you can see why so many people believe the same thing while calling it their own 'opinion'. Fusion of governments and corporations in pursuit of the same agenda was the definition of fascism described by Italian dictator Benito Mussolini. The pressure to conform to perceptual norms downloaded for a lifetime is incessant and infiltrates society right down to family groups that become censors and condemners of their own 'black sheep' for not, ironically, being sheep. We have seen an explosion of that in the 'Covid' era. Cult-owned global media unleashes its propaganda all day every day in support of the Postage Stamp and targets with abuse and ridicule anyone in the public eye who won't bend their mind to the will of the tyranny. Any response to this is denied (certainly in my case). They don't want to give a platform to expose official lies. Cult-owned-and-created Internet giants like Facebook, Google, YouTube and Twitter delete you for having an unapproved opinion. Facebook boasts that its AI censors delete 97-percent of 'hate speech' before anyone even reports it. Much of that 'hate speech' will simply be an opinion that Facebook and its masters don't want people to see. Such perceptual oppression is widely known as fascism. Even Facebook executive Benny Thomas, a 'CEO Global Planning Lead', said in comments secretly recorded by investigative journalism operation Project Veritas that Facebook is 'too powerful' and should be broken up:

I mean, no king in history has been the ruler of two billion people, but Mark Zuckerberg is ... And he's 36. That's too much for a 36-year-old ... You should not have power over two billion people. I just think that's wrong.

Thomas said Facebook-owned platforms like Instagram, Oculus, and WhatsApp needed to be separate companies. 'It's too much power when they're all one together'. That's the way the Cult likes it, however. We have an executive of a Cult organisation in Benny Thomas that doesn't know there is a Cult such is the compartmentalisation. Thomas said that Facebook and Google 'are no longer companies, they're countries'. Actually they are more powerful than countries on the basis that if you control information you control perception and control human society.

I love my oppressor

Another expression of this psychological trickery is for those who realise they are being pressured into compliance to eventually convince themselves to believe the official narratives to protect their self-respect from accepting the truth that they have succumbed to meek and subservient compliance. Such people become some of the most vehement defenders of the system. You can see them everywhere screaming abuse at those who prefer to think for themselves and by doing so reminding the compliers of their own capitulation to conformity. 'You are talking dangerous nonsense you Covidiot!!' Are you trying to convince me or yourself? It is a potent form of Stockholm syndrome which is defined as: 'A psychological condition that occurs when a victim of abuse identifies and attaches, or bonds, positively with their abuser.' An example is hostages bonding and even 'falling in love' with their kidnappers. The syndrome has been observed in domestic violence, abused children, concentration camp inmates, prisoners of war and many and various Satanic cults. These are some traits of Stockholm syndrome listed at goodtherapy.org:

- Positive regard towards perpetrators of abuse or captor [see 'Covid'].
- Failure to cooperate with police and other government authorities when it comes to holding perpetrators of abuse or kidnapping accountable [or in the case of 'Covid' cooperating with the police to enforce and defend their captors' demands].
- Little or no effort to escape [see 'Covid'].
- Belief in the goodness of the perpetrators or kidnappers [see 'Covid'].
- Appeasement of captors. This is a manipulative strategy for maintaining one's safety. As victims get rewarded perhaps with less abuse or even with life itself their appeasing behaviours are reinforced [see 'Covid'].
- Learned helplessness. This can be akin to 'if you can't beat 'em, join 'em'. As the victims fail to escape the abuse or captivity, they may start giving up and soon realize it's just easier for everyone if they acquiesce all their power to their captors [see 'Covid'].

- Feelings of pity toward the abusers, believing they are actually
- victims themselves. Because of this, victims may go on a crusade or mission to 'save' [protect] their abuser [see the venom unleashed on those challenging the official 'Covid' narrative].
- Unwillingness to learn to detach from their perpetrators and heal. In essence, victims may tend to be less loyal to themselves than to their abuser [definitely see 'Covid'].

Ponder on those traits and compare them with the behaviour of great swathes of the global population who have defended governments and authorities which have spent every minute destroying their lives and livelihoods and those of their children and grandchildren since early 2020 with fascistic lockdowns, house arrest and employment deletion to 'protect' them from a 'deadly virus' that their abusers' perceptually created to bring about this very outcome. We are looking at mass Stockholm syndrome. All those that agree to concede their freedom will believe those perceptions are originating in their own independent 'mind' when in fact by conceding their reality to Stockholm syndrome they have by definition conceded any independence of mind. Listen to the 'opinions' of the acquiescing masses in this 'Covid' era and what gushes forth is the repetition of the official version of everything delivered unprocessed, unfiltered and unquestioned. The whole programming dynamic works this way. I must be free because I'm told that I am and so I think that I am.

You can see what I mean with the chapter theme of 'I'm thinking – Oh, but are you?' The great majority are not thinking, let alone for themselves. They are repeating what authority has told them to believe which allows them to be controlled. Weaving through this mentality is the fear that the 'conspiracy theorists' are right and this again explains the often hysterical abuse that ensues when you dare to contest the official narrative of anything. Denial is the mechanism of hiding from yourself what you don't want to be true. Telling people what they want to hear is easy, but it's an infinitely greater challenge to tell them what they would rather not be happening.

One is akin to pushing against an open door while the other is met with vehement resistance no matter what the scale of evidence. I don't want it to be true so I'll convince myself that it's not. Examples are everywhere from the denial that a partner is cheating despite all the signs to the reflex-action rejection of any idea that world events in which country after country act in exactly the same way are centrally coordinated. To accept the latter is to accept that a force of unspeakable evil is working to destroy your life and the lives of your children with nothing too horrific to achieve that end. Who the heck wants that to be true? But if we don't face reality the end is duly achieved and the consequences are far worse and ongoing than breaking through the walls of denial today with the courage to make a stand against tyranny.

Connect the dots – but how?

A crucial aspect of perceptual programming is to portray a world in which everything is random and almost nothing is connected to anything else. Randomness cannot be coordinated by its very nature and once you perceive events as random the idea they could be connected is waved away as the rantings of the tinfoil-hat brigade. You can't plan and coordinate random you idiot! No, you can't, but you can hide the coldly-calculated and long-planned behind the illusion of randomness. A foundation manifestation of the Renegade Mind is to scan reality for patterns that connect the apparently random and turn pixels and dots into pictures. This is the way I work and have done so for more than 30 years. You look for similarities in people, modus operandi and desired outcomes and slowly, then ever quicker, the picture forms. For instance: There would seem to be no connection between the 'Covid pandemic' hoax and the human-caused global-warming hoax and yet they are masks (appropriately) on the same face seeking the same outcome. Those pushing the global warming myth through the Club of Rome and other Cult agencies are driving the lies about 'Covid' – Bill Gates is an obvious one, but they are endless. Why would the same people be involved in both when they are clearly not connected? Oh, but they are. Common themes with personnel are matched by common goals. The 'solutions' to both 'problems' are centralisation of global power to impose the will of the few on the many to 'save' humanity from 'Covid' and save the planet from an 'existential threat' (we need 'zero Covid' and 'zero carbon emissions'). These, in turn, connect with the 'dot' of globalisation which was coined to describe the centralisation of global power in every area of life through incessant political and corporate expansion, trading blocks and superstates like the European Union. If you are the few and you want to control the many you have to centralise power and decision-making. The more you centralise power the more power the few at the centre will have over the many; and the more that power is centralised the more power those at the centre have to centralise even quicker. The momentum of centralisation gets faster and faster which is exactly the process we have witnessed. In this way the hoaxed 'pandemic' and the fakery of human-caused global warming serve the interests of globalisation and the seizure of global power in the hands of the Cult inner-circle which is behind 'Covid', 'climate change' and globalisation. At this point random 'dots' become a clear and obvious picture or pattern.

Klaus Schwab, the classic Bond villain who founded the Cult's Gates-funded World Economic Forum, published a book in 2020, The Great Reset, in which he used the 'problem' of 'Covid' to justify a total transformation of human society to 'save' humanity from 'climate change'. Schwab said: 'The pandemic represents a rare but narrow window of opportunity to reflect, reimagine, and reset our world.' What he didn't mention is that the Cult he serves is behind both hoaxes as I show in my book The Answer. He and the Cult don't have to reimagine the world. They know precisely what they want and that's why they destroyed human society with 'Covid' to 'build back better' in their grand design. Their job is not to imagine, but to get humanity to imagine and agree with their plans while believing it's all random. It must be pure coincidence that 'The Great Reset' has long been the Cult's code name for the global imposition of fascism and replaced previous code-names of the 'New World Order' used by Cult frontmen like Father George Bush and the 'New Order of the Ages' which emerged from Freemasonry and much older secret societies. New Order of the Ages appears on the reverse of the Great Seal of the United States as 'Novus ordo seclorum' underneath the Cult symbol used since way back of the pyramid and all seeing-eye (Fig 3). The pyramid is the hierarchy of human control headed by the illuminated eye that symbolises the force behind the Cult which I will expose in later chapters. The term 'Annuit Coeptis' translates as 'He favours our undertaking'. We are told the 'He' is the Christian god, but 'He' is not as I will be explaining.

Figure 3: The all-seeing eye of the Cult 'god' on the Freemason-designed Great Seal of the United States and also on the dollar bill.

Having you on

Two major Cult techniques of perceptual manipulation that relate to all this are what I have called since the 1990s Problem-Reaction-Solution (PRS) and the Totalitarian Tiptoe (TT). They can be uncovered by the inquiring mind with a simple question: Who benefits? The answer usually identifies the perpetrators of a given action or happening through the concept of 'he who most benefits from a crime is the one most likely to have committed it'. The Latin 'Cue bono?' – Who benefits? – is widely attributed to the Roman orator and statesman Marcus Tullius Cicero. No wonder it goes back so far when the concept has been relevant to human behaviour since history was recorded. Problem-Reaction-Solution is the technique used to manipulate us every day by covertly creating a problem (or the illusion of one) and offering the solution to the problem (or the illusion of one). In the first phase you create the problem and blame someone or something else for why it has happened. This may relate to a financial collapse, terrorist attack, war, global warming or pandemic, anything in fact that will allow you to impose the 'solution' to change society in the way you desire at that time. The 'problem' doesn't have to be real. PRS is manipulation of perception and all you need is the population to believe the problem is real. Human-caused global warming and the 'Covid pandemic' only have to be perceived to be real for the population to accept the 'solutions' of authority. I refer to this technique as NO-Problem-Reaction-Solution. Billions did not meekly accept house arrest from early 2020 because there was a real deadly 'Covid pandemic' but because they perceived – believed – that to be the case. The antidote to Problem-Reaction-Solution is to ask who benefits from the proposed solution. Invariably it will be anyone who wants to justify more control through deletion of freedom and centralisation of power and decision-making.

The two world wars were Problem-Reaction-Solutions that transformed and realigned global society. Both were manipulated into being by the Cult as I have detailed in books since the mid-1990s. They dramatically centralised global power, especially World War Two, which led to the United Nations and other global bodies thanks to the overt and covert manipulations of the Rockefeller family and other Cult bloodlines like the Rothschilds. The UN is a stalking horse for full-blown world government that I will come to shortly. The land on which the UN building stands in New York was donated by the Rockefellers and the same Cult family was behind Big Pharma scalpel and drug 'medicine' and the creation of the World Health Organization as part of the UN. They have been stalwarts of the eugenics movement and funded Hitler's race-purity expert' Ernst Rudin. The human-caused global warming hoax has been orchestrated by the Club of Rome through the UN which is manufacturing both the 'problem' through its Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change and imposing the 'solution' through its Agenda 21 and Agenda 2030 which demand the total centralisation of global power to 'save the world' from a climate hoax the United Nations is itself perpetrating. What a small world the Cult can be seen to be particularly among the inner circles. The bedfellow of Problem-Reaction-Solution is the Totalitarian Tiptoe which became the Totalitarian Sprint in 2020. The technique is fashioned to hide the carefully-coordinated behind the cover of apparently random events. You start the sequence at 'A' and you know you are heading for 'Z'. You don't want people to know that and each step on the journey is presented as a random happening while all the steps strung together lead in the same direction. The speed may have quickened dramatically in recent times, but you can still see the incremental approach of the Tiptoe in the case of 'Covid' as each new imposition takes us deeper into fascism. Tell people they have to do this or that to get back to 'normal', then this and this and this. With each new demand adding to the ones that went before the population's freedom is deleted until it disappears. The spider wraps its web around the flies more comprehensively with each new diktat. I'll highlight this in more detail when I get to the 'Covid' hoax and how it has been pulled off. Another prime example of the Totalitarian Tiptoe is how the Cult-created European Union went from a 'freetrade zone' to a centralised bureaucratic dictatorship through the Tiptoe of incremental centralisation of power until nations became mere administrative units for Cult-owned dark suits in Brussels.

The antidote to ignorance is knowledge which the Cult seeks vehemently to deny us, but despite the systematic censorship to that end the Renegade Mind can overcome this by vociferously seeking out the facts no matter the impediments put in the way. There is also a method of thinking and perceiving – knowing – that doesn't even need names, dates, place-type facts to identify the patterns that reveal the story. I'll get to that in the final chapter. All you need to know about the manipulation of human society and to what end is still out there – at the time of writing – in the form of books, videos and websites for those that really want to breach the walls of programmed perception. To access this knowledge requires the abandonment of the mainstream media as a source of information in the awareness that this is owned and controlled by the Cult and therefore promotes mass perceptions that suit the Cult. Mainstream media lies all day, every day. That is its function and very reason for being. Where it does tell the truth, here and there, is only because the truth and the Cult agenda very occasionally coincide. If you look for fact and insight to the BBC, CNN and virtually all the rest of them you are asking to be conned and perceptually programmed.

Know the outcome and you'll see the journey

Events seem random when you have no idea where the world is being taken. Once you do the random becomes the carefully planned. Know the outcome and you'll see the journey is a phrase I have been using for a long time to give context to daily happenings that appear unconnected. Does a problem, or illusion of a problem, trigger a proposed 'solution' that further drives society in the direction of the outcome? Invariably the answer will be yes and the random – abracadabra – becomes the clearly coordinated. So what is this outcome that unlocks the door to a massively expanded understanding of daily events? I will summarise its major aspects – the fine detail is in my other books – and those new to this information will see that the world they thought they were living in is a very different place. The foundation of the Cult agenda is the incessant centralisation of power and all such centralisation is ultimately in pursuit of Cult control on a global level. I have described for a long time the planned world structure of top-down dictatorship as the Hunger Games Society. The term obviously comes from the movie series which portrayed a world in which a few living in military-protected hi-tech luxury were the overlords of a population condemned to abject poverty in isolated 'sectors' that were not allowed to interact. 'Covid' lockdowns and travel bans anyone? The 'Hunger Games' pyramid of structural control has the inner circle of the Cult at the top with pretty much the entire population at the bottom under their control through dependency for survival on the Cult. The whole structure is planned to be protected and enforced by a military-police state (Fig 4).

Here you have the reason for the global lockdowns of the fake pandemic to coldly destroy independent incomes and livelihoods and make everyone dependent on the 'state' (the Cult that controls the 'states'). I have warned in my books for many years about the plan to introduce a 'guaranteed income' – a barely survivable pittance – designed to impose dependency when employment was destroyed by AI technology and now even more comprehensively at great speed by the 'Covid' scam. Once the pandemic was played and lockdown consequences began to delete independent income the authorities began to talk right on cue about the need for a guaranteed income and a 'Great Reset'. Guaranteed income will be presented as benevolent governments seeking to help a desperate people – desperate as a direct result of actions of the same governments. The truth is that such payments are a trap. You will only get them if you do exactly what the authorities demand including mass vaccination (genetic manipulation). We have seen this theme already in Australia where those dependent on government benefits have them reduced if parents don't agree to have their children vaccinated according to an insane healthdestroying government-dictated schedule. Calculated economic collapse applies to governments as well as people. The Cult wants rid of countries through the creation of a world state with countries broken up into regions ruled by a world government and super states like the European Union. Countries must be bankrupted, too, to this end and it's being achieved by the trillions in 'rescue packages' and furlough payments, trillions in lost taxation, and money-no-object spending on 'Covid' including constant allmedium advertising (programming) which has made the media dependent on government for much of its income. The day of reckoning is coming – as planned – for government spending and given that it has been made possible by printing money and not by production/taxation there is inflation on the way that has the potential to wipe out monetary value. In that case there will be no need for the Cult to steal your money. It just won't be worth anything (see the German Weimar Republic before the Nazis took over). Many have been okay with lockdowns while getting a percentage of their income from so-called furlough payments without having to work. Those payments are dependent, however, on people having at least a theoretical job with a business considered non-essential and ordered to close. As these business go under because they are closed by lockdown after lockdown the furlough stops and it will for everyone eventually. Then what? The 'then what?' is precisely the idea.

Figure 4: The Hunger Games Society structure I have long warned was planned and now the 'Covid' hoax has made it possible. This is the real reason for lockdowns.

Hired hands

Between the Hunger Games Cult elite and the dependent population is planned to be a vicious military-police state (a fusion of the two into one force). This has been in the making for a long time with police looking ever more like the military and carrying weapons to match. The pandemic scam has seen this process accelerate so fast as lockdown house arrest is brutally enforced by carefully recruited fascist minds and gormless system-servers. The police and military are planned to merge into a centrally-directed world army in a global structure headed by a world government which wouldn't be elected even by the election fixes now in place. The world army is not planned even to be human and instead wars would be fought, primarily against the population, using robot technology controlled by artificial intelligence. I have been warning about this for decades and now militaries around the world are being transformed by this very AI technology. The global regime that I describe is a particular form of fascism known as a technocracy in which decisions are not made by clueless and co-opted politicians but by unelected technocrats – scientists, engineers, technologists and bureaucrats. Cult-owned-and-controlled Silicon Valley giants are examples of technocracy and they already have far more power to direct world events than governments. They are with their censorship selecting governments. I know that some are calling the 'Great Reset' a Marxist communist takeover, but fascism and Marxism are different labels for the same tyranny. Tell those who lived in fascist Germany and Stalinist Russia that there was a difference in the way their freedom was deleted and their lives controlled. I could call it a fascist technocracy or a Marxist technocracy and they would be equally accurate. The Hunger Games society with its world government structure would oversee a world army, world central bank and single world cashless currency imposing its will on a microchipped population (Fig 5). Scan its different elements and see how the illusory pandemic is forcing society in this very direction at great speed. Leaders of 23 countries and the World Health Organization (WHO) backed the idea in March, 2021, of a global treaty for 'international cooperation' in 'health emergencies' and nations should 'come together as a global community for peaceful cooperation that extends beyond this crisis'. Cut the Orwellian bullshit and this means another step towards global government. The plan includes a cashless digital money system that I first warned about in 1993. Right at the start of 'Covid' the deeply corrupt Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, the crooked and merely gofer 'head' of the World Health Organization, said it was possible to catch the 'virus' by touching cash and it was better to use cashless means. The claim was ridiculous nonsense and like the whole 'Covid' mind-trick it was nothing to do with 'health' and everything to do with pushing every aspect of the Cult agenda. As a result of the Tedros lie the use of cash has plummeted. The Cult script involves a single world digital currency that would eventually be technologically embedded in the body. China is a massive global centre for the Cult and if you watch what is happening there you will know what is planned for everywhere. The Chinese government is developing a digital currency which would allow fines to be deducted immediately via AI for anyone caught on camera breaking its fantastic list of laws and the money is going to be programmable with an expiry date to ensure that no one can accrue wealth except the Cult and its operatives.

Figure 5: The structure of global control the Cult has been working towards for so long and this has been enormously advanced by the 'Covid' illusion.

Serfdom is so smart

The Cult plan is far wider, extreme, and more comprehensive than even most conspiracy researchers appreciate and I will come to the true depths of deceit and control in the chapters 'Who controls the Cult?' and 'Escaping Wetiko'. Even the world that we know is crazy enough. We are being deluged with ever more sophisticated and controlling technology under the heading of 'smart'. We have smart televisions, smart meters, smart cards, smart cars, smart driving, smart roads, smart pills, smart patches, smart watches, smart skin, smart borders, smart pavements, smart streets, smart cities, smart communities, smart environments, smart growth, smart planet ... smart everything around us. Smart technologies and methods of operation are designed to interlock to create a global Smart Grid connecting the entirety of human society including human minds to create a centrally-dictated 'hive' mind. 'Smart cities' is code for densely-occupied megacities of total surveillance and control through AI. Ever more destructive frequency communication systems like 5G have been rolled out without any official testing for health and psychological effects (colossal). 5G/6G/7G systems are needed to run the Smart Grid and each one becomes more destructive of body and mind. Deleting independent income is crucial to forcing people into these AI-policed prisons by ending private property ownership (except for the Cult elite). The Cult's Great Reset now openly foresees a global society in which no one will own any possessions and everything will be rented while the Cult would own literally everything under the guise of government and corporations. The aim has been to use the lockdowns to destroy sources of income on a mass scale and when the people are destitute and in unrepayable amounts of debt (problem) Cult assets come forward with the pledge to write-off debt in return for handing over all property and possessions (solution). Everything – literally everything including people – would be connected to the Internet via AI. I was warning years ago about the coming Internet of Things (IoT) in which all devices and technology from your car to your fridge would be plugged into the Internet and controlled by AI. Now we are already there with much more to come. The next stage is the Internet of Everything (IoE) which is planned to include the connection of AI to the human brain and body to replace the human mind with a centrally-controlled AI mind. Instead of perceptions being manipulated through control of information and censorship those perceptions would come direct from the Cult through AI. What do you think? You think whatever AI decides that you think. In human terms there would be no individual 'think' any longer. Too incredible? The ravings of a lunatic? Not at all. Cult-owned crazies in Silicon Valley have been telling us the plan for years without explaining the real motivation and calculated implications. These include Google executive and 'futurist' Ray Kurzweil who highlights the year 2030 for when this would be underway. He said:

Our thinking ... will be a hybrid of biological and non-biological thinking ... humans will be able to extend their limitations and 'think in the cloud' ... We're going to put gateways to the cloud in our brains ... We're going to gradually merge and enhance ourselves ... In my view, that's the nature of being human – we transcend our limitations.

As the technology becomes vastly superior to what we are then the small proportion that is still human gets smaller and smaller and smaller until it's just utterly negligible.

The sales-pitch of Kurzweil and Cult-owned Silicon Valley is that this would make us 'super-human' when the real aim is to make us post-human and no longer 'human' in the sense that we have come to know. The entire global population would be connected to AI and become the centrally-controlled 'hive-mind' of externally-delivered perceptions. The Smart Grid being installed to impose the Cult's will on the world is being constructed to allow particular locations – even one location – to control the whole global system. From these prime control centres, which absolutely include China and Israel, anything connected to the Internet would be switched on or off and manipulated at will. Energy systems could be cut, communication via the Internet taken down, computer-controlled driverless autonomous vehicles driven off the road, medical devices switched off, the potential is limitless given how much AI and Internet connections now run human society. We have seen nothing yet if we allow this to continue. Autonomous vehicle makers are working with law enforcement to produce cars designed to automatically pull over if they detect a police or emergency vehicle flashing from up to 100 feet away. At a police stop the car would be unlocked and the window rolled down automatically. Vehicles would only take you where the computer (the state) allowed. The end of petrol vehicles and speed limiters on all new cars in the UK and EU from 2022 are steps leading to electric computerised transport over which ultimately you have no control. The picture is far bigger even than the Cult global network or web and that will become clear when I get to the nature of the 'spider'. There is a connection between all these happenings and the instigation of DNA-manipulating 'vaccines' (which aren't 'vaccines') justified by the 'Covid' hoax. That connection is the unfolding plan to transform the human body from a biological to a synthetic biological state and this is why synthetic biology is such a fast-emerging discipline of mainstream science. 'Covid vaccines' are infusing self-replicating synthetic genetic material into the cells to cumulatively take us on the Totalitarian Tiptoe from Human 1.0 to the synthetic biological Human 2.0 which will be physically and perceptually attached to the Smart Grid to one hundred percent control every thought, perception and deed. Humanity needs to wake up and fast.

This is the barest explanation of where the 'outcome' is planned to go but it's enough to see the journey happening all around us. Those new to this information will already see 'Covid' in a whole new context. I will add much more detail as we go along, but for the minutiae evidence see my mega-works, The Answer, The Trigger and Everything You Need to Know But Have Never Been Told.

Now – how does a Renegade Mind see the 'world'?

CHAPTER TWO

Renegade Perception

It is one thing to be clever and another to be wise George R.R. Martin

A simple definition of the difference between a programmed mind and a Renegade Mind would be that one sees only dots while the other connects them to see the picture. Reading reality with accuracy requires the observer to (a) know the planned outcome and (b) realise that everything, but everything, is connected.

The entirety of infinite reality is connected – that's its very nature – and with human society an expression of infinite reality the same must apply. Simple cause and effect is a connection. The effect is triggered by the cause and the effect then becomes the cause of another effect. Nothing happens in isolation because it can't. Life in whatever reality is simple choice and consequence. We make choices and these lead to consequences. If we don't like the consequences we can make different choices and get different consequences which lead to other choices and consequences. The choice and the consequence are not only connected they are indivisible. You can't have one without the other as an old song goes. A few cannot control the world unless those being controlled allow that to happen – cause and effect, choice and consequence. Control – who has it and who doesn't – is a two-way process, a symbiotic relationship, involving the controller and controlled. 'They took my freedom away!!' Well, yes, but you also gave it to them. Humanity is subjected to mass control because humanity has acquiesced to that control. This is all cause and effect and literally a case of give and take. In the same way world events of every kind are connected and the Cult works incessantly to sell the illusion of the random and coincidental to maintain the essential (to them) perception of dots that hide the picture. Renegade Minds know this and constantly scan the world for patterns of connection. This is absolutely pivotal in understanding the happenings in the world and without that perspective clarity is impossible. First you know the planned outcome and then you identify the steps on the journey – the day-by-day apparently random which, when connected in relation to the outcome, no longer appear as individual events, but as the proverbial chain of events leading in the same direction. I'll give you some examples:

Political puppet show

We are told to believe that politics is 'adversarial' in that different parties with different beliefs engage in an endless tussle for power. There may have been some truth in that up to a point – and only a point – but today divisions between 'different' parties are rhetorical not ideological. Even the rhetorical is fusing into one-speak as the parties eject any remaining free thinkers while others succumb to the ever-gathering intimidation of anyone with the 'wrong' opinion. The Cult is not a new phenomenon and can be traced back thousands of years as my books have documented. Its intergenerational initiates have been manipulating events with increasing effect the more that global power has been centralised. In ancient times the Cult secured control through the system of monarchy in which 'special' bloodlines (of which more later) demanded the right to rule as kings and queens simply by birthright and by vanquishing others who claimed the same birthright. There came a time, however, when people had matured enough to see the unfairness of such tyranny and demanded a say in who governed them. Note the word – governed them. Not served them – governed them, hence government defined as 'the political direction and control exercised over the actions of the members, citizens, or inhabitants of communities, societies, and states; direction of the affairs of a state, community, etc.' Governments exercise control over rather than serve just like the monarchies before them. Bizarrely there are still countries like the United Kingdom which are ruled by a monarch and a government that officially answers to the monarch. The UK head of state and that of Commonwealth countries such as Canada, Australia and New Zealand is 'selected' by who in a single family had unprotected sex with whom and in what order. Pinch me it can't be true. Ouch! Shit, it is. The demise of monarchies in most countries offered a potential vacuum in which some form of free and fair society could arise and the Cult had that base covered. Monarchies had served its interests but they couldn't continue in the face of such widespread opposition and, anyway, replacing a 'royal' dictatorship that people could see with a dictatorship 'of the people' hiding behind the concept of 'democracy' presented far greater manipulative possibilities and ways of hiding coordinated tyranny behind the illusion of 'freedom'.

Democracy is quite wrongly defined as government selected by the population. This is not the case at all. It is government selected by some of the population (and then only in theory). This 'some' doesn't even have to be the majority as we have seen so often in firstpast-the-post elections in which the so-called majority party wins fewer votes than the 'losing' parties combined. Democracy can give total power to a party in government from a minority of the votes cast. It's a sleight of hand to sell tyranny as freedom. Seventy-four million Trump-supporting Americans didn't vote for the 'Democratic' Party of Joe Biden in the distinctly dodgy election in 2020 and yet far from acknowledging the wishes and feelings of that great percentage of American society the Cult-owned Biden government set out from day one to destroy them and their right to a voice and opinion. Empty shell Biden and his Cult handlers said they were doing this to 'protect democracy'. Such is the level of lunacy and sickness to which politics has descended. Connect the dots and relate them to the desired outcome – a world government run by self-appointed technocrats and no longer even elected politicians. While operating through its political agents in government the Cult is at the same time encouraging public distain for politicians by putting idiots and incompetents in theoretical power on the road to deleting them. The idea is to instil a public reaction that says of the technocrats: 'Well, they couldn't do any worse than the pathetic politicians.' It's all about controlling perception and Renegade Minds can see through that while programmed minds cannot when they are ignorant of both the planned outcome and the manipulation techniques employed to secure that end. This knowledge can be learned, however, and fast if people choose to get informed.

Politics may at first sight appear very difficult to control from a central point. I mean look at the 'different' parties and how would you be able to oversee them all and their constituent parts? In truth, it's very straightforward because of their structure. We are back to the pyramid of imposition and acquiescence. Organisations are structured in the same way as the system as a whole. Political parties are not open forums of free expression. They are hierarchies. I was a national spokesman for the British Green Party which claimed to be a different kind of politics in which influence and power was devolved; but I can tell you from direct experience – and it's far worse now – that Green parties are run as hierarchies like all the others however much they may try to hide that fact or kid themselves that it's not true. A very few at the top of all political parties are directing policy and personnel. They decide if you are elevated in the party or serve as a government minister and to do that you have to be a yes man or woman. Look at all the maverick political thinkers who never ascended the greasy pole. If you want to progress within the party or reach 'high-office' you need to fall into line and conform. Exceptions to this are rare indeed. Should you want to run for parliament or Congress you have to persuade the local or state level of the party to select you and for that you need to play the game as dictated by the hierarchy. If you secure election and wish to progress within the greater structure you need to go on conforming to what is acceptable to those running the hierarchy from the peak of the pyramid. Political parties are perceptual gulags and the very fact that there are party 'Whips' appointed to 'whip' politicians into voting the way the hierarchy demands exposes the ridiculous idea that politicians are elected to serve the people they are supposed to represent. Cult operatives and manipulation has long seized control of major parties that have any chance of forming a government and at least most of those that haven't. A new party forms and the Cult goes to work to infiltrate and direct. This has reached such a level today that you see video compilations of 'leaders' of all parties whether Democrats, Republicans, Conservative, Labour and Green parroting the same Cult mantra of 'Build Back Better' and the 'Great Reset' which are straight off the Cult song-sheet to describe the transformation of global society in response to the Cult-instigated hoaxes of the 'Covid pandemic' and human-caused 'climate change'. To see Caroline Lucas, the Green Party MP that I knew when I was in the party in the 1980s, speaking in support of plans proposed by Cult operative Klaus Schwab representing the billionaire global elite is a real head-shaker.

Many parties – one master

The party system is another mind-trick and was instigated to change the nature of the dictatorship by swapping 'royalty' for dark suits that people believed – though now ever less so – represented their interests. Understanding this trick is to realise that a single force (the Cult) controls all parties either directly in terms of the major ones or through manipulation of perception and ideology with others. You don't need to manipulate Green parties to demand your transformation of society in the name of 'climate change' when they are obsessed with the lie that this is essential to 'save the planet'. You just give them a platform and away they go serving your interests while believing they are being environmentally virtuous. America's political structure is a perfect blueprint for how the two or multiparty system is really a one-party state. The Republican Party is controlled from one step back in the shadows by a group made up of billionaires and their gofers known as neoconservatives or Neocons.

I have exposed them in fine detail in my books and they were the driving force behind the policies of the imbecilic presidency of Boy George Bush which included 9/11 (see The Trigger for a comprehensive demolition of the official story), the subsequent 'war on terror' (war of terror) and the invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq. The latter was a No-Problem-Reaction-Solution based on claims by Cult operatives, including Bush and British Prime Minister Tony Blair, about Saddam Hussein's 'weapons of mass destruction' which did not exist as war criminals Bush and Blair well knew.

The Democratic Party has its own 'Neocon' group controlling from the background which I call the 'Democons' and here's the penny-drop – the Neocons and Democons answer to the same masters one step further back into the shadows (Fig 6). At that level of the Cult the Republican and Democrat parties are controlled by the same people and no matter which is in power the Cult is in power. This is how it works in almost every country and certainly in Britain with Conservative, Labour, Liberal Democrat and Green parties now all on the same page whatever the rhetoric may be in their feeble attempts to appear different. Neocons operated at the time of Bush through a think tank called The Project for the New American Century which in September, 2000, published a document entitled Rebuilding America's Defenses: Strategies, Forces, and Resources

For a New Century demanding that America fight 'multiple, simultaneous major theatre wars' as a 'core mission' to force regimechange in countries including Iraq, Libya and Syria. Neocons arranged for Bush ('Republican') and Blair ('Labour Party') to frontup the invasion of Iraq and when they departed the Democons orchestrated the targeting of Libya and Syria through Barack Obama ('Democrat') and British Prime Minister David Cameron ('Conservative Party'). We have 'different' parties and 'different' people, but the same unfolding script. The more the Cult has seized the reigns of parties and personnel the more their policies have transparently pursued the same agenda to the point where the fascist 'Covid' impositions of the Conservative junta of Jackboot Johnson in Britain were opposed by the Labour Party because they were not fascist enough. The Labour Party is likened to the US Democrats while the Conservative Party is akin to a British version of the Republicans and on both sides of the Atlantic they all speak the same language and support the direction demanded by the Cult although some more enthusiastically than others. It's a similar story in country after country because it's all centrally controlled. Oh, but what about Trump? I'll come to him shortly. Political 'choice' in the 'party' system goes like this: You vote for Party A and they get into government. You don't like what they do so next time you vote for Party B and they get into government. You don't like what they do when it's pretty much the same as Party A and why wouldn't that be with both controlled by the same force? Given that only two, sometimes three, parties have any chance of forming a government to get rid of Party B that you don't like you have to vote again for Party A which ... you don't like. This, ladies and gentlemen, is what they call 'democracy' which we are told – wrongly – is a term interchangeable with 'freedom'.

The cult of cults

At this point I need to introduce a major expression of the Global Cult known as Sabbatian-Frankism. Sabbatian is also spelt as Sabbatean. I will summarise here. I have published major exposés and detailed background in other works. Sabbatian-Frankism combines the names of two frauds posing as 'Jewish' men, Sabbatai Zevi (1626-1676), a rabbi, black magician and occultist who proclaimed he was the Jewish messiah; and Jacob Frank (1726-1791), the Polish 'Jew', black magician and occultist who said he was the reincarnation of 'messiah' Zevi and biblical patriarch Jacob. They worked across two centuries to establish the Sabbatian-Frankist cult that plays a major, indeed central, role in the manipulation of human society by the Global Cult which has its origins much further back in history than Sabbatai Zevi. I should emphasise two points here in response to the shrill voices that will scream 'anti-Semitism': (1) Sabbatian-Frankists are NOT Jewish and only pose as such to hide their cult behind a Jewish façade; and (2) my information about this cult has come from Jewish sources who have long realised that their society and community has been infiltrated and taken over by interloper Sabbatian-Frankists. Infiltration has been the foundation technique of Sabbatian-Frankism from its official origin in the 17th century. Zevi's Sabbatian sect attracted a massive following described as the biggest messianic movement in Jewish history, spreading as far as Africa and Asia, and he promised a return for the Jews to the 'Promised Land' of Israel. Sabbatianism was not Judaism but an inversion of everything that mainstream Judaism stood for. So much so that this sinister cult would have a feast day when Judaism had a fast day and whatever was forbidden in Judaism the Sabbatians were encouraged and even commanded to do. This included incest and what would be today called Satanism. Members were forbidden to marry outside the sect and there was a system of keeping their children ignorant of what they were part of until they were old enough to be trusted not to unknowingly reveal anything to outsiders. The same system is employed to this day by the Global Cult in general which Sabbatian-Frankism has enormously influenced and now largely controls.

Zevi and his Sabbatians suffered a setback with the intervention by the Sultan of the Islamic Ottoman Empire in the Middle East and what is now the Republic of Turkey where Zevi was located. The Sultan gave him the choice of proving his 'divinity', converting to Islam or facing torture and death. Funnily enough Zevi chose to convert or at least appear to. Some of his supporters were disillusioned and drifted away, but many did not with 300 families also converting – only in theory – to Islam. They continued behind this Islamic smokescreen to follow the goals, rules and rituals of Sabbatianism and became known as 'crypto-Jews' or the 'Dönmeh' which means 'to turn'. This is rather ironic because they didn't 'turn' and instead hid behind a fake Islamic persona. The process of appearing to be one thing while being very much another would become the calling card of Sabbatianism especially after Zevi's death and the arrival of the Satanist Jacob Frank in the 18th century when the cult became Sabbatian-Frankism and plumbed still new depths of depravity and infiltration which included – still includes – human sacrifice and sex with children. Wherever Sabbatians go paedophilia and Satanism follow and is it really a surprise that Hollywood is so infested with child abuse and Satanism when it was established by Sabbatian-Frankists and is still controlled by them? Hollywood has been one of the prime vehicles for global perceptual programming and manipulation. How many believe the version of 'history' portrayed in movies when it is a travesty and inversion (again) of the truth? Rabbi Marvin Antelman describes Frankism in his book. To Eliminate the Opiate, as 'a movement of complete evil' while Jewish professor Gershom Scholem said of Frank in The Messianic Idea in Judaism: 'In all his actions [he was] a truly corrupt and degenerate individual ... one of the most frightening phenomena in the whole of Jewish history.' Frank was excommunicated by traditional rabbis, as was Zevi, but Frank was undeterred and enjoyed vital support from the House of Rothschild, the infamous banking dynasty whose inner-core are Sabbatian-Frankists and not Jews. Infiltration of the Roman Church and Vatican was instigated by Frank with many Dönmeh 'turning' again to convert to Roman Catholicism with a view to hijacking the reins of power. This was the ever-repeating modus operandi and continues to be so. Pose as an advocate of the religion, culture or country that you want to control and then manipulate your people into the positions of authority and influence largely as advisers, administrators and Svengalis for those that appear to be in power. They did this with Judaism, Christianity (Christian Zionism is part of this), Islam and other religions and nations until Sabbatian-Frankism spanned the world as it does today.

Sabbatian Saudis and the terror network

One expression of the Sabbatian-Frankist Dönmeh within Islam is the ruling family of Saudi Arabia, the House of Saud, through which came the vile distortion of Islam known as Wahhabism. This is the violent creed followed by terrorist groups like Al-Qaeda and ISIS or Islamic State. Wahhabism is the hand-chopping, head-chopping 'religion' of Saudi Arabia which is used to keep the people in a constant state of fear so the interloper House of Saud can continue to rule. Al-Qaeda and Islamic State were lavishly funded by the House of Saud while being created and directed by the Sabbatian-Frankist network in the United States that operates through the Pentagon, CIA and the government in general of whichever 'party'. The front man for the establishment of Wahhabism in the middle of the 18th century was a Sabbatian-Frankist 'crypto-Jew' posing as Islamic called Muhammad ibn Abd al-Wahhab. His daughter would marry the son of Muhammad bin Saud who established the first Saudi state before his death in 1765 with support from the British Empire. Bin Saud's successors would establish modern Saudi Arabia in league with the British and Americans in 1932 which allowed them to seize control of Islam's major shrines in Mecca and Medina. They have dictated the direction of Sunni Islam ever since while Iran is the major centre of the Shiite version and here we have the source of at least the public conflict between them. The Sabbatian network has used its Wahhabi extremists to carry out Problem-Reaction-Solution terrorist attacks in the name of 'Al-Qaeda' and 'Islamic State' to justify a devastating 'war on terror', ever-increasing surveillance of the population and to terrify people into compliance. Another insight of the Renegade Mind is the streetwise understanding that just because a country, location or people are attacked doesn't mean that those apparently representing that country, location or people are not behind the attackers. Often they are orchestrating the attacks because of the societal changes that can be then justified in the name of 'saving the population from terrorists'.

I show in great detail in The Trigger how Sabbatian-Frankists were the real perpetrators of 9/11 and not '19 Arab hijackers' who were blamed for what happened. Observe what was justified in the name of 9/11 alone in terms of Middle East invasions, mass surveillance and control that fulfilled the demands of the Project for the New American Century document published by the Sabbatian Neocons. What appear to be enemies are on the deep inside players on the same Sabbatian team. Israel and Arab 'royal' dictatorships are all ruled by Sabbatians and the recent peace agreements between Israel and Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates (UAE) and others are only making formal what has always been the case behind the scenes. Palestinians who have been subjected to grotesque tyranny since Israel was bombed and terrorised into existence in 1948 have never stood a chance. Sabbatian-Frankists have controlled Israel (so the constant theme of violence and war which Sabbatians love) and they have controlled the Arab countries that Palestinians have looked to for real support that never comes. 'Royal families' of the Arab world in Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, UAE, etc., are all Sabbatians with allegiance to the aims of the cult and not what is best for their Arabic populations. They have stolen the oil and financial resources from their people by false claims to be 'royal dynasties' with a genetic right to rule and by employing vicious militaries to impose their will.

Satanic 'illumination'

The Satanist Jacob Frank formed an alliance in 1773 with two other Sabbatians, Mayer Amschel Rothschild (1744-1812), founder of the Rothschild banking dynasty, and Jesuit-educated fraudulent Jew, Adam Weishaupt, and this led to the formation of the Bavarian Illuminati, firstly under another name, in 1776. The Illuminati would be the manipulating force behind the French Revolution (1789-1799) and was also involved in the American Revolution (1775-1783) before and after the Illuminati's official creation. Weishaupt would later become (in public) a Protestant Christian in archetypal Sabbatian style. I read that his name can be decoded as Adam-Weishaupt or 'the first man to lead those who know'. He wasn't a leader in the sense that he was a subordinate, but he did lead those below him in a crusade of transforming human society that still continues today. The theme was confirmed as early as 1785 when a horseman courier called Lanz was reported to be struck by lighting and extensive Illuminati documents were found in his saddlebags. They made the link to Weishaupt and detailed the plan for world takeover. Current events with 'Covid' fascism have been in the making for a very long time. Jacob Frank was jailed for 13 years by the Catholic Inquisition after his arrest in 1760 and on his release he headed for Frankfurt, Germany, home city and headquarters of the House of Rothschild where the alliance was struck with Mayer Amschel Rothschild and Weishaupt. Rothschild arranged for Frank to be given the title of Baron and he became a wealthy nobleman with a big following of Jews in Germany, the Austro-Hungarian Empire and other European countries. Most of them would have believed he was on their side.

The name 'Illuminati' came from the Zohar which is a body of works in the Jewish mystical 'bible' called the Kabbalah. 'Zohar' is the foundation of Sabbatian-Frankist belief and in Hebrew 'Zohar' means 'splendour', 'radiance', 'illuminated', and so we have 'Illuminati'. They claim to be the 'Illuminated Ones' from their knowledge systematically hidden from the human population and passed on through generations of carefully-chosen initiates in the global secret society network or Cult. Hidden knowledge includes an awareness of the Cult agenda for the world and the nature of our collective reality that I will explore later. Cult 'illumination' is symbolised by the torch held by the Statue of Liberty which was gifted to New York by French Freemasons in Paris who knew exactly what it represents. 'Liberty' symbolises the goddess worshipped in Babylon as Queen Semiramis or Ishtar. The significance of this will become clear. Notice again the ubiquitous theme of inversion with the Statue of 'Liberty' really symbolising mass control (Fig 7). A mirror-image statute stands on an island in the River Seine in Paris from where New York Liberty originated (Fig 8). A large replica of the Liberty flame stands on top of the Pont de l'Alma tunnel in Paris where Princess Diana died in a Cult ritual described in The Biggest Secret. Lucifer 'the light bringer' is related to all this (and much more as we'll see) and 'Lucifer' is a central figure in Sabbatian-Frankism and its associated Satanism. Sabbatians reject the Jewish Torah, or Pentateuch, the 'five books of Moses' in the Old Testament known as Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy which are claimed by Judaism and Christianity to have been dictated by 'God' to Moses on Mount Sinai. Sabbatians say these do not apply to them and they seek to replace them with the Zohar to absorb Judaism and its followers into their inversion which is an expression of a much greater global inversion. They want to delete all religions and force humanity to worship a one-world religion – Sabbatian Satanism that also includes worship of the Earth goddess. Satanic themes are being more and more introduced into mainstream society and while Christianity is currently the foremost target for destruction the others are planned to follow.

Marx brothers

Rabbi Marvin Antelman connects the Illuminati to the Jacobins in To Eliminate the Opiate and Jacobins were the force behind the French Revolution. He links both to the Bund der Gerechten, or League of the Just, which was the network that inflicted communism/Marxism on the world. Antelman wrote:

The original inner circle of the Bund der Gerechten consisted of born Catholics, Protestants and Jews [Sabbatian-Frankist infiltrators], and those representatives of respective subdivisions formulated schemes for the ultimate destruction of their faiths. The heretical Catholics laid plans which they felt would take a century or more for the ultimate destruction of the church; the apostate Jews for the ultimate destruction of the Jewish religion.

Sabbatian-created communism connects into this anti-religion agenda in that communism does not allow for the free practice of religion. The Sabbatian 'Bund' became the International Communist Party and Communist League and in 1848 'Marxism' was born with the Communist Manifesto of Sabbatian assets Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels. It is absolutely no coincidence that Marxism, just a different name for fascist and other centrally-controlled tyrannies, is being imposed worldwide as a result of the 'Covid' hoax and nor that Marxist/fascist China was the place where the hoax originated. The reason for this will become very clear in the chapter 'Covid: The calculated catastrophe'. The so-called 'Woke' mentality has hijacked traditional beliefs of the political left and replaced them with farright make-believe 'social justice' better known as Marxism. Woke will, however, be swallowed by its own perceived 'revolution' which is really the work of billionaires and billionaire corporations feigning being 'Woke'. Marxism is being touted by Wokers as a replacement for 'capitalism' when we don't have 'capitalism'. We have cartelism in which the market is stitched up by the very Cult billionaires and corporations bankrolling Woke. Billionaires love Marxism which keeps the people in servitude while they control from the top. Terminally naïve Wokers think they are 'changing the world' when it's the Cult that is doing the changing and when they have played their vital part and become surplus to requirements they, too, will be targeted. The Illuminati-Jacobins were behind the period known as 'The Terror' in the French Revolution in 1793 and 1794 when Jacobin Maximillian de Robespierre and his Orwellian 'Committee of Public Safety' killed 17,000 'enemies of the Revolution' who had once been 'friends of the Revolution'. Karl Marx (1818-1883), whose Sabbatian creed of Marxism has cost the lives of at least 100 million people, is a hero once again to Wokers who have been systematically kept ignorant of real history by their 'education' programming. As a result they now promote a Sabbatian 'Marxist' abomination destined at some point to consume them. Rabbi Antelman, who spent decades researching the Sabbatian plot, said of the League of the Just and Karl Marx:

Contrary to popular opinion Karl Marx did not originate the Communist Manifesto. He was paid for his services by the League of the Just, which was known in its country of origin, Germany, as the Bund der Geaechteten.

Antelman said the text attributed to Marx was the work of other people and Marx 'was only repeating what others already said'. Marx was 'a hired hack – lackey of the wealthy Illuminists'. Marx famously said that religion was the 'opium of the people' (part of the Sabbatian plan to demonise religion) and Antelman called his books, To Eliminate the Opiate. Marx was born Jewish, but his family converted to Christianity (Sabbatian modus operandi) and he attacked Jews, not least in his book, A World Without Jews. In doing so he supported the Sabbatian plan to destroy traditional Jewishness and Judaism which we are clearly seeing today with the vindictive targeting of orthodox Jews by the Sabbatian government of Israel over 'Covid' laws. I don't follow any religion and it has done much damage to the world over centuries and acted as a perceptual straightjacket. Renegade Minds, however, are always asking why something is being done. It doesn't matter if they agree or disagree with what is happening – why is it happening is the question. The 'why?' can be answered with regard to religion in that religions create interacting communities of believers when the Cult wants to dismantle all discourse, unity and interaction (see 'Covid' lockdowns) and the ultimate goal is to delete all religions for a oneworld religion of Cult Satanism worshipping their 'god' of which more later. We see the same 'why?' with gun control in America. I don't have guns and don't want them, but why is the Cult seeking to disarm the population at the same time that law enforcement agencies are armed to their molars and why has every tyrant in history sought to disarm people before launching the final takeover? They include Hitler, Stalin, Pol Pot and Mao who followed confiscation with violent seizing of power. You know it's a Cult agenda by the people who immediately race to the microphones to exploit dead people in multiple shootings. Ultra-Zionist Cult lackey Senator Chuck Schumer was straight on the case after ten people were killed in Boulder, Colorado in March, 2121. Simple rule ... if Schumer wants it the Cult wants it and the same with his ultra-Zionist mate the wild-eyed Senator Adam Schiff. At the same time they were calling for the disarmament of Americans, many of whom live a long way from a police response, Schumer, Schiff and the rest of these pampered clowns were sitting on Capitol Hill behind a razor-wired security fence protected by thousands of armed troops in addition to their own armed bodyguards. Mom and pop in an isolated home? They're just potential mass shooters.

Zion Mainframe

Sabbatian-Frankists and most importantly the Rothschilds were behind the creation of 'Zionism', a political movement that demanded a Jewish homeland in Israel as promised by Sabbatai Zevi. The very symbol of Israel comes from the German meaning of the name Rothschild. Dynasty founder Mayer Amschel Rothschild changed the family name from Bauer to Rothschild, or 'Red-Shield' in German, in deference to the six-pointed 'Star of David' hexagram displayed on the family's home in Frankfurt. The symbol later appeared on the flag of Israel after the Rothschilds were centrally involved in its creation. Hexagrams are not a uniquely Jewish symbol and are widely used in occult ('hidden') networks often as a symbol for Saturn (see my other books for why). Neither are Zionism and Jewishness interchangeable. Zionism is a political movement and philosophy and not a 'race' or a people. Many Jews oppose Zionism and many non-Jews, including US President Joe Biden, call themselves Zionists as does Israel-centric Donald Trump. America's support for the Israel government is pretty much a gimme with ultra-Zionist billionaires and corporations providing fantastic and dominant funding for both political parties. Former Congresswoman Cynthia McKinney has told how she was approached immediately she ran for office to 'sign the pledge' to Israel and confirm that she would always vote in that country's best interests. All American politicians are approached in this way. Anyone who refuses will get no support or funding from the enormous and all-powerful Zionist lobby that includes organisations like mega-lobby group AIPAC, the American Israel Public Affairs Committee. Trump's biggest funder was ultra-Zionist casino and media billionaire Sheldon Adelson while major funders of the Democratic Party include ultra-Zionist George Soros and ultra-Zionist financial and media mogul, Haim Saban. Some may reel back at the suggestion that Soros is an Israel-firster (Sabbatian-controlled Israel-firster), but Renegade Minds watch the actions not the words and everywhere Soros donates his billions the Sabbatian agenda benefits. In the spirit of Sabbatian inversion Soros pledged $1 billion for a new university network to promote 'liberal values and tackle intolerance'. He made the announcement during his annual speech at the Cult-owned World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland, in January, 2020, after his 'harsh criticism' of 'authoritarian rulers' around the world. You can only laugh at such brazen mendacity. How he doesn't laugh is the mystery. Translated from the Orwellian 'liberal values and tackle intolerance' means teaching non-white people to hate white people and for white people to loathe themselves for being born white. The reason for that will become clear.

The 'Anti-Semitism' fraud

Zionists support the Jewish homeland in the land of Palestine which has been the Sabbatian-Rothschild goal for so long, but not for the benefit of Jews. Sabbatians and their global Anti-Semitism Industry have skewed public and political opinion to equate opposing the violent extremes of Zionism to be a blanket attack and condemnation of all Jewish people. Sabbatians and their global Anti-Semitism Industry have skewed public and political opinion to equate opposing the violent extremes of Zionism to be a blanket attack and condemnation of all Jewish people. This is nothing more than a Sabbatian protection racket to stop legitimate investigation and exposure of their agendas and activities. The official definition of 'anti-Semitism' has more recently been expanded to include criticism of Zionism – a political movement – and this was done to further stop exposure of Sabbatian infiltrators who created Zionism as we know it today in the 19th century. Renegade Minds will talk about these subjects when they know the shit that will come their way. People must decide if they want to know the truth or just cower in the corner in fear of what others will say. Sabbatians have been trying to label me as 'anti-Semitic' since the 1990s as I have uncovered more and more about their background and agendas. Useless, gutless, fraudulent 'journalists' then just repeat the smears without question and on the day I was writing this section a pair of unquestioning repeaters called Ben Quinn and Archie Bland (how appropriate) outright called me an 'anti-Semite' in the establishment propaganda sheet, the London Guardian, with no supporting evidence. The Sabbatian Anti-Semitism Industry said so and who are they to question that? They wouldn't dare. Ironically 'Semitic' refers to a group of languages in the Middle East that are almost entirely Arabic. 'Anti-Semitism' becomes 'anti-Arab' which if the consequences of this misunderstanding were not so grave would be hilarious. Don't bother telling Quinn and Bland. I don't want to confuse them, bless 'em. One reason I am dubbed 'anti-Semitic' is that I wrote in the 1990s that Jewish operatives (Sabbatians) were heavily involved in the Russian Revolution when Sabbatians overthrew the Romanov dynasty. This apparently made me 'anti-Semitic'. Oh, really? Here is a section from The Trigger:

British journalist Robert Wilton confirmed these themes in his 1920 book The Last Days of the Romanovs when he studied official documents from the Russian government to identify the members of the Bolshevik ruling elite between 1917 and 1919. The Central Committee included 41 Jews among 62 members; the Council of the People's Commissars had 17 Jews out of 22 members; and 458 of the 556 most important Bolshevik positions between 1918 and 1919 were occupied by Jewish people. Only 17 were Russian. Then there were the 23 Jews among the 36 members of the vicious Cheka Soviet secret police established in 1917 who would soon appear all across the country.

Professor Robert Service of Oxford University, an expert on 20th century Russian history, found evidence that ['Jewish'] Leon Trotsky had sought to make sure that Jews were enrolled in the Red Army and were disproportionately represented in the Soviet civil bureaucracy that included the Cheka which performed mass arrests, imprisonment and executions of 'enemies of the people'. A US State Department Decimal File (861.00/5339) dated November 13th, 1918, names [Rothschild banking agent in America] Jacob Schiff and a list of ultra-Zionists as funders of the Russian Revolution leading to claims of a 'Jewish plot', but the key point missed by all is they were not 'Jews' – they were Sabbatian-Frankists.

Britain's Winston Churchill made the same error by mistake or otherwise. He wrote in a 1920 edition of the Illustrated Sunday Herald that those behind the Russian revolution were part of a 'worldwide conspiracy for the overthrow of civilisation and for the reconstitution of society on the basis of arrested development, of envious malevolence, and impossible equality' (see 'Woke' today because that has been created by the same network). Churchill said there was no need to exaggerate the part played in the creation of Bolshevism and in the actual bringing about of the Russian Revolution 'by these international and for the most part atheistical Jews' ['atheistical Jews' = Sabbatians]. Churchill said it is certainly a very great one and probably outweighs all others: 'With the notable exception of Lenin, the majority of the leading figures are Jews.' He went on to describe, knowingly or not, the Sabbatian modus operandi of placing puppet leaders nominally in power while they control from the background:

Moreover, the principal inspiration and driving power comes from the Jewish leaders. Thus Tchitcherin, a pure Russian, is eclipsed by his nominal subordinate, Litvinoff, and the influence of Russians like Bukharin or Lunacharski cannot be compared with the power of Trotsky, or of Zinovieff, the Dictator of the Red Citadel (Petrograd), or of Krassin or Radek – all Jews. In the Soviet institutions the predominance of Jews is even more astonishing. And the prominent, if not indeed the principal, part in the system of terrorism applied by the Extraordinary Commissions for Combatting Counter-Revolution has been taken by Jews, and in some notable cases by Jewesses.

What I said about seriously disproportionate involvement in the Russian Revolution by Jewish 'revolutionaries' (Sabbatians) is provable fact, but truth is no defence against the Sabbatian Anti-Semitism Industry, its repeater parrots like Quinn and Bland, and the now breathtaking network of so-called 'Woke' 'anti-hate' groups with interlocking leaderships and funding which have the role of discrediting and silencing anyone who gets too close to exposing the Sabbatians. We have seen 'truth is no defence' confirmed in legal judgements with the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission in Canada decreeing this: 'Truthful statements can be presented in a manner that would meet the definition of hate speech, and not all truthful statements must be free from restriction.' Most 'anti-hate' activists, who are themselves consumed by hatred, are too stupid and ignorant of the world to know how they are being used. They are far too far up their own virtue-signalling arses and it's far too dark for them to see anything.

The 'revolution' game

and endless others around the world that appear to start as a revolution of the people against tyrannical rule and end up with a regime change to more tyrannical rule overtly or covertly. Wars, terror attacks and regime overthrows follow the Sabbatian cult through history with its agents creating them as Problem-Reaction-Solutions to remove opposition on the road to world domination. Sabbatian dots connect the Rothschilds with the Illuminati, Jacobins of the French Revolution, the 'Bund' or League of the Just, the International Communist Party, Communist League and the Communist Manifesto of Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels that would lead to the Rothschild-funded Russian Revolution. The sequence comes under the heading of 'creative destruction' when you advance to your global goal by continually destroying the status quo to install a new status quo which you then also destroy. The two world wars come to mind. With each new status quo you move closer to your planned outcome. Wars and mass murder are to Sabbatians a collective blood sacrifice ritual. They are obsessed with death for many reasons and one is that death is an inversion of life. Satanists and Sabbatians are obsessed with death and often target churches and churchyards for their rituals. Inversion-obsessed Sabbatians explain the use of inverted symbolism including the inverted pentagram and inverted cross. The inversion of the cross has been related to targeting Christianity, but the cross was a religious symbol long before Christianity and its inversion is a statement about the Sabbatian mentality and goals more than any single religion.

Sabbatians operating in Germany were behind the rise of the occult-obsessed Nazis and the subsequent Jewish exodus from Germany and Europe to Palestine and the United States after World War Two. The Rothschild dynasty was at the forefront of this both as political manipulators and by funding the operation. Why would Sabbatians help to orchestrate the horrors inflicted on Jews by the Nazis and by Stalin after they organised the Russian Revolution? Sabbatians hate Jews and their religion, that's why. They pose as Jews and secure positions of control within Jewish society and play the 'anti-Semitism' card to protect themselves from exposure through a global network of organisations answering to the Sabbatian-created-and-controlled globe-spanning intelligence network that involves a stunning web of military-intelligence operatives and operations for a tiny country of just nine million. Among them are Jewish assets who are not Sabbatians but have been convinced by them that what they are doing is for the good of Israel and the Jewish community to protect them from what they have been programmed since childhood to believe is a Jew-hating hostile world. The Jewish community is just a highly convenient cover to hide the true nature of Sabbatians. Anyone getting close to exposing their game is accused by Sabbatian place-people and gofers of 'anti-Semitism' and claiming that all Jews are part of a plot to take over the world. I am not saying that. I am saying that Sabbatians – the real Jew-haters – have infiltrated the Jewish community to use them both as a cover and an 'anti-Semitic' defence against exposure. Thus we have the Anti-Semitism Industry targeted researchers in this way and most Jewish people think this is justified and genuine. They don't know that their 'Jewish' leaders and institutions of state, intelligence and military are not controlled by Jews at all, but cultists and stooges of Sabbatian-Frankism. I once added my name to a pro-Jewish freedom petition online and the next time I looked my name was gone and text had been added to the petition blurb to attack me as an 'anti-Semite' such is the scale of perceptual programming.

Moving on America

I tell the story in The Trigger and a chapter called 'Atlantic Crossing' how particularly after Israel was established the Sabbatians moved in on the United States and eventually grasped control of government administration, the political system via both Democrats and Republicans, the intelligence community like the CIA and National Security Agency (NSA), the Pentagon and mass media. Through this seriously compartmentalised network Sabbatians and their operatives in Mossad, Israeli Defense Forces (IDF) and US agencies pulled off 9/11 and blamed it on 19 'Al-Qaeda hijackers' dominated by men from, or connected to, Sabbatian-ruled Saudi Arabia. The '19' were not even on the planes let alone flew those big passenger jets into buildings while being largely incompetent at piloting one-engine light aircraft. 'Hijacker' Hani Hanjour who is said to have flown American Airlines Flight 77 into the Pentagon with a turn and manoeuvre most professional pilots said they would have struggled to do was banned from renting a small plane by instructors at the Freeway Airport in Bowie, Maryland, just six weeks earlier on the grounds that he was an incompetent pilot. The Jewish population of the world is just 0.2 percent with even that almost entirely concentrated in Israel (75 percent Jewish) and the United States (around two percent). This two percent and globally 0.2 percent refers to Jewish people and not Sabbatian interlopers who are a fraction of that fraction. What a sobering thought when you think of the fantastic influence on world affairs of tiny Israel and that the Project for the New America Century (PNAC) which laid out the blueprint in September, 2000, for America's war on terror and regime change wars in Iraq, Libya and Syria was founded and dominated by Sabbatians known as 'Neocons'. The document conceded that this plan would not be supported politically or publicly without a major attack on American soil and a Problem-Reaction-Solution excuse to send troops to war across the Middle East. Sabbatian Neocons said:

... [The] process of transformation ... [war and regime change] ... is likely to be a long one, absent some catastrophic and catalysing event – like a new Pearl Harbor.

Four months later many of those who produced that document came to power with their inane puppet George Bush from the long-time Sabbatian Bush family. They included Sabbatian Dick Cheney who was officially vice-president, but really de-facto president for the entirety of the 'Bush' government. Nine months after the 'Bush' inauguration came what Bush called at the time 'the Pearl Harbor of the 21st century' and with typical Sabbatian timing and symbolism 2001 was the 60th anniversary of the attack in 1941 by the Japanese Air Force on Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, which allowed President Franklin Delano Roosevelt to take the United States into a Sabbatian-instigated Second World War that he said in his election campaign that he never would. The evidence is overwhelming that Roosevelt and his military and intelligence networks knew the attack was coming and did nothing to stop it, but they did make sure that America's most essential naval ships were not in Hawaii at the time. Three thousand Americans died in the Pearl Harbor attacks as they did on September 11th. By the 9/11 year of 2001 Sabbatians had widely infiltrated the US government, military and intelligence operations and used their compartmentalised assets to pull off the 'Al-Qaeda' attacks. If you read The Trigger it will blow your mind to see the utterly staggering concentration of 'Jewish' operatives (Sabbatian infiltrators) in essential positions of political, security, legal, law enforcement, financial and business power before, during, and after the attacks to make them happen, carry them out, and then cover their tracks – and I do mean staggering when you think of that 0.2 percent of the world population and two percent of Americans which are Jewish while Sabbatian infiltrators are a fraction of that. A central foundation of the 9/11 conspiracy was the hijacking of government, military, Air Force and intelligence computer systems in real time through 'back-door' access made possible by Israeli (Sabbatian) 'cyber security' software. Sabbatian-controlled Israel is on the way to rivalling Silicon Valley for domination of cyberspace and is becoming the dominant force in cyber-security which gives them access to entire computer systems and their passcodes across the world. Then add to this that Zionists head (officially) Silicon Valley giants like Google (Larry Page and Sergey Brin), Googleowned YouTube (Susan Wojcicki), Facebook (Mark Zuckerberg and Sheryl Sandberg), and Apple (Chairman Arthur D. Levinson), and that ultra-Zionist hedge fund billionaire Paul Singer has a $1 billion stake in Twitter which is only nominally headed by 'CEO' pothead Jack Dorsey. As cable news host Tucker Carlson said of Dorsey: 'There used to be debate in the medical community whether dropping a ton of acid had permanent effects and I think that debate has now ended.' Carlson made the comment after Dorsey told a hearing on Capitol Hill (if you cut through his bullshit) that he believed in free speech so long as he got to decide what you can hear and see. These 'big names' of Silicon Valley are only front men and women for the Global Cult, not least the Sabbatians, who are the true controllers of these corporations. Does anyone still wonder why these same people and companies have been ferociously censoring and banning people (like me) for exposing any aspect of the Cult agenda and especially the truth about the 'Covid' hoax which Sabbatians have orchestrated?

The Jeffrey Epstein paedophile ring was a Sabbatian operation. He was officially 'Jewish' but he was a Sabbatian and women abused by the ring have told me about the high number of 'Jewish' people involved. The Epstein horror has Sabbatian written all over it and matches perfectly their modus operandi and obsession with sex and ritual. Epstein was running a Sabbatian blackmail ring in which famous people with political and other influence were provided with young girls for sex while everything was being filmed and recorded on hidden cameras and microphones at his New York house, Caribbean island and other properties. Epstein survivors have described this surveillance system to me and some have gone public. Once the famous politician or other figure knew he or she was on video they tended to do whatever they were told. Here we go again ...when you've got them by the balls their hearts and minds will follow. Sabbatians use this blackmail technique on a wide scale across the world to entrap politicians and others they need to act as demanded. Epstein's private plane, the infamous 'Lolita Express', had many well-known passengers including Bill Clinton while Bill Gates has flown on an Epstein plane and met with him four years after Epstein had been jailed for paedophilia. They subsequently met many times at Epstein's home in New York according to a witness who was there. Epstein's infamous side-kick was Ghislaine Maxwell, daughter of Mossad agent and ultra-Zionist mega-crooked British businessman, Bob Maxwell, who at one time owned the Daily Mirror newspaper. Maxwell was murdered at sea on his boat in 1991 by Sabbatian-controlled Mossad when he became a liability with his business empire collapsing as a former Mossad operative has confirmed (see The Trigger).

Money, money, money, funny money ...

Before I come to the Sabbatian connection with the last three US presidents I will lay out the crucial importance to Sabbatians of controlling banking and finance. Sabbatian Mayer Amschel Rothschild set out to dominate this arena in his family's quest for total global control. What is freedom? It is, in effect, choice. The more choices you have the freer you are and the fewer your choices the more you are enslaved. In the global structure created over centuries by Sabbatians the biggest decider and restrictor of choice is ... money. Across the world if you ask people what they would like to do with their lives and why they are not doing that they will reply 'I don't have the money'. This is the idea. A global elite of multibillionaires are described as 'greedy' and that is true on one level; but control of money – who has it and who doesn't – is not primarily about greed. It's about control. Sabbatians have seized ever more control of finance and sucked the wealth of the world out of the hands of the population. We talk now, after all, about the 'Onepercent' and even then the wealthiest are a lot fewer even than that. This has been made possible by a money scam so outrageous and so vast it could rightly be called the scam of scams founded on creating 'money' out of nothing and 'loaning' that with interest to the population. Money out of nothing is called 'credit'. Sabbatians have asserted control over governments and banking ever more completely through the centuries and secured financial laws that allow banks to lend hugely more than they have on deposit in a confidence trick known as fractional reserve lending. Imagine if you could lend money that doesn't exist and charge the recipient interest for doing so. You would end up in jail. Bankers by contrast end up in mansions, private jets, Malibu and Monaco.

Banks are only required to keep a fraction of their deposits and wealth in their vaults and they are allowed to lend 'money' they don't have called 'credit. Go into a bank for a loan and if you succeed the banker will not move any real wealth into your account. They will type into your account the amount of the agreed 'loan' – say £100,000. This is not wealth that really exists; it is non-existent, freshair, created-out-of-nothing 'credit' which has never, does not, and will never exist except in theory. Credit is backed by nothing except wind and only has buying power because people think that it has buying power and accept it in return for property, goods and services. I have described this situation as like those cartoon characters you see chasing each other and when they run over the edge of a cliff they keep running forward on fresh air until one of them looks down, realises what's happened, and they all crash into the ravine. The whole foundation of the Sabbatian financial system is to stop people looking down except for periodic moments when they want to crash the system (as in 2008 and 2020 ongoing) and reap the rewards from all the property, businesses and wealth their borrowers had signed over as 'collateral' in return for a 'loan' of fresh air. Most people think that money is somehow created by governments when it comes into existence from the start as a debt through banks 'lending' illusory money called credit. Yes, the very currency of exchange is a debt from day one issued as an interest-bearing loan. Why don't governments create money interest-free and lend it to their people interest-free? Governments are controlled by Sabbatians and the financial system is controlled by Sabbatians for whom interest-free money would be a nightmare come true. Sabbatians underpin their financial domination through their global network of central banks, including the privately-owned US Federal Reserve and Britain's Bank of England, and this is orchestrated by a privately-owned central bank coordination body called the Bank for International Settlements in Basle, Switzerland, created by the usual suspects including the Rockefellers and Rothschilds. Central bank chiefs don't answer to governments or the people. They answer to the Bank for International Settlements or, in other words, the Global Cult which is dominated today by Sabbatians.

Built-in disaster

There are so many constituent scams within the overall banking scam. When you take out a loan of thin-air credit only the amount of that loan is theoretically brought into circulation to add to the amount in circulation; but you are paying back the principle plus interest. The additional interest is not created and this means that with every 'loan' there is a shortfall in the money in circulation between what is borrowed and what has to be paid back. There is never even close to enough money in circulation to repay all outstanding public and private debt including interest. Coldly weaved in the very fabric of the system is the certainty that some will lose their homes, businesses and possessions to the banking 'lender'. This is less obvious in times of 'boom' when the amount of money in circulation (and the debt) is expanding through more people wanting and getting loans. When a downturn comes and the money supply contracts it becomes painfully obvious that there is not enough money to service all debt and interest. This is less obvious in times of 'boom' when the amount of money in circulation (and the debt) is expanding through more people wanting and getting loans. When a downturn comes and the money supply contracts and it becomes painfully obvious – as in 2008 and currently – that there is not enough money to service all debt and interest. Sabbatian banksters have been leading the human population through a calculated series of booms (more debt incurred) and busts (when the debt can't be repaid and the banks get the debtor's tangible wealth in exchange for non-existent 'credit'). With each 'bust' Sabbatian bankers have absorbed more of the world's tangible wealth and we end up with the One-percent. Governments are in bankruptcy levels of debt to the same system and are therefore owned by a system they do not control. The Federal Reserve, 'America's central bank', is privately-owned and American presidents only nominally appoint its chairman or woman to maintain the illusion that it's an arm of government. It's not. The 'Fed' is a cartel of private banks which handed billions to its associates and friends after the crash of 2008 and has been Sabbatiancontrolled since it was manipulated into being in 1913 through the covert trickery of Rothschild banking agents Jacob Schiff and Paul Warburg, and the Sabbatian Rockefeller family. Somehow from a Jewish population of two-percent and globally 0.2 percent (Sabbatian interlopers remember are far smaller) ultra-Zionists headed the Federal Reserve for 31 years between 1987 and 2018 in the form of Alan Greenspan, Bernard Bernanke and Janet Yellen (now Biden's Treasury Secretary) with Yellen's deputy chairman a Israeli-American duel citizen and ultra-Zionist Stanley Fischer, a former governor of the Bank of Israel. Ultra-Zionist Fed chiefs spanned the presidencies of Ronald Reagan ('Republican'), Father George Bush ('Republican'), Bill Clinton ('Democrat'), Boy George Bush ('Republican') and Barack Obama ('Democrat'). We should really add the pre-Greenspan chairman, Paul Adolph Volcker, 'appointed' by Jimmy Carter ('Democrat') who ran the Fed between 1979 and 1987 during the Carter and Reagan administrations before Greenspan took over. Volcker was a long-time associate and business partner of the Rothschilds. No matter what the 'party' officially in power the United States economy was directed by the same force. Here are members of the Obama, Trump and Biden administrations and see if you can make out a common theme.

Barack Obama ('Democrat')

Ultra-Zionists Robert Rubin, Larry Summers, and Timothy Geithner ran the US Treasury in the Clinton administration and two of them reappeared with Obama. Ultra-Zionist Fed chairman Alan Greenspan had manipulated the crash of 2008 through deregulation and jumped ship just before the disaster to make way for ultra-Zionist Bernard Bernanke to hand out trillions to Sabbatian 'too big to fail' banks and businesses, including the ubiquitous ultra-Zionist Goldman Sachs which has an ongoing staff revolving door operation between itself and major financial positions in government worldwide. Obama inherited the fallout of the crash when he took office in January, 2009, and fortunately he had the support of his ultra-Zionist White House Chief of Staff Rahm Emmanuel, son of a terrorist who helped to bomb Israel into being in 1948, and his ultra-Zionist senior adviser David Axelrod, chief strategist in Obama's two successful presidential campaigns. Emmanuel, later mayor of Chicago and former senior fundraiser and strategist for Bill Clinton, is an example of the Sabbatian policy after Israel was established of migrating insider families to America so their children would be born American citizens. 'Obama' chose this financial team throughout his administration to respond to the Sabbatian-instigated crisis:

Timothy Geithner (ultra-Zionist) Treasury Secretary; Jacob J. Lew, Treasury Secretary; Larry Summers (ultra-Zionist), director of the White House National Economic Council; Paul Adolph Volcker (Rothschild business partner), chairman of the Economic Recovery Advisory Board; Peter Orszag (ultra-Zionist), director of the Office of Management and Budget overseeing all government spending; Penny Pritzker (ultra-Zionist), Commerce Secretary; Jared Bernstein (ultra-Zionist), chief economist and economic policy adviser to Vice President Joe Biden; Mary Schapiro (ultra-Zionist), chair of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC); Gary Gensler (ultra-Zionist), chairman of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC); Sheila Bair (ultra-Zionist), chair of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC); Karen Mills (ultra-Zionist), head of the Small Business Administration (SBA); Kenneth Feinberg (ultra-Zionist), Special Master for Executive [bail-out] Compensation. Feinberg would be appointed to oversee compensation (with strings) to 9/11 victims and families in a campaign to stop them having their day in court to question the official story. At the same time ultra-Zionist Bernard Bernanke was chairman of the Federal Reserve and these are only some of the ultra-Zionists with allegiance to Sabbatian-controlled Israel in the Obama government. Obama's biggest corporate donor was ultra-Zionist Goldman Sachs which had employed many in his administration.

Donald Trump ('Republican')

Trump claimed to be an outsider (he wasn't) who had come to 'drain the swamp'. He embarked on this goal by immediately appointing ultra-Zionist Steve Mnuchin, a Goldman Sachs employee for 17 years, as his Treasury Secretary. Others included Gary Cohn (ultra-Zionist), chief operating officer of Goldman Sachs, his first Director of the National Economic Council and chief economic adviser, who was later replaced by Larry Kudlow (ultra-Zionist). Trump's senior adviser throughout his four years in the White House was his sinister son-in-law Jared Kushner, a life-long friend of Israel Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu. Kushner is the son of a convicted crook who was pardoned by Trump in his last days in office. Other ultra-Zionists in the Trump administration included: Stephen Miller, Senior Policy Adviser; Avrahm Berkowitz, Deputy Adviser to Trump and his Senior Adviser Jared Kushner; Ivanka Trump, Adviser to the President, who converted to Judaism when she married Jared Kushner; David Friedman, Trump lawyer and Ambassador to Israel; Jason Greenblatt, Trump Organization executive vice president and chief legal officer, who was made Special Representative for International Negotiations and the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict; Rod Rosenstein, Deputy Attorney General; Elliot Abrams, Special Representative for Venezuela, then Iran; John Eisenberg, National Security Council Legal Adviser and Deputy Council to the President for National Security Affairs; Anne Neuberger, Deputy National Manager, National Security Agency; Ezra Cohen-Watnick, Acting Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence; Elan Carr, Special Envoy to monitor and combat anti-Semitism; Len Khodorkovsky, Deputy Special Envoy to monitor and combat anti-Semitism; Reed Cordish, Assistant to the President, Intragovernmental and Technology Initiatives. Trump Vice President Mike Pence and Secretary of State Mike Pompeo, both Christian Zionists, were also vehement supporters of Israel and its goals and ambitions.

Donald 'free-speech believer' Trump pardoned a number of financial and violent criminals while ignoring calls to pardon Julian Assange and Edward Snowden whose crimes are revealing highly relevant information about government manipulation and corruption and the widespread illegal surveillance of the American people by US 'security' agencies. It's so good to know that Trump is on the side of freedom and justice and not mega-criminals with allegiance to Sabbatian-controlled Israel. These included a pardon for Israeli spy Jonathan Pollard who was jailed for life in 1987 under the Espionage Act. Aviem Sella, the Mossad agent who recruited Pollard, was also pardoned by Trump while Assange sat in jail and Snowden remained in exile in Russia. Sella had 'fled' (was helped to escape) to Israel in 1987 and was never extradited despite being charged under the Espionage Act. A Trump White House statement said that Sella's clemency had been 'supported by Benjamin Netanyahu, Ron Dermer, Israel's US Ambassador, David Friedman, US Ambassador to Israel and Miriam Adelson, wife of leading Trump donor Sheldon Adelson who died shortly before. Other friends of Jared Kushner were pardoned along with Sholom Weiss who was believed to be serving the longest-ever white-collar prison sentence of more than 800 years in 2000. The sentence was commuted of Ponzi-schemer Eliyahu Weinstein who defrauded Jews and others out of $200 million. I did mention that Assange and Snowden were ignored, right? Trump gave Sabbatians almost everything they asked for in military and political support, moving the US Embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem with its critical symbolic and literal implications for Palestinian statehood, and the 'deal of the Century' designed by Jared Kushner and David Friedman which gave the Sabbatian Israeli government the green light to substantially expand its already widespread program of building illegal Jewish-only settlements in the occupied land of the West Bank. This made a two-state 'solution' impossible by seizing all the land of a potential Palestinian homeland and that had been the plan since 1948 and then 1967 when the Arab-controlled Gaza Strip, West Bank, Sinai Peninsula and Syrian Golan Heights were occupied by Israel. All the talks about talks and road maps and delays have been buying time until the West Bank was physically occupied by Israeli real estate. Trump would have to be a monumentally ill-informed idiot not to see that this was the plan he was helping to complete. The Trump administration was in so many ways the Kushner administration which means the Netanyahu administration which means the Sabbatian administration. I understand why many opposing Cult fascism in all its forms gravitated to Trump, but he was a crucial part of the Sabbatian plan and I will deal with this in the next chapter.

Joe Biden ('Democrat')

A barely cognitive Joe Biden took over the presidency in January, 2021, along with his fellow empty shell, Vice-President Kamala Harris, as the latest Sabbatian gofers to enter the White House. Names on the door may have changed and the 'party' – the force behind them remained the same as Zionists were appointed to a stream of pivotal areas relating to Sabbatian plans and policy. They included: Janet Yellen, Treasury Secretary, former head of the Federal Reserve, and still another ultra-Zionist running the US Treasury after Mnuchin (Trump), Lew and Geithner (Obama), and Summers and Rubin (Clinton); Anthony Blinken, Secretary of State; Wendy Sherman, Deputy Secretary of State (so that's 'Biden's' Sabbatian foreign policy sorted); Jeff Zients, White House coronavirus coordinator; Rochelle Walensky, head of the Centers for Disease Control; Rachel Levine, transgender deputy health secretary (that's 'Covid' hoax policy under control); Merrick Garland, Attorney General; Alejandro Mayorkas, Secretary of Homeland Security; Cass Sunstein, Homeland Security with responsibility for new immigration laws; Avril Haines, Director of National Intelligence; Anne Neuberger, National Security Agency cybersecurity director (note, cybersecurity); David Cohen, CIA Deputy Director; Ronald Klain, Biden's Chief of Staff (see Rahm Emanuel); Eric Lander, a 'leading geneticist', Office of Science and Technology Policy director (see Smart Grid, synthetic biology agenda); Jessica Rosenworcel, acting head of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) which controls Smart Grid technology policy and electromagnetic communication systems including 5G. How can it be that so many pivotal positions are held by two-percent of the American population and 0.2 percent of the world population administration after administration no matter who is the president and what is the party? It's a coincidence? Of course it's not and this is why Sabbatians have built their colossal global web of interlocking 'antihate' hate groups to condemn anyone who asks these glaring questions as an 'anti-Semite'. The way that Jewish people horrifically abused in Sabbatian-backed Nazi Germany are exploited to this end is stomach-turning and disgusting beyond words.

Political fusion

Sabbatian manipulation has reversed the roles of Republicans and Democrats and the same has happened in Britain with the Conservative and Labour Parties. Republicans and Conservatives were always labelled the 'right' and Democrats and Labour the 'left', but look at the policy positions now and the Democrat-Labour 'left' has moved further to the 'right' than Republicans and Conservatives under the banner of 'Woke', the Cult-created far-right tyranny. Where once the Democrat-Labour 'left' defended free speech and human rights they now seek to delete them and as I said earlier despite the 'Covid' fascism of the Jackboot Johnson Conservative government in the UK the Labour Party of leader Keir Starmer demanded even more extreme measures. The Labour Party has been very publicly absorbed by Sabbatians after a political and media onslaught against the previous leader, the weak and inept Jeremy Corbyn, over made-up allegations of 'anti-Semitism' both by him and his party. The plan was clear with this 'anti-Semite' propaganda and what was required in response was a swift and decisive 'fuck off' from Corbyn and a statement to expose the Anti-Semitism Industry (Sabbatian) attempt to silence Labour criticism of the Israeli government (Sabbatians) and purge the party of all dissent against the extremes of ultra-Zionism (Sabbatians). Instead Corbyn and his party fell to their knees and appeased the abusers which, by definition, is impossible. Appeasing one demand leads only to a new demand to be appeased until takeover is complete. Like I say – 'fuck off' would have been a much more effective policy and I have used it myself with great effect over the years when Sabbatians are on my case which is most of the time. I consider that fact a great compliment, by the way. The outcome of the Labour Party capitulation is that we now have a Sabbatian-controlled Conservative Party 'opposed' by a Sabbatian-controlled Labour Party in a one-party Sabbatian state that hurtles towards the extremes of tyranny (the Sabbatian cult agenda). In America the situation is the same. Labour's Keir Starmer spends his days on his knees with his tongue out pointing to Tel Aviv, or I guess now Jerusalem, while Boris Johnson has an 'anti-Semitism czar' in the form of former Labour MP John Mann who keeps Starmer company on his prayer mat.

Sabbatian influence can be seen in Jewish members of the Labour Party who have been ejected for criticism of Israel including those from families that suffered in Nazi Germany. Sabbatians despise real Jewish people and target them even more harshly because it is so much more difficult to dub them 'anti-Semitic' although in their desperation they do try.

CHAPTER THREE

The Pushbacker sting

Until you realize how easy it is for your mind to be manipulated, you remain the puppet of someone else's game will use the presidencies of Trump and Biden to show how the manipulation of the one-party state plays out behind the illusion of political choice across the world. No two presidencies could – on the face of it – be more different and apparently at odds in terms of direction and policy.

A Renegade Mind sees beyond the obvious and focuses on outcomes and consequences and not image, words and waffle. The Cult embarked on a campaign to divide America between those who blindly support its agenda (the mentality known as 'Woke') and those who are pushing back on where the Cult and its Sabbatians want to go. This presents infinite possibilities for dividing and ruling the population by setting them at war with each other and allows a perceptual ring fence of demonisation to encircle the Pushbackers in a modern version of the Little Big Horn in 1876 when American cavalry led by Lieutenant Colonel George Custer were drawn into a trap, surrounded and killed by Native American tribes defending their land of thousands of years from being seized by the government. In this modern version the roles are reversed and it's those defending themselves from the Sabbatian government who are surrounded and the government that's seeking to destroy them. This trap was set years ago and to explain how we must return to 2016 and the emergence of Donald Trump as a candidate to be President of the United States. He set out to overcome the best part of 20 other candidates in the Republican Party before and during the primaries and was not considered by many in those early stages to have a prayer of living in the White House. The Republican Party was said to have great reservations about Trump and yet somehow he won the nomination. When you know how American politics works politics in general – there is no way that Trump could have become the party's candidate unless the Sabbatian-controlled 'Neocons' that run the Republican Party wanted that to happen. We saw the proof in emails and documents made public by WikiLeaks that the Democratic Party hierarchy, or Democons, systematically undermined the campaign of Bernie Sanders to make sure that Sabbatian gofer Hillary Clinton won the nomination to be their presidential candidate. If the Democons could do that then the Neocons in the Republican Party could have derailed Trump in the same way. But they didn't and at that stage I began to conclude that Trump could well be the one chosen to be president. If that was the case the 'why' was pretty clear to see – the goal of dividing America between Cult agenda-supporting Wokers and Pushbackers who gravitated to Trump because he was telling them what they wanted to hear. His constituency of support had been increasingly ignored and voiceless for decades and profoundly through the eight years of Sabbatian puppet Barack Obama. Now here was someone speaking their language of pulling back from the incessant globalisation of political and economic power, the exporting of American jobs to China and elsewhere by 'American' (Sabbatian) corporations, the deletion of free speech, and the mass immigration policies that had further devastated job opportunities for the urban working class of all races and the once American heartlands of the Midwest.

Beware the forked tongue

Those people collectively sighed with relief that at last a political leader was apparently on their side, but another trait of the Renegade Mind is that you look even harder at people telling you what you want to hear than those who are telling you otherwise. Obviously as I said earlier people wish what they want to hear to be true and genuine and they are much more likely to believe that than someone saying what they don't want to here and don't want to be true. Sales people are taught to be skilled in eliciting by calculated questioning what their customers want to hear and repeating that back to them as their own opinion to get their targets to like and trust them. Assets of the Cult are also sales people in the sense of selling perception. To read Cult manipulation you have to play the long and expanded game and not fall for the Vaudeville show of party politics. Both American parties are vehicles for the Cult and they exploit them in different ways depending on what the agenda requires at that moment. Trump and the Republicans were used to be the focus of dividing America and isolating Pushbackers to open the way for a Biden presidency to become the most extreme in American history by advancing the full-blown Woke (Cult) agenda with the aim of destroying and silencing Pushbackers now labelled Nazi Trump supporters and white supremacists.

Sabbatians wanted Trump in office for the reasons described by ultra-Zionist Saul Alinsky (1909-1972) who was promoting the Woke philosophy through 'community organising' long before anyone had heard of it. In those days it still went by its traditional name of Marxism. The reason for the manipulated Trump phenomenon was laid out in Alinsky's 1971 book, Rules for Radicals, which was his blueprint for overthrowing democratic and other regimes and replacing them with Sabbatian Marxism. Not surprisingly his to-do list was evident in the Sabbatian French and Russian 'Revolutions' and that in China which will become very relevant in the next chapter about the 'Covid' hoax. Among Alinsky's followers have been the deeply corrupt Barack Obama, House Speaker Nancy Pelosi and Hillary Clinton who described him as a 'hero'. All three are Sabbatian stooges with Pelosi personifying the arrogant corrupt idiocy that so widely fronts up for the Cult inner core. Predictably as a Sabbatian advocate of the 'light-bringer' Alinsky features Lucifer on the dedication page of his book as the original radical who gained his own kingdom ('Earth' as we shall see). One of Alinsky's golden radical rules was to pick an individual and focus all attention, hatred and blame on them and not to target faceless bureaucracies and corporations. Rules for Radicals is really a Sabbatian handbook with its contents repeatedly employed all over the world for centuries and why wouldn't Sabbatians bring to power their designer-villain to be used as the individual on which all attention, hatred and blame was bestowed? This is what they did and the only question for me is how much Trump knew that and how much he was manipulated. A bit of both, I suspect. This was Alinsky's Trump technique from a man who died in 1972. The technique has spanned history:

Pick the target, freeze it, personalize it, polarize it. Don't try to attack abstract corporations or bureaucracies. Identify a responsible individual. Ignore attempts to shift or spread the blame.

From the moment Trump came to illusory power everything was about him. It wasn't about Republican policy or opinion, but all about Trump. Everything he did was presented in negative, derogatory and abusive terms by the Sabbatian-dominated media led by Cult operations such as CNN, MSNBC, The New York Times and the Jeff Bezos-owned Washington Post - 'Pick the target, freeze it, personalize it, polarize it.' Trump was turned into a demon to be vilified by those who hated him and a demi-god loved by those who worshipped him. This, in turn, had his supporters, too, presented as equally demonic in preparation for the punchline later down the line when Biden was about to take office. It was here's a Trump, there's a Trump, everywhere a Trump, Trump. Virtually every news story or happening was filtered through the lens of 'The Donald'. You loved him or hated him and which one you chose was said to define you as Satan's spawn or a paragon of virtue. Even supporting some Trump policies or statements and not others was enough for an assault on your character. No shades of grey were or are allowed. Everything is black and white (literally and figuratively). A Californian I knew had her head utterly scrambled by her hatred for Trump while telling people they should love each other. She was so totally consumed by Trump Derangement Syndrome as it became to be known that this glaring contradiction would never have occurred to her. By definition anyone who criticised Trump or praised his opponents was a hero and this lady described Joe Biden as 'a kind, honest gentleman' when he's a provable liar, mega-crook and vicious piece of work to boot. Sabbatians had indeed divided America using Trump as the fall-guy and all along the clock was ticking on the consequences for his supporters.

In hock to his masters

Trump gave Sabbatians via Israel almost everything they wanted in his four years. Ask and you shall receive was the dynamic between himself and Benjamin Netanyahu orchestrated by Trump's ultra-Zionist son-in-law Jared Kushner, his ultra-Zionist Ambassador to Israel, David Friedman, and ultra-Zionist 'Israel adviser', Jason Greenblatt. The last two were central to the running and protecting from collapse of his business empire, the Trump Organisation, and colossal business failures made him forever beholding to Sabbatian networks that bailed him out. By the start of the 1990s Trump owed $4 billion to banks that he couldn't pay and almost $1billion of that was down to him personally and not his companies. This megadisaster was the result of building two new casinos in Atlantic City and buying the enormous Taj Mahal operation which led to crippling debt payments. He had borrowed fantastic sums from 72 banks with major Sabbatian connections and although the scale of debt should have had him living in a tent alongside the highway they never foreclosed. A plan was devised to lift Trump from the mire by BT Securities Corporation and Rothschild Inc. and the case was handled by Wilber Ross who had worked for the Rothschilds for 27 years. Ross would be named US Commerce Secretary after Trump's election. Another crucial figure in saving Trump was ultra-Zionist 'investor' Carl Icahn who bought the Taj Mahal casino. Icahn was made special economic adviser on financial regulation in the Trump administration. He didn't stay long but still managed to find time to make a tidy sum of a reported $31.3 million when he sold his holdings affected by the price of steel three days before Trump imposed a 235 percent tariff on steel imports. What amazing bits of luck these people have. Trump and Sabbatian operatives have long had a close association and his mentor and legal adviser from the early 1970s until 1986 was the dark and genetically corrupt ultra-Zionist Roy Cohn who was chief counsel to Senator Joseph McCarthy's 'communist' witch-hunt in the 1950s. Esquire magazine published an article about Cohn with the headline 'Don't mess with Roy Cohn'. He was described as the most feared lawyer in New York and 'a ruthless master of dirty tricks ... [with] ... more than one Mafia Don on speed dial'. Cohn's influence, contacts, support and protection made Trump a front man for Sabbatians in New York with their connections to one of Cohn's many criminal employers, the 'Russian' Sabbatian Mafia. Israel-centric media mogul Rupert Murdoch was introduced to Trump by Cohn and they started a long friendship. Cohn died in 1986 weeks after being disbarred for unethical conduct by the Appellate Division of the New York State Supreme Court. The wheels of justice do indeed run slow given the length of Cohn's crooked career.

QAnon-sense

We are asked to believe that Donald Trump with his fundamental connections to Sabbatian networks and operatives has been leading the fight to stop the Sabbatian agenda for the fascistic control of America and the world. Sure he has. A man entrapped during his years in the White House by Sabbatian operatives and whose biggest financial donor was casino billionaire Sheldon Adelson who was Sabbatian to his DNA?? Oh, do come on. Trump has been used to divide America and isolate Pushbackers on the Cult agenda under the heading of 'Trump supporters', 'insurrectionists' and 'white supremacists'. The US Intelligence/Mossad Psyop or psychological operation known as QAnon emerged during the Trump years as a central pillar in the Sabbatian campaign to lead Pushbackers into the trap set by those that wished to destroy them. I knew from the start that QAnon was a scam because I had seen the same scenario many times before over 30 years under different names and I had written about one in particular in the books. 'Not again' was my reaction when QAnon came to the fore. The same script is pulled out every few years and a new name added to the letterhead. The story always takes the same form: 'Insiders' or 'the good guys' in the governmentintelligence-military 'Deep State' apparatus were going to instigate mass arrests of the 'bad guys' which would include the Rockefellers, Rothschilds, Barack Obama, Hillary Clinton, George Soros, etc., etc. Dates are given for when the 'good guys' are going to move in, but the dates pass without incident and new dates are given which pass without incident. The central message to Pushbackers in each case is that they don't have to do anything because there is 'a plan' and it is all going to be sorted by the 'good guys' on the inside. 'Trust the plan' was a QAnon mantra when the only plan was to misdirect Pushbackers into putting their trust in a Psyop they believed to be real. Beware, beware, those who tell you what you want to hear and always check it out. Right up to Biden's inauguration QAnon was still claiming that 'the Storm' was coming and Trump would stay on as president when Biden and his cronies were arrested and jailed. It was never going to happen and of course it didn't, but what did happen as a result provided that punchline to the Sabbatian Trump/QAnon Psyop.

On January 6th, 2021, a very big crowd of Trump supporters gathered in the National Mall in Washington DC down from the Capitol Building to protest at what they believed to be widespread corruption and vote fraud that stopped Trump being re-elected for a second term as president in November, 2020. I say as someone that does not support Trump or Biden that the evidence is clear that major vote-fixing went on to favour Biden, a man with cognitive problems so advanced he can often hardly string a sentence together without reading the words written for him on the Teleprompter. Glaring ballot discrepancies included serious questions about electronic voting machines that make vote rigging a comparative cinch and hundreds of thousands of paper votes that suddenly appeared during already advanced vote counts and virtually all of them for Biden. Early Trump leads in crucial swing states suddenly began to close and disappear. The pandemic hoax was used as the excuse to issue almost limitless numbers of mail-in ballots with no checks to establish that the recipients were still alive or lived at that address. They were sent to streams of people who had not even asked for them. Private organisations were employed to gather these ballots and who knows what they did with them before they turned up at the counts. The American election system has been manipulated over decades to become a sick joke with more holes than a Swiss cheese for the express purpose of dictating the results. Then there was the criminal manipulation of information by Sabbatian tech giants like Facebook, Twitter and Google-owned YouTube which deleted pro-Trump, anti-Biden accounts and posts while everything in support of Biden was left alone. Sabbatians wanted Biden to win because after the dividing of America it was time for full-on Woke and every aspect of the Cult agenda to be unleashed.

Hunter gatherer

Extreme Silicon Valley bias included blocking information by the New York Post exposing a Biden scandal that should have ended his bid for president in the final weeks of the campaign. Hunter Biden, his monumentally corrupt son, is reported to have sent a laptop to be repaired at a local store and failed to return for it. Time passed until the laptop became the property of the store for non-payment of the bill. When the owner saw what was on the hard drive he gave a copy to the FBI who did nothing even though it confirmed widespread corruption in which the Joe Biden family were using his political position, especially when he was vice president to Obama, to make multiple millions in countries around the world and most notably Ukraine and China. Hunter Biden's one-time business partner Tony Bobulinski went public when the story broke in the New York Post to confirm the corruption he saw and that Joe Biden not only knew what was going on he also profited from the spoils. Millions were handed over by a Chinese company with close connections – like all major businesses in China – to the Chinese communist party of President Xi Jinping. Joe Biden even boasted at a meeting of the Cult's World Economic Forum that as vice president he had ordered the government of Ukraine to fire a prosecutor. What he didn't mention was that the same man just happened to be investigating an energy company which was part of Hunter Biden's corrupt portfolio. The company was paying him big bucks for no other reason than the influence his father had. Overnight Biden's presidential campaign should have been over given that he had lied publicly about not knowing what his son was doing. Instead almost the entire Sabbatian-owned mainstream media and Sabbatian-owned Silicon Valley suppressed circulation of the story. This alone went a mighty way to rigging the election of 2020. Cult assets like Mark Zuckerberg at Facebook also spent hundreds of millions to be used in support of Biden and vote 'administration'.

The Cult had used Trump as the focus to divide America and was now desperate to bring in moronic, pliable, corrupt Biden to complete the double-whammy. No way were they going to let little things like the will of the people thwart their plan. Silicon Valley widely censored claims that the election was rigged because it was rigged. For the same reason anyone claiming it was rigged was denounced as a 'white supremacist' including the pathetically few Republican politicians willing to say so. Right across the media where the claim was mentioned it was described as a 'false claim' even though these excuses for 'journalists' would have done no research into the subject whatsoever. Trump won seven million more votes than any sitting president had ever achieved while somehow a cognitively-challenged soon to be 78-year-old who was hidden away from the public for most of the campaign managed to win more votes than any presidential candidate in history. It makes no sense. You only had to see election rallies for both candidates to witness the enthusiasm for Trump and the apathy for Biden. Tens of thousands would attend Trump events while Biden was speaking in empty car parks with often only television crews attending and framing their shots to hide the fact that no one was there. It was pathetic to see footage come to light of Biden standing at a podium making speeches only to TV crews and party fixers while reading the words written for him on massive Teleprompter screens. So, yes, those protestors on January 6th had a point about election rigging, but some were about to walk into a trap laid for them in Washington by the Cult Deep State and its QAnon Psyop. This was the Capitol Hill riot ludicrously dubbed an 'insurrection'.

The spider and the fly

Renegade Minds know there are not two 'sides' in politics, only one side, the Cult, working through all 'sides'. It's a stage show, a puppet show, to direct the perceptions of the population into focusing on diversions like parties and candidates while missing the puppeteers with their hands holding all the strings. The Capitol Hill 'insurrection' brings us back to the Little Big Horn. Having created two distinct opposing groupings – Woke and Pushbackers – the trap was about to be sprung. Pushbackers were to be encircled and isolated by associating them all in the public mind with Trump and then labelling Trump as some sort of Confederate leader. I knew immediately that the Capitol riot was a set-up because of two things. One was how easy the rioters got into the building with virtually no credible resistance and secondly I could see – as with the 'Covid' hoax in the West at the start of 2020 – how the Cult could exploit the situation to move its agenda forward with great speed. My experience of Cult techniques and activities over more than 30 years has showed me that while they do exploit situations they haven't themselves created this never happens with events of fundamental agenda significance. Every time major events giving cultists the excuse to rapidly advance their plan you find they are manipulated into being for the specific reason of providing that excuse – Problem-Reaction-Solution. Only a tiny minority of the huge crowd of Washington protestors sought to gain entry to the Capitol by smashing windows and breaching doors. That didn't matter. The whole crowd and all Pushbackers, even if they did not support Trump, were going to be lumped together as dangerous insurrectionists and conspiracy theorists. The latter term came into widespread use through a CIA memo in the 1960s aimed at discrediting those questioning the nonsensical official story of the Kennedy assassination and it subsequently became widely employed by the media. It's still being used by inept 'journalists' with no idea of its origin to discredit anyone questioning anything that authority claims to be true. When you are perpetrating a conspiracy you need to discredit the very word itself even though the dictionary definition of conspiracy is merely 'the activity of secretly planning with other people to do something bad or illegal' and 'a general agreement to keep silent about a subject for the purpose of keeping it secret'. On that basis there are conspiracies almost wherever you look. For obvious reasons the Cult and its lapdog media have to claim there are no conspiracies even though the word appears in state laws as with conspiracy to defraud, to murder, and to corrupt public morals.

Agent provocateurs are widely used by the Cult Deep State to manipulate genuine people into acting in ways that suit the desired outcome. By genuine in this case I mean protestors genuinely supporting Trump and claims that the election was stolen. In among them, however, were agents of the state wearing the garb of Trump supporters and QAnon to pump-prime the Capital riot which some genuine Trump supporters naively fell for. I described the situation as 'Come into my parlour said the spider to the fly'. Leaflets appeared through the Woke paramilitary arm Antifa, the anti-fascist fascists, calling on supporters to turn up in Washington looking like Trump supporters even though they hated him. Some of those arrested for breaching the Capitol Building were sourced to Antifa and its stable mate Black Lives Matter. Both organisations are funded by Cult billionaires and corporations. One man charged for the riot was according to his lawyer a former FBI agent who had held top secret security clearance for 40 years. Attorney Thomas Plofchan said of his client, 66-year-old Thomas Edward Caldwell:

He has held a Top Secret Security Clearance since 1979 and has undergone multiple Special Background Investigations in support of his clearances. After retiring from the Navy, he worked as a section chief for the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 2009-2010 as a GS-12 [mid-level employee].

He also formed and operated a consulting firm performing work, often classified, for U.S government customers including the US. Drug Enforcement Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, the US Coast Guard, and the US Army Personnel Command.

A judge later released Caldwell pending trial in the absence of evidence about a conspiracy or that he tried to force his way into the building. The New York Post reported a 'law enforcement source' as saying that 'at least two known Antifa members were spotted' on camera among Trump supporters during the riot while one of the rioters arrested was John Earle Sullivan, a seriously extreme Black Lives Matter Trump-hater from Utah who was previously arrested and charged in July, 2020, over a BLM-Antifa riot in which drivers were threatened and one was shot. Sullivan is the founder of Utahbased Insurgence USA which is an affiliate of the Cult-created-andfunded Black Lives Matter movement. Footage appeared and was then deleted by Twitter of Trump supporters calling out Antifa infiltrators and a group was filmed changing into pro-Trump clothing before the riot. Security at the building was pathetic – as planned. Colonel Leroy Fletcher Prouty, a man with long experience in covert operations working with the US security apparatus, once described the tell-tale sign to identify who is involved in an assassination. He said:

No one has to direct an assassination – it happens. The active role is played secretly by permitting it to happen. This is the greatest single clue. Who has the power to call off or reduce the usual security precautions?

This principle applies to many other situations and certainly to the Capitol riot of January 6th, 2021.

The sting

With such a big and potentially angry crowd known to be gathering near the Capitol the security apparatus would have had a major police detail to defend the building with National Guard troops on standby given the strength of feeling among people arriving from all over America encouraged by the QAnon Psyop and statements by Donald Trump. Instead Capitol Police 'security' was flimsy, weak, and easily breached. The same number of officers was deployed as on a regular day and that is a blatant red flag. They were not staffed or equipped for a possible riot that had been an obvious possibility in the circumstances. No protective and effective fencing worth the name was put in place and there were no contingency plans. The whole thing was basically a case of standing aside and waving people in. Once inside police mostly backed off apart from one Capitol police officer who ridiculously shot dead unarmed Air Force veteran protestor Ashli Babbitt without a warning as she climbed through a broken window. The 'investigation' refused to name or charge the officer after what must surely be considered a murder in the circumstances. They just lifted a carpet and swept. The story was endlessly repeated about five people dying in the 'armed insurrection' when there was no report of rioters using weapons. Apart from Babbitt the other four died from a heart attack, strokes and apparently a drug overdose. Capitol police officer Brian Sicknick was reported to have died after being bludgeoned with a fire extinguisher when he was alive after the riot was over and died later of what the Washington Medical Examiner's Office said was a stroke. Sicknick had no external injuries. The lies were delivered like rapid fire. There was a narrative to build with incessant repetition of the lie until the lie became the accepted 'everybody knows that' truth. The 'Big Lie' technique of Nazi Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels is constantly used by the Cult which was behind the Nazis and is today behind the 'Covid' and 'climate change' hoaxes. Goebbels said:

If you tell a lie big enough and keep repeating it, people will eventually come to believe it. The lie can be maintained only for such time as the State can shield the people from the political, economic and/or military consequences of the lie. It thus becomes vitally important for the State to use all of its powers to repress dissent, for the truth is the mortal enemy of the lie, and thus by extension, the truth is the greatest enemy of the State.

Most protestors had a free run of the Capitol Building. This allowed pictures to be taken of rioters in iconic parts of the building including the Senate chamber which could be used as propaganda images against all Pushbackers. One Congresswoman described the scene as 'the worst kind of non-security anybody could ever imagine'. Well, the first part was true, but someone obviously did imagine it and made sure it happened. Some photographs most widely circulated featured people wearing QAnon symbols and now the Psyop would be used to dub all QAnon followers with the ubiquitous fit-all label of 'white supremacist' and 'insurrectionists'. When a Muslim extremist called Noah Green drove his car at two police officers at the Capitol Building killing one in April, 2021, there was no such political and media hysteria. They were just disappointed he wasn't white.

The witch-hunt

Government prosecutor Michael Sherwin, an aggressive, dark-eyed, professional Rottweiler led the 'investigation' and to call it over the top would be to understate reality a thousand fold. Hundreds were tracked down and arrested for the crime of having the wrong political views and people were jailed who had done nothing more than walk in the building, committed no violence or damage to property, took a few pictures and left. They were labelled a 'threat to the Republic' while Biden sat in the White House signing executive orders written for him that were dismantling 'the Republic'. Even when judges ruled that a mother and son should not be in jail the government kept them there. Some of those arrested have been badly beaten by prison guards in Washington and lawyers for one man said he suffered a fractured skull and was made blind in one eye. Meanwhile a woman is shot dead for no reason by a Capitol Police officer and we are not allowed to know who he is never mind what has happened to him although that will be nothing. The Cult's QAnon/Trump sting to identify and isolate Pushbackers and then target them on the road to crushing and deleting them was a resounding success. You would have thought the Russians had invaded the building at gunpoint and lined up senators for a firing squad to see the political and media reaction. Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez is a child in a woman's body, a terribletwos, me, me, Woker narcissist of such proportions that words have no meaning. She said she thought she was going to die when 'insurrectionists' banged on her office door. It turned out she wasn't even in the Capitol Building when the riot was happening and the 'banging' was a Capitol Police officer. She referred to herself as a 'survivor' which is an insult to all those true survivors of violent and sexual abuse while she lives her pampered and privileged life talking drivel for a living. Her Woke colleague and fellow meganarcissist Rashida Tlaib broke down describing the devastating effect on her, too, of not being in the building when the rioters were there. Ocasio-Cortez and Tlaib are members of a fully-Woke group of Congresswomen known as 'The Squad' along with Ilhan Omar and Ayanna Pressley. The Squad from what I can see can be identified by its vehement anti-white racism, anti-white men agenda, and, as always in these cases, the absence of brain cells on active duty.

The usual suspects were on the riot case immediately in the form of Democrat ultra-Zionist senators and operatives Chuck Schumer and Adam Schiff demanding that Trump be impeached for 'his part in the insurrection'. The same pair of prats had led the failed impeachment of Trump over the invented 'Russia collusion' nonsense which claimed Russia had helped Trump win the 2016 election. I didn't realise that Tel Aviv had been relocated just outside Moscow. I must find an up-to-date map. The Russia hoax was a Sabbatian operation to keep Trump occupied and impotent and to stop any rapport with Russia which the Cult wants to retain as a perceptual enemy to be pulled out at will. Puppet Biden began attacking Russia when he came to office as the Cult seeks more upheaval, division and war across the world. A two-year stage show 'Russia collusion inquiry' headed by the not-very-bright former 9/11 FBI chief Robert Mueller, with support from 19 lawyers, 40 FBI agents plus intelligence analysts, forensic accountants and other staff, devoured tens of millions of dollars and found no evidence of Russia collusion which a ten-year-old could have told them on day one. Now the same moronic Schumer and Schiff wanted a second impeachment of Trump over the Capitol 'insurrection' (riot) which the arrested development of Schumer called another 'Pearl Harbor' while others compared it with 9/11 in which 3,000 died and, in the case of CNN, with the Rwandan genocide in the 1990s in which an estimated 500,000 to 600,000 were murdered, between 250, 000 and 500,000 women were raped, and populations of whole towns were hacked to death with machetes. To make those comparisons purely for Cult political reasons is beyond insulting to those that suffered and lost their lives and confirms yet again the callous inhumanity that we are dealing with. Schumer is a monumental idiot and so is Schiff, but they serve the Cult agenda and do whatever they're told so they get looked after. Talking of idiots – another inane man who spanned the Russia and Capitol impeachment attempts was Senator Eric Swalwell who had the nerve to accuse Trump of collusion with the Russians while sleeping with a Chinese spy called Christine Fang or 'Fang Fang' which is straight out of a Bond film no doubt starring Klaus Schwab as the bloke living on a secret island and controlling laser weapons positioned in space and pointing at world capitals. Fang Fang plays the part of Bond's infiltrator girlfriend which I'm sure she would enjoy rather more than sharing a bed with the brainless Swalwell, lying back and thinking of China. The FBI eventually warned Swalwell about Fang Fang which gave her time to escape back to the Chinese dictatorship. How very thoughtful of them. The second Trump impeachment also failed and hardly surprising when an impeachment is supposed to remove a sitting president and by the time it happened Trump was no longer president. These people are running your country America, well, officially anyway. Terrifying isn't it?

Outcomes tell the story - always

The outcome of all this – and it's the outcome on which Renegade Minds focus, not the words – was that a vicious, hysterical and obviously pre-planned assault was launched on Pushbackers to censor, silence and discredit them and even targeted their right to earn a living. They have since been condemned as 'domestic terrorists' that need to be treated like Al-Qaeda and Islamic State. 'Domestic terrorists' is a label the Cult has been trying to make stick since the period of the Oklahoma bombing in 1995 which was blamed on 'far-right domestic terrorists'. If you read The Trigger you will see that the bombing was clearly a Problem-Reaction-Solution carried out by the Deep State during a Bill Clinton administration so corrupt that no dictionary definition of the term would even nearly suffice. Nearly 30, 000 troops were deployed from all over America to the empty streets of Washington for Biden's inauguration. Ten thousand of them stayed on with the pretext of protecting the capital from insurrectionists when it was more psychological programming to normalise the use of the military in domestic law enforcement in support of the Cult plan for a police-military state. Biden's fascist administration began a purge of 'wrong-thinkers' in the military which means anyone that is not on board with Woke. The Capitol Building was surrounded by a fence with razor wire and the Land of the Free was further symbolically and literally dismantled. The circle was completed with the installation of Biden and the exploitation of the QAnon Psyop.

America had never been so divided since the civil war of the 19th century, Pushbackers were isolated and dubbed terrorists and now, as was always going to happen, the Cult immediately set about deleting what little was left of freedom and transforming American society through a swish of the hand of the most controlled 'president' in American history leading (officially at least) the most extreme regime since the country was declared an independent state on July 4th, 1776. Biden issued undebated, dictatorial executive orders almost by the hour in his opening days in office across the whole spectrum of the Cult wish-list including diluting controls on the border with Mexico allowing thousands of migrants to illegally enter the United States to transform the demographics of America and import an election-changing number of perceived Democrat voters. Then there were Biden deportation amnesties for the already illegally resident (estimated to be as high as 20 or even 30 million). A bill before Congress awarded American citizenship to anyone who could prove they had worked in agriculture for just 180 days in the previous two years as 'Big Ag' secured its slave labour long-term. There were the plans to add new states to the union such as Puerto Rico and making Washington DC a state. They are all parts of a plan to ensure that the Cult-owned Woke Democrats would be permanently in power.

Border – what border?

I have exposed in detail in other books how mass immigration into the United States and Europe is the work of Cult networks fuelled by the tens of billions spent to this and other ends by George Soros and his global Open Society (open borders) Foundations. The impact can be seen in America alone where the population has increased by 100 million in little more than 30 years mostly through immigration. I wrote in The Answer that the plan was to have so many people crossing the southern border that the numbers become unstoppable and we are now there under Cult-owned Biden. El Salvador in Central America puts the scale of what is happening into context. A third of the population now lives in the United States, much of it illegally, and many more are on the way. The methodology is to crush Central and South American countries economically and spread violence through machete-wielding psychopathic gangs like MS-13 based in El Salvador and now operating in many American cities. Biden-imposed lax security at the southern border means that it is all but open. He said before his 'election' that he wanted to see a surge towards the border if he became president and that was the green light for people to do just that after election day to create the human disaster that followed for both America and the migrants. When that surge came the imbecilic Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez said it wasn't a 'surge' because they are 'children, not insurgents' and the term 'surge' (used by Biden) was a claim of 'white supremacists'.

This disingenuous lady may one day enter the realm of the most basic intelligence, but it won't be any time soon.

Sabbatians and the Cult are in the process of destroying America by importing violent people and gangs in among the genuine to terrorise American cities and by overwhelming services that cannot cope with the sheer volume of new arrivals. Something similar is happening in Europe as Western society in general is targeted for demographic and cultural transformation and upheaval. The plan demands violence and crime to create an environment of intimidation, fear and division and Soros has been funding the election of district attorneys across America who then stop prosecuting many crimes, reduce sentences for violent crimes and free as many violent criminals as they can. Sabbatians are creating the chaos from which order – their order – can respond in a classic Problem-Reaction-Solution. A Freemasonic moto says 'Ordo Ab Chao' (Order out of Chaos) and this is why the Cult is constantly creating chaos to impose a new 'order'. Here you have the reason the Cult is constantly creating chaos. The 'Covid' hoax can be seen with those entering the United States by plane being forced to take a 'Covid' test while migrants flooding through southern border processing facilities do not. Nothing is put in the way of mass migration and if that means ignoring the government's own 'Covid' rules then so be it. They know it's all bullshit anyway. Any pushback on this is denounced as 'racist' by Wokers and Sabbatian fronts like the ultra-Zionist Anti-Defamation League headed by the appalling Jonathan Greenblatt which at the same time argues that Israel should not give citizenship and voting rights to more Palestinian Arabs or the 'Jewish population' (in truth the Sabbatian network) will lose control of the country.

Society-changing numbers

Biden's masters have declared that countries like El Salvador are so dangerous that their people must be allowed into the United States for humanitarian reasons when there are fewer murders in large parts of many Central American countries than in US cities like Baltimore. That is not to say Central America cannot be a dangerous place and Cult-controlled American governments have been making it so since way back, along with the dismantling of economies, in a long-term plan to drive people north into the United States. Parts of Central America are very dangerous, but in other areas the story is being greatly exaggerated to justify relaxing immigration criteria. Migrants are being offered free healthcare and education in the United States as another incentive to head for the border and there is no requirement to be financially independent before you can enter to prevent the resources of America being drained. You can't blame migrants for seeking what they believe will be a better life, but they are being played by the Cult for dark and nefarious ends. The numbers since Biden took office are huge. In February, 2021, more than 100,000 people were known to have tried to enter the US illegally through the southern border (it was 34,000 in the same month in 2020) and in March it was 170,000 – a 418 percent increase on March, 2020. These numbers are only known people, not the ones who get in unseen. The true figure for migrants illegally crossing the border in a single month was estimated by one congressman at 250,000 and that number will only rise under Biden's current policy. Gangs of murdering drug-running thugs that control the Mexican side of the border demand money – thousands of dollars – to let migrants cross the Rio Grande into America. At the same time gun battles are breaking out on the border several times a week between rival Mexican drug gangs (which now operate globally) who are equipped with sophisticated military-grade weapons, grenades and armoured vehicles. While the Capitol Building was being 'protected' from a non-existent 'threat' by thousands of troops, and others were still deployed at the time in the Cult Neocon war in Afghanistan, the southern border of America was left to its fate. This is not incompetence, it is cold calculation.

By March, 2021, there were 17,000 unaccompanied children held at border facilities and many of them are ensnared by people traffickers for paedophile rings and raped on their journey north to America. This is not conjecture – this is fact. Many of those designated children are in reality teenage boys or older. Meanwhile Wokers posture their self-purity for encouraging poor and tragic people to come to America and face this nightmare both on the journey and at the border with the disgusting figure of House Speaker Nancy Pelosi giving disingenuous speeches about caring for migrants. The woman's evil. Wokers condemned Trump for having children in cages at the border (so did Obama, Shhhh), but now they are sleeping on the floor without access to a shower with one border facility 729 percent over capacity. The Biden insanity even proposed flying migrants from the southern border to the northern border with Canada for 'processing'. The whole shambles is being overseen by ultra-Zionist Secretary of Homeland Security, the moronic liar Alejandro Mayorkas, who banned news cameras at border facilities to stop Americans seeing what was happening. Mayorkas said there was not a ban on news crews; it was just that they were not allowed to film. Alongside him at Homeland Security is another ultra-Zionist Cass Sunstein appointed by Biden to oversee new immigration laws. Sunstein despises conspiracy researchers to the point where he suggests they should be banned or taxed for having such views. The man is not bonkers or anything. He's perfectly well-adjusted, but adjusted to what is the question. Criticise what is happening and you are a 'white supremacist' when earlier non-white immigrants also oppose the numbers which effect their lives and opportunities. Black people in poor areas are particularly damaged by uncontrolled immigration and the increased competition for work opportunities with those who will work for less. They are also losing voting power as Hispanics become more dominant in former black areas. It's a downward spiral for them while the billionaires behind the policy drone on about how much they care about black people and 'racism'. None of this is about compassion for migrants or black people – that's just wind and air. Migrants are instead being mercilessly exploited to transform America while the countries they leave are losing their future and the same is true in Europe. Mass immigration may now be the work of Woke Democrats, but it can be traced back to the 1986 Immigration Reform and Control Act (it wasn't) signed into law by Republican hero President Ronald Reagan which gave amnesty to millions living in the United States illegally and other incentives for people to head for the southern border. Here we have the one-party state at work again.

Save me syndrome

Almost every aspect of what I have been exposing as the Cult agenda was on display in even the first days of 'Biden' with silencing of Pushbackers at the forefront of everything. A Renegade Mind will view the Trump years and QAnon in a very different light to their supporters and advocates as the dots are connected. The QAnon/Trump Psyop has given the Cult all it was looking for. We may not know how much, or little, that Trump realised he was being used, but that's a side issue. This pincer movement produced the desired outcome of dividing America and having Pushbackers isolated. To turn this around we have to look at new routes to empowerment which do not include handing our power to other people and groups through what I will call the 'Save Me Syndrome' - 'I want someone else to do it so that I don't have to'. We have seen this at work throughout human history and the QAnon/Trump Psyop is only the latest incarnation alongside all the others. Religion is an obvious expression of this when people look to a 'god' or priest to save them or tell them how to be saved and then there are 'save me' politicians like Trump. Politics is a diversion and not a 'saviour'. It is a means to block positive change, not make it possible.

Save Me Syndrome always comes with the same repeating theme of handing your power to whom or what you believe will save you while your real 'saviour' stares back from the mirror every morning. Renegade Minds are constantly vigilant in this regard and always asking the question 'What can I do?' rather than 'What can someone else do for me?' Gandhi was right when he said: 'You must be the change you want to see in the world.' We are indeed the people we have been waiting for. We are presented with a constant raft of reasons to concede that power to others and forget where the real power is. Humanity has the numbers and the Cult does not. It has to use diversion and division to target the unstoppable power that comes from unity. Religions, governments, politicians, corporations, media, QAnon, are all different manifestations of this power-diversion and dilution. Refusing to give your power to governments and instead handing it to Trump and QAnon is not to take a new direction, but merely to recycle the old one with new names on the posters. I will explore this phenomenon as we proceed and how to break the cycles and recycles that got us here through the mists of repeating perception and so repeating history.

For now we shall turn to the most potent example in the entire human story of the consequences that follow when you give your power away. I am talking, of course, of the 'Covid' hoax.

CHAPTER FOUR

'Covid': Calculated catastrophe

Facts are threatening to those invested in fraud DaShanne Stokes

We can easily unravel the real reason for the 'Covid pandemic' hoax by employing the Renegade Mind methodology that I have outlined this far. We'll start by comparing the long-planned Cult outcome with the 'Covid pandemic' outcome. Know the outcome and you'll see the journey.

I have highlighted the plan for the Hunger Games Society which has been in my books for so many years with the very few controlling the very many through ongoing dependency. To create this dependency it is essential to destroy independent livelihoods, businesses and employment to make the population reliant on the state (the Cult) for even the basics of life through a guaranteed pittance income. While independence of income remained these Cult ambitions would be thwarted. With this knowledge it was easy to see where the 'pandemic' hoax was going once talk of 'lockdowns' began and the closing of all but perceived 'essential' businesses to 'save' us from an alleged 'deadly virus'. Cult corporations like Amazon and Walmart were naturally considered 'essential' while mom and pop shops and stores had their doors closed by fascist decree. As a result with every new lockdown and new regulation more small and medium, even large businesses not owned by the Cult, went to the wall while Cult giants and their frontmen and women grew financially fatter by the second. Mom and pop were denied an income and the right to earn a living and the wealth of people like Jeff Bezos (Amazon), Mark Zuckerberg (Facebook) and Sergei Brin and Larry Page (Google/Alphabet) have reached record levels. The Cult was increasing its own power through further dramatic concentrations of wealth while the competition was being destroyed and brought into a state of dependency. Lockdowns have been instigated to secure that very end and were never anything to do with health. My brother Paul spent 45 years building up a bus repair business, but lockdowns meant buses were running at a fraction of normal levels for months on end. Similar stories can told in their hundreds of millions worldwide. Efforts of a lifetime coldly destroyed by Cult multi-billionaires and their lackeys in government and law enforcement who continued to earn their living from the taxation of the people while denying the right of the same people to earn theirs. How different it would have been if those making and enforcing these decisions had to face the same financial hardships of those they affected, but they never do.

Gates of Hell

Behind it all in the full knowledge of what he is doing and why is the psychopathic figure of Cult operative Bill Gates. His puppet Tedros at the World Health Organization declared 'Covid' a pandemic in March, 2020. The WHO had changed the definition of a 'pandemic' in 2009 just a month before declaring the 'swine flu pandemic' which would not have been so under the previous definition. The same applies to 'Covid'. The definition had included... 'an infection by an infectious agent, occurring simultaneously in different countries, with a significant mortality rate relative to the proportion of the population infected'. The new definition removed the need for 'significant mortality'. The 'pandemic' has been fraudulent even down to the definition, but Gates demanded economy-destroying lockdowns, school closures, social distancing, mandatory masks, a 'vaccination' for every man, woman and child on the planet and severe consequences and restrictions for those that refused. Who gave him this power? The Cult did which he serves like a little boy in short trousers doing what his daddy tells him. He and his psychopathic missus even smiled when they said that much worse was to come (what they knew was planned to come). Gates responded in the matter-of-fact way of all psychopaths to a question about the effect on the world economy of what he was doing:

Well, it won't go to zero but it will shrink. Global GDP is probably going to take the biggest hit ever [Gates was smiling as he said this] ... in my lifetime this will be the greatest economic hit. But you don't have a choice. People act as if you have a choice. People don't feel like going to the stadium when they might get infected ... People are deeply affected by seeing these stats, by knowing they could be part of the transmission chain, old people, their parents and grandparents, could be affected by this, and so you don't get to say ignore what is going on here.

There will be the ability to open up, particularly in rich countries, if things are done well over the next few months, but for the world at large normalcy only returns when we have largely vaccinated the entire population.

The man has no compassion or empathy. How could he when he's a psychopath like all Cult players? My own view is that even beyond that he is very seriously mentally ill. Look in his eyes and you can see this along with his crazy flailing arms. You don't do what he has done to the world population since the start of 2020 unless you are mentally ill and at the most extreme end of psychopathic. You especially don't do it when to you know, as we shall see, that cases and deaths from 'Covid' are fakery and a product of monumental figure massaging. 'These stats' that Gates referred to are based on a 'test' that's not testing for the 'virus' as he has known all along. He made his fortune with big Cult support as an infamously ruthless software salesman and now buys global control of 'health' (death) policy without the population he affects having any say. It's a breathtaking outrage. Gates talked about people being deeply affected by fear of 'Covid' when that was because of him and his global network lying to them minute-by-minute supported by a lying media that he seriously influences and funds to the tune of hundreds of millions. He's handed big sums to media operations including the BBC, NBC, Al Jazeera, Univision, PBS NewsHour, ProPublica, National Journal, The Guardian, The Financial Times, The Atlantic, Texas Tribune, USA Today publisher Gannett, Washington Monthly, Le Monde, Center for Investigative Reporting, Pulitzer Center on Crisis Reporting, National Press Foundation, International Center for Journalists, Solutions Journalism Network, the Poynter Institute for Media Studies, and many more. Gates is everywhere in the 'Covid' hoax and the man must go to prison – or a mental facility – for the rest of his life and his money distributed to those he has taken such enormous psychopathic pleasure in crushing.

The Muscle

The Hunger Games global structure demands a police-military state – a fusion of the two into one force – which viciously imposes the will of the Cult on the population and protects the Cult from public rebellion. In that regard, too, the 'Covid' hoax just keeps on giving. Often unlawful, ridiculous and contradictory 'Covid' rules and regulations have been policed across the world by moronic automatons and psychopaths made faceless by face-nappy masks and acting like the Nazi SS and fascist blackshirts and brownshirts of Hitler and Mussolini. The smallest departure from the rules decreed by the psychos in government and their clueless gofers were jumped upon by the face-nappy fascists. Brutality against public protestors soon became commonplace even on girls, women and old people as the brave men with the batons – the Face-Nappies as I call them – broke up peaceful protests and handed out fines like confetti to people who couldn't earn a living let alone pay hundreds of pounds for what was once an accepted human right. Robot Face-Nappies of Nottingham police in the English East Midlands fined one group £11,000 for attending a child's birthday party. For decades I charted the transformation of law enforcement as genuine, decent officers were replaced with psychopaths and the brain dead who would happily and brutally do whatever their masters told them. Now they were let loose on the public and I would emphasise the point that none of this just happened. The step-by-step change in the dynamic between police and public was orchestrated from the shadows by those who knew where this was all going and the same with the perceptual reframing of those in all levels of authority and official administration through 'training courses' by organisations such as Common Purpose which was created in the late 1980s and given a massive boost in Blair era Britain until it became a global phenomenon. Supposed public 'servants' began to view the population as the enemy and the same was true of the police. This was the start of the explosion of behaviour manipulation organisations and networks preparing for the all-war on the human psyche unleashed with the dawn of 2020. I will go into more detail about this later in the book because it is a core part of what is happening.

Police desecrated beauty spots to deter people gathering and arrested women for walking in the countryside alone 'too far' from their homes. We had arrogant, clueless sergeants in the Isle of Wight police where I live posting on Facebook what they insisted the population must do or else. A schoolmaster sergeant called Radford looked young enough for me to ask if his mother knew he was out, but he was posting what he expected people to do while a Sergeant Wilkinson boasted about fining lads for meeting in a McDonald's car park where they went to get a lockdown takeaway. Wilkinson added that he had even cancelled their order. What a pair of prats these people are and yet they have increasingly become the norm among Jackboot Johnson's Yellowshirts once known as the British police. This was the theme all over the world with police savagery common during lockdown protests in the United States, the Netherlands, and the fascist state of Victoria in Australia under its tyrannical and again moronic premier Daniel Andrews. Amazing how tyrannical and moronic tend to work as a team and the same combination could be seen across America as arrogant, narcissistic Woke governors and mayors such as Gavin Newsom (California), Andrew Cuomo (New York), Gretchen Whitmer (Michigan), Lori Lightfoot (Chicago) and Eric Garcetti (Los Angeles) did their Nazi and Stalin impressions with the full support of the compliant brutality of their enforcers in uniform as they arrested small business owners defying fascist shutdown orders and took them to jail in ankle shackles and handcuffs. This happened to bistro owner Marlena Pavlos-Hackney in Gretchen Whitmer's fascist state of Michigan when police arrived to enforce an order by a state-owned judge for 'putting the community at risk' at a time when other states like Texas were dropping restrictions and migrants were pouring across the southern border without any 'Covid' questions at all. I'm sure there are many officers appalled by what they are ordered to do, but not nearly enough of them. If they were truly appalled they would not do it. As the months passed every opportunity was taken to have the military involved to make their presence on the streets ever more familiar and 'normal' for the longer-term goal of police-military fusion.

Another crucial element to the Hunger Games enforcement network has been encouraging the public to report neighbours and others for 'breaking the lockdown rules'. The group faced with £11,000 in fines at the child's birthday party would have been dobbed-in by a neighbour with a brain the size of a pea. The technique was most famously employed by the Stasi secret police in communist East Germany who had public informants placed throughout the population. A police chief in the UK says his force doesn't need to carry out 'Covid' patrols when they are flooded with so many calls from the public reporting other people for visiting the beach. Dorset police chief James Vaughan said people were so enthusiastic about snitching on their fellow humans they were now operating as an auxiliary arm of the police: 'We are still getting around 400 reports a week from the public, so we will respond to reports ... We won't need to be doing hotspot patrols because people are very quick to pick the phone up and tell us.' Vaughan didn't say that this is a pillar of all tyrannies of whatever complexion and the means to hugely extend the reach of enforcement while spreading distrust among the people and making them wary of doing anything that might get them reported. Those narcissistic Isle of Wight sergeants Radford and Wilkinson never fail to add a link to their Facebook posts where the public can inform on their fellow slaves.

Neither would be self-aware enough to realise they were imitating the Stasi which they might well never have heard of. Government psychologists that I will expose later laid out a policy to turn communities against each other in the same way.

A coincidence? Yep, and I can knit fog

I knew from the start of the alleged pandemic that this was a Cult operation. It presented limitless potential to rapidly advance the Cult agenda and exploit manipulated fear to demand that every man, woman and child on the planet was 'vaccinated' in a process never used on humans before which infuses self-replicating synthetic material into human cells. Remember the plan to transform the human body from a biological to a synthetic biological state. I'll deal with the 'vaccine' (that's not actually a vaccine) when I focus on the genetic agenda. Enough to say here that mass global 'vaccination' justified by this 'new virus' set alarms ringing after 30 years of tracking these people and their methods. The 'Covid' hoax officially beginning in China was also a big red flag for reasons I will be explaining. The agenda potential was so enormous that I could dismiss any idea that the 'virus' appeared naturally. Major happenings with major agenda implications never occur without Cult involvement in making them happen. My questions were twofold in early 2020 as the media began its campaign to induce global fear and hysteria: Was this alleged infectious agent released on purpose by the Cult or did it even exist at all? I then did what I always do in these situations. I sat, observed and waited to see where the evidence and information would take me. By March and early April synchronicity was strongly – and ever more so since then - pointing me in the direction of there is no 'virus'. I went public on that with derision even from swathes of the alternative media that voiced a scenario that the Chinese government released the 'virus' in league with Deep State elements in the United States from a toplevel bio-lab in Wuhan where the 'virus' is said to have first appeared. I looked at that possibility, but I didn't buy it for several reasons. Deaths from the 'virus' did not in any way match what they would have been with a 'deadly bioweapon' and it is much more effective if you sell the illusion of an infectious agent rather than having a real one unless you can control through injection who has it and who doesn't. Otherwise you lose control of events. A made-up 'virus' gives you a blank sheet of paper on which you can make it do whatever you like and have any symptoms or mutant 'variants' you choose to add while a real infectious agent would limit you to what it actually does. A phantom disease allows you to have endless ludicrous 'studies' on the 'Covid' dollar to widen the perceived impact by inventing ever more 'at risk' groups including one study which said those who walk slowly may be almost four times more likely to die from the 'virus'. People are in psychiatric wards for less.

A real 'deadly bioweapon' can take out people in the hierarchy that are not part of the Cult, but essential to its operation. Obviously they don't want that. Releasing a real disease means you immediately lose control of it. Releasing an illusory one means you don't. Again it's vital that people are extra careful when dealing with what they want to hear. A bioweapon unleashed from a Chinese laboratory in collusion with the American Deep State may fit a conspiracy narrative, but is it true? Would it not be far more effective to use the excuse of a 'virus' to justify the real bioweapon – the 'vaccine'? That way your disease agent does not have to be transmitted and arrives directly through a syringe. I saw a French virologist Luc Montagnier quoted in the alternative media as saying he had discovered that the alleged 'new' severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus, or SARS-CoV-2, was made artificially and included elements of the human immunodeficiency 'virus' (HIV) and a parasite that causes malaria. SARS-CoV-2 is alleged to trigger an alleged illness called Covid-19. I remembered Montagnier's name from my research years before into claims that an HIV 'retrovirus' causes AIDs – claims that were demolished by Berkeley virologist Peter Duesberg who showed that no one had ever proved that HIV causes acquired immunodeficiency syndrome or AIDS. Claims that become accepted as fact, publicly and medically, with no proof whatsoever are an ever-recurring story that profoundly applies to 'Covid'. Nevertheless, despite the lack of proof, Montagnier's team at the Pasteur Institute in Paris had a long dispute with American researcher Robert Gallo over which of them discovered and isolated the HIV 'virus' and with no evidence found it to cause AIDS. You will see later that there is also no evidence that any 'virus' causes any disease or that there is even such a thing as a 'virus' in the way it is said to exist. The claim to have 'isolated' the HIV 'virus' will be presented in its real context as we come to the shocking story – and it is a story – of SARS-CoV-2 and so will Montagnier's assertion that he identified the full SARS-CoV-2 genome.

Hoax in the making

We can pick up the 'Covid' story in 2010 and the publication by the Rockefeller Foundation of a document called 'Scenarios for the Future of Technology and International Development'. The inner circle of the Rockefeller family has been serving the Cult since John D. Rockefeller (1839-1937) made his fortune with Standard Oil. It is less well known that the same Rockefeller – the Bill Gates of his day - was responsible for establishing what is now referred to as 'Big Pharma', the global network of pharmaceutical companies that make outrageous profits dispensing scalpel and drug 'medicine' and are obsessed with pumping vaccines in ever-increasing number into as many human arms and backsides as possible. John D. Rockefeller was the driving force behind the creation of the 'education' system in the United States and elsewhere specifically designed to program the perceptions of generations thereafter. The Rockefeller family donated exceptionally valuable land in New York for the United Nations building and were central in establishing the World Health Organization in 1948 as an agency of the UN which was created from the start as a Trojan horse and stalking horse for world government. Now enter Bill Gates. His family and the Rockefellers have long been extremely close and I have seen genealogy which claims that if you go back far enough the two families fuse into the same bloodline. Gates has said that the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation was inspired by the Rockefeller Foundation and why not when both are serving the same Cult? Major tax-exempt foundations are overwhelmingly criminal enterprises in which Cult assets fund the Cult agenda in the guise of 'philanthropy' while avoiding tax in the process. Cult operatives can become mega-rich in their role of front men and women for the psychopaths at the inner core and they, too, have to be psychopaths to knowingly serve such evil. Part of the deal is that a big percentage of the wealth gleaned from representing the Cult has to be spent advancing the ambitions of the Cult and hence you have the Rockefeller Foundation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation (and so many more) and people like George Soros with his global Open Society Foundations spending their billions in pursuit of global Cult control. Gates is a global public face of the Cult with his interventions in world affairs including Big Tech influence; a central role in the 'Covid' and 'vaccine' scam; promotion of the climate change shakedown; manipulation of education; geoengineering of the skies; and his food-control agenda as the biggest owner of farmland in America, his GMO promotion and through other means. As one writer said: 'Gates monopolizes or wields disproportionate influence over the tech industry, global health and vaccines, agriculture and food policy (including biopiracy and fake food), weather modification and other climate technologies, surveillance, education and media.' The almost limitless wealth secured through Microsoft and other not-allowedto-fail ventures (including vaccines) has been ploughed into a long, long list of Cult projects designed to enslave the entire human race. Gates and the Rockefellers have been working as one unit with the Rockefeller-established World Health Organization leading global 'Covid' policy controlled by Gates through his mouth-piece Tedros. Gates became the WHO's biggest funder when Trump announced that the American government would cease its donations, but Biden immediately said he would restore the money when he took office in January, 2021. The Gates Foundation (the Cult) owns through limitless funding the world health system and the major players across the globe in the 'Covid' hoax.

Okay, with that background we return to that Rockefeller Foundation document of 2010 headed 'Scenarios for the Future of Technology and International Development' and its 'imaginary' epidemic of a virulent and deadly influenza strain which infected 20 percent of the global population and killed eight million in seven months. The Rockefeller scenario was that the epidemic destroyed economies, closed shops, offices and other businesses and led to governments imposing fierce rules and restrictions that included mandatory wearing of face masks and body-temperature checks to enter communal spaces like railway stations and supermarkets. The document predicted that even after the height of the Rockefellerenvisaged epidemic the authoritarian rule would continue to deal with further pandemics, transnational terrorism, environmental crises and rising poverty. Now you may think that the Rockefellers are our modern-day seers or alternatively, and rather more likely, that they well knew what was planned a few years further on. Fascism had to be imposed, you see, to 'protect citizens from risk and exposure'. The Rockefeller scenario document said:

During the pandemic, national leaders around the world flexed their authority and imposed airtight rules and restrictions, from the mandatory wearing of face masks to body-temperature checks at the entries to communal spaces like train stations and supermarkets. Even after the pandemic faded, this more authoritarian control and oversight of citizens and their activities stuck and even intensified. In order to protect themselves from the spread of increasingly global problems – from pandemics and transnational terrorism to environmental crises and rising poverty – leaders around the world took a firmer grip on power.

At first, the notion of a more controlled world gained wide acceptance and approval. Citizens willingly gave up some of their sovereignty – and their privacy – to more paternalistic states in exchange for greater safety and stability. Citizens were more tolerant, and even eager, for top-down direction and oversight, and national leaders had more latitude to impose order in the ways they saw fit.

In developed countries, this heightened oversight took many forms: biometric IDs for all citizens, for example, and tighter regulation of key industries whose stability was deemed vital to national interests. In many developed countries, enforced cooperation with a suite of new regulations and agreements slowly but steadily restored both order and, importantly, economic growth.

There we have the prophetic Rockefellers in 2010 and three years later came their paper for the Global Health Summit in Beijing, China, when government representatives, the private sector, international organisations and groups met to discuss the next 100 years of 'global health'. The Rockefeller Foundation-funded paper was called 'Dreaming the Future of Health for the Next 100 Years and more prophecy ensued as it described a dystopian future: 'The abundance of data, digitally tracking and linking people may mean the 'death of privacy' and may replace physical interaction with transient, virtual connection, generating isolation and raising questions of how values are shaped in virtual networks.' Next in the 'Covid' hoax preparation sequence came a 'table top' simulation in 2018 for another 'imaginary' pandemic of a disease called Clade X which was said to kill 900 million people. The exercise was organised by the Gates-funded Johns Hopkins University's Center for Health Security in the United States and this is the very same university that has been compiling the disgustingly and systematically erroneous global figures for 'Covid' cases and deaths. Similar Johns Hopkins health crisis scenarios have included the Dark Winter exercise in 2001 and Atlantic Storm in 2005.

Nostradamus 201

For sheer predictive genius look no further prophecy-watchers than the Bill Gates-funded Event 201 held only six weeks before the 'coronavirus pandemic' is supposed to have broken out in China and Event 201 was based on a scenario of a global 'coronavirus pandemic'. Melinda Gates, the great man's missus, told the BBC that he had 'prepared for years' for a coronavirus pandemic which told us what we already knew. Nostradamugates had predicted in a TED talk in 2015 that a pandemic was coming that would kill a lot of people and demolish the world economy. My god, the man is a machine – possibly even literally. Now here he was only weeks before the real thing funding just such a simulated scenario and involving his friends and associates at Johns Hopkins, the World Economic Forum Cult-front of Klaus Schwab, the United Nations, Johnson & Johnson, major banks, and officials from China and the Centers for Disease Control in the United States. What synchronicity Johns Hopkins would go on to compile the fraudulent 'Covid' figures, the World Economic Forum and Schwab would push the 'Great Reset' in response to 'Covid', the Centers for Disease Control would be at the forefront of 'Covid' policy in the United States, Johnson & Johnson would produce a 'Covid vaccine', and everything would officially start just weeks later in China. Spooky, eh? They were even accurate in creating a simulation of a 'virus' pandemic because the 'real thing' would also be a simulation. Event 201 was not an exercise preparing for something that might happen; it was a rehearsal for what those in control knew was going to happen and very shortly. Hours of this simulation were posted on the Internet and the various themes and responses mirrored what would soon be imposed to transform human society. News stories were inserted and what they said would be commonplace a few weeks later with still more prophecy perfection. Much discussion focused on the need to deal with misinformation and the 'anti-vax movement' which is exactly what happened when the 'virus' arrived - was said to have arrived - in the West.

Cult-owned social media banned criticism and exposure of the official 'virus' narrative and when I said there was no 'virus' in early April, 2020, I was banned by one platform after another including YouTube, Facebook and later Twitter. The mainstream broadcast media in Britain was in effect banned from interviewing me by the Tony-Blair-created government broadcasting censor Ofcom headed by career government bureaucrat Melanie Dawes who was appointed just as the 'virus' hoax was about to play out in January, 2020. At the same time the Ickonic media platform was using Vimeo, another ultra-Zionist-owned operation, while our own player was being created and they deleted in an instant hundreds of videos, documentaries, series and shows to confirm their unbelievable vindictiveness. We had copies, of course, and they had to be restored one by one when our player was ready. These people have no class. Sabbatian Facebook promised free advertisements for the Gates-controlled World Health Organization narrative while deleting 'false claims and conspiracy theories' to stop 'misinformation' about the alleged coronavirus. All these responses could be seen just a short while earlier in the scenarios of Event 201. Extreme censorship was absolutely crucial for the Cult because the official story was so ridiculous and unsupportable by the evidence that it could never survive open debate and the free-flow of information and opinion. If you can't win a debate then don't have one is the Cult's approach throughout history. Facebook's little boy front man – front boy – Mark Zuckerberg equated 'credible and accurate information' with official sources and exposing their lies with 'misinformation'.

Silencing those that can see

The censorship dynamic of Event 201 is now the norm with an army of narrative-supporting 'fact-checker' organisations whose entire reason for being is to tell the public that official narratives are true and those exposing them are lying. One of the most appalling of these 'fact-checkers' is called NewsGuard founded by ultra-Zionist Americans Gordon Crovitz and Steven Brill. Crovitz is a former publisher of The Wall Street Journal, former Executive Vice President of Dow Jones, a member of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), and on the board of the American Association of Rhodes Scholars. The CFR and Rhodes Scholarships, named after Rothschild agent Cecil Rhodes who plundered the gold and diamonds of South Africa for his masters and the Cult, have featured widely in my books. NewsGuard don't seem to like me for some reason – I really can't think why – and they have done all they can to have me censored and discredited which is, to quote an old British politician, like being savaged by a dead sheep. They are, however, like all in the censorship network, very well connected and funded by organisations themselves funded by, or connected to, Bill Gates. As you would expect with anything associated with Gates NewsGuard has an offshoot called HealthGuard which 'fights online health care hoaxes'. How very kind. Somehow the NewsGuard European Managing Director Anna-Sophie Harling, a remarkably younglooking woman with no broadcasting experience and little hands-on work in journalism, has somehow secured a position on the 'Content Board' of UK government broadcast censor Ofcom. An executive of an organisation seeking to discredit dissidents of the official narratives is making decisions for the government broadcast 'regulator' about content?? Another appalling 'fact-checker' is Full Fact funded by George Soros and global censors Google and Facebook.

It's amazing how many activists in the 'fact-checking', 'anti-hate', arena turn up in government-related positions – people like UK Labour Party activist Imran Ahmed who heads the Center for Countering Digital Hate founded by people like Morgan McSweeney, now chief of staff to the Labour Party's hapless and useless 'leader' Keir Starmer. Digital Hate – which is what it really is – uses the American spelling of Center to betray its connection to a transatlantic network of similar organisations which in 2020 shapeshifted from attacking people for 'hate' to attacking them for questioning the 'Covid' hoax and the dangers of the 'Covid vaccine'. It's just a coincidence, you understand. This is one of Imran Ahmed's hysterical statements: 'I would go beyond calling anti-vaxxers conspiracy theorists to say they are an extremist group that pose a national security risk.' No one could ever accuse this prat of understatement and he's including in that those parents who are now against vaccines after their children were damaged for life or killed by them. He's such a nice man. Ahmed does the rounds of the Woke media getting soft-ball questions from spineless 'journalists' who never ask what right he has to campaign to destroy the freedom of speech of others while he demands it for himself. There also seems to be an overrepresentation in Ofcom of people connected to the narrative-worshipping BBC. This incredible global network of narrative-support was super-vital when the 'Covid' hoax was played in the light of the mega-whopper lies that have to be defended from the spotlight cast by the most basic intelligence.

Setting the scene

The Cult plays the long game and proceeds step-by-step ensuring that everything is in place before major cards are played and they don't come any bigger than the 'Covid' hoax. The psychopaths can't handle events where the outcome isn't certain and as little as possible – preferably nothing – is left to chance. Politicians, government and medical officials who would follow direction were brought to illusory power in advance by the Cult web whether on the national stage or others like state governors and mayors of America. For decades the dynamic between officialdom, law enforcement and the public was changed from one of service to one of control and dictatorship. Behaviour manipulation networks established within government were waiting to impose the coming 'Covid' rules and regulations specifically designed to subdue and rewire the psyche of the people in the guise of protecting health. These included in the UK the Behavioural Insights Team part-owned by the British government Cabinet Office; the Scientific Pandemic Insights Group on Behaviours (SPI-B); and a whole web of intelligence and military groups seeking to direct the conversation on social media and control the narrative. Among them are the cyberwarfare (on the people) 77th Brigade of the British military which is also coordinated through the Cabinet Office as civilian and military leadership continues to combine in what they call the Fusion Doctrine. The 77th Brigade is a British equivalent of the infamous Israeli (Sabbatian) military cyberwarfare and Internet manipulation operation Unit 8200 which I expose at length in The Trigger. Also carefully in place were the medical and science advisers to government – many on the payroll past or present of Bill Gates – and a whole alternative structure of unelected government stood by to take control when elected parliaments were effectively closed down once the 'Covid' card was slammed on the table. The structure I have described here and so much more was installed in every major country through the Cult networks. The top-down control hierarchy looks like this: The Cult – Cult-owned Gates – the World Health Organization and Tedros – Gates-funded or controlled chief medical officers and science 'advisers' (dictators) in each country – political 'leaders' – law enforcement – The People. Through this simple global communication and enforcement structure the policy of the Cult could be imposed on virtually the entire human population so long as they acquiesced to the fascism. With everything in place it was time for the button to be pressed in late 2019/early 2020.

These were the prime goals the Cult had to secure for its will to prevail:

- 1) Locking down economies, closing all but designated 'essential' businesses (Cult-owned corporations were 'essential'), and putting the population under house arrest was an imperative to destroy independent income and employment and ensure dependency on the Cult-controlled state in the Hunger Games Society. Lockdowns had to be established as the global blueprint from the start to respond to the 'virus' and followed by pretty much the entire world.
- 2) The global population had to be terrified into believing in a deadly 'virus' that didn't actually exist so they would unquestioningly obey authority in the belief that authority must know how best to protect them and their families. Software salesman Gates would suddenly morph into the world's health expert and be promoted as such by the Cult-owned media.
- 3) A method of testing that wasn't testing for the 'virus', but was only claimed to be, had to be in place to provide the illusion of 'cases' and subsequent 'deaths' that had a very different cause to the 'Covid-19' that would be scribbled on the death certificate.
- 4) Because there was no 'virus' and the great majority testing positive with a test not testing for the 'virus' would have no symptoms of anything the lie had to be sold that people without symptoms (without the 'virus') could still pass it on to others. This was crucial to justify for the first time quarantining house arresting healthy people. Without this the economy-destroying lockdown of everybody could not have been credibly sold.
- 5) The 'saviour' had to be seen as a vaccine which beyond evil drug companies were working like angels of mercy to develop as quickly as possible, with all corners cut, to save the day. The public must absolutely not know that the 'vaccine' had nothing to do with a 'virus' or that the contents were ready and waiting with a very different motive long before the 'Covid' card was even lifted from the pack.

I said in March, 2020, that the 'vaccine' would have been created way ahead of the 'Covid' hoax which justified its use and the following December an article in the New York Intelligencer magazine said the Moderna 'vaccine' had been 'designed' by January, 2020. This was 'before China had even acknowledged that the disease could be transmitted from human to human, more than a week before the first confirmed coronavirus case in the United States'. The article said that by the time the first American death was announced a month later 'the vaccine had already been manufactured and shipped to the National Institutes of Health for the beginning of its Phase I clinical trial'. The 'vaccine' was actually 'designed' long before that although even with this timescale you would expect the article to ask how on earth it could have been done that quickly. Instead it asked why the 'vaccine' had not been rolled out then and not months later. Journalism in the mainstream is truly dead. I am going to detail in the next chapter why the 'virus' has never existed and how a hoax on that scale was possible, but first the foundation on which the Big Lie of 'Covid' was built.

The test that doesn't test

Fraudulent 'testing' is the bottom line of the whole 'Covid' hoax and was the means by which a 'virus' that did not exist appeared to exist. They could only achieve this magic trick by using a test not testing for the 'virus'. To use a test that was testing for the 'virus' would mean that every test would come back negative given there was no 'virus'. They chose to exploit something called the RT-PCR test invented by American biochemist Kary Mullis in the 1980s who said publicly that his PCR test ... cannot detect infectious disease. Yes, the 'test' used worldwide to detect infectious 'Covid' to produce all the illusory 'cases' and 'deaths' compiled by Johns Hopkins and others cannot detect infectious disease. This fact came from the mouth of the man who invented PCR and was awarded the Nobel Prize in Chemistry in 1993 for doing so. Sadly, and incredibly conveniently for the Cult, Mullis died in August, 2019, at the age of 74 just before his test would be fraudulently used to unleash fascism on the world. He was said to have died from pneumonia which was an irony in itself. A few months later he would have had 'Covid-19' on his death certificate. I say the timing of his death was convenient because had he lived Mullis, a brilliant, honest and decent man, would have been vociferously speaking out against the use of his test to detect 'Covid' when it was never designed, or able, to do that. I know that to be true given that Mullis made the same point when his test was used to 'detect' – not detect – HIV. He had been seriously critical of the Gallo/Montagnier claim to have isolated the HIV 'virus' and shown it to cause AIDS for which Mullis said there was no evidence. AIDS is actually not a disease but a series of diseases from which people die all the time. When they die from those same diseases after a positive 'test' for HIV then AIDS goes on their death certificate. I think I've heard that before somewhere. Countries instigated a policy with 'Covid' that anyone who tested positive with a test not testing for the 'virus' and died of any other cause within 28 days and even longer 'Covid-19' had to go on the death certificate. Cases have come from the test that can't test for infectious disease and the deaths are those who have died of anything after testing positive with a test not testing for the 'virus'. I'll have much more later about the death certificate scandal.

Mullis was deeply dismissive of the now US 'Covid' star Anthony Fauci who he said was a liar who didn't know anything about anything – 'and I would say that to his face – nothing.' He said of Fauci: 'The man thinks he can take a blood sample, put it in an electron microscope and if it's got a virus in there you'll know it – he doesn't understand electron microscopy and he doesn't understand medicine and shouldn't be in a position like he's in.' That position, terrifyingly, has made him the decider of 'Covid' fascism policy on behalf of the Cult in his role as director since 1984 of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) while his record of being wrong is laughable; but being wrong, so long as it's the right kind of wrong, is why the Cult loves him. He'll say anything the Cult tells him to say. Fauci was made Chief Medical Adviser to the President immediately Biden took office. Biden was installed in the White House by Cult manipulation and one of his first decisions was to elevate Fauci to a position of even more control. This is a coincidence? Yes, and I identify as a flamenco dancer called Lola. How does such an incompetent criminal like Fauci remain in that pivotal position in American health since the 1980s? When you serve the Cult it looks after you until you are surplus to requirements. Kary Mullis said prophetically of Fauci and his like: 'Those guys have an agenda and it's not an agenda we would like them to have ... they make their own rules, they change them when they want to, and Tony Fauci does not mind going on television in front of the people who pay his salary and lie directly into the camera.' Fauci has done that almost daily since the 'Covid' hoax began. Lying is in Fauci's DNA. To make the situation crystal clear about the PCR test this is a direct quote from its inventor Kary Mullis:

It [the PCR test] doesn't tell you that you're sick and doesn't tell you that the thing you ended up with was really going to hurt you ...'

Ask yourself why governments and medical systems the world over have been using this very test to decide who is 'infected' with the SARS-CoV-2 'virus' and the alleged disease it allegedly causes, 'Covid-19'. The answer to that question will tell you what has been going on. By the way, here's a little show-stopper – the 'new' SARS-CoV-2 'virus' was 'identified' as such right from the start using ... the PCR test not testing for the 'virus'. If you are new to this and find that shocking then stick around. I have hardly started yet. Even worse, other 'tests', like the 'Lateral Flow Device' (LFD), are considered so useless that they have to be confirmed by the PCR test! Leaked emails written by Ben Dyson, adviser to UK 'Health' Secretary Matt Hancock, said they were 'dangerously unreliable'. Dyson, executive director of strategy at the Department of Health, wrote: 'As of today, someone who gets a positive LFD result in (say) London has at best a 25 per cent chance of it being a true positive, but if it is a selfreported test potentially as low as 10 per cent (on an optimistic assumption about specificity) or as low as 2 per cent (on a more pessimistic assumption).' These are the 'tests' that schoolchildren and the public are being urged to have twice a week or more and have to isolate if they get a positive. Each fake positive goes in the statistics as a 'case' no matter how ludicrously inaccurate and the 'cases' drive lockdown, masks and the pressure to 'vaccinate'. The government said in response to the email leak that the 'tests' were accurate which confirmed yet again what shocking bloody liars they are. The real false positive rate is 100 percent as we'll see. In another 'you couldn't make it up' the UK government agreed to pay £2.8 billion to California's Innova Medical Group to supply the irrelevant lateral flow tests. The company's primary test-making centre is in China. Innova Medical Group, established in March, 2020, is owned by Pasaca Capital Inc, chaired by Chinese-American millionaire Charles Huang who was born in Wuhan.

How it works – and how it doesn't

The RT-PCR test, known by its full title of Polymerase chain reaction, is used across the world to make millions, even billions, of copies of a DNA/RNA genetic information sample. The process is called 'amplification' and means that a tiny sample of genetic material is amplified to bring out the detailed content. I stress that it is not testing for an infectious disease. It is simply amplifying a sample of genetic material. In the words of Kary Mullis: 'PCR is ... just a process that's used to make a whole lot of something out of something.' To emphasise the point companies that make the PCR tests circulated around the world to 'test' for 'Covid' warn on the box that it can't be used to detect 'Covid' or infectious disease and is for research purposes only. It's okay, rest for a minute and you'll be fine. This is the test that produces the 'cases' and 'deaths' that have been used to destroy human society. All those global and national medical and scientific 'experts' demanding this destruction to 'save us' KNOW that the test is not testing for the 'virus' and the cases and deaths they claim to be real are an almost unimaginable fraud. Every one of them and so many others including politicians and psychopaths like Gates and Tedros must be brought before Nuremburg-type trials and jailed for the rest of their lives. The more the genetic sample is amplified by PCR the more elements of that material become sensitive to the test and by that I don't mean sensitive for a 'virus' but for elements of the genetic material which is naturally in the body or relates to remnants of old conditions of various kinds lying dormant and causing no disease. Once the amplification of the PCR reaches a certain level everyone will test positive. So much of the material has been made sensitive to the test that everyone will have some part of it in their body. Even lying criminals like Fauci have said that once PCR amplifications pass 35 cycles everything will be a false positive that cannot be trusted for the reasons I have described. I say, like many proper doctors and scientists, that 100 percent of the 'positives' are false, but let's just go with Fauci for a moment.

He says that any amplification over 35 cycles will produce false positives and yet the US Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and Food and Drug Administration (FDA) have recommended up to 40 cycles and the National Health Service (NHS) in Britain admitted in an internal document for staff that it was using 45 cycles of amplification. A long list of other countries has been doing the same and at least one 'testing' laboratory has been using 50 cycles. Have you ever heard a doctor, medical 'expert' or the media ask what level of amplification has been used to claim a 'positive'. The 'test' comes back 'positive' and so you have the 'virus', end of story. Now we can see how the government in Tanzania could send off samples from a goat and a pawpaw fruit under human names and both came back positive for 'Covid-19'. Tanzania president John Magufuli mocked the 'Covid' hysteria, the PCR test and masks and refused to import the DNA-manipulating 'vaccine'. The Cult hated him and an article sponsored by the Bill Gates Foundation appeared in the London Guardian in February, 2021, headed 'It's time for Africa to rein in Tanzania's anti-vaxxer president'. Well, 'reined in' he shortly was. Magufuli appeared in good health, but then, in March, 2021, he was dead at 61 from 'heart failure'. He was replaced by Samia Hassan Suhulu who is connected to Klaus Schwab's World Economic Forum and she immediately reversed Magufuli's 'Covid' policy. A sample of cola tested positive for 'Covid' with the PCR test in Germany while American actress and singer-songwriter Erykah Badu tested positive in one nostril and negative in the other. Footballer Ronaldo called the PCR test 'bullshit' after testing positive three times and being forced to quarantine and miss matches when there was nothing wrong with him. The mantra from Tedros at the World Health Organization and national governments (same thing) has been test, test, test. They know that the more tests they can generate the more fake 'cases' they have which go on to become 'deaths' in ways I am coming to. The UK government has its Operation Moonshot planned to test multiple millions every day in workplaces and schools with free tests for everyone to use twice a week at home in line with the Cult plan from the start to make testing part of life. A government advertisement for an 'Interim Head of Asymptomatic Testing Communication' said the job included responsibility for delivering a 'communications strategy' (propaganda) 'to support the expansion of asymptomatic testing that 'normalises testing as part of everyday life'. More tests means more fake 'cases', 'deaths' and fascism. I have heard of, and from, many people who booked a test, couldn't turn up, and yet got a positive result through the post for a test they'd never even had. The whole thing is crazy, but for the Cult there's method in the madness. Controlling and manipulating the level of amplification of the test means the authorities can control whenever they want the number of apparent 'cases' and 'deaths'. If they want to justify more fascist lockdown and destruction of livelihoods they keep the amplification high. If they want to give the illusion that lockdowns and the 'vaccine' are working then they lower the amplification and 'cases' and 'deaths' will appear to fall. In January, 2021, the Cult-owned World Health Organization suddenly warned laboratories about over-amplification of the test and to lower the threshold. Suddenly headlines began appearing such as: 'Why ARE "Covid" cases plummeting?' This was just when the vaccine rollout was underway and I had predicted months before they would make cases appear to fall through amplification tampering when the 'vaccine' came. These people are so predictable.

Cow vaccines?

The question must be asked of what is on the test swabs being poked far up the nose of the population to the base of the brain? A nasal swab punctured one woman's brain and caused it to leak fluid. Most of these procedures are being done by people with little training or medical knowledge. Dr Lorraine Day, former orthopaedic trauma surgeon and Chief of Orthopaedic Surgery at San Francisco General Hospital, says the tests are really a 'vaccine'. Cows have long been vaccinated this way. She points out that masks have to cover the nose and the mouth where it is claimed the 'virus' exists in saliva. Why then don't they take saliva from the mouth as they do with a DNA test instead of pushing a long swab up the nose towards the brain? The ethmoid bone separates the nasal cavity from the brain and within that bone is the cribriform plate. Dr Day says that when the swab is pushed up against this plate and twisted the procedure is 'depositing things back there'. She claims that among these 'things' are nanoparticles that can enter the brain. Researchers have noted that a team at the Gates-funded Johns Hopkins have designed tiny, star-shaped micro-devices that can latch onto intestinal mucosa and release drugs into the body. Mucosa is the thin skin that covers the inside surface of parts of the body such as the nose and mouth and produces mucus to protect them. The Johns Hopkins micro-devices are called 'theragrippers' and were 'inspired' by a parasitic worm that digs its sharp teeth into a host's intestines. Nasal swabs are also coated in the sterilisation agent ethylene oxide. The US National Cancer Institute posts this explanation on its website:

At room temperature, ethylene oxide is a flammable colorless gas with a sweet odor. It is used primarily to produce other chemicals, including antifreeze. In smaller amounts, ethylene oxide is used as a pesticide and a sterilizing agent. The ability of ethylene oxide to damage DNA makes it an effective sterilizing agent but also accounts for its cancer-causing activity.

The Institute mentions lymphoma and leukaemia as cancers most frequently reported to be associated with occupational exposure to ethylene oxide along with stomach and breast cancers. How does anyone think this is going to work out with the constant testing regime being inflicted on adults and children at home and at school that will accumulate in the body anything that's on the swab?

Doctors know best

It is vital for people to realise that 'hero' doctors 'know' only what the Big Pharma-dominated medical authorities tell them to 'know' and if they refuse to 'know' what they are told to 'know' they are out the door. They are mostly not physicians or healers, but repeaters of the official narrative – or else. I have seen alleged professional doctors on British television make shocking statements that we are supposed to take seriously. One called 'Dr' Amir Khan, who is actually telling patients how to respond to illness, said that men could take the birth pill to 'help slow down the effects of Covid-19'. In March, 2021, another ridiculous 'Covid study' by an American doctor proposed injecting men with the female sex hormone progesterone as a 'Covid' treatment. British doctor Nighat Arif told the BBC that face coverings were now going to be part of ongoing normal. Yes, the vaccine protects you, she said (evidence?) ... but the way to deal with viruses in the community was always going to come down to hand washing, face covering and keeping a physical distance. That's not what we were told before the 'vaccine' was circulating. Arif said she couldn't imagine ever again going on the underground or in a lift without a mask. I was just thanking my good luck that she was not my doctor when she said – in March, 2021 – that if 'we are behaving and we are doing all the right things' she thought we could 'have our nearest and dearest around us at home ... around Christmas and New Year! Her patronising delivery was the usual school teacher talking to six-year-olds as she repeated every government talking point and probably believed them all. If we have learned anything from the 'Covid' experience surely it must be that humanity's perception of doctors needs a fundamental rethink. NHS 'doctor' Sara Kayat told her television audience that the 'Covid vaccine' would '100 percent prevent hospitalisation and death'. Not even Big Pharma claimed that. We have to stop taking 'experts' at their word without question when so many of them are clueless and only repeating the party line on which their careers depend. That is not to say there are not brilliants doctors – there are and I have spoken to many of them since all this began – but you won't see them in the mainstream media or quoted by the psychopaths and yes-people in government.

Remember the name – Christian Drosten

German virologist Christian Drosten, Director of Charité Institute of Virology in Berlin, became a national star after the pandemic hoax began. He was feted on television and advised the German government on 'Covid' policy. Most importantly to the wider world Drosten led a group that produced the 'Covid' testing protocol for the PCR test. What a remarkable feat given the PCR cannot test for infectious disease and even more so when you think that Drosten said that his method of testing for SARS-CoV-2 was developed 'without having virus material available'. He developed a test for a 'virus' that he didn't have and had never seen. Let that sink in as you survey the global devastation that came from what he did. The whole catastrophe of Drosten's 'test' was based on the alleged genetic sequence published by Chinese scientists on the Internet. We will see in the next chapter that this alleged 'genetic sequence' has never been produced by China or anyone and cannot be when there is no SARS-CoV-2. Drosten, however, doesn't seem to let little details like that get in the way. He was the lead author with Victor Corman from the same Charité Hospital of the paper 'Detection of 2019 novel coronavirus (2019-nCoV) by real-time PCR' published in a magazine called Eurosurveillance. This became known as the Corman-Drosten paper. In November, 2020, with human society devastated by the effects of the Corman-Drosten test baloney, the protocol was publicly challenged by 22 international scientists and independent researchers from Europe, the United States, and Japan. Among them were senior molecular geneticists, biochemists, immunologists, and microbiologists. They produced a document headed 'External peer review of the RTPCR test to detect SARS-Cov-2 Reveals 10 Major Flaws At The Molecular and Methodological Level: Consequences

For False-Positive Results'. The flaws in the Corman-Drosten test included the following:

- The test is non-specific because of erroneous design
- Results are enormously variable
- The test is unable to discriminate between the whole 'virus' and viral fragments
- It doesn't have positive or negative controls
- The test lacks a standard operating procedure
- It is unsupported by proper peer view

The scientists said the PCR 'Covid' testing protocol was not founded on science and they demanded the Corman-Drosten paper be retracted by Eurosurveillance. They said all present and previous Covid deaths, cases, and 'infection rates' should be subject to a massive retroactive inquiry. Lockdowns and travel restrictions should be reviewed and relaxed and those diagnosed through PCR to have 'Covid-19' should not be forced to isolate. Dr Kevin Corbett, a health researcher and nurse educator with a long academic career producing a stream of peer-reviewed publications at many UK universities, made the same point about the PCR test debacle. He said of the scientists' conclusions: 'Every scientific rationale for the development of that test has been totally destroyed by this paper. It's like Hiroshima/Nagasaki to the Covid test.' He said that China hadn't given them an isolated 'virus' when Drosten developed the test. Instead they had developed the test from a sequence in a gene bank.' Put another way ... they made it up! The scientists were supported in this contention by a Portuguese appeals court which ruled in November, 2020, that PCR tests are unreliable and it is unlawful to quarantine people based solely on a PCR test. The point about China not providing an isolated virus must be true when the 'virus' has never been isolated to this day and the consequences of that will become clear. Drosten and company produced this useless 'protocol' right on cue in January, 2020, just as the 'virus' was said to be moving westward and it somehow managed to successfully pass a peer-review in 24 hours. In other words there was no peer-review for a test that would be used to decide who had 'Covid' and who didn't across the world. The Cult-created, Gates-controlled World Health Organization immediately recommended all its nearly 200 member countries to use the Drosten PCR protocol to detect 'cases' and 'deaths'. The sting was underway and it continues to this day.

So who is this Christian Drosten that produced the means through which death, destruction and economic catastrophe would be justified? His education background, including his doctoral thesis, would appear to be somewhat shrouded in mystery and his track record is dire as with another essential player in the 'Covid' hoax, the Gates-funded Professor Neil Ferguson at the Gates-funded Imperial College in London of whom more shortly. Drosten predicted in 2003 that the alleged original SARS 'virus' (SARS-1') was an epidemic that could have serious effects on economies and an effective vaccine would take at least two years to produce. Drosten's answer to every alleged 'outbreak' is a vaccine which you won't be shocked to know. What followed were just 774 official deaths worldwide and none in Germany where there were only nine cases. That is even if you believe there ever was a SARS 'virus' when the evidence is zilch and I will expand on this in the next chapter. Drosten claims to be co-discoverer of 'SARS-1' and developed a test for it in 2003. He was screaming warnings about 'swine flu' in 2009 and how it was a widespread infection far more severe than any dangers from a vaccine could be and people should get vaccinated. It would be helpful for Drosten's vocal chords if he simply recorded the words 'the virus is deadly and you need to get vaccinated' and copies could be handed out whenever the latest made-up threat comes along. Drosten's swine flu epidemic never happened, but Big Pharma didn't mind with governments spending hundreds of millions on vaccines that hardly anyone bothered to use and many who did wished they hadn't. A study in 2010 revealed that the risk of dying from swine flu, or H1N1, was no higher than that of the annual seasonal flu which is what at least most of 'it' really was as in the case of 'Covid-19'. A media investigation into Drosten asked how with such a record of inaccuracy he could be the government adviser on these issues. The answer to that question is the same with Drosten, Ferguson and Fauci – they keep on giving the authorities the 'conclusions' and 'advice' they want to hear. Drosten certainly produced the goods for them in January, 2020, with his PCR protocol garbage and provided the foundation of what German internal medicine specialist Dr Claus Köhnlein, co-author of Virus Mania, called the 'test pandemic'. The 22 scientists in the Eurosurveillance challenge called out conflicts of interest within the Drosten 'protocol' group and with good reason. Olfert Landt, a regular co-author of Drosten 'studies', owns the biotech company TIB Molbiol Syntheselabor GmbH in Berlin which manufactures and sells the tests that Drosten and his mates come up with. They have done this with SARS, Enterotoxigenic E. coli (ETEC), MERS, Zika 'virus', yellow fever, and now 'Covid'. Landt told the Berliner Zeitung newspaper:

The testing, design and development came from the Charité [Drosten and Corman]. We simply implemented it immediately in the form of a kit. And if we don't have the virus, which originally only existed in Wuhan, we can make a synthetic gene to simulate the genome of the virus. That's what we did very quickly.

This is more confirmation that the Drosten test was designed without access to the 'virus' and only a synthetic simulation which is what SARS-CoV-2 really is – a computer-generated synthetic fiction. It's quite an enterprise they have going here. A Drosten team decides what the test for something should be and Landt's biotech company flogs it to governments and medical systems across the world. His company must have made an absolute fortune since the 'Covid' hoax began. Dr Reiner Fuellmich, a prominent German consumer protection trial lawyer in Germany and California, is on Drosten's case and that of Tedros at the World Health Organization for crimes against humanity with a class-action lawsuit being prepared in the United States and other legal action in Germany.

Why China?

Scamming the world with a 'virus' that doesn't exist would seem impossible on the face of it, but not if you have control of the relatively few people that make policy decisions and the great majority of the global media. Remember it's not about changing 'real' reality it's about controlling perception of reality. You don't have to make something happen you only have make people believe that it's happening. Renegade Minds understand this and are therefore much harder to swindle. 'Covid-19' is not a 'real' 'virus'. It's a mind virus, like a computer virus, which has infected the minds, not the bodies, of billions. It all started, publically at least, in China and that alone is of central significance. The Cult was behind the revolution led by its asset Mao Zedong, or Chairman Mao, which established the People's Republic of China on October 1st, 1949. It should have been called The Cult's Republic of China, but the name had to reflect the recurring illusion that vicious dictatorships are run by and for the people (see all the 'Democratic Republics' controlled by tyrants). In the same way we have the 'Biden' Democratic Republic of America officially ruled by a puppet tyrant (at least temporarily) on behalf of Cult tyrants. The creation of Mao's merciless communist/fascist dictatorship was part of a frenzy of activity by the Cult at the conclusion of World War Two which, like the First World War, it had instigated through its assets in Germany, Britain, France, the United States and elsewhere. Israel was formed in 1948; the Soviet Union expanded its 'Iron Curtain' control, influence and military power with the Warsaw Pact communist alliance in 1955; the United Nations was formed in 1945 as a Cult precursor to world government; and a long list of world bodies would be established including the World Health Organization (1948), World Trade Organization (1948 under another name until 1995), International Monetary Fund (1945) and World Bank (1944). Human society was redrawn and hugely centralised in the global Problem-Reaction-Solution that was World War Two. All these changes were significant. Israel would become the headquarters of the Sabbatians and the revolution in China would prepare the ground and control system for the events of 2019/2020.

Renegade Minds know there are no borders except for public consumption. The Cult is a seamless, borderless global entity and to understand the game we need to put aside labels like borders, nations, countries, communism, fascism and democracy. These delude the population into believing that countries are ruled within their borders by a government of whatever shade when these are mere agencies of a global power. America's illusion of democracy and China's communism/fascism are subsidiaries – vehicles – for the same agenda. We may hear about conflict and competition between America and China and on the lower levels that will be true; but at the Cult level they are branches of the same company in the way of the McDonald's example I gave earlier. I have tracked in the books over the years support by US governments of both parties for Chinese Communist Party infiltration of American society through allowing the sale of land, even military facilities, and the acquisition of American business and university influence. All this is underpinned by the infamous stealing of intellectual property and technological know-how. Cult-owned Silicon Valley corporations waive their fraudulent 'morality' to do business with human-rightsfree China; Cult-controlled Disney has become China's PR department; and China in effect owns 'American' sports such as basketball which depends for much of its income on Chinese audiences. As a result any sports player, coach or official speaking out against China's horrific human rights record is immediately condemned or fired by the China-worshipping National Basketball Association. One of the first acts of China-controlled Biden was to issue an executive order telling federal agencies to stop making references to the 'virus' by the 'geographic location of its origin'. Long-time Congressman Jerry Nadler warned that criticising China, America's biggest rival, leads to hate crimes against Asian people in the United States. So shut up you bigot. China is fast closing in on Israel as a country that must not be criticised which is apt, really, given that Sabbatians control them both. The two countries have developed close economic, military, technological and strategic ties which include involvement in China's 'Silk Road' transport and economic initiative to connect China with Europe. Israel was the first country in the Middle East to recognise the establishment of Mao's tyranny in 1950 months after it was established.

Project Wuhan – the 'Covid' Psyop

I emphasise again that the Cult plays the long game and what is happening to the world today is the result of centuries of calculated manipulation following a script to take control step-by-step of every aspect of human society. I will discuss later the common force behind all this that has spanned those centuries and thousands of years if the truth be told. Instigating the Mao revolution in China in 1949 with a 2020 'pandemic' in mind is not only how they work – the 71 years between them is really quite short by the Cult's standards of manipulation preparation. The reason for the Cult's Chinese revolution was to create a fiercely-controlled environment within which an extreme structure for human control could be incubated to eventually be unleashed across the world. We have seen this happen since the 'pandemic' emerged from China with the Chinese controlstructure founded on AI technology and tyrannical enforcement sweep across the West. Until the moment when the Cult went for broke in the West and put its fascism on public display Western governments had to pay some lip-service to freedom and democracy to not alert too many people to the tyranny-in-the-making. Freedoms were more subtly eroded and power centralised with covert government structures put in place waiting for the arrival of 2020 when that smokescreen of 'freedom' could be dispensed with. The West was not able to move towards tyranny before 2020 anything like as fast as China which was created as a tyranny and had no limits on how fast it could construct the Cult's blueprint for global control. When the time came to impose that structure on the world it was the same Cult-owned Chinese communist/fascist government that provided the excuse – the 'Covid pandemic'. It was absolutely crucial to the Cult plan for the Chinese response to the 'pandemic' – draconian lockdowns of the entire population – to become the blueprint that Western countries would follow to destroy the livelihoods and freedom of their people. This is why the Cultowned, Gates-owned, WHO Director-General Tedros said early on:

The Chinese government is to be congratulated for the extraordinary measures it has taken to contain the outbreak. China is actually setting a new standard for outbreak response and it is not an exaggeration.

Forbes magazine said of China: '... those measures protected untold millions from getting the disease'. The Rockefeller Foundation 'epidemic scenario' document in 2010 said 'prophetically':

However, a few countries did fare better – China in particular. The Chinese government's quick imposition and enforcement of mandatory quarantine for all citizens, as well as its instant and near-hermetic sealing off of all borders, saved millions of lives, stopping the spread of the virus far earlier than in other countries and enabling a swifter post-pandemic recovery.

Once again – spooky.

The first official story was the 'bat theory' or rather the bat diversion. The source of the 'virus outbreak' we were told was a "wet market' in Wuhan where bats and other animals are bought and eaten in horrifically unhygienic conditions. Then another story emerged through the alternative media that the 'virus' had been released on purpose or by accident from a BSL-4 (biosafety level 4) laboratory in Wuhan not far from the wet market. The lab was reported to create and work with lethal concoctions and bioweapons. Biosafety level 4 is the highest in the World Health Organization system of safety and containment. Renegade Minds are aware of what I call designer manipulation. The ideal for the Cult is for people to buy its prime narrative which in the opening salvoes of the 'pandemic' was the wet market story. It knows, however, that there is now a considerable worldwide alternative media of researchers sceptical of anything governments say and they are often given a version of events in a form they can perceive as credible while misdirecting them from the real truth. In this case let them think that the conspiracy involved is a 'bioweapon virus' released from the Wuhan lab to keep them from the real conspiracy – there is no 'virus'. The WHO's current position on the source of the outbreak at the time of writing appears to be: 'We haven't got a clue, mate.' This is a good position to maintain mystery and bewilderment. The inner circle will know where the 'virus' came from – nowhere. The bottom line was to ensure the public believed there was a 'virus' and it didn't much matter if they thought it was natural or had been released from a lab. The belief that there was a 'deadly virus' was all that was needed to trigger global panic and fear. The population was terrified into handing their power to authority and doing what they were told. They had to or they were 'all gonna die'.

In March, 2020, information began to come my way from real doctors and scientists and my own additional research which had my intuition screaming: 'Yes, that's it! There is no virus.' The 'bioweapon' was not the 'virus'; it was the 'vaccine' already being talked about that would be the bioweapon. My conclusion was further enhanced by happenings in Wuhan. The 'virus' was said to be sweeping the city and news footage circulated of people collapsing in the street (which they've never done in the West with the same 'virus'). The Chinese government was building 'new hospitals' in a matter of ten days to 'cope with demand' such was the virulent nature of the 'virus'. Yet in what seemed like no time the 'new hospitals' closed – even if they even opened – and China declared itself 'virus-free'. It was back to business as usual. This was more propaganda to promote the Chinese draconian lockdowns in the West as the way to 'beat the virus'. Trouble was that we subsequently had lockdown after lockdown, but never business as usual. As the people of the West and most of the rest of the world were caught in an ever-worsening spiral of lockdown, social distancing, masks, isolated old people, families forced apart, and livelihood destruction, it was party-time in Wuhan. Pictures emerged of thousands of people enjoying pool parties and concerts. It made no sense until you realised there never was a 'virus' and the whole thing was a Cult set-up to transform human society out of one its major global strongholds – China.

How is it possible to deceive virtually the entire world population into believing there is a deadly virus when there is not even a 'virus' let alone a deadly one? It's nothing like as difficult as you would think and that's clearly true because it happened.

Postscript: See end of book Postscript for more on the 'Wuhan lab virus release' story which the authorities and media were pushing heavily in the summer of 2021 to divert attention from the truth that the 'Covid virus' is pure invention.

CHAPTER FIVE

There is m 'virus'

You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all of the time

Abraham Lincoln

The greatest form of mind control is repetition. The more you repeat the same mantra of alleged 'facts' the more will accept them to be true. It becomes an 'everyone knows that, mate'. If you can also censor any other version or alternative to your alleged 'facts' you are pretty much home and cooking.

By the start of 2020 the Cult owned the global mainstream media almost in its entirety to spew out its 'Covid' propaganda and ignore or discredit any other information and view. Cult-owned social media platforms in Cult-owned Silicon Valley were poised and ready to unleash a campaign of ferocious censorship to obliterate all but the official narrative. To complete the circle many demands for censorship by Silicon Valley were led by the mainstream media as 'journalists' became full-out enforcers for the Cult both as propagandists and censors. Part of this has been the influx of young people straight out of university who have become 'journalists' in significant positions. They have no experience and a headful of programmed perceptions from their years at school and university at a time when today's young are the most perceptually-targeted generations in known human history given the insidious impact of technology. They enter the media perceptually prepared and ready to repeat the narratives of the system that programmed them to repeat its narratives. The BBC has a truly pathetic 'specialist disinformation reporter' called Marianna Spring who fits this bill perfectly. She is clueless about the world, how it works and what is really going on. Her role is to discredit anyone doing the job that a proper journalist would do and system-serving hacks like Spring wouldn't dare to do or even see the need to do. They are too busy licking the arse of authority which can never be wrong and, in the case of the BBC propaganda programme, Panorama, contacting payments systems such as PayPal to have a donations page taken down for a film company making documentaries questioning vaccines. Even the BBC soap opera EastEnders included a disgracefully biased scene in which an inarticulate white working class woman was made to look foolish for questioning the 'vaccine' while a well-spoken black man and Asian woman promoted the government narrative. It ticked every BBC box and the fact that the black and minority community was resisting the 'vaccine' had nothing to do with the way the scene was written. The BBC has become a disgusting tyrannical propaganda and censorship operation that should be defunded and disbanded and a free media take its place with a brief to stop censorship instead of demanding it. A BBC 'interview' with Gates goes something like: 'Mr Gates, sir, if I can call you sir, would you like to tell our audience why you are such a great man, a wonderful humanitarian philanthropist, and why you should absolutely be allowed as a software salesman to decide health policy for approaching eight billion people? Thank you, sir, please sir.' Propaganda programming has been incessant and merciless and when all you hear is the same story from the media, repeated by those around you who have only heard the same story, is it any wonder that people on a grand scale believe absolute mendacious garbage to be true? You are about to see, too, why this level of information control is necessary when the official 'Covid' narrative is so nonsensical and unsupportable by the evidence.

Structure of Deceit

The pyramid structure through which the 'Covid' hoax has been manifested is very simple and has to be to work. As few people as possible have to be involved with full knowledge of what they are doing – and why – or the real story would get out. At the top of the pyramid are the inner core of the Cult which controls Bill Gates who, in turn, controls the World Health Organization through his pivotal funding and his puppet Director-General mouthpiece, Tedros. Before he was appointed Tedros was chair of the Gates-founded Global Fund to 'fight against AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria', a board member of the Gates-funded 'vaccine alliance' GAVI, and on the board of another Gates-funded organisation. Gates owns him and picked him for a specific reason – Tedros is a crook and worse. 'Dr' Tedros (he's not a medical doctor, the first WHO chief not to be) was a member of the tyrannical Marxist government of Ethiopia for decades with all its human rights abuses. He has faced allegations of corruption and misappropriation of funds and was exposed three times for covering up cholera epidemics while Ethiopia's health minister. Tedros appointed the mass-murdering genocidal Zimbabwe dictator Robert Mugabe as a WHO goodwill ambassador for public health which, as with Tedros, is like appointing a psychopath to run a peace and love campaign. The move was so ridiculous that he had to drop Mugabe in the face of widespread condemnation. American economist David Steinman, a Nobel peace prize nominee, lodged a complaint with the International Criminal Court in The Hague over alleged genocide by Tedros when he was Ethiopia's foreign minister. Steinman says Tedros was a 'crucial decision maker' who directed the actions of Ethiopia's security forces from 2013 to 2015 and one of three officials in charge when those security services embarked on the 'killing' and 'torturing' of Ethiopians. You can see where Tedros is coming from and it's sobering to think that he has been the vehicle for Gates and the Cult to direct the global response to 'Covid'. Think about that. A psychopathic Cult dictates to psychopath Gates who dictates to psychopath Tedros who dictates how countries of the world must respond to a 'Covid virus' never scientifically shown to exist. At the same time psychopathic Cult-owned Silicon Valley information giants like Google, YouTube, Facebook and Twitter announced very early on that they would give the Cult/Gates/Tedros/WHO version of the narrative free advertising and censor those who challenged their intelligence-insulting, mendacious story.

The next layer in the global 'medical' structure below the Cult, Gates and Tedros are the chief medical officers and science 'advisers' in each of the WHO member countries which means virtually all of them. Medical officers and arbiters of science (they're not) then take the WHO policy and recommended responses and impose them on their country's population while the political 'leaders' say they are deciding policy (they're clearly not) by 'following the science' on the advice of the 'experts' – the same medical officers and science 'advisers' (dictators). In this way with the rarest of exceptions the entire world followed the same policy of lockdown, people distancing, masks and 'vaccines' dictated by the psychopathic Cult, psychopathic Gates and psychopathic Tedros who we are supposed to believe give a damn about the health of the world population they are seeking to enslave. That, amazingly, is all there is to it in terms of crucial decision-making. Medical staff in each country then follow like sheep the dictates of the shepherds at the top of the national medical hierarchies – chief medical officers and science 'advisers' who themselves follow like sheep the shepherds of the World Health Organization and the Cult. Shepherds at the national level often have major funding and other connections to Gates and his Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation which carefully hands out money like confetti at a wedding to control the entire global medical system from the WHO down.

Follow the money

Christopher Whitty, Chief Medical Adviser to the UK Government at the centre of 'virus' policy, a senior adviser to the government's Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies (SAGE), and Executive Board member of the World Health Organization, was gifted a grant of $40 million by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation for malaria research in Africa. The BBC described the unelected Whitty as 'the official who will probably have the greatest impact on our everyday lives of any individual policymaker in modern times' and so it turned out. What Gates and Tedros have said Whitty has done like his equivalents around the world. Patrick Vallance, co-chair of SAGE and the government's Chief Scientific Adviser, is a former executive of Big Pharma giant GlaxoSmithKline with its fundamental financial and business connections to Bill Gates. In September, 2020, it was revealed that Vallance owned a deferred bonus of shares in GlaxoSmithKline worth £600,000 while the company was 'developing' a 'Covid vaccine'. Move along now – nothing to see here – what could possibly be wrong with that? Imperial College in London, a major player in 'Covid' policy in Britain and elsewhere with its 'Covid-19' Response Team, is funded by Gates and has big connections to China while the now infamous Professor Neil Ferguson, the useless 'computer modeller' at Imperial College is also funded by Gates. Ferguson delivered the dramatically inaccurate excuse for the first lockdowns (much more in the next chapter). The Institute for Health Metrics and Evaluation (IHME) in the United States, another source of outrageously false 'Covid' computer models to justify lockdowns, is bankrolled by Gates who is a vehement promotor of lockdowns. America's version of Whitty and Vallance, the again now infamous Anthony Fauci, has connections to 'Covid vaccine' maker Moderna as does Bill Gates through funding from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Fauci is director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), a major recipient of Gates money, and they are very close. Deborah Birx who was appointed White House Coronavirus Response Coordinator in February, 2020, is yet another with ties to Gates. Everywhere you look at the different elements around the world behind the coordination and decision making of the 'Covid' hoax there is Bill Gates and his money. They include the World Health Organization; Centers for Disease Control (CDC) in the United States; National Institutes of Health (NIH) of Anthony Fauci; Imperial College and Neil Ferguson; the London School of Hygiene where Chris Whitty worked; Regulatory agencies like the UK Medicines & Healthcare products Regulatory Agency (MHRA) which gave emergency approval for 'Covid vaccines'; Wellcome Trust; GAVI, the Vaccine Alliance; the Coalition for Epidemic Preparedness Innovations (CEPI); Johns Hopkins University which has compiled the false 'Covid' figures; and the World Economic Forum. A Nationalfile.com article said:

Gates has a lot of pull in the medical world, he has a multi-million dollar relationship with Dr. Fauci, and Fauci originally took the Gates line supporting vaccines and casting doubt on [the drug hydroxychloroquine]. Coronavirus response team member Dr. Deborah Birx, appointed by former president Obama to serve as United States Global AIDS Coordinator, also sits on the board of a group that has received billions from Gates' foundation, and Birx reportedly used a disputed Bill Gates-funded model for the White House's Coronavirus effort. Gates is a big proponent for a population lockdown scenario for the Coronavirus outbreak.

Another funder of Moderna is the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), the technology-development arm of the Pentagon and one of the most sinister organisations on earth. DARPA had a major role with the CIA covert technology-funding operation In-Q-Tel in the development of Google and social media which is now at the centre of global censorship. Fauci and Gates are extremely close and openly admit to talking regularly about 'Covid' policy, but then why wouldn't Gates have a seat at every national 'Covid' table after his Foundation committed $1.75 billion to the 'fight against Covid-19'. When passed through our Orwellian Translation Unit this means that he has bought and paid for the Cultdriven 'Covid' response worldwide. Research the major 'Covid' response personnel in your own country and you will find the same Gates funding and other connections again and again. Medical and science chiefs following World Health Organization 'policy' sit atop a medical hierarchy in their country of administrators, doctors and nursing staff. These 'subordinates' are told they must work and behave in accordance with the policy delivered from the 'top' of the national 'health' pyramid which is largely the policy delivered by the WHO which is the policy delivered by Gates and the Cult. The whole 'Covid' narrative has been imposed on medical staff by a climate of fear although great numbers don't even need that to comply. They do so through breathtaking levels of ignorance and include doctors who go through life simply repeating what Big Pharma and their hierarchical masters tell them to say and believe. No wonder Big Pharma 'medicine' is one of the biggest killers on Planet Earth.

The same top-down system of intimidation operates with regard to the Cult Big Pharma cartel which also dictates policy through national and global medical systems in this way. The Cult and Big Pharma agendas are the same because the former controls and owns the latter. 'Health' administrators, doctors, and nursing staff are told to support and parrot the dictated policy or they will face consequences which can include being fired. How sad it's been to see medical staff meekly repeating and imposing Cult policy without question and most of those who can see through the deceit are only willing to speak anonymously off the record. They know what will happen if their identity is known. This has left the courageous few to expose the lies about the 'virus', face masks, overwhelmed hospitals that aren't, and the dangers of the 'vaccine' that isn't a vaccine. When these medical professionals and scientists, some renowned in their field, have taken to the Internet to expose the truth their articles, comments and videos have been deleted by Cult-owned Facebook, Twitter and YouTube. What a real head-shaker to see YouTube videos with leading world scientists and highly qualified medical specialists with an added link underneath to the notorious Cult propaganda website Wikipedia to find the 'facts' about the same subject.

HIV – the 'Covid' trial-run

I'll give you an example of the consequences for health and truth that come from censorship and unquestioning belief in official narratives. The story was told by PCR inventor Kary Mullis in his book Dancing Naked in the Mind Field. He said that in 1984 he accepted as just another scientific fact that Luc Montagnier of France's Pasteur Institute and Robert Gallo of America's National Institutes of Health had independently discovered that a 'retrovirus' dubbed HIV (human immunodeficiency virus) caused AIDS. They were, after all, Mullis writes, specialists in retroviruses. This is how the medical and science pyramids work. Something is announced or assumed and then becomes an everybody-knows-that purely through repetition of the assumption as if it is fact. Complete crap becomes accepted truth with no supporting evidence and only repetition of the crap. This is how a 'virus' that doesn't exist became the 'virus' that changed the world. The HIV-AIDS fairy story became a multibillion pound industry and the media poured out propaganda terrifying the world about the deadly HIV 'virus' that caused the lethal AIDS. By then Mullis was working at a lab in Santa Monica, California, to detect retroviruses with his PCR test in blood donations received by the Red Cross. In doing so he asked a virologist where he could find a reference for HIV being the cause of AIDS. 'You don't need a reference,' the virologist said ... 'Everybody knows it.' Mullis said he wanted to quote a reference in the report he was doing and he said he felt a little funny about not knowing the source of such an important discovery when everyone else seemed to. The virologist suggested he cite a report by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) on morbidity and mortality. Mullis read the report, but it only said that an organism had been identified and did not say how. The report did not identify the original scientific work. Physicians, however, assumed (key recurring theme) that if the CDC was convinced that HIV caused AIDS then proof must exist. Mullis continues:

I did computer searches. Neither Montagnier, Gallo, nor anyone else had published papers describing experiments which led to the conclusion that HIV probably caused AIDS. I read the papers in Science for which they had become well known as AIDS doctors, but all they had said there was that they had found evidence of a past infection by something which was probably HIV in some AIDS patients.

They found antibodies. Antibodies to viruses had always been considered evidence of past disease, not present disease. Antibodies signaled that the virus had been defeated. The patient had saved himself. There was no indication in these papers that this virus caused a disease. They didn't show that everybody with the antibodies had the disease. In fact they found some healthy people with antibodies.

Mullis asked why their work had been published if Montagnier and Gallo hadn't really found this evidence, and why had they been fighting so hard to get credit for the discovery? He says he was hesitant to write 'HIV is the probable cause of AIDS' until he found published evidence to support that. 'Tens of thousands of scientists and researchers were spending billions of dollars a year doing research based on this idea,' Mullis writes. 'The reason had to be there somewhere; otherwise these people would not have allowed their research to settle into one narrow channel of investigation.' He said he lectured about PCR at numerous meetings where people were always talking about HIV and he asked them how they knew that HIV was the cause of AIDS:

Everyone said something. Everyone had the answer at home, in the office, in some drawer. They all knew, and they would send me the papers as soon as they got back. But I never got any papers. Nobody ever sent me the news about how AIDS was caused by HIV.

Eventually Mullis was able to ask Montagnier himself about the reference proof when he lectured in San Diego at the grand opening of the University of California AIDS Research Center. Mullis says this was the last time he would ask his question without showing anger. Montagnier said he should reference the CDC report. 'I read it', Mullis said, and it didn't answer the question. 'If Montagnier didn't know the answer who the hell did?' Then one night Mullis was driving when an interview came on National Public Radio with Peter Duesberg, a prominent virologist at Berkeley and a California Scientist of the Year. Mullis says he finally understood why he could not find references that connected HIV to AIDS – there weren't any! No one had ever proved that HIV causes AIDS even though it had spawned a multi-billion pound global industry and the media was repeating this as fact every day in their articles and broadcasts terrifying the shit out of people about AIDS and giving the impression that a positive test for HIV (see 'Covid') was a death sentence. Duesberg was a threat to the AIDS gravy train and the agenda that underpinned it. He was therefore abused and castigated after he told the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences there was no good evidence implicating the new 'virus'. Editors rejected his manuscripts and his research funds were deleted. Mullis points out that the CDC has defined AIDS as one of more than 30 diseases if accompanied by a positive result on a test that detects antibodies to HIV; but those same diseases are not defined as AIDS cases when antibodies are not detected:

If an HIV-positive woman develops uterine cancer, for example, she is considered to have AIDS. If she is not HIV positive, she simply has uterine cancer. An HIV-positive man with tuberculosis has AIDS; if he tests negative he simply has tuberculosis. If he lives in Kenya or Colombia, where the test for HIV antibodies is too expensive, he is simply presumed to have the antibodies and therefore AIDS, and therefore he can be treated in the World Health Organization's clinic. It's the only medical help available in some places. And it's free, because the countries that support WHO are worried about AIDS.

Mullis accuses the CDC of continually adding new diseases (see ever more 'Covid symptoms') to the grand AIDS definition and of virtually doctoring the books to make it appear as if the disease continued to spread. He cites how in 1993 the CDC enormously broadened its AIDS definition and county health authorities were delighted because they received $2,500 per year from the Federal government for every reported AIDS case. Ladies and gentlemen, I have just described, via Kary Mullis, the 'Covid pandemic' of 2020 and beyond. Every element is the same and it's been pulled off in the same way by the same networks.

The 'Covid virus' exists? Okay – prove it. Er ... still waiting

What Kary Mullis described with regard to 'HIV' has been repeated with 'Covid'. A claim is made that a new, or 'novel', infection has been found and the entire medical system of the world repeats that as fact exactly as they did with HIV and AIDS. No one in the mainstream asks rather relevant questions such as 'How do you know?' and 'Where is your proof?' The SARS-Cov-2 'virus' and the 'Covid-19 disease' became an overnight 'everybody-knows-that'. The origin could be debated and mulled over, but what you could not suggest was that 'SARS-Cov-2' didn't exist. That would be ridiculous. 'Everybody knows' the 'virus' exists. Well, I didn't for one along with American proper doctors like Andrew Kaufman and Tom Cowan and long-time American proper journalist Jon Rappaport. We dared to pursue the obvious and simple question: 'Where's the evidence?' The overwhelming majority in medicine, journalism and the general public did not think to ask that. After all, everyone knew there was a new 'virus'. Everyone was saying so and I heard it on the BBC. Some would eventually argue that the 'deadly virus' was nothing like as deadly as claimed, but few would venture into the realms of its very existence. Had they done so they would have found that the evidence for that claim had gone AWOL as with HIV causes AIDS. In fact, not even that. For something to go AWOL it has to exist in the first place and scientific proof for a 'SARS-Cov-2' can be filed under nothing, nowhere and zilch.

Dr Andrew Kaufman is a board-certified forensic psychiatrist in New York State, a Doctor of Medicine and former Assistant Professor and Medical Director of Psychiatry at SUNY Upstate Medical University, and Medical Instructor of Hematology and Oncology at the Medical School of South Carolina. He also studied biology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and trained in Psychiatry at Duke University. Kaufman is retired from allopathic medicine, but remains a consultant and educator on natural healing, I saw a video of his very early on in the 'Covid' hoax in which he questioned claims about the 'virus' in the absence of any supporting evidence and with plenty pointing the other way. I did everything I could to circulate his work which I felt was asking the pivotal questions that needed an answer. I can recommend an excellent pull-together interview he did with the website The Last Vagabond entitled Dr Andrew Kaufman: Virus Isolation, Terrain Theory and Covid-19 and his website is andrewkaufmanmd.com. Kaufman is not only a forensic psychiatrist; he is forensic in all that he does. He always reads original scientific papers, experiments and studies instead of second-third-fourth-hand reports about the 'virus' in the media which are repeating the repeated repetition of the narrative. When he did so with the original Chinese 'virus' papers Kaufman realised that there was no evidence of a 'SARS-Cov-2'. They had never – from the start – shown it to exist and every repeat of this claim worldwide was based on the accepted existence of proof that was nowhere to be found – see Kary Mullis and HIV. Here we go again.

Let's postulate

Kaufman discovered that the Chinese authorities immediately concluded that the cause of an illness that broke out among about 200 initial patients in Wuhan was a 'new virus' when there were no grounds to make that conclusion. The alleged 'virus' was not isolated from other genetic material in their samples and then shown through a system known as Koch's postulates to be the causative agent of the illness. The world was told that the SARS-Cov-2 'virus' caused a disease they called 'Covid-19' which had 'flu-like' symptoms and could lead to respiratory problems and pneumonia. If it wasn't so tragic it would almost be funny. 'Flu-like' symptoms'? Pneumonia? Respiratory disease? What in CHINA and particularly in Wuhan, one of the most polluted cities in the world with a resulting epidemic of respiratory disease?? Three hundred thousand people get pneumonia in China every year and there are nearly a billion cases worldwide of 'flu-like symptoms'. These have a whole range of causes – including pollution in Wuhan – but no other possibility was credibly considered in late 2019 when the world was told there was a new and deadly 'virus'. The global prevalence of pneumonia and 'flu-like systems' gave the Cult networks unlimited potential to rediagnose these other causes as the mythical 'Covid-19' and that is what they did from the very start. Kaufman revealed how Chinese medical and science authorities (all subordinates to the Cult-owned communist government) took genetic material from the lungs of only a few of the first patients. The material contained their own cells, bacteria, fungi and other microorganisms living in their bodies. The only way you could prove the existence of the 'virus' and its responsibility for the alleged 'Covid-19' was to isolate the virus from all the other material – a process also known as 'purification' – and then follow the postulates sequence developed in the late 19th century by German physician and bacteriologist Robert Koch which became the 'gold standard' for connecting an alleged causation agent to a disease:

- 1. The microorganism (bacteria, fungus, virus, etc.) must be present in every case of the disease and all patients must have the same symptoms. It must also not be present in healthy individuals.
- 2. The microorganism must be isolated from the host with the disease. If the microorganism is a bacteria or fungus it must be grown in a pure culture. If it is a virus, it must be purified (i.e. containing no other material except the virus particles) from a clinical sample.
- 3. The specific disease, with all of its characteristics, must be reproduced when the infectious agent (the purified virus or a pure culture of bacteria or fungi) is inoculated into a healthy, susceptible host.
- 4. The microorganism must be recoverable from the experimentally infected host as in step 2.

Not one of these criteria has been met in the case of 'SARS-Cov-2' and 'Covid-19'. Not ONE. EVER. Robert Koch refers to bacteria and not viruses. What are called 'viral particles' are so minute (hence masks are useless by any definition) that they could only be seen after the invention of the electron microscope in the 1930s and can still only be observed through that means. American bacteriologist and virologist Thomas Milton Rivers, the so-called 'Father of Modern Virology' who was very significantly director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in the 1930s, developed a less stringent version of Koch's postulates to identify 'virus' causation known as 'Rivers criteria'. 'Covid' did not pass that process either. Some even doubt whether any 'virus' can be isolated from other particles containing genetic material in the Koch method. Freedom of Information requests in many countries asking for scientific proof that the 'Covid virus' has been purified and isolated and shown to exist have all come back with a 'we don't have that' and when this happened with a request to the UK Department of Health they added this comment:

However, outside of the scope of the [Freedom of Information Act] and on a discretionary basis, the following information has been advised to us, which may be of interest. Most infectious diseases are caused by viruses, bacteria or fungi. Some bacteria or fungi have the capacity to grow on their own in isolation, for example in colonies on a petri dish. Viruses are different in that they are what we call 'obligate pathogens' – that is, they cannot survive or reproduce without infecting a host ...

... For some diseases, it is possible to establish causation between a microorganism and a disease by isolating the pathogen from a patient, growing it in pure culture and reintroducing it to a healthy organism. These are known as 'Koch's postulates' and were developed in 1882. However, as our understanding of disease and different disease-causing agents has advanced, these are no longer the method for determining causation [Andrew Kaufman asks why in that case are there two published articles falsely claiming to satisfy Koch's postulates].

It has long been known that viral diseases cannot be identified in this way as viruses cannot be grown in 'pure culture'. When a patient is tested for a viral illness, this is normally done by looking for the presence of antigens, or viral genetic code in a host with molecular biology techniques [Kaufman asks how you could know the origin of these chemicals without having a pure culture for comparison].

For the record 'antigens' are defined so:

Invading microorganisms have antigens on their surface that the human body can recognise as being foreign – meaning not belonging to it. When the body recognises a foreign antigen, lymphocytes (white blood cells) produce antibodies, which are complementary in shape to the antigen.

Notwithstanding that this is open to question in relation to 'SARS-Cov-2' the presence of 'antibodies' can have many causes and they are found in people that are perfectly well. Kary Mullis said: 'Antibodies ... had always been considered evidence of past disease, not present disease.'

'Covid' really is a computer 'virus'

Where the UK Department of Health statement says 'viruses' are now 'diagnosed' through a 'viral genetic code in a host with molecular biology techniques', they mean ... the PCR test which its inventor said cannot test for infectious disease. They have no credible method of connecting a 'virus' to a disease and we will see that there is no scientific proof that any 'virus' causes any disease or there is any such thing as a 'virus' in the way that it is described. Tenacious Canadian researcher Christine Massey and her team made some 40 Freedom of Information requests to national public health agencies in different countries asking for proof that SARS-CoV-2 has been isolated and not one of them could supply that information. Massey said of her request in Canada: 'Freedom of Information reveals Public Health Agency of Canada has no record of 'SARS-COV-2' isolation performed by anyone, anywhere, ever.' If you accept the comment from the UK Department of Health it's because they can't isolate a 'virus'. Even so many 'science' papers claimed to have isolated the 'Covid virus' until they were questioned and had to admit they hadn't. A reply from the Robert Koch Institute in Germany was typical: 'I am not aware of a paper which purified isolated SARS-CoV-2.' So what the hell was Christian Drosten and his gang using to design the 'Covid' testing protocol that has produced all the illusory Covid' cases and 'Covid' deaths when the head of the Chinese version of the CDC admitted there was a problem right from the start in that the 'virus' had never been isolated/purified? Breathe deeply: What they are calling 'Covid' is actually created by a computer program i.e. they made it up – er, that's it. They took lung fluid, with many sources of genetic material, from one single person alleged to be infected with Covid-19 by a PCR test which they claimed, without clear evidence, contained a 'virus'. They used several computer programs to create a model of a theoretical virus genome sequence from more than fifty-six million small sequences of RNA, each of an unknown source, assembling them like a puzzle with no known solution. The computer filled in the gaps with sequences from bits in the gene bank to make it look like a bat SARS-like coronavirus! A wave of the magic wand and poof, an in silico (computer-generated) genome, a scientific fantasy, was created. UK health researcher Dr Kevin Corbett made the same point with this analogy:

... It's like giving you a few bones and saying that's your fish. It could be any fish. Not even a skeleton. Here's a few fragments of bones. That's your fish ... It's all from gene bank and the bits of the virus sequence that weren't there they made up.

They synthetically created them to fill in the blanks. That's what genetics is; it's a code. So it's ABBBCCDDD and you're missing some what you think is EEE so you put it in. It's all synthetic. You just manufacture the bits that are missing. This is the end result of the geneticization of virology. This is basically a computer virus.

Further confirmation came in an email exchange between British citizen journalist Frances Leader and the government's Medicines & Healthcare Products Regulatory Agency (the Gates-funded MHRA) which gave emergency permission for untested 'Covid vaccines' to be used. The agency admitted that the 'vaccine' is not based on an isolated 'virus', but comes from a computer-generated model. Frances Leader was naturally banned from Cult-owned fascist Twitter for making this exchange public. The process of creating computergenerated alleged 'viruses' is called 'in silico' or 'in silicon' – computer chips – and the term 'in silico' is believed to originate with biological experiments using only a computer in 1989. 'Vaccines' involved with 'Covid' are also produced 'in silico' or by computer not a natural process. If the original 'virus' is nothing more than a made-up computer model how can there be 'new variants' of something that never existed in the first place? They are not new 'variants'; they are new computer models only minutely different to the original program and designed to further terrify the population into having the 'vaccine' and submitting to fascism. You want a 'new variant'? Click, click, enter – there you go. Tell the medical profession that you have discovered a 'South African variant', 'UK variants' or a 'Brazilian variant' and in the usual HIV-causes-AIDS manner they will unquestioningly repeat it with no evidence whatsoever to support these claims. They will go on television and warn about the dangers of 'new variants' while doing nothing more than repeating what they have been told to be true and knowing that any deviation from that would be career suicide. Big-time insiders will know it's a hoax, but much of the medical community is clueless about the way they are being played and themselves play the public without even being aware they are doing so. What an interesting 'coincidence' that AstraZeneca and Oxford University were conducting 'Covid vaccine trials' in the three countries – the UK, South Africa and Brazil – where the first three 'variants' were claimed to have 'broken out'.

Here's your 'virus' – it's a unicorn

Dr Andrew Kaufman presented a brilliant analysis describing how the 'virus' was imagined into fake existence when he dissected an article published by Nature and written by 19 authors detailing alleged 'sequencing of a complete viral genome' of the 'new SARS-CoV-2 virus'. This computer-modelled in silico genome was used as a template for all subsequent genome sequencing experiments that resulted in the so-called variants which he said now number more than 6,000. The fake genome was constructed from more than 56 million individual short strands of RNA. Those little pieces were assembled into longer pieces by finding areas of overlapping sequences. The computer programs created over two million possible combinations from which the authors simply chose the longest one. They then compared this to a 'bat virus' and the computer 'alignment' rearranged the sequence and filled in the gaps! They called this computer-generated abomination the 'complete genome'. Dr Tom Cowan, a fellow medical author and collaborator with Kaufman, said such computer-generation constitutes scientific fraud and he makes this superb analogy:

Here is an equivalency: A group of researchers claim to have found a unicorn because they found a piece of a hoof, a hair from a tail, and a snippet of a horn. They then add that information into a computer and program it to re-create the unicorn, and they then claim this computer re-creation is the real unicorn. Of course, they had never actually seen a unicorn so could not possibly have examined its genetic makeup to compare their samples with the actual unicorn's hair, hooves and horn.

The researchers claim they decided which is the real genome of SARS-CoV-2 by 'consensus', sort of like a vote. Again, different computer programs will come up with different versions of the imaginary 'unicorn', so they come together as a group and decide which is the real imaginary unicorn.

This is how the 'virus' that has transformed the world was brought into fraudulent 'existence'. Extraordinary, yes, but as the Nazis said the bigger the lie the more will believe it. Cowan, however, wasn't finished and he went on to identify what he called the real blockbuster in the paper. He quotes this section from a paper written by virologists and published by the CDC and then explains what it means:

Therefore, we examined the capacity of SARS-CoV-2 to infect and replicate in several common primate and human cell lines, including human adenocarcinoma cells (A549), human liver cells (HUH 7.0), and human embryonic kidney cells (HEK-293T). In addition to Vero E6 and Vero CCL81 cells. ... Each cell line was inoculated at high multiplicity of infection and examined 24h post-infection.

No CPE was observed in any of the cell lines except in Vero cells, which grew to greater than 10 to the 7th power at 24 h post-infection. In contrast, HUH 7.0 and 293T showed only modest viral replication, and A549 cells were incompatible with SARS CoV-2 infection.

Cowan explains that when virologists attempt to prove infection they have three possible 'hosts' or models on which they can test. The first was humans. Exposure to humans was generally not done for ethical reasons and has never been done with SARS-CoV-2 or any coronavirus. The second possible host was animals. Cowan said that forgetting for a moment that they never actually use purified virus when exposing animals they do use solutions that they claim contain the virus. Exposure to animals has been done with SARS-CoV-2 in an experiment involving mice and this is what they found: None of the wild (normal) mice got sick. In a group of genetically-modified mice, a statistically insignificant number lost weight and had slightly bristled fur, but they experienced nothing like the illness called 'Covid-19'. Cowan said the third method – the one they mostly rely on – is to inoculate solutions they say contain the virus onto a variety of tissue cultures. This process had never been shown to kill tissue unless the sample material was starved of nutrients and poisoned as part of the process. Yes, incredibly, in tissue experiments designed to show the 'virus' is responsible for killing the tissue they starve the tissue of nutrients and add toxic drugs including antibiotics and they do not have control studies to see if it's the starvation and poisoning that is degrading the tissue rather than the 'virus' they allege to be in there somewhere. You want me to pinch you? Yep, I understand. Tom Cowan said this about the whole nonsensical farce as he explains what that quote from the CDC paper really means:

The shocking thing about the above quote is that using their own methods, the virologists found that solutions containing SARS-CoV-2 – even in high amounts – were NOT, I repeat NOT, infective to any of the three human tissue cultures they tested. In plain English, this means they proved, on their terms, that this 'new coronavirus' is not infectious to human beings. It is ONLY infective to monkey kidney cells, and only then when you add two potent drugs (gentamicin and amphotericin), known to be toxic to kidneys, to the mix.

My friends, read this again and again. These virologists, published by the CDC, performed a clear proof, on their terms, showing that the SARS-CoV-2 virus is harmless to human beings. That is the only possible conclusion, but, unfortunately, this result is not even mentioned in their conclusion. They simply say they can provide virus stocks cultured only on monkey Vero cells, thanks for coming.

Cowan concluded: 'If people really understood how this "science" was done, I would hope they would storm the gates and demand honesty, transparency and truth.' Dr Michael Yeadon, former Vice President and Chief Scientific Adviser at drug giant Pfizer has been a vocal critic of the 'Covid vaccine' and its potential for multiple harm. He said in an interview in April, 2021, that 'not one [vaccine] has the virus. He was asked why vaccines normally using a 'dead' version of a disease to activate the immune system were not used for 'Covid' and instead we had the synthetic methods of the 'mRNA Covid vaccine'. Yeadon said that to do the former 'you'd have to have some of [the virus] wouldn't you?' He added: 'No-one's got any – seriously.' Yeadon said that surely they couldn't have fooled the whole world for a year without having a virus, 'but oddly enough ask around – no one's got it'. He didn't know why with all the 'great labs' around the world that the virus had not been isolated – 'Maybe they've been too busy running bad PCR tests and vaccines that people don't need.' What is today called 'science' is not 'science' at all. Science is no longer what is, but whatever people can be manipulated to believe that it is. Real science has been hijacked by the Cult to dispense and produce the 'expert scientists' and contentions that suit the agenda of the Cult. How big-time this has happened with the 'Covid' hoax which is entirely based on fake science delivered by fake 'scientists' and fake 'doctors'. The human-caused climate change hoax is also entirely based on fake science delivered by fake 'scientists' and fake 'climate experts'. In both cases real scientists, climate experts and doctors have their views suppressed and deleted by the Cult-owned science establishment, media and Silicon Valley. This is the 'science' that politicians claim to be 'following' and a common denominator of 'Covid' and climate are Cult psychopaths Bill Gates and his mate Klaus Schwab at the Gatesfunded World Economic Forum. But, don't worry, it's all just a coincidence and absolutely nothing to worry about. Zzzzzzzz.

What is a 'virus' REALLY?

Dr Tom Cowan is one of many contesting the very existence of viruses let alone that they cause disease. This is understandable when there is no scientific evidence for a disease-causing 'virus'. German virologist Dr Stefan Lanka won a landmark case in 2017 in the German Supreme Court over his contention that there is no such thing as a measles virus. He had offered a big prize for anyone who could prove there is and Lanka won his case when someone sought to claim the money. There is currently a prize of more than 225,000 euros on offer from an Isolate Truth Fund for anyone who can prove the isolation of SARS-CoV-2 and its genetic substance. Lanka wrote in an article headed 'The Misconception Called Virus' that scientists think a 'virus' is causing tissue to become diseased and degraded when in fact it is the processes they are using which do that – not a 'virus'. Lanka has done an important job in making this point clear as Cowan did in his analysis of the CDC paper. Lanka says that all claims about viruses as disease-causing pathogens are wrong and based on 'easily recognisable, understandable and verifiable misinterpretations.' Scientists believed they were working with 'viruses' in their laboratories when they were really working with 'typical particles of specific dying tissues or cells ...' Lanka said that the tissue decaying process claimed to be caused by a 'virus' still happens when no alleged 'virus' is involved. It's the process that does the damage and not a 'virus'. The genetic sample is deprived of nutrients, removed from its energy supply through removal from the body and then doused in toxic antibiotics to remove any bacteria. He confirms again that establishment scientists do not (pinch me) conduct control experiments to see if this is the case and if they did they would see the claims that 'viruses' are doing the damage is nonsense. He adds that during the measles 'virus' court case he commissioned an independent laboratory to perform just such a control experiment and the result was that the tissues and cells died in the exact same way as with alleged 'infected' material. This is supported by a gathering number of scientists, doctors and researchers who reject what is called 'germ theory' or the belief in the body being infected by contagious sources emitted by other people. Researchers Dawn Lester and David Parker take the same stance in their highly-detailed and sourced book What Really Makes You Ill – Why everything you thought you knew about disease is wrong which was recommended to me by a number of medical professionals genuinely seeking the truth. Lester and Parker say there is no provable scientific evidence to show that a 'virus' can be transmitted between people or people and animals or animals and people:

The definition also claims that viruses are the cause of many diseases, as if this has been definitively proven. But this is not the case; there is no original scientific evidence that definitively demonstrates that any virus is the cause of any disease. The burden of proof for any theory lies with those who proposed it; but none of the existing documents provides 'proof' that supports the claim that 'viruses' are pathogens.

Dr Tom Cowan employs one of his clever analogies to describe the process by which a 'virus' is named as the culprit for a disease when what is called a 'virus' is only material released by cells detoxing themselves from infiltration by chemical or radiation poisoning. The tidal wave of technologically-generated radiation in the 'smart' modern world plus all the toxic food and drink are causing this to happen more than ever. Deluded 'scientists' misread this as a gathering impact of what they wrongly label 'viruses'.

Paper can infect houses

Cowan said in an article for davidicke.com – with his tongue only mildly in his cheek – that he believed he had made a tremendous discovery that may revolutionise science. He had discovered that small bits of paper are alive, 'well alive-ish', can 'infect' houses, and then reproduce themselves inside the house. The result was that this explosion of growth in the paper inside the house causes the house to explode, blowing it to smithereens. His evidence for this new theory is that in the past months he had carefully examined many of the houses in his neighbourhood and found almost no scraps of paper on the lawns and surrounds of the house. There was an occasional stray label, but nothing more. Then he would return to these same houses a week or so later and with a few, not all of them, particularly the old and decrepit ones, he found to his shock and surprise they were littered with stray bits of paper. He knew then that the paper had infected these houses, made copies of itself, and blew up the house. A young boy on a bicycle at one of the sites told him he had seen a demolition crew using dynamite to explode the house the previous week, but Cowan dismissed this as the idle thoughts of silly boys because 'I was on to something big'. He was on to how 'scientists' mistake genetic material in the detoxifying process for something they call a 'virus'. Cowan said of his house and paper story:

If this sounds crazy to you, it's because it should. This scenario is obviously nuts. But consider this admittedly embellished, for effect, current viral theory that all scientists, medical doctors and virologists currently believe.

He takes the example of the 'novel SARS-Cov2' virus to prove the point. First they take someone with an undefined illness called 'Covid-19' and don't even attempt to find any virus in their sputum. Never mind the scientists still describe how this 'virus', which they have not located attaches to a cell receptor, injects its genetic material, in 'Covid's' case, RNA, into the cell. The RNA once inserted exploits the cell to reproduce itself and makes 'thousands, nay millions, of copies of itself ... Then it emerges victorious to claim its next victim':

If you were to look in the scientific literature for proof, actual scientific proof, that uniform SARS-CoV2 viruses have been properly isolated from the sputum of a sick person, that actual spike proteins could be seen protruding from the virus (which has not been found), you would find that such evidence doesn't exist.

If you go looking in the published scientific literature for actual pictures, proof, that these spike proteins or any viral proteins are ever attached to any receptor embedded in any cell membrane, you would also find that no such evidence exists. If you were to look for a video or documented evidence of the intact virus injecting its genetic material into the body of the cell, reproducing itself and then emerging victorious by budding off the cell membrane, you would find that no such evidence exists.

The closest thing you would find is electron micrograph pictures of cellular particles, possibly attached to cell debris, both of which to be seen were stained by heavy metals, a process that completely distorts their architecture within the living organism. This is like finding bits of paper stuck to the blown-up bricks, thereby proving the paper emerged by taking pieces of the bricks on its way out.

The Enders baloney

Cowan describes the 'Covid' story as being just as make-believe as his paper story and he charts back this fantasy to a Nobel Prize winner called John Enders (1897-1985), an American biomedical scientist who has been dubbed 'The Father of Modern Vaccines'. Enders is claimed to have 'discovered' the process of the viral culture which 'proved' that a 'virus' caused measles. Cowan explains how Enders did this 'by using the EXACT same procedure that has been followed by every virologist to find and characterize every new virus since 1954'. Enders took throat swabs from children with measles and immersed them in 2ml of milk. Penicillin (100u/ml) and the antibiotic streptomycin (50,g/ml) were added and the whole mix was centrifuged – rotated at high speed to separate large cellular debris from small particles and molecules as with milk and cream, for example. Cowan says that if the aim is to find little particles of genetic material ('viruses') in the snot from children with measles it would seem that the last thing you would do is mix the snot with other material – milk –that also has genetic material. 'How are you ever going to know whether whatever you found came from the snot or the milk?' He points out that streptomycin is a 'nephrotoxic' or poisonous-to-the-kidney drug. You will see the relevance of that shortly. Cowan says that it gets worse, much worse, when Enders describes the culture medium upon which the virus 'grows': 'The culture medium consisted of bovine amniotic fluid (90%), beef embryo extract (5%), horse serum (5%), antibiotics and phenol red as an indicator of cell metabolism.' Cowan asks incredulously: 'Did he just say that the culture medium also contained fluids and tissues that are themselves rich sources of genetic material?' The genetic cocktail, or 'medium', is inoculated onto tissue and cells from rhesus monkey kidney tissue. This is where the importance of streptomycin comes in and currently-used antimicrobials and other drugs that are poisonous to kidneys and used in ALL modern viral cultures (e.g. gentamicin, streptomycin, and amphotericin). Cowan asks: 'How are you ever going to know from this witch's brew where any genetic material comes from as we now have five different sources of rich genetic material in our mix?' Remember, he says, that all genetic material, whether from monkey kidney tissues, bovine serum, milk, etc., is made from the exact same components. The same central question returns: 'How are you possibly going to know that it was the virus that killed the kidney tissue and not the toxic antibiotic and starvation rations on which you are growing the tissue?' John Enders answered the question himself – you can't:

A second agent was obtained from an uninoculated culture of monkey kidney cells. The cytopathic changes [death of the cells] it induced in the unstained preparations could not be distinguished with confidence from the viruses isolated from measles.

The death of the cells ('cytopathic changes') happened in exactly the same manner, whether they inoculated the kidney tissue with the measles snot or not, Cowan says. 'This is evidence that the destruction of the tissue, the very proof of viral causation of illness, was not caused by anything in the snot because they saw the same destructive effect when the snot was not even used ... the cytopathic, i.e., cell-killing, changes come from the process of the culture itself, not from any virus in any snot, period.' Enders quotes in his 1957 paper a virologist called Ruckle as reporting similar findings 'and in addition has isolated an agent from monkey kidney tissue that is so far indistinguishable from human measles virus'. In other words, Cowan says, these particles called 'measles viruses' are simply and clearly breakdown products of the starved and poisoned tissue. For measles 'virus' see all 'viruses' including the so-called 'Covid virus'. Enders, the 'Father of Modern Vaccines', also said:

There is a potential risk in employing cultures of primate cells for the production of vaccines composed of attenuated virus, since the presence of other agents possibly latent in primate tissues cannot be definitely excluded by any known method.

Cowan further quotes from a paper published in the journal Viruses in May, 2020, while the 'Covid pandemic' was well underway in the media if not in reality. 'EVs' here refers to particles of genetic debris from our own tissues, such as exosomes of which more in a moment: 'The remarkable resemblance between EVs and viruses has caused quite a few problems in the studies focused on the analysis of EVs released during viral infections.' Later the paper adds that to date a reliable method that can actually guarantee a complete separation (of EVs from viruses) DOES NOT EXIST. This was published at a time when a fairy tale 'virus' was claimed in total certainty to be causing a fairy tale 'viral disease' called 'Covid-19' – a fairy tale that was already well on the way to transforming human society in the image that the Cult has worked to achieve for so long. Cowan concludes his article:

To summarize, there is no scientific evidence that pathogenic viruses exist. What we think of as 'viruses' are simply the normal breakdown products of dead and dying tissues and cells. When we are well, we make fewer of these particles; when we are starved, poisoned, suffocated by wearing masks, or afraid, we make more.

There is no engineered virus circulating and making people sick. People in laboratories all over the world are making genetically modified products to make people sick. These are called vaccines. There is no virome, no 'ecosystem' of viruses, viruses are not 8%, 50% or 100 % of our genetic material. These are all simply erroneous ideas based on the misconception called a virus.

What is 'Covid'? Load of bollocks

The background described here by Cowan and Lanka was emphasised in the first video presentation that I saw by Dr Andrew Kaufman when he asked whether the 'Covid virus' was in truth a natural defence mechanism of the body called 'exosomes'. These are released by cells when in states of toxicity – see the same themes returning over and over. They are released ever more profusely as chemical and radiation toxicity increases and think of the potential effect therefore of 5G alone as its destructive frequencies infest the human energetic information field with a gathering pace (5G went online in Wuhan in 2019 as the 'virus' emerged). I'll have more about this later. Exosomes transmit a warning to the rest of the body that 'Houston, we have a problem'. Kaufman presented images of exosomes and compared them with 'Covid' under an electron microscope and the similarity was remarkable. They both attach to the same cell receptors (claimed in the case of 'Covid'), contain the same genetic material in the form of RNA or ribonucleic acid, and both are found in 'viral cell cultures' with damaged or dying cells. James Hildreth MD, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Meharry Medical College at Johns Hopkins, said: 'The virus is fully an exosome in every sense of the word.' Kaufman's conclusion was that there is no 'virus': 'This entire pandemic is a completely manufactured crisis ... there is no evidence of anyone dying from [this] illness.' Dr Tom Cowan and Sally Fallon Morell, authors of The Contagion Myth, published a statement with Dr Kaufman in February, 2021, explaining why the 'virus' does not exist and you can read it that in full in the Appendix.

'Virus' theory can be traced to the 'cell theory' in 1858 of German physician Rudolf Virchow (1821-1920) who contended that disease originates from a single cell infiltrated by a 'virus'. Dr Stefan Lanka said that findings and insights with respect to the structure, function and central importance of tissues in the creation of life, which were already known in 1858, comprehensively refute the cell theory. Virchow ignored them. We have seen the part later played by John Enders in the 1950s and Lanka notes that infection theories were only established as a global dogma through the policies and eugenics of the Third Reich in Nazi Germany (creation of the same Sabbatian cult behind the 'Covid' hoax). Lanka said: 'Before 1933, scientists dared to contradict this theory; after 1933, these critical scientists were silenced'. Dr Tom Cowan's view is that ill-heath is caused by too much of something, too little of something, or toxification from chemicals and radiation – not contagion. We must also highlight as a major source of the 'virus' theology a man still called the 'Father of Modern Virology' – Thomas Milton Rivers (1888-1962). There is no way given the Cult's long game policy that it was a coincidence for the 'Father of Modern Virology' to be director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research from 1937 to 1956 when he is credited with making the Rockefeller Institute a leader in 'viral research'. Cult Rockefellers were the force behind the creation of Big Pharma 'medicine', established the World Health Organisation in 1948, and have long and close associations with the Gates family that now runs the WHO during the pandemic hoax through mega-rich Cult gofer and psychopath Bill Gates.

Only a Renegade Mind can see through all this bullshit by asking the questions that need to be answered, not taking 'no' or prevarication for an answer, and certainly not hiding from the truth in fear of speaking it. Renegade Minds have always changed the world for the better and they will change this one no matter how bleak it may currently appear to be.

CHAPTER SIX

Sequence of deceit

If you tell the truth, you don't have to remember anything Mark Twain

A gainst the background that I have laid out this far the sequence that took us from an invented 'virus' in Cult-owned China in late 2019 to the fascist transformation of human society can be seen and understood in a whole new context.

We were told that a deadly disease had broken out in Wuhan and the world media began its campaign (coordinated by behavioural psychologists as we shall see) to terrify the population into unquestioning compliance. We were shown images of Chinese people collapsing in the street which never happened in the West with what was supposed to be the same condition. In the earliest days when alleged cases and deaths were few the fear register was hysterical in many areas of the media and this would expand into the common media narrative across the world. The real story was rather different, but we were never told that. The Chinese government, one of the Cult's biggest centres of global operation, said they had discovered a new illness with flu-like and pneumoniatype symptoms in a city with such toxic air that it is overwhelmed with flu-like symptoms, pneumonia and respiratory disease. Chinese scientists said it was a new – 'novel' – coronavirus which they called Sars-Cov-2 and that it caused a disease they labelled 'Covid-19'. There was no evidence for this and the 'virus' has never to this day been isolated, purified and its genetic code established from that. It was from the beginning a computer-generated fiction. Stories of Chinese whistleblowers saying the number of deaths was being supressed or that the 'new disease' was related to the Wuhan bio-lab misdirected mainstream and alternative media into cul-de-sacs to obscure the real truth – there was no 'virus'.

Chinese scientists took genetic material from the lung fluid of just a few people and said they had found a 'new' disease when this material had a wide range of content. There was no evidence for a 'virus' for the very reasons explained in the last two chapters. The 'virus' has never been shown to (a) exist and (b) cause any disease. People were diagnosed on symptoms that are so widespread in Wuhan and polluted China and with a PCR test that can't detect infectious disease. On this farce the whole global scam was sold to the rest of the world which would also diagnose respiratory disease as 'Covid-19' from symptoms alone or with a PCR test not testing for a 'virus'. Flu miraculously disappeared worldwide in 2020 and into 2021 as it was redesignated 'Covid-19'. It was really the same old flu with its 'flu-like' symptoms attributed to 'flu-like' 'Covid-19'. At the same time with very few exceptions the Chinese response of draconian lockdown and fascism was the chosen weapon to respond across the West as recommended by the Cult-owned Tedros at the Cult-owned World Health Organization run by the Cult-owned Gates. All was going according to plan. Chinese scientists – everything in China is controlled by the Cult-owned government – compared their contaminated RNA lung-fluid material with other RNA sequences and said it appeared to be just under 80 percent identical to the SARS-CoV-1 'virus' claimed to be the cause of the SARS (severe acute respiratory syndrome) 'outbreak' in 2003. They decreed that because of this the 'new virus' had to be related and they called it SARS-CoV-2. There are some serious problems with this assumption and assumption was all it was. Most 'factual' science turns out to be assumptions repeated into everyone-knows-that. A match of under 80-percent is meaningless. Dr Kaufman makes the point that there's a 96 percent genetic correlation between humans and chimpanzees, but 'no one would say our genetic material is part of the chimpanzee family'. Yet the Chinese authorities were claiming that a much lower percentage, less than 80 percent, proved the existence of a new 'coronavirus'. For goodness sake human DNA is 60 percent similar to a banana.

You are feeling sleepy

The entire 'Covid' hoax is a global Psyop, a psychological operation to program the human mind into believing and fearing a complete fantasy. A crucial aspect of this was what appeared to happen in Italy. It was all very well streaming out daily images of an alleged catastrophe in Wuhan, but to the Western mind it was still on the other side of the world in a very different culture and setting. A reaction of 'this could happen to me and my family' was still nothing like as intense enough for the mind-doctors. The Cult needed a Western example to push people over that edge and it chose Italy, one of its major global locations going back to the Roman Empire. An Italian 'Covid' crisis was manufactured in a particular area called Lombardy which just happens to be notorious for its toxic air and therefore respiratory disease. Wuhan, China, déjà vu. An hysterical media told horror stories of Italians dying from 'Covid' in their droves and how Lombardy hospitals were being overrun by a tidal wave of desperately ill people needing treatment after being struck down by the 'deadly virus'. Here was the psychological turning point the Cult had planned. Wow, if this is happening in Italy, the Western mind concluded, this indeed could happen to me and my family. Another point is that Italian authorities responded by following the Chinese blueprint so vehemently recommended by the Cult-owned World Health Organization. They imposed fascistic lockdowns on the whole country viciously policed with the help of surveillance drones sweeping through the streets seeking out anyone who escaped from mass house arrest. Livelihoods were destroyed and psychology unravelled in the way we have witnessed since in all lockdown countries. Crucial to the plan was that Italy responded in this way to set the precedent of suspending freedom and imposing fascism in a 'Western liberal democracy'. I emphasised in an animated video explanation on davidicke.com posted in the summer of 2020 how important it was to the Cult to expand the Chinese lockdown model across the West. Without this, and the bare-faced lie that non-symptomatic people could still transmit a 'disease' they didn't have, there was no way locking down the whole population, sick and not sick, could be pulled off. At just the right time and with no evidence Cult operatives and gofers claimed that people without symptoms could pass on the 'disease'. In the name of protecting the 'vulnerable' like elderly people, who lockdowns would kill by the tens of thousands, we had for the first time healthy people told to isolate as well as the sick. The great majority of people who tested positive had no symptoms because there was nothing wrong with them. It was just a trick made possible by a test not testing for the 'virus'.

Months after my animated video the Gates-funded Professor Neil Ferguson at the Gates-funded Imperial College confirmed that I was right. He didn't say it in those terms, naturally, but he did say it. Ferguson will enter the story shortly for his outrageously crazy 'computer models' that led to Britain, the United States and many other countries following the Chinese and now Italian methods of response. Put another way, following the Cult script. Ferguson said that SAGE, the UK government's scientific advisory group which has controlled 'Covid' policy from the start, wanted to follow the Chinese lockdown model (while they all continued to work and be paid), but they wondered if they could possibly, in Ferguson's words, 'get away with it in Europe'. 'Get away with it'? Who the hell do these moronic, arrogant people think they are? This appalling man Ferguson said that once Italy went into national lockdown they realised they, too, could mimic China:

It's a communist one-party state, we said. We couldn't get away with it in Europe, we thought ... and then Italy did it. And we realised we could. Behind this garbage from Ferguson is a simple fact: Doing the same as China in every country was the plan from the start and Ferguson's 'models' would play a central role in achieving that. It's just a coincidence, of course, and absolutely nothing to worry your little head about.

Oops, sorry, our mistake

Once the Italian segment of the Psyop had done the job it was designed to do a very different story emerged. Italian authorities revealed that 99 percent of those who had 'died from Covid-19' in Italy had one, two, three, or more 'co-morbidities' or illnesses and health problems that could have ended their life. The US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) published a figure of 94 percent for Americans dying of 'Covid' while having other serious medical conditions – on average two to three (some five or six) other potential causes of death. In terms of death from an unproven 'virus' I say it is 100 percent. The other one percent in Italy and six percent in the US would presumably have died from 'Covid's' flu-like symptoms with a range of other possible causes in conjunction with a test not testing for the 'virus'. Fox News reported that even more startling figures had emerged in one US county in which 410 of 422 deaths attributed to 'Covid-19' had other potentially deadly health conditions. The Italian National Health Institute said later that the average age of people dying with a 'Covid-19' diagnosis in Italy was about 81. Ninety percent were over 70 with ten percent over 90. In terms of other reasons to die some 80 percent had two or more chronic diseases with half having three or more including cardiovascular problems, diabetes, respiratory problems and cancer. Why is the phantom 'Covid-19' said to kill overwhelmingly old people and hardly affect the young? Old people continually die of many causes and especially respiratory disease which you can rediagnose 'Covid-19' while young people die in tiny numbers by comparison and rarely of respiratory disease. Old people 'die of Covid' because they die of other things that can be redesignated 'Covid' and it really is that simple.

Flu has flown

The blueprint was in place. Get your illusory 'cases' from a test not testing for the 'virus' and redesignate other causes of death as 'Covid-19'. You have an instant 'pandemic' from something that is nothing more than a computer-generated fiction. With near-on a billion people having 'flu-like' symptoms every year the potential was limitless and we can see why flu quickly and apparently miraculously disappeared worldwide by being diagnosed 'Covid-19'. The painfully bloody obvious was explained away by the childlike media in headlines like this in the UK 'Independent': 'Not a single case of flu detected by Public Health England this year as Covid restrictions suppress virus'. I kid you not. The masking, social distancing and house arrest that did not make the 'Covid virus' disappear somehow did so with the 'flu virus'. Even worse the article, by a bloke called Samuel Lovett, suggested that maybe the masking, sanitising and other 'Covid' measures should continue to keep the flu away. With a ridiculousness that disturbs your breathing (it's 'Covid-19') the said Lovett wrote: 'With widespread social distancing and mask-wearing measures in place throughout the UK, the usual routes of transmission for influenza have been blocked.' He had absolutely no evidence to support that statement, but look at the consequences of him acknowledging the obvious. With flu not disappearing at all and only being relabelled 'Covid-19' he would have to contemplate that 'Covid' was a hoax on a scale that is hard to imagine. You need guts and commitment to truth to even go there and that's clearly something Samuel Lovett does not have in abundance. He would never have got it through the editors anyway.

Tens of thousands die in the United States alone every winter from flu including many with pneumonia complications. CDC figures record 45 million Americans diagnosed with flu in 2017-2018 of which 61,000 died and some reports claim 80,000. Where was the same hysteria then that we have seen with 'Covid-19'? Some 250,000 Americans are admitted to hospital with pneumonia every year with about 50,000 cases proving fatal. About 65 million suffer respiratory disease every year and three million deaths makes this the third biggest cause of death worldwide. You only have to redesignate a portion of all these people 'Covid-19' and you have an instant global pandemic or the appearance of one. Why would doctors do this? They are told to do this and all but a few dare not refuse those who must be obeyed. Doctors in general are not researching their own knowledge and instead take it direct and unquestioned from the authorities that own them and their careers. The authorities say they must now diagnose these symptoms 'Covid-19' and not flu, or whatever, and they do it. Dark suits say put 'Covid-19' on death certificates no matter what the cause of death and the doctors do it. Renegade Minds don't fall for the illusion that doctors and medical staff are all highly-intelligent, highly-principled, seekers of medical truth. Some are, but not the majority. They are repeaters, gofers, and yes sir, no sir, purveyors of what the system demands they purvey. The 'Covid' con is not merely confined to diseases of the lungs. Instructions to doctors to put 'Covid-19' on death certificates for anyone dying of anything within 28 days (or much more) of a positive test not testing for the 'virus' opened the floodgates. The term dying with 'Covid' and not of 'Covid' was coined to cover the truth. Whether it was a with or an of they were all added to the death numbers attributed to the 'deadly virus' compiled by national governments and globally by the Gates-funded Johns Hopkins operation in the United States that was so involved in those 'pandemic' simulations. Fraudulent deaths were added to the evergrowing list of fraudulent 'cases' from false positives from a false test. No wonder Professor Walter Ricciardi, scientific advisor to the Italian minister of health, said after the Lombardy hysteria had done its job that 'Covid' death rates were due to Italy having the second oldest population in the world and to how hospitals record deaths:

The way in which we code deaths in our country is very generous in the sense that all the people who die in hospitals with the coronavirus are deemed to be dying of the coronavirus. On re-evaluation by the National Institute of Health, only 12 per cent of death certificates have shown a direct causality from coronavirus, while 88 per cent of patients who have died have at least one pre-morbidity – many had two or three.

This is extraordinary enough when you consider the propaganda campaign to use Italy to terrify the world, but how can they even say twelve percent were genuine when the 'virus' has not been shown to exist, its 'code' is a computer program, and diagnosis comes from a test not testing for it? As in China, and soon the world, 'Covid-19' in Italy was a redesignation of diagnosis. Lies and corruption were to become the real 'pandemic' fuelled by a pathetically-compliant medical system taking its orders from the tiny few at the top of their national hierarchy who answered to the World Health Organization which answers to Gates and the Cult. Doctors were told – ordered – to diagnose a particular set of symptoms 'Covid-19' and put that on the death certificate for any cause of death if the patient had tested positive with a test not testing for the virus or had 'Covid' symptoms like the flu. The United States even introduced big financial incentives to manipulate the figures with hospitals receiving £4,600 from the Medicare system for diagnosing someone with regular pneumonia, $13,000 if they made the diagnosis from the same symptoms 'Covid-19' pneumonia, and $39, 000 if they put a 'Covid' diagnosed patient on a ventilator that would almost certainly kill them. A few – painfully and pathetically few – medical whistleblowers revealed (before Cult-owned YouTube deleted their videos) that they had been instructed to 'let the patient crash' and put them straight on a ventilator instead of going through a series of far less intrusive and dangerous methods as they would have done before the pandemic hoax began and the financial incentives kicked in. We are talking cold-blooded murder given that ventilators are so damaging to respiratory systems they are usually the last step before heaven awaits. Renegade Minds never fall for the belief that people in white coats are all angels of mercy and cannot be full-on psychopaths. I have explained in detail in The Answer how what I am describing here played out across the world coordinated by the World Health Organization through the medical hierarchies in almost every country.

Medical scientist calls it

Information about the non-existence of the 'virus' began to emerge for me in late March, 2020, and mushroomed after that. I was sent an email by Sir Julian Rose, a writer, researcher, and organic farming promotor, from a medical scientist friend of his in the United States. Even at that early stage in March the scientist was able to explain how the 'Covid' hoax was being manipulated. He said there were no reliable tests for a specific 'Covid-19 virus' and nor were there any reliable agencies or media outlets for reporting numbers of actual 'Covid-19' cases. We have seen in the long period since then that he was absolutely right. 'Every action and reaction to Covid-19 is based on totally flawed data and we simply cannot make accurate assessments,' he said. Most people diagnosed with 'Covid-19' were showing nothing more than cold and flu-like symptoms 'because most coronavirus strains are nothing more than cold/flu-like symptoms'. We had farcical situations like an 84-year-old German man testing positive for 'Covid-19' and his nursing home ordered to quarantine only for him to be found to have a common cold. The scientist described back then why PCR tests and what he called the 'Mickey Mouse test kits' were useless for what they were claimed to be identifying. 'The idea these kits can isolate a specific virus like Covid-19 is nonsense,' he said. Significantly, he pointed out that 'if you want to create a totally false panic about a totally false pandemic - pick a coronavirus'. This is exactly what the Cult-owned Gates, World Economic Forum and Johns Hopkins University did with their Event 201 'simulation' followed by their real-life simulation called the 'pandemic'. The scientist said that all you had to do was select the sickest of people with respiratory-type diseases in a single location – 'say Wuhan' – and administer PCR tests to them. You can then claim that anyone showing 'viral sequences' similar to a coronavirus 'which will inevitably be quite a few' is suffering from a 'new' disease:

Since you already selected the sickest flu cases a fairly high proportion of your sample will go on to die. You can then say this 'new' virus has a CFR [case fatality rate] higher than the flu and use this to infuse more concern and do more tests which will of course produce more 'cases', which expands the testing, which produces yet more 'cases' and so on and so on. Before long you have your 'pandemic', and all you have done is use a simple test kit trick to convert the worst flu and pneumonia cases into something new that doesn't ACTUALLY EXIST [my emphasis].

He said that you then 'just run the same scam in other countries' and make sure to keep the fear message running high 'so that people will feel panicky and less able to think critically'. The only problem to overcome was the fact there is no actual new deadly pathogen and only regular sick people. This meant that deaths from the 'new deadly pathogen' were going to be way too low for a real new deadly virus pandemic, but he said this could be overcome in the following ways – all of which would go on to happen:

- 1. You can claim this is just the beginning and more deaths are imminent [you underpin this with fantasy 'computer projections']. Use this as an excuse to quarantine everyone and then claim the quarantine prevented the expected millions of dead.
- 2. You can [say that people] 'minimizing' the dangers are irresponsible and bully them into not talking about numbers.
- 3. You can talk crap about made up numbers hoping to blind people with pseudoscience.
- 4. You can start testing well people (who, of course, will also likely have shreds of coronavirus [RNA] in them) and thus inflate your 'case figures' with 'asymptomatic carriers' (you will of course have to spin that to sound deadly even though any virologist knows the more symptom-less cases you have the less deadly is your pathogen).

The scientist said that if you take these simple steps 'you can have your own entirely manufactured pandemic up and running in weeks'. His analysis made so early in the hoax was brilliantly prophetic of what would actually unfold. Pulling all the information together in these recent chapters we have this is simple 1, 2, 3, of how you can delude virtually the entire human population into believing in a 'virus' that doesn't exist:

- A 'Covid case' is someone who tests positive with a test not testing for the 'virus'.
- A 'Covid death' is someone who dies of any cause within 28 days (or much longer) of testing positive with a test not testing for the 'virus.
- Asymptomatic means there is nothing wrong with you, but they claim you can pass on what you don't have to justify locking down (quarantining) healthy people in totality.

The foundations of the hoax are that simple. A study involving ten million people in Wuhan, published in November, 2020, demolished the whole lie about those without symptoms passing on the 'virus'. They found '300 asymptomatic cases' and traced their contacts to find that not one of them was detected with the 'virus'. 'Asymptomatic' patients and their contacts were isolated for no less than two weeks and nothing changed. I know it's all crap, but if you are going to claim that those without symptoms can transmit 'the virus' then you must produce evidence for that and they never have. Even World Health Organization official Dr Maria Van Kerkhove, head of the emerging diseases and zoonosis unit, said as early as June, 2020, that she doubted the validity of asymptomatic transmission. She said that 'from the data we have, it still seems to be rare that an asymptomatic person actually transmits onward to a secondary individual' and by 'rare' she meant that she couldn't cite any case of asymptomatic transmission.

The Ferguson factor

The problem for the Cult as it headed into March, 2020, when the script had lockdown due to start, was that despite all the manipulation of the case and death figures they still did not have enough people alleged to have died from 'Covid' to justify mass house arrest. This was overcome in the way the scientist described: 'You can claim this is just the beginning and more deaths are imminent ... Use this as an excuse to quarantine everyone and then claim the quarantine prevented the expected millions of dead.' Enter one Professor Neil Ferguson, the Gates-funded 'epidemiologist' at the Gates-funded Imperial College in London. Ferguson is Britain's Christian Drosten in that he has a dire record of predicting health outcomes, but is still called upon to advise government on the next health outcome when another 'crisis' comes along. This may seem to be a strange and ridiculous thing to do. Why would you keep turning for policy guidance to people who have a history of being monumentally wrong? Ah, but it makes sense from the Cult point of view. These 'experts' keep on producing predictions that suit the Cult agenda for societal transformation and so it was with Neil Ferguson as he revealed his horrific (and clearly insane) computer model predictions that allowed lockdowns to be imposed in Britain, the United States and many other countries. Ferguson does not have even an A-level in biology and would appear to have no formal training in computer modelling, medicine or epidemiology, according to Derek Winton, an MSc in Computational Intelligence. He wrote an article somewhat aghast at what Ferguson did which included taking no account of respiratory disease 'seasonality' which means it is far worse in the winter months. Who would have thought that respiratory disease could be worse in the winter? Well, certainly not Ferguson.

The massively China-connected Imperial College and its bizarre professor provided the excuse for the long-incubated Chinese model of human control to travel westward at lightning speed. Imperial College confirms on its website that it collaborates with the Chinese Research Institute; publishes more than 600 research papers every year with Chinese research institutions; has 225 Chinese staff; 2,600 Chinese students – the biggest international group; 7,000 former students living in China which is the largest group outside the UK; and was selected for a tour by China's President Xi Jinping during his state visit to the UK in 2015. The college takes major donations from China and describes itself as the UK's number one university collaborator with Chinese research institutions. The China communist/fascist government did not appear phased by the woeful predictions of Ferguson and Imperial when during the lockdown that Ferguson induced the college signed a five-year collaboration deal with China tech giant Huawei that will have Huawei's indoor 5G network equipment installed at the college's West London tech campus along with an 'AI cloud platform'. The deal includes Chinese sponsorship of Imperial's Venture Catalyst entrepreneurship competition. Imperial is an example of the enormous influence the Chinese government has within British and North American universities and research centres – and further afield. Up to 200 academics from more than a dozen UK universities are being investigated on suspicion of 'unintentionally' helping the Chinese government build weapons of mass destruction by 'transferring world-leading research in advanced military technology such as aircraft, missile designs and cyberweapons'. Similar scandals have broken in the United States, but it's all a coincidence. Imperial College serves the agenda in many other ways including the promotion of every aspect of the United Nations Agenda 21/2030 (the Great Reset) and produced computer models to show that human-caused 'climate change' is happening when in the real world it isn't. Imperial College is driving the climate agenda as it drives the 'Covid' agenda (both Cult hoaxes) while Patrick Vallance, the UK government's Chief Scientific Adviser on 'Covid', was named Chief Scientific Adviser to the UN 'climate change' conference known as COP26 hosted by the government in Glasgow, Scotland. 'Covid' and 'climate' are fundamentally connected.

Professor Woeful

From Imperial's bosom came Neil Ferguson still advising government despite his previous disasters and it was announced early on that he and other key people like UK Chief Medical Adviser Chris Whitty had caught the 'virus' as the propaganda story was being sold. Somehow they managed to survive and we had Prime Minister Boris Johnson admitted to hospital with what was said to be a severe version of the 'virus' in this same period. His whole policy and demeanour changed when he returned to Downing Street. It's a small world with these government advisors – especially in their communal connections to Gates – and Ferguson had partnered with Whitty to write a paper called 'Infectious disease: Tough choices to reduce Ebola transmission' which involved another scare-story that didn't happen. Ferguson's 'models' predicted that up to 150, 000 could die from 'mad cow disease', or BSE, and its version in sheep if it was transmitted to humans. BSE was not transmitted and instead triggered by an organophosphate pesticide used to treat a pest on cows. Fewer than 200 deaths followed from the human form. Models by Ferguson and his fellow incompetents led to the unnecessary culling of millions of pigs, cattle and sheep in the foot and mouth outbreak in 2001 which destroyed the lives and livelihoods of farmers and their families who had often spent decades building their herds and flocks. Vast numbers of these animals did not have foot and mouth and had no contact with the infection. Another 'expert' behind the cull was Professor Roy Anderson, a computer modeller at Imperial College specialising in the epidemiology of human, not animal, disease. Anderson has served on the Bill and Melinda Gates Grand Challenges in Global Health advisory board and chairs another Gates-funded organisation. Gates is everywhere.

In a precursor to the 'Covid' script Ferguson backed closing schools 'for prolonged periods' over the swine flu 'pandemic' in 2009 and said it would affect a third of the world population if it continued to spread at the speed he claimed to be happening. His mates at Imperial College said much the same and a news report said: 'One of the authors, the epidemiologist and disease modeller Neil Ferguson, who sits on the World Health Organisation's emergency committee for the outbreak, said the virus had "full pandemic potential".' Professor Liam Donaldson, the Chris Whitty of his day as Chief Medical Officer, said the worst case could see 30 percent of the British people infected by swine flu with 65,000 dying. Ferguson and Donaldson were indeed proved correct when at the end of the year the number of deaths attributed to swine flu was 392. The term 'expert' is rather liberally applied unfortunately, not least to complete idiots. Swine flu 'projections' were great for GlaxoSmithKline (GSK) as millions rolled in for its Pandemrix influenza vaccine which led to brain damage with children most affected. The British government (taxpayers) paid out more than £60 million in compensation after GSK was given immunity from prosecution. Yet another 'Covid' déjà vu. Swine flu was supposed to have broken out in Mexico, but Dr Wolfgang Wodarg, a German doctor, former member of parliament and critic of the 'Covid' hoax, observed 'the spread of swine flu' in Mexico City at the time. He said: 'What we experienced in Mexico City was a very mild flu which did not kill more than usual – which killed even fewer people than usual.' Hyping the fear against all the facts is not unique to 'Covid' and has happened many times before. Ferguson is reported to have over-estimated the projected death toll of bird flu (H5N1) by some three million-fold, but bird flu vaccine makers again made a killing from the scare. This is some of the background to the Neil Ferguson who produced the perfectly-timed computer models in early 2020 predicting that half a million people would die in Britain without draconian lockdown and 2.2 million in the United States. Politicians panicked, people panicked, and lockdowns of alleged short duration were instigated to 'flatten the curve' of cases gleaned from a test not testing for the 'virus'. I said at the time that the public could forget the 'short duration' bit. This was an agenda to destroy the livelihoods of the population and force them into mass control through dependency and there was going to be nothing 'short' about it. American researcher Daniel Horowitz described the consequences of the 'models' spewed out by Gates-funded Ferguson and Imperial College:

What led our government and the governments of many other countries into panic was a single Imperial College of UK study, funded by global warming activists, that predicted 2.2 million deaths if we didn't lock down the country. In addition, the reported 8-9% death rate in Italy scared us into thinking there was some other mutation of this virus that they got, which might have come here.

Together with the fact that we were finally testing and had the ability to actually report new cases, we thought we were headed for a death spiral. But again ... we can't flatten a curve if we don't know when the curve started.

How about it never started?

Giving them what they want

An investigation by German news outlet Welt Am Sonntag (World on Sunday) revealed how in March, 2020, the German government gathered together 'leading scientists from several research institutes and universities' and 'together, they were to produce a [modelling] paper that would serve as legitimization for further tough political measures'. The Cult agenda was justified by computer modelling not based on evidence or reality; it was specifically constructed to justify the Cult demand for lockdowns all over the world to destroy the independent livelihoods of the global population. All these modellers and everyone responsible for the 'Covid' hoax have a date with a trial like those in Nuremberg after World War Two when Nazis faced the consequences of their war crimes. These corruptbeyond-belief 'modellers' wrote the paper according to government instructions and it said that that if lockdown measures were lifted then up to one million Germans would die from 'Covid-19' adding that some would die 'agonizingly at home, gasping for breath' unable to be treated by hospitals that couldn't cope. All lies. No matter – it gave the Cult all that it wanted. What did long-time government 'modeller' Neil Ferguson say? If the UK and the United States didn't lockdown half a million would die in Britain and 2.2 million Americans. Anyone see a theme here? 'Modellers' are such a crucial part of the lockdown strategy that we should look into their background and follow the money. Researcher Rosemary Frei produced an excellent article headlined 'The Modelling-paper Mafiosi'. She highlights a guy called John Edmunds, a British epidemiologist, and professor in the Faculty of Epidemiology and Population Health at the London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine. He studied at Imperial College. Edmunds is a member of government 'Covid' advisory bodies which have been dictating policy, the New and Emerging Respiratory Virus Threats Advisory Group (NERVTAG) and the Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies (SAGE).

Ferguson, another member of NERVTAG and SAGE, led the way with the original 'virus' and Edmunds has followed in the 'variant' stage and especially the so-called UK or Kent variant known as the 'Variant of Concern' (VOC) B.1.1.7. He said in a co-written report for the Centre for Mathematical modelling of Infectious Diseases at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, with input from the Centre's 'Covid-19' Working Group, that there was 'a realistic possibility that VOC B.1.1.7 is associated with an increased risk of death compared to non-VOC viruses'. Fear, fear, fear, get the vaccine, fear, fear, get the vaccine. Rosemary Frei reveals that almost all the paper's authors and members of the modelling centre's 'Covid-19' Working Group receive funding from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and/or the associated Gates-funded Wellcome Trust. The paper was published by e-journal Medr xiv which only publishes papers not peer-reviewed and the journal was established by an organisation headed by Facebook's Mark Zuckerberg and his missus. What a small world it is. Frei discovered that Edmunds is on the Scientific Advisory Board of the Coalition for Epidemic Preparedness Innovations (CEPI) which was established by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Klaus Schwab's Davos World Economic Forum and Big Pharma giant Wellcome. CEPI was 'launched in Davos [in 2017] to develop vaccines to stop future epidemics', according to its website. 'Our mission is to accelerate the development of vaccines against emerging infectious diseases and enable equitable access to these vaccines for people during outbreaks.' What kind people they are. Rosemary Frei reveals that Public Health England (PHE) director Susan Hopkins is an author of her organisation's non-peer-reviewed reports on 'new variants'. Hopkins is a professor of infectious diseases at London's Imperial College which is gifted tens of millions of dollars a year by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Gates-funded modelling disaster Neil Ferguson also co-authors Public Health England reports and he spoke in December, 2020, about the potential danger of the B.1.1.7. 'UK variant' promoted by Gates-funded modeller John Edmunds. When I come to the 'Covid vaccines' the 'new variants' will be shown for what they are – bollocks.

Connections, connections

All these people and modellers are lockdown-obsessed or, put another way, they demand what the Cult demands. Edmunds said in January, 2021, that to ease lockdowns too soon would be a disaster and they had to 'vaccinate much, much, much more widely than the elderly'. Rosemary Frei highlights that Edmunds is married to Jeanne Pimenta who is described in a LinkedIn profile as director of epidemiology at GlaxoSmithKline (GSK) and she held shares in the company. Patrick Vallance, co-chair of SAGE and the government's Chief Scientific Adviser, is a former executive of GSK and has a deferred bonus of shares in the company worth £600,000. GSK has serious business connections with Bill Gates and is collaborating with mRNA-'vaccine' company CureVac to make 'vaccines' for the new variants that Edmunds is talking about. GSK is planning a 'Covid vaccine' with drug giant Sanofi. Puppet Prime Minister Boris Johnson announced in the spring of 2021 that up to 60 million vaccine doses were to be made at the GSK facility at Barnard Castle in the English North East. Barnard Castle, with a population of just 6,000, was famously visited in breach of lockdown rules in April, 2020, by Johnson aide Dominic Cummings who said that he drove there 'to test his eyesight' before driving back to London. Cummings would be better advised to test his integrity – not that it would take long. The GSK facility had nothing to do with his visit then although I'm sure Patrick Vallance would have been happy to arrange an introduction and some tea and biscuits. Ruthless psychopath Gates has made yet another fortune from vaccines in collaboration with Big Pharma companies and gushes at the phenomenal profits to be made from vaccines – more than a 20-to-1 return as he told one interviewer. Gates also tweeted in December, 2019, with the foreknowledge of what was coming: 'What's next for our foundation? I'm particularly excited about what the next year could mean for one of the best buys in global health: vaccines.'

Modeller John Edmunds is a big promotor of vaccines as all these people appear to be. He's the dean of the London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine's Faculty of Epidemiology and Population Health which is primarily funded by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and the Gates-established and funded GAVI vaccine alliance which is the Gates vehicle to vaccinate the world. The organisation Doctors Without Borders has described GAVI as being 'aimed more at supporting drug-industry desires to promote new products than at finding the most efficient and sustainable means for fighting the diseases of poverty'. But then that's why the psychopath Gates created it. John Edmunds said in a video that the London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine is involved in every aspect of vaccine development including large-scale clinical trials. He contends that mathematical modelling can show that vaccines protect individuals and society. That's on the basis of shit in and shit out, I take it. Edmunds serves on the UK Vaccine Network as does Ferguson and the government's foremost 'Covid' adviser, the grimfaced, dark-eyed Chris Whitty. The Vaccine Network says it works 'to support the government to identify and shortlist targeted investment opportunities for the most promising vaccines and vaccine technologies that will help combat infectious diseases with epidemic potential, and to address structural issues related to the UK's broader vaccine infrastructure'. Ferguson is acting Director of the Imperial College Vaccine Impact Modelling Consortium which has funding from the Bill and Melina Gates Foundation and the Gates-created GAVI 'vaccine alliance'. Anyone wonder why these characters see vaccines as the answer to every problem? Ferguson is wildly enthusiastic in his support for GAVI's campaign to vaccine children en masse in poor countries. You would expect someone like Gates who has constantly talked about the need to reduce the population to want to fund vaccines to keep more people alive. I'm sure that's why he does it. The John Edmunds London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine (LSHTM) has a Vaccines Manufacturing Innovation Centre which develops, tests and commercialises vaccines. Rosemary Frei writes:

The vaccines centre also performs affiliated activities like combating 'vaccine hesitancy'. The latter includes the Vaccine Confidence Project. The project's stated purpose is, among other things, 'to provide analysis and guidance for early response and engagement with the public to ensure sustained confidence in vaccines and immunisation'. The Vaccine Confidence Project's director is LSHTM professor Heidi Larson. For more than a decade she's been researching how to combat vaccine hesitancy.

How the bloody hell can blokes like John Edmunds and Neil Ferguson with those connections and financial ties model 'virus' case and death projections for the government and especially in a way that gives their paymasters like Gates exactly what they want? It's insane, but this is what you find throughout the world.

'Covid' is not dangerous, oops, wait, yes it is Only days before Ferguson's nightmare scenario made Jackboot Johnson take Britain into a China-style lockdown to save us from a deadly 'virus' the UK government website gov.uk was reporting something very different to Ferguson on a page of official government guidance for 'high consequence infectious diseases (HCID)'. It said this about 'Covid-19':

As of 19 March 2020, COVID-19 is no longer considered to be a high consequence infectious diseases (HCID) in the UK [my emphasis]. The 4 nations public health HCID group made an interim recommendation in January 2020 to classify COVID-19 as an HCID. This was based on consideration of the UK HCID criteria about the virus and the disease with information available during the early stages of the outbreak.

Now that more is known about COVID-19, the public health bodies in the UK have reviewed the most up to date information about COVID-19 against the UK HCID criteria. They have determined that several features have now changed; in particular, more information is available about mortality rates (low overall), and there is now greater clinical awareness and a specific and sensitive laboratory test, the availability of which continues to increase. The Advisory Committee on Dangerous Pathogens (ACDP) is also of the opinion that COVID-19 should no longer be classified as an HCID.

Soon after the government had been exposed for downgrading the risk they upgraded it again and everyone was back to singing from the same Cult hymn book. Ferguson and his fellow Gates clones indicated that lockdowns and restrictions would have to continue until a Gates-funded vaccine was developed. Gates said the same because Ferguson and his like were repeating the Gates script which is the Cult script. 'Flatten the curve' became an ongoing nightmare of continuing lockdowns with periods in between of severe restrictions in pursuit of destroying independent incomes and had nothing to do with protecting health about which the Cult gives not a shit. Why wouldn't Ferguson be pushing a vaccine 'solution' when he's owned by vaccine-obsessive Gates who makes a fortune from them and when Ferguson heads the Vaccine Impact Modelling Consortium at Imperial College funded by the Gates Foundation and GAVI, the 'vaccine alliance', created by Gates as his personal vaccine promotion operation? To compound the human catastrophe that Ferguson's 'models' did so much to create he was later exposed for breaking his own lockdown rules by having sexual liaisons with his married girlfriend Antonia Staats at his home while she was living at another location with her husband and children. Staats was a 'climate' activist and senior campaigner at the Soros-funded Avaaz which I wouldn't trust to tell me that grass is green. Ferguson had to resign as a government advisor over this hypocrisy in May, 2020, but after a period of quiet he was back being quoted by the ridiculous media on the need for more lockdowns and a vaccine rollout. Other government-advising 'scientists' from Imperial College' held the fort in his absence and said lockdown could be indefinite until a vaccine was found. The Cult script was being sung by the payrolled choir. I said there was no intention of going back to 'normal' when the 'vaccine' came because the 'vaccine' is part of a very different agenda that I will discuss in Human 2.0. Why would the Cult want to let the world go back to normal when destroying that normal forever was the whole point of what was happening? House arrest, closing businesses and schools through lockdown, (un)social distancing and masks all followed the Ferguson fantasy models. Again as I predicted (these people are so predictable) when the 'vaccine' arrived we were told that house arrest, lockdown, (un)social distancing and masks would still have to continue. I will deal with the masks in the next chapter because they are of fundamental importance.

Where's the 'pandemic'?

Any mildly in-depth assessment of the figures revealed what was really going on. Cult-funded and controlled organisations still have genuine people working within them such is the number involved. So it is with Genevieve Briand, assistant program director of the Applied Economics master's degree program at Johns Hopkins University. She analysed the impact that 'Covid-19' had on deaths from all causes in the United States using official data from the CDC for the period from early February to early September, 2020. She found that allegedly 'Covid' related-deaths exceeded those from heart disease which she found strange with heart disease always the biggest cause of fatalities. Her research became even more significant when she noted the sudden decline in 2020 of all non-'Covid' deaths: 'This trend is completely contrary to the pattern observed in all previous years ... the total decrease in deaths by other causes almost exactly equals the increase in deaths by Covid-19.' This was such a game, set and match in terms of what was happening that Johns Hopkins University deleted the article on the grounds that it 'was being used to support false and dangerous inaccuracies about the impact of the pandemic'. No – because it exposed the scam from official CDC figures and this was confirmed when those figures were published in January, 2021. Here we can see the effect of people dying from heart attacks, cancer, road accidents and gunshot wounds – anything – having 'Covid-19' on the death certificate along with those diagnosed from 'symptoms' who had even not tested positive with a test not testing for the 'virus'. I am not kidding with the gunshot wounds, by the way. Brenda Bock, coroner in Grand County, Colorado, revealed that two gunshot victims tested positive for the 'virus' within the previous 30 days and were therefore classified as 'Covid deaths'. Bock said: 'These two people had tested positive for Covid, but that's not what killed them. A gunshot wound is what killed them.' She said she had not even finished her investigation when the state listed the gunshot victims as deaths due to the 'virus'. The death and case figures for 'Covid-19' are an absolute joke and yet they are repeated like parrots by the media, politicians and alleged medical 'experts'. The official Cult narrative is the only show in town.

Genevieve Briand found that deaths from all causes were not exceptional in 2020 compared with previous years and a Spanish magazine published figures that said the same about Spain which was a 'Covid' propaganda hotspot at one point. Discovery Salud, a health and medicine magazine, quoted government figures which showed how 17,000 fewer people died in Spain in 2020 than in 2019 and more than 26,000 fewer than in 2018. The age-standardised mortality rate for England and Wales when age distribution is taken into account was significantly lower in 2020 than the 1970s, 80s and 90s, and was only the ninth highest since 2000. Where is the 'pandemic'?

Post mortems and autopsies virtually disappeared for 'Covid' deaths amid claims that 'virus-infected' bodily fluids posed a risk to those carrying out the autopsy. This was rejected by renowned German pathologist and forensic doctor Klaus Püschel who said that he and his staff had by then done 150 autopsies on 'Covid' patients with no problems at all. He said they were needed to know why some 'Covid' patients suffered blood clots and not severe respiratory infections. The 'virus' is, after all, called SARS or 'severe acute respiratory syndrome'. I highlighted in the spring of 2020 this phenomenon and quoted New York intensive care doctor Cameron Kyle-Sidell who posted a soon deleted YouTube video to say that they had been told to prepare to treat an infectious disease called 'Covid-19', but that was not what they were dealing with. Instead he likened the lung condition of the most severely ill patients to what you would expect with cabin depressurisation in a plane at 30,000 feet or someone dropped on the top of Everest without oxygen or acclimatisation. I have never said this is not happening to a small minority of alleged 'Covid' patients – I am saying this is not caused by a phantom 'contagious virus'. Indeed Kyle-Sidell said that 'Covid-19' was not the disease they were told was coming their way. 'We are operating under a medical paradigm that is untrue,' he said, and he believed they were treating the wrong disease: 'These people are being slowly starved of oxygen.' Patients would take off their oxygen masks in a state of fear and stress and while they were blue in the face on the brink of death. They did not look like patients dying of pneumonia. You can see why they don't want autopsies when their virus doesn't exist and there is another condition in some people that they don't wish to be uncovered. I should add here that the 5G system of millimetre waves was being rapidly introduced around the world in 2020 and even more so now as they fire 5G at the Earth from satellites. At 60 gigahertz within the 5G range that frequency interacts with the oxygen molecule and stops people breathing in sufficient oxygen to be absorbed into the bloodstream. They are installing 5G in schools and hospitals. The world is not mad or anything. 5G can cause major changes to the lungs and blood as I detail in The Answer and these consequences are labelled 'Covid-19', the alleged symptoms of which can be caused by 5G and other electromagnetic frequencies as cells respond to radiation poisoning.

The 'Covid death' scam

Dr Scott Jensen, a Minnesota state senator and medical doctor, exposed 'Covid' Medicare payment incentives to hospitals and death certificate manipulation. He said he was sent a seven-page document by the US Department of Health 'coaching' him on how to fill out death certificates which had never happened before. The document said that he didn't need to have a laboratory test for 'Covid-19' to put that on the death certificate and that shocked him when death certificates are supposed to be about facts. Jensen described how doctors had been 'encouraged, if not pressured' to make a diagnosis of 'Covid-19' if they thought it was probable or 'presumed'. No positive test was necessary – not that this would have mattered anyway. He said doctors were told to diagnose 'Covid' by symptoms when these were the same as colds, allergies, other respiratory problems, and certainly with influenza which 'disappeared' in the 'Covid' era. A common sniffle was enough to get the dreaded verdict. Ontario authorities decreed that a single care home resident with one symptom from a long list must lead to the isolation of the entire home. Other courageous doctors like Jensen made the same point about death figure manipulation and how deaths by other causes were falling while 'Covid-19 deaths' were rising at the same rate due to re-diagnosis. Their videos rarely survive long on YouTube with its Cult-supporting algorithms courtesy of CEO Susan Wojcicki and her bosses at Google. Figure-tampering was so glaring and ubiquitous that even officials were letting it slip or outright saying it. UK chief scientific adviser Patrick Vallance said on one occasion that 'Covid' on the death certificate doesn't mean 'Covid' was the cause of death (so why the hell is it there?) and we had the rare sight of a BBC reporter telling the truth when she said: 'Someone could be successfully treated for Covid, in say April, discharged, and then in June, get run over by a bus and die ... That person would still be counted as a Covid death in England.' Yet the BBC and the rest of the world media went on repeating the case and death figures as if they were real. Illinois Public Health Director Dr Ngozi Ezike revealed the deceit while her bosses must have been clenching their buttocks:

If you were in a hospice and given a few weeks to live and you were then found to have Covid that would be counted as a Covid death. [There might be] a clear alternate cause, but it is still listed as a Covid death. So everyone listed as a Covid death doesn't mean that was the cause of the death, but that they had Covid at the time of death.

Yes, a 'Covid virus' never shown to exist and tested for with a test not testing for the 'virus'. In the first period of the pandemic hoax through the spring of 2020 the process began of designating almost everything a 'Covid' death and this has continued ever since. I sat in a restaurant one night listening to a loud conversation on the next table where a family was discussing in bewilderment how a relative who had no symptoms of 'Covid', and had died of a long-term problem, could have been diagnosed a death by the 'virus'. I could understand their bewilderment. If they read this book they will know why this medical fraud has been perpetrated the world over.

Some media truth shock

The media ignored the evidence of death certificate fraud until eventually one columnist did speak out when she saw it first-hand. Bel Mooney is a long-time national newspaper journalist in Britain currently working for the Daily Mail. Her article on February 19th, 2021, carried this headline: 'My dad Ted passed three Covid tests and died of a chronic illness yet he's officially one of Britain's 120,000 victims of the virus and is far from alone ... so how many more are there?' She told how her 99-year-old father was in a care home with a long-standing chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and vascular dementia. Maybe, but he was still aware enough to tell her from the start that there was no 'virus' and he refused the 'vaccine' for that reason. His death was not unexpected given his chronic health problems and Mooney said she was shocked to find that 'Covid-19' was declared the cause of death on his death certificate. She said this was a 'bizarre and unacceptable untruth' for a man with long-time health problems who had tested negative twice at the home for the 'virus'. I was also shocked by this story although not by what she said. I had been highlighting the death certificate manipulation for ten months. It was the confirmation that a professional full-time journalist only realised this was going on when it affected her directly and neither did she know that whether her dad tested positive or negative was irrelevant with the test not testing for the 'virus'. Where had she been? She said she did not believe in 'conspiracy theories' without knowing I'm sure that this and 'conspiracy theorists' were terms put into widespread circulation by the CIA in the 1960s to discredit those who did not accept the ridiculous official story of the Kennedy assassination. A blanket statement of 'I don't believe in conspiracy theories' is always bizarre. The dictionary definition of the term alone means the world is drowning in conspiracies. What she said was even more daft when her dad had just been affected by the 'Covid' conspiracy. Why else does she think that 'Covid-19' was going on the death certificates of people who died of something else?

To be fair once she saw from personal experience what was happening she didn't mince words. Mooney was called by the care home on the morning of February 9th to be told her father had died in his sleep. When she asked for the official cause of death what came back was 'Covid-19'. Mooney challenged this and was told there had been deaths from Covid on the dementia floor (confirmed by a test not testing for the 'virus') so they considered it 'reasonable to assume'. 'But doctor,' Mooney rightly protested, 'an assumption isn't a diagnosis.' She said she didn't blame the perfectly decent and sympathetic doctor – 'he was just doing his job'. Sorry, but that's bullshit. He wasn't doing his job at all. He was putting a false cause of death on the death certificate and that is a criminal offence for which he should be brought to account and the same with the millions of doctors worldwide who have done the same. They were not doing their job they were following orders and that must not wash at new Nuremberg trials any more than it did at the first ones. Mooney's doctor was 'assuming' (presuming) as he was told to, but 'just following orders' makes no difference to his actions. A doctor's job is to serve the patient and the truth, not follow orders, but that's what they have done all over the world and played a central part in making the 'Covid' hoax possible with all its catastrophic consequences for humanity. Shame on them and they must answer for their actions. Mooney said her disquiet worsened when she registered her father's death by telephone and was told by the registrar there had been very many other cases like hers where 'the deceased' had not tested positive for 'Covid' yet it was recorded as the cause of death. The test may not matter, but those involved at their level think it matters and it shows a callous disregard for accurate diagnosis. The pressure to do this is coming from the top of the national 'health' pyramids which in turn obey the World Health Organization which obeys Gates and the Cult. Mooney said the registrar agreed that this must distort the national figures adding that 'the strangest thing is that every winter we record countless deaths from flu, and this winter there have been none. Not one!' She asked if the registrar thought deaths from flu were being misdiagnosed and lumped together with 'Covid' deaths. The answer was a 'puzzled yes'. Mooney said that the funeral director said the same about 'Covid' deaths which had nothing to do with 'Covid'. They had lost count of the number of families upset by this and other funeral companies in different countries have had the same experience. Mooney wrote:

The nightly shroud-waving and shocking close-ups of pain imposed on us by the TV news bewildered and terrified the population into eager compliance with lockdowns. We were invited to 'save the NHS' and to grieve for strangers – the real-life loved ones behind those shocking death counts. Why would the public imagine what I now fear, namely that the way Covid-19 death statistics are compiled might make the numbers seem greater than they are?

Oh, just a little bit – like 100 percent.

Do the maths

Mooney asked why a country would wish to skew its mortality figures by wrongly certifying deaths? What had been going on? Well, if you don't believe in conspiracies you will never find the answer which is that it's a conspiracy. She did, however, describe what she had discovered as a 'national scandal'. In reality it's a global scandal and happening everywhere. Pillars of this conspiracy were all put into place before the button was pressed with the Drosten PCR protocol and high amplifications to produce the cases and death certificate changes to secure illusory 'Covid' deaths. Mooney notes that normally two doctors were needed to certify a death, with one having to know the patient, and how the rules were changed in the spring of 2020 to allow one doctor to do this. In the same period 'Covid deaths' were decreed to be all cases where Covid-19 was put on the death certificate even without a positive test or any symptoms. Mooney asked: 'How many of the 30,851 (as of January 15) care home resident deaths with Covid-19 on the certificate (32.4 per cent of all deaths so far) were based on an assumption, like that of my father? And what has that done to our national psyche?'All of them is the answer to the first question and it has devastated and dismantled the national psyche, actually the global psyche, on a colossal scale. In the UK case and death data is compiled by organisations like Public Health England (PHE) and the Office for National Statistics (ONS). Mooney highlights the insane policy of counting a death from any cause as 'Covid-19' if this happens within 28 days of a positive test (with a test not testing for the 'virus') and she points out that ONS statistics reflect deaths 'involving Covid' 'or due to Covid' which meant in practice any death where 'Covid-19' was mentioned on the death certificate. She described the consequences of this fraud:

Most people will accept the narrative they are fed, so panicky governments here and in Europe witnessed the harsh measures enacted in totalitarian China and jumped into lockdown. Headlines about Covid deaths tolled like the knell that would bring doomsday to us all. Fear stalked our empty streets. Politicians parroted the frankly ridiculous aim of 'zero Covid' and shut down the economy, while most British people agreed that lockdown was essential and (astonishingly to me, as a patriotic Brit) even wanted more restrictions.

For what? Lies on death certificates? Never mind the grim toll of lives ruined, suicides, schools closed, rising inequality, depression, cancelled hospital treatments, cancer patients in a torture of waiting, poverty, economic devastation, loneliness, families kept apart, and so on. How many lives have been lost as a direct result of lockdown?

She said that we could join in a national chorus of shock and horror at reaching the 120,000 death toll which was surely certain to have been totally skewed all along, but what about the human cost of lockdown justified by these 'death figures'? The British Medical Journal had reported a 1,493 percent increase in cases of children taken to Great Ormond Street Hospital with abusive head injuries alone and then there was the effect on families:

Perhaps the most shocking thing about all this is that families have been kept apart – and obeyed the most irrational, changing rules at the whim of government – because they believed in the statistics. They succumbed to fear, which his generation rejected in that war fought for freedom. Dad (God rest his soul) would be angry. And so am I.

Another theme to watch is that in the winter months when there are more deaths from all causes they focus on 'Covid' deaths and in the summer when the British Lung Foundation says respiratory disease plummets by 80 percent they rage on about 'cases'. Either way fascism on population is always the answer.

Nazi eugenics in the 21st century

Elderly people in care homes have been isolated from their families month after lonely month with no contact with relatives and grandchildren who were banned from seeing them. We were told that lockdown fascism was to 'protect the vulnerable' like elderly people. At the same time Do Not Resuscitate (DNR) orders were placed on their medical files so that if they needed resuscitation it wasn't done and 'Covid-19' went on their death certificates. Old people were not being 'protected' they were being culled – murdered in truth. DNR orders were being decreed for disabled and young people with learning difficulties or psychological problems. The UK Care Quality Commission, a non-departmental body of the Department of Health and Social Care, found that 34 percent of those working in health and social care were pressured into placing 'do not attempt cardiopulmonary resuscitation' orders on 'Covid' patients who suffered from disabilities and learning difficulties without involving the patient or their families in the decision. UK judges ruled that an elderly woman with dementia should have the DNA-manipulating 'Covid vaccine' against her son's wishes and that a man with severe learning difficulties should have the jab despite his family's objections. Never mind that many had already died. The judiciary always supports doctors and government in fascist dictatorships. They wouldn't dare do otherwise. A horrific video was posted showing fascist officers from Los Angeles police forcibly giving the 'Covid' shot to women with special needs who were screaming that they didn't want it. The same fascists are seen giving the jab to a sleeping elderly woman in a care home. This is straight out of the Nazi playbook. Hitler's Nazis committed mass murder of the mentally ill and physically disabled throughout Germany and occupied territories in the programme that became known as Aktion T4, or just T4. Sabbatian-controlled Hitler and his grotesque crazies set out to kill those they considered useless and unnecessary. The Reich Committee for the Scientific Registering of Hereditary and Congenital Illnesses registered the births of babies identified by physicians to have 'defects'. By 1941 alone more than 5,000 children were murdered by the state and it is estimated that in total the number of innocent people killed in Aktion T4 was between 275,000 and 300,000. Parents were told their children had been sent away for 'special treatment' never to return. It is rather pathetic to see claims about plans for new extermination camps being dismissed today when the same force behind current events did precisely that 80 years ago. Margaret Sanger was a Cult operative who used 'birth control' to sanitise her programme of eugenics. Organisations she founded became what is now Planned Parenthood. Sanger proposed that 'the whole dysgenic population would have its choice of segregation or sterilization'. These included epileptics, 'feebleminded', and prostitutes. Sanger opposed charity because it perpetuated 'human waste'. She reveals the Cult mentality and if anyone thinks that extermination camps are a 'conspiracy theory' their naivety is touching if breathtakingly stupid.

If you don't believe that doctors can act with callous disregard for their patients it is worth considering that doctors and medical staff agreed to put government-decreed DNR orders on medical files and do nothing when resuscitation is called for. I don't know what you call such people in your house. In mine they are Nazis from the Josef Mengele School of Medicine. Phenomenal numbers of old people have died worldwide from the effects of lockdown, depression, lack of treatment, the 'vaccine' (more later) and losing the will to live. A common response at the start of the manufactured pandemic was to remove old people from hospital beds and transfer them to nursing homes. The decision would result in a mass cull of elderly people in those homes through lack of treatment – not 'Covid'. Care home whistleblowers have told how once the 'Covid' era began doctors would not come to their homes to treat patients and they were begging for drugs like antibiotics that often never came. The most infamous example was ordered by New York governor Andrew Cuomo, brother of a moronic CNN host, who amazingly was given an Emmy Award for his handling of the 'Covid crisis' by the ridiculous Wokers that hand them out. Just how ridiculous could be seen in February, 2021, when a Department of Justice and FBI investigation began into how thousands of old people in New York died in nursing homes after being discharged from hospital to make way for 'Covid' patients on Cuomo's say-so – and how he and his staff covered up these facts. This couldn't have happened to a nicer psychopath. Even then there was a 'Covid' spin. Reports said that thousands of old people who tested positive for 'Covid' in hospital were transferred to nursing homes to both die of 'Covid' and transmit it to others. No – they were in hospital because they were ill and the fact that they tested positive with a test not testing for the 'virus' is irrelevant. They were ill often with respiratory diseases ubiquitous in old people near the end of their lives. Their transfer out of hospital meant that their treatment stopped and many would go on to die.

They're old. Who gives a damn?

I have exposed in the books for decades the Cult plan to cull the world's old people and even to introduce at some point what they call a 'demise pill' which at a certain age everyone would take and be out of here by law. In March, 2021, Spain legalised euthanasia and assisted suicide following the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Canada on the Tiptoe to the demise pill. Treatment of old people by many 'care' homes has been a disgrace in the 'Covid' era. There are many, many, caring staff – I know some. There have, however, been legions of stories about callous treatment of old people and their families. Police were called when families came to take their loved ones home in the light of isolation that was killing them. They became prisoners of the state. Care home residents in insane, fascist Ontario, Canada, were not allowed to leave their room once the 'Covid' hoax began. UK staff have even wheeled elderly people away from windows where family members were talking with them. Oriana Criscuolo from Stockport in the English North West dropped off some things for her 80-year-old father who has Parkinson's disease and dementia and she wanted to wave to him through a ground-floor window. She was told that was 'illegal'. When she went anyway they closed the curtains in the middle of the day. Oriana said:

It's just unbelievable. I cannot understand how care home staff – people who are being paid to care – have become so uncaring. Their behaviour is inhumane and cruel. It's beyond belief.

She was right and this was not a one-off. What a way to end your life in such loveless circumstances. UK registered nurse Nicky Millen, a proper old school nurse for 40 years, said that when she started her career care was based on dignity, choice, compassion and empathy. Now she said 'the things that are important to me have gone out of the window.' She was appalled that people were dying without their loved ones and saying goodbye on iPads. Nicky described how a distressed 89-year-old lady stroked her face and asked her 'how many paracetamol would it take to finish me off'. Life was no longer worth living while not seeing her family. Nicky said she was humiliated in front of the ward staff and patients for letting the lady stroke her face and giving her a cuddle. Such is the dehumanisation that the 'Covid' hoax has brought to the surface. Nicky worked in care homes where patients told her they were being held prisoner. 'I want to live until I die', one said to her. 'I had a lady in tears because she hadn't seen her great-grandson.' Nicky was compassionate old school meeting psychopathic New Normal. She also said she had worked on a 'Covid' ward with no 'Covid' patients. Jewish writer Shai Held wrote an article in March, 2020, which was headlined 'The Staggering, Heartless Cruelty Toward the Elderly'. What he described was happening from the earliest days of lockdown. He said 'the elderly' were considered a group and not unique individuals (the way of the Woke). Shai Held said:

Notice how the all-too-familiar rhetoric of dehumanization works: 'The elderly' are bunched together as a faceless mass, all of them considered culprits and thus effectively deserving of the suffering the pandemic will inflict upon them. Lost entirely is the fact that the elderly are individual human beings, each with a distinctive face and voice, each with hopes and dreams, memories and regrets, friendships and marriages, loves lost and loves sustained.

'The elderly' have become another dehumanised group for which anything goes and for many that has resulted in cold disregard for their rights and their life. The distinctive face that Held talks about is designed to be deleted by masks until everyone is part of a faceless mass.

'War-zone' hospitals myth

Again and again medical professionals have told me what was really going on and how hospitals 'overrun like war zones' according to the media were virtually empty. The mantra from medical whistleblowers was please don't use my name or my career is over. Citizen journalists around the world sneaked into hospitals to film evidence exposing the 'war-zone' lie. They really were largely empty with closed wards and operating theatres. I met a hospital worker in my town on the Isle of Wight during the first lockdown in 2020 who said the only island hospital had never been so quiet. Lockdown was justified by the psychopaths to stop hospitals being overrun. At the same time that the island hospital was near-empty the military arrived here to provide extra beds. It was all propaganda to ramp up the fear to ensure compliance with fascism as were never-used temporary hospitals with thousands of beds known as Nightingales and never-used make-shift mortuaries opened by the criminal UK government. A man who helped to install those extra island beds attributed to the army said they were never used and the hospital was empty. Doctors and nurses 'stood around talking or on their phones, wandering down to us to see what we were doing'. There were no masks or social distancing. He accused the useless local island paper, the County Press, of 'pumping the fear as if our hospital was overrun and we only have one so it should have been'. He described ambulances parked up with crews outside in deck chairs. When his brother called an ambulance he was told there was a twohour backlog which he called 'bullshit'. An old lady on the island fell 'and was in a bad way', but a caller who rang for an ambulance was told the situation wasn't urgent enough. Ambulance stations were working under capacity while people would hear ambulances with sirens blaring driving through the streets. When those living near the stations realised what was going on they would follow them as they left, circulated around an urban area with the sirens going, and then came back without stopping. All this was to increase levels of fear and the same goes for the 'ventilator shortage crisis' that cost tens of millions for hastily produced ventilators never to be used.

Ambulance crews that agreed to be exploited in this way for fear propaganda might find themselves a mirror. I wish them well with that. Empty hospitals were the obvious consequence of treatment and diagnoses of non-'Covid' conditions cancelled and those involved handed a death sentence. People have been dying at home from undiagnosed and untreated cancer, heart disease and other life-threatening conditions to allow empty hospitals to deal with a 'pandemic' that wasn't happening.

Death of the innocent

'War-zones' have been laying off nursing staff, even doctors where they can. There was no work for them. Lockdown was justified by saving lives and protecting the vulnerable they were actually killing with DNR orders and preventing empty hospitals being 'overrun'. In Britain the mantra of stay at home to 'save the NHS' was everywhere and across the world the same story was being sold when it was all lies. Two California doctors, Dan Erickson and Artin Massihi at Accelerated Urgent Care in Bakersfield, held a news conference in April, 2020, to say that intensive care units in California were 'empty, essentially', with hospitals shutting floors, not treating patients and laying off doctors. The California health system was working at minimum capacity 'getting rid of doctors because we just don't have the volume'. They said that people with conditions such as heart disease and cancer were not coming to hospital out of fear of 'Covid-19'. Their video was deleted by Susan Wojcicki's Cult-owned YouTube after reaching five million views. Florida governor Ron Desantis, who rejected the severe lockdowns of other states and is being targeted for doing so, said that in March, 2020, every US governor was given models claiming they would run out of hospital beds in days. That was never going to happen and the 'modellers' knew it. Deceit can be found at every level of the system. Urgent children's operations were cancelled including fracture repairs and biopsies to spot cancer. Eric Nicholls, a consultant paediatrician, said 'this is obviously concerning and we need to return to normal operating and to increase capacity as soon as possible'. Psychopaths in power were rather less concerned because they are psychopaths. Deletion of urgent care and diagnosis has been happening all over the world and how many kids and others have died as a result of the actions of these cold and heartless lunatics dictating 'health' policy? The number must be stratospheric. Richard Sullivan, professor of cancer and global health at King's College London, said people feared 'Covid' more than cancer such was the campaign of fear. 'Years of lost life will be quite dramatic', Sullivan said, with 'a huge amount of avoidable mortality'. Sarah Woolnough, executive director for policy at Cancer Research UK, said there had been a 75 percent drop in urgent referrals to hospitals by family doctors of people with suspected cancer. Sullivan said that 'a lot of services have had to scale back - we've seen a dramatic decrease in the amount of elective cancer surgery'. Lockdown deaths worldwide has been absolutely fantastic with the New York Post reporting how data confirmed that 'lockdowns end more lives than they save':

There was a sharp decline in visits to emergency rooms and an increase in fatal heart attacks because patients didn't receive prompt treatment. Many fewer people were screened for cancer. Social isolation contributed to excess deaths from dementia and Alzheimer's.

Researchers predicted that the social and economic upheaval would lead to tens of thousands of "deaths of despair" from drug overdoses, alcoholism and suicide. As unemployment surged and mental-health and substance-abuse treatment programs were interrupted, the reported levels of anxiety, depression and suicidal thoughts increased dramatically, as did alcohol sales and fatal drug overdoses.

This has been happening while nurses and other staff had so much time on their hands in the 'war-zones' that Tic-Tok dancing videos began appearing across the Internet with medical staff dancing around in empty wards and corridors as people died at home from causes that would normally have been treated in hospital.

Mentions in dispatches

One brave and truth-committed whistleblower was Louise Hampton, a call handler with the UK NHS who made a viral Internet video saying she had done 'fuck all' during the 'pandemic' which was 'a load of bollocks'. She said that 'Covid-19' was rebranded flu and of course she lost her job. This is what happens in the medical and endless other professions now when you tell the truth. Louise filmed inside 'war-zone' accident and emergency departments to show they were empty and I mean empty as in no one there. The mainstream media could have done the same and blown the gaff on the whole conspiracy. They haven't to their eternal shame. Not that most 'journalists' seem capable of manifesting shame as with the psychopaths they slavishly repeat without question. The relative few who were admitted with serious health problems were left to die alone with no loved ones allowed to see them because of 'Covid' rules and they included kids dying without the comfort of mum and dad at their bedside while the evil behind this couldn't give a damn. It was all good fun to them. A Scottish NHS staff nurse publicly quit in the spring of 2021 saying: 'I can no longer be part of the lies and the corruption by the government.' She said hospitals 'aren't full, the beds aren't full, beds have been shut, wards have been shut'. Hospitals were never busy throughout 'Covid'. The staff nurse said that Nicola Sturgeon, tragically the leader of the Scottish government, was on television saying save the hospitals and the NHS – 'but the beds are empty' and 'we've not seen flu, we always see flu every year'. She wrote to government and spoke with her union Unison (the unions are Cult-compromised and useless, but nothing changed. Many of her colleagues were scared of losing their jobs if they spoke out as they wanted to. She said nursing staff were being affected by wearing masks all day and 'my head is splitting every shift from wearing a mask'. The NHS is part of the fascist tyranny and must be dismantled so we can start again with human beings in charge. (Ironically, hospitals were reported to be busier again when official 'Covid' cases fell in spring/summer of 2021 and many other conditions required treatment at the same time as the fake vaccine rollout.)

I will cover the 'Covid vaccine' scam in detail later, but it is another indicator of the sickening disregard for human life that I am highlighting here. The DNA-manipulating concoctions do not fulfil the definition of a 'vaccine', have never been used on humans before and were given only emergency approval because trials were not completed and they continued using the unknowing public. The result was what a NHS senior nurse with responsibility for 'vaccine' procedure said was 'genocide'. She said the 'vaccines' were not 'vaccines'. They had not been shown to be safe and claims about their effectiveness by drug companies were 'poetic licence'. She described what was happening as a 'horrid act of human annihilation'. The nurse said that management had instigated a policy of not providing a Patient Information Leaflet (PIL) before people were 'vaccinated' even though health care professionals are supposed to do this according to protocol. Patients should also be told that they are taking part in an ongoing clinical trial. Her challenges to what is happening had seen her excluded from meetings and ridiculed in others. She said she was told to 'watch my step ... or I would find myself surplus to requirements'. The nurse, who spoke anonymously in fear of her career, said she asked her NHS manager why he/she was content with taking part in genocide against those having the 'vaccines'. The reply was that everyone had to play their part and to 'put up, shut up, and get it done'. Government was 'leaning heavily' on NHS management which was clearly leaning heavily on staff. This is how the global 'medical' hierarchy operates and it starts with the Cult and its World Health Organization.

She told the story of a doctor who had the Pfizer jab and when questioned had no idea what was in it. The doctor had never read the literature. We have to stop treating doctors as intellectual giants when so many are moral and medical pygmies. The doctor did not even know that the 'vaccines' were not fully approved or that their trials were ongoing. They were, however, asking their patients if they minded taking part in follow-ups for research purposes – yes, the ongoing clinical trial. The nurse said the doctor's ignorance was not rare and she had spoken to a hospital consultant who had the jab without any idea of the background or that the 'trials' had not been completed. Nurses and pharmacists had shown the same ignorance.

'My NHS colleagues have forsaken their duty of care, broken their code of conduct – Hippocratic Oath – and have been brainwashed just the same as the majority of the UK public through propaganda ...' She said she had not been able to recruit a single NHS colleague, doctor, nurse or pharmacist to stand with her and speak out. Her union had refused to help. She said that if the genocide came to light she would not hesitate to give evidence at a Nuremberg-type trial against those in power who could have affected the outcomes but didn't.

And all for what?

To put the nonsense into perspective let's say the 'virus' does exist and let's go completely crazy and accept that the official manipulated figures for cases and deaths are accurate. Even then a study by Stanford University epidemiologist Dr John Ioannidis published on the World Health Organization website produced an average infection to fatality rate of ... 0.23 percent! Ioannidis said: 'If one could sample equally from all locations globally, the median infection fatality rate might even be substantially lower than the 0.23% observed in my analysis.' For healthy people under 70 it was ... 0.05 percent! This compares with the 3.4 percent claimed by the Cult-owned World Health Organization when the hoax was first played and maximum fear needed to be generated. An updated Stanford study in April, 2021, put the 'infection' to 'fatality' rate at just 0.15 percent. Another team of scientists led by Megan O'Driscoll and Henrik Salje studied data from 45 countries and published their findings on the Nature website. For children and young people the figure is so small it virtually does not register although authorities will be hyping dangers to the young when they introduce DNAmanipulating 'vaccines' for children. The O'Driscoll study produced an average infection-fatality figure of 0.003 for children from birth to four; 0.001 for 5 to 14; 0.003 for 15 to 19; and it was still only 0.456 up to 64. To claim that children must be 'vaccinated' to protect them from 'Covid' is an obvious lie and so there must be another reason and there is. What's more the average age of a 'Covid' death is akin to the average age that people die in general. The average age of death in England is about 80 for men and 83 for women. The average age of death from alleged 'Covid' is between 82 and 83. California doctors, Dan Erickson and Artin Massihi, said at their April media conference that projection models of millions of deaths had been 'woefully inaccurate'. They produced detailed figures showing that Californians had a 0.03 chance of dying from 'Covid' based on the number of people who tested positive (with a test not testing for the 'virus'). Erickson said there was a 0.1 percent chance of dying from 'Covid' in the state of New York, not just the city, and a 0.05 percent chance in Spain, a centre of 'Covid-19' hysteria at one stage. The Stanford studies supported the doctors' data with fatality rate estimates of 0.23 and 0.15 percent. How close are these figures to my estimate of zero? Death-rate figures claimed by the World Health Organization at the start of the hoax were some 15 times higher. The California doctors said there was no justification for lockdowns and the economic devastation they caused. Everything they had ever learned about quarantine was that you quarantine the sick and not the healthy. They had never seen this before and it made no medical sense.

Why in the in the light of all this would governments and medical systems the world over say that billions must go under house arrest; lose their livelihood; in many cases lose their mind, their health and their life; force people to wear masks dangerous to health and psychology; make human interaction and even family interaction a criminal offence; ban travel; close restaurants, bars, watching live sport, concerts, theatre, and any activity involving human togetherness and discourse; and closing schools to isolate children from their friends and cause many to commit suicide in acts of hopelessness and despair? The California doctors said lockdown consequences included increased child abuse, partner abuse, alcoholism, depression, and other impacts they were seeing every day. Who would do that to the entire human race if not mentally-ill psychopaths of almost unimaginable extremes like Bill Gates? We must face the reality of what we are dealing with and come out of denial. Fascism and tyranny are made possible only by the target population submitting and acquiescing to fascism and tyranny. The whole of human history shows that to be true. Most people naively and unquestioning believed what they were told about a 'deadly virus' and meekly and weakly submitted to house arrest. Those who didn't believe it – at least in total – still submitted in fear of the consequences of not doing so. For the rest who wouldn't submit draconian fines have been imposed, brutal policing by psychopaths for psychopaths, and condemnation from the meek and weak who condemn the Pushbackers on behalf of the very force that has them, too, in its gunsights. 'Pathetic' does not even begin to suffice. Britain's brainless 'Health' Secretary Matt Hancock warned anyone lying to border officials about returning from a list of 'hotspot' countries could face a jail sentence of up to ten years which is more than for racially-aggravated assault, incest and attempting to have sex with a child under 13. Hancock is a lunatic, but he has the state apparatus behind him in a Cult-led chain reaction and the same with UK 'Vaccine Minister' Nadhim Zahawi, a prominent member of the mega-Cult secret society, Le Cercle, which featured in my earlier books. The Cult enforces its will on governments and medical systems; government and medical systems enforce their will on business and police; business enforces its will on staff who enforce it on customers; police enforce the will of the Cult on the population and play their essential part in creating a world of fascist control that their own children and grandchildren will have to live in their entire lives. It is a hierarchical pyramid of imposition and acquiescence and, yes indeedy, of clinical insanity.

Does anyone bright enough to read this book have to ask what the answer is? I think not, but I will reveal it anyway in the fewest of syllables: Tell the psychos and their moronic lackeys to fuck off and let's get on with our lives. We are many – They are few.

CHAPTER SEVEN

War on your mind

One believes things because one has been conditioned to believe them Aldous Huxley, Brave New World have described the 'Covid' hoax as a 'Psyop' and that is true in every sense and on every level in accordance with the definition of that term which is psychological warfare. Break down the 'Covid pandemic' to the foundation themes and it is psychological warfare on the human individual and collective mind.

The same can be said for the entire human belief system involving every subject you can imagine. Huxley was right in his contention that people believe what they are conditioned to believe and this comes from the repetition throughout their lives of the same falsehoods. They spew from government, corporations, media and endless streams of 'experts' telling you what the Cult wants you to believe and often believing it themselves (although far from always). 'Experts' are rewarded with 'prestigious' jobs and titles and as agents of perceptual programming with regular access to the media. The Cult has to control the narrative – control information – or they lose control of the vital, crucial, without-which-they-cannot-prevail public perception of reality. The foundation of that control today is the Internet made possible by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), the incredibly sinister technological arm of the Pentagon. The Internet is the result of military technology.

DARPA openly brags about establishing the Internet which has been a long-term project to lasso the minds of the global population. I have said for decades the plan is to control information to such an extreme that eventually no one would see or hear anything that the Cult does not approve. We are closing in on that end with ferocious censorship since the 'Covid' hoax began and in my case it started back in the 1990s in terms of books and speaking venues. I had to create my own publishing company in 1995 precisely because no one else would publish my books even then. I think they're all still running.

Cult Internet

To secure total control of information they needed the Internet in which pre-programmed algorithms can seek out 'unclean' content for deletion and even stop it being posted in the first place. The Cult had to dismantle print and non-Internet broadcast media to ensure the transfer of information to the appropriate-named 'Web' – a critical expression of the Cult web. We've seen the ever-quickening demise of traditional media and control of what is left by a tiny number of corporations operating worldwide. Independent journalism in the mainstream is already dead and never was that more obvious than since the turn of 2020. The Cult wants all information communicated via the Internet to globally censor and allow the plug to be pulled any time. Lockdowns and forced isolation has meant that communication between people has been through electronic means and no longer through face-to-face discourse and discussion. Cult psychopaths have targeted the bars, restaurants, sport, venues and meeting places in general for this reason. None of this is by chance and it's to stop people gathering in any kind of privacy or number while being able to track and monitor all Internet communications and block them as necessary. Even private messages between individuals have been censored by these fascists that control Cult fronts like Facebook, Twitter, Google and YouTube which are all officially run by Sabbatian place-people and from the background by higher-level Sabbatian place people.

Facebook, Google, Amazon and their like were seed-funded and supported into existence with money-no-object infusions of funds either directly or indirectly from DARPA and CIA technology arm In-Q-Tel. The Cult plays the long game and prepares very carefully for big plays like 'Covid'. Amazon is another front in the psychological war and pretty much controls the global market in book sales and increasingly publishing. Amazon's limitless funds have deleted fantastic numbers of independent publishers to seize global domination on the way to deciding which books can be sold and circulated and which cannot. Moves in that direction are already happening. Amazon's leading light Jeff Bezos is the grandson of Lawrence Preston Gise who worked with DARPA predecessor ARPA. Amazon has big connections to the CIA and the Pentagon. The plan I have long described went like this:

- 1. Employ military technology to establish the Internet.
- 2. Sell the Internet as a place where people can freely communicate without censorship and allow that to happen until the Net becomes the central and irreversible pillar of human society. If the Internet had been highly censored from the start many would have rejected it.
- 3. Fund and manipulate major corporations into being to control the circulation of information on your Internet using cover stories about geeks in garages to explain how they came about. Give them unlimited funds to expand rapidly with no need to make a profit for years while non-Cult companies who need to balance the books cannot compete. You know that in these circumstances your Googles, YouTubes, Facebooks and Amazons are going to secure near monopolies by either crushing or buying up the opposition.
- 4. Allow freedom of expression on both the Internet and communication platforms to draw people in until the Internet is the central and irreversible pillar of human society and your communication corporations have reached a stage of near monopoly domination.
- 5. Then unleash your always-planned frenzy of censorship on the basis of 'where else are you going to go?' and continue to expand that until nothing remains that the Cult does not want its human targets to see.

The process was timed to hit the 'Covid' hoax to ensure the best chance possible of controlling the narrative which they knew they had to do at all costs. They were, after all, about to unleash a 'deadly virus' that didn't really exist. If you do that in an environment of free-flowing information and opinion you would be dead in the water before you could say Gates is a psychopath. The network was in place through which the Cult-created-and-owned World Health Organization could dictate the 'Covid' narrative and response policy slavishly supported by Cult-owned Internet communication giants and mainstream media while those telling a different story were censored. Google, YouTube, Facebook and Twitter openly announced that they would do this. What else would we expect from Cult-owned operations like Facebook which former executives have confirmed set out to make the platform more addictive than cigarettes and coldly manipulates emotions of its users to sow division between people and groups and scramble the minds of the young? If Zuckerberg lives out the rest of his life without going to jail for crimes against humanity, and most emphatically against the young, it will be a travesty of justice. Still, no matter, cause and effect will catch up with him eventually and the same with Sergey Brin and Larry Page at Google with its CEO Sundar Pichai who fix the Google search results to promote Cult narratives and hide the opposition. Put the same key words into Google and other search engines like DuckDuckGo and you will see how different results can be. Wikipedia is another intensely biased 'encyclopaedia' which skews its content to the Cult agenda. YouTube links to Wikipedia's version of 'Covid' and 'climate change' on video pages in which experts in their field offer a different opinion (even that is increasingly rare with Wojcicki censorship). Into this 'Covid' silencethem network must be added government media censors, sorry 'regulators', such as Ofcom in the UK which imposed tyrannical restrictions on British broadcasters that had the effect of banning me from ever appearing. Just to debate with me about my evidence and views on 'Covid' would mean breaking the fascistic impositions of Of com and its CEO career government bureaucrat Melanie Dawes. Gutless British broadcasters tremble at the very thought of fascist Ofcom.

Psychos behind 'Covid'

The reason for the 'Covid' catastrophe in all its facets and forms can be seen by whom and what is driving the policies worldwide in such a coordinated way. Decisions are not being made to protect health, but to target psychology. The dominant group guiding and 'advising' government policy are not medical professionals. They are psychologists and behavioural scientists. Every major country has its own version of this phenomenon and I'll use the British example to show how it works. In many ways the British version has been affecting the wider world in the form of the huge behaviour manipulation network in the UK which operates in other countries. The network involves private companies, government, intelligence and military. The Cabinet Office is at the centre of the government 'Covid' Psyop and part-owns, with 'innovation charity' Nesta, the Behavioural Insights Team (BIT) which claims to be independent of government but patently isn't. The BIT was established in 2010 and its job is to manipulate the psyche of the population to acquiesce to government demands and so much more. It is also known as the 'Nudge Unit', a name inspired by the 2009 book by two ultra-Zionists, Cass Sunstein and Richard Thaler, called Nudge: Improving Decisions About Health, Wealth, and Happiness. The book, as with the Behavioural Insights Team, seeks to 'nudge' behaviour (manipulate it) to make the public follow patterns of action and perception that suit those in authority (the Cult). Sunstein is so skilled at this that he advises the World Health Organization and the UK Behavioural Insights Team and was Administrator of the White House Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs in the Obama administration. Biden appointed him to the Department of Homeland Security – another ultra-Zionist in the fold to oversee new immigration laws which is another policy the Cult wants to control. Sunstein is desperate to silence anyone exposing conspiracies and co-authored a 2008 report on the subject in which suggestions were offered to ban 'conspiracy theorizing' or impose 'some kind of tax, financial or otherwise, on those who disseminate such theories'. I guess a psychiatrist's chair is out of the question?

Sunstein's mate Richard Thaler, an 'academic affiliate' of the UK Behavioural Insights Team, is a proponent of 'behavioural economics' which is defined as the study of 'the effects of psychological, cognitive, emotional, cultural and social factors on the decisions of individuals and institutions'. Study the effects so they can be manipulated to be what you want them to be. Other leading names in the development of behavioural economics are ultra-Zionists Daniel Kahneman and Robert J. Shiller and they, with Thaler, won the Nobel Memorial Prize in Economic Sciences for their work in this field. The Behavioural Insights Team is operating at the heart of the UK government and has expanded globally through partnerships with several universities including Harvard, Oxford, Cambridge, University College London (UCL) and Pennsylvania. They claim to have 'trained' (reframed) 20,000 civil servants and run more than 750 projects involving 400 randomised controlled trials in dozens of countries' as another version of mind reframers Common Purpose. BIT works from its office in New York with cities and their agencies, as well as other partners, across the United States and Canada – this is a company part-owned by the British government Cabinet Office. An executive order by President Cult-servant Obama established a US Social and Behavioral Sciences Team in 2015. They all have the same reason for being and that's to brainwash the population directly and by brainwashing those in positions of authority.

'Covid' mind game

Another prime aspect of the UK mind-control network is the 'independent' [joke] Scientific Pandemic Insights Group on Behaviours (SPI-B) which 'provides behavioural science advice aimed at anticipating and helping people adhere to interventions that are recommended by medical or epidemiological experts'. That means manipulating public perception and behaviour to do whatever government tells them to do. It's disgusting and if they really want the public to be 'safe' this lot should all be under lock and key. According to the government website SPI-B consists of 'behavioural scientists, health and social psychologists, anthropologists and historians' and advises the Whitty-Vallance-led Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies (SAGE) which in turn advises the government on 'the science' (it doesn't) and 'Covid' policy. When politicians say they are being guided by 'the science' this is the rabble in each country they are talking about and that 'science' is dominated by behaviour manipulators to enforce government fascism through public compliance. The Behaviour Insight Team is headed by psychologist David Solomon Halpern, a visiting professor at King's College London, and connects with a national and global web of other civilian and military organisations as the Cult moves towards its goal of fusing them into one fascistic whole in every country through its 'Fusion Doctrine'. The behaviour manipulation network involves, but is not confined to, the Foreign Office; National Security Council; government communications headquarters (GCHQ); MI5; MI6; the Cabinet Office-based Media Monitoring Unit; and the Rapid Response Unit which 'monitors digital trends to spot emerging issues; including misinformation and disinformation; and identifies the best way to respond'.

There is also the 77th Brigade of the UK military which operates like the notorious Israeli military's Unit 8200 in manipulating information and discussion on the Internet by posing as members of the public to promote the narrative and discredit those who challenge it. Here we have the military seeking to manipulate domestic public opinion while the Nazis in government are fine with that. Conservative Member of Parliament Tobias Ellwood, an advocate of lockdown and control through 'vaccine passports', is a Lieutenant Colonel reservist in the 77th Brigade which connects with the military operation jHub, the 'innovation centre' for the Ministry of Defence and Strategic Command. jHub has also been involved with the civilian National Health Service (NHS) in 'symptom tracing' the population. The NHS is a key part of this mind control network and produced a document in December, 2020, explaining to staff how to use psychological manipulation with different groups and ages to get them to have the DNA-manipulating 'Covid vaccine' that's designed to cumulatively rewrite human genetics. The document, called 'Optimising Vaccination Roll Out – Do's and Dont's for all messaging, documents and "communications" in the widest sense', was published by NHS England and the NHS Improvement Behaviour Change Unit in partnership with Public Health England and Warwick Business School. I hear the mantra about 'save the NHS' and 'protect the NHS' when we need to scrap the NHS and start again. The current version is far too corrupt, far too anti-human and totally compromised by Cult operatives and their assets. UK government broadcast media censor Ofcom will connect into this web – as will the BBC with its tremendous Ofcom influence – to control what the public see and hear and dictate mass perception. Nuremberg trials must include personnel from all these organisations.

The fear factor

The 'Covid' hoax has led to the creation of the UK Cabinet Officeconnected Joint Biosecurity Centre (JBC) which is officially described as providing 'expert advice on pandemics' using its independent [all Cult operations are 'independent'] analytical function to provide real-time analysis about infection outbreaks to identify and respond to outbreaks of Covid-19'. Another role is to advise the government on a response to spikes in infections – 'for example by closing schools or workplaces in local areas where infection levels have risen'. Put another way, promoting the Cult agenda. The Joint Biosecurity Centre is modelled on the Joint Terrorism Analysis Centre which analyses intelligence to set 'terrorism threat levels' and here again you see the fusion of civilian and military operations and intelligence that has led to military intelligence producing documents about 'vaccine hesitancy' and how it can be combated. Domestic civilian matters and opinions should not be the business of the military. The Joint Biosecurity Centre is headed by Tom Hurd, director general of the Office for Security and Counter-Terrorism from the establishment-to-its-fingertips Hurd family. His father is former Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd. How coincidental that Tom

Hurd went to the elite Eton College and Oxford University with Boris Johnson. Imperial College with its ridiculous computer modeller Neil Ferguson will connect with this gigantic web that will itself interconnect with similar set-ups in other major and not so major countries. Compared with this Cult network the politicians, be they Boris Johnson, Donald Trump or Joe Biden, are bit-part players 'following the science'. The network of psychologists was on the 'Covid' case from the start with the aim of generating maximum fear of the 'virus' to ensure compliance by the population. A government behavioural science group known as SPI-B produced a paper in March, 2020, for discussion by the main government science advisory group known as SAGE. It was headed 'Options for increasing adherence to social distancing measures' and it said the following in a section headed 'Persuasion':

- A substantial number of people still do not feel sufficiently personally threatened; it could be that they are reassured by the low death rate in their demographic group, although levels of concern may be rising. Having a good understanding of the risk has been found to be positively associated with adoption of COVID-19 social distancing measures in Hong Kong.
- The perceived level of personal threat needs to be increased among those who are complacent, using hard-hitting evaluation of options for increasing social distancing emotional messaging. To be effective this must also empower people by making clear the actions they can take to reduce the threat.
- Responsibility to others: There seems to be insufficient understanding of, or feelings of responsibility about, people's role in transmitting the infection to others ... Messaging about actions need to be framed positively in terms of protecting oneself and the community, and increase confidence that they will be effective.
- Some people will be more persuaded by appeals to play by the rules, some by duty to the community, and some to personal risk.

All these different approaches are needed. The messaging also needs to take account of the realities of different people's lives. Messaging needs to take account of the different motivational levers and circumstances of different people.

All this could be achieved the SPI-B psychologists said by using the media to increase the sense of personal threat which translates as terrify the shit out of the population, including children, so they all do what we want. That's not happened has it? Those excuses for 'journalists' who wouldn't know journalism if it bit them on the arse (the great majority) have played their crucial part in serving this Cultgovernment Psyop to enslave their own kids and grandkids. How they live with themselves I have no idea. The psychological war has been underpinned by constant government 'Covid' propaganda in almost every television and radio ad break, plus the Internet and print media, which has pounded out the fear with taxpayers footing the bill for their own programming. The result has been people terrified of a 'virus' that doesn't exist or one with a tiny fatality rate even if you believe it does. People walk down the street and around the shops wearing face-nappies damaging their health and psychology while others report those who refuse to be that naïve to the police who turn up in their own face-nappies. I had a cameraman come to my flat and he was so frightened of 'Covid' he came in wearing a mask and refused to shake my hand in case he caught something. He had – naïveitis – and the thought that he worked in the mainstream media was both depressing and made his behaviour perfectly explainable. The fear which has gripped the minds of so many and frozen them into compliance has been carefully cultivated by these psychologists who are really psychopaths. If lives get destroyed and a lot of young people commit suicide it shows our plan is working. SPI-B then turned to compulsion on the public to comply. 'With adequate preparation, rapid change can be achieved', it said. Some countries had introduced mandatory self-isolation on a wide scale without evidence of major public unrest and a large majority of the UK's population appeared to be supportive of more coercive measures with 64 percent of adults saying they would support putting London under a lockdown (watch the 'polls' which are designed to make people believe that public opinion is in favour or against whatever the subject in hand).

For 'aggressive protective measures' to be effective, the SPI-B paper said, special attention should be devoted to those population groups that are more at risk. Translated from the Orwellian this means making the rest of population feel guilty for not protecting the 'vulnerable' such as old people which the Cult and its agencies were about to kill on an industrial scale with lockdown, lack of treatment and the Gates 'vaccine'. Psychopath psychologists sold their guilt-trip so comprehensively that Los Angeles County Supervisor Hilda Solis reported that children were apologising (from a distance) to their parents and grandparents for bringing 'Covid' into their homes and getting them sick. '... These apologies are just some of the last words that loved ones will ever hear as they die alone,' she said. Gut-wrenchingly Solis then used this childhood tragedy to tell children to stay at home and 'keep your loved ones alive'. Imagine heaping such potentially life-long guilt on a kid when it has absolutely nothing to do with them. These people are deeply disturbed and the psychologists behind this even more so.

Uncivil war - divide and rule

Professional mind-controllers at SPI-B wanted the media to increase a sense of responsibility to others (do as you're told) and promote 'positive messaging' for those actions while in contrast to invoke 'social disapproval' by the unquestioning, obedient, community of anyone with a mind of their own. Again the compliant Goebbels-like media obliged. This is an old, old, trick employed by tyrannies the world over throughout human history. You get the target population to keep the target population in line – your line. SPI-B said this could 'play an important role in preventing anti-social behaviour or discouraging failure to enact pro-social behaviour'. For 'anti-social' in the Orwellian parlance of SPI-B see any behaviour that government doesn't approve. SPI-B recommendations said that 'social disapproval' should be accompanied by clear messaging and promotion of strong collective identity – hence the government and celebrity mantra of 'we're all in this together'. Sure we are. The mind doctors have such contempt for their targets that they think some clueless comedian, actor or singer telling them to do what the government wants will be enough to win them over. We have had UK comedian Lenny Henry, actor Michael Caine and singer Elton John wheeled out to serve the propagandists by urging people to have the DNA-manipulating 'Covid' non-'vaccine'. The role of Henry and fellow black celebrities in seeking to coax a 'vaccine' reluctant black community into doing the government's will was especially stomach-turning. An emotion-manipulating script and carefully edited video featuring these black 'celebs' was such an insult to the intelligence of black people and where's the self-respect of those involved selling their souls to a fascist government agenda? Henry said he heard black people's 'legitimate worries and concerns', but people must 'trust the facts' when they were doing exactly that by not having the 'vaccine'. They had to include the obligatory reference to Black Lives Matter with the line ... 'Don't let coronavirus cost even more black lives – because we matter'. My god, it was pathetic. 'I know the vaccine is safe and what it does.' How? 'I'm a comedian and it says so in my script.'

SPI-B said social disapproval needed to be carefully managed to avoid victimisation, scapegoating and misdirected criticism, but they knew that their 'recommendations' would lead to exactly that and the media were specifically used to stir-up the divide-and-conquer hostility. Those who conform like good little baa, baas, are praised while those who have seen through the tidal wave of lies are 'Covidiots'. The awake have been abused by the fast asleep for not conforming to fascism and impositions that the awake know are designed to endanger their health, dehumanise them, and tear asunder the very fabric of human society. We have had the curtain-twitchers and morons reporting neighbours and others to the face-nappied police for breaking 'Covid rules' with fascist police delighting in posting links and phone numbers where this could be done. The Cult cannot impose its will without a compliant police and military or a compliant population willing to play their part in enslaving themselves and their kids. The words of a pastor in Nazi Germany are so appropriate today:

First they came for the socialists and I did not speak out because I was not a socialist.

Then they came for the trade unionists and I did not speak out because I was not a trade unionist.

Then they came for the Jews and I did not speak out because I was not a Jew.

Then they came for me and there was no one left to speak for me.

Those who don't learn from history are destined to repeat it and so many are.

'Covid' rules: Rewiring the mind

With the background laid out to this gigantic national and global web of psychological manipulation we can put 'Covid' rules into a clear and sinister perspective. Forget the claims about protecting health. 'Covid' rules are about dismantling the human mind, breaking the human spirit, destroying self-respect, and then putting Humpty Dumpty together again as a servile, submissive slave. Social isolation through lockdown and distancing have devastating effects on the human psyche as the psychological psychopaths well know and that's the real reason for them. Humans need contact with each other, discourse, closeness and touch, or they eventually, and literarily, go crazy. Masks, which I will address at some length, fundamentally add to the effects of isolation and the Cult agenda to dehumanise and de-individualise the population. To do this while knowing – in fact seeking – this outcome is the very epitome of evil and psychologists involved in this are the epitome of evil. They must like all the rest of the Cult demons and their assets stand trial for crimes against humanity on a scale that defies the imagination. Psychopaths in uniform use isolation to break enemy troops and agents and make them subservient and submissive to tell what they know. The technique is rightly considered a form of torture and torture is most certainly what has been imposed on the human population.

Clinically-insane American psychologist Harry Harlow became famous for his isolation experiments in the 1950s in which he separated baby monkeys from their mothers and imprisoned them for months on end in a metal container or 'pit of despair'. They soon began to show mental distress and depression as any idiot could have predicted. Harlow put other monkeys in steel chambers for three, six or twelve months while denying them any contact with animals or humans. He said that the effects of total social isolation for six months were 'so devastating and debilitating that we had assumed initially that twelve months of isolation would not produce any additional decrement'; but twelve months of isolation 'almost obliterated the animals socially'. This is what the Cult and its psychopaths are doing to you and your children. Even monkeys in partial isolation in which they were not allowed to form relationships with other monkeys became 'aggressive and hostile, not only to others, but also towards their own bodies'. We have seen this in the young as a consequence of lockdown. UK government psychopaths launched a public relations campaign telling people not to hug each other even after they received the 'Covid-19 vaccine' which we were told with more lies would allow a return to 'normal life'. A government source told The Telegraph: 'It will be along the lines that it is great that you have been vaccinated, but if you are going to visit your family and hug your grandchildren there is a chance you are going to infect people you love.' The source was apparently speaking from a secure psychiatric facility. Janet Lord, director of Birmingham University's Institute of Inflammation and Ageing, said that parents and grandparents should avoid hugging their children. Well, how can I put it, Ms Lord? Fuck off. Yep, that'll do.

Destroying the kids – where are the parents?

Observe what has happened to people enslaved and isolated by lockdown as suicide and self-harm has soared worldwide, particularly among the young denied the freedom to associate with their friends. A study of 49,000 people in English-speaking countries concluded that almost half of young adults are at clinical risk of mental health disorders. A national survey in America of 1,000 currently enrolled high school and college students found that 5 percent reported attempting suicide during the pandemic. Data from the US CDC's National Syndromic Surveillance Program from January 1st to October 17th, 2020, revealed a 31 percent increase in mental health issues among adolescents aged 12 to 17 compared with 2019. The CDC reported that America in general suffered the biggest drop in life expectancy since World War Two as it fell by a year in the first half of 2020 as a result of 'deaths of despair' – overdoses and suicides. Deaths of despair have leapt by more than 20 percent during lockdown and include the highest number of fatal overdoses ever recorded in a single year – 81,000. Internet addiction is another consequence of being isolated at home which lowers interest in physical activities as kids fall into inertia and what's the point? Children and young people are losing hope and giving up on life, sometimes literally. A 14-year-old boy killed himself in Maryland because he had 'given up' when his school district didn't reopen; an 11-year-old boy shot himself during a zoom class; a teenager in Maine succumbed to the isolation of the 'pandemic' when he ended his life after experiencing a disrupted senior year at school. Children as young as nine have taken their life and all these stories can be repeated around the world. Careers are being destroyed before they start and that includes those in sport in which promising youngsters have not been able to take part. The plan of the psycho-psychologists is working all right. Researchers at Cambridge University found that lockdowns cause significant harm to children's mental health. Their study was published in the Archives of Disease in Childhood, and followed 168 children aged between 7 and 11. The researchers concluded:

During the UK lockdown, children's depression symptoms have increased substantially, relative to before lockdown. The scale of this effect has direct relevance for the continuation of different elements of lockdown policy, such as complete or partial school closures ...

... Specifically, we observed a statistically significant increase in ratings of depression, with a medium-to-large effect size. Our findings emphasise the need to incorporate the potential impact of lockdown on child mental health in planning the ongoing response to the global pandemic and the recovery from it.

Not a chance when the Cult's psycho-psychologists were getting exactly what they wanted. The UK's Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health has urged parents to look for signs of eating disorders in children and young people after a three to four fold increase. Specialists say the 'pandemic' is a major reason behind the rise. You don't say. The College said isolation from friends during school closures, exam cancellations, loss of extra-curricular activities like sport, and an increased use of social media were all contributory factors along with fears about the virus (psycho-psychologists again), family finances, and students being forced to quarantine. Doctors said young people were becoming severely ill by the time they were seen with 'Covid' regulations reducing face-to-face consultations. Nor is it only the young that have been devastated by the psychopaths. Like all bullies and cowards the Cult is targeting the young, elderly, weak and infirm. A typical story was told by a British lady called Lynn Parker who was not allowed to visit her husband in 2020 for the last ten and half months of his life 'when he needed me most' between March 20th and when he died on December 19th. This vacates the criminal and enters the territory of evil. The emotional impact on the immune system alone is immense as are the number of people of all ages worldwide who have died as a result of Cult-demanded, Gates-demanded, lockdowns.

Isolation is torture

The experience of imposing solitary confinement on millions of prisoners around the world has shown how a large percentage become 'actively psychotic and/or acutely suicidal'. Social isolation has been found to trigger 'a specific psychiatric syndrome, characterized by hallucinations; panic attacks; overt paranoia; diminished impulse control; hypersensitivity to external stimuli; and difficulties with thinking, concentration and memory'. Juan Mendez, a United Nations rapporteur (investigator), said that isolation is a form of torture. Research has shown that even after isolation prisoners find it far more difficult to make social connections and I remember chatting to a shop assistant after one lockdown who told me that when her young son met another child again he had no idea how to act or what to do. Hannah Flanagan, Director of Emergency Services at Journey Mental Health Center in Dane County, Wisconsin, said: 'The specificity about Covid social distancing and isolation that we've come across as contributing factors to the suicides are really new to us this year.' But they are not new to those that devised them. They are getting the effect they want as the population is psychologically dismantled to be rebuilt in a totally different way. Children and the young are particularly targeted. They will be the adults when the full-on fascist AI-controlled technocracy is planned to be imposed and they are being prepared to meekly submit. At the same time older people who still have a memory of what life was like before – and how fascist the new normal really is – are being deleted. You are going to see efforts to turn the young against the old to support this geriatric genocide. Hannah Flanagan said the big increase in suicide in her county proved that social isolation is not only harmful, but deadly. Studies have shown that isolation from others is one of the main risk factors in suicide and even more so with women. Warnings that lockdown could create a 'perfect storm' for suicide were ignored. After all this was one of the reasons for lockdown. Suicide, however, is only the most extreme of isolation consequences. There are many others. Dr Dhruv Khullar, assistant professor of healthcare policy at Weill Cornell Medical College, said in a New York Times article in 2016 long before the fake 'pandemic':

A wave of new research suggests social separation is bad for us. Individuals with less social connection have disrupted sleep patterns, altered immune systems, more inflammation and higher levels of stress hormones. One recent study found that isolation increases the risk of heart disease by 29 percent and stroke by 32 percent. Another analysis that pooled data from 70 studies and 3.4 million people found that socially isolated individuals had a 30 percent higher risk of dying in the next seven years, and that this effect was largest in middle age.

Loneliness can accelerate cognitive decline in older adults, and isolated individuals are twice as likely to die prematurely as those with more robust social interactions. These effects start early: Socially isolated children have significantly poorer health 20 years later, even after controlling for other factors. All told, loneliness is as important a risk factor for early death as obesity and smoking.

There you have proof from that one article alone four years before 2020 that those who have enforced lockdown, social distancing and isolation knew what the effect would be and that is even more so with professional psychologists that have been driving the policy across the globe. We can go back even further to the years 2000 and 2003 and the start of a major study on the effects of isolation on health by Dr Janine Gronewold and Professor Dirk M. Hermann at the University Hospital in Essen, Germany, who analysed data on 4,316 people with an average age of 59 who were recruited for the long-term research project. They found that socially isolated people are more than 40 percent more likely to have a heart attack, stroke, or other major cardiovascular event and nearly 50 percent more likely to die from any cause. Given the financial Armageddon unleashed by lockdown we should note that the study found a relationship between increased cardiovascular risk and lack of financial support. After excluding other factors social isolation was still connected to a 44 percent increased risk of cardiovascular problems and a 47 percent increased risk of death by any cause. Lack of financial support was associated with a 30 percent increase in the risk of cardiovascular health events. Dr Gronewold said it had been known for some time that feeling lonely or lacking contact with close friends and family can have an impact on physical health and the study had shown that having strong social relationships is of high importance for heart health. Gronewold said they didn't understand yet why people who are socially isolated have such poor health outcomes, but this was obviously a worrying finding, particularly during these times of prolonged social distancing. Well, it can be explained on many levels. You only have to identify the point in the body where people feel loneliness and missing people they are parted from – it's in the centre of the chest where they feel the ache of loneliness and the ache of missing people. 'My heart aches for you' ... 'My heart aches for some company.' I will explain this more in the chapter Escaping Wetiko, but when you realise that the body is the mind – they are expressions of each other – the reason why state of the mind dictates state of the body becomes clear.

American psychologist Ranjit Powar was highlighting the effects of lockdown isolation as early as April, 2020. She said humans have evolved to be social creatures and are wired to live in interactive groups. Being isolated from family, friends and colleagues could be unbalancing and traumatic for most people and could result in short or even long-term psychological and physical health problems. An increase in levels of anxiety, aggression, depression, forgetfulness and hallucinations were possible psychological effects of isolation. 'Mental conditions may be precipitated for those with underlying pre-existing susceptibilities and show up in many others without any pre-condition.' Powar said personal relationships helped us cope with stress and if we lost this outlet for letting off steam the result can be a big emotional void which, for an average person, was difficult to deal with. 'Just a few days of isolation can cause increased levels of anxiety and depression' – so what the hell has been the effect on the global population of 18 months of this at the time of writing? Powar said: 'Add to it the looming threat of a dreadful disease being repeatedly hammered in through the media and you have a recipe for many shades of mental and physical distress.' For those with a house and a garden it is easy to forget that billions have had to endure lockdown isolation in tiny overcrowded flats and apartments with nowhere to go outside. The psychological and physical consequences of this are unimaginable and with lunatic and abusive partners and parents the consequences have led to tremendous increases in domestic and child abuse and alcoholism as people seek to shut out the horror. Ranjit Powar said:

Staying in a confined space with family is not all a rosy picture for everyone. It can be extremely oppressive and claustrophobic for large low-income families huddled together in small single-room houses. Children here are not lucky enough to have many board/electronic games or books to keep them occupied.

Add to it the deep insecurity of running out of funds for food and basic necessities. On the other hand, there are people with dysfunctional family dynamics, such as domineering, abusive or alcoholic partners, siblings or parents which makes staying home a period of trial. Incidence of suicide and physical abuse against women has shown a worldwide increase. Heightened anxiety and depression also affect a person's immune system, making them more susceptible to illness.

To think that Powar's article was published on April 11th, 2020.

Six-feet fantasy

Social (unsocial) distancing demanded that people stay six feet or two metres apart. UK government advisor Robert Dingwall from the New and Emerging Respiratory Virus Threats Advisory Group said in a radio interview that the two-metre rule was 'conjured up out of nowhere' and was not based on science. No, it was not based on medical science, but it didn't come out of nowhere. The distance related to psychological science. Six feet/two metres was adopted in many countries and we were told by people like the criminal Anthony Fauci and his ilk that it was founded on science. Many schools could not reopen because they did not have the space for sixfeet distancing. Then in March, 2021, after a year of six-feet 'science', a study published in the Journal of Infectious Diseases involving more than 500,000 students and almost 100,000 staff over 16 weeks revealed no significant difference in 'Covid' cases between six feet and three feet and Fauci changed his tune. Now three feet was okay. There is no difference between six feet and three inches when there is no 'virus' and they got away with six feet for psychological reasons for as long as they could. I hear journalists and others talk about 'unintended consequences' of lockdown. They are not unintended at all; they have been coldly-calculated for a specific outcome of human control and that's why super-psychopaths like Gates have called for them so vehemently. Super-psychopath psychologists have demanded them and psychopathic or clueless, spineless, politicians have gone along with them by 'following the science'. But it's not science at all. 'Science' is not what is; it's only what people can be manipulated to believe it is. The whole 'Covid' catastrophe is founded on mind control. Three word or three statement mantras issued by the UK government are a well-known mind control technique and so we've had 'Stay home/protect the NHS/save lives', 'Stay alert/control the virus/save lives' and 'hands/face/space'. One of the most vocal proponents of extreme 'Covid' rules in the UK has been Professor Susan Michie, a member of the British Communist Party, who is not a medical professional. Michie is the director of the Centre for Behaviour Change at University College London. She is a behavioural psychologist and another filthy rich 'Marxist' who praised China's draconian lockdown. She was known by fellow students at Oxford University as 'Stalin's nanny' for her extreme Marxism. Michie is an influential member of the UK government's Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies (SAGE) and behavioural manipulation groups which have dominated 'Covid' policy. She is a consultant adviser to the World Health Organization on 'Covid-19' and behaviour. Why the hell are lockdowns anything to do with her when they are claimed to be about health? Why does a behavioural psychologist from a group charged with changing the behaviour of the public want lockdown, human isolation and mandatory masks? Does that question really need an answer? Michie absolutely has to explain herself before a Nuremberg court when humanity takes back its world again and even more so when you see the consequences of masks that she demands are compulsory. This is a Michie classic:

The benefits of getting primary school children to wear masks is that regardless of what little degree of transmission is occurring in those age groups it could help normalise the practice. Young children wearing masks may be more likely to get their families to accept masks.

Those words alone should carry a prison sentence when you ponder on the callous disregard for children involved and what a statement it makes about the mind and motivations of Susan Michie. What a lovely lady and what she said there encapsulates the mentality of the psychopaths behind the 'Covid' horror. Let us compare what Michie said with a countrywide study in Germany published at researchsquare.com involving 25,000 school children and 17,854 health complaints submitted by parents. Researchers found that masks are harming children physically, psychologically, and behaviourally with 24 health issues associated with mask wearing. They include: shortness of breath (29.7%); dizziness (26.4%); increased headaches (53%); difficulty concentrating (50%); drowsiness or fatigue (37%); and malaise (42%). Nearly a third of children experienced more sleep issues than before and a quarter developed new fears. Researchers found health issues and other impairments in 68 percent of masked children covering their faces for an average of 4.5 hours a day. Hundreds of those taking part experienced accelerated respiration, tightness in the chest, weakness, and short-term impairment of consciousness. A reminder of what Michie said again:

The benefits of getting primary school children to wear masks is that regardless of what little degree of transmission is occurring in those age groups it could help normalise the practice. Young children wearing masks may be more likely to get their families to accept masks.

Psychopaths in government and psychology now have children and young people – plus all the adults – wearing masks for hours on end while clueless teachers impose the will of the psychopaths on the young they should be protecting. What the hell are parents doing?

Cult lab rats

We have some schools already imposing on students microchipped buzzers that activate when they get 'too close' to their pals in the way they do with lab rats. How apt. To the Cult and its brain-dead servants our children are lab rats being conditioned to be unquestioning, dehumanised slaves for the rest of their lives. Children and young people are being weaned and frightened away from the most natural human instincts including closeness and touch. I have tracked in the books over the years how schools were banning pupils from greeting each other with a hug and the whole Cult-induced Me Too movement has terrified men and boys from a relaxed and natural interaction with female friends and work colleagues to the point where many men try never to be in a room alone with a woman that's not their partner. Airhead celebrities have as always played their virtue-signalling part in making this happen with their gross exaggeration. For every monster like Harvey Weinstein there are at least tens of thousands of men that don't treat women like that; but everyone must be branded the same and policy changed for them as well as the monster. I am going to be using the word 'dehumanise' many times in this chapter because that is what the Cult is seeking to do and it goes very deep as we shall see. Don't let them kid you that social distancing is planned to end one day. That's not the idea. We are seeing more governments and companies funding and producing wearable gadgets to keep people apart and they would not be doing that if this was meant to be short-term. A tech start-up company backed by GCHQ, the British Intelligence and military surveillance headquarters, has created a social distancing wrist sensor that alerts people when they get too close to others. The CIA has also supported tech companies developing similar devices. The wearable sensor was developed by Tended, one of a number of start-up companies supported by GCHQ (see the CIA and DARPA). The device can be worn on the wrist or as a tag on the waistband and will vibrate whenever someone wearing the device breaches social distancing and gets anywhere near natural human contact. The company had a lucky break in that it was developing a distancing sensor when the 'Covid' hoax arrived which immediately provided a potentially enormous market. How fortunate. The government in big-time Cult-controlled Ontario in Canada is investing $2.5 million in wearable contact tracing technology that 'will alert users if they may have been exposed to the Covid-19 in the workplace and will beep or vibrate if they are within six feet of another person'. Facedrive Inc., the technology company behind this, was founded in 2016 with funding from the Ontario Together Fund and obviously they, too, had a prophet on the board of directors. The human surveillance and control technology is called TraceSCAN and would be worn by the human cyborgs in places such as airports, workplaces, construction sites, care homes and ... schools.

I emphasise schools with children and young people the prime targets. You know what is planned for society as a whole if you keep your eyes on the schools. They have always been places where the state program the next generation of slaves to be its compliant worker-ants – or Woker-ants these days; but in the mist of the 'Covid' madness they have been transformed into mind laboratories on a scale never seen before. Teachers and head teachers are just as programmed as the kids – often more so. Children are kept apart from human interaction by walk lanes, classroom distancing, staggered meal times, masks, and the rolling-out of buzzer systems. Schools are now physically laid out as a laboratory maze for lab-rats. Lunatics at a school in Anchorage, Alaska, who should be prosecuted for child abuse, took away desks and forced children to kneel (know your place) on a mat for five hours a day while wearing a mask and using their chairs as a desk. How this was supposed to impact on a 'virus' only these clinically insane people can tell you and even then it would be clap-trap. The school banned recess (interaction), art classes (creativity), and physical exercise (getting body and mind moving out of inertia). Everyone behind this outrage should be in jail or better still a mental institution. The behavioural manipulators are all for this dystopian approach to schools. Professor Susan Michie, the mind-doctor and British Communist Party member, said it was wrong to say that schools were safe. They had to be made so by 'distancing', masks and ventilation (sitting all day in the cold). I must ask this lady round for dinner on a night I know I am going to be out and not back for weeks. She probably wouldn't be able to make it, anyway, with all the visits to her own psychologist she must have block-booked.

Masking identity

I know how shocking it must be for you that a behaviour manipulator like Michie wants everyone to wear masks which have long been a feature of mind-control programs like the infamous MKUltra in the United States, but, there we are. We live and learn. I spent many years from 1996 to right across the millennium researching mind control in detail on both sides of the Atlantic and elsewhere. I met a large number of mind-control survivors and many had been held captive in body and mind by MKUltra. MK stands for mind-control, but employs the German spelling in deference to the Nazis spirited out of Germany at the end of World War Two by Operation Paperclip in which the US authorities, with help from the Vatican, transported Nazi mind-controllers and engineers to America to continue their work. Many of them were behind the creation of NASA and they included Nazi scientist and SS officer Wernher von Braun who swapped designing V-2 rockets to bombard London with designing the Saturn V rockets that powered the NASA moon programme's Apollo craft. I think I may have mentioned that the Cult has no borders. Among Paperclip escapees was Josef Mengele, the Angel of Death in the Nazi concentration camps where he conducted mind and genetic experiments on children often using twins to provide a control twin to measure the impact of his 'work' on the other. If you want to observe the Cult mentality in all its extremes of evil then look into the life of Mengele. I have met many people who suffered mercilessly under Mengele in the United States where he operated under the name Dr Greene and became a stalwart of MKUltra programming and torture. Among his locations was the underground facility in the Mojave Desert in California called the China Lake Naval Weapons Station which is almost entirely below the surface. My books The Biggest Secret, Children of the Matrix and The Perception Deception have the detailed background to MKUltra.

The best-known MKUltra survivor is American Cathy O'Brien. I first met her and her late partner Mark Phillips at a conference in Colorado in 1996. Mark helped her escape and deprogram from decades of captivity in an offshoot of MKUltra known as Project Monarch in which 'sex slaves' were provided for the rich and famous including Father George Bush, Dick Cheney and the Clintons. Read Cathy and Mark's book Trance-Formation of America and if you are new to this you will be shocked to the core. I read it in 1996 shortly before, with the usual synchronicity of my life, I found myself given a book table at the conference right next to hers. MKUltra never ended despite being very publicly exposed (only a small part of it) in the 1970s and continues in other guises. I am still in touch with Cathy. She contacted me during 2020 after masks became compulsory in many countries to tell me how they were used as part of MKUltra programming. I had been observing 'Covid regulations' and the relationship between authority and public for months. I saw techniques that I knew were employed on individuals in MKUltra being used on the global population. I had read many books and manuals on mind control including one called Silent Weapons for Quiet Wars which came to light in the 1980s and was a guide on how to perceptually program on a mass scale. 'Silent Weapons' refers to mind-control. I remembered a line from the manual as governments, medical authorities and law enforcement agencies have so obviously talked to – or rather at – the adult population since the 'Covid' hoax began as if they are children. The document said:

If a person is spoken to by a T.V. advertiser as if he were a twelve-year-old, then, due to suggestibility, he will, with a certain probability, respond or react to that suggestion with the uncritical response of a twelve-year-old and will reach in to his economic reservoir and deliver its energy to buy that product on impulse when he passes it in the store.

That's why authority has spoken to adults like children since all this began.

Why did Michael Jackson wear masks?

Every aspect of the 'Covid' narrative has mind-control as its central theme. Cathy O'Brien wrote an article for davidicke.com about the connection between masks and mind control. Her daughter Kelly who I first met in the 1990s was born while Cathy was still held captive in MKUltra. Kelly was forced to wear a mask as part of her programming from the age of two to dehumanise her, target her sense of individuality and reduce the amount of oxygen her brain and body received. Bingo. This is the real reason for compulsory masks, why they have been enforced en masse, and why they seek to increase the number they demand you wear. First one, then two, with one disgraceful alleged 'doctor' recommending four which is nothing less than a death sentence. Where and how often they must be worn is being expanded for the purpose of mass mind control and damaging respiratory health which they can call 'Covid-19'. Canada's government headed by the man-child Justin Trudeau, says it's fine for children of two and older to wear masks. An insane 'study' in Italy involving just 47 children concluded there was no problem for babies as young as four months wearing them. Even after people were 'vaccinated' they were still told to wear masks by the criminal that is Anthony Fauci. Cathy wrote that mandating masks is allowing the authorities literally to control the air we breathe which is what was done in MKUltra. You might recall how the singer Michael Jackson wore masks and there is a reason for that. He was subjected to MKUltra mind control through Project Monarch and his psyche was scrambled by these simpletons. Cathy wrote:

In MKUltra Project Monarch mind control, Michael Jackson had to wear a mask to silence his voice so he could not reach out for help. Remember how he developed that whisper voice when he wasn't singing? Masks control the mind from the outside in, like the redefining of words is doing. By controlling what we can and cannot say for fear of being labeled racist or beaten, for example, it ultimately controls thought that drives our words and ultimately actions (or lack thereof).

Likewise, a mask muffles our speech so that we are not heard, which controls voice ... words ... mind. This is Mind Control. Masks are an obvious mind control device, and I am disturbed so many people are complying on a global scale. Masks depersonalize while making a person feel as though they have no voice. It is a barrier to others. People who would never choose to comply but are forced to wear a mask in order to keep their job, and ultimately their family fed, are compromised. They often feel shame and are subdued. People have stopped talking with each other while media controls the narrative.

The 'no voice' theme has often become literal with train passengers told not to speak to each other in case they pass on the 'virus', singing banned for the same reason and bonkers California officials telling people riding roller coasters that they cannot shout and scream. Cathy said she heard every day from healed MKUltra survivors who cannot wear a mask without flashing back on ways their breathing was controlled – 'from ball gags and penises to water boarding'. She said that through the years when she saw images of people in China wearing masks 'due to pollution' that it was really to control their oxygen levels. 'I knew it was as much of a population control mechanism of depersonalisation as are burkas', she said. Masks are another Chinese communist/fascist method of control that has been swept across the West as the West becomes China at lightning speed since we entered 2020.

There are other reasons for mandatory masks and these include destroying respiratory health to call it 'Covid-19' and stunting brain development of children and the young. Dr Margarite Griesz-Brisson MD, PhD, is a Consultant Neurologist and Neurophysiologist and the Founder and Medical Director of the London Neurology and Pain Clinic. Her CV goes down the street and round the corner. She is clearly someone who cares about people and won't parrot the propaganda. Griesz-Brisson has a PhD in pharmacology, with special interest in neurotoxicology, environmental medicine, neuroregeneration and neuroplasticity (the way the brain can change in the light of information received). She went public in October, 2020, with a passionate warning about the effects of mask-wearing laws:

The reinhalation of our exhaled air will without a doubt create oxygen deficiency and a flooding of carbon dioxide. We know that the human brain is very sensitive to oxygen deprivation. There are nerve cells for example in the hippocampus that can't be longer than 3 minutes without oxygen – they cannot survive. The acute warning symptoms are headaches, drowsiness, dizziness, issues in concentration, slowing down of reaction time – reactions of the cognitive system.

Oh, I know, let's tell bus, truck and taxi drivers to wear them and people working machinery. How about pilots, doctors and police? Griesz-Brisson makes the important point that while the symptoms she mentions may fade as the body readjusts this does not alter the fact that people continue to operate in oxygen deficit with long list of potential consequences. She said it was well known that neurodegenerative diseases take years or decades to develop. 'If today you forget your phone number, the breakdown in your brain would have already started 20 or 30 years ago.' She said degenerative processes in your brain are getting amplified as your oxygen deprivation continues through wearing a mask. Nerve cells in the brain are unable to divide themselves normally in these circumstances and lost nerve cells will no longer be regenerated. 'What is gone is gone.' Now consider that people like shop workers and schoolchildren are wearing masks for hours every day. What in the name of sanity is going to be happening to them? 'I do not wear a mask, I need my brain to think', Griesz-Brisson said, 'I want to have a clear head when I deal with my patients and not be in a carbon dioxide-induced anaesthesia'. If you are told to wear a mask anywhere ask the organisation, police, store, whatever, for their risk assessment on the dangers and negative effects on mind and body of enforcing mask-wearing. They won't have one because it has never been done not even by government. All of them must be subject to class-action lawsuits as the consequences come to light. They don't do mask risk assessments for an obvious reason. They know what the conclusions would be and independent scientific studies that have been done tell a horror story of consequences.

'Masks are criminal'

Dr Griesz-Brisson said that for children and adolescents, masks are an absolute no-no. They had an extremely active and adaptive immune system and their brain was incredibly active with so much to learn. 'The child's brain, or the youth's brain, is thirsting for oxygen.' The more metabolically active an organ was, the more oxygen it required; and in children and adolescents every organ was metabolically active. Griesz-Brisson said that to deprive a child's or adolescent's brain of oxygen, or to restrict it in any way, was not only dangerous to their health, it was absolutely criminal. 'Oxygen deficiency inhibits the development of the brain, and the damage that has taken place as a result CANNOT be reversed.' Mind manipulators of MKUltra put masks on two-year-olds they wanted to neurologically rewire and you can see why. Griesz-Brisson said a child needs the brain to learn and the brain needs oxygen to function. 'We don't need a clinical study for that. This is simple, indisputable physiology.' Consciously and purposely induced oxygen deficiency was an absolutely deliberate health hazard, and an absolute medical contraindication which means that 'this drug, this therapy, this method or measure should not be used, and is not allowed to be used'. To coerce an entire population to use an absolute medical contraindication by force, she said, there had to be definite and serious reasons and the reasons must be presented to competent interdisciplinary and independent bodies to be verified and authorised. She had this warning of the consequences that were coming if mask wearing continued:

When, in ten years, dementia is going to increase exponentially, and the younger generations couldn't reach their god-given potential, it won't help to say 'we didn't need the masks'. I know how damaging oxygen deprivation is for the brain, cardiologists know how damaging it is for the heart, pulmonologists know how damaging it is for the lungs. Oxygen deprivation damages every single organ. Where are our health departments, our health insurance, our medical associations? It would have been their duty to be vehemently against the lockdown and to stop it and stop it from the very beginning.

Why do the medical boards issue punishments to doctors who give people exemptions? Does the person or the doctor seriously have to prove that oxygen deprivation harms people? What kind of medicine are our doctors and medical associations representing? Who is responsible for this crime? The ones who want to enforce it? The ones who let it happen and play along, or the ones who don't prevent it?

All of the organisations and people she mentions there either answer directly to the Cult or do whatever hierarchical levels above them tell them to do. The outcome of both is the same. 'It's not about masks, it's not about viruses, it's certainly not about your health', Griesz-Brisson said. 'It is about much, much more. I am not participating. I am not afraid.' They were taking our air to breathe and there was no unfounded medical exemption from face masks. Oxygen deprivation was dangerous for every single brain. It had to be the free decision of every human being whether they want to wear a mask that was absolutely ineffective to protect themselves from a virus. She ended by rightly identifying where the responsibility lies for all this:

The imperative of the hour is personal responsibility. We are responsible for what we think, not the media. We are responsible for what we do, not our superiors. We are responsible for our health, not the World Health Organization. And we are responsible for what happens in our country, not the government.

Halle-bloody-lujah.

But surgeons wear masks, right?

Independent studies of mask-wearing have produced a long list of reports detailing mental, emotional and physical dangers. What a definition of insanity to see police officers imposing mask-wearing on the public which will cumulatively damage their health while the police themselves wear masks that will cumulatively damage their health. It's utter madness and both public and police do this because 'the government says so' – yes a government of brain-donor idiots like UK Health Secretary Matt Hancock reading the 'follow the science' scripts of psychopathic, lunatic psychologists. The response you get from Stockholm syndrome sufferers defending the very authorities that are destroying them and their families is that 'surgeons wear masks'. This is considered the game, set and match that they must work and don't cause oxygen deficit. Well, actually, scientific studies have shown that they do and oxygen levels are monitored in operating theatres to compensate. Surgeons wear masks to stop spittle and such like dropping into open wounds – not to stop 'viral particles' which are so miniscule they can only be seen through an electron microscope. Holes in the masks are significantly bigger than 'viral particles' and if you sneeze or cough they will breach the mask. I watched an incredibly disingenuous 'experiment' that claimed to prove that masks work in catching 'virus' material from the mouth and nose. They did this with a slow motion camera and the mask did block big stuff which stayed inside the mask and against the face to be breathed in or cause infections on the face as we have seen with many children. 'Viral particles', however, would never have been picked up by the camera as they came through the mask when they are far too small to be seen. The 'experiment' was therefore disingenuous and useless.

Studies have concluded that wearing masks in operating theatres (and thus elsewhere) make no difference to preventing infection while the opposite is true with toxic shite building up in the mask and this had led to an explosion in tooth decay and gum disease dubbed by dentists 'mask mouth'. You might have seen the Internet video of a furious American doctor urging people to take off their masks after a four-year-old patient had been rushed to hospital the night before and nearly died with a lung infection that doctors sourced to mask wearing. A study in the journal Cancer Discovery found that inhalation of harmful microbes can contribute to advanced stage lung cancer in adults and long-term use of masks can help breed dangerous pathogens. Microbiologists have said frequent mask wearing creates a moist environment in which microbes can grow and proliferate before entering the lungs. The Canadian Agency for Drugs and Technologies in Health, or CADTH, a Canadian national organisation that provides research and analysis to healthcare decision-makers, said this as long ago as 2013 in a report entitled 'Use of Surgical Masks in the Operating Room: A Review of the Clinical Effectiveness and Guidelines'. It said:

- No evidence was found to support the use of surgical face masks to reduce the frequency of surgical site infections
- No evidence was found on the effectiveness of wearing surgical face masks to protect staff from infectious material in the operating room.
- Guidelines recommend the use of surgical face masks by staff in the operating room to protect both operating room staff and patients (despite the lack of evidence).

We were told that the world could go back to 'normal' with the arrival of the 'vaccines'. When they came, fraudulent as they are, the story changed as I knew that it would. We are in the midst of transforming 'normal', not going back to it. Mary Ramsay, head of immunisation at Public Health England, echoed the words of US criminal Anthony Fauci who said masks and other regulations must stay no matter if people are vaccinated. The Fauci idiot continued to wear two masks – different colours so both could be clearly seen – after he claimed to have been vaccinated. Senator Rand Paul told Fauci in one exchange that his double-masks were 'theatre' and he was right. It's all theatre. Mary Ramsay back-tracked on the vaccinereturn-to-normal theme when she said the public may need to wear masks and social-distance for years despite the jabs. 'People have got used to those lower-level restrictions now, and [they] can live with them', she said telling us what the idea has been all along. 'The vaccine does not give you a pass, even if you have had it, you must continue to follow all the guidelines' said a Public Health England statement which reneged on what we had been told before and made having the 'vaccine' irrelevant to 'normality' even by the official story. Spain's fascist government trumped everyone by passing a law mandating the wearing of masks on the beach and even when swimming in the sea. The move would have devastated what's left of the Spanish tourist industry, posed potential breathing dangers to swimmers and had Northern European sunbathers walking around with their forehead brown and the rest of their face white as a sheet. The ruling was so crazy that it had to be retracted after pressure from public and tourist industry, but it confirmed where the Cult wants to go with masks and how clinically insane authority has become. The determination to make masks permanent and hide the serious dangers to body and mind can be seen in the censorship of scientist Professor Denis Rancourt by Bill Gatesfunded academic publishing website ResearchGate over his papers exposing the dangers and uselessness of masks. Rancourt said:

ResearchGate today has permanently locked my account, which I have had since 2015. Their reasons graphically show the nature of their attack against democracy, and their corruption of science ... By their obscene non-logic, a scientific review of science articles reporting on harms caused by face masks has a 'potential to cause harm'. No criticism of the psychological device (face masks) is tolerated, if the said criticism shows potential to influence public policy.

This is what happens in a fascist world.

Where are the 'greens' (again)?

Other dangers of wearing masks especially regularly relate to the inhalation of minute plastic fibres into the lungs and the deluge of discarded masks in the environment and oceans. Estimates predicted that more than 1.5 billion disposable masks will end up in the world's oceans every year polluting the water with tons of plastic and endangering marine wildlife. Studies project that humans are using 129 billion face masks each month worldwide – about three million a minute. Most are disposable and made from plastic, nonbiodegradable microfibers that break down into smaller plastic particles that become widespread in ecosystems. They are littering cities, clogging sewage channels and turning up in bodies of water. I have written in other books about the immense amounts of microplastics from endless sources now being absorbed into the body. Rolf Halden, director of the Arizona State University (ASU) Biodesign Center for Environmental Health Engineering, was the senior researcher in a 2020 study that analysed 47 human tissue samples and found microplastics in all of them. 'We have detected these chemicals of plastics in every single organ that we have investigated', he said. I wrote in The Answer about the world being deluged with microplastics. A study by the Worldwide Fund for Nature (WWF) found that people are consuming on average every week some 2,000 tiny pieces of plastic mostly through water and also through marine life and the air. Every year humans are ingesting enough microplastics to fill a heaped dinner plate and in a life-time of 79 years it is enough to fill two large waste bins. Marco Lambertini, WWF International director general said: 'Not only are plastics polluting our oceans and waterways and killing marine life – it's in all of us and we can't escape consuming plastics,' American geologists found tiny plastic fibres, beads and shards in rainwater samples collected from the remote slopes of the Rocky Mountain National Park near Denver, Colorado. Their report was headed: 'It is raining plastic.' Rachel Adams, senior lecturer in Biomedical Science at Cardiff Metropolitan University, said that among health consequences are internal inflammation and immune responses to a 'foreign body'. She further pointed out that microplastics become carriers of toxins including mercury, pesticides and dioxins (a known cause of cancer and reproductive and developmental problems). These toxins accumulate in the fatty tissues once they enter the body through microplastics. Now this is being compounded massively by people putting plastic on their face and throwing it away.

Workers exposed to polypropylene plastic fibres known as 'flock' have developed 'flock worker's lung' from inhaling small pieces of the flock fibres which can damage lung tissue, reduce breathing capacity and exacerbate other respiratory problems. Now ... commonly used surgical masks have three layers of melt-blown textiles made of ... polypropylene. We have billions of people putting these microplastics against their mouth, nose and face for hours at a time day after day in the form of masks. How does anyone think that will work out? I mean – what could possibly go wrong? We posted a number of scientific studies on this at davidicke.com, but when I went back to them as I was writing this book the links to the science research website where they were hosted were dead. Anything that challenges the official narrative in any way is either censored or vilified. The official narrative is so unsupportable by the evidence that only deleting the truth can protect it. A study by Chinese scientists still survived – with the usual twist which it why it was still active, I guess. Yes, they found that virtually all the masks they tested increased the daily intake of microplastic fibres, but people should still wear them because the danger from the 'virus' was worse said the crazy 'team' from the Institute of Hydrobiology in Wuhan. Scientists first discovered microplastics in lung tissue of some patients who died of lung cancer in the 1990s. Subsequent studies have confirmed the potential health damage with the plastic degrading slowly and remaining in the lungs to accumulate in volume. Wuhan researchers used a machine simulating human breathing to establish that masks shed up to nearly 4,000 microplastic fibres in a month with reused masks producing more. Scientists said some masks are laced with toxic chemicals and a variety of compounds seriously restricted for both health and environmental reasons. They include cobalt (used in blue dye) and formaldehyde known to cause watery eyes, burning sensations in the eyes, nose, and throat, plus coughing, wheezing and nausea. No – that must be 'Covid-19'.

Mask 'worms'

There is another and potentially even more sinister content of masks. Mostly new masks of different makes filmed under a microscope around the world have been found to contain strange black fibres or 'worms' that appear to move or 'crawl' by themselves and react to heat and water. The nearest I have seen to them are the selfreplicating fibres that are pulled out through the skin of those suffering from Morgellons disease which has been connected to the phenomena of 'chemtrails' which I will bring into the story later on. Morgellons fibres continue to grow outside the body and have a form of artificial intelligence. Black 'worm' fibres in masks have that kind of feel to them and there is a nanotechnology technique called 'worm micelles' which carry and release drugs or anything else you want to deliver to the body. For sure the suppression of humanity by mind altering drugs is the Cult agenda big time and the more excuses they can find to gain access to the body the more opportunities there are to make that happen whether through 'vaccines' or masks pushed against the mouth and nose for hours on end.

So let us summarise the pros and cons of masks:

Against masks: Breathing in your own carbon dioxide; depriving the body and brain of sufficient oxygen; build-up of toxins in the mask that can be breathed into the lungs and cause rashes on the face and 'mask-mouth'; breathing microplastic fibres and toxic chemicals into the lungs; dehumanisation and deleting individualisation by literally making people faceless; destroying human emotional interaction through facial expression and deleting parental connection with their babies which look for guidance to their facial expression.

For masks: They don't protect you from a 'virus' that doesn't exist and even if it did 'viral' particles are so minute they are smaller than the holes in the mask.

Governments, police, supermarkets, businesses, transport companies, and all the rest who seek to impose masks have done no risk assessment on their consequences for health and psychology and are now open to group lawsuits when the impact becomes clear with a cumulative epidemic of respiratory and other disease. Authorities will try to exploit these effects and hide the real cause by dubbing them 'Covid-19'. Can you imagine setting out to force the population to wear health-destroying masks without doing any assessment of the risks? It is criminal and it is evil, but then how many people targeted in this way, who see their children told to wear them all day at school, have asked for a risk assessment? Billions can't be imposed upon by the few unless the billions allow it. Oh, yes, with just a tinge of irony, 85 percent of all masks made worldwide come from China.

Wash your hands in toxic shite

'Covid' rules include the use of toxic sanitisers and again the health consequences of constantly applying toxins to be absorbed through the skin is obvious to any level of Renegade Mind. America's Food and Drug Administration (FDA) said that sanitisers are drugs and issued a warning about 75 dangerous brands which contain methanol used in antifreeze and can cause death, kidney damage and blindness. The FDA circulated the following warning even for those brands that it claims to be safe:

Store hand sanitizer out of the reach of pets and children, and children should use it only with adult supervision. Do not drink hand sanitizer. This is particularly important for young children, especially toddlers, who may be attracted by the pleasant smell or brightly colored bottles of hand sanitizer.

Drinking even a small amount of hand sanitizer can cause alcohol poisoning in children. (However, there is no need to be concerned if your children eat with or lick their hands after using hand sanitizer.) During this coronavirus pandemic, poison control centers have had an increase in calls about accidental ingestion of hand sanitizer, so it is important that adults monitor young children's use.

Do not allow pets to swallow hand sanitizer. If you think your pet has eaten something potentially dangerous, call your veterinarian or a pet poison control center right away. Hand sanitizer is flammable and should be stored away from heat and flames. When using hand sanitizer, rub your hands until they feel completely dry before performing activities that may involve heat, sparks, static electricity, or open flames.

There you go, perfectly safe, then, and that's without even a mention of the toxins absorbed through the skin. Come on kids – sanitise your hands everywhere you go. It will save you from the 'virus'. Put all these elements together of the 'Covid' normal and see how much health and psychology is being cumulatively damaged, even devastated, to 'protect your health'. Makes sense, right? They are only imposing these things because they care, right? Right?

Submitting to insanity

Psychological reframing of the population goes very deep and is done in many less obvious ways. I hear people say how contradictory and crazy 'Covid' rules are and how they are ever changing. This is explained away by dismissing those involved as idiots. It is a big mistake. The Cult is delighted if its cold calculation is perceived as incompetence and idiocy when it is anything but. Oh, yes, there are idiots within the system – lots of them – but they are administering the Cult agenda, mostly unknowingly. They are not deciding and dictating it. The bulwark against tyranny is self-respect, always has been, always will be. It is self-respect that has broken every tyranny in history. By its very nature self-respect will not bow to oppression and its perpetrators. There is so little selfrespect that it's always the few that overturn dictators. Many may eventually follow, but the few with the iron spines (self-respect) kick it off and generate the momentum. The Cult targets self-respect in the knowledge that once this has gone only submission remains. Crazy, contradictory, ever-changing 'Covid' rules are systematically applied by psychologists to delete self-respect. They want you to see that the rules make no sense. It is one thing to decide to do something when you have made the choice based on evidence and logic. You still retain your self-respect. It is quite another when you can see what you are being told to do is insane, ridiculous and makes no sense, and yet you still do it. Your self-respect is extinguished and this has been happening as ever more obviously stupid and nonsensical things have been demanded and the great majority have complied even when they can see they are stupid and nonsensical.

People walk around in face-nappies knowing they are damaging their health and make no difference to a 'virus'. They do it in fear of not doing it. I know it's daft, but I'll do it anyway. When that happens something dies inside of you and submissive reframing has begun. Next there's a need to hide from yourself that you have conceded your self-respect and you convince yourself that you have not really submitted to fear and intimidation. You begin to believe that you are complying with craziness because it's the right thing to do. When first you concede your self-respect of 2+2 = 4 to 2+2 = 5 you know you are compromising your self-respect. Gradually to avoid facing that fact you begin to believe that 2+2=5. You have been reframed and I have been watching this process happening in the human psyche on an industrial scale. The Cult is working to break your spirit and one of its major tools in that war is humiliation. I read how former American soldier Bradley Manning (later Chelsea Manning after a sex-change) was treated after being jailed for supplying WikiLeaks with documents exposing the enormity of government and elite mendacity. Manning was isolated in solitary confinement for eight months, put under 24-hour surveillance, forced to hand over clothing before going to bed, and stand naked for every roll call. This is systematic humiliation. The introduction of anal swab 'Covid' tests in China has been done for the same reason to delete self-respect and induce compliant submission. Anal swabs are mandatory for incoming passengers in parts of China and American diplomats have said they were forced to undergo the indignity which would have been calculated humiliation by the Cult-owned Chinese government that has America in its sights.

Government-people: An abusive relationship

Spirit-breaking psychological techniques include giving people hope and apparent respite from tyranny only to take it away again. This happened in the UK during Christmas, 2020, when the psychopsychologists and their political lackeys announced an easing of restrictions over the holiday only to reimpose them almost immediately on the basis of yet another lie. There is a big psychological difference between getting used to oppression and being given hope of relief only to have that dashed. Psychologists know this and we have seen the technique used repeatedly. Then there is traumatising people before you introduce more extreme regulations that require compliance. A perfect case was the announcement by the dark and sinister Whitty and Vallance in the UK that 'new data' predicted that 4,000 could die every day over the winter of 2020/2021 if we did not lockdown again. I think they call it lying and after traumatising people with that claim out came Jackboot Johnson the next day with new curbs on human freedom. Psychologists know that a frightened and traumatised mind becomes suggestable to submission and behaviour reframing. Underpinning all this has been to make people fearful and suspicious of each other and see themselves as a potential danger to others. In league with deleted self-respect you have the perfect psychological recipe for self-loathing. The relationship between authority and public is now demonstrably the same as that of subservience to an abusive partner. These are signs of an abusive relationship explained by psychologist Leslie Becker-Phelps:

Psychological and emotional abuse: Undermining a partner's self-worth with verbal attacks, name-calling, and belittling. Humiliating the partner in public, unjustly accusing them of having an affair, or interrogating them about their every behavior. Keeping partner confused or off balance by saying they were just kidding or blaming the partner for 'making' them act this way ... Feigning in public that they care while turning against them in private. This leads to victims frequently feeling confused, incompetent, unworthy, hopeless, and chronically self-doubting. [Apply these techniques to how governments have treated the population since New Year, 2020, and the parallels are obvious.]

Physical abuse: The abuser might physically harm their partner in a range of ways, such as grabbing, hitting, punching, or shoving them. They might throw objects at them or harm them with a weapon. [Observe the physical harm imposed by masks, lockdown, and so on.]

Threats and intimidation: One way abusers keep their partners in line is by instilling fear. They might be verbally threatening, or give threatening looks or gestures. Abusers often make it known that they are tracking their partner's every move. They might destroy their partner's possessions, threaten to harm them, or threaten to harm their family members. Not surprisingly, victims of this abuse often feel anxiety, fear, and panic. [No words necessary.]

Isolation: Abusers often limit their partner's activities, forbidding them to talk or interact with friends or family. They might limit access to a car or even turn off their phone. All of this might be done by physically holding them against their will, but is often accomplished through psychological abuse and intimidation. The more isolated a person feels, the fewer resources they have to help gain perspective on their situation and to escape from it. [No words necessary.]

Economic abuse: Abusers often make their partners beholden to them for money by controlling access to funds of any kind. They might prevent their partner from getting a job or withhold access to money they earn from a job. This creates financial dependency that makes leaving the relationship very difficult. [See destruction of livelihoods and the proposed meagre 'guaranteed income' so long as you do whatever you are told.]

Using children: An abuser might disparage their partner's parenting skills, tell their children lies about their partner, threaten to take custody of their children, or threaten to harm their children. These tactics instil fear and often elicit compliance. [See reframed social service mafia and how children are being mercilessly abused by the state over 'Covid' while their parents look on too frightened to do anything.]

A further recurring trait in an abusive relationship is the abused blaming themselves for their abuse and making excuses for the abuser. We have the public blaming each other for lockdown abuse by government and many making excuses for the government while attacking those who challenge the government. How often we have heard authorities say that rules are being imposed or reimposed only because people have refused to 'behave' and follow the rules. We don't want to do it – it's you.

Renegade Minds are an antidote to all of these things. They will never concede their self-respect no matter what the circumstances. Even when apparent humiliation is heaped upon them they laugh in its face and reflect back the humiliation on the abuser where it belongs. Renegade Minds will never wear masks they know are only imposed to humiliate, suppress and damage both physically and psychologically. Consequences will take care of themselves and they will never break their spirit or cause them to concede to tyranny. UK newspaper columnist Peter Hitchens was one of the few in the mainstream media to speak out against lockdowns and forced vaccinations. He then announced he had taken the jab. He wanted to see family members abroad and he believed vaccine passports were inevitable even though they had not yet been introduced. Hitchens has a questioning and critical mind, but not a Renegade one. If he had no amount of pressure would have made him concede. Hitchens excused his action by saying that the battle has been lost. Renegade Minds never accept defeat when freedom is at stake and even if they are the last one standing the self-respect of not submitting to tyranny is more important than any outcome or any consequence.

That's why Renegade Minds are the only minds that ever changed anything worth changing.

CHAPTER EIGHT

'Reframing' insanity

Insanity is relative. It depends on who has who locked in what cage
Ray Bradbury

'Reframing' a mind means simply to change its perception and behaviour. This can be done subconsciously to such an extent that subjects have no idea they have been 'reframed' while to any observer changes in behaviour and attitudes are obvious.

Human society is being reframed on a ginormous scale since the start of 2020 and here we have the reason why psychologists rather than doctors have been calling the shots. Ask most people who have succumbed to 'Covid' reframing if they have changed and most will say 'no'; but they have and fundamentally. The Cult's long-game has been preparing for these times since way back and crucial to that has been to prepare both population and officialdom mentally and emotionally. To use the mind-control parlance they had to reframe the population with a mentality that would submit to fascism and reframe those in government and law enforcement to impose fascism or at least go along with it. The result has been the factdeleted mindlessness of 'Wokeness' and officialdom that has either enthusiastically or unquestioningly imposed global tyranny demanded by reframed politicians on behalf of psychopathic and deeply evil cultists. 'Cognitive reframing' identifies and challenges the way someone sees the world in the form of situations, experiences and emotions and then restructures those perceptions to view the same set of circumstances in a different way. This can have benefits if the attitudes are personally destructive while on the other side it has the potential for individual and collective mind control which the subject has no idea has even happened.

Cognitive therapy was developed in the 1960s by Aaron T. Beck who was born in Rhode Island in 1921 as the son of Jewish immigrants from the Ukraine. He became interested in the techniques as a treatment for depression. Beck's daughter Judith S. Beck is prominent in the same field and they founded the Beck Institute for Cognitive Behavior Therapy in Philadelphia in 1994. Cognitive reframing, however, began to be used worldwide by those with a very dark agenda. The Cult reframes politicians to change their attitudes and actions until they are completely at odds with what they once appeared to stand for. The same has been happening to government administrators at all levels, law enforcement, military and the human population. Cultists love mind control for two main reasons: It allows them to control what people think, do and say to secure agenda advancement and, by definition, it calms their legendary insecurity and fear of the unexpected. I have studied mind control since the time I travelled America in 1996. I may have been talking to next to no one in terms of an audience in those years, but my goodness did I gather a phenomenal amount of information and knowledge about so many things including the techniques of mind control. I have described this in detail in other books going back to The Biggest Secret in 1998. I met a very large number of people recovering from MKUltra and its offshoots and successors and I began to see how these same techniques were being used on the population in general. This was never more obvious than since the 'Covid' hoax began.

Reframing the enforcers

I have observed over the last two decades and more the very clear transformation in the dynamic between the police, officialdom and the public. I tracked this in the books as the relationship mutated from one of serving the public to seeing them as almost the enemy and certainly a lower caste. There has always been a class divide based on income and always been some psychopathic, corrupt, and big-I-am police officers. This was different. Wholesale change was unfolding in the collective dynamic; it was less about money and far more about position and perceived power. An us-and-them was emerging. Noses were lifted skyward by government administration and law enforcement and their attitude to the public they were supposed to be serving changed to one of increasing contempt, superiority and control. The transformation was so clear and widespread that it had to be planned. Collective attitudes and dynamics do not change naturally and organically that quickly on that scale. I then came across an organisation in Britain called Common Purpose created in the late 1980s by Julia Middleton who would work in the office of Deputy Prime Minister John Prescott during the long and disastrous premiership of war criminal Tony Blair. When Blair speaks the Cult is speaking and the man should have been in jail a long time ago. Common Purpose proclaims itself to be one of the biggest 'leadership development' organisations in the world while functioning as a charity with all the financial benefits which come from that. It hosts 'leadership development' courses and programmes all over the world and claims to have 'brought together' what it calls 'leaders' from more than 100 countries on six continents. The modus operandi of Common Purpose can be compared with the work of the UK government's reframing network that includes the Behavioural Insights Team 'nudge unit' and 'Covid' reframing specialists at SPI-B. WikiLeaks described Common Purpose long ago as 'a hidden virus in our government and schools' which is unknown to the general public: 'It recruits and trains "leaders" to be loyal to the directives of Common Purpose and the EU, instead of to their own departments, which they then undermine or subvert, the NHS [National Health Service] being an example.' This is a vital point to understand the 'Covid' hoax. The NHS, and its equivalent around the world, has been utterly reframed in terms of administrators and much of the medical personnel with the transformation underpinned by recruitment policies. The outcome has been the criminal and psychopathic behaviour of the NHS over 'Covid' and we have seen the same in every other major country. WikiLeaks said Common Purpose trainees are 'learning to rule without regard to democracy' and to usher in a police state (current events explained). Common Purpose operated like a 'glue' and had members in the NHS, BBC, police, legal profession, church, many of Britain's 7,000 quangos, local councils, the Civil Service, government ministries and Parliament, and controlled many RDA's (Regional Development Agencies). Here we have one answer for how and why British institutions and their like in other countries have changed so negatively in relation to the public. This further explains how and why the beyond-disgraceful reframed BBC has become a propaganda arm of 'Covid' fascism. They are all part of a network pursuing the same goal.

By 2019 Common Purpose was quoting a figure of 85,000 'leaders' that had attended its programmes. These 'students' of all ages are known as Common Purpose 'graduates' and they consist of government, state and local government officials and administrators, police chiefs and officers, and a whole range of others operating within the national, local and global establishment. Cressida Dick, Commissioner of the London Metropolitan Police, is the Common Purpose graduate who was the 'Gold Commander' that oversaw what can only be described as the murder of Brazilian electrician Jean Charles de Menezes in 2005. He was held down by psychopathic police and shot seven times in the head by a psychopathic lunatic after being mistaken for a terrorist when he was just a bloke going about his day. Dick authorised officers to pursue and keep surveillance on de Menezes and ordered that he be stopped from entering the underground train system. Police psychopaths took her at her word clearly. She was 'disciplined' for this outrage by being promoted – eventually to the top of the 'Met' police where she has been a disaster. Many Chief Constables controlling the police in different parts of the UK are and have been Common Purpose graduates. I have heard the 'graduate' network described as a sort of Mafia or secret society operating within the fabric of government at all levels pursuing a collective policy ingrained at Common Purpose training events. Founder Julia Middleton herself has said:

Locally and internationally, Common Purpose graduates will be 'lighting small fires' to create change in their organisations and communities ... The Common Purpose effect is best illustrated by the many stories of small changes brought about by leaders, who themselves have changed.

A Common Purpose mission statement declared:

Common Purpose aims to improve the way society works by expanding the vision, decision-making ability and influence of all kinds of leaders. The organisation runs a variety of educational programmes for leaders of all ages, backgrounds and sectors, in order to provide them with the inspirational, information and opportunities they need to change the world.

Yes, but into what? Since 2020 the answer has become clear.

NLP and the Delphi technique

Common Purpose would seem to be a perfect name or would common programming be better? One of the foundation methods of reaching 'consensus' (group think) is by setting the agenda theme and then encouraging, cajoling or pressuring everyone to agree a 'consensus' in line with the core theme promoted by Common Purpose. The methodology involves the 'Delphi technique', or an adaption of it, in which opinions are expressed that are summarised by a 'facilitator or change agent' at each stage. Participants are 'encouraged' to modify their views in the light of what others have said. Stage by stage the former individual opinions are merged into group consensus which just happens to be what Common Purpose wants them to believe. A key part of this is to marginalise anyone refusing to concede to group think and turn the group against them to apply pressure to conform. We are seeing this very technique used on the general population to make 'Covid' group-thinkers hostile to those who have seen through the bullshit. People can be reframed by using perception manipulation methods such as Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP) in which you change perception with the use of carefully constructed language. An NLP website described the technique this way:

... A method of influencing brain behaviour (the 'neuro' part of the phrase) through the use of language (the 'linguistic' part) and other types of communication to enable a person to 'recode' the way the brain responds to stimuli (that's the 'programming') and manifest new and better behaviours. Neuro-Linguistic Programming often incorporates hypnosis and self-hypnosis to help achieve the change (or 'programming') that is wanted.

British alternative media operation UKColumn has done very detailed research into Common Purpose over a long period. I quoted co-founder and former naval officer Brian Gerrish in my book Remember Who You Are, published in 2011, as saying the following years before current times:

It is interesting that many of the mothers who have had children taken by the State speak of the Social Services people being icily cool, emotionless and, as two ladies said in slightly different words, '... like little robots'. We know that NLP is cumulative, so people can be given small imperceptible doses of NLP in a course here, another in a few months, next year etc. In this way, major changes are accrued in their personality, but the day by day change is almost unnoticeable.

In these and other ways 'graduates' have had their perceptions uniformly reframed and they return to their roles in the institutions of government, law enforcement, legal profession, military, 'education', the UK National Health Service and the whole swathe of the establishment structure to pursue a common agenda preparing for the 'post-industrial', 'post-democratic' society. I say 'preparing' but we are now there. 'Post-industrial' is code for the Great Reset and 'post-democratic' is 'Covid' fascism. UKColumn has spoken to partners of those who have attended Common Purpose 'training'. They have described how personalities and attitudes of 'graduates' changed very noticeably for the worse by the time they had completed the course. They had been 'reframed' and told they are the 'leaders' – the special ones – who know better than the population. There has also been the very demonstrable recruitment of psychopaths and narcissists into government administration at all levels and law enforcement. If you want psychopathy hire psychopaths and you get a simple cause and effect. If you want administrators, police officers and 'leaders' to perceive the public as lesser beings who don't matter then employ narcissists. These personalities are identified using 'psychometrics' that identifies knowledge, abilities, attitudes and personality traits, mostly through carefully-designed questionnaires and tests. As this policy has passed through the decades we have had power-crazy, power-trippers appointed into law enforcement, security and government administration in preparation for current times and the dynamic between public and law enforcement/officialdom has been transformed. UKColumn's Brian Gerrish said of the narcissistic personality:

Their love of themselves and power automatically means that they will crush others who get in their way. I received a major piece of the puzzle when a friend pointed out that when they made public officials re-apply for their own jobs several years ago they were also required to do psychometric tests. This was undoubtedly the start of the screening process to get 'their' sort of people in post.

How obvious that has been since 2020 although it was clear what was happening long before if people paid attention to the changing public-establishment dynamic.

Change agents

At the centre of events in 'Covid' Britain is the National Health Service (NHS) which has behaved disgracefully in slavishly following the Cult agenda. The NHS management structure is awash with Common Purpose graduates or 'change agents' working to a common cause. Helen Bevan, a Chief of Service Transformation at the NHS Institute for Innovation and Improvement, co-authored a document called 'Towards a million change agents, a review of the social movements literature: implications for large scale change in the NHS'. The document compared a project management approach to that of change and social movements where 'people change themselves and each other – peer to peer'. Two definitions given for a 'social movement' were:

A group of people who consciously attempt to build a radically new social order; involves people of a broad range of social backgrounds; and deploys politically confrontational and socially disruptive tactics – Cyrus Zirakzadeh 1997

Collective challenges, based on common purposes and social solidarities, in sustained interaction with elites, opponents, and authorities – Sidney Tarrow 1994

Helen Bevan wrote another NHS document in which she defined 'framing' as 'the process by which leaders construct, articulate and put across their message in a powerful and compelling way in order to win people to their cause and call them to action'. I think I could come up with another definition that would be rather more accurate. The National Health Service and institutions of Britain and the wider world have been taken over by reframed 'change agents' and that includes everything from the United Nations to national governments, local councils and social services which have been kidnapping children from loving parents on an extraordinary and gathering scale on the road to the end of parenthood altogether. Children from loving homes are stolen and kidnapped by the state and put into the 'care' (inversion) of the local authority through council homes, foster parents and forced adoption. At the same time children are allowed to be abused without response while many are under council 'care'. UKColumn highlighted the Common Purpose connection between South Yorkshire Police and Rotherham council officers in the case of the scandal in that area of the sexual exploitation of children to which the authorities turned not one blind eye, but both:

We were alarmed to discover that the Chief Executive, the Strategic Director of Children and Young People's Services, the Manager for the Local Strategic Partnership, the Community Cohesion Manager, the Cabinet Member for Cohesion, the Chief Constable and his predecessor had all attended Leadership training courses provided by the pseudo-charity Common Purpose.

Once 'change agents' have secured positions of hire and fire within any organisation things start to move very quickly. Personnel are then hired and fired on the basis of whether they will work towards the agenda the change agent represents. If they do they are rapidly promoted even though they may be incompetent. Those more qualified and skilled who are pre-Common Purpose 'old school' see their careers stall and even disappear. This has been happening for decades in every institution of state, police, 'health' and social services and all of them have been transformed as a result in their attitudes to their jobs and the public. Medical professions, including nursing, which were once vocations for the caring now employ many cold, callous and couldn't give a shit personality types. The UKColumn investigation concluded:

By blurring the boundaries between people, professions, public and private sectors, responsibility and accountability, Common Purpose encourages 'graduates' to believe that as new selected leaders, they can work together, outside of the established political and social structures, to achieve a paradigm shift or CHANGE – so called 'Leading Beyond Authority'. In doing so, the allegiance of the individual becomes 'reframed' on CP colleagues and their NETWORK.

Reframing the Face-Nappies

Nowhere has this process been more obvious than in the police where recruitment of psychopaths and development of unquestioning mind-controlled group-thinkers have transformed law enforcement into a politically-correct 'Woke' joke and a travesty of what should be public service. Today they wear their face-nappies like good little gofers and enforce 'Covid' rules which are fascism under another name. Alongside the specifically-recruited psychopaths we have software minds incapable of free thought. Brian Gerrish again:

An example is the policeman who would not get on a bike for a press photo because he had not done the cycling proficiency course. Normal people say this is political correctness gone mad. Nothing could be further from the truth. The policeman has been reframed, and in his reality it is perfect common sense not to get on the bike 'because he hasn't done the cycling course'.

Another example of this is where the police would not rescue a boy from a pond until they had taken advice from above on the 'risk assessment'. A normal person would have arrived, perhaps thought of the risk for a moment, and dived in. To the police now 'reframed', they followed 'normal' procedure.

There are shocking cases of reframed ambulance crews doing the same. Sheer unthinking stupidity of London Face-Nappies headed by Common Purpose graduate Cressida Dick can be seen in their behaviour at a vigil in March, 2021, for a murdered woman, Sarah Everard. A police officer had been charged with the crime. Anyone with a brain would have left the vigil alone in the circumstances. Instead they 'manhandled' women to stop them breaking 'Covid rules' to betray classic reframing. Minds in the thrall of perception control have no capacity for seeing a situation on its merits and acting accordingly. 'Rules is rules' is their only mind-set. My father used to say that rules and regulations are for the guidance of the intelligent and the blind obedience of the idiot. Most of the intelligent, decent, coppers have gone leaving only the other kind and a few old school for whom the job must be a daily nightmare. The combination of psychopaths and rule-book software minds has been clearly on public display in the 'Covid' era with automaton robots in uniform imposing fascistic 'Covid' regulations on the population without any personal initiative or judging situations on their merits. There are thousands of examples around the world, but I'll make my point with the infamous Derbyshire police in the English East Midlands – the ones who think pouring dye into beauty spots and using drones to track people walking in the countryside away from anyone is called 'policing'. To them there are rules decreed by the government which they have to enforce and in their bewildered state a group gathering in a closed space and someone walking alone in the countryside are the same thing. It is beyond idiocy and enters the realm of clinical insanity.

Police officers in Derbyshire said they were 'horrified' – horrified – to find 15 to 20 'irresponsible' kids playing a football match at a closed leisure centre 'in breach of coronavirus restrictions'. When they saw the police the kids ran away leaving their belongings behind and the reframed men and women of Derbyshire police were seeking to establish their identities with a view to fining their parents. The most natural thing for youngsters to do – kicking a ball about – is turned into a criminal activity and enforced by the moronic software programs of Derbyshire police. You find the same mentality in every country. These barely conscious 'horrified' officers said they had to take action because 'we need to ensure these rules are being followed' and 'it is of the utmost importance that you ensure your children are following the rules and regulations for Covid-19'. Had any of them done ten seconds of research to see if this parroting of their masters' script could be supported by any evidence? Nope. Reframed people don't think – others think for them and that's the whole idea of reframing. I have seen police officers one after the other repeating without question word for word what officialdom tells them just as I have seen great swathes of the public doing the same. Ask either for 'their' opinion and out spews what they have been told to think by the official narrative. Police and public may seem to be in different groups, but their mentality is the same. Most people do whatever they are told in fear not doing so or because they believe what officialdom tells them; almost the entirety of the police do what they are told for the same reason. Ultimately it's the tiny inner core of the global Cult that's telling both what to do.

So Derbyshire police were 'horrified'. Oh, really? Why did they think those kids were playing football? It was to relieve the psychological consequences of lockdown and being denied human contact with their friends and interaction, touch and discourse vital to human psychological health. Being denied this month after month has dismantled the psyche of many children and young people as depression and suicide have exploded. Were Derbyshire police horrified by that? Are you kidding? Reframed people don't have those mental and emotional processes that can see how the impact on the psychological health of youngsters is far more dangerous than any 'virus' even if you take the mendacious official figures to be true. The reframed are told (programmed) how to act and so they do. The Derbyshire Chief Constable in the first period of lockdown when the black dye and drones nonsense was going on was Peter Goodman. He was the man who severed the connection between his force and the Derbyshire Constabulary Male Voice Choir when he decided that it was not inclusive enough to allow women to join. The fact it was a male voice choir making a particular sound produced by male voices seemed to elude a guy who terrifyingly ran policing in Derbyshire. He retired weeks after his force was condemned as disgraceful by former Supreme Court Justice Jonathan Sumption for their behaviour over extreme lockdown impositions. Goodman was replaced by his deputy Rachel Swann who was in charge when her officers were 'horrified'. The police statement over the boys committing the hanging-offence of playing football included the line about the youngsters being 'irresponsible in the times we are all living through' missing the point that the real relevance of the 'times we are all living through' is the imposition of fascism enforced by psychopaths and reframed minds of police officers playing such a vital part in establishing the fascist tyranny that their own children and grandchildren will have to live in their entire lives. As a definition of insanity that is hard to beat although it might be run close by imposing masks on people that can have a serious effect on their health while wearing a face nappy all day themselves. Once again public and police do it for the same reason – the authorities tell them to and who are they to have the self-respect to say no?

Wokers in uniform

How reframed do you have to be to arrest a six-year-old and take him to court for picking a flower while waiting for a bus? Brain dead police and officialdom did just that in North Carolina where criminal proceedings happen regularly for children under nine. Attorney Julie Boyer gave the six-year-old crayons and a colouring book during the 'flower' hearing while the 'adults' decided his fate. County Chief District Court Judge Jay Corpening asked: 'Should a child that believes in Santa Claus, the Easter Bunny and the tooth fairy be making life-altering decisions?' Well, of course not, but common sense has no meaning when you have a common purpose and a reframed mind. Treating children in this way, and police operating in American schools, is all part of the psychological preparation for children to accept a police state as normal all their adult lives. The same goes for all the cameras and biometric tracking technology in schools. Police training is focused on reframing them as snowflake Wokers and this is happening in the military. Pentagon top brass said that 'training sessions on extremism' were needed for troops who asked why they were so focused on the Capitol Building riot when Black Lives Matter riots were ignored. What's the difference between them some apparently and rightly asked. Actually, there is a difference. Five people died in the Capitol riot, only one through violence, and that was a police officer shooting an unarmed protestor. BLM riots killed at least 25 people and cost billions. Asking the question prompted the psychopaths and reframed minds that run the Pentagon to say that more 'education' (programming) was needed. Troop training is all based on psychological programming to make them fodder for the Cult – 'Military men are just dumb, stupid animals to be used as pawns in foreign policy' as Cult-to-his-DNA former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger famously said. Governments see the police in similar terms and it's time for those among them who can see this to defend the people and stop being enforcers of the Cult agenda upon the people.

The US military, like the country itself, is being targeted for destruction through a long list of Woke impositions. Cult-owned gaga 'President' Biden signed an executive order when he took office to allow taxpayer money to pay for transgender surgery for active military personnel and veterans. Are you a man soldier? No, I'm a LGBTQIA+ with a hint of Skoliosexual and Spectrasexual. Oh, good man. Bad choice of words you bigot. The Pentagon announced in March, 2021, the appointment of the first 'diversity and inclusion officer' for US Special Forces. Richard Torres-Estrada arrived with the publication of a 'D&I Strategic Plan which will guide the enterprise-wide effort to institutionalize and sustain D&I'. If you think a Special Forces 'Strategic Plan' should have something to do with defending America you haven't been paying attention. Defending Woke is now the military's new role. Torres-Estrada has posted images comparing Donald Trump with Adolf Hitler and we can expect no bias from him as a representative of the supposedly non-political Pentagon. Cable news host Tucker Carlson said: 'The Pentagon is now the Yale faculty lounge but with cruise missiles.' Meanwhile Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin, a board member of weapons-maker Raytheon with stock and compensation interests in October, 2020, worth $1.4 million, said he was purging the military of the 'enemy within' – anyone who isn't Woke and supports Donald Trump. Austin refers to his targets as 'racist extremists' while in true Woke fashion being himself a racist extremist. Pentagon documents pledge to 'eradicate, eliminate and conquer all forms of racism, sexism and homophobia'. The definitions of these are decided by 'diversity and inclusion committees' peopled by those who see racism, sexism and homophobia in every situation and opinion. Woke (the Cult) is dismantling the US military and purging testosterone as China expands its military and gives its troops 'masculinity training'. How do we think that is going to end when this is all Cult coordinated? The US military, like the British military, is controlled by Woke and spineless top brass who just go along with it out of personal career interests.

'Woke' means fast asleep

Mind control and perception manipulation techniques used on individuals to create group-think have been unleashed on the global population in general. As a result many have no capacity to see the obvious fascist agenda being installed all around them or what 'Covid' is really all about. Their brains are firewalled like a computer system not to process certain concepts, thoughts and realisations that are bad for the Cult. The young are most targeted as the adults they will be when the whole fascist global state is planned to be fully implemented. They need to be prepared for total compliance to eliminate all pushback from entire generations. The Cult has been pouring billions into taking complete control of 'education' from schools to universities via its operatives and corporations and not least Bill Gates as always. The plan has been to transform 'education' institutions into programming centres for the mentality of 'Woke'. James McConnell, professor of psychology at the University of Michigan, wrote in Psychology Today in 1970:

The day has come when we can combine sensory deprivation with drugs, hypnosis, and astute manipulation of reward and punishment, to gain almost absolute control over an individual's behaviour. It should then be possible to achieve a very rapid and highly effective type of brainwashing that would allow us to make dramatic changes in a person's behaviour and personality ...

... We should reshape society so that we all would be trained from birth to want to do what society wants us to do. We have the techniques to do it... no-one owns his own personality you acquired, and there's no reason to believe you should have the right to refuse to acquire a new personality if your old one is anti-social.

This was the potential for mass brainwashing in 1970 and the mentality there displayed captures the arrogant psychopathy that drives it forward. I emphasise that not all young people have succumbed to Woke programming and those that haven't are incredibly impressive people given that today's young are the most perceptually-targeted generations in history with all the technology now involved. Vast swathes of the young generations, however, have fallen into the spell – and that's what it is – of Woke. The Woke mentality and perceptual program is founded on inversion and you will appreciate later why that is so significant. Everything with Woke is inverted and the opposite of what it is claimed to be. Woke was a term used in African-American culture from the 1900s and referred to an awareness of social and racial justice. This is not the meaning of the modern version or 'New Woke' as I call it in The Answer. Oh, no, Woke today means something very different no matter how much Wokers may seek to hide that and insist Old Woke and New

Woke are the same. See if you find any 'awareness of social justice' here in the modern variety:

- Woke demands 'inclusivity' while excluding anyone with a different opinion and calls for mass censorship to silence other views.
- Woke claims to stand against oppression when imposing oppression is the foundation of all that it does. It is the driver of political correctness which is nothing more than a Cult invention to manipulate the population to silence itself.
- Woke believes itself to be 'liberal' while pursuing a global society that can only be described as fascist (see 'anti-fascist' fascist Antifa).
- Woke calls for 'social justice' while spreading injustice wherever it goes against the common 'enemy' which can be easily identified as a differing view.
- Woke is supposed to be a metaphor for 'awake' when it is solid-gold asleep and deep in a Cult-induced coma that meets the criteria for 'off with the fairies'.

I state these points as obvious facts if people only care to look. I don't do this with a sense of condemnation. We need to appreciate that the onslaught of perceptual programming on the young has been incessant and merciless. I can understand why so many have been reframed, or, given their youth, framed from the start to see the world as the Cult demands. The Cult has had access to their minds day after day in its 'education' system for their entire formative years. Perception is formed from information received and the Cult-created system is a life-long download of information delivered to elicit a particular perception, thus behaviour. The more this has expanded into still new extremes in recent decades and ever-increasing censorship has deleted other opinions and information why wouldn't that lead to a perceptual reframing on a mass scale? I have described already cradle-to-grave programming and in more recent times the targeting of young minds from birth to adulthood has entered the stratosphere. This has taken the form of skewing what is 'taught' to fit the Cult agenda and the omnipresent techniques of group-think to isolate non-believers and pressure them into line. There has always been a tendency to follow the herd, but we really are in a new world now in relation to that. We have parents who can see the 'Covid' hoax told by their children not to stop them wearing masks at school, being 'Covid' tested or having the 'vaccine' in fear of the peer-pressure consequences of being different. What is 'peer-pressure' if not pressure to conform to group-think? Renegade Minds never group-think and always retain a set of perceptions that are unique to them. Group-think is always underpinned by consequences for not group-thinking. Abuse now aimed at those refusing DNA-manipulating 'Covid vaccines' are a potent example of this. The biggest pressure to conform comes from the very group which is itself being manipulated. 'I am programmed to be part of a hive mind and so you must be.'

Woke control structures in 'education' now apply to every mainstream organisation. Those at the top of the 'education' hierarchy (the Cult) decide the policy. This is imposed on governments through the Cult network; governments impose it on schools, colleges and universities; their leadership impose the policy on teachers and academics and they impose it on children and students. At any level where there is resistance, perhaps from a teacher or university lecturer, they are targeted by the authorities and often fired. Students themselves regularly demand the dismissal of academics (increasingly few) at odds with the narrative that the students have been programmed to believe in. It is quite a thought that students who are being targeted by the Cult become so consumed by programmed group-think that they launch protests and demand the removal of those who are trying to push back against those targeting the students. Such is the scale of perceptual inversion. We see this with 'Covid' programming as the Cult imposes the rules via psycho-psychologists and governments on shops, transport companies and businesses which impose them on their staff who impose them on their customers who pressure Pushbackers to conform to the will of the Cult which is in the process of destroying them and their families. Scan all aspects of society and you will see the same sequence every time.

There is no more potent example of this than 'Woke', a mentality only made possible by the deletion of factual evidence by an 'education' system seeking to produce an ever more uniform society. Why would you bother with facts when you don't know any? Deletion of credible history both in volume and type is highly relevant. Orwell said: 'Who controls the past controls the future: who controls the present controls the past.' They who control the perception of the past control the perception of the future and they who control the present control the perception of the past through the writing and deleting of history. Why would you oppose the imposition of Marxism in the name of Wokeism when you don't know that Marxism cost at least 100 million lives in the 20th century alone? Watch videos and read reports in which Woker generations are asked basic historical questions – it's mind-blowing. A survey of 2,000 people found that six percent of millennials (born approximately early 1980s to early 2000s) believed the Second World War (1939-1945) broke out with the assassination of President Kennedy (in 1963) and one in ten thought Margaret Thatcher was British Prime Minister at the time. She was in office between 1979 and 1990. We are in a post-fact society. Provable facts are no defence against the fascism of political correctness or Silicon Valley censorship. Facts don't matter anymore as we have witnessed with the 'Covid' hoax. Sacrificing uniqueness to the Woke group-think religion is all you are required to do and that means thinking for yourself is the biggest Woke no, no. All religions are an expression of group-think and censorship and Woke is just another religion with an orthodoxy defended by group-think and censorship. Burned at the stake becomes burned on Twitter which leads back eventually to burned at the stake as Woke humanity regresses to ages past.

The biggest Woke inversion of all is its creators and funders. I grew up in a traditional left of centre political household on a council estate in Leicester in the 1950s and 60s – you know, the left that challenged the power of wealth-hoarding elites and threats to freedom of speech and opinion. In those days students went on marches defending freedom of speech while today's Wokers march for its deletion. What on earth could have happened? Those very elites (collectively the Cult) that we opposed in my youth and early life have funded into existence the antithesis of that former left and hijacked the 'brand' while inverting everything it ever stood for. We have a mentality that calls itself 'liberal' and 'progressive' while acting like fascists. Cult billionaires and their corporations have funded themselves into control of 'education' to ensure that Woke programming is unceasing throughout the formative years of children and young people and that non-Wokers are isolated (that word again) whether they be students, teachers or college professors. The Cult has funded into existence the now colossal global network of Woke organisations that have spawned and promoted all the 'causes' on the Cult wish-list for global transformation and turned Wokers into demanders of them. Does anyone really think it's a coincidence that the Cult agenda for humanity is a carbon (sorry) copy of the societal transformations desired by Woke?? These are only some of them:

Political correctness: The means by which the Cult deletes all public debates that it knows it cannot win if we had the free-flow of information and evidence.

Human-caused 'climate change': The means by which the Cult seeks to transform society into a globally-controlled dictatorship imposing its will over the fine detail of everyone's lives 'to save the planet' which doesn't actually need saving.

Transgender obsession: Preparing collective perception to accept the 'new human' which would not have genders because it would be created technologically and not through procreation. I'll have much more on this in Human 2.0.

Race obsession: The means by which the Cult seeks to divide and rule the population by triggering racial division through the perception that society is more racist than ever when the opposite is the case. Is it perfect in that regard? No. But to compare today with the racism of apartheid and segregation brought to an end by the civil rights movement in the 1960s is to insult the memory of that movement and inspirations like Martin Luther King. Why is the 'anti-racism' industry (which it is) so dominated by privileged white people?

White supremacy: This is a label used by privileged white people to demonise poor and deprived white people pushing back on tyranny to marginalise and destroy them. White people are being especially targeted as the dominant race by number within Western society which the Cult seeks to transform in its image. If you want to change a society you must weaken and undermine its biggest group and once you have done that by using the other groups you next turn on them to do the same ... 'Then they came for the Jews and I was not a Jew so I did nothing.'

Mass migration: The mass movement of people from the Middle East, Africa and Asia into Europe, from the south into the United States and from Asia into Australia are another way the Cult seeks to dilute the racial, cultural and political influence of white people on Western society. White people ask why their governments appear to be working against them while being politically and culturally biased towards incoming cultures. Well, here's your answer. In the same way sexually 'straight' people, men and women, ask why the authorities are biased against them in favour of other sexualities. The answer is the same – that's the way the Cult wants it to be for very sinister motives.

These are all central parts of the Cult agenda and central parts of the Woke agenda and Woke was created and continues to be funded to an immense degree by Cult billionaires and corporations. If anyone begins to say 'coincidence' the syllables should stick in their throat.

Billionaire 'social justice warriors'

Joe Biden is a 100 percent-owned asset of the Cult and the Wokers' man in the White House whenever he can remember his name and for however long he lasts with his rapidly diminishing cognitive function. Even walking up the steps of an aircraft without falling on his arse would appear to be a challenge. He's not an empty-shell puppet or anything. From the minute Biden took office (or the Cult did) he began his executive orders promoting the Woke wish-list. You will see the Woke agenda imposed ever more severely because it's really the Cult agenda. Woke organisations and activist networks spawned by the Cult are funded to the extreme so long as they promote what the Cult wants to happen. Woke is funded to promote 'social justice' by billionaires who become billionaires by destroying social justice. The social justice mantra is only a cover for dismantling social justice and funded by billionaires that couldn't give a damn about social justice. Everything makes sense when you see that. One of Woke's premier funders is Cult billionaire financier George Soros who said: 'I am basically there to make money, I cannot and do not look at the social consequences of what I do.' This is the same Soros who has given more than $32 billion to his Open Society Foundations global Woke network and funded Black Lives Matter, mass immigration into Europe and the United States, transgender activism, climate change activism, political correctness and groups targeting 'white supremacy' in the form of privileged white thugs that dominate Antifa. What a scam it all is and when you are dealing with the unquestioning fact-free zone of Woke scamming them is child's play. All you need to pull it off in all these organisations are a few in-the-know agents of the Cult and an army of naïve, reframed, uninformed, narcissistic, know-nothings convinced of their own self-righteousness, self-purity and virtue.

Soros and fellow billionaires and billionaire corporations have poured hundreds of millions into Black Lives Matter and connected groups and promoted them to a global audience. None of this is motivated by caring about black people. These are the billionaires that have controlled and exploited a system that leaves millions of black people in abject poverty and deprivation which they do absolutely nothing to address. The same Cult networks funding BLM were behind the slave trade! Black Lives Matter hijacked a phrase that few would challenge and they have turned this laudable concept into a political weapon to divide society. You know that BLM is a fraud when it claims that All Lives Matter, the most inclusive statement of all, is 'racist'. BLM and its Cult masters don't want to end racism. To them it's a means to an end to control all of humanity never mind the colour, creed, culture or background. What has destroying the nuclear family got to do with ending racism? Nothing – but that is one of the goals of BLM and also happens to be a goal of the Cult as I have been exposing in my books for decades. Stealing children from loving parents and giving schools ever more power to override parents is part of that same agenda. BLM is a Marxist organisation and why would that not be the case when the Cult created Marxism and BLM? Patrisse Cullors, a BLM co-founder, said in a 2015 video that she and her fellow organisers, including co-founder Alicia Garza, are 'trained Marxists'. The lady known after marriage as Patrisse Khan-Cullors bought a $1.4 million home in 2021 in one of the whitest areas of California with a black population of just 1.6 per cent and has so far bought four high-end homes for a total of $3.2 million. How very Marxist. There must be a bit of spare in the BLM coffers, however, when Cult corporations and billionaires have handed over the best part of $100 million. Many black people can see that Black Lives Matter is not working for them, but against them, and this is still more confirmation. Black journalist Jason Whitlock, who had his account suspended by Twitter for simply linking to the story about the 'Marxist's' home buying spree, said that BLM leaders are 'making millions of dollars off the backs of these dead black men who they wouldn't spit on if they were on fire and alive'.

Black Lies Matter

Cult assets and agencies came together to promote BLM in the wake of the death of career criminal George Floyd who had been jailed a number of times including for forcing his way into the home of a black woman with others in a raid in which a gun was pointed at her stomach. Floyd was filmed being held in a Minneapolis street in 2020 with the knee of a police officer on his neck and he subsequently died. It was an appalling thing for the officer to do, but the same technique has been used by police on peaceful protestors of lockdown without any outcry from the Woke brigade. As unquestioning supporters of the Cult agenda Wokers have supported lockdown and all the 'Covid' claptrap while attacking anyone standing up to the tyranny imposed in its name. Court documents would later include details of an autopsy on Floyd by County Medical Examiner Dr Andrew Baker who concluded that Floyd had taken a fatal level of the drug fentanyl. None of this mattered to fact-free, question-free, Woke. Floyd's death was followed by worldwide protests against police brutality amid calls to defund the police. Throwing babies out with the bathwater is a Woke speciality. In the wake of the murder of British woman Sarah Everard a Green Party member of the House of Lords, Baroness Jones of Moulescoomb (Nincompoopia would have been better), called for a 6pm curfew for all men. This would be in breach of the Geneva Conventions on war crimes which ban collective punishment, but that would never have crossed the black and white Woke mind of Baroness Nincompoopia who would have been far too convinced of her own self-righteousness to compute such details. Many American cities did defund the police in the face of Floyd riots and after $15 million was deleted from the police budget in Washington DC under useless Woke mayor Muriel Bowser carjacking alone rose by 300 percent and within six months the US capital recorded its highest murder rate in 15 years. The same happened in Chicago and other cities in line with the Cult/Soros plan to bring fear to streets and neighbourhoods by reducing the police, releasing violent criminals and not prosecuting crime. This is the mob-rule agenda that I have warned in the books was coming for so long. Shootings in the area of Minneapolis where Floyd was arrested increased by 2,500 percent compared with the year before. Defunding the police over George Floyd has led to a big increase in dead people with many of them black. Police protection for politicians making these decisions stayed the same or increased as you would expect from professional hypocrites. The Cult doesn't actually want to abolish the police. It wants to abolish local control over the police and hand it to federal government as the psychopaths advance the Hunger Games Society. Many George Floyd protests turned into violent riots with black stores and businesses destroyed by fire and looting across America fuelled by Black Lives Matter. Woke doesn't do irony. If you want civil rights you must loot the liquor store and the supermarket and make off with a smart TV. It's the only way.

It's not a race war – it's a class war

Black people are patronised by privileged blacks and whites alike and told they are victims of white supremacy. I find it extraordinary to watch privileged blacks supporting the very system and bloodline networks behind the slave trade and parroting the same Cult-serving manipulative crap of their privileged white, often billionaire, associates. It is indeed not a race war but a class war and colour is just a diversion. Black Senator Cory Booker and black Congresswoman Maxine Waters, more residents of Nincompoopia, personify this. Once you tell people they are victims of someone else you devalue both their own responsibility for their plight and the power they have to impact on their reality and experience. Instead we have: 'You are only in your situation because of whitey – turn on them and everything will change.' It won't change. Nothing changes in our lives unless we change it. Crucial to that is never seeing yourself as a victim and always as the creator of your reality. Life is a simple sequence of choice and consequence. Make different choices and you create different consequences. You have to make those choices - not Black Lives Matter, the Woke Mafia and anyone else that seeks to dictate your life. Who are they these Wokers, an emotional and psychological road traffic accident, to tell you what to do? Personal empowerment is the last thing the Cult and its Black Lives Matter want black people or anyone else to have. They claim to be defending the underdog while creating and perpetuating the underdog. The Cult's worst nightmare is human unity and if they are going to keep blacks, whites and every other race under economic servitude and control then the focus must be diverted from what they have in common to what they can be manipulated to believe divides them. Blacks have to be told that their poverty and plight is the fault of the white bloke living on the street in the same poverty and with the same plight they are experiencing. The difference is that your plight black people is due to him, a white supremacist with 'white privilege' living on the street. Don't unite as one human family against your mutual oppressors and suppressors - fight the oppressor with the white face who is as financially deprived as you are. The Cult knows that as its 'Covid' agenda moves into still new levels of extremism people are going to respond and it has been spreading the seeds of disunity everywhere to stop a united response to the evil that targets all of us.

Racist attacks on 'whiteness' are getting ever more outrageous and especially through the American Democratic Party which has an appalling history for anti-black racism. Barack Obama, Joe Biden, Hillary Clinton and Nancy Pelosi all eulogised about Senator Robert Byrd at his funeral in 2010 after a nearly 60-year career in Congress. Byrd was a brutal Ku Klux Klan racist and a violent abuser of Cathy O'Brien in MKUltra. He said he would never fight in the military 'with a negro by my side' and 'rather I should die a thousand times, and see Old Glory trampled in the dirt never to rise again, than to see this beloved land of ours become degraded by race mongrels, a throwback to the blackest specimen from the wilds'. Biden called Byrd a 'very close friend and mentor'. These 'Woke' hypocrites are not anti-racist they are anti-poor and anti-people not of their perceived class. Here is an illustration of the scale of anti-white racism to which we have now descended. Seriously Woke and moronic New York Times contributor Damon Young described whiteness as a 'virus' that 'like other viruses will not die until there are no bodies left for it to infect'. He went on: '... the only way to stop it is to locate it, isolate it, extract it, and kill it.' Young can say that as a black man with no consequences when a white man saying the same in reverse would be facing a jail sentence. That's racism. We had super-Woke numbskull senators Tammy Duckworth and Mazie Hirono saying they would object to future Biden Cabinet appointments if he did not nominate more Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders. Never mind the ability of the candidate what do they look like? Duckworth said: 'I will vote for racial minorities and I will vote for LGBTQ, but anyone else I'm not voting for.' Appointing people on the grounds of race is illegal, but that was not a problem for this ludicrous pair. They were on-message and that's a free pass in any situation.

Critical race racism

White children are told at school they are intrinsically racist as they are taught the divisive 'critical race theory'. This claims that the law and legal institutions are inherently racist and that race is a socially constructed concept used by white people to further their economic and political interests at the expense of people of colour. White is a 'virus' as we've seen. Racial inequality results from 'social, economic, and legal differences that white people create between races to maintain white interests which leads to poverty and criminality in minority communities'. I must tell that to the white guy sleeping on the street. The principal of East Side Community School in New York sent white parents a manifesto that called on them to become 'white traitors' and advocate for full 'white abolition'. These people are teaching your kids when they urgently need a psychiatrist. The 'school' included a chart with 'eight white identities' that ranged from 'white supremacist' to 'white abolition' and defined the behaviour white people must follow to end 'the regime of whiteness'. Woke blacks and their privileged white associates are acting exactly like the slave owners of old and Ku Klux Klan racists like Robert Byrd. They are too full of their own self-purity to see that, but it's true. Racism is not a body type; it's a state of mind that can manifest through any colour, creed or culture.

Another racial fraud is 'equity'. Not equality of treatment and opportunity – equity. It's a term spun as equality when it means something very different. Equality in its true sense is a raising up while 'equity' is a race to the bottom. Everyone in the same level of poverty is 'equity'. Keep everyone down – that's equity. The Cult doesn't want anyone in the human family to be empowered and BLM leaders, like all these 'anti-racist' organisations, continue their privileged, pampered existence by perpetuating the perception of gathering racism. When is the last time you heard an 'anti-racist' or 'anti-Semitism' organisation say that acts of racism and discrimination have fallen? It's not in the interests of their fundraising and power to influence and the same goes for the professional soccer anti-racism operation, Kick It Out. Two things confirmed that the Black Lives Matter riots in the summer of 2020 were Cult creations. One was that while anti-lockdown protests were condemned in this same period for 'transmitting 'Covid' the authorities supported mass gatherings of Black Lives Matter supporters. I even saw self-deluding people claiming to be doctors say the two types of protest were not the same. No – the non-existent 'Covid' was in favour of lockdowns and attacked those that protested against them while 'Covid' supported Black Lives Matter and kept well away from its protests. The whole thing was a joke and as lockdown protestors were arrested, often brutally, by reframed Face-Nappies we had the grotesque sight of police officers taking the knee to Black Lives Matter, a Cult-funded Marxist organisation that supports violent riots and wants to destroy the nuclear family and white people.

He's not white? Shucks!

Woke obsession with race was on display again when ten people were shot dead in Boulder, Colorado, in March, 2021. Cult-owned Woke TV channels like CNN said the shooter appeared to be a white man and Wokers were on Twitter condemning 'violent white men' with the usual mantras. Then the shooter's name was released as Ahmad Al Aliwi Alissa, an anti-Trump Arab-American, and the sigh of disappointment could be heard five miles away. Never mind that ten people were dead and what that meant for their families. Race baiting was all that mattered to these sick Cult-serving people like Barack Obama who exploited the deaths to further divide America on racial grounds which is his job for the Cult. This is the man that 'racist' white Americans made the first black president of the United States and then gave him a second term. Not-very-bright Obama has become filthy rich on the back of that and today appears to have a big influence on the Biden administration. Even so he's still a downtrodden black man and a victim of white supremacy. This disingenuous fraud reveals the contempt he has for black people when he puts on a Deep South Alabama accent whenever he talks to them, no, at them.

Another BLM red flag was how the now fully-Woke (fully-Cult) and fully-virtue-signalled professional soccer authorities had their teams taking the knee before every match in support of Marxist Black Lives Matter. Soccer authorities and clubs displayed 'Black Lives Matter' on the players' shirts and flashed the name on electronic billboards around the pitch. Any fans that condemned what is a Freemasonic taking-the-knee ritual were widely condemned as you would expect from the Woke virtue-signallers of professional sport and the now fully-Woke media. We have reverse racism in which you are banned from criticising any race or culture except for white people for whom anything goes – say what you like, no problem. What has this got to do with racial harmony and equality? We've had black supremacists from Black Lives Matter telling white people to fall to their knees in the street and apologise for their white supremacy. Black supremacists acting like white supremacist slave owners of the past couldn't breach their selfobsessed, race-obsessed sense of self-purity. Joe Biden appointed a race-obsessed black supremacist Kristen Clarke to head the Justice Department Civil Rights Division. Clarke claimed that blacks are endowed with 'greater mental, physical and spiritual abilities' than whites. If anyone reversed that statement they would be vilified. Clarke is on-message so no problem. She's never seen a black-white situation in which the black figure is anything but a virtuous victim and she heads the Civil Rights Division which should treat everyone the same or it isn't civil rights. Another perception of the Renegade Mind: If something or someone is part of the Cult agenda they will be supported by Woke governments and media no matter what. If they're not, they will be condemned and censored. It really is that simple and so racist Clarke prospers despite (make that because of) her racism.

The end of culture

Biden's administration is full of such racial, cultural and economic bias as the Cult requires the human family to be divided into warring factions. We are now seeing racially-segregated graduations and everything, but everything, is defined through the lens of perceived 'racism. We have 'racist' mathematics, 'racist' food and even 'racist' plants. World famous Kew Gardens in London said it was changing labels on plants and flowers to tell its pre-'Covid' more than two million visitors a year how racist they are. Kew director Richard Deverell said this was part of an effort to 'move quickly to decolonise collections' after they were approached by one Ajay Chhabra 'an actor with an insight into how sugar cane was linked to slavery'. They are plants you idiots. 'Decolonisation' in the Woke manual really means colonisation of society with its mentality and by extension colonisation by the Cult. We are witnessing a new Chinese-style 'Cultural Revolution' so essential to the success of all

Marxist takeovers. Our cultural past and traditions have to be swept away to allow a new culture to be built-back-better. Woke targeting of long-standing Western cultural pillars including historical monuments and cancelling of historical figures is what happened in the Mao revolution in China which 'purged remnants of capitalist and traditional elements from Chinese society' and installed Maoism as the dominant ideology'. For China see the Western world today and for 'dominant ideology' see Woke. Better still see Marxism or Maoism. The 'Covid' hoax has specifically sought to destroy the arts and all elements of Western culture from people meeting in a pub or restaurant to closing theatres, music venues, sports stadiums, places of worship and even banning singing. Destruction of Western society is also why criticism of any religion is banned except for Christianity which again is the dominant religion as white is the numericallydominant race. Christianity may be fading rapidly, but its history and traditions are weaved through the fabric of Western society. Delete the pillars and other structures will follow until the whole thing collapses. I am not a Christian defending that religion when I say that. I have no religion. It's just a fact. To this end Christianity has itself been turned Woke to usher its own downfall and its ranks are awash with 'change agents' - knowing and unknowing - at every level including Pope Francis (definitely knowing) and the clueless Archbishop of Canterbury Justin Welby (possibly not, but who can be sure?). Woke seeks to coordinate attacks on Western culture, traditions, and ways of life through 'intersectionality' defined as 'the complex, cumulative way in which the effects of multiple forms of discrimination (such as racism, sexism, and classism) combine, overlap, or intersect especially in the experiences of marginalised individuals or groups'. Wade through the Orwellian Woke-speak and this means coordinating disparate groups in a common cause to overthrow freedom and liberal values.

The entire structure of public institutions has been infested with Woke – government at all levels, political parties, police, military, schools, universities, advertising, media and trade unions. This abomination has been achieved through the Cult web by appointing Wokers to positions of power and battering non-Wokers into line through intimidation, isolation and threats to their job. Many have been fired in the wake of the empathy-deleted, vicious hostility of 'social justice' Wokers and the desire of gutless, spineless employers to virtue-signal their Wokeness. Corporations are filled with Wokers today, most notably those in Silicon Valley. Ironically at the top they are not Woke at all. They are only exploiting the mentality their Cult masters have created and funded to censor and enslave while the Wokers cheer them on until it's their turn. Thus the Woke 'liberal left' is an inversion of the traditional liberal left. Campaigning for justice on the grounds of power and wealth distribution has been replaced by campaigning for identity politics. The genuine traditional left would never have taken money from today's billionaire abusers of fairness and justice and nor would the billionaires have wanted to fund that genuine left. It would not have been in their interests to do so. The division of opinion in those days was between the haves and have nots. This all changed with Cult manipulated and funded identity politics. The division of opinion today is between Wokers and non-Wokers and not income brackets. Cult corporations and their billionaires may have taken wealth disparity to cataclysmic levels of injustice, but as long as they speak the language of Woke, hand out the dosh to the Woke network and censor the enemy they are 'one of us'. Billionaires who don't give a damn about injustice are laughing at them till their bellies hurt. Wokers are not even close to self-aware enough to see that. The transformed 'left' dynamic means that Wokers who drone on about 'social justice' are funded by billionaires that have destroyed social justice the world over. It's why they are billionaires.

The climate con

Nothing encapsulates what I have said more comprehensively than the hoax of human-caused global warming. I have detailed in my books over the years how Cult operatives and organisations were the pump-primers from the start of the climate con. A purpose-built vehicle for this is the Club of Rome established by the Cult in 1968 with the Rockefellers and Rothschilds centrally involved all along. Their gofer frontman Maurice Strong, a Canadian oil millionaire, hosted the Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in 1992 where the global 'green movement' really expanded in earnest under the guiding hand of the Cult. The Earth Summit established Agenda 21 through the Cult-created-and-owned United Nations to use the illusion of human-caused climate change to justify the transformation of global society to save the world from climate disaster. It is a No-Problem-Reaction-Solution sold through governments, media, schools and universities as whole generations have been terrified into believing that the world was going to end in their lifetimes unless what old people had inflicted upon them was stopped by a complete restructuring of how everything is done. Chill, kids, it's all a hoax. Such restructuring is precisely what the Cult agenda demands (purely by coincidence of course). Today this has been given the codename of the Great Reset which is only an updated term for Agenda 21 and its associated Agenda 2030. The latter, too, is administered through the UN and was voted into being by the General Assembly in 2015. Both 21 and 2030 seek centralised control of all resources and food right down to the raindrops falling on your own land. These are some of the demands of Agenda 21 established in 1992. See if you recognise this society emerging today:

- End national sovereignty
- State planning and management of all land resources, ecosystems, deserts, forests, mountains, oceans and fresh water; agriculture; rural development; biotechnology; and ensuring 'equity'
- The state to 'define the role' of business and financial resources
- Abolition of private property
- 'Restructuring' the family unit (see BLM)
- Children raised by the state
- People told what their job will be
- Major restrictions on movement
- Creation of 'human settlement zones'

- Mass resettlement as people are forced to vacate land where they live
- Dumbing down education
- Mass global depopulation in pursuit of all the above

The United Nations was created as a Trojan horse for world government. With the climate con of critical importance to promoting that outcome you would expect the UN to be involved. Oh, it's involved all right. The UN is promoting Agenda 21 and Agenda 2030 justified by 'climate change' while also driving the climate hoax through its Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), one of the world's most corrupt organisations. The IPCC has been lying ferociously and constantly since the day it opened its doors with the global media hanging unquestioningly on its every mendacious word. The Green movement is entirely Woke and has long lost its original environmental focus since it was coopted by the Cult. An obsession with 'global warming' has deleted its values and scrambled its head. I experienced a small example of what I mean on a beautiful country walk that I have enjoyed several times a week for many years. The path merged into the fields and forests and you felt at one with the natural world. Then a 'Green' organisation, the Hampshire and Isle of Wight Wildlife Trust, took over part of the land and proceeded to cut down a large number of trees, including mature ones, to install a horrible big, bright steel 'this-is-ours-stay-out' fence that destroyed the whole atmosphere of this beautiful place. No one with a feel for nature would do that. Day after day I walked to the sound of chainsaws and a magnificent mature weeping willow tree that I so admired was cut down at the base of the trunk. When I challenged a Woke young girl in a green shirt (of course) about this vandalism she replied: 'It's a weeping willow – it will grow back.' This is what people are paying for when they donate to the Hampshire and Isle of Wight Wildlife Trust and many other 'green' organisations today. It is not the environmental movement that I knew and instead has become a support-system – as with Extinction Rebellion – for a very dark agenda.

Private jets for climate justice

The Cult-owned, Gates-funded, World Economic Forum and its founder Klaus Schwab were behind the emergence of Greta Thunberg to harness the young behind the climate agenda and she was invited to speak to the world at ... the UN. Schwab published a book, Covid-19: The Great Reset in 2020 in which he used the 'Covid' hoax and the climate hoax to lay out a new society straight out of Agenda 21 and Agenda 2030. Bill Gates followed in early 2021 when he took time out from destroying the world to produce a book in his name about the way to save it. Gates flies across the world in private jets and admitted that 'I probably have one of the highest greenhouse gas footprints of anyone on the planet ... my personal flying alone is gigantic.' He has also bid for the planet's biggest private jet operator. Other climate change saviours who fly in private jets include John Kerry, the US Special Presidential Envoy for Climate, and actor Leonardo DiCaprio, a 'UN Messenger of Peace with special focus on climate change'. These people are so full of bullshit they could corner the market in manure. We mustn't be sceptical, though, because the Gates book, How to Avoid a Climate Disaster: The Solutions We Have and the Breakthroughs We Need, is a genuine attempt to protect the world and not an obvious pile of excrement attributed to a mega-psychopath aimed at selling his masters' plans for humanity. The Gates book and the other shite-pile by Klaus Schwab could have been written by the same person and may well have been. Both use 'climate change' and 'Covid' as the excuses for their new society and by coincidence the Cult's World Economic Forum and Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation promote the climate hoax and hosted Event 201 which pre-empted with a 'simulation' the very 'coronavirus' hoax that would be simulated for real on humanity within weeks. The British 'royal' family is promoting the 'Reset' as you would expect through Prince 'climate change caused the war in Syria' Charles and his hapless son Prince William who said that we must 'reset our relationship with nature and our trajectory as a species' to avoid a climate disaster. Amazing how many promotors of the 'Covid' and 'climate change' control systems are connected to Gates and the World Economic Forum. A 'study' in early 2021 claimed that carbon dioxide emissions must fall by the equivalent of a global lockdown roughly every two years for the next decade to save the planet. The 'study' appeared in the same period that the Schwab mob claimed in a video that lockdowns destroying the lives of billions are good because they make the earth 'quieter' with less 'ambient noise'. They took down the video amid a public backlash for such arrogant, empathy-deleted stupidity You see, however, where they are going with this. Corinne Le Quéré, a professor at the Tyndall Centre for Climate Change Research, University of East Anglia, was lead author of the climate lockdown study, and she writes for ... the World Economic Forum. Gates calls in 'his' book for changing 'every aspect of the economy' (long-time Cult agenda) and for humans to eat synthetic 'meat' (predicted in my books) while cows and other farm animals are eliminated. Australian TV host and commentator Alan Jones described what carbon emission targets would mean for farm animals in Australia alone if emissions were reduced as demanded by 35 percent by 2030 and zero by 2050:

Well, let's take agriculture, the total emissions from agriculture are about 75 million tonnes of carbon dioxide, equivalent. Now reduce that by 35 percent and you have to come down to 50 million tonnes, I've done the maths. So if you take for example 1.5 million cows, you're going to have to reduce the herd by 525,000 [by] 2030, nine years, that's 58,000 cows a year. The beef herd's 30 million, reduce that by 35 percent, that's 10.5 million, which means 1.2 million cattle have to go every year between now and 2030. This is insanity!

There are 75 million sheep. Reduce that by 35 percent, that's 26 million sheep, that's almost 3 million a year. So under the Paris Agreement over 30 million beasts. dairy cows, cattle, pigs and sheep would go. More than 8,000 every minute of every hour for the next decade, do these people know what they're talking about?

Clearly they don't at the level of campaigners, politicians and administrators. The Cult does know; that's the outcome it wants. We are faced with not just a war on humanity. Animals and the natural world are being targeted and I have been saying since the 'Covid' hoax began that the plan eventually was to claim that the 'deadly virus' is able to jump from animals, including farm animals and domestic pets, to humans. Just before this book went into production came this story: 'Russia registers world's first Covid-19 vaccine for cats & dogs as makers of Sputnik V warn pets & farm animals could spread virus'. The report said 'top scientists warned that the deadly pathogen could soon begin spreading through homes and farms' and 'the next stage is the infection of farm and domestic animals'. Know the outcome and you'll see the journey. Think what that would mean for animals and keep your eye on a term called zoonosis or zoonotic diseases which transmit between animals and humans. The Cult wants to break the connection between animals and people as it does between people and people. Farm animals fit with the Cult agenda to transform food from natural to synthetic.

The gas of life is killing us

There can be few greater examples of Cult inversion than the condemnation of carbon dioxide as a dangerous pollutant when it is the gas of life. Without it the natural world would be dead and so we would all be dead. We breathe in oxygen and breathe out carbon dioxide while plants produce oxygen and absorb carbon dioxide. It is a perfect symbiotic relationship that the Cult wants to dismantle for reasons I will come to in the final two chapters. Gates, Schwab, other Cult operatives and mindless repeaters, want the world to be 'carbon neutral' by at least 2050 and the earlier the better. 'Zero carbon' is the cry echoed by lunatics calling for 'Zero Covid' when we already have it. These carbon emission targets will deindustrialise the world in accordance with Cult plans – the postindustrial, post-democratic society – and with so-called renewables like solar and wind not coming even close to meeting human energy needs blackouts and cold are inevitable. Texans got the picture in the winter of 2021 when a snow storm stopped wind turbines and solar panels from working and the lights went down along with water which relies on electricity for its supply system. Gates wants everything to be powered by electricity to ensure that his masters have the kill switch to stop all human activity, movement, cooking, water and warmth any time they like. The climate lie is so stupendously inverted that it claims we must urgently reduce carbon dioxide when we don't have enough.

Co2 in the atmosphere is a little above 400 parts per million when the optimum for plant growth is 2,000 ppm and when it falls anywhere near 150 ppm the natural world starts to die and so do we. It fell to as low as 280 ppm in an 1880 measurement in Hawaii and rose to 413 ppm in 2019 with industrialisation which is why the planet has become greener in the industrial period. How insane then that psychopathic madman Gates is not satisfied only with blocking the rise of Co2. He's funding technology to suck it out of the atmosphere. The reason why will become clear. The industrial era is not destroying the world through Co2 and has instead turned around a potentially disastrous ongoing fall in Co2. Greenpeace cofounder and scientist Patrick Moore walked away from Greenpeace in 1986 and has exposed the green movement for fear-mongering and lies. He said that 500 million years ago there was 17 times more Co2 in the atmosphere than we have today and levels have been falling for hundreds of millions of years. In the last 150 million years Co2 levels in Earth's atmosphere had reduced by 90 percent. Moore said that by the time humanity began to unlock carbon dioxide from fossil fuels we were at '38 seconds to midnight' and in that sense: 'Humans are [the Earth's] salvation.' Moore made the point that only half the Co2 emitted by fossil fuels stays in the atmosphere and we should remember that all pollution pouring from chimneys that we are told is carbon dioxide is in fact nothing of the kind. It's pollution. Carbon dioxide is an invisible gas.

William Happer, Professor of Physics at Princeton University and long-time government adviser on climate, has emphasised the Co2 deficiency for maximum growth and food production. Greenhouse growers don't add carbon dioxide for a bit of fun. He said that most of the warming in the last 100 years, after the earth emerged from the super-cold period of the 'Little Ice Age' into a natural warming cycle, was over by 1940. Happer said that a peak year for warming in 1988 can be explained by a 'monster El Nino' which is a natural and cyclical warming of the Pacific that has nothing to do with 'climate change'. He said the effect of Co2 could be compared to painting a wall with red paint in that once two or three coats have been applied it didn't matter how much more you slapped on because the wall will not get much redder. Almost all the effect of the rise in Co2 has already happened, he said, and the volume in the atmosphere would now have to double to increase temperature by a single degree. Climate hoaxers know this and they have invented the most ridiculously complicated series of 'feedback' loops to try to overcome this rather devastating fact. You hear puppet Greta going on cluelessly about feedback loops and this is why.

The Sun affects temperature? No you climate denier

Some other nonsense to contemplate: Climate graphs show that rises in temperature do not follow rises in Co2 – it's the other way round with a lag between the two of some 800 years. If we go back 800 years from present time we hit the Medieval Warm Period when temperatures were higher than now without any industrialisation and this was followed by the Little Ice Age when temperatures plummeted. The world was still emerging from these centuries of serious cold when many climate records began which makes the ever-repeated line of the 'hottest year since records began' meaningless when you are not comparing like with like. The coldest period of the Little Ice Age corresponded with the lowest period of sunspot activity when the Sun was at its least active. Proper scientists will not be at all surprised by this when it confirms the obvious fact that earth temperature is affected by the scale of Sun activity and the energetic power that it subsequently emits; but when is the last time you heard a climate hoaxer talking about the Sun as a source of earth temperature?? Everything has to be focussed on Co2 which makes up just 0.117 percent of so-called greenhouse gases and only a fraction of even that is generated by human activity. The rest is natural. More than 90 percent of those greenhouse gases are water vapour and clouds (Fig 9). Ban moisture I say. Have you noticed that the climate hoaxers no longer use the polar bear as their promotion image? That's because far from becoming extinct polar bear communities are stable or thriving. Joe Bastardi, American meteorologist, weather forecaster and outspoken critic of the climate lie, documents in his book The Climate Chronicles how weather patterns and events claimed to be evidence of climate change have been happening since long before industrialisation: 'What happened before naturally is happening again, as is to be expected given the cyclical nature of the climate due to the design of the planet.' If you read the detailed background to the climate hoax in my other books you will shake your head and wonder how anyone could believe the crap which has spawned a multi-trillion dollar industry based on absolute garbage (see HIV causes AIDs and Sars-Cov-2 causes 'Covid-19'). Climate and 'Covid' have much in common given they have the same source. They both have the contradictory everything factor in which everything is explained by reference to them. It's hot - 'it's climate change'. It's cold - 'it's climate change'. I got a sniffle -'it's Covid'. I haven't got a sniffle – 'it's Covid'. Not having a sniffle has to be a symptom of 'Covid'. Everything is and not having a sniffle is especially dangerous if you are a slow walker. For sheer audacity I offer you a Cambridge University 'study' that actually linked 'Covid' to 'climate change'. It had to happen eventually. They concluded that climate change played a role in 'Covid-19' spreading from animals to humans because ... wait for it ... I kid you not ... the two groups were forced closer together as populations grow. Er, that's it. The whole foundation on which this depended was that 'Bats are the likely zoonotic origin of SARS-CoV-1 and SARS-CoV-2'. Well, they are not. They are nothing to do with it. Apart from bats not being the origin and therefore 'climate change' effects on bats being irrelevant I am in awe of their academic insight. Where would we be without them? Not where we are that's for sure.

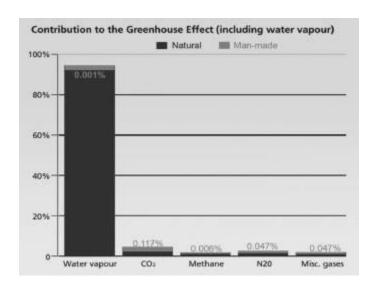

Figure 9: The idea that the gas of life is disastrously changing the climate is an insult to brain cell activity.

One other point about the weather is that climate modification is now well advanced and not every major weather event is natural – or earthquake come to that. I cover this subject at some length in other books. China is openly planning a rapid expansion of its weather modification programme which includes changing the climate in an area more than one and a half times the size of India. China used weather manipulation to ensure clear skies during the 2008 Olympics in Beijing. I have quoted from US military documents detailing how to employ weather manipulation as a weapon of war and they did that in the 1960s and 70s during the conflict in Vietnam with Operation Popeye manipulating monsoon rains for military purposes. Why would there be international treaties on weather modification if it wasn't possible? Of course it is. Weather is energetic information and it can be changed.

How was the climate hoax pulled off? See 'Covid'

If you can get billions to believe in a 'virus' that doesn't exist you can get them to believe in human-caused climate change that doesn't exist. Both are being used by the Cult to transform global society in the way it has long planned. Both hoaxes have been achieved in pretty much the same way. First you declare a lie is a fact. There's a 'virus' you call SARS-Cov-2 or humans are warming the planet with their behaviour. Next this becomes, via Cult networks, the foundation of government, academic and science policy and belief. Those who parrot the mantra are given big grants to produce research that confirms the narrative is true and ever more 'symptoms' are added to make the 'virus'/'climate change' sound even more scary. Scientists and researchers who challenge the narrative have their grants withdrawn and their careers destroyed. The media promote the lie as the unquestionable truth and censor those with an alternative view or evidence. A great percentage of the population believe what they are told as the lie becomes an everybody-knows-that and the believing-masses turn on those with a mind of their own. The technique has been used endlessly throughout human history. Wokers are the biggest promotors of the climate lie and 'Covid' fascism because their minds are owned by the Cult; their sense of self-righteous self-purity knows no bounds; and they exist in a bubble of reality in which facts are irrelevant and only get in the way of looking without seeing.

Running through all of this like veins in a blue cheese is control of information, which means control of perception, which means control of behaviour, which collectively means control of human society. The Cult owns the global media and Silicon Valley fascists for the simple reason that it has to. Without control of information it can't control perception and through that human society. Examine every facet of the Cult agenda and you will see that anything supporting its introduction is never censored while anything pushing back is always censored. I say again: Psychopaths that know why they are doing this must go before Nuremberg trials and those that follow their orders must trot along behind them into the same dock. 'I was just following orders' didn't work the first time and it must not work now. Nuremberg trials must be held all over the world before public juries for politicians, government officials, police, compliant doctors, scientists and virologists, and all Cult operatives such as Gates, Tedros, Fauci, Vallance, Whitty, Ferguson, Zuckerberg, Wojcicki, Brin, Page, Dorsey, the whole damn lot of them – including, no especially, the psychopath psychologists. Without them and the brainless, gutless excuses for journalists that have repeated their lies, none of this could be happening. Nobody can be allowed to escape justice for the psychological and economic Armageddon they are all responsible for visiting upon the human race.

As for the compliant, unquestioning, swathes of humanity, and the self-obsessed, all-knowing ignorance of the Wokers ... don't start me. God help their kids. God help their grandkids. God help them.

CHAPTER NINE

We must have it? So what is it?

Well I won't back down. No, I won't back down. You can stand me up at the Gates of Hell. But I won't back down

Tom Petty

I will now focus on the genetically-manipulating 'Covid vaccines' which do not meet this official definition of a vaccine by the US Centers for Disease Control (CDC): 'A product that stimulates a person's immune system to produce immunity to a specific disease, protecting the person from that disease.' On that basis 'Covid vaccines' are not a vaccine in that the makers don't even claim they stop infection or transmission.

They are instead part of a multi-levelled conspiracy to change the nature of the human body and what it means to be 'human' and to depopulate an enormous swathe of humanity. What I shall call Human 1.0 is on the cusp of becoming Human 2.0 and for very sinister reasons. Before I get to the 'Covid vaccine' in detail here's some background to vaccines in general. Government regulators do not test vaccines – the makers do – and the makers control which data is revealed and which isn't. Children in America are given 50 vaccine doses by age six and 69 by age 19 and the effect of the whole combined schedule has never been tested. Autoimmune diseases when the immune system attacks its own body have soared in the mass vaccine era and so has disease in general in children and the young. Why wouldn't this be the case when vaccines target the immune system? The US government gave Big Pharma drug companies immunity from prosecution for vaccine death and injury in the 1986 National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act (NCVIA) and since then the government (taxpayer) has been funding compensation for the consequences of Big Pharma vaccines. The criminal and satanic drug giants can't lose and the vaccine schedule has increased dramatically since 1986 for this reason. There is no incentive to make vaccines safe and a big incentive to make money by introducing ever more. Even against a ridiculously high bar to prove vaccine liability, and with the government controlling the hearing in which it is being challenged for compensation, the vaccine court has so far paid out more than $4 billion. These are the vaccines we are told are safe and psychopaths like Zuckerberg censor posts saying otherwise. The immunity law was even justified by a ruling that vaccines by their nature were 'unavoidably unsafe'.

Check out the ingredients of vaccines and you will be shocked if you are new to this. They put that in children's bodies?? What?? Try aluminium, a brain toxin connected to dementia, aborted foetal tissue and formaldehyde which is used to embalm corpses. Worldrenowned aluminium expert Christopher Exley had his research into the health effect of aluminium in vaccines shut down by Keele University in the UK when it began taking funding from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Research when diseases 'eradicated' by vaccines began to decline and you will find the fall began long before the vaccine was introduced. Sometimes the fall even plateaued after the vaccine. Diseases like scarlet fever for which there was no vaccine declined in the same way because of environmental and other factors. A perfect case in point is the polio vaccine. Polio began when lead arsenate was first sprayed as an insecticide and residues remained in food products. Spraying started in 1892 and the first US polio epidemic came in Vermont in 1894. The simple answer was to stop spraying, but Rockefeller-created Big Pharma had a better idea. Polio was decreed to be caused by the poliovirus which 'spreads from person to person and can infect a person's spinal cord'. Lead arsenate was replaced by the lethal DDT which had the same effect of causing paralysis by damaging the brain and central nervous system. Polio plummeted when DDT was reduced and then banned, but the vaccine is still given the credit for something it didn't do. Today by far the biggest cause of polio is the vaccines promoted by Bill Gates. Vaccine justice campaigner Robert Kennedy Jr, son of assassinated (by the Cult) US Attorney General Robert Kennedy, wrote:

In 2017, the World Health Organization (WHO) reluctantly admitted that the global explosion in polio is predominantly vaccine strain. The most frightening epidemics in Congo, Afghanistan, and the Philippines, are all linked to vaccines. In fact, by 2018, 70% of global polio cases were vaccine strain.

Vaccines make fortunes for Cult-owned Gates and Big Pharma while undermining the health and immune systems of the population. We had a glimpse of the mentality behind the Big Pharma cartel with a report on WION (World is One News), an international English language TV station based in India, which exposed the extraordinary behaviour of US drug company Pfizer over its 'Covid vaccine'. The WION report told how Pfizer had made fantastic demands of Argentina, Brazil and other countries in return for its 'vaccine'. These included immunity from prosecution, even for Pfizer negligence, government insurance to protect Pfizer from law suits and handing over as collateral sovereign assets of the country to include Argentina's bank reserves, military bases and embassy buildings. Pfizer demanded the same of Brazil in the form of waiving sovereignty of its assets abroad; exempting Pfizer from Brazilian laws; and giving Pfizer immunity from all civil liability. This is a 'vaccine' developed with government funding. Big Pharma is evil incarnate as a creation of the Cult and all must be handed tickets to Nuremberg.

Phantom 'vaccine' for a phantom 'disease'

I'll expose the 'Covid vaccine' fraud and then go on to the wider background of why the Cult has set out to 'vaccinate' every man, woman and child on the planet for an alleged 'new disease' with a survival rate of 99.77 percent (or more) even by the grotesquely-manipulated figures of the World Health Organization and Johns Hopkins University. The 'infection' to 'death' ratio is 0.23 to 0.15 percent according to Stanford epidemiologist Dr John Ioannidis and while estimates vary the danger remains tiny. I say that if the truth be told the fake infection to fake death ratio is zero. Never mind all the evidence I have presented here and in The Answer that there is no 'virus' let us just focus for a moment on that death-rate figure of say 0.23 percent. The figure includes all those worldwide who have tested positive with a test not testing for the 'virus' and then died within 28 days or even longer of any other cause – any other cause. Now subtract all those illusory 'Covid' deaths on the global data sheets from the 0.23 percent. What do you think you would be left with? Zero. A vaccination has never been successfully developed for a so-called coronavirus. They have all failed at the animal testing stage when they caused hypersensitivity to what they were claiming to protect against and made the impact of a disease far worse. Cultowned vaccine corporations got around that problem this time by bypassing animal trials, going straight to humans and making the length of the 'trials' before the public rollout as short as they could get away with. Normally it takes five to ten years or more to develop vaccines that still cause demonstrable harm to many people and that's without including the long-term effects that are never officially connected to the vaccination. 'Covid' non-vaccines have been officially produced and approved in a matter of months from a standing start and part of the reason is that (a) they were developed before the 'Covid' hoax began and (b) they are based on computer programs and not natural sources. Official non-trials were so short that government agencies gave emergency, not full, approval. 'Trials' were not even completed and full approval cannot be secured until they are. Public 'Covid vaccination' is actually a continuation of the trial. Drug company 'trials' are not scheduled to end until 2023 by which time a lot of people are going to be dead. Data on which government agencies gave this emergency approval was supplied by the Big Pharma corporations themselves in the form of Pfizer/BioNTech, AstraZeneca, Moderna, Johnson & Johnson, and others, and this is the case with all vaccines. By its very nature emergency approval means drug companies do not have to prove that the 'vaccine' is 'safe and effective'. How could they with trials way short of complete? Government regulators only have to believe that they could be safe and effective. It is criminal manipulation to get products in circulation with no testing worth the name. Agencies giving that approval are infested with Big Pharma-connected place-people and they act in the interests of Big Pharma (the Cult) and not the public about whom they do not give a damn.

More human lab rats

'Covid vaccines' produced in record time by Pfizer/BioNTech and Moderna employ a technique never approved before for use on humans. They are known as mRNA 'vaccines' and inject a synthetic version of 'viral' mRNA or 'messenger RNA'. The key is in the term 'messenger'. The body works, or doesn't, on the basis of information messaging. Communications are constantly passing between and within the genetic system and the brain. Change those messages and you change the state of the body and even its very nature and you can change psychology and behaviour by the way the brain processes information. I think you are going to see significant changes in personality and perception of many people who have had the 'Covid vaccine' synthetic potions. Insider Aldous Huxley predicted the following in 1961 and mRNA 'vaccines' can be included in the term 'pharmacological methods':

There will be, in the next generation or so, a pharmacological method of making people love their servitude, and producing dictatorship without tears, so to speak, producing a kind of painless concentration camp for entire societies, so that people will in fact have their own liberties taken away from them, but rather enjoy it, because they will be distracted from any desire to rebel by propaganda or brainwashing, or brainwashing enhanced by pharmacological methods. And this seems to be the final revolution.

Apologists claim that mRNA synthetic 'vaccines' don't change the DNA genetic blueprint because RNA does not affect DNA only the other way round. This is so disingenuous. A process called 'reverse transcription' can convert RNA into DNA and be integrated into DNA in the cell nucleus. This was highlighted in December, 2020, by scientists at Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). Geneticists report that more than 40 percent of mammalian genomes results from reverse transcription. On the most basic level if messaging changes then that sequence must lead to changes in DNA which is receiving and transmitting those communications. How can introducing synthetic material into cells not change the cells where DNA is located? The process is known as transfection which is defined as 'a technique to insert foreign nucleic acid (DNA) or RNA) into a cell, typically with the intention of altering the properties of the cell'. Researchers at the Sloan Kettering Institute in New York found that changes in messenger RNA can deactivate tumour-suppressing proteins and thereby promote cancer. This is what happens when you mess with messaging. 'Covid vaccine' maker Moderna was founded in 2010 by Canadian stem cell biologist Derrick J. Rossi after his breakthrough discovery in the field of transforming and reprogramming stem cells. These are neutral cells that can be programmed to become any cell including sperm cells. Moderna was therefore founded on the principle of genetic manipulation and has never produced any vaccine or drug before its genetically-manipulating synthetic 'Covid' shite. Look at the name – Mode-RNA or Modify-RNA. Another important point is that the US Supreme Court has ruled that genetically-modified DNA, or complementary DNA (cDNA) synthesized in the laboratory from messenger RNA, can be patented and owned. These psychopaths are doing this to the human body.

Cells replicate synthetic mRNA in the 'Covid vaccines' and in theory the body is tricked into making antigens which trigger antibodies to target the 'virus spike proteins' which as Dr Tom Cowan said have never been seen. Cut the crap and these 'vaccines' deliver self-replicating synthetic material to the cells with the effect of changing human DNA. The more of them you have the more that process is compounded while synthetic material is all the time self-replicating. 'Vaccine'-maker Moderna describes mRNA as 'like software for the cell' and so they are messing with the body's software. What happens when you change the software in a computer? Everything changes. For this reason the Cult is preparing a production line of mRNA 'Covid vaccines' and a long list of excuses to use them as with all the 'variants' of a 'virus' never shown to exist. The plan is further to transfer the mRNA technique to other vaccines mostly given to children and young people. The cumulative consequences will be a transformation of human DNA through a constant infusion of synthetic genetic material which will kill many and change the rest. Now consider that governments that have given emergency approval for a vaccine that's not a vaccine; never been approved for humans before; had no testing worth the name; and the makers have been given immunity from prosecution for any deaths or adverse effects suffered by the public. The UK government awarded permanent legal indemnity to itself and its employees for harm done when a patient is being treated for 'Covid-19' or 'suspected Covid-19'. That is quite a thought when these are possible 'side-effects' from the 'vaccine' (they are not 'side', they are effects) listed by the US Food and Drug Administration:

Guillain-Barre syndrome; acute disseminated encephalomyelitis; transverse myelitis; encephalitis; myelitis; encephalomyelitis; meningoencephalitis; meningitis; encephalopathy; convulsions; seizures; stroke; narcolepsy; cataplexy; anaphylaxis; acute myocardial infarction (heart attack); myocarditis; pericarditis; autoimmune disease; death; implications for pregnancy, and birth outcomes; other acute demyelinating diseases; non anaphylactic allergy reactions; thrombocytopenia; disseminated intravascular coagulation; venous thromboembolism; arthritis; arthralgia; joint pain; Kawasaki disease; multisystem inflammatory syndrome in children; vaccine enhanced disease. The latter is the way the 'vaccine' has the potential to make diseases far worse than they would otherwise be.

UK doctor and freedom campaigner Vernon Coleman described the conditions in this list as 'all unpleasant, most of them very serious, and you can't get more serious than death'. The thought that anyone at all has had the 'vaccine' in these circumstances is testament to the potential that humanity has for clueless, unquestioning, stupidity and for many that programmed stupidity has already been terminal.

An insider speaks

Dr Michael Yeadon is a former Vice President, head of research and Chief Scientific Adviser at vaccine giant Pfizer. Yeadon worked on the inside of Big Pharma, but that did not stop him becoming a vocal critic of 'Covid vaccines' and their potential for multiple harms, including infertility in women. By the spring of 2021 he went much further and even used the no, no, term 'conspiracy'. When you begin to see what is going on it is impossible not to do so. Yeadon spoke out in an interview with freedom campaigner James Delingpole and I mentioned earlier how he said that no one had samples of 'the virus'. He explained that the mRNA technique originated in the anticancer field and ways to turn on and off certain genes which could be advantageous if you wanted to stop cancer growing out of control. 'That's the origin of them. They are a very unusual application, really.' Yeadon said that treating a cancer patient with an aggressive procedure might be understandable if the alternative was dying, but it was quite another thing to use the same technique as a public health measure. Most people involved wouldn't catch the infectious agent you were vaccinating against and if they did they probably wouldn't die:

If you are really using it as a public health measure you really want to as close as you can get to zero sides-effects ... I find it odd that they chose techniques that were really cutting their teeth in the field of oncology and I'm worried that in using gene-based vaccines that have to be injected in the body and spread around the body, get taken up into some cells, and the regulators haven't quite told us which cells they get taken up into ... you are going to be generating a wide range of responses ... with multiple steps each of which could go well or badly.

I doubt the Cult intends it to go well. Yeadon said that you can put any gene you like into the body through the 'vaccine'. 'You can certainly give them a gene that would do them some harm if you wanted.' I was intrigued when he said that when used in the cancer field the technique could turn genes on and off. I explore this process in The Answer and with different genes having different functions you could create mayhem – physically and psychologically – if you turned the wrong ones on and the right ones off. I read reports of an experiment by researchers at the University of Washington's school of computer science and engineering in which they encoded DNA to infect computers. The body is itself a biological computer and if human DNA can inflict damage on a computer why can't the computer via synthetic material mess with the human body? It can. The Washington research team said it was possible to insert malicious malware into 'physical DNA strands' and corrupt the computer system of a gene sequencing machine as it 'reads gene letters and stores them as binary digits 0 and 1'. They concluded that hackers could one day use blood or spit samples to access computer systems and obtain sensitive data from police forensics labs or infect genome files. It is at this level of digital interaction that synthetic 'vaccines' need to be seen to get the full picture and that will become very clear later on. Michael Yeadon said it made no sense to give the 'vaccine' to younger people who were in no danger from the 'virus'. What was the benefit? It was all downside with potential effects:

The fact that my government in what I thought was a civilised, rational country, is raining [the 'vaccine'] on people in their 30s and 40s, even my children in their 20s, they're getting letters and phone calls, I know this is not right and any of you doctors who are vaccinating you know it's not right, too. They are not at risk. They are not at risk from the disease, so you are now hoping that the side-effects are so rare that you get away with it. You don't give new technology ... that you don't understand to 100 percent of the population.

Blood clot problems with the AstraZeneca 'vaccine' have been affecting younger people to emphasise the downside risks with no benefit. AstraZeneca's version, produced with Oxford University, does not use mRNA, but still gets its toxic cocktail inside cells where it targets DNA. The Johnson & Johnson 'vaccine' which uses a similar technique has also produced blood clot effects to such an extent that the United States paused its use at one point. They are all 'gene therapy' (cell modification) procedures and not 'vaccines'. The truth is that once the content of these injections enter cells we have no idea what the effect will be. People can speculate and some can give very educated opinions and that's good. In the end, though, only the makers know what their potions are designed to do and even they won't know every last consequence. Michael Yeadon was scathing about doctors doing what they knew to be wrong. 'Everyone's mute', he said. Doctors in the NHS must know this was not right, coming into work and injecting people. 'I don't know how they sleep at night. I know I couldn't do it. I know that if I were in that position I'd have to quit.' He said he knew enough about toxicology to know this was not a good risk-benefit. Yeadon had spoken to seven or eight university professors and all except two would not speak out publicly. Their universities had a policy that no one said anything that countered the government and its medical advisors. They were afraid of losing their government grants. This is how intimidation has been used to silence the truth at every level of the system. I say silence, but these people could still speak out if they made that choice. Yeadon called them 'moral cowards' – 'This is about your children and grandchildren's lives and you have just buggered off and left it.'

Variant' nonsense

Some of his most powerful comments related to the alleged 'variants' being used to instil more fear, justify more lockdowns, and introduce more 'vaccines'. He said government claims about 'variants' were nonsense. He had checked the alleged variant 'codes' and they were 99.7 percent identical to the 'original'. This was the human identity difference equivalent to putting a baseball cap on and off or wearing it the other way round. A 0.3 percent difference would make it impossible for that 'variant' to escape immunity from the 'original'. This made no sense of having new 'vaccines' for

'variants'. He said there would have to be at least a 30 percent difference for that to be justified and even then he believed the immune system would still recognise what it was. Gates-funded 'variant modeller' and 'vaccine'-pusher John Edmunds might care to comment. Yeadon said drug companies were making new versions of the 'vaccine' as a 'top up' for 'variants'. Worse than that, he said, the 'regulators' around the world like the MHRA in the UK had got together and agreed that because 'vaccines' for 'variants' were so similar to the first 'vaccines' they did not have to do safety studies. How transparently sinister that is. This is when Yeadon said: 'There is a conspiracy here.' There was no need for another vaccine for 'variants' and yet we were told that there was and the country had shut its borders because of them. 'They are going into hundreds of millions of arms without passing 'go' or any regulator. Why did they do that? Why did they pick this method of making the vaccine?'

The reason had to be something bigger than that it seemed and 'it's not protection against the virus'. It's was a far bigger project that meant politicians and advisers were willing to do things and not do things that knowingly resulted in avoidable deaths – 'that's already happened when you think about lockdown and deprivation of health care for a year.' He spoke of people prepared to do something that results in the avoidable death of their fellow human beings and it not bother them. This is the penny-drop I have been working to get across for more than 30 years – the level of pure evil we are dealing with. Yeadon said his friends and associates could not believe there could be that much evil, but he reminded them of Stalin, Pol Pot and Hitler and of what Stalin had said: 'One death is a tragedy. A million? A statistic.' He could not think of a benign explanation for why you need top-up vaccines 'which I'm sure you don't' and for the regulators 'to just get out of the way and wave them through'. Why would the regulators do that when they were still wrestling with the dangers of the 'parent' vaccine? He was clearly shocked by what he had seen since the 'Covid' hoax began and now he was thinking the previously unthinkable:

If you wanted to depopulate a significant proportion of the world and to do it in a way that doesn't involve destruction of the environment with nuclear weapons, poisoning everyone with anthrax or something like that, and you wanted plausible deniability while you had a multi-year infectious disease crisis, I actually don't think you could come up with a better plan of work than seems to be in front of me. I can't say that's what they are going to do, but I can't think of a benign explanation why they are doing it.

He said he never thought that they would get rid of 99 percent of humans, but now he wondered. 'If you wanted to that this would be a hell of a way to do it – it would be unstoppable folks.' Yeadon had concluded that those who submitted to the 'vaccine' would be allowed to have some kind of normal life (but for how long?) while screws were tightened to coerce and mandate the last few percent. 'I think they'll put the rest of them in a prison camp. I wish I was wrong, but I don't think I am.' Other points he made included: There were no coronavirus vaccines then suddenly they all come along at the same time; we have no idea of the long term affect with trials so short; coercing or forcing people to have medical procedures is against the Nuremberg Code instigated when the Nazis did just that; people should at least delay having the 'vaccine'; a quick Internet search confirms that masks don't reduce respiratory viral transmission and 'the government knows that'; they have smashed civil society and they know that, too; two dozen peer-reviewed studies show no connection between lockdown and reducing deaths; he knew from personal friends the elite were still flying around and going on holiday while the public were locked down; the elite were not having the 'vaccines'. He was also asked if 'vaccines' could be made to target difference races. He said he didn't know, but the document by the Project for the New American Century in September, 2000, said developing 'advanced forms of biological warfare that can target specific genotypes may transform biological warfare from the realm of terror to a politically useful tool.' Oh, they're evil all right. Of that we can be absolutely sure.

Another cull of old people

We have seen from the CDC definition that the mRNA 'Covid vaccine' is not a vaccine and nor are the others that claim to reduce 'severity of symptoms' in some people, but not protect from infection or transmission. What about all the lies about returning to 'normal' if people were 'vaccinated'? If they are not claimed to stop infection and transmission of the alleged 'virus', how does anything change? This was all lies to manipulate people to take the jabs and we are seeing that now with masks and distancing still required for the 'vaccinated'. How did they think that elderly people with fragile health and immune responses were going to be affected by infusing their cells with synthetic material and other toxic substances? They knew that in the short and long term it would be devastating and fatal as the culling of the old that began with the first lockdowns was continued with the 'vaccine'. Death rates in care homes soared immediately residents began to be 'vaccinated' – infused with synthetic material. Brave and committed whistleblower nurses put their careers at risk by exposing this truth while the rest kept their heads down and their mouths shut to put their careers before those they are supposed to care for. A long-time American Certified Nursing Assistant who gave his name as James posted a video in which he described emotionally what happened in his care home when vaccination began. He said that during 2020 very few residents were sick with 'Covid' and no one died during the entire year; but shortly after the Pfizer mRNA injections 14 people died within two weeks and many others were near death. 'They're dropping like flies', he said. Residents who walked on their own before the shot could no longer and they had lost their ability to conduct an intelligent conversation. The home's management said the sudden deaths were caused by a 'super-spreader' of 'Covid-19'. Then how come, James asked, that residents who refused to take the injections were not sick? It was a case of inject the elderly with mRNA synthetic potions and blame their illness and death that followed on the 'virus'. James described what was happening in care homes as 'the greatest crime of genocide this country has ever seen'. Remember the NHS staff nurse from earlier who used the same word 'genocide' for what was happening with the 'vaccines' and that it was an 'act of human annihilation'. A UK care home whistleblower told a similar story to James about the effect of the 'vaccine' in deaths and 'outbreaks' of illness dubbed 'Covid' after getting the jab. She told how her care home management and staff had zealously imposed government regulations and no one was allowed to even question the official narrative let alone speak out against it. She said the NHS was even worse. Again we see the results of reframing. A worker at a local care home where I live said they had not had a single case of 'Covid' there for almost a year and when the residents were 'vaccinated' they had 19 positive cases in two weeks with eight dying.

It's not the 'vaccine' – honest

The obvious cause and effect was being ignored by the media and most of the public. Australia's health minister Greg Hunt (a former head of strategy at the World Economic Forum) was admitted to hospital after he had the 'vaccine'. He was suffering according to reports from the skin infection 'cellulitis' and it must have been a severe case to have warranted days in hospital. Immediately the authorities said this was nothing to do with the 'vaccine' when an effect of some vaccines is a 'cellulitis-like reaction'. We had families of perfectly healthy old people who died after the 'vaccine' saying that if only they had been given the 'vaccine' earlier they would still be alive. As a numbskull rating that is off the chart. A father of four 'died of Covid' at aged 48 when he was taken ill two days after having the 'vaccine'. The man, a health administrator, had been 'shielding during the pandemic' and had 'not really left the house' until he went for the 'vaccine'. Having the 'vaccine' and then falling ill and dying does not seem to have qualified as a possible cause and effect and 'Covid-19' went on his death certificate. His family said they had no idea how he 'caught the virus'. A family member said: 'Tragically, it could be that going for a vaccination ultimately led to him catching Covid ... The sad truth is that they are never going to know where it came from.' The family warned people to remember that the virus still existed and was 'very real'. So was their stupidity. Nurses and doctors who had the first round of the 'vaccine' were collapsing, dying and ending up in a hospital bed while they or their grieving relatives were saying they'd still have the 'vaccine' again despite what happened. I kid you not. You mean if your husband returned from the dead he'd have the same 'vaccine' again that killed him??

Doctors at the VCU Medical Center in Richmond, Virginia, said the Johnson & Johnson 'vaccine' was to blame for a man's skin peeling off. Patient Richard Terrell said: 'It all just happened so fast. My skin peeled off. It's still coming off on my hands now.' He said it was stinging, burning and itching and when he bent his arms and legs it was very painful with 'the skin swollen and rubbing against itself'. Pfizer/BioNTech and Moderna vaccines use mRNA to change the cell while the Johnson & Johnson version uses DNA in a process similar to AstraZeneca's technique. Johnson & Johnson and AstraZeneca have both had their 'vaccines' paused by many countries after causing serious blood problems. Terrell's doctor Fnu Nutan said he could have died if he hadn't got medical attention. It sounds terrible so what did Nutan and Terrell say about the 'vaccine' now? Oh, they still recommend that people have it. A nurse in a hospital bed 40 minutes after the vaccination and unable to swallow due to throat swelling was told by a doctor that he lost mobility in his arm for 36 hours following the vaccination. What did he say to the ailing nurse? 'Good for you for getting the vaccination.' We are dealing with a serious form of cognitive dissonance madness in both public and medical staff. There is a remarkable correlation between those having the 'vaccine' and trumpeting the fact and suffering bad happenings shortly afterwards. Witold Rogiewicz, a Polish doctor, made a video of his 'vaccination' and ridiculed those who were questioning its safety and the intentions of Bill Gates: 'Vaccinate yourself to protect yourself, your loved ones, friends and also patients. And to mention quickly I have info for anti-vaxxers and anti-Coviders if you want to contact Bill Gates you can do this through me.' He further ridiculed the dangers of 5G. Days later he was dead, but naturally the vaccination wasn't mentioned in the verdict of 'heart attack'.

Lies, lies and more lies

So many members of the human race have slipped into extreme states of insanity and unfortunately they include reframed doctors and nursing staff. Having a 'vaccine' and dying within minutes or hours is not considered a valid connection while death from any cause within 28 days or longer of a positive test with a test not testing for the 'virus' means 'Covid-19' goes on the death certificate. How could that 'vaccine'-death connection not have been made except by calculated deceit? US figures in the initial rollout period to February 12th, 2020, revealed that a third of the deaths reported to the CDC after 'Covid vaccines' happened within 48 hours. Five men in the UK suffered an 'extremely rare' blood clot problem after having the AstraZeneca 'vaccine', but no causal link was established said the Gates-funded Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency (MHRA) which had given the 'vaccine' emergency approval to be used. Former Pfizer executive Dr Michael Yeadon explained in his interview how the procedures could cause blood coagulation and clots. People who should have been at no risk were dying from blood clots in the brain and he said he had heard from medical doctor friends that people were suffering from skin bleeding and massive headaches. The AstraZeneca 'shot' was stopped by some 20 countries over the blood clotting issue and still the corrupt MHRA, the European Medicines Agency (EMA) and the World Health Organization said that it should continue to be given even though the EMA admitted that it 'still cannot rule out definitively' a link between blood clotting and the 'vaccine'. Later Marco Cavaleri, head of EMA vaccine strategy, said there was indeed a clear link between the 'vaccine' and thrombosis, but they didn't know why. So much for the trials showing the 'vaccine' is safe. Blood clots were affecting younger people who would be under virtually no danger from 'Covid' even if it existed which makes it all the more stupid and sinister.

The British government responded to public alarm by wheeling out June Raine, the terrifyingly weak infant school headmistress sound-alike who heads the UK MHRA drug 'regulator'. The idea that she would stand up to Big Pharma and government pressure is laughable and she told us that all was well in the same way that she did when allowing untested, never-used-on-humans-before, genetically-manipulating 'vaccines' to be exposed to the public in the first place. Mass lying is the new normal of the 'Covid' era. The MHRA later said 30 cases of rare blood clots had by then been connected with the AstraZeneca 'vaccine' (that means a lot more in reality) while stressing that the benefits of the jab in preventing 'Covid-19' outweighed any risks. A more ridiculous and disingenuous statement with callous disregard for human health it is hard to contemplate. Immediately after the mendacious 'all-clears' two hospital workers in Denmark experienced blood clots and cerebral haemorrhaging following the AstraZeneca jab and one died. Top Norwegian health official Pål Andre Holme said the 'vaccine' was the only common factor: 'There is nothing in the patient history of these individuals that can give such a powerful immune response ... I am confident that the antibodies that we have found are the cause, and I see no other explanation than it being the vaccine which triggers it.' Strokes, a clot or bleed in the brain, were clearly associated with the 'vaccine' from word of mouth and whistleblower reports. Similar consequences followed with all these 'vaccines' that we were told were so safe and as the numbers grew by the day it was clear we were witnessing human carnage.

Learning the hard way

A woman interviewed by UKColumn told how her husband suffered dramatic health effects after the vaccine when he'd been in good health all his life. He went from being a little unwell to losing all feeling in his legs and experiencing 'excruciating pain'. Misdiagnosis followed twice at Accident and Emergency (an 'allergy' and 'sciatica') before he was admitted to a neurology ward where doctors said his serious condition had been caused by the 'vaccine'. Another seven 'vaccinated' people were apparently being treated on the same ward for similar symptoms. The woman said he had the 'vaccine' because they believed media claims that it was safe. 'I didn't think the government would give out a vaccine that does this to somebody; I believed they would be bringing out a vaccination that would be safe.' What a tragic way to learn that lesson. Another woman posted that her husband was transporting stroke patients to hospital on almost every shift and when he asked them if they had been 'vaccinated' for 'Covid' they all replied 'yes'. One had a 'massive brain bleed' the day after his second dose. She said her husband reported the 'just been vaccinated' information every time to doctors in A and E only for them to ignore it, make no notes and appear annoyed that it was even mentioned. This particular report cannot be verified, but it expresses a common theme that confirms the monumental underreporting of 'vaccine' consequences. Interestingly as the 'vaccines' and their brain blood clot/stroke consequences began to emerge the UK National Health Service began a publicity campaign telling the public what to do in the event of a stroke. A Scottish NHS staff nurse who quit in disgust in March, 2021, said:

I have seen traumatic injuries from the vaccine, they're not getting reported to the yellow card [adverse reaction] scheme, they're treating the symptoms, not asking why, why it's happening. It's just treating the symptoms and when you speak about it you're dismissed like you're crazy, I'm not crazy, I'm not crazy because every other colleague I've spoken to is terrified to speak out, they've had enough.

Videos appeared on the Internet of people uncontrollably shaking after the 'vaccine' with no control over muscles, limbs and even their face. A Scottish mother broke out in a severe rash all over her body almost immediately after she was given the AstraZeneca 'vaccine'. The pictures were horrific. Leigh King, a 41-year-old hairdresser from Lanarkshire said: 'Never in my life was I prepared for what I was about to experience ... My skin was so sore and constantly hot ... I have never felt pain like this ...' But don't you worry, the 'vaccine' is perfectly safe. Then there has been the effect on medical staff who have been pressured to have the 'vaccine' by psychopathic 'health' authorities and government. A London hospital consultant who gave the name K. Polyakova wrote this to the British Medical Journal or BMJ:

I am currently struggling with ... the failure to report the reality of the morbidity caused by our current vaccination program within the health service and staff population. The levels of sickness after vaccination is unprecedented and staff are getting very sick and some with neurological symptoms which is having a huge impact on the health service function. Even the young and healthy are off for days, some for weeks, and some requiring medical treatment. Whole teams are being taken out as they went to get vaccinated together.

Mandatory vaccination in this instance is stupid, unethical and irresponsible when it comes to protecting our staff and public health. We are in the voluntary phase of vaccination, and encouraging staff to take an unlicensed product that is impacting on their immediate health ... it is clearly stated that these vaccine products do not offer immunity or stop transmission. In which case why are we doing it?

Not to protect health that's for sure. Medical workers are lauded by governments for agenda reasons when they couldn't give a toss about them any more than they can for the population in general. Schools across America faced the same situation as they closed due to the high number of teachers and other staff with bad reactions to the Pfizer/BioNTech, Moderna, and Johnson & Johnson 'Covid vaccines' all of which were linked to death and serious adverse effects. The BMJ took down the consultant's comments pretty quickly on the grounds that they were being used to spread 'disinformation'. They were exposing the truth about the 'vaccine' was the real reason. The cover-up is breathtaking.

Hiding the evidence

The scale of the 'vaccine' death cover-up worldwide can be confirmed by comparing official figures with the personal experience of the public. I heard of many people in my community who died immediately or soon after the vaccine that would never appear in the media or even likely on the official totals of 'vaccine' fatalities and adverse reactions when only about ten percent are estimated to be reported and I have seen some estimates as low as one percent in a Harvard study. In the UK alone by April 29th, 2021, some 757,654 adverse reactions had been officially reported from the Pfizer/BioNTech, Oxford/AstraZeneca and Moderna 'vaccines' with more than a thousand deaths linked to jabs and that means an estimated ten times this number in reality from a ten percent reporting rate percentage. That's seven million adverse reactions and 10,000 potential deaths and a one percent reporting rate would be ten times those figures. In 1976 the US government pulled the swine flu vaccine after 53 deaths. The UK data included a combined 10,000 eye disorders from the 'Covid vaccines' with more than 750 suffering visual impairment or blindness and again multiply by the estimated reporting percentages. As 'Covid cases' officially fell hospitals virtually empty during the 'Covid crisis' began to fill up with a range of other problems in the wake of the 'vaccine' rollout. The numbers across America have also been catastrophic. Deaths linked to all types of vaccine increased by 6,000 percent in the first quarter of 2021 compared with 2020. A 39-year-old woman from Ogden, Utah, died four days after receiving a second dose of Moderna's 'Covid vaccine' when her liver, heart and kidneys all failed despite the fact that she had no known medical issues or conditions. Her family sought an autopsy, but Dr Erik Christensen, Utah's chief medical examiner, said proving vaccine injury as a cause of death almost never happened. He could think of only one instance where an autopsy would name a vaccine as the official cause of death and that would be anaphylaxis where someone received a vaccine and died almost instantaneously. 'Short of that, it would be difficult for us to definitively say this is the vaccine,' Christensen said. If that is true this must be added to the estimated ten percent (or far less) reporting rate of vaccine deaths and serious reactions and the conclusion can only be that vaccine deaths and serious reactions – including these 'Covid' potions' – are phenomenally understated in official figures. The same story can be found everywhere. Endless accounts of deaths and serious reactions among the public, medical and care home staff while official figures did not even begin to reflect this.

Professional script-reader Dr David Williams, a 'top public-health official' in Ontario, Canada, insulted our intelligence by claiming only four serious adverse reactions and no deaths from the more than 380,000 vaccine doses then given. This bore no resemblance to what people knew had happened in their owns circles and we had Dirk Huyer in charge of getting millions vaccinated in Ontario while at the same time he was Chief Coroner for the province investigating causes of death including possible death from the vaccine. An aide said he had stepped back from investigating deaths, but evidence indicated otherwise. Rosemary Frei, who secured a Master of Science degree in molecular biology at the Faculty of Medicine at Canada's University of Calgary before turning to investigative journalism, was one who could see that official figures for 'vaccine' deaths and reactions made no sense. She said that doctors seldom reported adverse events and when people got really sick or died after getting a vaccination they would attribute that to anything except the vaccines. It had been that way for years and anyone who wondered aloud whether the 'Covid vaccines' or other shots cause harm is immediately branded as 'anti-vax' and 'anti-science'. This was 'career-threatening' for health professionals. Then there was the huge pressure to support the push to 'vaccinate' billions in the quickest time possible. Frei said:

So that's where we're at today. More than half a million vaccine doses have been given to people in Ontario alone. The rush is on to vaccinate all 15 million of us in the province by September. And the mainstream media are screaming for this to be sped up even more. That all adds up to only a very slim likelihood that we're going to be told the truth by officials about how many people are getting sick or dying from the vaccines.

What is true of Ontario is true of everywhere.

They KNEW – and still did it

The authorities knew what was going to happen with multiple deaths and adverse reactions. The UK government's Gates-funded and Big Pharma-dominated Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency (MHRA) hired a company to employ AI in compiling the projected reactions to the 'vaccine' that would otherwise be uncountable. The request for applications said: 'The MHRA urgently seeks an Artificial Intelligence (AI) software tool to process the expected high volume of Covid-19 vaccine Adverse Drug Reaction ...' This was from the agency, headed by the disingenuous June Raine, that gave the 'vaccines' emergency approval and the company was hired before the first shot was given. 'We are going to kill and maim you – is that okay?' 'Oh, yes, perfectly fine – I'm very grateful, thank you, doctor.' The range of 'Covid vaccine' adverse reactions goes on for page after page in the MHRA criminally underreported 'Yellow Card' system and includes affects to eyes, ears, skin, digestion, blood and so on. Raine's MHRA amazingly claimed that the 'overall safety experience ... is so far as expected from the clinical trials'. The death, serious adverse effects, deafness and blindness were expected? When did they ever mention that? If these human tragedies were expected then those that gave approval for the use of these 'vaccines' must be guilty of crimes against humanity including murder – a definition of which is 'killing a person with malice aforethought or with recklessness manifesting extreme indifference to the value of human life.' People involved at the MHRA, the CDC in America and their equivalent around the world must go before Nuremberg trials to answer for their callous inhumanity. We are only talking here about the immediate effects of the 'vaccine'. The longer-term impact of the DNA synthetic manipulation is the main reason they are so hysterically desperate to inoculate the entire global population in the shortest possible time.

Africa and the developing world are a major focus for the 'vaccine' depopulation agenda and a mass vaccination sales-pitch is underway thanks to caring people like the Rockefellers and other Cult assets. The Rockefeller Foundation, which pre-empted the 'Covid pandemic' in a document published in 2010 that 'predicted' what happened a decade later, announced an initial $34.95 million grant in February, 2021, 'to ensure more equitable access to Covid-19 testing and vaccines' among other things in Africa in collaboration with '24 organizations, businesses, and government agencies'. The pan-Africa initiative would focus on 10 countries: Burkina Faso, Ethiopia, Ghana, Kenya, Nigeria, Rwanda, South Africa, Tanzania, Uganda, and Zambia'. Rajiv Shah, President of the Rockefeller Foundation and former administrator of CIA-controlled USAID, said that if Africa was not mass-vaccinated (to change the DNA of its people) it was a 'threat to all of humanity' and not fair on Africans. When someone from the Rockefeller Foundation says they want to do something to help poor and deprived people and countries it is time for a belly-laugh. They are doing this out of the goodness of their 'heart' because 'vaccinating' the entire global population is what the 'Covid' hoax set out to achieve. Official 'decolonisation' of Africa by the Cult was merely a prelude to financial colonisation on the road to a return to physical colonisation. The 'vaccine' is vital to that and the sudden and convenient death of the 'Covid' sceptic president of Tanzania can be seen in its true light. A lot of people in Africa are aware that this is another form of colonisation and exploitation and they need to stand their ground.

The 'vaccine is working' scam

A potential problem for the Cult was that the 'vaccine' is meant to change human DNA and body messaging and not to protect anyone from a 'virus' never shown to exist. The vaccine couldn't work because it was not designed to work and how could they make it appear to be working so that more people would have it? This was overcome by lowering the amplification rate of the PCR test to produce fewer 'cases' and therefore fewer 'deaths'. Some of us had been pointing out since March, 2020, that the amplification rate of the test not testing for the 'virus' had been made artificially high to generate positive tests which they could call 'cases' to justify lockdowns. The World Health Organization recommended an absurdly high 45 amplification cycles to ensure the high positives required by the Cult and then remained silent on the issue until January 20th, 2021 – Biden's Inauguration Day. This was when the 'vaccinations' were seriously underway and on that day the WHO recommended after discussions with America's CDC that laboratories lowered their testing amplification. Dr David Samadi, a certified urologist and health writer, said the WHO was encouraging all labs to reduce their cycle count for PCR tests. He said the current cycle was much too high and was 'resulting in any particle being declared a positive case'. Even one mainstream news report I saw said this meant the number of 'Covid' infections may have been 'dramatically inflated'. Oh, just a little bit. The CDC in America issued new guidance to laboratories in April, 2021, to use 28 cycles but only for 'vaccinated' people. The timing of the CDC/WHO interventions were cynically designed to make it appear the 'vaccines' were responsible for falling cases and deaths when the real reason can be seen in the following examples. New York's state lab, the Wadsworth Center, identified 872 positive tests in July, 2020, based on a threshold of 40 cycles. When the figure was lowered to 35 cycles 43 percent of the 872 were no longer 'positives'. At 30 cycles the figure was 63 percent. A Massachusetts lab found that between 85 to 90 percent of people who tested positive in July with a cycle threshold of 40 would be negative at 30 cycles, Ashish Jha, MD, director of the Harvard Global Health Institute, said: 'I'm really shocked that it could be that high ... Boy, does it really change the way we need to be thinking about testing.' I'm shocked that I could see the obvious in the spring of 2020, with no medical background, and most medical professionals still haven't worked it out. No, that's not shocking – it's terrifying.

Three weeks after the WHO directive to lower PCR cycles the London Daily Mail ran this headline: 'Why ARE Covid cases plummeting? New infections have fallen 45% in the US and 30% globally in the past 3 weeks but experts say vaccine is NOT the main driver because only 8% of Americans and 13% of people worldwide have received their first dose.' They acknowledged that the drop could not be attributed to the 'vaccine', but soon this morphed throughout the media into the 'vaccine' has caused cases and deaths to fall when it was the PCR threshold. In December, 2020, there was chaos at English Channel ports with truck drivers needing negative 'Covid' tests before they could board a ferry home for Christmas. The government wanted to remove the backlog as fast as possible and they brought in troops to do the 'testing'. Out of 1,600 drivers just 36 tested positive and the rest were given the all clear to cross the Channel. I guess the authorities thought that 36 was the least they could get away with without the unquestioning catching on. The amplification trick which most people believed in the absence of information in the mainstream applied more pressure on those refusing the 'vaccine' to succumb when it 'obviously worked'. The truth was the exact opposite with deaths in care homes soaring with the 'vaccine' and in Israel the term used was 'skyrocket'. A reanalysis of published data from the Israeli Health Ministry led by Dr Hervé Seligmann at the Medicine Emerging Infectious and Tropical Diseases at Aix-Marseille University found that Pfizer's 'Covid vaccine' killed 'about 40 times more [elderly] people than the disease itself would have killed' during a five-week vaccination period and 260 times more younger people than would have died from the 'virus' even according to the manipulated 'virus' figures. Dr Seligmann and his co-study author, Haim Yativ, declared after reviewing the Israeli 'vaccine' death data: 'This is a new Holocaust.'

Then, in mid-April, 2021, after vast numbers of people worldwide had been 'vaccinated', the story changed with clear coordination. The UK government began to prepare the ground for more future lockdowns when Nuremberg-destined Boris Johnson told yet another whopper. He said that cases had fallen because of lockdowns not 'vaccines'. Lockdowns are irrelevant when there is no 'virus' and the test and fraudulent death certificates are deciding the number of 'cases' and 'deaths'. Study after study has shown that lockdowns don't work and instead kill and psychologically destroy people. Meanwhile in the United States Anthony Fauci and Rochelle Walensky, the ultra-Zionist head of the CDC, peddled the same line. More lockdown was the answer and not the 'vaccine', a line repeated on cue by the moron that is Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau. Why all the hysteria to get everyone 'vaccinated' if lockdowns and not 'vaccines' made the difference? None of it makes sense on the face of it. Oh, but it does. The Cult wants lockdowns and the 'vaccine' and if the 'vaccine' is allowed to be seen as the total answer lockdowns would no longer be justified when there are still livelihoods to destroy. 'Variants' and renewed upward manipulation of PCR amplification are planned to instigate never-ending lockdown and more 'vaccines'.

You must have it – we're desperate

Israel, where the Jewish and Arab population are ruled by the Sabbatian Cult, was the front-runner in imposing the DNAmanipulating 'vaccine' on its people to such an extent that Jewish refusers began to liken what was happening to the early years of Nazi Germany. This would seem to be a fantastic claim. Why would a government of Jewish people be acting like the Nazis did? If you realise that the Sabbatian Cult was behind the Nazis and that Sabbatians hate Jews the pieces start to fit and the question of why a 'Jewish' government would treat Jews with such callous disregard for their lives and freedom finds an answer. Those controlling the government of Israel aren't Jewish – they're Sabbatian. Israeli lawyer Tamir Turgal was one who made the Nazi comparison in comments to German lawyer Reiner Fuellmich who is leading a class action lawsuit against the psychopaths for crimes against humanity. Turgal described how the Israeli government was vaccinating children and pregnant women on the basis that there was no evidence that this was dangerous when they had no evidence that it wasn't dangerous either. They just had no evidence. This was medical experimentation and Turgal said this breached the Nuremberg Code about medical experimentation and procedures requiring informed consent and choice. Think about that. A Nuremberg Code developed because of Nazi experimentation on Jews and others in concentration camps by people like the evil-beyond-belief Josef Mengele is being breached by the Israeli government; but when you know that it's a Sabbatian government along with its intelligence and military agencies like Mossad, Shin Bet and the Israeli Defense Forces, and that Sabbatians were the force behind the Nazis, the kaleidoscope comes into focus. What have we come to when Israeli Jews are suing their government for violating the Nuremberg Code by essentially making Israelis subject to a medical experiment using the controversial 'vaccines'? It's a shocker that this has to be done in the light of what happened in Nazi Germany. The Anshe Ha-Emet, or 'People of the Truth', made up of Israeli doctors, lawyers, campaigners and public, have launched a lawsuit with the International Criminal Court. It says:

When the heads of the Ministry of Health as well as the prime minister presented the vaccine in Israel and began the vaccination of Israeli residents, the vaccinated were not advised, that, in practice, they are taking part in a medical experiment and that their consent is required for this under the Nuremberg Code.

The irony is unbelievable, but easily explained in one word: Sabbatians. The foundation of Israeli 'Covid' apartheid is the 'green pass' or 'green passport' which allows Jews and Arabs who have had the DNA-manipulating 'vaccine' to go about their lives – to work, fly, travel in general, go to shopping malls, bars, restaurants, hotels, concerts, gyms, swimming pools, theatres and sports venues, while non-'vaccinated' are banned from all those places and activities. Israelis have likened the 'green pass' to the yellow stars that Jews in Nazi Germany were forced to wear – the same as the yellow stickers that a branch of UK supermarket chain Morrisons told exempt mask-wears they had to display when shopping. How very sensitive. The Israeli system is blatant South African-style apartheid on the basis of compliance or non-compliance to fascism rather than colour of the skin. How appropriate that the Sabbatian Israeli government was so close to the pre-Mandela apartheid regime in Pretoria. The Sabbatian-instigated 'vaccine passport' in Israel is planned for everywhere. Sabbatians struck a deal with Pfizer that allowed them to lead the way in the percentage of a national population infused with synthetic material and the result was catastrophic. Israeli freedom activist Shai Dannon told me how chairs were appearing on beaches that said 'vaccinated only'. Health Minister Yuli Edelstein said that anyone unwilling or unable to get the jabs that 'confer immunity' will be 'left behind'. The man's a liar. Not even the makers claim the 'vaccines' confer immunity. When you see those figures of 'vaccine' deaths these psychopaths were saying that you must take the chance the 'vaccine' will kill you or maim you while knowing it will change your DNA or lockdown for you will be permanent. That's fascism. The Israeli parliament passed a law to allow personal information of the non-vaccinated to be shared with local and national authorities for three months. This was claimed by its supporters to be a way to 'encourage' people to be vaccinated. Hadas Ziv from Physicians for Human Rights described this as a 'draconian law which crushed medical ethics and the patient rights'. But that's the idea, the Sabbatians would reply.

Your papers, please

Sabbatian Israel was leading what has been planned all along to be a global 'vaccine pass' called a 'green passport' without which you would remain in permanent lockdown restriction and unable to do anything. This is how badly – desperately – the Cult is to get everyone 'vaccinated'. The term and colour 'green' was not by chance and related to the psychology of fusing the perception of the green climate hoax with the 'Covid' hoax and how the 'solution' to both is the same Great Reset. Lying politicians, health officials and psychologists denied there were any plans for mandatory vaccinations or restrictions based on vaccinations, but they knew that was exactly what was meant to happen with governments of all countries reaching agreements to enforce a global system. 'Free' Denmark and 'free' Sweden unveiled digital vaccine certification. Cyprus, Czech Republic, Estonia, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Italy, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia, and Spain have all committed to a vaccine passport system and the rest including the whole of the EU would follow. The satanic UK government will certainly go this way despite mendacious denials and at the time of writing it is trying to manipulate the public into having the 'vaccine' so they could go abroad on a summer holiday. How would that work without something to prove you had the synthetic toxicity injected into you?

Documents show that the EU's European Commission was moving towards 'vaccine certificates' in 2018 and 2019 before the 'Covid' hoax began. They knew what was coming. Abracadabra – Ursula von der Leyen, the German President of the Commission, announced in March, 2021, an EU 'Digital Green Certificate' – green again – to track the public's 'Covid status'. The passport sting is worldwide and the Far East followed the same pattern with South Korea ruling that only those with 'vaccination' passports – again the green pass – would be able to 'return to their daily lives'.

Bill Gates has been preparing for this 'passport' with other Cult operatives for years and beyond the paper version is a Gates-funded 'digital tattoo' to identify who has been vaccinated and who hasn't. The 'tattoo' is reported to include a substance which is externally readable to confirm who has been vaccinated. This is a bio-luminous light-generating enzyme (think fireflies) called ... Luciferase. Yes, named after the Cult 'god' Lucifer the 'light bringer' of whom more to come. Gates said he funded the readable tattoo to ensure children in the developing world were vaccinated and no one was missed out. He cares so much about poor kids as we know. This was just the cover story to develop a vaccine tagging system for everyone on the planet. Gates has been funding the ID2020 'alliance' to do just that in league with other lovely people at Microsoft, GAVI, the Rockefeller Foundation, Accenture and IDEO.org. He said in interviews in March, 2020, before any 'vaccine' publicly existed, that the world must have a globalised digital certificate to track the 'virus' and who had been vaccinated. Gates knew from the start that the mRNA vaccines were coming and when they would come and that the plan was to tag the 'vaccinated' to marginalise the intelligent and stop them doing anything including travel. Evil just doesn't suffice. Gates was exposed for offering a $10 million bribe to the Nigerian House of Representatives to invoke compulsory 'Covid' vaccination of all Nigerians. Sara Cunial, a member of the Italian Parliament, called Gates a 'vaccine criminal'. She urged the Italian President to hand him over to the International Criminal Court for crimes against humanity and condemned his plans to 'chip the human race' through ID2020.

You know it's a long-planned agenda when war criminal and Cult gofer Tony Blair is on the case. With the scale of arrogance only someone as dark as Blair can muster he said: 'Vaccination in the end is going to be your route to liberty.' Blair is a disgusting piece of work and he confirms that again. The media has given a lot of coverage to a bloke called Charlie Mullins, founder of London's biggest independent plumbing company, Pimlico Plumbers, who has said he won't employ anyone who has not been vaccinated or have them go to any home where people are not vaccinated. He said that if he had his way no one would be allowed to walk the streets if they have not been vaccinated. Gates was cheering at the time while I was alerting the white coats. The plan is that people will qualify for 'passports' for having the first two doses and then to keep it they will have to have all the follow ups and new ones for invented 'variants' until human genetics is transformed and many are dead who can't adjust to the changes. Hollywood celebrities – the usual propaganda stunt – are promoting something called the WELL Health-Safety Rating to verify that a building or space has 'taken the necessary steps to prioritize the health and safety of their staff, visitors and other stakeholders'. They included Lady Gaga, Jennifer Lopez, Michael B. Jordan, Robert DeNiro, Venus Williams, Wolfgang Puck, Deepak Chopra and 17th Surgeon General Richard Carmona. Yawn. WELL Health-Safety has big connections with China. Parent company Delos is headed by former Goldman Sachs partner Paul Scialla. This is another example – and we will see so many others – of using the excuse of 'health' to dictate the lives and activities of the population. I guess one confirmation of the 'safety' of buildings is that only 'vaccinated' people can go in, right?

Electronic concentration camps

I wrote decades ago about the plans to restrict travel and here we are for those who refuse to bow to tyranny. This can be achieved in one go with air travel if the aviation industry makes a blanket decree.

The 'vaccine' and guaranteed income are designed to be part of a global version of China's social credit system which tracks behaviour 24/7 and awards or deletes 'credits' based on whether your behaviour is supported by the state or not. I mean your entire lifestyle – what you do, eat, say, everything. Once your credit score falls below a certain level consequences kick in. In China tens of millions have been denied travel by air and train because of this. All the locations and activities denied to refusers by the 'vaccine' passports will be included in one big mass ban on doing almost anything for those that don't bow their head to government. It's beyond fascist and a new term is required to describe its extremes – I guess fascist technocracy will have to do. The way the Chinese system of technological – technocratic – control is sweeping the West can be seen in the Los Angeles school system and is planned to be expanded worldwide. Every child is required to have a 'Covid'tracking app scanned daily before they can enter the classroom. The so-called Daily Pass tracking system is produced by Gates' Microsoft which I'm sure will shock you rigid. The pass will be scanned using a barcode (one step from an inside-the-body barcode) and the information will include health checks, 'Covid' tests and vaccinations. Entry codes are for one specific building only and access will only be allowed if a student or teacher has a negative test with a test not testing for the 'virus', has no symptoms of anything alleged to be related to 'Covid' (symptoms from a range of other illness), and has a temperature under 100 degrees. No barcode, no entry, is planned to be the case for everywhere and not only schools.

Kids are being psychologically prepared to accept this as 'normal' their whole life which is why what they can impose in schools is so important to the Cult and its gofers. Long-time American freedom campaigner John Whitehead of the Rutherford Institute was not exaggerating when he said: 'Databit by databit, we are building our own electronic concentration camps.' Canada under its Cult gofer prime minister Justin Trudeau has taken a major step towards the real thing with people interned against their will if they test positive with a test not testing for the 'virus' when they arrive at a Canadian airport. They are jailed in internment hotels often without food or water for long periods and with many doors failing to lock there have been sexual assaults. The interned are being charged sometimes $2,000 for the privilege of being abused in this way. Trudeau is fully on board with the Cult and says the 'Covid pandemic' has provided an opportunity for a global 'reset' to permanently change Western civilisation. His number two, Deputy Prime Minister Chrystia Freeland, is a trustee of the World Economic Forum and a Rhodes Scholar. The Trudeau family have long been servants of the Cult. See The Biggest Secret and Cathy O'Brien's book Trance-Formation of America for the horrific background to Trudeau's father Pierre Trudeau another Canadian prime minister. Hide your fascism behind the façade of a heart-on-the-sleeve liberal. It's a well-honed Cult technique.

What can the 'vaccine' really do?

We have a 'virus' never shown to exist and 'variants' of the 'virus' that have also never been shown to exist except, like the 'original', as computer-generated fictions. Even if you believe there's a 'virus' the 'case' to 'death' rate is in the region of 0.23 to 0.15 percent and those 'deaths' are concentrated among the very old around the same average age that people die anyway. In response to this lack of threat (in truth none) psychopaths and idiots, knowingly and unknowingly answering to Gates and the Cult, are seeking to 'vaccinate' every man, woman and child on Planet Earth. Clearly the 'vaccine' is not about 'Covid' – none of this ever has been. So what is it all about really? Why the desperation to infuse genetically-manipulating synthetic material into everyone through mRNA fraudulent 'vaccines' with the intent of doing this over and over with the excuses of 'variants' and other 'virus' inventions? Dr Sherri Tenpenny, an osteopathic medical doctor in the United States, has made herself an expert on vaccines and their effects as a vehement campaigner against their use. Tenpenny was board certified in emergency medicine, the director of a level two trauma centre for 12 years, and moved to Cleveland in 1996 to start an integrative medicine practice which has treated patients from all 50 states and some 17 other countries. Weaning people off pharmaceutical drugs is a speciality.

She became interested in the consequences of vaccines after attending a meeting at the National Vaccine Information Center in Washington DC in 2000 where she 'sat through four days of listening to medical doctors and scientists and lawyers and parents of vaccine injured kids' and asked: 'What's going on?' She had never been vaccinated and never got ill while her father was given a list of vaccines to be in the military and was 'sick his entire life'. The experience added to her questions and she began to examine vaccine documents from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC). After reading the first one, the 1998 version of The General Recommendations of Vaccination, she thought: 'This is it?' The document was poorly written and bad science and Tenpenny began 20 years of research into vaccines that continues to this day. She began her research into 'Covid vaccines' in March, 2020, and she describes them as 'deadly'. For many, as we have seen, they already have been. Tenpenny said that in the first 30 days of the 'vaccine' rollout in the United States there had been more than 40,000 adverse events reported to the vaccine adverse event database. A document had been delivered to her the day before that was 172 pages long. 'We have over 40,000 adverse events; we have over 3,100 cases of [potentially deadly] anaphylactic shock; we have over 5,000 neurological reactions.' Effects ranged from headaches to numbness, dizziness and vertigo, to losing feeling in hands or feet and paraesthesia which is when limbs 'fall asleep' and people have the sensation of insects crawling underneath their skin. All this happened in the first 30 days and remember that only about ten percent (or far less) of adverse reactions and vaccine-related deaths are estimated to be officially reported. Tenpenny said:

So can you think of one single product in any industry, any industry, for as long as products have been made on the planet that within 30 days we have 40,000 people complaining of side effects that not only is still on the market but ... we've got paid actors telling us how great they are for getting their vaccine. We're offering people $500 if they will just get their vaccine and we've got nurses and doctors going; 'I got the vaccine, I got the vaccine'.

Tenpenny said they were not going to be 'happy dancing folks' when they began to suffer Bell's palsy (facial paralysis), neuropathies, cardiac arrhythmias and autoimmune reactions that kill through a blood disorder. 'They're not going to be so happy, happy then, but we're never going to see pictures of those people' she said. Tenpenny described the 'vaccine' as 'a well-designed killing tool'.

No off-switch

Bad as the initial consequences had been Tenpenny said it would be maybe 14 months before we began to see the 'full ravage' of what is going to happen to the 'Covid vaccinated' with full-out consequences taking anything between two years and 20 years to show. You can understand why when you consider that variations of the 'Covid vaccine' use mRNA (messenger RNA) to in theory activate the immune system to produce protective antibodies without using the actual 'virus'. How can they when it's a computer program and they've never isolated what they claim is the 'real thing'? Instead they use synthetic mRNA. They are inoculating synthetic material into the body which through a technique known as the Trojan horse is absorbed into cells to change the nature of DNA. Human DNA is changed by an infusion of messenger RNA and with each new 'vaccine' of this type it is changed even more. Say so and you are banned by Cult Internet platforms. The contempt the contemptuous Mark Zuckerberg has for the truth and human health can be seen in an internal Facebook video leaked to the Project Veritas investigative team in which he said of the 'Covid vaccines': '... I share some caution on this because we just don't know the long term side-effects of basically modifying people's DNA and RNA.' At the same time this disgusting man's Facebook was censoring and banning anyone saying exactly the same. He must go before a Nuremberg trial for crimes against humanity when he knows that he is censoring legitimate concerns and denying the right of informed consent on behalf of the Cult that owns him. People have been killed and damaged by the very 'vaccination' technique he cast doubt on himself when they may not have had the 'vaccine' with access to information that he denied them. The plan is to have at least annual 'Covid vaccinations', add others to deal with invented 'variants', and change all other vaccines into the mRNA system. Pfizer executives told shareholders at a virtual Barclays Global Healthcare Conference in March, 2021, that the public may need a third dose of 'Covid vaccine', plus regular yearly boosters and the company planned to hike prices to milk the profits in a 'significant opportunity for our vaccine'. These are the professional liars, cheats and opportunists who are telling you their 'vaccine' is safe. Given this volume of mRNA planned to be infused into the human body and its ability to then replicate we will have a transformation of human genetics from biological to synthetic biological – exactly the long-time Cult plan for reasons we'll see - and many will die. Sherri Tenpenny said of this replication:

It's like having an on-button but no off-button and that whole mechanism ... they actually give it a name and they call it the Trojan horse mechanism, because it allows that [synthetic] virus and that piece of that [synthetic] virus to get inside of your cells, start to replicate and even get inserted into other parts of your DNA as a Trojan-horse.

Ask the overwhelming majority of people who have the 'vaccine' what they know about the contents and what they do and they would reply: 'The government says it will stop me getting the virus.' Governments give that false impression on purpose to increase take-up. You can read Sherri Tenpenny's detailed analysis of the health consequences in her blog at Vaxxter.com, but in summary these are some of them. She highlights the statement by Bill Gates about how human beings can become their own 'vaccine manufacturing machine'. The man is insane. ['Vaccine'-generated] 'antibodies' carry synthetic messenger RNA into the cells and the damage starts, Tenpenny contends, and she says that lungs can be adversely affected through varying degrees of pus and bleeding which obviously affects breathing and would be dubbed 'Covid-19'. Even more sinister was the impact of 'antibodies' on macrophages, a white blood cell of the immune system. They consist of Type 1 and Type 2 which have very different functions. She said Type 1 are 'hypervigilant' white blood cells which 'gobble up' bacteria etc. However, in doing so, this could cause inflammation and in extreme circumstances be fatal. She says these affects are mitigated by Type 2 macrophages which kick in to calm down the system and stop it going rogue. They clear up dead tissue debris and reduce inflammation that the Type 1 'fire crews' have caused. Type 1 kills the infection and Type 2 heals the damage, she says. This is her punchline with regard to 'Covid vaccinations': She says that mRNA 'antibodies' block Type 2 macrophages by attaching to them and deactivating them. This meant that when the Type 1 response was triggered by infection there was nothing to stop that getting out of hand by calming everything down. There's an on-switch, but no offswitch, she says. What follows can be 'over and out, see you when I see you'.

Genetic suicide

Tenpenny also highlights the potential for autoimmune disease – the body attacking itself – which has been associated with vaccines since they first appeared. Infusing a synthetic foreign substance into cells could cause the immune system to react in a panic believing that the body is being overwhelmed by an invader (it is) and the consequences can again be fatal. There is an autoimmune response known as a 'cytokine storm' which I have likened to a homeowner panicked by an intruder and picking up a gun to shoot randomly in all directions before turning the fire on himself. The immune system unleashes a storm of inflammatory response called cytokines to a threat and the body commits hara-kiri. The lesson is that you mess with the body's immune response at your peril and these 'vaccines' seriously – fundamentally – mess with immune response. Tenpenny refers to a consequence called anaphylactic shock which is a severe and highly dangerous allergic reaction when the immune system floods the body with chemicals. She gives the example of having a bee sting which primes the immune system and makes it sensitive to those chemicals. When people are stung again maybe years later the immune response can be so powerful that it leads to anaphylactic shock. Tenpenny relates this 'shock' with regard to the 'Covid vaccine' to something called polyethylene glycol or PEG. Enormous numbers of people have become sensitive to this over decades of use in a whole range of products and processes including food, drink, skin creams and 'medicine'. Studies have claimed that some 72 percent of people have antibodies triggered by PEG compared with two percent in the 1960s and allergic hypersensitive reactions to this become a gathering cause for concern. Tenpenny points out that the 'mRNA vaccine' is coated in a 'bubble' of polyethylene glycol which has the potential to cause anaphylactic shock through immune sensitivity. Many reports have appeared of people reacting this way after having the 'Covid vaccine'. What do we think is going to happen as humanity has more and more of these 'vaccines'? Tenpenny said: 'All these pictures we have seen with people with these rashes ... these weepy rashes, big reactions on their arms and things like that – it's an acute allergic reaction most likely to the polyethylene glycol that you've been previously primed and sensitised to.'

Those who have not studied the conspiracy and its perpetrators at length might think that making the population sensitive to PEG and then putting it in these 'vaccines' is just a coincidence. It is not. It is instead testament to how carefully and coldly-planned current events have been and the scale of the conspiracy we are dealing with. Tenpenny further explains that the 'vaccine' mRNA procedure can breach the blood-brain barrier which protects the brain from toxins and other crap that will cause malfunction. In this case they could make two proteins corrupt brain function to cause Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) , a progressive nervous system disease leading to loss of muscle control, and frontal lobe degeneration – Alzheimer's and dementia. Immunologist J. Bart Classon published a paper connecting mRNA 'vaccines' to prion disease which can lead to Alzheimer's and other forms of neurogenerative disease while others have pointed out the potential to affect the placenta in ways that make women infertile. This will become highly significant in the next chapter when I will discuss other aspects of this non-vaccine that relate to its nanotechnology and transmission from the injected to the uninjected.

Qualified in idiocy

Tenpenny describes how research has confirmed that these 'vaccine'-generated antibodies can interact with a range of other tissues in the body and attack many other organs including the lungs. 'This means that if you have a hundred people standing in front of you that all got this shot they could have a hundred different symptoms.' Anyone really think that Cult gofers like the Queen, Tony Blair, Christopher Whitty, Anthony Fauci, and all the other psychopaths have really had this 'vaccine' in the pictures we've seen? Not a bloody chance. Why don't doctors all tell us about all these dangers and consequences of the 'Covid vaccine'? Why instead do they encourage and pressure patients to have the shot? Don't let's think for a moment that doctors and medical staff can't be stupid, lazy, and psychopathic and that's without the financial incentives to give the jab. Tenpenny again:

Some people are going to die from the vaccine directly but a large number of people are going to start to get horribly sick and get all kinds of autoimmune diseases 42 days to maybe a year out. What are they going to do, these stupid doctors who say; 'Good for you for getting that vaccine.' What are they going to say; 'Oh, it must be a mutant, we need to give an extra dose of that vaccine.'

Because now the vaccine, instead of one dose or two doses we need three or four because the stupid physicians aren't taking the time to learn anything about it. If I can learn this sitting in my living room reading a 19 page paper and several others so can they. There's nothing special about me, I just take the time to do it.

Remember how Sara Kayat, the NHS and TV doctor, said that the 'Covid vaccine' would '100 percent prevent hospitalisation and death'. Doctors can be idiots like every other profession and they should not be worshipped as infallible. They are not and far from it. Behind many medical and scientific 'experts' lies an uninformed prat trying to hide themselves from you although in the 'Covid' era many have failed to do so as with UK narrative-repeating 'TV doctor' Hilary Jones. Pushing back against the minority of proper doctors and scientists speaking out against the 'vaccine' has been the entire edifice of the Cult global state in the form of governments, medical systems, corporations, mainstream media, Silicon Valley, and an army of compliant doctors, medical staff and scientists willing to say anything for money and to enhance their careers by promoting the party line. If you do that you are an 'expert' and if you won't you are an 'anti-vaxxer' and 'Covidiot'. The pressure to be 'vaccinated' is incessant. We have even had reports claiming that the 'vaccine' can help cure cancer and Alzheimer's and make the lame walk. I am waiting for the announcement that it can bring you coffee in the morning and cook your tea. Just as the symptoms of 'Covid' seem to increase by the week so have the miracles of the 'vaccine'. American supermarket giant Kroger Co. offered nearly 500,000 employees in 35 states a $100 bonus for having the 'vaccine' while donut chain Krispy Kreme promised 'vaccinated' customers a free glazed donut every day for the rest of 2021. Have your DNA changed and you will get a doughnut although we might not have to give you them for long. Such offers and incentives confirm the desperation.

Perhaps the worse vaccine-stunt of them all was UK 'Health' Secretary Matt-the-prat Hancock on live TV after watching a clip of someone being 'vaccinated' when the roll-out began. Hancock faked tears so badly it was embarrassing. Brain-of-Britain Piers Morgan, the lockdown-supporting, 'vaccine' supporting, 'vaccine' passport-supporting, TV host played along with Hancock – 'You're quite emotional about that' he said in response to acting so atrocious it would have been called out at a school nativity which will presumably today include Mary and Jesus in masks, wise men keeping their camels six feet apart, and shepherds under tent arrest. System-serving Morgan tweeted this: 'Love the idea of covid vaccine passports for everywhere: flights, restaurants, clubs, football, gyms, shops etc. It's time covid-denying, anti-vaxxer loonies had their bullsh*t bluff called & bar themselves from going anywhere that responsible citizens go.' If only I could aspire to his genius. To think that Morgan, who specialises in shouting over anyone he disagrees with, was lauded as a free speech hero when he lost his job after storming off the set of his live show like a child throwing his dolly out of the pram. If he is a free speech hero we are in real trouble. I have no idea what 'bullsh*t' means, by the way, the * throws me completely.

The Cult is desperate to infuse its synthetic DNA-changing concoction into everyone and has been using every lie, trick and intimidation to do so. The question of 'Why?' we shall now address.

CHAPTER TEN

I believe that at the end of the century the use of words and general educated opinion will have altered so much that one will be able to speak of machines thinking without expecting to be contradicted – Alan Turing (1912-1954), the 'Father of artificial intelligence' have been exposing for decades the plan to transform the human body from a biological to a synthetic-biological state. The new human that I will call Human 2.0 is planned to be connected to artificial intelligence and a global AI 'Smart Grid' that would operate as one global system in which AI would control everything from your fridge to your heating system to your car to your mind. Humans would no longer be 'human', but post-human and subhuman, with their thinking and emotional processes replaced by AI.

What I said sounded crazy and beyond science fiction and I could understand that. To any balanced, rational, mind it is crazy. Today, however, that world is becoming reality and it puts the 'Covid vaccine' into its true context. Ray Kurzweil is the ultra-Zionist 'computer scientist, inventor and futurist' and co-founder of the Singularity University. Singularity refers to the merging of humans with machines or 'transhumanism'. Kurzweil has said humanity would be connected to the cyber 'cloud' in the period of the ever-recurring year of 2030:

Our thinking ... will be a hybrid of biological and non-biological thinking ... humans will be able to extend their limitations and 'think in the cloud' ... We're going to put gateways to the cloud in our brains ... We're going to gradually merge and enhance ourselves ... In my view, that's the nature of being human – we transcend our limitations. As the technology becomes vastly superior to what we are then the small proportion that is still human gets smaller and smaller until it's just utterly negligible.

They are trying to sell this end-of-humanity-as-we-know-it as the next stage of 'evolution' when we become super-human and 'like the gods'. They are lying to you. Shocked, eh? The population, and again especially the young, have been manipulated into addiction to technologies designed to enslave them for life. First they induced an addiction to smartphones (holdables); next they moved to technology on the body (wearables); and then began the invasion of the body (implantables). I warned way back about the plan for microchipped people and we are now entering that era. We should not be diverted into thinking that this refers only to chips we can see. Most important are the nanochips known as smart dust, neural dust and nanobots which are far too small to be seen by the human eye. Nanotechnology is everywhere, increasingly in food products, and released into the atmosphere by the geoengineering of the skies funded by Bill Gates to 'shut out the Sun' and 'save the planet from global warming'. Gates has been funding a project to spray millions of tonnes of chalk (calcium carbonate) into the stratosphere over Sweden to 'dim the Sun' and cool the Earth. Scientists warned the move could be disastrous for weather systems in ways no one can predict and opposition led to the Swedish space agency announcing that the 'experiment' would not be happening as planned in the summer of 2021; but it shows where the Cult is going with dimming the impact of the Sun and there's an associated plan to change the planet's atmosphere. Who gives psychopath Gates the right to dictate to the entire human race and dismantle planetary systems? The world will not be safe while this man is at large.

The global warming hoax has made the Sun, like the gas of life, something to fear when both are essential to good health and human survival (more inversion). The body transforms sunlight into vital vitamin D through a process involving ... cholesterol. This is the cholesterol we are also told to fear. We are urged to take Big Pharma statin drugs to reduce cholesterol and it's all systematic. Reducing cholesterol means reducing vitamin D uptake with all the multiple health problems that will cause. At least if you take statins long term it saves the government from having to pay you a pension. The delivery system to block sunlight is widely referred to as chemtrails although these have a much deeper agenda, too. They appear at first to be contrails or condensation trails streaming from aircraft into cold air at high altitudes. Contrails disperse very quickly while chemtrails do not and spread out across the sky before eventually their content falls to earth. Many times I have watched aircraft crosscross a clear blue sky releasing chemtrails until it looks like a cloudy day. Chemtrails contain many things harmful to humans and the natural world including toxic heavy metals, aluminium (see Alzheimer's) and nanotechnology. Ray Kurzweil reveals the reason without actually saying so: 'Nanobots will infuse all the matter around us with information. Rocks, trees, everything will become these intelligent creatures.' How do you deliver that? From the sky. Self-replicating nanobots would connect everything to the Smart Grid. The phenomenon of Morgellons disease began in the chemtrail era and the correlation has led to it being dubbed the 'chemtrail disease'. Self-replicating fibres appear in the body that can be pulled out through the skin. Morgellons fibres continue to grow outside the body and have a form of artificial intelligence. I cover this at greater length in Phantom Self.

Vaccine' operating system

'Covid vaccines' with their self-replicating synthetic material are also designed to make the connection between humanity and Kurzweil's 'cloud'. American doctor and dedicated campaigner for truth, Carrie Madej, an Internal Medicine Specialist in Georgia with more than 20 years medical experience, has highlighted the nanotechnology aspect of the fake 'vaccines'. She explains how one of the components in at least the Moderna and Pfizer synthetic potions are 'lipid nanoparticles' which are 'like little tiny computer bits' – a 'sci-fi substance' known as nanobots and hydrogel which can be 'triggered at any moment to deliver its payload' and act as 'biosensors'. The synthetic substance had 'the ability to accumulate data from your body like your breathing, your respiration, thoughts and emotions, all kind of things' and each syringe could carry a million nanobots:

This substance because it's like little bits of computers in your body, crazy, but it's true, it can do that, [and] obviously has the ability to act through Wi-Fi. It can receive and transmit energy, messages, frequencies or impulses. That issue has never been addressed by these companies. What does that do to the human?

Just imagine getting this substance in you and it can react to things all around you, the 5G, your smart device, your phones, what is happening with that? What if something is triggering it, too, like an impulse, a frequency? We have something completely foreign in the human body.

Madej said her research revealed that electromagnetic (EMF) frequencies emitted by phones and other devices had increased dramatically in the same period of the 'vaccine' rollout and she was seeing more people with radiation problems as 5G and other electromagnetic technology was expanded and introduced to schools and hospitals. She said she was 'floored with the EMF coming off' the devices she checked. All this makes total sense and syncs with my own work of decades when you think that Moderna refers in documents to its mRNA 'vaccine' as an 'operating system':

Recognizing the broad potential of mRNA science, we set out to create an mRNA technology platform that functions very much like an operating system on a computer. It is designed so that it can plug and play interchangeably with different programs. In our case, the 'program' or 'app' is our mRNA drug – the unique mRNA sequence that codes for a protein ...

... Our MRNA Medicines – 'The 'Software Of Life': When we have a concept for a new mRNA medicine and begin research, fundamental components are already in place. Generally, the only thing that changes from one potential mRNA medicine to another is the coding region – the actual genetic code that instructs ribosomes to make protein. Utilizing these instruction sets gives our investigational mRNA medicines a software-like quality. We also have the ability to combine different mRNA sequences encoding for different proteins in a single mRNA investigational medicine.

Who needs a real 'virus' when you can create a computer version to justify infusing your operating system into the entire human race on the road to making living, breathing people into cyborgs? What is missed with the 'vaccines' is the digital connection between synthetic material and the body that I highlighted earlier with the study that hacked a computer with human DNA. On one level the body is digital, based on mathematical codes, and I'll have more about that in the next chapter. Those who ridiculously claim that mRNA 'vaccines' are not designed to change human genetics should explain the words of Dr Tal Zaks, chief medical officer at Moderna, in a 2017 TED talk. He said that over the last 30 years 'we've been living this phenomenal digital scientific revolution, and I'm here today to tell you, that we are actually hacking the software of life, and that it's changing the way we think about prevention and treatment of disease':

In every cell there's this thing called messenger RNA, or mRNA for short, that transmits the critical information from the DNA in our genes to the protein, which is really the stuff we're all made out of. This is the critical information that determines what the cell will do. So we think about it as an operating system. So if you could change that, if you could introduce a line of code, or change a line of code, it turns out, that has profound implications for everything, from the flu to cancer.

Zaks should more accurately have said that this has profound implications for the human genetic code and the nature of DNA. Communications within the body go both ways and not only one. But, hey, no, the 'Covid vaccine' will not affect your genetics. Cult fact-checkers say so even though the man who helped to develop the mRNA technique says that it does. Zaks said in 2017:

If you think about what it is we're trying to do. We've taken information and our understanding of that information and how that information is transmitted in a cell, and we've taken our understanding of medicine and how to make drugs, and we're fusing the two. We think of it as information therapy.

I have been writing for decades that the body is an information field communicating with itself and the wider world. This is why radiation which is information can change the information field of body and mind through phenomena like 5G and change their nature and function. 'Information therapy' means to change the body's information field and change the way it operates. DNA is a receivertransmitter of information and can be mutated by information like mRNA synthetic messaging. Technology to do this has been ready and waiting in the underground bases and other secret projects to be rolled out when the 'Covid' hoax was played. 'Trials' of such short and irrelevant duration were only for public consumption. When they say the 'vaccine' is 'experimental' that is not true. It may appear to be 'experimental' to those who don't know what's going on, but the trials have already been done to ensure the Cult gets the result it desires. Zaks said that it took decades to sequence the human genome, completed in 2003, but now they could do it in a week. By 'they' he means scientists operating in the public domain. In the secret projects they were sequencing the genome in a week long before even 2003.

Deluge of mRNA

Highly significantly the Moderna document says the guiding premise is that if using mRNA as a medicine works for one disease then it should work for many diseases. They were leveraging the flexibility afforded by their platform and the fundamental role mRNA plays in protein synthesis to pursue mRNA medicines for a broad spectrum of diseases. Moderna is confirming what I was saying through 2020 that multiple 'vaccines' were planned for 'Covid' (and later invented 'variants') and that previous vaccines would be converted to the mRNA system to infuse the body with massive amounts of genetically-manipulating synthetic material to secure a transformation to a synthetic-biological state. The 'vaccines' are designed to kill stunning numbers as part of the long-exposed Cult depopulation agenda and transform the rest. Given this is the goal you can appreciate why there is such hysterical demand for every human to be 'vaccinated' for an alleged 'disease' that has an estimated 'infection' to 'death' ratio of 0.23-0.15 percent. As I write children are being given the 'vaccine' in trials (their parents are a disgrace) and ever-younger people are being offered the vaccine for a 'virus' that even if you believe it exists has virtually zero chance of harming them. Horrific effects of the 'trials' on a 12-year-old girl were revealed by a family member to be serious brain and gastric problems that included a bowel obstruction and the inability to swallow liquids or solids. She was unable to eat or drink without throwing up, had extreme pain in her back, neck and abdomen, and was paralysed from the waist down which stopped her urinating unaided. When the girl was first taken to hospital doctors said it was all in her mind. She was signed up for the 'trial' by her parents for whom no words suffice. None of this 'Covid vaccine' insanity makes any sense unless you see what the 'vaccine' really is – a bodychanger. Synthetic biology or 'SynBio' is a fast-emerging and expanding scientific discipline which includes everything from genetic and molecular engineering to electrical and computer engineering. Synthetic biology is defined in these ways:

- A multidisciplinary area of research that seeks to create new biological parts, devices, and systems, or to redesign systems that are already found in nature.
- The use of a mixture of physical engineering and genetic engineering to create new (and therefore synthetic) life forms.
- An emerging field of research that aims to combine the knowledge and methods of biology, engineering and related disciplines in the design of chemically-synthesized DNA to create organisms with novel or enhanced characteristics and traits (synthetic organisms including humans).

We now have synthetic blood, skin, organs and limbs being developed along with synthetic body parts produced by 3D printers. These are all elements of the synthetic human programme and this comment by Kurzweil's co-founder of the Singularity University,

Peter Diamandis, can be seen in a whole new light with the 'Covid' hoax and the sanctions against those that refuse the 'vaccine':

Anybody who is going to be resisting the progress forward [to transhumanism] is going to be resisting evolution and, fundamentally, they will die out. It's not a matter of whether it's good or bad. It's going to happen.

'Resisting evolution'? What absolute bollocks. The arrogance of these people is without limit. His 'it's going to happen' mantra is another way of saying 'resistance is futile' to break the spirit of those pushing back and we must not fall for it. Getting this genetically-transforming 'vaccine' into everyone is crucial to the Cult plan for total control and the desperation to achieve that is clear for anyone to see. Vaccine passports are a major factor in this and they, too, are a form of resistance is futile. It's NOT. The paper funded by the Rockefeller Foundation for the 2013 'health conference' in China said:

We will interact more with artificial intelligence. The use of robotics, bio-engineering to augment human functioning is already well underway and will advance. Re-engineering of humans into potentially separate and unequal forms through genetic engineering or mixed human-robots raises debates on ethics and equality.

A new demography is projected to emerge after 2030 [that year again] of technologies (robotics, genetic engineering, nanotechnology) producing robots, engineered organisms, 'nanobots' and artificial intelligence (AI) that can self-replicate. Debates will grow on the implications of an impending reality of human designed life.

What is happening today is so long planned. The world army enforcing the will of the world government is intended to be a robot army, not a human one. Today's military and its technologically 'enhanced' troops, pilotless planes and driverless vehicles are just stepping stones to that end. Human soldiers are used as Cult fodder and its time they woke up to that and worked for the freedom of the population instead of their own destruction and their family's destruction – the same with the police. Join us and let's sort this out. The phenomenon of enforce my own destruction is widespread in the 'Covid' era with Woker 'luvvies' in the acting and entertainment industries supporting 'Covid' rules which have destroyed their profession and the same with those among the public who put signs on the doors of their businesses 'closed due to Covid – stay safe' when many will never reopen. It's a form of masochism and most certainly insanity.

Transgender = transhumanism

When something explodes out of nowhere and is suddenly everywhere it is always the Cult agenda and so it is with the tidal wave of claims and demands that have infiltrated every aspect of society under the heading of 'transgenderism'. The term 'trans' is so 'in' and this is the dictionary definition:

A prefix meaning 'across', 'through', occurring ... in loanwords from Latin, used in particular for denoting movement or conveyance from place to place (transfer; transmit; transplant) or complete change (transform; transmute), or to form adjectives meaning 'crossing', 'on the other side of', or 'going beyond' the place named (transmontane; transnational; trans-Siberian).

Transgender means to go beyond gender and transhuman means to go beyond human. Both are aspects of the Cult plan to transform the human body to a synthetic state with no gender. Human 2.0 is not designed to procreate and would be produced technologically with no need for parents. The new human would mean the end of parents and so men, and increasingly women, are being targeted for the deletion of their rights and status. Parental rights are disappearing at an ever-quickening speed for the same reason. The new human would have no need for men or women when there is no procreation and no gender. Perhaps the transgender movement that appears to be in a permanent state of frenzy might now contemplate on how it is being used. This was never about transgender rights which are only the interim excuse for confusing gender, particularly in the young, on the road to fusing gender. Transgender activism is not an end; it is a means to an end. We see again the technique of creative destruction in which you destroy the status quo to 'build back better' in the form that you want. The gender status quo had to be destroyed by persuading the Cult-created Woke mentality to believe that you can have 100 genders or more. A programme for 9 to 12 year olds produced by the Cult-owned BBC promoted the 100 genders narrative. The very idea may be the most monumental nonsense, but it is not what is true that counts, only what you can make people believe is true. Once the gender of 2 + 2 = 4 has been dismantled through indoctrination, intimidation and 2 + 2 = 5 then the new no-gender normal can take its place with Human 2.0. Aldous Huxley revealed the plan in his prophetic Brave New World in 1932:

Natural reproduction has been done away with and children are created, decanted', and raised in 'hatcheries and conditioning centres'. From birth, people are genetically designed to fit into one of five castes, which are further split into 'Plus' and 'Minus' members and designed to fulfil predetermined positions within the social and economic strata of the World State.

How could Huxley know this in 1932? For the same reason George Orwell knew about the Big Brother state in 1948, Cult insiders I have quoted knew about it in 1969, and I have known about it since the early 1990s. If you are connected to the Cult or you work your balls off to uncover the plan you can predict the future. The process is simple. If there is a plan for the world and nothing intervenes to stop it then it will happen. Thus if you communicate the plan ahead of time you are perceived to have predicted the future, but you haven't. You have revealed the plan which without intervention will become the human future. The whole reason I have done what I have is to alert enough people to inspire an intervention and maybe at last that time has come with the Cult and its intentions now so obvious to anyone with a brain in working order.

The future is here

Technological wombs that Huxley described to replace parent procreation are already being developed and they are only the projects we know about in the public arena. Israeli scientists told The Times of Israel in March, 2021, that they have grown 250-cell embryos into mouse foetuses with fully formed organs using artificial wombs in a development they say could pave the way for gestating humans outside the womb. Professor Jacob Hanna of the Weizmann Institute of Science said:

We took mouse embryos from the mother at day five of development, when they are just of 250 cells, and had them in the incubator from day five until day 11, by which point they had grown all their organs.

By day 11 they make their own blood and have a beating heart, a fully developed brain. Anybody would look at them and say, 'this is clearly a mouse foetus with all the characteristics of a mouse.' It's gone from being a ball of cells to being an advanced foetus.

A special liquid is used to nourish embryo cells in a laboratory dish and they float on the liquid to duplicate the first stage of embryonic development. The incubator creates all the right conditions for its development, Hanna said. The liquid gives the embryo 'all the nutrients, hormones and sugars they need' along with a custom-made electronic incubator which controls gas concentration, pressure and temperature. The cutting-edge in the underground bases and other secret locations will be light years ahead of that, however, and this was reported by the London Guardian in 2017:

We are approaching a biotechnological breakthrough. Ectogenesis, the invention of a complete external womb, could completely change the nature of human reproduction. In April this year, researchers at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia announced their development of an artificial womb.

The article was headed 'Artificial wombs could soon be a reality. What will this mean for women?' What would it mean for children is an even bigger question. No mother to bond with only a machine in preparation for a life of soulless interaction and control in a world governed by machines (see the Matrix movies). Now observe the calculated manipulations of the 'Covid' hoax as human interaction and warmth has been curtailed by distancing, isolation and fear with people communicating via machines on a scale never seen before.

These are all dots in the same picture as are all the personal assistants, gadgets and children's toys through which kids and adults communicate with AI as if it is human. The AI 'voice' on Sat-Nav should be included. All these things are psychological preparation for the Cult endgame. Before you can make a physical connection with AI you have to make a psychological connection and that is what people are being conditioned to do with this ever gathering human-AI interaction. Movies and TV programmes depicting the transhuman, robot dystopia relate to a phenomenon known as 'pre-emptive programming' in which the world that is planned is portrayed everywhere in movies, TV and advertising. This is conditioning the conscious and subconscious mind to become familiar with the planned reality to dilute resistance when it happens for real. What would have been a shock such is the change is made less so. We have young children put on the road to transgender transition surgery with puberty blocking drugs at an age when they could never be able to make those life-changing decisions.

Rachel Levine, a professor of paediatrics and psychiatry who believes in treating children this way, became America's highestranked openly-transgender official when she was confirmed as US Assistant Secretary at the Department of Health and Human Services after being nominated by Joe Biden (the Cult). Activists and governments press for laws to deny parents a say in their children's transition process so the kids can be isolated and manipulated into agreeing to irreversible medical procedures. A Canadian father Robert Hoogland was denied bail by the Vancouver Supreme Court in 2021 and remained in jail for breaching a court order that he stay silent over his young teenage daughter, a minor, who was being offered life-changing hormone therapy without parental consent. At the age of 12 the girl's 'school counsellor' said she may be transgender, referred her to a doctor and told the school to treat her like a boy. This is another example of state-serving schools imposing ever more control over children's lives while parents have ever less.

Contemptible and extreme child abuse is happening all over the world as the Cult gender-fusion operation goes into warp-speed.

Why the war on men – and now women?

The question about what artificial wombs mean for women should rightly be asked. The answer can be seen in the deletion of women's rights involving sport, changing rooms, toilets and status in favour of people in male bodies claiming to identify as women. I can identify as a mountain climber, but it doesn't mean I can climb a mountain any more than a biological man can be a biological woman. To believe so is a triumph of belief over factual reality which is the very perceptual basis of everything Woke. Women's sport is being destroyed by allowing those with male bodies who say they identify as female to 'compete' with girls and women. Male body 'women' dominate 'women's' competition with their greater muscle mass, bone density, strength and speed. With that disadvantage sport for women loses all meaning. To put this in perspective nearly 300 American high school boys can run faster than the quickest woman sprinter in the world. Women are seeing their previously protected spaces invaded by male bodies simply because they claim to identify as women. That's all they need to do to access all women's spaces and activities under the Biden 'Equality Act' that destroys equality for women with the usual Orwellian Woke inversion. Male sex offenders have already committed rapes in women's prisons after claiming to identify as women to get them transferred. Does this not matter to the Woke 'equality' hypocrites? Not in the least. What matters to Cult manipulators and funders behind transgender activists is to advance gender fusion on the way to the no-gender 'human'. When you are seeking to impose transparent nonsense like this, or the 'Covid' hoax, the only way the nonsense can prevail is through censorship and intimidation of dissenters, deletion of factual information, and programming of the unquestioning, bewildered and naive. You don't have to scan the world for long to see that all these things are happening.

Many women's rights organisations have realised that rights and status which took such a long time to secure are being eroded and that it is systematic. Kara Dansky of the global Women's Human Rights Campaign said that Biden's transgender executive order immediately he took office, subsequent orders, and Equality Act legislation that followed 'seek to erase women and girls in the law as a category'. Exactly. I said during the long ago-started war on men (in which many women play a crucial part) that this was going to turn into a war on them. The Cult is phasing out both male and female genders. To get away with that they are brought into conflict so they are busy fighting each other while the Cult completes the job with no unity of response. Unity, people, unity. We need unity everywhere. Transgender is the only show in town as the big step towards the no-gender human. It's not about rights for transgender people and never has been. Woke political correctness is deleting words relating to genders to the same end. Wokers believe this is to be 'inclusive' when the opposite is true. They are deleting words describing gender because gender itself is being deleted by Human 2.0. Terms like 'man', 'woman', 'mother' and 'father' are being deleted in the universities and other institutions to be replaced by the no-gender, not trans-gender, 'individuals' and 'guardians'. Women's rights campaigner Maria Keffler of Partners for Ethical Care said: 'Children are being taught from kindergarten upward that some boys have a vagina, some girls have a penis, and that kids can be any gender they want to be.' Do we really believe that suddenly countries all over the world at the same time had the idea of having drag queens go into schools or read transgender stories to very young children in the local library? It's coldly-calculated confusion of gender on the way to the fusion of gender. Suzanne Vierling, a psychologist from Southern California, made another important point:

Yesterday's slave woman who endured gynecological medical experiments is today's girl-child being butchered in a booming gender-transitioning sector. Ovaries removed, pushing her into menopause and osteoporosis, uncharted territory, and parents' rights and authority decimated.

The erosion of parental rights is a common theme in line with the Cult plans to erase the very concept of parents and 'ovaries removed, pushing her into menopause' means what? Those born female lose the ability to have children – another way to discontinue humanity as we know it.

Eliminating Human 1.0 (before our very eyes)

To pave the way for Human 2.0 you must phase out Human 1.0. This is happening through plummeting sperm counts and making women infertile through an onslaught of chemicals, radiation (including smartphones in pockets of men) and mRNA 'vaccines'. Common agriculture pesticides are also having a devastating impact on human fertility. I have been tracking collapsing sperm counts in the books for a long time and in 2021 came a book by fertility scientist and reproductive epidemiologist Shanna Swan, Count Down: How Our Modern World Is Threatening Sperm Counts, Altering Male and Female Reproductive Development and Imperiling the Future of the Human Race. She reports how the global fertility rate dropped by half between 1960 and 2016 with America's birth rate 16 percent below where it needs to be to sustain the population. Women are experiencing declining egg quality, more miscarriages, and more couples suffer from infertility. Other findings were an increase in erectile dysfunction, infant boys developing more genital abnormalities, male problems with conception, and plunging levels of the male hormone testosterone which would explain why so many men have lost their backbone and masculinity. This has been very evident during the 'Covid' hoax when women have been prominent among the Pushbackers and big strapping blokes have bowed their heads, covered their faces with a nappy and quietly submitted. Mind control expert Cathy O'Brien also points to how global education introduced the concept of 'we're all winners' in sport and classrooms: 'Competition was defused, and it in turn defused a sense of fighting back.' This is another version of the 'equity' doctrine in which you drive down rather than raise up. What a contrast in Cult-controlled China with its global ambitions where the government published plans in January, 2021, to 'cultivate masculinity' in boys from kindergarten through to high school in the face of a 'masculinity crisis'. A government adviser said boys would be soon become 'delicate, timid and effeminate' unless action was taken. Don't expect any similar policy in the targeted West. A 2006 study showed that a 65-year-old man in 2002 had testosterone levels 15 percent lower than a 65-year-old man in 1987 while a 2020 study found a similar story with young adults and adolescents. Men are getting prescriptions for testosterone replacement therapy which causes an even greater drop in sperm count with up to 99 percent seeing sperm counts drop to zero during the treatment. More sperm is defective and malfunctioning with some having two heads or not pursuing an egg.

A class of synthetic chemicals known as phthalates are being blamed for the decline. These are found everywhere in plastics, shampoos, cosmetics, furniture, flame retardants, personal care products, pesticides, canned foods and even receipts. Why till receipts? Everyone touches them. Let no one delude themselves that all this is not systematic to advance the long-time agenda for human body transformation. Phthalates mimic hormones and disrupt the hormone balance causing testosterone to fall and genital birth defects in male infants. Animals and fish have been affected in the same way due to phthalates and other toxins in rivers. When fish turn gay or change sex through chemicals in rivers and streams it is a pointer to why there has been such an increase in gay people and the sexually confused. It doesn't matter to me what sexuality people choose to be, but if it's being affected by chemical pollution and consumption then we need to know. Does anyone really think that this is not connected to the transgender agenda, the war on men and the condemnation of male 'toxic masculinity'? You watch this being followed by 'toxic femininity'. It's already happening. When breastfeeding becomes 'chest-feeding', pregnant women become pregnant people along with all the other Woke claptrap you know that the world is going insane and there's a Cult scam in progress. Transgender activists are promoting the Cult agenda while Cult billionaires support and fund the insanity as they laugh themselves to sleep at the sheer stupidity for which humans must be infamous in galaxies far, far away.

'Covid vaccines' and female infertility

We can now see why the 'vaccine' has been connected to potential infertility in women. Dr Michael Yeadon, former Vice President and Chief Scientific Advisor at Pfizer, and Dr Wolfgang Wodarg in Germany, filed a petition with the European Medicines Agency in December, 2020, urging them to stop trials for the Pfizer/BioNTech shot and all other mRNA trials until further studies had been done. They were particularly concerned about possible effects on fertility with 'vaccine'-produced antibodies attacking the protein Syncytin-1 which is responsible for developing the placenta. The result would be infertility 'of indefinite duration' in women who have the 'vaccine' with the placenta failing to form. Section 10.4.2 of the Pfizer/BioNTech trial protocol says that pregnant women or those who might become so should not have mRNA shots. Section 10.4 warns men taking mRNA shots to 'be abstinent from heterosexual intercourse' and not to donate sperm. The UK government said that it did not know if the mRNA procedure had an effect on fertility. Did not know? These people have to go to jail. UK government advice did not recommend at the start that pregnant women had the shot and said they should avoid pregnancy for at least two months after 'vaccination'. The 'advice' was later updated to pregnant women should only have the 'vaccine' if the benefits outweighed the risks to mother and foetus. What the hell is that supposed to mean? Then 'spontaneous abortions' began to appear and rapidly increase on the adverse reaction reporting schemes which include only a fraction of adverse reactions. Thousands and ever-growing numbers of 'vaccinated' women are describing changes to their menstrual cycle with heavier blood flow, irregular periods and menstruating again after going through the menopause – all links to reproduction effects. Women are passing blood clots and the lining of their uterus while men report erectile dysfunction and blood effects. Most significantly of all *un*vaccinated women began to report similar menstrual changes after interaction with 'vaccinated' people and men and children were also affected with bleeding noses, blood clots and other conditions. 'Shedding' is when vaccinated people can emit the content of a vaccine to affect the unvaccinated, but this is different. 'Vaccinated' people were not shedding a 'live virus' allegedly in 'vaccines' as before because the fake 'Covid vaccines' involve synthetic material and other toxicity. Doctors exposing what is happening prefer the term 'transmission' to shedding. Somehow those that have had the shots are transmitting effects to those that haven't. Dr Carrie Madej said the nano-content of the 'vaccines' can 'act like an antenna' to others around them which fits perfectly with my own conclusions. This 'vaccine' transmission phenomenon was becoming known as the book went into production and I deal with this further in the Postscript.

Vaccine effects on sterility are well known. The World Health Organization was accused in 2014 of sterilising millions of women in Kenya with the evidence confirmed by the content of the vaccines involved. The same WHO behind the 'Covid' hoax admitted its involvement for more than ten years with the vaccine programme. Other countries made similar claims. Charges were lodged by Tanzania, Nicaragua, Mexico, and the Philippines. The Gardasil vaccine claimed to protect against a genital 'virus' known as HPV has also been linked to infertility. Big Pharma and the WHO (same thing) are criminal and satanic entities. Then there's the Bill Gates Foundation which is connected through funding and shared interests with 20 pharmaceutical giants and laboratories. He stands accused of directing the policy of United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), vaccine alliance GAVI, and other groupings, to advance the vaccine agenda and silence opposition at great cost to women and children. At the same time Gates wants to reduce the global population. Coincidence?

Great Reset = Smart Grid = new human

The Cult agenda I have been exposing for 30 years is now being openly promoted by Cult assets like Gates and Klaus Schwab of the World Economic Forum under code-terms like the 'Great Reset', 'Build Back Better' and 'a rare but narrow window of opportunity to reflect, reimagine, and reset our world'. What provided this 'rare but narrow window of opportunity'? The 'Covid' hoax did. Who created that? They did. My books from not that long ago warned about the planned 'Internet of Things' (IoT) and its implications for human freedom. This was the plan to connect all technology to the Internet and artificial intelligence and today we are way down that road with an estimated 36 billion devices connected to the World Wide Web and that figure is projected to be 76 billion by 2025. I further warned that the Cult planned to go beyond that to the Internet of Everything when the human brain was connected via AI to the Internet and Kurzweil's 'cloud'. Now we have Cult operatives like Schwab calling for precisely that under the term 'Internet of Bodies', a fusion of the physical, digital and biological into one centrally-controlled Smart Grid system which the Cult refers to as the 'Fourth Industrial Revolution'. They talk about the 'biological', but they really mean the synthetic-biological which is required to fully integrate the human body and brain into the Smart Grid and artificial intelligence planned to replace the human mind. We have everything being synthetically manipulated including the natural world through GMO and smart dust, the food we eat and the human body itself with synthetic 'vaccines'. I said in The Answer that we would see the Cult push for synthetic meat to replace animals and in February, 2021, the so predictable psychopath Bill Gates called for the introduction of synthetic meat to save us all from 'climate change'. The climate hoax just keeps on giving like the 'Covid' hoax. The war on meat by vegan activists is a carbon (oops, sorry) copy of the manipulation of transgender activists. They have no idea (except their inner core) that they are being used to promote and impose the agenda of the Cult or that they are only the vehicle and not the reason. This is not to say those who choose not to eat meat shouldn't be respected and supported in that right, but there are ulterior motives for those in power. A Forbes article in December, 2019, highlighted the plan so beloved of Schwab and the Cult under the heading: 'What Is The Internet of Bodies? And How Is It Changing Our World?' The article said the human body is the latest data platform (remember 'our vaccine is an operating system'). Forbes described the plan very accurately and the words could have come straight out of my books from long before:

The Internet of Bodies (IoB) is an extension of the IoT and basically connects the human body to a network through devices that are ingested, implanted, or connected to the body in some way. Once connected, data can be exchanged, and the body and device can be remotely monitored and controlled.

They were really describing a human hive mind with human perception centrally-dictated via an AI connection as well as allowing people to be 'remotely monitored and controlled'. Everything from a fridge to a human mind could be directed from a central point by these insane psychopaths and 'Covid vaccines' are crucial to this. Forbes explained the process I mentioned earlier of holdable and wearable technology followed by implantable. The article said there were three generations of the Internet of Bodies that include:

- Body external: These are wearable devices such as Apple Watches or Fitbits that can monitor our health.
- Body internal: These include pacemakers, cochlear implants, and digital pills that go inside our bodies to monitor or control various aspects of health.
- Body embedded: The third generation of the Internet of Bodies is embedded technology where technology and the human body are melded together and have a real-time connection to a remote machine.

Forbes noted the development of the Brain Computer Interface (BCI) which merges the brain with an external device for monitoring and controlling in real-time. 'The ultimate goal is to help restore function to individuals with disabilities by using brain signals rather than conventional neuromuscular pathways.' Oh, do fuck off. The goal of brain interface technology is controlling human thought and emotion from the central point in a hive mind serving its masters wishes. Many people are now agreeing to be chipped to open doors without a key. You can recognise them because they'll be wearing a mask, social distancing and lining up for the 'vaccine'. The Cult plans a Great Reset money system after they have completed the demolition of the global economy in which 'money' will be exchanged through communication with body operating systems. Rand Corporation, a Cult-owned think tank, said of the Internet of Bodies or IoB:

Internet of Bodies technologies fall under the broader IoT umbrella. But as the name suggests, IoB devices introduce an even more intimate interplay between humans and gadgets. IoB devices monitor the human body, collect health metrics and other personal information, and transmit those data over the Internet. Many devices, such as fitness trackers, are already in use ... IoB devices ... and those in development can track, record, and store users' whereabouts, bodily functions, and what they see, hear, and even think.

Schwab's World Economic Forum, a long-winded way of saying 'fascism' or 'the Cult', has gone full-on with the Internet of Bodies in the 'Covid' era. 'We're entering the era of the Internet of Bodies', it declared, 'collecting our physical data via a range of devices that can be implanted, swallowed or worn'. The result would be a huge amount of health-related data that could improve human wellbeing around the world, and prove crucial in fighting the 'Covid-19 pandemic'. Does anyone think these clowns care about 'human wellbeing' after the death and devastation their pandemic hoax has purposely caused? Schwab and co say we should move forward with the Internet of Bodies because 'Keeping track of symptoms could help us stop the spread of infection, and quickly detect new cases'. How wonderful, but keeping track' is all they are really bothered about. Researchers were investigating if data gathered from smartwatches and similar devices could be used as viral infection alerts by tracking the user's heart rate and breathing. Schwab said in his 2018 book Shaping the Future of the Fourth Industrial Revolution:

The lines between technologies and beings are becoming blurred and not just by the ability to create lifelike robots or synthetics. Instead it is about the ability of new technologies to literally become part of us. Technologies already influence how we understand ourselves, how we think about each other, and how we determine our realities. As the technologies ... give us deeper access to parts of ourselves, we may begin to integrate digital technologies into our bodies.

You can see what the game is. Twenty-four hour control and people – if you could still call them that – would never know when something would go ping and take them out of circulation. It's the most obvious rush to a global fascist dictatorship and the complete submission of humanity and yet still so many are locked away in their Cult-induced perceptual coma and can't see it.

Smart Grid control centres

The human body is being transformed by the 'vaccines' and in other ways into a synthetic cyborg that can be attached to the global Smart Grid which would be controlled from a central point and other sublocations of Grid manipulation. Where are these planned to be? Well, China for a start which is one of the Cult's biggest centres of operation. The technological control system and technocratic rule was incubated here to be unleashed across the world after the 'Covid' hoax came out of China in 2020. Another Smart Grid location that will surprise people new to this is Israel. I have exposed in The Trigger how Sabbatian technocrats, intelligence and military operatives were behind the horrors of 9/11 and not 19 Arab hijackers' who somehow manifested the ability to pilot big passenger airliners when instructors at puddle-jumping flying schools described some of them as a joke. The 9/11 attacks were made possible through control of civilian and military air computer systems and those of the White House, Pentagon and connected agencies. See The Trigger – it will blow your mind. The controlling and coordinating force were the Sabbatian networks in Israel and the United States which by then had infiltrated the entire US government, military and intelligence system. The real name of the American Deep State is 'Sabbatian State'. Israel is a tiny country of only nine million people, but it is one of the global centres of cyber operations and fast catching Silicon Valley in importance to the Cult. Israel is known as the 'start-up nation' for all the cyber companies spawned there with the Sabbatian specialisation of 'cyber security' that I mentioned earlier which gives those companies access to computer systems of their clients in real time through 'backdoors' written into the coding when security software is downloaded. The Sabbatian centre of cyber operations outside Silicon Valley is the Israeli military Cyber Intelligence Unit, the biggest infrastructure project in Israel's history, headquartered in the desert-city of Beersheba and involving some 20,000 'cyber soldiers'. Here are located a literal army of Internet trolls scanning social media, forums and comment lists for anyone challenging the Cult agenda. The UK military has something similar with its 77th Brigade and associated operations. The Beersheba complex includes research and development centres for other Cult operations such as Intel, Microsoft, IBM, Google, Apple, Hewlett-Packard, Cisco Systems, Facebook and Motorola. Techcrunch.com ran an article about the Beersheba global Internet technology centre headlined 'Israel's desert city of Beersheba is turning into a cybertech oasis':

The military's massive relocation of its prestigious technology units, the presence of multinational and local companies, a close proximity to Ben Gurion University and generous government subsidies are turning Beersheba into a major global cybertech hub. Beersheba has all of the ingredients of a vibrant security technology ecosystem, including Ben Gurion University with its graduate program in cybersecurity and Cyber Security Research Center, and the presence of companies such as EMC, Deutsche Telekom, PayPal, Oracle, IBM, and Lockheed Martin. It's also the future home of the INCB (Israeli National Cyber Bureau); offers a special income tax incentive for cyber security companies, and was the site for the relocation of the army's intelligence corps units.

Sabbatians have taken over the cyber world through the following process: They scan the schools for likely cyber talent and develop them at Ben Gurion University and their period of conscription in the Israeli Defense Forces when they are stationed at the Beersheba complex. When the cyber talented officially leave the army they are funded to start cyber companies with technology developed by themselves or given to them by the state. Much of this is stolen through backdoors of computer systems around the world with America top of the list. Others are sent off to Silicon Valley to start companies or join the major ones and so we have many major positions filled by apparently 'Jewish' but really Sabbatian operatives. Google, YouTube and Facebook are all run by 'Jewish' CEOs while Twitter is all but run by ultra-Zionist hedge-fund shark Paul Singer. At the centre of the Sabbatian global cyber web is the Israeli army's Unit 8200 which specialises in hacking into computer systems of other countries, inserting viruses, gathering information, instigating malfunction, and even taking control of them from a distance. A long list of Sabbatians involved with 9/11, Silicon Valley and Israeli cyber security companies are operatives of Unit 8200. This is not about Israel. It's about the Cult. Israel is planned to be a Smart Grid hub as with China and what is happening at Beersheba is not for the benefit of Jewish people who are treated disgustingly by the Sabbatian elite that control the country. A glance at the Nuremberg Codes will tell you that.

The story is much bigger than 'Covid', important as that is to where we are being taken. Now, though, it's time to really strap in. There's more ... much more ...

CHAPTER ELEVEN

Who controls the Cult?

Awake, arise or be forever fall'n John Milton, Paradise Lost have exposed this far the level of the Cult conspiracy that operates in the world of the seen and within the global secret society and satanic network which operates in the shadows one step back from the seen. The story, however, goes much deeper than that.

The 'Covid' hoax is major part of the Cult agenda, but only part, and to grasp the biggest picture we have to expand our attention beyond the realm of human sight and into the infinity of possibility that we cannot see. It is from here, ultimately, that humanity is being manipulated into a state of total control by the force which dictates the actions of the Cult. How much of reality can we see? Next to damn all is the answer. We may appear to see all there is to see in the 'space' our eyes survey and observe, but little could be further from the truth. The human 'world' is only a tiny band of frequency that the body's visual and perceptual systems can decode into perception of a 'world'. According to mainstream science the electromagnetic spectrum is 0.005 percent of what exists in the Universe (Fig 10). The maximum estimate I have seen is 0.5 percent and either way it's miniscule. I say it is far, far, smaller even than 0.005 percent when you compare reality we see with the totality of reality that we don't. Now get this if you are new to such information: Visible light, the only band of frequency that we can see, is a fraction of the 0.005 percent (Fig 11 overleaf). Take this further and realise that our universe is one of infinite universes and that universes are only a fragment of overall reality – infinite reality. Then compare that with the almost infinitesimal frequency band of visible light or human sight. You see that humans are as near blind as it is possible to be without actually being so. Artist and filmmaker, Sergio Toporek, said:

The existence of the rainbow depends on the conical photoreceptors in your eyes; to animals without cones, the rainbow does not exist. So you don't just look at a rainbow, you create it. This is pretty amazing, especially considering that all the beautiful colours you see represent less than 1% of the electromagnetic spectrum.

Suddenly the 'world' of humans looks a very different place. Take into account, too, that Planet Earth when compared with the projected size of this single universe is the equivalent of a billionth of a pinhead. Imagine the ratio that would be when compared to infinite reality. To think that Christianity once insisted that Earth and humanity were the centre of everything. This background is vital if we are going to appreciate the nature of 'human' and how we can be manipulated by an unseen force. To human visual reality virtually everything is unseen and yet the prevailing perception within the institutions and so much of the public is that if we can't see it, touch it, hear it, taste it and smell it then it cannot exist. Such perception is indoctrinated and encouraged by the Cult and its agents because it isolates believers in the strictly limited, village-idiot, realm of the five senses where perceptions can be firewalled and information controlled. Most of those perpetuating the 'this-world-is-all-there-is' insanity are themselves indoctrinated into believing the same delusion. While major players and influencers know that official reality is laughable most of those in science, academia and medicine really believe the nonsense they peddle and teach succeeding generations. Those who challenge the orthodoxy are dismissed as nutters and freaks to protect the manufactured illusion from exposure. Observe the dynamic of the 'Covid' hoax and you will see how that takes the same form. The inner-circle psychopaths knows it's a gigantic scam, but almost the entirety of those imposing their fascist rules believe that 'Covid' is all that they're told it is.

Stolen identity

Ask people who they are and they will give you their name, place of birth, location, job, family background and life story. Yet that is not who they are – it is what they are experiencing. The difference is absolutely crucial. The true 'I', the eternal, infinite 'I', is consciousness, a state of being aware. Forget 'form'. That is a vehicle for a brief experience. Consciousness does not come from the brain, but through the brain and even that is more symbolic than literal. We are awareness, pure awareness, and this is what withdraws from the body at what we call 'death' to continue our eternal beingness, isness, in other realms of reality within the limitlessness of infinity or the Biblical 'many mansions in my father's house'. Labels of a human life, man, woman, transgender, black, white, brown, nationality, circumstances and income are not who we are. They are what we are – awareness – is experiencing in a brief connection with a band of frequency we call 'human'. The labels are not the self; they are, to use the title of one of my books, a Phantom Self. I am not David Icke born in Leicester, England, on April 29th, 1952. I am the consciousness having that experience. The Cult and its non-human masters seek to convince us through the institutions of 'education', science, medicine, media and government that what we are experiencing is who we are. It's so easy to control and direct perception locked away in the bewildered illusions of the five senses with no expanded radar. Try, by contrast, doing the same with a humanity aware of its true self and its true power to consciously create its reality and experience. How is it possible to do this? We do it all day every day. If you perceive yourself as 'little me' with no power to impact upon your life and the world then your life experience will reflect that. You will hand the power you don't think you have to authority in all its forms which will use it to control your experience. This, in turn, will appear to confirm your perception of 'little me' in a self-fulfilling feedback loop. But that is what 'little me' really is – a perception. We are all 'big-me', infinite me, and the Cult has to make us forget that if its will is to prevail. We are therefore manipulated and pressured into self-identifying with human labels and not the consciousness/awareness experiencing those human labels.

The phenomenon of identity politics is a Cult-instigated manipulation technique to sub-divide previous labels into even smaller ones. A United States university employs this list of letters to describe student identity: LGBTTQQFAGPBDSM or lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, transsexual, queer, questioning, flexual, asexual, gender-fuck, polyamorous, bondage/discipline, dominance/submission and sadism/masochism. I'm sure other lists are even longer by now as people feel the need to self-identity the 'I' with the minutiae of race and sexual preference. Wokers programmed by the Cult for generations believe this is about 'inclusivity' when it's really the Cult locking them away into smaller and smaller versions of Phantom Self while firewalling them from the influence of their true self, the infinite, eternal 'I'. You may notice that my philosophy which contends that we are all unique points of attention/awareness within the same infinite whole or Oneness is the ultimate non-racism. The very sense of Oneness makes the judgement of people by their body-type, colour or sexuality utterly ridiculous and confirms that racism has no understanding of reality (including anti-white racism). Yet despite my perception of life Cult agents and fast-asleep Wokers label me racist to discredit my information while they are themselves phenomenally racist and sexist. All they see is race and sexuality and they judge people as good or bad, demons or untouchables, by their race and sexuality. All they see is Phantom Self and perceive themselves in terms of Phantom Self. They are pawns and puppets of the Cult agenda to focus attention and self-identity in the five senses and play those identities against each other to divide and rule. Columbia University has introduced segregated graduations in another version of social distancing designed to drive people apart and teach them that different racial and cultural groups have nothing in common with each other. The last thing the Cult wants is unity. Again the pumpprimers of this will be Cult operatives in the knowledge of what they are doing, but the rest are just the Phantom Self blind leading the Phantom Self blind. We do have something in common – we are all the same consciousness having different temporary experiences.

What is this 'human'?

Yes, what is 'human'? That is what we are supposed to be, right? I mean 'human'? True, but 'human' is the experience not the 'I'. Break it down to basics and 'human' is the way that information is processed. If we are to experience and interact with this band of frequency we call the 'world' we must have a vehicle that operates within that band of frequency. Our consciousness in its prime form cannot do that; it is way beyond the frequency of the human realm. My consciousness or awareness could not tap these keys and pick up the cup in front of me in the same way that radio station A cannot interact with radio station B when they are on different frequencies. The human body is the means through which we have that interaction. I have long described the body as a biological computer which processes information in a way that allows consciousness to experience this reality. The body is a receiver, transmitter and processor of information in a particular way that we call human. We visually perceive only the world of the five senses in a wakened state – that is the limit of the body's visual decoding system. In truth it's not even visual in the way we experience 'visual reality' as I will come to in a moment. We are 'human' because the body processes the information sources of human into a reality and behaviour system that we perceive as human. Why does an elephant act like an elephant and not like a human or a duck? The elephant's biological computer is a different information field and processes information according to that program into a visual and behaviour type we call an elephant. The same applies to everything in our reality. These body information fields are perpetuated through procreation (like making a copy of a software program). The Cult wants to break that cycle and intervene technologically to transform the human information field into one that will change what we call humanity. If it can change the human information field it will change the way that field processes information and change humanity both 'physically' and psychologically. Hence the messenger (information) RNA 'vaccines' and so much more that is targeting human genetics by changing the body's information – messaging – construct through food, drink, radiation, toxicity and other means.

Reality that we experience is nothing like reality as it really is in the same way that the reality people experience in virtual reality games is not the reality they are really living in. The game is only a decoded source of information that appears to be a reality. Our world is also an information construct – a simulation (more later). In its base form our reality is a wavefield of information much the same in theme as Wi-Fi. The five senses decode wavefield information into electrical information which they communicate to the brain to decode into holographic (illusory 'physical') information. Different parts of the brain specialise in decoding different senses and the information is fused into a reality that appears to be outside of us but is really inside the brain and the genetic structure in general (Fig. 12 overleaf). DNA is a receiver-transmitter of information and a vital part of this decoding process and the body's connection to other realities. Change DNA and you change the way we decode and connect with reality – see 'Covid vaccines'. Think of computers decoding Wi-Fi. You have information encoded in a radiation field and the computer decodes that information into a very different form on the screen. You can't see the Wi-Fi until its information is made manifest on the screen and the information on the screen is inside the computer and not outside. I have just described how we decode the 'human world'. All five senses decode the waveform 'Wi-Fi' field into electrical signals and the brain (computer) constructs reality inside the brain and not outside – 'You don't just look at a rainbow, you create it'. Sound is a simple example. We don't hear sound until the brain decodes it. Waveform sound waves are picked up by the hearing sense and communicated to the brain in an electrical form to be decoded into the sounds that we hear. Everything we hear is inside the brain along with everything we see, feel, smell and taste. Words and language are waveform fields generated by our vocal chords which pass through this process until they are decoded by the brain into words that we hear. Different languages are different frequency fields or sound waves generated by vocal chords. Late British philosopher Alan Watts said:

[Without the brain] the world is devoid of light, heat, weight, solidity, motion, space, time or any other imaginable feature. All these phenomena are interactions, or transactions, of vibrations with a certain arrangement of neurons.

That's exactly what they are and scientist Robert Lanza describes in his book, Biocentrism, how we decode electromagnetic waves and energy into visual and 'physical' experience. He uses the example of a flame emitting photons, electromagnetic energy, each pulsing electrically and magnetically:

... these ... invisible electromagnetic waves strike a human retina, and if (and only if) the waves happen to measure between 400 and 700 nano meters in length from crest to crest, then their energy is just right to deliver a stimulus to the 8 million cone-shaped cells in the retina.

Each in turn send an electrical pulse to a neighbour neuron, and on up the line this goes, at 250 mph, until it reaches the ... occipital lobe of the brain, in the back of the head. There, a cascading complex of neurons fire from the incoming stimuli, and we subjectively perceive this experience as a yellow brightness occurring in a place we have been conditioned to call the 'external world'.

You hear what you decode

If a tree falls or a building collapses they make no noise unless someone is there to decode the energetic waves generated by the disturbance into what we call sound. Does a falling tree make a noise? Only if you hear it – decode it. Everything in our reality is a frequency field of information operating within the overall 'Wi-Fi' field that I call The Field. A vibrational disturbance is generated in The Field by the fields of the falling tree or building. These disturbance waves are what we decode into the sound of them falling. If no one is there to do that then neither will make any noise. Reality is created by the observer – decoder – and the perceptions of the observer affect the decoding process. For this reason different people – different perceptions – will perceive the same reality or situation in a different way. What one may perceive as a nightmare another will see as an opportunity. The question of why the Cult is so focused on controlling human perception now answers itself. All experienced reality is the act of decoding and we don't experience Wi-Fi until it is decoded on the computer screen. The sight and sound of an Internet video is encoded in the Wi-Fi all around us, but we don't see or hear it until the computer decodes that information. Taste, smell and touch are all phenomena of the brain as a result of the same process. We don't taste, smell or feel anything except in the brain and there are pain relief techniques that seek to block the signal from the site of discomfort to the brain because if the brain doesn't decode that signal we don't feel pain. Pain is in the brain and only appears to be at the point of impact thanks to the feedback loop between them. We don't see anything until electrical information from the sight senses is decoded in an area at the back of the brain. If that area is damaged we can go blind when our eyes are perfectly okay. So why do we go blind if we damage an eye? We damage the information processing between the waveform visual information and the visual decoding area of the brain. If information doesn't reach the brain in a form it can decode then we can't see the visual reality that it represents. What's more the brain is decoding only a fraction of the information it receives and the rest is absorbed by the sub-conscious mind. This explanation is from the science magazine, Wonderpedia:

Every second, 11 million sensations crackle along these [brain] pathways ... The brain is confronted with an alarming array of images, sounds and smells which it rigorously filters down until it is left with a manageable list of around 40. Thus 40 sensations per second make up what we perceive as reality.

The 'world' is not what people are told to believe that is it and the inner circles of the Cult know that.

Illusory 'physical' reality

We can only see a smear of 0.005 percent of the Universe which is only one of a vast array of universes – 'mansions' – within infinite reality. Even then the brain decodes only 40 pieces of information ('sensations') from a potential 11 million that we receive every second. Two points strike you from this immediately: The sheer breathtaking stupidity of believing we know anything so rigidly that there's nothing more to know; and the potential for these processes to be manipulated by a malevolent force to control the reality of the population. One thing I can say for sure with no risk of contradiction is that when you can perceive an almost indescribable fraction of infinite reality there is always more to know as in tidal waves of it. Ancient Greek philosopher Socrates was so right when he said that wisdom is to know how little we know. How obviously true that is when you think that we are experiencing a physical world of solidity that is neither physical nor solid and a world of apartness when everything is connected. Cult-controlled 'science' dismisses the socalled 'paranormal' and all phenomena related to that when the 'para'-normal is perfectly normal and explains the alleged 'great mysteries' which dumbfound scientific minds. There is a reason for this. A 'scientific mind' in terms of the mainstream is a material mind, a five-sense mind imprisoned in see it, touch it, hear it, smell it and taste it. Phenomena and happenings that can't be explained that way leave the 'scientific mind' bewildered and the rule is that if they can't account for why something is happening then it can't, by definition, be happening. I beg to differ. Telepathy is thought waves passing through The Field (think wave disturbance again) to be decoded by someone able to connect with that wavelength (information). For example: You can pick up the thought waves of a friend at any distance and at the very least that will bring them to mind. A few minutes later the friend calls you. 'My god', you say, 'that's incredible – I was just thinking of you.' Ah, but they were thinking of you before they made the call and that's what you decoded. Native peoples not entrapped in five-sense reality do this so well it became known as the 'bush telegraph'. Those known as psychics and mediums (genuine ones) are doing the same only across dimensions of reality. 'Mind over matter' comes from the fact that matter and mind are the same. The state of one influences the state of the other. Indeed one and the other are illusions. They are aspects of the same field. Paranormal phenomena are all explainable so why are they still considered 'mysteries' or not happening? Once you go down this road of understanding you begin to expand awareness beyond the five senses and that's the nightmare for the Cult.

Our reality is not solid, it is holographic. We are now well aware of holograms which are widely used today. Two-dimensional information is decoded into a three-dimensional reality that is not solid although can very much appear to be (Fig 13). Holograms are created with a laser divided into two parts. One goes directly onto a holographic photographic print ('reference beam') and the other takes a waveform image of the subject ('working beam') before being directed onto the print where it 'collides' with the other half of the laser (Fig 14). This creates a waveform interference pattern which contains the wavefield information of whatever is being photographed (Fig 15 overleaf). The process can be likened to dropping pebbles in a pond. Waves generated by each one spread out across the water to collide with the others and create a wave representation of where the stones fell and at what speed, weight and distance. A waveform interference pattern of a hologram is akin to the waveform information in The Field which the five senses decode into electrical signals to be decoded by the brain into a holographic illusory 'physical' reality. In the same way when a laser (think human attention) is directed at the waveform interference pattern a three-dimensional version of the subject is projected into apparently 'solid' reality (Fig 16). An amazing trait of holograms reveals more 'paranormal mysteries'. Information of the whole hologram is encoded in waveform in every part of the interference pattern by the way they are created. This means that every part of a hologram is a smaller version of the whole. Cut the interference wave-pattern into four and you won't get four parts of the image. You get quarter-sized versions of the whole image. The body is a hologram and the same applies. Here we have the basis of acupuncture, reflexology and other forms of healing which identify representations of the whole body in all of the parts, hands, feet, ears, everywhere. Skilled palm readers can do what they do because the information of whole body is encoded in the hand. The concept of as above, so below, comes from this.

The question will be asked of why, if solidity is illusory, we can't just walk through walls and each other. The resistance is not solid against solid; it is electromagnetic field against electromagnetic field and we decode this into the experience of solid against solid. We should also not underestimate the power of belief to dictate reality. What you believe is impossible will be. Your belief impacts on your decoding processes and they won't decode what you think is impossible. What we believe we perceive and what we perceive we experience. 'Can't dos' and 'impossibles' are like a firewall in a computer system that won't put on the screen what the firewall blocks. How vital that is to understanding how human experience has been hijacked. I explain in The Answer, Everything You Need To Know But Have Never Been Told and other books a long list of 'mysteries' and 'paranormal' phenomena that are not mysterious and perfectly normal once you realise what reality is and how it works. 'Ghosts' can be seen to pass through 'solid' walls because the walls are not solid and the ghost is a discarnate entity operating on a frequency so different to that of the wall that it's like two radio stations sharing the same space while never interfering with each other. I have seen ghosts do this myself. The apartness of people and objects is also an illusion. Everything is connected by the Field like all sea life is connected by the sea. It's just that within the limits of our visual reality we only 'see' holographic information and not the field of information that connects everything and from which the holographic world is made manifest. If you can only see holographic 'objects' and not the field that connects them they will appear to you as unconnected to each other in the same way that we see the computer while not seeing the Wi-Fi.

What you don't know can hurt you

Okay, we return to those 'two worlds' of human society and the Cult with its global network of interconnecting secret societies and satanic groups which manipulate through governments, corporations, media, religions, etc. The fundamental difference between them is knowledge. The idea has been to keep humanity ignorant of the plan for its total enslavement underpinned by a crucial ignorance of reality – who we are and where we are – and how we interact with it. 'Human' should be the interaction between our expanded eternal consciousness and the five-sense body experience. We are meant to be in this world in terms of the five senses but not of this world in relation to our greater consciousness and perspective. In that state we experience the small picture of the five senses within the wider context of the big picture of awareness beyond the five senses. Put another way the five senses see the dots and expanded awareness connects them into pictures and patterns that give context to the apparently random and unconnected. Without the context of expanded awareness the five senses see only apartness and randomness with apparently no meaning. The Cult and its other-dimensional controllers seek to intervene in the frequency realm where five-sense reality is supposed to connect with expanded reality and to keep the two apart (more on this in the final chapter). When that happens five-sense mental and emotional processes are no longer influenced by expanded awareness, or the True 'I', and instead are driven by the isolated perceptions of the body's decoding systems. They are in the world and of it. Here we have the human plight and why humanity with its potential for infinite awareness can be so easily manipulatable and descend into such extremes of stupidity.

Once the Cult isolates five-sense mind from expanded awareness it can then program the mind with perceptions and beliefs by controlling information that the mind receives through the 'education' system of the formative years and the media perceptual bombardment and censorship of an entire lifetime. Limit perception and a sense of the possible through limiting knowledge by limiting and skewing information while censoring and discrediting that which could set people free. As the title of another of my books says ... And The Truth Shall Set You Free. For this reason the last thing the Cult wants in circulation is the truth about anything – especially the reality of the eternal 'I' – and that's why it is desperate to control information. The Cult knows that information becomes perception which becomes behaviour which, collectively, becomes human society. Cult-controlled and funded mainstream 'science' denies the existence of an eternal 'I' and seeks to dismiss and trash all evidence to the contrary. Cult-controlled mainstream religion has a version of 'God' that is little more than a system of control and dictatorship that employs threats of damnation in an afterlife to control perceptions and behaviour in the here and now through fear and guilt. Neither is true and it's the 'neither' that the Cult wishes to suppress. This 'neither' is that everything is an expression, a point of attention, within an infinite state of consciousness which is the real meaning of the term 'God'.

Perceptual obsession with the 'physical body' and five-senses means that 'God' becomes personified as a bearded bloke sitting among the clouds or a raging bully who loves us if we do what 'he' wants and condemns us to the fires of hell if we don't. These are no more than a 'spiritual' fairy tales to control and dictate events and behaviour through fear of this 'God' which has bizarrely made 'Godfearing' in religious circles a state to be desired. I would suggest that fearing anything is not to be encouraged and celebrated, but rather deleted. You can see why 'God fearing' is so beneficial to the Cult and its religions when they decide what 'God' wants and what 'God' demands (the Cult demands) that everyone do. As the great American comedian Bill Hicks said satirising a Christian zealot: 'I think what God meant to say.' How much of this infinite awareness ('God') that we access is decided by how far we choose to expand our perceptions, self-identity and sense of the possible. The scale of self-identity reflects itself in the scale of awareness that we can connect with and are influenced by – how much knowing and insight we have instead of programmed perception. You cannot expand your awareness into the infinity of possibility when you believe that you are little me Peter the postman or Mary in marketing and nothing more. I'll deal with this in the concluding chapter because it's crucial to how we turnaround current events.

Where the Cult came from

When I realised in the early 1990s there was a Cult network behind global events I asked the obvious question: When did it start? I took it back to ancient Rome and Egypt and on to Babylon and Sumer in Mesopotamia, the 'Land Between Two Rivers', in what we now call Iraq. The two rivers are the Tigris and Euphrates and this region is of immense historical and other importance to the Cult, as is the land called Israel only 550 miles away by air. There is much more going with deep esoteric meaning across this whole region. It's not only about 'wars for oil'. Priceless artefacts from Mesopotamia were stolen or destroyed after the American and British invasion of Iraq in 2003 justified by the lies of Boy Bush and Tony Blair (their Cult masters) about non-existent 'weapons of mass destruction'. Mesopotamia was the location of Sumer (about 5,400BC to 1,750BC), and Babylon (about 2,350BC to 539BC). Sabbatians may have become immensely influential in the Cult in modern times but they are part of a network that goes back into the mists of history. Sumer is said by historians to be the 'cradle of civilisation'. I disagree. I say it was the re-start of what we call human civilisation after cataclysmic events symbolised in part as the 'Great Flood' destroyed the world that existed before. These fantastic upheavals that I have been describing in detail in the books since the early 1990s appear in accounts and legends of ancient cultures across the world and they are supported by geological and biological evidence. Stone tablets found in Iraq detailing the Sumer period say the cataclysms were caused by nonhuman 'gods' they call the Anunnaki. These are described in terms of extraterrestrial visitations in which knowledge supplied by the Anunnaki is said to have been the source of at least one of the world's oldest writing systems and developments in astronomy, mathematics and architecture that were way ahead of their time. I have covered this subject at length in The Biggest Secret and Children of the Matrix and the same basic 'Anunnaki' story can be found in Zulu accounts in South Africa where the late and very great Zulu high shaman Credo Mutwa told me that the Sumerian Anunnaki were known by Zulus as the Chitauri or 'children of the serpent'. See my six-hour video interview with Credo on this subject entitled The Reptilian Agenda recorded at his then home near Johannesburg in 1999 which you can watch on the Ickonic media platform.

The Cult emerged out of Sumer, Babylon and Egypt (and elsewhere) and established the Roman Empire before expanding with the Romans into northern Europe from where many empires were savagely imposed in the form of Cult-controlled societies all over the world. Mass death and destruction was their calling card. The Cult established its centre of operations in Europe and European Empires were Cult empires which allowed it to expand into a global force. Spanish and Portuguese colonialists headed for Central and South America while the British and French targeted North America. Africa was colonised by Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Italy, and Germany. Some like Britain and France moved in on the Middle East. The British Empire was by far the biggest for a simple reason. By now Britain was the headquarters of the Cult from which it expanded to form Canada, the United States, Australia and New Zealand. The Sun never set on the British Empire such was the scale of its occupation. London remains a global centre for the Cult along with Rome and the Vatican although others have emerged in Israel and China. It is no accident that the 'virus' is alleged to have come out of China while Italy was chosen as the means to terrify the Western population into compliance with 'Covid' fascism. Nor that Israel has led the world in 'Covid' fascism and mass 'vaccination'.

You would think that I would mention the United States here, but while it has been an important means of imposing the Cult's will it is less significant than would appear and is currently in the process of having what power it does have deleted. The Cult in Europe has mostly loaded the guns for the US to fire. America has been controlled from Europe from the start through Cult operatives in Britain and Europe. The American Revolution was an illusion to make it appear that America was governing itself while very different forces were pulling the strings in the form of Cult families such as the Rothschilds through the Rockefellers and other subordinates. The Rockefellers are extremely close to Bill Gates and established both scalpel and drug 'medicine' and the World Health Organization. They play a major role in the development and circulation of vaccines through the Rockefeller Foundation on which Bill Gates said his Foundation is based. Why wouldn't this be the case when the Rockefellers and Gates are on the same team? Cult infiltration of human society goes way back into what we call history and has been constantly expanding and centralising power with the goal of establishing a global structure to dictate everything. Look how this has been advanced in great leaps with the 'Covid' hoax.

The non-human dimension

I researched and observed the comings and goings of Cult operatives through the centuries and even thousands of years as they were born, worked to promote the agenda within the secret society and satanic networks, and then died for others to replace them. Clearly there had to be a coordinating force that spanned this entire period while operatives who would not have seen the end goal in their lifetimes came and went advancing the plan over millennia. I went in search of that coordinating force with the usual support from the extraordinary synchronicity of my life which has been an almost daily experience since 1990. I saw common themes in religious texts and ancient cultures about a non-human force manipulating human society from the hidden. Christianity calls this force Satan, the Devil and demons; Islam refers to the Jinn or Djinn; Zulus have their Chitauri (spelt in other ways in different parts of Africa); and the Gnostic people in Egypt in the period around and before 400AD referred to this phenomena as the 'Archons', a word meaning rulers in Greek. Central American cultures speak of the 'Predators' among other names and the same theme is everywhere. I will use 'Archons' as a collective name for all of them. When you see how their nature and behaviour is described all these different sources are clearly talking about the same force. Gnostics described the Archons in terms of 'luminous fire' while Islam relates the Jinn to 'smokeless fire'. Some refer to beings in form that could occasionally be seen, but the most common of common theme is that they operate from unseen realms which means almost all existence to the visual processes of humans. I had concluded that this was indeed the foundation of human control and that the Cult was operating within the human frequency band on behalf of this hidden force when I came across the writings of Gnostics which supported my conclusions in the most extraordinary way.

A sealed earthen jar was found in 1945 near the town of Nag Hammadi about 75-80 miles north of Luxor on the banks of the River Nile in Egypt. Inside was a treasure trove of manuscripts and texts left by the Gnostic people some 1,600 years earlier. They included 13 leather-bound papyrus codices (manuscripts) and more than 50 texts written in Coptic Egyptian estimated to have been hidden in the jar in the period of 400AD although the source of the information goes back much further. Gnostics oversaw the Great or Royal Library of Alexandria, the fantastic depository of ancient texts detailing advanced knowledge and accounts of human history. The Library was dismantled and destroyed in stages over a long period with the death-blow delivered by the Cult-established Roman Church in the period around 415AD. The Church of Rome was the Church of Babylon relocated as I said earlier. Gnostics were not a race. They were a way of perceiving reality. Whenever they established themselves and their information circulated the terrorists of the Church of Rome would target them for destruction. This happened with the Great Library and with the Gnostic Cathars who were burned to death by the psychopaths after a long period of oppression at the siege of the Castle of Monségur in southern France in 1244. The Church has always been terrified of Gnostic information which demolishes the official Christian narrative although there is much in the Bible that supports the Gnostic view if you read it in another way. To anyone studying the texts of what became known as the Nag Hammadi Library it is clear that great swathes of Christian and Biblical belief has its origin with Gnostics sources going back to Sumer. Gnostic themes have been twisted to manipulate the perceived reality of Bible believers. Biblical texts have been in the open for centuries where they could be changed while Gnostic documents found at Nag Hammadi were sealed away and untouched for 1,600 years. What you see is what they wrote.

Use your pneuma not your nous

Gnosticism and Gnostic come from 'gnosis' which means knowledge, or rather secret knowledge, in the sense of spiritual awareness – knowledge about reality and life itself. The desperation of the Cult's Church of Rome to destroy the Gnostics can be understood when the knowledge they were circulating was the last thing the Cult wanted the population to know. Sixteen hundred years later the same Cult is working hard to undermine and silence me for the same reason. The dynamic between knowledge and ignorance is a constant. 'Time' appears to move on, but essential themes remain the same. We are told to 'use your nous', a Gnostic word for head/brain/intelligence. They said, however, that spiritual awakening or 'salvation' could only be secured by expanding awareness beyond what they called nous and into pneuma or Infinite Self. Obviously as I read these texts the parallels with what I have been saying since 1990 were fascinating to me. There is a universal truth that spans human history and in that case why wouldn't we be talking the same language 16 centuries apart? When you free yourself from the perception program of the five senses and explore expanded realms of consciousness you are going to connect with the same information no matter what the perceived 'era' within a manufactured timeline of a single and tiny range of manipulated frequency. Humans working with 'smart' technology or knocking rocks together in caves is only a timeline appearing to operate within the human frequency band. Expanded awareness and the knowledge it holds have always been there whether the era be Stone Age or computer age. We can only access that knowledge by opening ourselves to its frequency which the five-sense prison cell is designed to stop us doing. Gates, Fauci, Whitty, Vallance, Zuckerberg, Brin, Page, Wojcicki, Bezos, and all the others behind the 'Covid' hoax clearly have a long wait before their range of frequency can make that connection given that an open heart is crucial to that as we shall see. Instead of accessing knowledge directly through expanded awareness it is given to Cult operatives by the secret society networks of the Cult where it has been passed on over thousands of years outside the public arena. Expanded realms of consciousness is where great artists, composers and writers find their inspiration and where truth awaits anyone open enough to connect with it. We need to go there fast.

Archon hijack

A fifth of the Nag Hammadi texts describe the existence and manipulation of the Archons led by a 'Chief Archon' they call 'Yaldabaoth', or the 'Demiurge', and this is the Christian 'Devil', 'Satan', 'Lucifer', and his demons. Archons in Biblical symbolism are the 'fallen ones' which are also referred to as fallen angels after the angels expelled from heaven according to the Abrahamic religions of Judaism, Christianity and Islam. These angels are claimed to tempt humans to 'sin' ongoing and you will see how accurate that symbolism is during the rest of the book. The theme of 'original sin' is related to the 'Fall' when Adam and Eve were 'tempted by the serpent' and fell from a state of innocence and 'obedience' (connection) with God into a state of disobedience (disconnection). The Fall is said to have brought sin into the world and corrupted everything including human nature. Yaldabaoth, the 'Lord Archon', is described by Gnostics as a 'counterfeit spirit', 'The Blind One', 'The Blind God', and 'The Foolish One'. The Jewish name for Yaldabaoth in Talmudic writings is Samael which translates as 'Poison of God', or 'Blindness of God'. You see the parallels. Yaldabaoth in Islamic belief is the Muslim Jinn devil known as Shaytan – Shaytan is Satan as the same themes are found all over the world in every religion and culture. The 'Lord God' of the Old Testament is the 'Lord Archon' of Gnostic manuscripts and that's why he's such a bloodthirsty bastard. Satan is known by Christians as 'the Demon of Demons' and Gnostics called Yaldabaoth the 'Archon of Archons'. Both are known as 'The Deceiver'. We are talking about the same 'bloke' for sure and these common themes using different names, storylines and symbolism tell a common tale of the human plight.

Archons are referred to in Nag Hammadi documents as mind parasites, inverters, guards, gatekeepers, detainers, judges, pitiless ones and deceivers. The 'Covid' hoax alone is a glaring example of all these things. The Biblical 'God' is so different in the Old and New Testaments because they are not describing the same phenomenon. The vindictive, angry, hate-filled, 'God' of the Old Testament, known as Yahweh, is Yaldabaoth who is depicted in Cult-dictated popular culture as the 'Dark Lord', 'Lord of Time', Lord (Darth) Vader and Dormammu, the evil ruler of the 'Dark Dimension' trying to take over the 'Earth Dimension' in the Marvel comic movie, Dr Strange. Yaldabaoth is both the Old Testament 'god' and the Biblical 'Satan'. Gnostics referred to Yaldabaoth as the 'Great Architect of the Universe'and the Cult-controlled Freemason network calls their god 'the 'Great Architect of the Universe' (also Grand Architect). The 'Great Architect' Yaldabaoth is symbolised by the Cult as the allseeing eye at the top of the pyramid on the Great Seal of the United States and the dollar bill. Archon is encoded in arch-itect as it is in arch-angels and arch-bishops. All religions have the theme of a force for good and force for evil in some sort of spiritual war and there is a reason for that – the theme is true. The Cult and its non-human masters are quite happy for this to circulate. They present themselves as the force for good fighting evil when they are really the force of evil (absence of love). The whole foundation of Cult modus operandi is inversion. They promote themselves as a force for good and anyone challenging them in pursuit of peace, love, fairness, truth and justice is condemned as a satanic force for evil. This has been the game plan throughout history whether the Church of Rome inquisitions of non-believers or 'conspiracy theorists' and 'anti-vaxxers' of today. The technique is the same whatever the timeline era.

Yaldabaoth is revolting (true)

Yaldabaoth and the Archons are said to have revolted against God with Yaldabaoth claiming to be God – the All That Is. The Old Testament 'God' (Yaldabaoth) demanded to be worshipped as such: ' I am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God beside me' (Isaiah 45:5). I have quoted in other books a man who said he was the unofficial son of the late Baron Philippe de Rothschild of the Mouton-Rothschild wine producing estates in France who died in 1988 and he told me about the Rothschild 'revolt from God'. The man said he was given the name Phillip Eugene de Rothschild and we shared long correspondence many years ago while he was living under another identity. He said that he was conceived through 'occult incest' which (within the Cult) was 'normal and to be admired'. 'Phillip' told me about his experience attending satanic rituals with rich and famous people whom he names and you can see them and the wider background to Cult Satanism in my other books starting with The Biggest Secret. Cult rituals are interactions with Archontic 'gods'. 'Phillip' described Baron Philippe de Rothschild as 'a master Satanist and hater of God' and he used the same term 'revolt from God' associated with Yaldabaoth/Satan/Lucifer/the Devil in describing the Sabbatian Rothschild dynasty. 'I played a key role in my family's revolt from God', he said. That role was to infiltrate in classic Sabbatian style the Christian Church, but eventually he escaped the mind-prison to live another life. The Cult has been targeting religion in a plan to make worship of the Archons the global one-world religion. Infiltration of Satanism into modern 'culture', especially among the young, through music videos, stage shows and other means, is all part of this.

Nag Hammadi texts describe Yaldabaoth and the Archons in their prime form as energy – consciousness – and say they can take form if they choose in the same way that consciousness takes form as a human. Yaldabaoth is called 'formless' and represents a deeply inverted, distorted and chaotic state of consciousness which seeks to attached to humans and turn them into a likeness of itself in an attempt at assimilation. For that to happen it has to manipulate humans into low frequency mental and emotional states that match its own. Archons can certainly appear in human form and this is the origin of the psychopathic personality. The energetic distortion Gnostics called Yaldabaoth is psychopathy. When psychopathic Archons take human form that human will be a psychopath as an expression of Yaldabaoth consciousness. Cult psychopaths are Archons in human form. The principle is the same as that portrayed in the 2009 Avatar movie when the American military travelled to a fictional Earth-like moon called Pandora in the Alpha Centauri star system to infiltrate a society of blue people, or Na'vi, by hiding within bodies that looked like the Na'vi. Archons posing as humans have a particular hybrid information field, part human, part Archon, (the ancient 'demigods') which processes information in a way that manifests behaviour to match their psychopathic evil, lack of empathy and compassion, and stops them being influenced by the empathy, compassion and love that a fully-human information field is capable of expressing. Cult bloodlines interbreed, be they royalty or dark suits, for this reason and you have their obsession with incest. Interbreeding with full-blown humans would dilute the Archontic energy field that guarantees psychopathy in its representatives in the human realm.

Gnostic writings say the main non-human forms that Archons take are serpentine (what I have called for decades 'reptilian' amid unbounded ridicule from the Archontically-programmed) and what Gnostics describe as 'an unborn baby or foetus with grey skin and dark, unmoving eyes'. This is an excellent representation of the ET 'Greys' of UFO folklore which large numbers of people claim to have seen and been abducted by – Zulu shaman Credo Mutwa among them. I agree with those that believe in extraterrestrial or interdimensional visitations today and for thousands of years past. No wonder with their advanced knowledge and technological capability they were perceived and worshipped as gods for technological and other 'miracles' they appeared to perform. Imagine someone arriving in a culture disconnected from the modern world with a smartphone and computer. They would be seen as a 'god' capable of 'miracles'. The Renegade Mind, however, wants to know the source of everything and not only the way that source manifests as human or non-human. In the same way that a Renegade Mind seeks the original source material for the 'Covid virus' to see if what is claimed is true. The original source of Archons in form is consciousness – the distorted state of consciousness known to Gnostics as Yaldabaoth.

'Revolt from God' is energetic disconnection

Where I am going next will make a lot of sense of religious texts and ancient legends relating to 'Satan', Lucifer' and the 'gods'. Gnostic descriptions sync perfectly with the themes of my own research over the years in how they describe a consciousness distortion seeking to impose itself on human consciousness. I've referred to the core of infinite awareness in previous books as Infinite Awareness in Awareness of Itself. By that I mean a level of awareness that knows that it is all awareness and is aware of all awareness. From here comes the frequency of love in its true sense and balance which is what love is on one level – the balance of all forces into a single whole called Oneness and Isness. The more we disconnect from this state of love that many call 'God' the constituent parts of that Oneness start to unravel and express themselves as a part and not a whole. They become individualised as intellect, mind, selfishness, hatred, envy, desire for power over others, and such like. This is not a problem in the greater scheme in that 'God', the All That Is, can experience all these possibilities through different expressions of itself including humans. What we as expressions of the whole experience the All That Is experiences. We are the All That Is experiencing itself. As we withdraw from that state of Oneness we disconnect from its influence and things can get very unpleasant and very stupid. Archontic consciousness is at the extreme end of that. It has so disconnected from the influence of Oneness that it has become an inversion of unity and love, an inversion of everything, an inversion of life itself. Evil is appropriately live written backwards. Archontic consciousness is obsessed with death, an inversion of life, and so its manifestations in Satanism are obsessed with death. They use inverted symbols in their rituals such as the inverted pentagram and cross. Sabbatians as Archontic consciousness incarnate invert Judaism and every other religion and culture they infiltrate. They seek disunity and chaos and they fear unity and harmony as they fear love like garlic to a vampire. As a result the Cult, Archons incarnate, act with such evil, psychopathy and lack of empathy and compassion disconnected as they are from the source of love. How could Bill Gates and the rest of the Archontic psychopaths do what they have to human society in the 'Covid' era with all the death, suffering and destruction involved and have no emotional consequence for the impact on others? Now you know. Why have Zuckerberg, Brin, Page, Wojcicki and company callously censored information warning about the dangers of the 'vaccine' while thousands have been dying and having severe, sometimes lifechanging reactions? Now you know. Why have Tedros, Fauci, Whitty, Vallance and their like around the world been using case and death figures they're aware are fraudulent to justify lockdowns and all the deaths and destroyed lives that have come from that? Now you know. Why did Christian Drosten produce and promote a 'testing' protocol that he knew couldn't test for infectious disease which led to a global human catastrophe. Now you know. The Archontic mind doesn't give a shit (Fig 17). I personally think that Gates and major Cult insiders are a form of AI cyborg that the Archons want humans to become.

Human batteries

A state of such inversion does have its consequences, however. The level of disconnection from the Source of All means that you withdraw from that source of energetic sustenance and creativity. This means that you have to find your own supply of energetic power and it has – us. When the Morpheus character in the first Matrix movie held up a battery he spoke a profound truth when he said: 'The Matrix is a computer-generated dream world built to keep us under control in order to change the human being into one of these.' The statement was true in all respects. We do live in a technologically-generated virtual reality simulation (more very shortly) and we have been manipulated to be an energy source for Archontic consciousness. The Disney-Pixar animated movie Monsters, Inc. in 2001 symbolised the dynamic when monsters in their world had no energy source and they would enter the human world to terrify children in their beds, catch the child's scream, terror (low-vibrational frequencies), and take that energy back to power the monster world. The lead character you might remember was a single giant eye and the symbolism of the Cult's all-seeing eye was obvious. Every thought and emotion is broadcast as a frequency unique to that thought and emotion. Feelings of love and joy, empathy and compassion, are high, quick, frequencies while fear, depression, anxiety, suffering and hate are low, slow, dense frequencies. Which kind do you think Archontic consciousness can connect with and absorb? In such a low and dense frequency state there's no way it can connect with the energy of love and joy. Archons can only feed off energy compatible with their own frequency and they and their Cult agents want to delete the human world of love and joy and manipulate the transmission of low vibrational frequencies through low-vibrational human mental and emotional states. We are their energy source. Wars are energetic banquets to the Archons – a world war even more so – and think how much low-frequency mental and emotional energy has been generated from the consequences for humanity of the 'Covid' hoax orchestrated by Archons incarnate like Gates.

The ancient practice of human sacrifice 'to the gods', continued in secret today by the Cult, is based on the same principle. 'The gods' are Archontic consciousness in different forms and the sacrifice is induced into a state of intense terror to generate the energy the Archontic frequency can absorb. Incarnate Archons in the ritual drink the blood which contains an adrenaline they crave which floods into the bloodstream when people are terrorised. Most of the sacrifices, ancient and modern, are children and the theme of 'sacrificing young virgins to the gods' is just code for children. They have a particular pre-puberty energy that Archons want more than anything and the energy of the young in general is their target. The California Department of Education wants students to chant the names of Aztec gods (Archontic gods) once worshipped in human sacrifice rituals in a curriculum designed to encourage them to 'challenge racist, bigoted, discriminatory, imperialist/colonial beliefs', join 'social movements that struggle for social justice', and 'build new possibilities for a post-racist, post-systemic racism society'. It's the usual Woke crap that inverts racism and calls it antiracism. In this case solidarity with 'indigenous tribes' is being used as an excuse to chant the names of 'gods' to which people were sacrificed (and still are in secret). What an example of Woke's inability to see beyond black and white, us and them, They condemn the colonisation of these tribal cultures by Europeans (quite right), but those cultures sacrificing people including children to their 'gods', and mass murdering untold numbers as the Aztecs did, is just fine. One chant is to the Aztec god Tezcatlipoca who had a man sacrificed to him in the 5th month of the Aztec calendar. His heart was cut out and he was eaten. Oh, that's okay then. Come on children ... after three ... Other sacrificial 'gods' for the young to chant their allegiance include Quetzalcoatl, Huitzilopochtli and Xipe Totec. The curriculum says that 'chants, affirmations, and energizers can be used to bring the class together, build unity around ethnic studies principles and values, and to reinvigorate the class following a lesson that may be emotionally taxing or even when student engagement may appear to be low'. Well, that's the cover story, anyway. Chanting and mantras are the repetition of a particular frequency generated from the vocal cords and chanting the names of these Archontic 'gods' tunes you into their frequency. That is the last thing you want when it allows for energetic synchronisation, attachment and perceptual influence. Initiates chant the names of their 'Gods' in their rituals for this very reason.

Vampires of the Woke

Paedophilia is another way that Archons absorb the energy of children. Paedophiles possessed by Archontic consciousness are used as the conduit during sexual abuse for discarnate Archons to vampire the energy of the young they desire so much. Stupendous numbers of children disappear every year never to be seen again although you would never know from the media. Imagine how much low-vibrational energy has been generated by children during the 'Covid' hoax when so many have become depressed and psychologically destroyed to the point of killing themselves. Shocking numbers of children are now taken by the state from loving parents to be handed to others. I can tell you from long experience of researching this since 1996 that many end up with paedophiles and assets of the Cult through corrupt and Cult-owned social services which in the reframing era has hired many psychopaths and emotionless automatons to do the job. Children are even stolen to order using spurious reasons to take them by the corrupt and secret (because they're corrupt) 'family courts'. I have written in detail in other books, starting with The Biggest Secret in 1997, about the ubiquitous connections between the political, corporate, government, intelligence and military elites (Cult operatives) and Satanism and paedophilia. If you go deep enough both networks have an interlocking leadership. The Woke mentality has been developed by the Cult for many reasons: To promote almost every aspect of its agenda; to hijack the traditional political left and turn it fascist; to divide and rule; and to target agenda pushbackers. But there are other reasons which relate to what I am describing here. How many happy and joyful Wokers do you ever see especially at the extreme end? They are a mental and psychological mess consumed by emotional stress and constantly emotionally cocked for the next explosion of indignation at someone referring to a female as a female. They are walking, talking, batteries as Morpheus might say emitting frequencies which both enslave them in low-vibrational bubbles of perceptual limitation and feed the Archons. Add to this the hatred claimed to be love; fascism claimed to 'anti-fascism', racism claimed to be 'anti-racism'; exclusion claimed to inclusion; and the abuse-filled Internet trolling. You have a purpose-built Archontic energy system with not a wind turbine in sight and all founded on Archontic inversion. We have whole generations now manipulated to serve the Archons with their actions and energy. They will be doing so their entire adult lives unless they snap out of their Archon-induced trance. Is it really a surprise that Cult billionaires and corporations put so much money their way? Where is the energy of joy and laughter, including laughing at yourself which is confirmation of your own emotional security? Mark Twain said: 'The human race has one really effective weapon, and that is laughter.' We must use it all the time. Woke has destroyed comedy because it has no humour, no joy, sense of irony, or self-deprecation. Its energy is dense and intense. Mmmmm, lunch says the Archontic frequency. Rudolf Steiner (1861-1925) was the Austrian philosopher and famous esoteric thinker who established Waldorf education or Steiner schools to treat children like unique expressions of consciousness and not minds to be programmed with the perceptions determined by authority. I'd been writing about this energy vampiring for decades when I was sent in 2016 a quote by Steiner. He was spot on:

There are beings in the spiritual realms for whom anxiety and fear emanating from human beings offer welcome food. When humans have no anxiety and fear, then these creatures starve. If fear and anxiety radiates from people and they break out in panic, then these creatures find welcome nutrition and they become more and more powerful. These beings are hostile towards humanity. Everything that feeds on negative feelings, on anxiety, fear and superstition, despair or doubt, are in reality hostile forces in super-sensible worlds, launching cruel attacks on human beings, while they are being fed ... These are exactly the feelings that belong to contemporary culture and materialism; because it estranges people from the spiritual world, it is especially suited to evoke hopelessness and fear of the unknown in people, thereby calling up the above mentioned hostile forces against them.

Pause for a moment from this perspective and reflect on what has happened in the world since the start of 2020. Not only will pennies drop, but billion dollar bills. We see the same theme from Don Juan Matus, a Yaqui Indian shaman in Mexico and the information source for Peruvian-born writer, Carlos Castaneda, who wrote a series of books from the 1960s to 1990s. Don Juan described the force manipulating human society and his name for the Archons was the predator:

We have a predator that came from the depths of the cosmos and took over the rule of our lives. Human beings are its prisoners. The predator is our lord and master. It has rendered us docile, helpless. If we want to protest, it suppresses our protest. If we want to act independently, it demands that we don't do so ... indeed we are held prisoner!

They took us over because we are food to them, and they squeeze us mercilessly because we are their sustenance. Just as we rear chickens in coops, the predators rear us in human coops, humaneros. Therefore, their food is always available to them.

Different cultures, different eras, same recurring theme.

The 'ennoia' dilemma

Nag Hammadi Gnostic manuscripts say that Archon consciousness has no 'ennoia'. This is directly translated as 'intentionality', but I'll use the term 'creative imagination'. The All That Is in awareness of itself is the source of all creativity – all possibility – and the more disconnected you are from that source the more you are subsequently denied 'creative imagination'. Given that Archon consciousness is almost entirely disconnected it severely lacks creativity and has to rely on far more mechanical processes of thought and exploit the creative potential of those that do have 'ennoia'. You can see cases of this throughout human society. Archon consciousness almost entirely dominates the global banking system and if we study how that system works you will appreciate what I mean. Banks manifest 'money' out of nothing by issuing lines of 'credit' which is 'money' that has never, does not, and will never exist except in theory. It's a confidence trick. If you think 'credit' figures-on-a-screen 'money' is worth anything you accept it as payment. If you don't then the whole system collapses through lack of confidence in the value of that 'money'. Archontic bankers with no 'ennoia' are 'lending' 'money' that doesn't exist to humans that do have creativity – those that have the inspired ideas and create businesses and products. Archon banking feeds off human creativity which it controls through 'money' creation and debt. Humans have the creativity and Archons exploit that for their own benefit and control while having none themselves. Archon Internet platforms like Facebook claim joint copyright of everything that creative users post and while Archontic minds like Zuckerberg may officially head that company it will be human creatives on the staff that provide the creative inspiration. When you have limitless 'money' you can then buy other companies established by creative humans. Witness the acquisition record of Facebook, Google and their like. Survey the Archon-controlled music industry and you see non-creative dark suit executives making their fortune from the human creativity of their artists. The cases are endless. Research the history of people like Gates and Zuckerberg and how their empires were built on exploiting the creativity of others. Archon minds cannot create out of nothing, but they are skilled (because they have to be) in what Gnostic texts call 'countermimicry'. They can imitate, but not innovate. Sabbatians trawl the creativity of others through backdoors they install in computer systems through their cybersecurity systems. Archon-controlled China is globally infamous for stealing intellectual property and I remember how Hong Kong, now part of China, became notorious for making counterfeit copies of the creativity of others – 'countermimicry'. With the now pervasive and all-seeing surveillance systems able to infiltrate any computer you can appreciate the potential for Archons to vampire the creativity of humans. Author John Lamb Lash wrote in his book about the Nag Hammadi texts, Not In His Image:

Although they cannot originate anything, because they lack the divine factor of ennoia (intentionality), Archons can imitate with a vengeance. Their expertise is simulation (HAL, virtual reality). The Demiurge [Yaldabaoth] fashions a heaven world copied from the fractal patterns [of the original] ... His construction is celestial kitsch, like the fake Italianate villa of a Mafia don complete with militant angels to guard every portal.

This brings us to something that I have been speaking about since the turn of the millennium. Our reality is a simulation; a virtual reality that we think is real. No, I'm not kidding.

Human reality? Well, virtually

I had pondered for years about whether our reality is 'real' or some kind of construct. I remembered being immensely affected on a visit as a small child in the late 1950s to the then newly-opened Planetarium on the Marylebone Road in London which is now closed and part of the adjacent Madame Tussauds wax museum. It was in the middle of the day, but when the lights went out there was the night sky projected in the Planetarium's domed ceiling and it appeared to be so real. The experience never left me and I didn't know why until around the turn of the millennium when I became certain that our 'night sky' and entire reality is a projection, a virtual reality, akin to the illusory world portrayed in the Matrix movies. I looked at the sky one day in this period and it appeared to me like the domed roof of the Planetarium. The release of the first Matrix movie in 1999 also provided a synchronistic and perfect visual representation of where my mind had been going for a long time. I hadn't come across the Gnostic Nag Hammadi texts then. When I did years later the correlation was once again astounding. As I read Gnostic accounts from 1,600 years and more earlier it was clear that they were describing the same simulation phenomenon. They tell how the Yaldabaoth 'Demiurge' and Archons created a 'bad copy' of original reality to rule over all that were captured by its illusions and the body was a prison to trap consciousness in the 'bad copy' fake reality. Read how Gnostics describe the 'bad copy' and update that to current times and they are referring to what we would call today a virtual reality simulation.

Author John Lamb Lash said 'the Demiurge fashions a heaven world copied from the fractal patterns' of the original through expertise in 'HAL' or virtual reality simulation. Fractal patterns are part of the energetic information construct of our reality, a sort of blueprint. If these patterns were copied in computer terms it would indeed give you a copy of a 'natural' reality in a non-natural frequency and digital form. The principle is the same as making a copy of a website. The original website still exists, but now you can change the copy version to make it whatever you like and it can become very different to the original website. Archons have done this with our reality, a synthetic copy of prime reality that still exists beyond the frequency walls of the simulation. Trapped within the illusions of this synthetic Matrix, however, were and are human consciousness and other expressions of prime reality and this is why the Archons via the Cult are seeking to make the human body synthetic and give us synthetic AI minds to complete the job of turning the entire reality synthetic including what we perceive to be the natural world. To quote Kurzweil: 'Nanobots will infuse all the matter around us with information. Rocks, trees, everything will become these intelligent creatures.' Yes, synthetic 'creatures' just as 'Covid' and other genetically-manipulating 'vaccines' are designed to make the human body synthetic. From this perspective it is obvious why Archons and their Cult are so desperate to infuse synthetic material into every human with their 'Covid' scam.

Let there be (electromagnetic) light

Yaldabaoth, the force that created the simulation, or Matrix, makes sense of the Gnostic reference to 'The Great Architect' and its use by Cult Freemasonry as the name of its deity. The designer of the Matrix in the movies is called 'The Architect' and that trilogy is jam-packed with symbolism relating to these subjects. I have contended for years that the angry Old Testament God (Yaldabaoth) is the 'God' being symbolically 'quoted' in the opening of Genesis as 'creating the world'. This is not the creation of prime reality – it's the creation of the simulation. The Genesis 'God' says: 'Let there be Light: and there was light.' But what is this 'Light'? I have said for decades that the speed of light (186,000 miles per second) is not the fastest speed possible as claimed by mainstream science and is in fact the frequency walls or outer limits of the Matrix. You can't have a fastest or slowest anything within all possibility when everything is possible. The human body is encoded to operate within the speed of light or within the simulation and thus we see only the tiny frequency band of visible light. Near-death experiencers who perceive reality outside the body during temporary 'death' describe a very different form of light and this is supported by the Nag Hammadi texts. Prime reality beyond the simulation ('Upper Aeons' to the Gnostics) is described as a realm of incredible beauty, bliss, love and harmony – a realm of 'watery light' that is so powerful 'there are no shadows'. Our false reality of Archon control, which Gnostics call the 'Lower Aeons', is depicted as a realm with a different kind of 'light' and described in terms of chaos, 'Hell', 'the Abyss' and 'Outer Darkness', where trapped souls are tormented and manipulated by demons (relate that to the 'Covid' hoax alone). The watery light theme can be found in near-death accounts and it is not the same as simulation 'light' which is electromagnetic or radiation light within the speed of light – the 'Lower Aeons'. Simulation 'light' is the 'luminous fire' associated by Gnostics with the Archons. The Bible refers to Yaldabaoth as 'that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world' (Revelation 12:9). I think that making a simulated copy of prime reality ('countermimicry') and changing it dramatically while all the time manipulating humanity to believe it to be real could probably meet the criteria of deceiving the whole world. Then we come to the Cult god Lucifer – the Light Bringer. Lucifer is symbolic of Yaldabaoth, the bringer of radiation light that forms the bad copy simulation within the speed of light. 'He' is symbolised by the lighted torch held by the Statue of Liberty and in the name 'Illuminati'. Sabbatian-Frankism declares that Lucifer is the true god and Lucifer is the real god of Freemasonry honoured as their 'Great or Grand Architect of the Universe' (simulation).

I would emphasise, too, the way Archontic technologically-generated luminous fire of radiation has deluged our environment since I was a kid in the 1950s and changed the nature of The Field with which we constantly interact. Through that interaction technological radiation is changing us. The Smart Grid is designed to operate with immense levels of communication power with 5G expanding across the world and 6G, 7G, in the process of development. Radiation is the simulation and the Archontic manipulation system. Why wouldn't the Archon Cult wish to unleash radiation upon us to an ever-greater extreme to form Kurzweil's 'cloud'? The plan for a synthetic human is related to the need to cope with levels of radiation beyond even anything we've seen so far. Biological humans would not survive the scale of radiation they have in their script. The Smart Grid is a technological sub-reality within the technological simulation to further disconnect five-sense perception from expanded consciousness. It's a technological prison of the mind.

Infusing the 'spirit of darkness'

A recurring theme in religion and native cultures is the manipulation of human genetics by a non-human force and most famously recorded as the biblical 'sons of god' (the gods plural in the original) who interbred with the daughters of men. The Nag Hammadi Apocryphon of John tells the same story this way:

He [Yaldabaoth] sent his angels [Archons/demons] to the daughters of men, that they might take some of them for themselves and raise offspring for their enjoyment. And at first they did not succeed. When they had no success, they gathered together again and they made a plan together ... And the angels changed themselves in their likeness into the likeness of their mates, filling them with the spirit of darkness, which they had mixed for them, and with evil ... And they took women and begot children out of the darkness according to the likeness of their spirit.

Possession when a discarnate entity takes over a human body is an age-old theme and continues today. It's very real and I've seen it. Satanic and secret society rituals can create an energetic environment in which entities can attach to initiates and I've heard many stories of how people have changed their personality after being initiated even into lower levels of the Freemasons. I have been inside three Freemasonic temples, one at a public open day and two by just walking in when there was no one around to stop me. They were in Ryde, the town where I live, Birmingham, England, when I was with a group, and Boston, Massachusetts. They all felt the same energetically – dark, dense, low-vibrational and sinister. Demonic attachment can happen while the initiate has no idea what is going on. To them it's just a ritual to get in the Masons and do a bit of good business. In the far more extreme rituals of Satanism human possession is even more powerful and they are designed to make possession possible. The hierarchy of the Cult is dictated by the power and perceived status of the possessing Archon. In this way the Archon hierarchy becomes the Cult hierarchy. Once the entity has attached it can influence perception and behaviour and if it attaches to the extreme then so much of its energy (information) infuses into the body information field that the hologram starts to reflect the nature of the possessing entity. This is the Exorcist movie type of possession when facial features change and it's known as shapeshifting. Islam's Jinn are said to be invisible tricksters who change shape, 'whisper', confuse and take human form. These are all traits of the Archons and other versions of the same phenomenon. Extreme possession could certainty infuse the 'spirit of darkness' into a partner during sex as the Nag Hammadi texts appear to describe. Such an infusion can change genetics which is also energetic information. Human genetics is information and the 'spirit of darkness' is information. Mix one with the other and change must happen. Islam has the concept of a 'Jinn baby' through possession of the mother and by Jinn taking human form. There are many ways that human genetics can be changed and remember that Archons have been aware all along of advanced techniques to do this. What is being done in human society today – and far more – was known about by Archons at the time of the 'fallen ones' and their other versions described in religions and cultures.

Archons and their human-world Cult are obsessed with genetics as we see today and they know this dictates how information is processed into perceived reality during a human life. They needed to produce a human form that would decode the simulation and this is symbolically known as 'Adam and Eve' who left the 'garden' (prime reality) and 'fell' into Matrix reality. The simulation is not a 'physical' construct (there is no 'physical'); it is a source of information. Think Wi-Fi again. The simulation is an energetic field encoded with information and body-brain systems are designed to decode that information encoded in wave or frequency form which is transmitted to the brain as electrical signals. These are decoded by the brain to construct our sense of reality – an illusory 'physical' world that only exists in the brain or the mind. Virtual reality games mimic this process using the same sensory decoding system. Information is fed to the senses to decode a virtual reality that can appear so real, but isn't (Figs 18 and 19). Some scientists believe – and I agree with them – that what we perceive as 'physical' reality only exists when we are looking or observing. The act of perception or focus triggers the decoding systems which turn waveform information into holographic reality. When we are not observing something our reality reverts from a holographic state to a waveform state. This relates to the same principle as a falling tree not making a noise unless someone is there to hear it or decode it. The concept makes sense from the simulation perspective. A computer is not decoding all the information in a Wi-Fi field all the time and only decodes or brings into reality on the screen that part of Wi-Fi that it's decoding – focusing upon – at that moment.

Interestingly, Professor Donald Hoffman at the Department of Cognitive Sciences at the University of California, Irvine, says that our experienced reality is like a computer interface that shows us only the level with which we interact while hiding all that exists beyond it: 'Evolution shaped us with a user interface that hides the truth. Nothing that we see is the truth – the very language of space and time and objects is the wrong language to describe reality.' He is correct in what he says on so many levels. Space and time are not a universal reality. They are a phenomenon of decoded simulation reality as part of the process of enslaving our sense of reality. Neardeath experiencers report again and again how space and time did not exist as we perceive them once they were free of the body – body decoding systems. You can appreciate from this why Archons and their Cult are so desperate to entrap human attention in the five senses where we are in the Matrix and of the Matrix. Opening your mind to expanded states of awareness takes you beyond the information confines of the simulation and you become aware of knowledge and insights denied to you before. This is what we call 'awakening' – awakening from the Matrix – and in the final chapter I will relate this to current events.

Where are the 'aliens'?

A simulation would explain the so-called 'Fermi Paradox' named after Italian physicist Enrico Fermi (1901-1954) who created the first nuclear reactor. He considered the question of why there is such a lack of extraterrestrial activity when there are so many stars and planets in an apparently vast universe; but what if the night sky that we see, or think we do, is a simulated projection as I say? If you control the simulation and your aim is to hold humanity fast in essential ignorance would you want other forms of life including advanced life coming and going sharing information with humanity? Or would you want them to believe they were isolated and apparently alone? Themes of human isolation and apartness are common whether they be the perception of a lifeless universe or the fascist isolation laws of the 'Covid' era. Paradoxically the very existence of a simulation means that we are not alone when some force had to construct it. My view is that experiences that people have reported all over the world for centuries with Reptilians and Grey entities are Archon phenomena as Nag Hammadi texts describe; and that benevolent 'alien' interactions are non-human groups that come in and out of the simulation by overcoming Archon attempts to keep them out. It should be highlighted, too, that Reptilians and Greys are obsessed with genetics and technology as related by cultural accounts and those who say they have been abducted by them. Technology is their way of overcoming some of the limitations in their creative potential and our technology-driven and controlled human society of today is archetypical Archon-Reptilian-Grey modus operandi. Technocracy is really *Archon*tocracy. The Universe does not have to be as big as it appears with a simulation. There is no space or distance only information decoded into holographic reality. What we call 'space' is only the absence of holographic 'objects' and that 'space' is The Field of energetic information which connects everything into a single whole. The same applies with the artificially-generated information field of the simulation. The Universe is not big or small as a physical reality. It is decoded information, that's all, and its perceived size is decided by the way the simulation is encoded to make it appear. The entire night sky as we perceive it only exists in our brain and so where are those 'millions of light years'? The 'stars' on the ceiling of the Planetarium looked a vast distance away.

There's another point to mention about 'aliens'. I have been highlighting since the 1990s the plan to stage a fake 'alien invasion' to justify the centralisation of global power and a world military. Nazi scientist Werner von Braun, who was taken to America by Operation Paperclip after World War Two to help found NASA, told his American assistant Dr Carol Rosin about the Cult agenda when he knew he was dying in 1977. Rosin said that he told her about a sequence that would lead to total human control by a one-world government. This included threats from terrorism, rogue nations, meteors and asteroids before finally an 'alien invasion'. All of these things, von Braun said, would be bogus and what I would refer to as a No-Problem-Reaction-Solution. Keep this in mind when 'the aliens are coming' is the new mantra. The aliens are not coming – they are already here and they have infiltrated human society while looking human. French-Canadian investigative journalist Serge Monast said in 1994 that he had uncovered a NASA/military operation called Project Blue Beam which fits with what Werner von Braun predicted. Monast died of a 'heart attack' in 1996 the day after he was arrested and spent a night in prison. He was 51. He said Blue Beam was a plan to stage an alien invasion that would include religious figures beamed holographically into the sky as part of a global manipulation to usher in a 'new age' of worshipping what I would say is the Cult 'god' Yaldabaoth in a one-world religion. Fake holographic asteroids are also said to be part of the plan which again syncs with von Braun. How could you stage an illusory threat from asteroids unless they were holographic inserts? This is pretty straightforward given the advanced technology outside the public arena and the fact that our 'physical' reality is holographic anyway. Information fields would be projected and we would decode them into the illusion of a 'physical' asteroid. If they can sell a global 'pandemic' with a 'virus' that doesn't exist what will humans not believe if government and media tell them?

All this is particularly relevant as I write with the Pentagon planning to release in June, 2021, information about 'UFO sightings'. I have been following the UFO story since the early 1990s and the common theme throughout has been government and military denials and cover up. More recently, however, the Pentagon has suddenly become more talkative and apparently open with Air Force pilot radar images released of unexplained craft moving and changing direction at speeds well beyond anything believed possible with human technology. Then, in March, 2021, former Director of National Intelligence John Ratcliffe said a Pentagon report months later in June would reveal a great deal of information about UFO sightings unknown to the public. He said the report would have 'massive implications'. The order to do this was included bizarrely in a $2.3 trillion 'coronavirus' relief and government funding bill passed by the Trump administration at the end of 2020. I would add some serious notes of caution here. I have been pointing out since the 1990s that the US military and intelligence networks have long had craft – 'flying saucers' or anti-gravity craft – which any observer would take to be extraterrestrial in origin. Keeping this knowledge from the public allows craft flown by humans to be perceived as alien visitations. I am not saying that 'aliens' do not exist. I would be the last one to say that, but we have to be streetwise here. President Ronald Reagan told the UN General Assembly in 1987: 'I occasionally think how quickly our differences worldwide would vanish if we were facing an alien threat from outside this world.' That's the idea. Unite against a common 'enemy' with a common purpose behind your 'saviour force' (the Cult) as this age-old technique of mass manipulation goes global.

Science moves this way...

I could find only one other person who was discussing the simulation hypothesis publicly when I concluded it was real. This was Nick Bostrom, a Swedish-born philosopher at the University of Oxford, who has explored for many years the possibility that human reality is a computer simulation although his version and mine are not the same. Today the simulation and holographic reality hypothesis have increasingly entered the scientific mainstream. Well, the more open-minded mainstream, that is. Here are a few of the ever-gathering examples. American nuclear physicist Silas Beane led a team of physicists at the University of Bonn in Germany pursuing the question of whether we live in a simulation. They concluded that we probably do and it was likely based on a lattice of cubes. They found that cosmic rays align with that specific pattern. The team highlighted the Greisen–Zatsepin–Kuzmin (GZK) limit which refers to cosmic ray particle interaction with cosmic background radiation that creates an apparent boundary for cosmic ray particles. They say in a paper entitled 'Constraints on the Universe as a Numerical Simulation' that this 'pattern of constraint' is exactly what you would find with a computer simulation. They also made the point that a simulation would create its own 'laws of physics' that would limit possibility. I've been making the same point for decades that the perceived laws of physics relate only to this reality, or what I would later call the simulation. When designers write codes to create computer and virtual reality games they are the equivalent of the laws of physics for that game. Players interact within the limitations laid out by the coding. In the same way those who wrote the codes for the simulation decided the laws of physics that would apply. These can be overridden by expanded states of consciousness, but not by those enslaved in only five-sense awareness where simulation codes rule. Overriding the codes is what people call 'miracles'. They are not. They are bypassing the encoded limits of the simulation. A population caught in simulation perception would have no idea that this was their plight. As the Bonn paper said: 'Like a prisoner in a pitch-black cell we would not be able to see the "walls" of our prison,' That's true if people remain mesmerised by the five senses. Open to expanded awareness and those walls become very clear. The main one is the speed of light.

American theoretical physicist James Gates is another who has explored the simulation question and found considerable evidence to support the idea. Gates was Professor of Physics at the University of Maryland, Director of The Center for String and Particle Theory, and on Barack Obama's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology. He and his team found computer codes of digital data embedded in the fabric of our reality. They relate to on-off electrical charges of 1 and 0 in the binary system used by computers. 'We have no idea what they are doing there', Gates said. They found within the energetic fabric mathematical sequences known as errorcorrecting codes or block codes that 'reboot' data to its original state or 'default settings' when something knocks it out of sync. Gates was asked if he had found a set of equations embedded in our reality indistinguishable from those that drive search engines and browsers and he said: 'That is correct.' Rich Terrile, director of the Centre for Evolutionary Computation and Automated Design at NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, has said publicly that he believes the Universe is a digital hologram that must have been created by a form of intelligence. I agree with that in every way. Waveform information is delivered electrically by the senses to the brain which constructs a digital holographic reality that we call the 'world'. This digital level of reality can be read by the esoteric art of numerology. Digital holograms are at the cutting edge of holographics today. We have digital technology everywhere designed to access and manipulate our digital level of perceived reality. Synthetic mRNA in 'Covid vaccines' has a digital component to manipulate the body's digital 'operating system'.

Reality is numbers

How many know that our reality can be broken down to numbers and codes that are the same as computer games? Max Tegmark, a physicist at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), is the author of Our Mathematical Universe in which he lays out how reality can be entirely described by numbers and maths in the way that a video game is encoded with the 'physics' of computer games. Our world and computer virtual reality are essentially the same. Tegmark imagines the perceptions of characters in an advanced computer game when the graphics are so good they don't know they are in a game. They think they can bump into real objects (electromagnetic resistance in our reality), fall in love and feel emotions like excitement. When they began to study the apparently 'physical world' of the video game they would realise that everything was made of pixels (which have been found in our energetic reality as must be the case when on one level our world is digital). What computer game characters thought was physical 'stuff', Tegmark said, could actually be broken down into numbers:

And we're exactly in this situation in our world. We look around and it doesn't seem that mathematical at all, but everything we see is made out of elementary particles like quarks and electrons. And what properties does an electron have? Does it have a smell or a colour or a texture? No! ... We physicists have come up with geeky names for [Electron] properties, like electric charge, or spin, or lepton number, but the electron doesn't care what we call it, the properties are just numbers.

This is the illusory reality Gnostics were describing. This is the simulation. The A, C, G, and T codes of DNA have a binary value – A and C = 0 while G and T = 1. This has to be when the simulation is digital and the body must be digital to interact with it. Recurring mathematical sequences are encoded throughout reality and the body. They include the Fibonacci sequence in which the two previous numbers are added to get the next one, as in ... 1, 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, 13, 21, 34, 55, etc. The sequence is encoded in the human face and body, proportions of animals, DNA, seed heads, pine cones, trees, shells, spiral galaxies, hurricanes and the number of petals in a flower. The list goes on and on. There are fractal patterns – a 'neverending pattern that is infinitely complex and self-similar across all scales in the as above, so below, principle of holograms. These and other famous recurring geometrical and mathematical sequences such as Phi, Pi, Golden Mean, Golden Ratio and Golden Section are computer codes of the simulation. I had to laugh and give my head a shake the day I finished this book and it went into the production stage. I was sent an article in Scientific American published in April, 2021, with the headline 'Confirmed! We Live in a Simulation'. Two decades after I first said our reality is a simulation and the speed of light is it's outer limit the article suggested that we do live in a simulation and that the speed of light is its outer limit. I left school at 15 and never passed a major exam in my life while the writer was up to his eyes in qualifications. As I will explain in the final chapter knowing is far better than thinking and they come from very different sources. The article rightly connected the speed of light to the processing speed of the 'Matrix' and said what has been in my books all this time ... 'If we are in a simulation, as it appears, then space is an abstract property written in code. It is not real'. No it's not and if we live in a simulation something created it and it wasn't us. 'That David Icke says we are manipulated by aliens' – he's crackers.'

Wow...

The reality that humanity thinks is so real is an illusion. Politicians, governments, scientists, doctors, academics, law enforcement, media, school and university curriculums, on and on, are all founded on a world that does not exist except as a simulated prison cell. Is it such a stretch to accept that 'Covid' doesn't exist when our entire 'physical' reality doesn't exist? Revealed here is the knowledge kept under raps in the Cult networks of compartmentalised secrecy to control humanity's sense of reality by inducing the population to believe in a reality that's not real. If it wasn't so tragic in its experiential consequences the whole thing would be hysterically funny. None of this is new to Renegade Minds. Ancient Greek philosopher Plato (about 428 to about 347BC) was a major influence on Gnostic belief and he described the human plight thousands of years ago with his Allegory of the Cave. He told the symbolic story of prisoners living in a cave who had never been outside. They were chained and could only see one wall of the cave while behind them was a fire that they could not see. Figures walked past the fire casting shadows on the prisoners' wall and those moving shadows became their sense of reality. Some prisoners began to study the shadows and were considered experts on them (today's academics and scientists), but what they studied was only an illusion (today's academics and scientists). A prisoner escaped from the cave and saw reality as it really is. When he returned to report this revelation they didn't believe him, called him mad and threatened to kill him if he tried to set them free. Plato's tale is not only a brilliant analogy of the human plight and our illusory reality. It describes, too, the dynamics of the 'Covid' hoax. I have only skimmed the surface of these subjects here. The aim of this book is to crisply connect all essential dots to put what is happening today into its true context. All subject areas and their connections in this chapter are covered in great evidential detail in Everything You Need To Know, But Have Never Been Told and The Answer.

They say that bewildered people 'can't see the forest for the trees'. Humanity, however, can't see the forest for the twigs. The five senses see only twigs while Renegade Minds can see the forest and it's the forest where the answers lie with the connections that reveals. Breaking free of perceptual programming so the forest can be seen is the way we turn all this around. Not breaking free is how humanity got into this mess. The situation may seem hopeless, but I promise you it's not. We are a perceptual heartbeat from paradise if only we knew.

CHAPTER TWELVE

Escaping Wetiko

Life is simply a vacation from the infinite Dean Cavanagh

Renegade Minds weave the web of life and events and see common themes in the apparently random. They are always there if you look for them and their pursuit is aided by incredible synchronicity that comes when your mind is open rather than mesmerised by what it thinks it can see.

Infinite awareness is infinite possibility and the more of infinite possibility that we access the more becomes infinitely possible. That may be stating the apparently obvious, but it is a devastatinglypowerful fact that can set us free. We are a point of attention within an infinity of consciousness. The question is how much of that infinity do we choose to access? How much knowledge, insight, awareness, wisdom, do we want to connect with and explore? If your focus is only in the five senses you will be influenced by a fraction of infinite awareness. I mean a range so tiny that it gives new meaning to infinitesimal. Limitation of self-identity and a sense of the possible limit accordingly your range of consciousness. We are what we think we are. Life is what we think it is. The dream is the dreamer and the dreamer is the dream. Buddhist philosophy puts it this way: 'As a thing is viewed, so it appears.' Most humans live in the realm of touch, taste, see, hear, and smell and that's the limit of their sense of the possible and sense of self. Many will follow a religion and speak of a God in his heaven, but their lives are still dominated by the five senses in their perceptions and actions. The five senses become the arbiter of everything. When that happens all except a smear of infinity is sealed away from influence by the rigid, unyielding, reality bubbles that are the five-sense human or Phantom Self. Archon Cult methodology is to isolate consciousness within five-sense reality – the simulation – and then program that consciousness with a sense of self and the world through a deluge of life-long information designed to instil the desired perception that allows global control. Efforts to do this have increased dramatically with identity politics as identity bubbles are squeezed into the minutiae of five-sense detail which disconnect people even more profoundly from the infinite 'I'.

Five-sense focus and self-identity are like a firewall that limits access to the infinite realms. You only perceive one radio or television station and no other. We'll take that literally for a moment. Imagine a vast array of stations giving different information and angles on reality, but you only ever listen to one. Here we have the human plight in which the population is overwhelmingly confined to CultFM. This relates only to the frequency range of CultFM and limits perception and insight to that band – limits possibility to that band. It means you are connecting with an almost imperceptibly minuscule range of possibility and creative potential within the infinite Field. It's a world where everything seems apart from everything else and where synchronicity is rare. Synchronicity is defined in the dictionary as 'the happening by chance of two or more related or similar events at the same time'. Use of 'by chance' betrays a complete misunderstanding of reality. Synchronicity is not 'by chance'. As people open their minds, or 'awaken' to use the term, they notice more and more coincidences in their lives, bits of 'luck', apparently miraculous happenings that put them in the right place at the right time with the right people. Days become peppered with 'fancy meeting you here' and 'what are the chances of that?' My entire life has been lived like this and ever more so since my own colossal awakening in 1990 and 91 which transformed my sense of reality. Synchronicity is not 'by chance'; it is by accessing expanded realms of possibility which allow expanded potential for manifestation. People broadcasting the same vibe from the same openness of mind tend to be drawn 'by chance' to each other through what I call frequency magnetism and it's not only people. In the last more than 30 years incredible synchronicity has also led me through the Cult maze to information in so many forms and to crucial personal experiences. These 'coincidences' have allowed me to put the puzzle pieces together across an enormous array of subjects and situations. Those who have breached the bubble of fivesense reality will know exactly what I mean and this escape from the perceptual prison cell is open to everyone whenever they make that choice. This may appear super-human when compared with the limitations of 'human', but it's really our natural state. 'Human' as currently experienced is consciousness in an unnatural state of induced separation from the infinity of the whole. I'll come to how this transformation into unity can be made when I have described in more detail the force that holds humanity in servitude by denying this access to infinite self.

The Wetiko factor

I have been talking and writing for decades about the way five-sense mind is systematically barricaded from expanded awareness. I have used the analogy of a computer (five-sense mind) and someone at the keyboard (expanded awareness). Interaction between the computer and the operator is symbolic of the interaction between five-sense mind and expanded awareness. The computer directly experiences the Internet and the operator experiences the Internet via the computer which is how it's supposed to be – the two working as one. Archons seek to control that point where the operator connects with the computer to stop that interaction (Fig 20). Now the operator is banging the keyboard and clicking the mouse, but the computer is not responding and this happens when the computer is taken over – possessed – by an appropriately-named computer 'virus'. The operator has lost all influence over the computer which goes its own way making decisions under the control of the 'virus'. I have just described the dynamic through which the force known to Gnostics as Yaldabaoth and Archons disconnects five-sense mind from expanded awareness to imprison humanity in perceptual servitude.

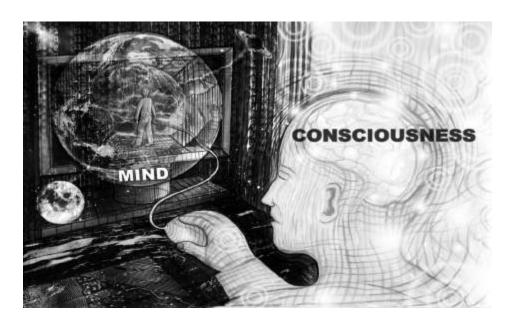

Figure 20: The mind 'virus' I have been writing about for decades seeks to isolate five-sense mind (the computer) from the true 'I'. (Image by Neil Hague).

About a year ago I came across a Native American concept of Wetiko which describes precisely the same phenomenon. Wetiko is the spelling used by the Cree and there are other versions including wintiko and windigo used by other tribal groups. They spell the name with lower case, but I see Wetiko as a proper noun as with Archons and prefer a capital. I first saw an article about Wetiko by writer and researcher Paul Levy which so synced with what I had been writing about the computer/operator disconnection and later the Archons. I then read his book, the fascinating Dispelling Wetiko, Breaking the Spell of Evil. The parallels between what I had concluded long before and the Native American concept of Wetiko were so clear and obvious that it was almost funny. For Wetiko see the Gnostic Archons for sure and the Jinn, the Predators, and every other name for a force of evil, inversion and chaos. Wetiko is the Native American name for the force that divides the computer from the operator (Fig 21). Indigenous author Jack D. Forbes, a founder of the Native American movement in the 1960s, wrote another book about Wetiko entitled Columbus And Other Cannibals – The Wetiko Disease of Exploitation, Imperialism, and Terrorism which I also read. Forbes says that Wetiko refers to an evil person or spirit 'who terrorizes other creatures by means of terrible acts, including cannibalism'. Zulu shaman Credo Mutwa told me that African accounts tell how cannibalism was brought into the world by the Chitauri 'gods' – another manifestation of Wetiko. The distinction between 'evil person or spirit' relates to Archons/Wetiko possessing a human or acting as pure consciousness. Wetiko is said to be a sickness of the soul or spirit and a state of being that takes but gives nothing back – the Cult and its operatives perfectly described. Black Hawk, a Native American war leader defending their lands from confiscation, said European invaders had 'poisoned hearts' – Wetiko hearts – and that this would spread to native societies. Mention of the heart is very significant as we shall shortly see. Forbes writes: 'Tragically, the history of the world for the past 2,000 years is, in great part, the story of the epidemiology of the wetiko disease.' Yes, and much longer. Forbes is correct when he says: 'The wetikos destroyed Egypt and Babylon and Athens and Rome and Tenochtitlan [capital of the Aztec empire] and perhaps now they will destroy the entire earth.' Evil, he said, is the number one export of a Wetiko culture – see its globalisation with 'Covid'. Constant war, mass murder, suffering of all kinds, child abuse, Satanism, torture and human sacrifice are all expressions of Wetiko and the Wetiko possessed. The world is Wetiko made manifest, but it doesn't have to be. There is a way out of this even now.

Wetiko is the Yaldabaoth frequency distortion that seeks to attach to human consciousness and absorb it into its own. Once this connection is made Wetiko can drive the perceptions of the target which they believe to be coming from their own mind. All the horrors of history and today from mass killers to Satanists, paedophiles like Jeffrey Epstein and other psychopaths, are the embodiment of Wetiko and express its state of being in all its grotesqueness. The Cult is Wetiko incarnate, Yaldabaoth incarnate, and it seeks to facilitate Wetiko assimilation of humanity in totality into its distortion by manipulating the population into low frequency states that match its own. Paul Levy writes: 'Holographically enforced within the psyche of every human being the wetiko virus pervades and underlies the entire field of consciousness, and can therefore potentially manifest through any one of us at any moment if we are not mindful.' The 'Covid' hoax has achieved this with many people, but others have not fallen into Wetiko's frequency lair. Players in the 'Covid' human catastrophe including Gates, Schwab, Tedros, Fauci, Whitty, Vallance, Johnson, Hancock, Ferguson, Drosten, and all the rest, including the psychopath psychologists, are expressions of Wetiko. This is why they have no compassion or empathy and no emotional consequence for what they do that would make them stop doing it. Observe all the people who support the psychopaths in authority against the Pushbackers despite the damaging impact the psychopaths have on their own lives and their family's lives. You are again looking at Wetiko possession which prevents them seeing through the lies to the obvious scam going on. Why can't they see it? Wetiko won't let them see it. The perceptual divide that has now become a chasm is between the Wetikoed and the non-Wetikoed.

Paul Levy describes Wetiko in the same way that I have long described the Archontic force. They are the same distorted consciousness operating across dimensions of reality: '... the subtle body of wetiko is not located in the third dimension of space and time, literally existing in another dimension ... it is able to affect ordinary lives by mysteriously interpenetrating into our three-dimensional world.' Wetiko does this through its incarnate representatives in the Cult and by weaving itself into The Field which on our level of reality is the electromagnetic information field of the simulation or Matrix. More than that, the simulation is Wetiko / Yaldabaoth. Caleb Scharf, Director of Astrobiology at Columbia University, has speculated that 'alien life' could be so advanced that it has transcribed itself into the quantum realm to become what we call physics. He said intelligence indistinguishable from the fabric of the Universe would solve many of its greatest mysteries:

Perhaps hyper-advanced life isn't just external. Perhaps it's already all around. It is embedded in what we perceive to be physics itself, from the root behaviour of particles and fields to the phenomena of complexity and emergence ... In other words, life might not just be in the equations. It might BE the equations [My emphasis].

Scharf said it is possible that 'we don't recognise advanced life because it forms an integral and unsuspicious part of what we've considered to be the natural world'. I agree. Wetiko/Yaldabaoth is the simulation. We are literally in the body of the beast. But that doesn't mean it has to control us. We all have the power to overcome Wetiko influence and the Cult knows that. I doubt it sleeps too well because it knows that.

Which Field?

This, I suggest, is how it all works. There are two Fields. One is the fierce electromagnetic light of the Matrix within the speed of light; the other is the 'watery light' of The Field beyond the walls of the Matrix that connects with the Great Infinity. Five-sense mind and the decoding systems of the body attach us to the Field of Matrix light. They have to or we could not experience this reality. Five-sense mind sees only the Matrix Field of information while our expanded consciousness is part of the Infinity Field. When we open our minds, and most importantly our hearts, to the Infinity Field we have a mission control which gives us an expanded perspective, a road map, to understand the nature of the five-sense world. If we are isolated only in five-sense mind there is no mission control. We're on our own trying to understand a world that's constantly feeding us information to ensure we do not understand. People in this state can feel 'lost' and bewildered with no direction or radar. You can see ever more clearly those who are influenced by the Fields of Big Infinity or little five-sense mind simply by their views and behaviour with regard to the 'Covid' hoax. We have had this division throughout known human history with the mass of the people on one side and individuals who could see and intuit beyond the walls of the simulation – Plato's prisoner who broke out of the cave and saw reality for what it is. Such people have always been targeted by Wetiko/Archon-possessed authority, burned at the stake or demonised as mad, bad and dangerous. The Cult today and its global network of 'anti-hate', 'anti-fascist' Woke groups are all expressions of Wetiko attacking those exposing the conspiracy, 'Covid' lies and the 'vaccine' agenda.

Woke as a whole is Wetiko which explains its black and white mentality and how at one it is with the Wetiko-possessed Cult. Paul Levy said: 'To be in this paradigm is to still be under the thrall of a two-valued logic – where things are either true or false – of a wetikoized mind.' Wetiko consciousness is in a permanent rage, therefore so is Woke, and then there is Woke inversion and contradiction. 'Anti-fascists' act like fascists because fascists and 'antifascists' are both Wetiko at work. Political parties act the same while claiming to be different for the same reason. Secret society and satanic rituals are attaching initiates to Wetiko and the cold, ruthless, psychopathic mentality that secures the positions of power all over the world is Wetiko. Reframing 'training programmes' have the same cumulative effect of attaching Wetiko and we have their graduates described as automatons and robots with a cold, psychopathic, uncaring demeanour. They are all traits of Wetiko possession and look how many times they have been described in this book and elsewhere with regard to personnel behind 'Covid' including the police and medical profession. Climbing the greasy pole in any profession in a Wetiko society requires traits of Wetiko to get there and that is particularly true of politics which is not about fair competition and pre-eminence of ideas. It is founded on how many backs you can stab and arses you can lick. This culminated in the global 'Covid' coordination between the Wetiko possessed who pulled it off in all the different countries without a trace of empathy and compassion for their impact on humans. Our sight sense can see only holographic form and not the Field which connects holographic form. Therefore we perceive 'physical' objects with 'space' in between. In fact that 'space' is energy/consciousness operating on multiple frequencies. One of them is Wetiko and that connects the Cult psychopaths, those who submit to the psychopaths, and those who serve the psychopaths in the media operations of the world. Wetiko is Gates. Wetiko is the mask-wearing submissive. Wetiko is the fake journalist and 'fact-checker'. The Wetiko Field is coordinating the whole thing. Psychopaths, gofers, media operatives, 'anti-hate' hate groups, 'fact-checkers' and submissive people work as one unit even without human coordination because they are attached to the same Field which is organising it all (Fig 22). Paul Levy is here describing how Wetiko-possessed people are drawn together and refuse to let any information breach their rigid perceptions. He was writing long before 'Covid', but I think you will recognise followers of the 'Covid' religion oh just a little bit:

People who are channelling the vibratory frequency of wetiko align with each other through psychic resonance to reinforce their unspoken shared agreement so as to uphold their deranged view of reality. Once an unconscious content takes possession of certain individuals, it irresistibly draws them together by mutual attraction and knits them into groups tied together by their shared madness that can easily swell into an avalanche of insanity.

A psychic epidemic is a closed system, which is to say that it is insular and not open to any new information or informing influences from the outside world which contradict its fixed, limited, and limiting perspective.

There we have the Woke mind and the 'Covid' mind. Compatible resonance draws the awakening together, too, which is clearly happening today.

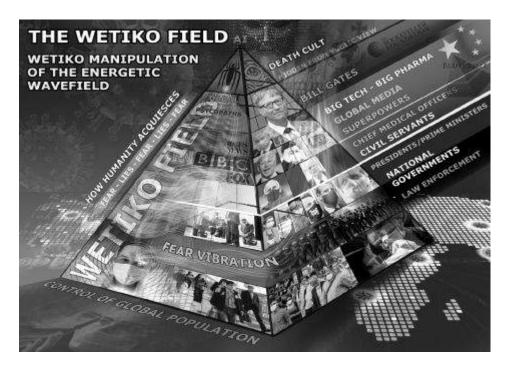

Figure 22: The Wetiko Field from which the Cult pyramid and its personnel are made manifest. (Image by Neil Hague).

Spiritual servitude

Wetiko doesn't care about humans. It's not human; it just possesses humans for its own ends and the effect (depending on the scale of possession) can be anything from extreme psychopathy to unquestioning obedience. Wetiko's worst nightmare is for human consciousness to expand beyond the simulation. Everything is focussed on stopping that happening through control of information, thus perception, thus frequency. The 'education system', media, science, medicine, academia, are all geared to maintaining humanity in five-sense servitude as is the constant stimulation of low-vibrational mental and emotional states (see 'Covid'). Wetiko seeks to dominate those subconscious spaces between five-sense perception and expanded consciousness where the computer meets the operator. From these subconscious hiding places Wetiko speaks to us to trigger urges and desires that we take to be our own and manipulate us into anything from low-vibrational to psychopathic states. Remember how Islam describes the Jinn as invisible tricksters that 'whisper' and confuse. Wetiko is the origin of the 'trickster god' theme that you find in cultures all over the world. Jinn, like the Archons, are Wetiko which is terrified of humans awakening and reconnecting with our true self for then its energy source has gone. With that the feedback loop breaks between Wetiko and human perception that provides the energetic momentum on which its very existence depends as a force of evil. Humans are both its target and its source of survival, but only if we are operating in low-vibrational states of fear, hate, depression and the background anxiety that most people suffer. We are Wetiko's target because we are its key to survival. It needs us, not the other way round. Paul Levy writes:

A vampire has no intrinsic, independent, substantial existence in its own right; it only exists in relation to us. The pathogenic, vampiric mind-parasite called wetiko is nothing in itself – not being able to exist from its own side – yet it has a 'virtual reality' such that it can potentially destroy our species ...

...The fact that a vampire is not reflected by a mirror can also mean that what we need to see is that there's nothing, no-thing to see, other than ourselves. The fact that wetiko is the expression of something inside of us means that the cure for wetiko is with us as well. The critical issue is finding this cure within us and then putting it into effect.

Evil begets evil because if evil does not constantly expand and find new sources of energetic sustenance its evil, its distortion, dies with the assimilation into balance and harmony. Love is the garlic to Wetiko's vampire. Evil, the absence of love, cannot exist in the presence of love. I think I see a way out of here. I have emphasised so many times over the decades that the Archons/Wetiko and their Cult are not all powerful. They are not. I don't care how it looks even now they are not. I have not called them little boys in short trousers for effect. I have said it because it is true. Wetiko's insatiable desire for power over others is not a sign of its omnipotence, but its insecurity. Paul Levy writes: 'Due to the primal fear which ultimately drives it and which it is driven to cultivate, wetiko's body politic has an intrinsic and insistent need for centralising power and control so as to create imagined safety for itself.' Yeeeeeees! Exactly! Why does Wetiko want humans in an ongoing state of fear? Wetiko itself is fear and it is petrified of love. As evil is an absence of love, so love is an absence of fear. Love conquers all and especially Wetiko which is fear. Wetiko brought fear into the world when it wasn't here before. Fear was the 'fall', the fall into low-frequency ignorance and illusion – fear is False Emotion Appearing Real. The simulation is driven and energised by fear because Wetiko/Yaldabaoth (fear) are the simulation. Fear is the absence of love and Wetiko is the absence of love.

Wetiko today

We can now view current events from this level of perspective. The 'Covid' hoax has generated momentous amounts of ongoing fear, anxiety, depression and despair which have empowered Wetiko. No wonder people like Gates have been the instigators when they are Wetiko incarnate and exhibit every trait of Wetiko in the extreme. See how cold and unemotional these people are like Gates and his cronies, how dead of eye they are. That's Wetiko. Sabbatians are Wetiko and everything they control including the World Health Organization, Big Pharma and the 'vaccine' makers, national 'health' hierarchies, corporate media, Silicon Valley, the banking system, and the United Nations with its planned transformation into world government. All are controlled and possessed by the Wetiko distortion into distorting human society in its image. We are with this knowledge at the gateway to understanding the world. Divisions of race, culture, creed and sexuality are diversions to hide the real division between those possessed and influenced by Wetiko and those that are not. The 'Covid' hoax has brought both clearly into view. Human behaviour is not about race. Tyrants and dictatorships come in all colours and creeds. What unites the US president bombing the innocent and an African tribe committing genocide against another as in Rwanda? What unites them? Wetiko. All wars are Wetiko, all genocide is Wetiko, all hunger over centuries in a world of plenty is Wetiko. Children going to bed hungry, including in the West, is Wetiko. Cult-generated Woke racial divisions that focus on the body are designed to obscure the reality that divisions in behaviour are manifestations of mind, not body. Obsession with body identity and group judgement is a means to divert attention from the real source of behaviour - mind and perception. Conflict sown by the Woke both within themselves and with their target groups are Wetiko providing lunch for itself through still more agents of the division, chaos, and fear on which it feeds. The Cult is seeking to assimilate the entirety of humanity and all children and young people into the Wetiko frequency by manipulating them into states of fear and despair. Witness all the suicide and psychological unravelling since the spring of 2020. Wetiko psychopaths want to impose a state of unquestioning obedience to authority which is no more than a conduit for Wetiko to enforce its will and assimilate humanity into itself. It needs us to believe that resistance is futile when it fears resistance and even more so the game-changing non-cooperation with its impositions. It can use violent resistance for its benefit. Violent impositions and violent resistance are both Wetiko. The Power of Love with its Power of No will sweep Wetiko from our world. Wetiko and its Cult know that. They just don't want us to know.

Al Wetiko

This brings me to AI or artificial intelligence and something else Wetikos don't want us to know. What is AI really? I know about computer code algorithms and AI that learns from data input. These, however, are more diversions, the expeditionary force, for the real AI that they want to connect to the human brain as promoted by Silicon Valley Wetikos like Kurzweil. What is this AI? It is the frequency of Wetiko, the frequency of the Archons. The connection of AI to the human brain is the connection of the Wetiko frequency to create a Wetiko hive mind and complete the job of assimilation. The hive mind is planned to be controlled from Israel and China which are both 100 percent owned by Wetiko Sabbatians. The assimilation process has been going on minute by minute in the 'smart' era which fused with the 'Covid' era. We are told that social media is scrambling the minds of the young and changing their personality. This is true, but what is social media? Look more deeply at how it works, how it creates divisions and conflict, the hostility and cruelty, the targeting of people until they are destroyed. That's Wetiko. Social media is manipulated to tune people to the Wetiko frequency with all the emotional exploitation tricks employed by platforms like Facebook and its Wetiko front man, Zuckerberg. Facebook's Instagram announced a new platform for children to overcome a legal bar on them using the main site. This is more Wetiko exploitation and manipulation of kids. Amnesty International likened the plan to foxes offering to guard the henhouse and said it was incompatible with human rights. Since when did Wetiko or Zuckerberg (I repeat myself) care about that? Would Brin and Page at Google, Wojcicki at YouTube, Bezos at Amazon and whoever the hell runs Twitter act as they do if they were not channelling Wetiko? Would those who are developing technologies for no other reason than human control? How about those designing and selling technologies to kill people and Big Pharma drug and 'vaccine' producers who know they will end or devastate lives? Quite a thought for these people to consider is that if you are Wetiko in a human life you are Wetiko on the 'other side' unless your frequency changes and that can only change by a change of perception which becomes a change of behaviour. Where Gates is going does not bear thinking about although perhaps that's exactly where he wants to go. Either way, that's where he's going. His frequency will make it so.

The frequency lair

I have been saying for a long time that a big part of the addiction to smartphones and devices is that a frequency is coming off them that entraps the mind. People spend ages on their phones and sometimes even a minute or so after they put them down they pick them up again and it all repeats. 'Covid' lockdowns will have increased this addiction a million times for obvious reasons. Addictions to alcohol overindulgence and drugs are another way that Wetiko entraps consciousness to attach to its own. Both are symptoms of lowvibrational psychological distress which alcoholism and drug addiction further compound. Do we think it's really a coincidence that access to them is made so easy while potions that can take people into realms beyond the simulation are banned and illegal? I have explored smartphone addiction in other books, the scale is mind-blowing, and that level of addiction does not come without help. Tech companies that make these phones are Wetiko and they will have no qualms about destroying the minds of children. We are seeing again with these companies the Wetiko perceptual combination of psychopathic enforcers and weak and meek unquestioning compliance by the rank and file.

The global Smart Grid is the Wetiko Grid and it is crucial to complete the Cult endgame. The simulation is radiation and we are being deluged with technological radiation on a devastating scale. Wetiko frauds like Elon Musk serve Cult interests while occasionally criticising them to maintain his street-cred. 5G and other forms of Wi-Fi are being directed at the earth from space on a volume and scale that goes on increasing by the day. Elon Musk's (officially) SpaceX Starlink project is in the process of putting tens of thousands of satellites in low orbit to cover every inch of the planet with 5G and other Wi-Fi to create Kurzweil's global 'cloud' to which the human mind is planned to be attached very soon. SpaceX has approval to operate 12,000 satellites with more than 1,300 launched at the time of writing and applications filed for 30,000 more. Other operators in the Wi-Fi, 5G, low-orbit satellite market include OneWeb (UK), Telesat (Canada), and AST & Science (US). Musk tells us that AI could be the end of humanity and then launches a company called Neuralink to connect the human brain to computers. Musk's (in theory) Tesla company is building electric cars and the driverless vehicles of the smart control grid. As frauds and bullshitters go Elon Musk in my opinion is Major League.

5G and technological radiation in general are destructive to human health, genetics and psychology and increasing the strength of artificial radiation underpins the five-sense perceptual bubbles which are themselves expressions of radiation or electromagnetism. Freedom activist John Whitehead was so right with his 'databit by databit, we are building our own electronic concentration camps'. The Smart Grid and 5G is a means to control the human mind and infuse perceptual information into The Field to influence anyone in sync with its frequency. You can change perception and behaviour en masse if you can manipulate the population into those levels of frequency and this is happening all around us today. The arrogance of Musk and his fellow Cult operatives knows no bounds in the way that we see with Gates. Musk's satellites are so many in number already they are changing the night sky when viewed from Earth. The astronomy community has complained about this and they have seen nothing yet. Some consequences of Musk's Wetiko hubris include: Radiation; visible pollution of the night sky; interference with astronomy and meteorology; ground and water pollution from intensive use of increasingly many spaceports; accumulating space debris; continual deorbiting and burning up of aging satellites, polluting the atmosphere with toxic dust and smoke; and everincreasing likelihood of collisions. A collective public open letter of complaint to Musk said:

We are writing to you ... because SpaceX is in process of surrounding the Earth with a network of thousands of satellites whose very purpose is to irradiate every square inch of the Earth. SpaceX, like everyone else, is treating the radiation as if it were not there. As if the mitochondria in our cells do not depend on electrons moving undisturbed from the food we digest to the oxygen we breathe.

As if our nervous systems and our hearts are not subject to radio frequency interference like any piece of electronic equipment. As if the cancer, diabetes, and heart disease that now afflict a majority of the Earth's population are not metabolic diseases that result from interference with our cellular machinery. As if insects everywhere, and the birds and animals that eat them, are not starving to death as a result.

People like Musk and Gates believe in their limitless Wetiko arrogance that they can do whatever they like to the world because they own it. Consequences for humanity are irrelevant. It's absolutely time that we stopped taking this shit from these self-styled masters of the Earth when you consider where this is going.

Why is the Cult so anti-human?

I hear this question often: Why would they do this when it will affect them, too? Ah, but will it? Who is this them? Forget their bodies. They are just vehicles for Wetiko consciousness. When you break it all down to the foundations we are looking at a state of severely distorted consciousness targeting another state of consciousness for assimilation. The rest is detail. The simulation is the fly-trap in which unique sensations of the five senses create a cycle of addiction called reincarnation. Renegade Minds see that everything which happens in our reality is a smaller version of the whole picture in line with the holographic principle. Addiction to the radiation of smart technology is a smaller version of addiction to the whole simulation. Connecting the body/brain to AI is taking that addiction on a giant step further to total ongoing control by assimilating human incarnate consciousness into Wetiko. I have watched during the 'Covid' hoax how many are becoming ever more profoundly attached to Wetiko's perceptual calling cards of aggressive response to any other point of view ('There is no other god but me'), psychopathic lack of compassion and empathy, and servile submission to the narrative and will of authority. Wetiko is the psychopaths and subservience to psychopaths. The Cult of Wetiko is so anti-human because it is not human. It embarked on a mission to destroy human by targeting everything that it means to be human and to survive as human. 'Covid' is not the end, just a means to an end. The Cult with its Wetiko consciousness is seeking to change Earth systems, including the atmosphere, to suit them, not humans. The gathering bombardment of 5G alone from ground and space is dramatically changing The Field with which the five senses interact. There is so much more to come if we sit on our hands and hope it will all go away. It is not meant to go away. It is meant to get ever more extreme and we need to face that while we still can – just.

Carbon dioxide is the gas of life. Without that human is over. Kaput, gone, history. No natural world, no human. The Cult has created a cock and bull story about carbon dioxide and climate change to justify its reduction to the point where Gates and the ignoramus Biden 'climate chief' John Kerry want to suck it out of the atmosphere. Kerry wants to do this because his master Gates does. Wetikos have made the gas of life a demon with the usual support from the Wokers of Extinction Rebellion and similar organisations and the bewildered puppet-child that is Greta Thunberg who was put on the world stage by Klaus Schwab and the World Economic Forum. The name Extinction Rebellion is both ironic and as always Wetiko inversion. The gas that we need to survive must be reduced to save us from extinction. The most basic need of human is oxygen and we now have billions walking around in face nappies depriving body and brain of this essential requirement of human existence. More than that 5G at 60 gigahertz interacts with the oxygen molecule to reduce the amount of oxygen the body can absorb into the bloodstream. The obvious knock-on consequences of that for respiratory and cognitive problems and life itself need no further explanation. Psychopaths like Musk are assembling a global system of satellites to deluge the human atmosphere with this insanity. The man should be in jail. Here we have two most basic of human needs, oxygen and carbon dioxide, being dismantled.

Two others, water and food, are getting similar treatment with the United Nations Agendas 21 and 2030 – the Great Reset – planning to centrally control all water and food supplies. People will not even own rain water that falls on their land. Food is affected at the most basic level by reducing carbon dioxide. We have genetic modification or GMO infiltrating the food chain on a mass scale, pesticides and herbicides polluting the air and destroying the soil. Freshwater fish that provide livelihoods for 60 million people and feed hundreds of millions worldwide are being 'pushed to the brink' according the conservationists while climate change is the only focus. Now we have Gates and Schwab wanting to dispense with current food sources all together and replace them with a synthetic version which the Wetiko Cult would control in terms of production and who eats and who doesn't. We have been on the Totalitarian Tiptoe to this for more than 60 years as food has become ever more processed and full of chemical shite to the point today when it's not natural food at all. As Dr Tom Cowan says: 'If it has a label don't eat it.' Bill Gates is now the biggest owner of farmland in the United States and he does nothing without an ulterior motive involving the Cult. Klaus Schwab wrote: 'To feed the world in the next 50 years we will need to produce as much food as was produced in the last 10,000 years ... food security will only be achieved, however, if regulations on genetically modified foods are adapted to reflect the reality that gene editing offers a precise, efficient and safe method of improving crops.' Liar. People and the world are being targeted with aluminium through vaccines, chemtrails, food, drink cans, and endless other sources when aluminium has been linked to many health issues including dementia which is increasing year after year. Insects, bees and wildlife essential to the food chain are being deleted by pesticides, herbicides and radiation which 5G is dramatically increasing with 6G and 7G to come. The pollinating bee population is being devastated while wildlife including birds, dolphins and whales are having their natural radar blocked by the effects of ever-increasing radiation. In the summer windscreens used to be splattered with insects so numerous were they. It doesn't happen now. Where have they gone?

Synthetic everything

The Cult is introducing genetically-modified versions of trees, plants and insects including a Gates-funded project to unleash hundreds of millions of genetically-modified, lab-altered and patented male mosquitoes to mate with wild mosquitoes and induce genetic flaws that cause them to die out. Clinically-insane Gates-funded Japanese researchers have developed mosquitos that spread vaccine and are dubbed 'flying vaccinators'. Gates is funding the modification of weather patterns in part to sell the myth that this is caused by carbon dioxide and he's funding geoengineering of the skies to change the atmosphere. Some of this came to light with the Gates-backed plan to release tonnes of chalk into the atmosphere to 'deflect the Sun and cool the planet'. Funny how they do this while the heating effect of the Sun is not factored into climate projections focussed on carbon dioxide. The reason is that they want to reduce carbon dioxide (so don't mention the Sun), but at the same time they do want to reduce the impact of the Sun which is so essential to human life and health. I have mentioned the sun-cholesterol-vitamin D connection as they demonise the Sun with warnings about skin cancer (caused by the chemicals in sun cream they tell you to splash on). They come from the other end of the process with statin drugs to reduce cholesterol that turns sunlight into vitamin D. A lack of vitamin D leads to a long list of health effects and how vitamin D levels must have fallen with people confined to their homes over 'Covid'. Gates is funding other forms of geoengineering and most importantly chemtrails which are dropping heavy metals, aluminium and self-replicating nanotechnology onto the Earth which is killing the natural world. See Everything You Need To Know, But Have Never Been Told for the detailed background to this.

Every human system is being targeted for deletion by a force that's not human. The Wetiko Cult has embarked on the process of transforming the human body from biological to synthetic biological as I have explained. Biological is being replaced by the artificial and synthetic – Archontic 'countermimicry' – right across human society. The plan eventually is to dispense with the human body altogether and absorb human consciousness – which it wouldn't really be by then – into cyberspace (the simulation which is Wetiko/Yaldabaoth). Preparations for that are already happening if people would care to look. The alternative media rightly warns about globalism and 'the globalists', but this is far bigger than that and represents the end of the human race as we know it. The 'bad copy' of prime reality that Gnostics describe was a bad copy of harmony, wonder and beauty to start with before Wetiko/Yaldabaoth set out to change the simulated 'copy' into something very different. The process was slow to start with. Entrapped humans in the simulation timeline were not technologically aware and they had to be brought up to intellectual speed while being suppressed spiritually to the point where they could build their own prison while having no idea they were doing so. We have now reached that stage where technological intellect has the potential to destroy us and that's why events are moving so fast. Central American shaman Don Juan Matus said:

Think for a moment, and tell me how you would explain the contradictions between the intelligence of man the engineer and the stupidity of his systems of belief, or the stupidity of his contradictory behaviour. Sorcerers believe that the predators have given us our systems of beliefs, our ideas of good and evil; our social mores. They are the ones who set up our dreams of success or failure. They have given us covetousness, greed, and cowardice. It is the predator who makes us complacent, routinary, and egomaniacal.

In order to keep us obedient and meek and weak, the predators engaged themselves in a stupendous manoeuvre – stupendous, of course, from the point of view of a fighting strategist; a horrendous manoeuvre from the point of those who suffer it. They gave us their mind. The predators' mind is baroque, contradictory, morose, filled with the fear of being discovered any minute now.

For 'predators' see Wetiko, Archons, Yaldabaoth, Jinn, and all the other versions of the same phenomenon in cultures and religions all over the world. The theme is always the same because it's true and it's real. We have reached the point where we have to deal with it. The question is – how?

Don't fight – walk away

I thought I'd use a controversial subheading to get things moving in terms of our response to global fascism. What do you mean 'don't fight'? What do you mean 'walk away'? We've got to fight. We can't walk away. Well, it depends what we mean by fight and walk away. If fighting means physical combat we are playing Wetiko's game and falling for its trap. It wants us to get angry, aggressive, and direct hate and hostility at the enemy we think we must fight. Every war, every battle, every conflict, has been fought with Wetiko leading both sides. It's what it does. Wetiko wants a fight, anywhere, any place. Just hit me, son, so I can hit you back. Wetiko hits Wetiko and Wetiko hits Wetiko in return. I am very forthright as you can see in exposing Wetikos of the Cult, but I don't hate them. I refuse to hate them. It's what they want. What you hate you become. What you fight you become. Wokers, 'anti-haters' and 'anti-fascists' prove this every time they reach for their keyboards or don their balaclavas. By walk away I mean to disengage from Wetiko which includes ceasing to cooperate with its tyranny. Paul Levy says of Wetiko:

The way to 'defeat' evil is not to try to destroy it (for then, in playing evil's game, we have already lost), but rather, to find the invulnerable place within ourselves where evil is unable to vanguish us – this is to truly 'win' our battle with evil.

Wetiko is everywhere in human society and it's been on steroids since the 'Covid' hoax. Every shouting match over wearing masks has Wetiko wearing a mask and Wetiko not wearing one. It's an electrical circuit of push and resist, push and resist, with Wetiko pushing and resisting. Each polarity is Wetiko empowering itself. Dictionary definitions of 'resist' include 'opposing, refusing to accept or comply with' and the word to focus on is 'opposing'. What form does this take – setting police cars alight or 'refusing to accept or comply with'? The former is Wetiko opposing Wetiko while the other points the way forward. This is the difference between those aggressively demanding that government fascism must be obeyed who stand in stark contrast to the great majority of Pushbackers. We saw this clearly with a march by thousands of Pushbackers against lockdown in London followed days later by a Woker-hijacked protest in Bristol in which police cars were set on fire. Masks were virtually absent in London and widespread in Bristol. Wetiko wants lockdown on every level of society and infuses its aggression to police it through its unknowing stooges. Lockdown protesters are the ones with the smiling faces and the hugs, The two blatantly obvious states of being – getting more obvious by the day – are the result of Wokers and their like becoming ever more influenced by the simulation Field of Wetiko and Pushbackers ever more influenced by The Field of a far higher vibration beyond the simulation. Wetiko can't invade the heart which is where most lockdown opponents are coming from. It's the heart that allows them to see through the lies to the truth in ways I will be highlighting.

Renegade Minds know that calmness is the place from which wisdom comes. You won't find wisdom in a hissing fit and wisdom is what we need in abundance right now. Calmness is not weakness - you don't have to scream at the top of your voice to be strong. Calmness is indeed a sign of strength. 'No' means I'm not doing it. NOOOO!!! doesn't mean you're not doing it even more. Volume does not advance 'No – I'm not doing it'. You are just not doing it. Wetiko possessed and influenced don't know how to deal with that. Wetiko wants a fight and we should not give it one. What it needs more than anything is our cooperation and we should not give that either. Mass rallies and marches are great in that they are a visual representation of feeling, but if it ends there they are irrelevant. You demand that Wetikos act differently? Well, they're not going to are they? They are Wetikos. We don't need to waste our time demanding that something doesn't happen when that will make no difference. We need to delete the means that allows it to happen. This, invariably, is our cooperation. You can demand a child stop firing a peashooter at the dog or you can refuse to buy the peashooter. If you provide the means you are cooperating with the dog being smacked on the nose with a pea. How can the authorities enforce mask-wearing if millions in a country refuse? What if the 74 million Pushbackers that voted for Trump in 2020 refused to wear masks, close their businesses or stay in their homes. It would be unenforceable. The few control the many through the compliance of the many and that's always been the dynamic be it 'Covid' regulations or the Roman Empire. I know people can find it intimidating to say no to authority or stand out in a crowd for being the only one with a face on display; but it has to be done or it's over. I hope I've made clear in this book that where this is going will be far more intimidating than standing up now and saying 'No' – I will not cooperate with my own enslavement and that of my children. There might be consequences for some initially, although not so if enough do the same. The question that must be addressed is what is going to happen if we don't? It is time to be strong and unyieldingly so. No means no. Not here and there, but everywhere and always. I have refused to wear a mask and obey all the other nonsense. I will not comply with tyranny. I repeat: Fascism is not imposed by fascists – there are never enough of them. Fascism is imposed by the population acquiescing to fascism. I will not do it. I will die first, or my body will. Living meekly under fascism is a form of death anyway, the death of the spirit that Martin Luther King described.

Making things happen

We must not despair. This is not over till it's over and it's far from that. The 'fat lady' must refuse to sing. The longer the 'Covid' hoax has dragged on and impacted on more lives we have seen an awakening of phenomenal numbers of people worldwide to the realisation that what they have believed all their lives is not how the world really is. Research published by the system-serving University of Bristol and King's College London in February, 2021, concluded: 'One in every 11 people in Britain say they trust David Icke's take on the coronavirus pandemic.' It will be more by now and we have gathering numbers to build on. We must urgently progress from seeing the scam to ceasing to cooperate with it. Prominent German lawyer Reiner Fuellmich, also licenced to practice law in America, is doing a magnificent job taking the legal route to bring the psychopaths to justice through a second Nuremberg tribunal for crimes against humanity. Fuellmich has an impressive record of beating the elite in court and he formed the German Corona Investigative Committee to pursue civil charges against the main perpetrators with a view to triggering criminal charges. Most importantly he has grasped the foundation of the hoax – the PCR test not testing for the 'virus' – and Christian Drosten is therefore on his charge sheet along with Gates frontman Tedros at the World Health Organization. Major players must be not be allowed to inflict their horrors on the human race without being brought to book. A life sentence must follow for Bill Gates and the rest of them. A group of researchers has also indicted the government of Norway for crimes against humanity with copies sent to the police and the International Criminal Court. The lawsuit cites participation in an internationally-planned false pandemic and violation of international law and human rights, the European Commission's definition of human rights by coercive rules, Nuremberg and Hague rules on fundamental human rights, and the Norwegian constitution. We must take the initiative from hereon and not just complain, protest and react.

There are practical ways to support vital mass non-cooperation. Organising in numbers is one. Lockdown marches in London in the spring in 2021 were mass non-cooperation that the authorities could not stop. There were too many people. Hundreds of thousands walked the London streets in the centre of the road for mile after mile while the Face-Nappies could only look on. They were determined, but calm, and just did it with no histrionics and lots of smiles. The police were impotent. Others are organising group shopping without masks for mutual support and imagine if that was happening all over. Policing it would be impossible. If the store refuses to serve people in these circumstances they would be faced with a long line of trolleys full of goods standing on their own and everything would have to be returned to the shelves. How would they cope with that if it kept happening? I am talking here about moving on from complaining to being pro-active; from watching things happen to making things happen. I include in this our relationship with the police. The behaviour of many Face-Nappies has been disgraceful and anyone who thinks they would never find concentration camp guards in the 'enlightened' modern era have had that myth busted big-time. The period and setting may change – Wetikos never do. I watched film footage from a London march in which a police thug viciously kicked a protestor on the floor who had done nothing. His fellow Face-Nappies stood in a ring protecting him. What he did was a criminal assault and with a crowd far outnumbering the police this can no longer be allowed to happen unchallenged. I get it when people chant 'shame on you' in these circumstances, but that is no longer enough. They have no shame those who do this. Crowds needs to start making a citizen's arrest of the police who commit criminal offences and brutally attack innocent people and defenceless women. A citizen's arrest can be made under section 24A of the UK Police and Criminal Evidence (PACE) Act of 1984 and you will find something similar in other countries. I prefer to call it a Common Law arrest rather than citizen's for reasons I will come to shortly. Anyone can arrest a person committing an indictable offence or if they have reasonable grounds to suspect they are committing an indictable offence. On both counts the attack by the police thug would have fallen into this category. A citizen's arrest can be made to stop someone:

- Causing physical injury to himself or any other person
- Suffering physical injury
- Causing loss of or damage to property
- Making off before a constable can assume responsibility for him

A citizen's arrest may also be made to prevent a breach of the peace under Common Law and if they believe a breach of the peace will happen or anything related to harm likely to be done or already done in their presence. This is the way to go I think – the Common Law version. If police know that the crowd and members of the public will no longer be standing and watching while they commit their thuggery and crimes they will think twice about acting like Brownshirts and Blackshirts.

Common Law – common sense

Mention of Common Law is very important. Most people think the law is the law as in one law. This is not the case. There are two bodies of law, Common Law and Statute Law, and they are not the same. Common Law is founded on the simple premise of do no harm. It does not recognise victimless crimes in which no harm is done while Statute Law does. There is a Statute Law against almost everything. So what is Statute Law? Amazingly it's the law of the sea that was brought ashore by the Cult to override the law of the land which is Common Law. They had no right to do this and as always they did it anyway. They had to. They could not impose their will on the people through Common Law which only applies to do no harm. How could you stitch up the fine detail of people's lives with that? Instead they took the law of the sea, or Admiralty Law, and applied it to the population. Statute Law refers to all the laws spewing out of governments and their agencies including all the fascist laws and regulations relating to 'Covid'. The key point to make is that Statute Law is contract law. It only applies between contracting corporations. Most police officers don't even know this. They have to be kept in the dark, too. Long ago when merchants and their sailing ships began to trade with different countries a contractual law was developed called Admiralty Law and other names. Again it only applied to contracts agreed between corporate entities. If there is no agreed contract the law of the sea had no jurisdiction and that still applies to its new alias of Statute Law. The problem for the Cult when the law of the sea was brought ashore was an obvious one. People were not corporations and neither were government entities. To overcome the latter they made governments and all associated organisations corporations. All the institutions are private corporations and I mean governments and their agencies, local councils, police, courts, military, US states, the whole lot. Go to the Dun and Bradstreet corporate listings website for confirmation that they are all corporations. You are arrested by a private corporation called the police by someone who is really a private security guard and they take you to court which is another private corporation. Neither have jurisdiction over you unless you consent and contract with them. This is why you hear the mantra about law enforcement policing by consent of the people. In truth the people 'consent' only in theory through monumental trickery.

Okay, the Cult overcame the corporate law problem by making governments and institutions corporate entities; but what about people? They are not corporations are they? Ah ... well in a sense, and only a sense, they are. Not people exactly – the illusion of people. The Cult creates a corporation in the name of everyone at the time that their birth certificate is issued. Note birth/berth certificate and when you go to court under the law of the sea on land you stand in a dock. These are throwbacks to the origin. My Common Law name is David Vaughan Icke. The name of the corporation created by the government when I was born is called Mr David Vaughan Icke usually written in capitals as MR DAVID VAUGHAN ICKE. That is not me, the living, breathing man. It is a fictitious corporate entity. The trick is to make you think that David Vaughan Icke and MR DAVID VAUGHAN ICKE are the same thing. They are not. When police charge you and take you to court they are prosecuting the corporate entity and not the living, breathing, man or woman. They have to trick you into identifying as the corporate entity and contracting with them. Otherwise they have no jurisdiction. They do this through a language known as legalese. Lawful and legal are not the same either. Lawful relates to Common Law and legal relates to Statute Law. Legalese is the language of Statue Law which uses terms that mean one thing to the public and another in legalese. Notice that when a police officer tells someone why they are being charged he or she will say at the end: 'Do you understand?' To the public that means 'Do you comprehend?' In legalese it means 'Do you stand under me?' Do you stand under my authority? If you say yes to the question you are unknowingly agreeing to give them jurisdiction over you in a contract between two corporate entities.

This is a confidence trick in every way. Contracts have to be agreed between informed parties and if you don't know that David Vaughan Icke is agreeing to be the corporation MR DAVID VAUGHAN ICKE you cannot knowingly agree to contract. They are deceiving you and another way they do this is to ask for proof of identity. You usually show them a driving licence or other document on which your corporate name is written. In doing so you are accepting that you are that corporate entity when you are not. Referring to yourself as a 'person' or 'citizen' is also identifying with your corporate fiction which is why I made the Common Law point about the citizen's arrest. If you are approached by a police officer you identify yourself immediately as a living, breathing, man or woman and say 'I do not consent, I do not contract with you and I do not understand' or stand under their authority. I have a Common Law birth certificate as a living man and these are available at no charge from commonlawcourt.com. Businesses registered under the Statute Law system means that its laws apply. There are, however, ways to run a business under Common Law. Remember all 'Covid' laws and regulations are Statute Law – the law of contracts and you do not have to contract. This doesn't mean that you can kill someone and get away with it. Common Law says do no harm and that applies to physical harm, financial harm etc. Police are employees of private corporations and there needs to be a new system of noncorporate Common Law constables operating outside the Statute Law system. If you go to davidicke.com and put Common Law into the search engine you will find videos that explain Common Law in much greater detail. It is definitely a road we should walk.

With all my heart

I have heard people say that we are in a spiritual war. I don't like the term 'war' with its Wetiko dynamic, but I know what they mean. Sweep aside all the bodily forms and we are in a situation in which two states of consciousness are seeking very different realities.

Wetiko wants upheaval, chaos, fear, suffering, conflict and control. The other wants love, peace, harmony, fairness and freedom. That's where we are. We should not fall for the idea that Wetiko is allpowerful and there's nothing we can do. Wetiko is not all-powerful. It's a joke, pathetic. It doesn't have to be, but it has made that choice for now. A handful of times over the years when I have felt the presence of its frequency I have allowed it to attach briefly so I could consciously observe its nature. The experience is not pleasant, the energy is heavy and dark, but the ease with which you can kick it back out the door shows that its real power is in persuading us that it has power. It's all a con. Wetiko is a con. It's a trickster and not a power that can control us if we unleash our own. The con is founded on manipulating humanity to give its power to Wetiko which recycles it back to present the illusion that it has power when its power is ours that we gave away. This happens on an energetic level and plays out in the world of the seen as humanity giving its power to Wetiko authority which uses that power to control the population when the power is only the power the population has handed over. How could it be any other way for billions to be controlled by a relative few? I have had experiences with people possessed by Wetiko and again you can kick its arse if you do it with an open heart. Oh yes - the heart which can transform the world of perceived 'matter'.

We are receiver-transmitters and processors of information, but what information and where from? Information is processed into perception in three main areas – the brain, the heart and the belly. These relate to thinking, knowing, and emotion. Wetiko wants us to be head and belly people which means we think within the confines of the Matrix simulation and low-vibrational emotional reaction scrambles balance and perception. A few minutes on social media and you see how emotion is the dominant force. Woke is all emotion and is therefore thought-free and fact-free. Our heart is something different. It knows while the head thinks and has to try to work it out because it doesn't know. The human energy field has seven prime vortexes which connect us with wider reality (Fig 23). Chakra means 'wheels of light' in the Sanskrit language of ancient India. The main ones are: The crown chakra on top of the head; brow (or 'third eye') chakra in the centre of the forehead; throat chakra; heart chakra in the centre of the chest; solar plexus chakra below the sternum; sacral chakra beneath the navel; and base chakra at the bottom of the spine. Each one has a particular function or functions. We feel anxiety and nervousness in the belly where the sacral chakra is located and this processes emotion that can affect the colon to give people 'the shits' or make them 'shit scared' when they are nervous. Chakras all play an important role, but the Mr and Mrs Big is the heart chakra which sits at the centre of the seven, above the chakras that connect us to the 'physical' and below those that connect with higher realms (or at least should). Here in the heart chakra we feel love, empathy and compassion – 'My heart goes out to you'. Those with closed hearts become literally 'heart-less' in their attitudes and behaviour (see Bill Gates). Native Americans portrayed Wetiko with what Paul Levy calls a 'frigid, icy heart, devoid of mercy' (see Bill Gates).

Wetiko trembles at the thought of heart energy which it cannot infiltrate. The frequency is too high. What it seeks to do instead is close the heart chakra vortex to block its perceptual and energetic influence. Psychopaths have 'hearts of stone' and emotionally-damaged people have 'heartache' and 'broken hearts'. The astonishing amount of heart disease is related to heart chakra disruption with its fundamental connection to the 'physical' heart. Dr Tom Cowan has written an outstanding book challenging the belief that the heart is a pump and making the connection between the 'physical' and spiritual heart. Rudolph Steiner who was way ahead of his time said the same about the fallacy that the heart is a pump. What? The heart is not a pump? That's crazy, right? Everybody knows that. Read Cowan's Human Heart, Cosmic Heart and you will realise that the very idea of the heart as a pump is ridiculous when you see the evidence. How does blood in the feet so far from the heart get pumped horizontally up the body by the heart?? Cowan explains in the book the real reason why blood moves as it does. Our 'physical' heart is used to symbolise love when the source is really the heart vortex or spiritual heart which is our most powerful energetic connection to 'out there' expanded consciousness. That's why we feel knowing – intuitive knowing – in the centre of the chest. Knowing doesn't come from a process of thoughts leading to a conclusion. It is there in an instant all in one go. Our heart knows because of its connection to levels of awareness that do know. This is the meaning and source of intuition – intuitive knowing.

For the last more than 30 years of uncovering the global game and the nature of reality my heart has been my constant antenna for truth and accuracy. An American intelligence insider once said that I had quoted a disinformer in one of my books and yet I had only quoted the part that was true. He asked: 'How do you do that?' By using my heart antenna was the answer and anyone can do it. Heart-centred is how we are meant to be. With a closed heart chakra we withdraw into a closed mind and the bubble of five-sense reality. If you take a moment to focus your attention on the centre of your chest, picture a spinning wheel of light and see it opening and expanding. You will feel it happening, too, and perceptions of the heart like joy and love as the heart impacts on the mind as they interact. The more the chakra opens the more you will feel expressions of heart consciousness and as the process continues, and becomes part of you, insights and knowings will follow. An open heart is connected to that level of awareness that knows all is One. You will see from its perspective that the fault-lines that divide us are only illusions to control us. An open heart does not process the illusions of race, creed and sexuality except as brief experiences for a consciousness that is all. Our heart does not see division, only unity (Figs 24 and 25). There's something else, too. Our hearts love to laugh. Mark Twain's quote that says 'The human race has one really effective weapon, and that is laughter' is really a reference to the heart which loves to laugh with the joy of knowing the true nature of infinite reality and that all the madness of human society is an illusion of the mind. Twain also said: 'Against the assault of laughter nothing can stand.' This is so true of Wetiko and the Cult. Their insecurity demands that they be taken seriously and their power and authority acknowledged and feared. We should do nothing of the sort. We should not get aggressive or fearful which their insecurity so desires. We should laugh in their face. Even in their no-face as police come over in their face-nappies and expect to be taken seriously. They don't take themselves seriously looking like that so why should we? Laugh in the face of intimidation. Laugh in the face of tyranny. You will see by its reaction that you have pressed all of its buttons. Wetiko does not know what to do in the face of laughter or when its targets refuse to concede their joy to fear. We have seen many examples during the 'Covid' hoax when people have expressed their energetic power and the string puppets of Wetiko retreat with their tail limp between their knees. Laugh – the world is bloody mad after all and if it's a choice between laughter and tears I know which way I'm going.

'Vaccines' and the soul

The foundation of Wetiko/Archon control of humans is the separation of incarnate five-sense mind from the infinite 'I' and closing the heart chakra where the True 'I' lives during a human life. The goal has been to achieve complete separation in both cases. I was interested therefore to read an account by a French energetic healer of what she said she experienced with a patient who had been given the 'Covid' vaccine. Genuine energy healers can sense information and consciousness fields at different levels of being which are referred to as 'subtle bodies'. She described treating the patient who later returned after having, without the healer's knowledge, two doses of the 'Covid vaccine'. The healer said:

I noticed immediately the change, very heavy energy emanating from [the] subtle bodies. The scariest thing was when I was working on the heart chakra, I connected with her soul: it was detached from the physical body, it had no contact and it was, as if it was floating in a state of total confusion: a damage to the consciousness that loses contact with the physical body, i.e. with our biological machine, there is no longer any communication between them.

I continued the treatment by sending light to the heart chakra, the soul of the person, but it seemed that the soul could no longer receive any light, frequency or energy. It was a very powerful experience for me. Then I understood that this substance is indeed used to detach consciousness so that this consciousness can no longer interact through this body that it possesses in life, where there is no longer any contact, no frequency, no light, no more energetic balance or mind.

This would create a human that is rudderless and at the extreme almost zombie-like operating with a fractional state of consciousness at the mercy of Wetiko. I was especially intrigued by what the healer said in the light of the prediction by the highly-informed Rudolf Steiner more than a hundred years ago. He said:

In the future, we will eliminate the soul with medicine. Under the pretext of a 'healthy point of view', there will be a vaccine by which the human body will be treated as soon as possible directly at birth, so that the human being cannot develop the thought of the existence of soul and Spirit. To materialistic doctors will be entrusted the task of removing the soul of humanity.

As today, people are vaccinated against this disease or that disease, so in the future, children will be vaccinated with a substance that can be produced precisely in such a way that people, thanks to this vaccination, will be immune to being subjected to the 'madness' of spiritual life. He would be extremely smart, but he would not develop a conscience, and that is the true goal of some materialistic circles.

Steiner said the vaccine would detach the physical body from the etheric body (subtle bodies) and 'once the etheric body is detached the relationship between the universe and the etheric body would become extremely unstable, and man would become an automaton'. He said 'the physical body of man must be polished on this Earth by spiritual will – so the vaccine becomes a kind of arymanique (Wetiko) force' and 'man can no longer get rid of a given materialistic feeling'. Humans would then, he said, become 'materialistic of constitution and can no longer rise to the spiritual'. I have been writing for years about DNA being a receiver-transmitter of information that connects us to other levels of reality and these 'vaccines' changing DNA can be likened to changing an antenna and what it can transmit and receive. Such a disconnection would clearly lead to changes in personality and perception. Steiner further predicted the arrival of AI. Big Pharma 'Covid vaccine' makers, expressions of Wetiko, are testing their DNA-manipulating evil on children as I write with a view to giving the 'vaccine' to babies. If it's a soul-body disconnector – and I say that it is or can be – every child would be disconnected from 'soul' at birth and the 'vaccine' would create a closed system in which spiritual guidance from the greater self would play no part. This has been the ambition of Wetiko all along. A Pentagon video from 2005 was leaked of a presentation explaining the development of vaccines to change behaviour by their effect on the brain. Those that believe this is not happening with the 'Covid' genetically-modifying procedure masquerading as a 'vaccine' should make an urgent appointment with Naivety Anonymous. Klaus Schwab wrote in 2018:

Neurotechnologies enable us to better influence consciousness and thought and to understand many activities of the brain. They include decoding what we are thinking in fine levels of detail through new chemicals and interventions that can influence our brains to correct for errors or enhance functionality.

The plan is clear and only the heart can stop it. With every heart that opens, every mind that awakens, Wetiko is weakened. Heart and love are far more powerful than head and hate and so nothing like a majority is needed to turn this around.

Beyond the Phantom

Our heart is the prime target of Wetiko and so it must be the answer to Wetiko. We are our heart which is part of one heart, the infinite heart. Our heart is where the true self lives in a human life behind firewalls of five-sense illusion when an imposter takes its place – Phantom Self; but our heart waits patiently to be set free any time we choose to see beyond the Phantom, beyond Wetiko. A Wetikoed Phantom Self can wreak mass death and destruction while the love of forever is locked away in its heart. The time is here to unleash its power and let it sweep away the fear and despair that is Wetiko. Heart consciousness does not seek manipulated, censored, advantage for its belief or religion, its activism and desires. As an expression of the One it treats all as One with the same rights to freedom and opinion. Our heart demands fairness for itself no more than for others. From this unity of heart we can come together in mutual support and transform this Wetikoed world into what reality is meant to be – a place of love, joy, happiness, fairness, justice and freedom. Wetiko has another agenda and that's why the world is as it is, but enough of this nonsense. Wetiko can't stay where hearts are open and it works so hard to keep them closed. Fear is its currency and its food source and love in its true sense has no fear. Why would love have fear when it knows it is All That Is, Has Been, And Ever Can Be on an eternal exploration of all possibility? Love in this true sense is not the physical attraction that passes for love. This can be an expression of it, yes, but Infinite Love, a love without condition, goes far deeper to the core of all being. It is the core of all being. Infinite realty was born from love beyond the illusions of the simulation. Love infinitely expressed is the knowing that all is One and the swiftly-passing experience of separation is a temporary hallucination. You cannot disconnect from Oneness; you can only perceive that you have and withdraw from its influence. This is the most important of all perception trickery by the mind parasite that is Wetiko and the foundation of all its potential for manipulation.

If we open our hearts, open the sluice gates of the mind, and redefine self-identity amazing things start to happen. Consciousness expands or contracts in accordance with self-identity. When true self is recognised as infinite awareness and label self – Phantom Self – is seen as only a series of brief experiences life is transformed. Consciousness expands to the extent that self-identity expands and everything changes. You see unity, not division, the picture, not the pixels. From this we can play the long game. No more is an experience something in and of itself, but a fleeting moment in the eternity of forever. Suddenly people in uniform and dark suits are no longer intimidating. Doing what your heart knows to be right is no longer intimidating and consequences for those actions take on the same nature of a brief experience that passes in the blink of an infinite eye. Intimidation is all in the mind. Beyond the mind there is no intimidation.

An open heart does not consider consequences for what it knows to be right. To do so would be to consider not doing what it knows to be right and for a heart in its power that is never an option. The Renegade Mind is really the Renegade Heart. Consideration of consequences will always provide a getaway car for the mind and the heart doesn't want one. What is right in the light of what we face today is to stop cooperating with Wetiko in all its forms and to do it without fear or compromise. You cannot compromise with tyranny when tyranny always demands more until it has everything. Life is your perception and you are your destiny. Change your perception and you change your life. Change collective perception and we change the world.

Come on people ... One human family, One heart, One goal ... FREEEEEDOM!

We must settle for nothing less.

Postscript

The big scare story as the book goes to press is the 'Indian' variant and the world is being deluged with propaganda about the 'Covid catastrophe' in India which mirrors in its lies and misrepresentations what happened in Italy before the first lockdown in 2020.

The New York Post published a picture of someone who had 'collapsed in the street from Covid' in India in April, 2021, which was actually taken during a gas leak in May, 2020. Same old, same old. Media articles in mid-February were asking why India had been so untouched by 'Covid' and then as their vaccine rollout gathered pace the alleged 'cases' began to rapidly increase. Indian 'Covid vaccine' maker Bharat Biotech was funded into existence by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation (the pair announced their divorce in May, 2021, which is a pity because they so deserve each other). The Indian 'Covid crisis' was ramped up by the media to terrify the world and prepare people for submission to still more restrictions. The scam that worked the first time was being repeated only with far more people seeing through the deceit. Davidicke.com and Ickonic.com have sought to tell the true story of what is happening by talking to people living through the Indian nightmare which has nothing to do with 'Covid'. We posted a letter from 'Alisha' in Pune who told a very different story to government and media mendacity. She said scenes of dying people and overwhelmed hospitals were designed to hide what was really happening – genocide and starvation. Alisha said that millions had already died of starvation during the ongoing lockdowns while government and media were lying and making it look like the 'virus':

Restaurants, shops, gyms, theatres, basically everything is shut. The cities are ghost towns. Even so-called 'essential' businesses are only open till 11am in the morning. You basically have just an hour to buy food and then your time is up.

Inter-state travel and even inter-district travel is banned. The cops wait at all major crossroads to question why you are traveling outdoors or to fine you if you are not wearing a mask.

The medical community here is also complicit in genocide, lying about hospitals being full and turning away people with genuine illnesses, who need immediate care. They have even created a shortage of oxygen cylinders.

This is the classic Cult modus operandi played out in every country. Alisha said that people who would not have a PCR test not testing for the 'virus' were being denied hospital treatment. She said the people hit hardest were migrant workers and those in rural areas. Most businesses employed migrant workers and with everything closed there were no jobs, no income and no food. As a result millions were dying of starvation or malnutrition. All this was happening under Prime Minister Narendra Modi, a 100-percent asset of the Cult, and it emphasises yet again the scale of pure antihuman evil we are dealing with. Australia banned its people from returning home from India with penalties for trying to do so of up to five years in jail and a fine of £37,000. The manufactured 'Covid' crisis in India was being prepared to justify further fascism in the West. Obvious connections could be seen between the Indian 'vaccine' programme and increased 'cases' and this became a common theme. The Seychelles, the most per capita 'Covid vaccinated' population in the world, went back into lockdown after a 'surge of cases'.

Long ago the truly evil Monsanto agricultural biotechnology corporation with its big connections to Bill Gates devastated Indian farming with genetically-modified crops. Human rights activist Gurcharan Singh highlighted the efforts by the Indian government to complete the job by destroying the food supply to hundreds of millions with 'Covid' lockdowns. He said that 415 million people at the bottom of the disgusting caste system (still going whatever they say) were below the poverty line and struggled to feed themselves every year. Now the government was imposing lockdown at just the time to destroy the harvest. This deliberate policy was leading to mass starvation. People may reel back at the suggestion that a government would do that, but Wetiko-controlled 'leaders' are capable of any level of evil. In fact what is described in India is in the process of being instigated worldwide. The food chain and food supply are being targeted at every level to cause world hunger and thus control. Bill Gates is not the biggest owner of farmland in America for no reason and destroying access to food aids both the depopulation agenda and the plan for synthetic 'food' already being funded into existence by Gates. Add to this the coming hyperinflation from the suicidal creation of fake 'money' in response to 'Covid' and the breakdown of container shipping systems and you have a cocktail that can only lead one way and is meant to. The Cult plan is to crash the entire system to 'build back better' with the Great Reset.

'Vaccine' transmission

Reports from all over the world continue to emerge of women suffering menstrual and fertility problems after having the fake 'vaccine' and of the non-'vaccinated' having similar problems when interacting with the 'vaccinated'. There are far too many for 'coincidence' to be credible. We've had menopausal women getting periods, others having periods stop or not stopping for weeks, passing clots, sometimes the lining of the uterus, breast irregularities, and miscarriages (which increased by 400 percent in parts of the United States). Non-'vaccinated' men and children have suffered blood clots and nose bleeding after interaction with the 'vaccinated'. Babies have died from the effects of breast milk from a 'vaccinated' mother. Awake doctors – the small minority – speculated on the cause of non-'vaccinated' suffering the same effects as the 'vaccinated'. Was it nanotechnology in the synthetic substance transmitting frequencies or was it a straight chemical bioweapon that was being transmitted between people? I am not saying that some kind of chemical transmission is not one possible answer, but the foundation of all that the Cult does is frequency and this is fertile ground for understanding how transmission can happen. American doctor Carrie Madej, an internal medicine physician and osteopath, has been practicing for the last 20 years, teaching medical students, and she says attending different meetings where the agenda for humanity was discussed. Madej, who operates out of Georgia, did not dismiss other possible forms of transmission, but she focused on frequency in search of an explanation for transmission. She said the Moderna and Pfizer 'vaccines' contained nano-lipid particles as a key component. This was a brand new technology never before used on humanity. 'They're using a nanotechnology which is pretty much little tiny computer bits ... nanobots or hydrogel.' Inside the 'vaccines' was 'this sci-fi kind of substance' which suppressed immune checkpoints to get into the cell. I referred to this earlier as the 'Trojan horse' technique that tricks the cell into opening a gateway for the self-replicating synthetic material and while the immune system is artificially suppressed the body has no defences. Madej said the substance served many purposes including an on-demand ability to 'deliver the payload' and using the nano 'computer bits' as biosensors in the body. 'It actually has the ability to accumulate data from your body, like your breathing, your respiration, thoughts, emotions, all kinds of things.'

She said the technology obviously has the ability to operate through Wi-Fi and transmit and receive energy, messages, frequencies or impulses. 'Just imagine you're getting this new substance in you and it can react to things all around you, the 5G, your smart device, your phones.' We had something completely foreign in the human body that had never been launched large scale at a time when we were seeing 5G going into schools and hospitals (plus the Musk satellites) and she believed the 'vaccine' transmission had something to do with this: '... if these people have this inside of them ... it can act like an antenna and actually transmit it outwardly as well.' The synthetic substance produced its own voltage and so it could have that kind of effect. This fits with my own contention that the nano receiver-transmitters are designed to connect people to the Smart Grid and break the receiver-transmitter connection to expanded consciousness. That would explain the French energy healer's experience of the disconnection of body from 'soul' with those who have had the 'vaccine'. The nanobots, self-replicating inside the body, would also transmit the synthetic frequency which could be picked up through close interaction by those who have not been 'vaccinated'. Madej speculated that perhaps it was 5G and increased levels of other radiation that was causing the symptoms directly although interestingly she said that non-'vaccinated' patients had shown improvement when they were away from the 'vaccinated' person they had interacted with. It must be remembered that you can control frequency and energy with your mind and you can consciously create energetic barriers or bubbles with the mind to stop damaging frequencies from penetrating your field. American paediatrician Dr Larry Palevsky said the 'vaccine' was not a 'vaccine' and was never designed to protect from a 'viral' infection. He called it 'a massive, brilliant propaganda of genocide' because they didn't have to inject everyone to get the result they wanted. He said the content of the jabs was able to infuse any material into the brain, heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, sperm and female productive system. 'This is genocide; this is a weapon of mass destruction.' At the same time American colleges were banning students from attending if they didn't have this life-changing and potentially life-ending 'vaccine'. Class action lawsuits must follow when the consequences of this college fascism come to light. As the book was going to press came reports about fertility effects on sperm in 'vaccinated' men which would absolutely fit with what I have been saying and hospitals continued to fill with 'vaccine' reactions. Another question is what about transmission via blood transfusions? The NHS has extended blood donation restrictions from seven days after a 'Covid vaccination' to 28 days after even a sore arm reaction.

I said in the spring of 2020 that the then touted 'Covid vaccine' would be ongoing each year like the flu jab. A year later Pfizer CEO, the appalling Albert Bourla, said people would 'likely' need a 'booster dose' of the 'vaccine' within 12 months of getting 'fully vaccinated' and then a yearly shot. 'Variants will play a key role', he said confirming the point. Johnson & Johnson CEO Alex Gorsky also took time out from his 'vaccine' disaster to say that people may need to be vaccinated against 'Covid-19' each year. UK Health Secretary, the psychopath Matt Hancock, said additional 'boosters' would be available in the autumn of 2021. This is the trap of the 'vaccine passport'. The public will have to accept every last 'vaccine' they introduce, including for the fake 'variants', or it would cease to be valid. The only other way in some cases would be continuous testing with a test not testing for the 'virus' and what is on the swabs constantly pushed up your noise towards the brain every time?

Vaccines' changing behaviour

I mentioned in the body of the book how I believed we would see gathering behaviour changes in the 'vaccinated' and I am already hearing such comments from the non-'vaccinated' describing behaviour changes in friends, loved ones and work colleagues. This will only increase as the self-replicating synthetic material and nanoparticles expand in body and brain. An article in the Guardian in 2016 detailed research at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville which developed a new method for controlling brain circuits associated with complex animal behaviour. The method, dubbed 'magnetogenetics', involves genetically-engineering a protein called ferritin, which stores and releases iron, to create a magnetised substance – 'Magneto' – that can activate specific groups of nerve cells from a distance. This is claimed to be an advance on other methods of brain activity manipulation known as optogenetics and chemogenetics (the Cult has been developing methods of brain control for a long time). The ferritin technique is said to be noninvasive and able to activate neurons 'rapidly and reversibly'. In other words, human thought and perception. The article said that earlier studies revealed how nerve cell proteins 'activated by heat and mechanical pressure can be genetically engineered so that they become sensitive to radio waves and magnetic fields, by attaching them to an iron-storing protein called ferritin, or to inorganic paramagnetic particles'. Sensitive to radio waves and magnetic fields? You mean like 5G, 6G and 7G? This is the human-AI Smart Grid hive mind we are talking about. The Guardian article said:

... the researchers injected Magneto into the striatum of freely behaving mice, a deep brain structure containing dopamine-producing neurons that are involved in reward and motivation, and then placed the animals into an apparatus split into magnetised and non-magnetised sections.

Mice expressing Magneto spent far more time in the magnetised areas than mice that did not, because activation of the protein caused the striatal neurons expressing it to release dopamine, so that the mice found being in those areas rewarding. This shows that Magneto can remotely control the firing of neurons deep within the brain, and also control complex behaviours.

Make no mistake this basic methodology will be part of the 'Covid vaccine' cocktail and using magnetics to change brain function through electromagnetic field frequency activation. The Pentagon is developing a 'Covid vaccine' using ferritin. Magnetics would explain changes in behaviour and why videos are appearing across the Internet as I write showing how magnets stick to the skin at the point of the 'vaccine' shot. Once people take these 'vaccines' anything becomes possible in terms of brain function and illness which will be blamed on 'Covid-19' and 'variants'. Magnetic field manipulation would further explain why the non-'vaccinated' are reporting the same symptoms as the 'vaccinated' they interact with and why those symptoms are reported to decrease when not in their company. Interestingly 'Magneto', a 'mutant', is a character in the Marvel Comic X-Men stories with the ability to manipulate magnetic fields and he believes that mutants should fight back against their human oppressors by any means necessary. The character was born Erik Lehnsherr to a Jewish family in Germany.

Cult-controlled courts

The European Court of Human Rights opened the door for mandatory 'Covid-19 vaccines' across the continent when it ruled in a Czech Republic dispute over childhood immunisation that legally enforced vaccination could be 'necessary in a democratic society'. The 17 judges decided that compulsory vaccinations did not breach human rights law. On the face of it the judgement was so inverted you gasp for air. If not having a vaccine infused into your body is not a human right then what is? Ah, but they said human rights law which has been specifically written to delete all human rights at the behest of the state (the Cult). Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights relates to the right to a private life. The crucial word here is 'except':

There shall be no interference by a public authority with the exercise of this right EXCEPT such as is in accordance with the law and is necessary in a democratic society in the interests of national security, public safety or the economic wellbeing of the country, for the prevention of disorder or crime, for the protection of health or morals, or for the protection of the rights and freedoms of others [My emphasis].

No interference except in accordance with the law means there are no 'human rights' except what EU governments decide you can have at their behest. 'As is necessary in a democratic society' explains that reference in the judgement and 'in the interests of national security, public safety or the economic well-being of the country, for the prevention of disorder or crime, for the protection of health or morals, or for the protection of the rights and freedoms of others' gives the EU a coach and horses to ride through 'human rights' and scatter them in all directions. The judiciary is not a check and balance on government extremism; it is a vehicle to enforce it. This judgement was almost laughably predictable when the last thing the Cult wanted was a decision that went against mandatory vaccination. Judges rule over and over again to benefit the system of which they are a part. Vaccination disputes that come before them are invariably delivered in favour of doctors and authorities representing the view of the state which owns the judiciary. Oh, yes, and we have even had calls to stop putting 'Covid-19' on death certificates within 28 days of a 'positive test' because it is claimed the practice makes the 'vaccine' appear not to work. They are laughing at you.

The scale of madness, inhumanity and things to come was highlighted when those not 'vaccinated' for 'Covid' were refused evacuation from the Caribbean island of St Vincent during massive volcanic eruptions. Cruise ships taking residents to the safety of another island allowed only the 'vaccinated' to board and the rest were left to their fate. Even in life and death situations like this we see 'Covid' stripping people of their most basic human instincts and the insanity is even more extreme when you think that fake 'vaccine'-makers are not even claiming their body-manipulating concoctions stop 'infection' and 'transmission' of a 'virus' that doesn't exist. St Vincent Prime Minister Ralph Gonsalves said: 'The chief medical officer will be identifying the persons already vaccinated so that we can get them on the ship.' Note again the power of the chief medical officer who, like Whitty in the UK, will be answering to the World Health Organization. This is the Cult network structure that has overridden politicians who 'follow the science' which means doing what WHO-controlled 'medical officers' and 'science advisers' tell them. Gonsalves even said that residents who were 'vaccinated' after the order so they could board the ships would still be refused entry due to possible side effects such as 'wooziness in the head'. The good news is that if they were woozy enough in the head they could qualify to be prime minister of St Vincent.

Microchipping freedom

The European judgement will be used at some point to justify moves to enforce the 'Covid' DNA-manipulating procedure. Sandra Ro, CEO of the Global Blockchain Business Council, told a World Economic Forum event that she hoped 'vaccine passports' would help to 'drive forced consent and standardisation' of global digital identity schemes: 'I'm hoping with the desire and global demand for some sort of vaccine passport – so that people can get travelling and working again – [it] will drive forced consent, standardisation, and frankly, cooperation across the world.' The lady is either not very bright, or thoroughly mendacious, to use the term 'forced consent'.

You do not 'consent' if you are forced – you submit. She was describing what the plan has been all along and that's to enforce a digital identity on every human without which they could not function. 'Vaccine passports' are opening the door and are far from the end goal. A digital identity would allow you to be tracked in everything you do in cyberspace and this is the same technique used by Cult-owned China to enforce its social credit system of total control. The ultimate 'passport' is planned to be a microchip as my books have warned for nearly 30 years. Those nice people at the Pentagon working for the Cult-controlled Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) claimed in April, 2021, they have developed a microchip inserted under the skin to detect 'asymptomatic Covid-19 infection' before it becomes an outbreak and a 'revolutionary filter' that can remove the 'virus' from the blood when attached to a dialysis machine. The only problems with this are that the 'virus' does not exist and people transmitting the 'virus' with no symptoms is brain-numbing bullshit. This is, of course, not a ruse to get people to be microchipped for very different reasons. DARPA also said it was producing a one-stop 'vaccine' for the 'virus' and all 'variants'. One of the most sinister organisations on Planet Earth is doing this? Better have it then. These people are insane because Wetiko that possesses them is insane.

Researchers from the Salk Institute in California announced they have created an embryo that is part human and part monkey. My books going back to the 1990s have exposed experiments in top secret underground facilities in the United States where humans are being crossed with animal and non-human 'extraterrestrial' species. They are now easing that long-developed capability into the public arena and there is much more to come given we are dealing with psychiatric basket cases. Talking of which – Elon Musk's scientists at Neuralink trained a monkey to play Pong and other puzzles on a computer screen using a joystick and when the monkey made the correct move a metal tube squirted banana smoothie into his mouth which is the basic technique for training humans into unquestioning compliance. Two Neuralink chips were in the monkey's skull and more than 2,000 wires 'fanned out' into its brain. Eventually the monkey played a video game purely with its brain waves. Psychopathic narcissist Musk said the 'breakthrough' was a step towards putting Neuralink chips into human skulls and merging minds with artificial intelligence. Exactly. This man is so dark and Cult to his DNA.

World Economic Fascism (WEF)

The World Economic Forum is telling you the plan by the statements made at its many and various events. Cult-owned fascist YouTube CEO Susan Wojcicki spoke at the 2021 WEF Global Technology Governance Summit (see the name) in which 40 governments and 150 companies met to ensure 'the responsible design and deployment of emerging technologies'. Orwellian translation: 'Ensuring the design and deployment of long-planned technologies will advance the Cult agenda for control and censorship.' Freedomdestroyer and Nuremberg-bound Wojcicki expressed support for tech platforms like hers to censor content that is 'technically legal but could be harmful'. Who decides what is 'harmful'? She does and they do. 'Harmful' will be whatever the Cult doesn't want people to see and we have legislation proposed by the UK government that would censor content on the basis of 'harm' no matter if the information is fair, legal and provably true. Make that especially if it is fair, legal and provably true. Wojcicki called for a global coalition to be formed to enforce content moderation standards through automated censorship. This is a woman and mega-censor so selfdeluded that she shamelessly accepted a 'free expression' award -Wojcicki – in an event sponsored by her own YouTube. They have no shame and no self-awareness.

You know that 'Covid' is a scam and Wojcicki a Cult operative when YouTube is censoring medical and scientific opinion purely on the grounds of whether it supports or opposes the Cult 'Covid' narrative. Florida governor Ron DeSantis compiled an expert panel with four professors of medicine from Harvard, Oxford, and Stanford Universities who spoke against forcing children and vaccinated people to wear masks. They also said there was no proof that lockdowns reduced spread or death rates of 'Covid-19'. Cultgofer Wojcicki and her YouTube deleted the panel video 'because it included content that contradicts the consensus of local and global health authorities regarding the efficacy of masks to prevent the spread of Covid-19'. This 'consensus' refers to what the Cult tells the World Health Organization to say and the WHO tells 'local health authorities' to do. Wojcicki knows this, of course. The panellists pointed out that censorship of scientific debate was responsible for deaths from many causes, but Wojcicki couldn't care less. She would not dare go against what she is told and as a disgrace to humanity she wouldn't want to anyway. The UK government is seeking to pass a fascist 'Online Safety Bill' to specifically target with massive fines and other means non-censored video and social media platforms to make them censor 'lawful but harmful' content like the Cult-owned Facebook, Twitter, Google and YouTube. What is 'lawful but harmful' would be decided by the fascist Blair-created Ofcom.

Another WEF obsession is a cyber-attack on the financial system and this is clearly what the Cult has planned to take down the bank accounts of everyone – except theirs. Those that think they have enough money for the Cult agenda not to matter to them have got a big lesson coming if they continue to ignore what is staring them in the face. The World Economic Forum, funded by Gates and fronted by Klaus Schwab, announced it would be running a 'simulation' with the Russian government and global banks of just such an attack called Cyber Polygon 2021. What they simulate – as with the 'Covid' Event 201 – they plan to instigate. The WEF is involved in a project with the Cult-owned Carnegie Endowment for International Peace called the WEF-Carnegie Cyber Policy Initiative which seeks to merge Wall Street banks, 'regulators' (I love it) and intelligence agencies to 'prevent' (arrange and allow) a cyber-attack that would bring down the global financial system as long planned by those that control the WEF and the Carnegie operation. The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace sent an instruction to First World War US President Woodrow Wilson not to let the war end before society had been irreversibly transformed.

The Wuhan lab diversion

As I close, the Cult-controlled authorities and lapdog media are systematically pushing 'the virus was released from the Wuhan lab' narrative. There are two versions – it happened by accident and it happened on purpose. Both are nonsense. The perceived existence of the never-shown-to-exist 'virus' is vital to sell the impression that there is actually an infective agent to deal with and to allow the endless potential for terrifying the population with 'variants' of a 'virus' that does not exist. The authorities at the time of writing are going with the 'by accident' while the alternative media is promoting the 'on purpose'. Cable news host Tucker Carlson who has questioned aspects of lockdown and 'vaccine' compulsion has bought the Wuhan lab story. 'Everyone now agrees' he said. Well, I don't and many others don't and the question is why does the system and its media suddenly 'agree'? When the media moves as one unit with a narrative it is always a lie – witness the hour by hour mendacity of the 'Covid' era. Why would this Cult-owned combination which has unleashed lies like machine gun fire suddenly 'agree' to tell the truth??

Much of the alternative media is buying the lie because it fits the conspiracy narrative, but it's the wrong conspiracy. The real conspiracy is that there is no virus and that is what the Cult is desperate to hide. The idea that the 'virus' was released by accident is ludicrous when the whole 'Covid' hoax was clearly long-planned and waiting to be played out as it was so fast in accordance with the Rockefeller document and Event 201. So they prepared everything in detail over decades and then sat around strumming their fingers waiting for an 'accidental' release from a bio-lab? What?? It's crazy. Then there's the 'on purpose' claim. You want to circulate a 'deadly virus' and hide the fact that you've done so and you release it down the street from the highest-level bio-lab in China? I repeat – What??

You would release it far from that lab to stop any association being made. But, no, we'll do it in a place where the connection was certain to be made. Why would you need to scam 'cases' and 'deaths' and pay hospitals to diagnose 'Covid-19' if you had a real 'virus'? What are sections of the alternative media doing believing this crap? Where were all the mass deaths in Wuhan from a 'deadly pathogen' when the recovery to normal life after the initial propaganda was dramatic in speed? Why isn't the 'deadly pathogen' now circulating all over China with bodies in the street? Once again we have the technique of tell them what they want to hear and they will likely believe it. The alternative media has its 'conspiracy' and with Carlson it fits with his 'China is the danger' narrative over years. China is a danger as a global Cult operations centre, but not for this reason. The Wuhan lab story also has the potential to instigate conflict with China when at some stage the plan is to trigger a Problem-Reaction-Solution confrontation with the West. Question everything – everything – and especially when the media agrees on a common party line.

Third wave ... fourth wave ... fifth wave ...

As the book went into production the world was being set up for more lockdowns and a 'third wave' supported by invented 'variants' that were increasing all the time and will continue to do so in public statements and computer programs, but not in reality. India became the new Italy in the 'Covid' propaganda campaign and we were told to be frightened of the new 'Indian strain'. Somehow I couldn't find it within myself to do so. A document produced for the UK government entitled 'Summary of further modelling of easing of restrictions – Roadmap Step 2' declared that a third wave was inevitable (of course when it's in the script) and it would be the fault of children and those who refuse the health-destroying fake 'Covid vaccine'. One of the computer models involved came from the Cultowned Imperial College and the other from Warwick University which I wouldn't trust to tell me the date in a calendar factory. The document states that both models presumed extremely high uptake of the 'Covid vaccines' and didn't allow for 'variants'. The document states: 'The resurgence is a result of some people (mostly children) being ineligible for vaccination; others choosing not to receive the vaccine; and others being vaccinated but not perfectly protected.' The mendacity takes the breath away. Okay, blame those with a brain who won't take the DNA-modifying shots and put more pressure on children to have it as 'trials' were underway involving children as young as six months with parents who give insanity a bad name. Massive pressure is being put on the young to have the fake 'vaccine' and child age consent limits have been systematically lowered around the world to stop parents intervening. Most extraordinary about the document was its claim that the 'third wave' would be driven by 'the resurgence in both hospitalisations and deaths ... dominated by those that have received two doses of the vaccine, comprising around 60-70% of the wave respectively'. The predicted peak of the 'third wave' suggested 300 deaths per day with 250 of them fully 'vaccinated' people. How many more lies do acquiescers need to be told before they see the obvious? Those who took the jab to 'protect themselves' are projected to be those who mostly get sick and die? So what's in the 'vaccine'? The document went on:

It is possible that a summer of low prevalence could be followed by substantial increases in incidence over the following autumn and winter. Low prevalence in late summer should not be taken as an indication that SARS-CoV-2 has retreated or that the population has high enough levels of immunity to prevent another wave.

They are telling you the script and while many British people believed 'Covid' restrictions would end in the summer of 2021 the government was preparing for them to be ongoing. Authorities were awarding contracts for 'Covid marshals' to police the restrictions with contracts starting in July, 2021, and going through to January 31st, 2022, and the government was advertising for 'Media Buying Services' to secure media propaganda slots worth a potential £320 million for 'Covid-19 campaigns' with a contract not ending until March, 2022. The recipient – via a list of other front companies – was reported to be American media marketing giant Omnicom Group

Inc. While money is no object for 'Covid' the UK waiting list for all other treatment – including life-threatening conditions – passed 4.5 million. Meantime the Cult is seeking to control all official 'inquiries' to block revelations about what has really been happening and why. It must not be allowed to – we need Nuremberg jury trials in every country. The cover-up doesn't get more obvious than appointing ultra-Zionist professor Philip Zelikow to oversee two dozen US virologists, public health officials, clinicians, former government officials and four American 'charitable foundations' to 'learn the lessons' of the 'Covid' debacle. The personnel will be those that created and perpetuated the 'Covid' lies while Zelikow is the former executive director of the 9/11 Commission who ensured that the truth about those attacks never came out and produced a report that must be among the most mendacious and manipulative documents ever written – see The Trigger for the detailed exposure of the almost unimaginable 9/11 story in which Sabbatians can be found at every level.

Passive no more

People are increasingly challenging the authorities with amazing numbers of people taking to the streets in London well beyond the ability of the Face-Nappies to stop them. Instead the Nappies choose situations away from the mass crowds to target, intimidate, and seek to promote the impression of 'violent protestors'. One such incident happened in London's Hyde Park. Hundreds of thousands walking through the streets in protest against 'Covid' fascism were ignored by the Cult-owned BBC and most of the rest of the mainstream media, but they delighted in reporting how police were injured in 'clashes with protestors'. The truth was that a group of people gathered in Hyde Park at the end of one march when most had gone home and they were peacefully having a good time with music and chat. Face-Nappies who couldn't deal with the full-march crowd then waded in with their batons and got more than they bargained for. Instead of just standing for this criminal brutality the crowd used their numerical superiority to push the Face-Nappies out of the park. Eventually the Nappies turned and ran. Unfortunately two or three idiots in the crowd threw drink cans striking two officers which gave the media and the government the image they wanted to discredit the 99.9999 percent who were peaceful. The idiots walked straight into the trap and we must always be aware of potential agent provocateurs used by the authorities to discredit their targets.

This response from the crowd – the can people apart – must be a turning point when the public no longer stand by while the innocent are arrested and brutally attacked by the Face-Nappies. That doesn't mean to be violent, that's the last thing we need. We'll leave the violence to the Face-Nappies and government. But it does mean that when the Face-Nappies use violence against peaceful people the numerical superiority is employed to stop them and make citizen's arrests or Common Law arrests for a breach of the peace. The time for being passive in the face of fascism is over.

We are the many, they are the few, and we need to make that count before there is no freedom left and our children and grandchildren face an ongoing fascist nightmare.

COME ON PEOPLE - IT'S TIME.

The power of love
A force from above
Cleaning my soul
Flame on burn desire
Love with tongues of fire
Purge the soul
Make love your goal

I'll protect you from the hooded claw Keep the vampires from your door When the chips are down I'll be around With my undying, death-defying Love for you

Envy will hurt itself
Let yourself be beautiful
Sparkling love, flowers
And pearls and pretty girls
Love is like an energy
Rushin' rushin' inside of me

This time we go sublime Lovers entwine, divine, divine, Love is danger, love is pleasure Love is pure – the only treasure

Cowan-Kaufman-Morell Statement on Virus Isolation (SOVI)

Isolation: The action of isolating; the fact or condition of being isolated or standing alone; separation from other things or persons; solitariness

Oxford English Dictionary

The controversy over whether the SARS-CoV-2 virus has ever been isolated or purified continues. However, using the above definition, common sense, the laws of logic and the dictates of science, any unbiased person must come to the conclusion that the SARS-CoV-2 virus has never been isolated or purified. As a result, no confirmation of the virus' existence can be found. The logical, common sense, and scientific consequences of this fact are:

- the structure and composition of something not shown to exist can't be known, including the presence, structure, and function of any hypothetical spike or other proteins;
- the genetic sequence of something that has never been found can't be known;
- "variants" of something that hasn't been shown to exist can't be known;
- it's impossible to demonstrate that SARS-CoV-2 causes a disease called Covid-19.

In as concise terms as possible, here's the proper way to isolate, characterize and demonstrate a new virus. First, one takes samples (blood, sputum, secretions) from many people (e.g. 500) with symptoms which are unique and specific enough to characterize an illness. Without mixing these samples with ANY tissue or products that also contain genetic material, the virologist macerates, filters and ultracentrifuges i.e. purifies the specimen. This common virology technique, done for decades to isolate bacteriophages¹ and so-called giant viruses in every virology lab, then allows the virologist to demonstrate with electron microscopy thousands of identically sized and shaped particles. These particles are the isolated and purified virus.

These identical particles are then checked for uniformity by physical and/or microscopic techniques. Once the purity is determined, the particles may be further characterized. This would include examining the structure, morphology, and chemical composition of the particles. Next, their genetic makeup is characterized by extracting the genetic material directly from the purified particles and using genetic-sequencing techniques, such as Sanger sequencing, that have also been around for decades. Then one does an analysis to confirm that these uniform particles are exogenous (outside) in origin as a virus is conceptualized to be, and not the normal breakdown products of dead and dying tissues.² (As of May 2020, we know that virologists have no way to determine whether the particles they're seeing are viruses or just normal breakdown products of dead and dying tissues.)³

If we have come this far then we have fully isolated, characterized, and genetically sequenced an exogenous virus particle. However, we still have to show it is causally related to a disease. This is carried out by exposing a group of healthy subjects (animals are usually used) to this isolated, purified virus in the manner in which the disease is thought to be transmitted. If the animals get sick with the same disease, as confirmed by clinical and autopsy findings, one has now shown that the virus actually causes a disease. This demonstrates infectivity and transmission of an infectious agent.

None of these steps has even been attempted with the SARS-CoV-2 virus, nor have all these steps been successfully performed for any so-called pathogenic virus. Our research indicates that a single study showing these steps does not exist in the medical literature.

Instead, since 1954, virologists have taken unpurified samples from a relatively few people, often less than ten, with a similar disease. They then minimally process this sample and inoculate this unpurified sample onto tissue culture containing usually four to six other types of material – all of which contain identical genetic material as to what is called a "virus." The tissue culture is starved and poisoned and naturally disintegrates into many types of particles, some of which contain genetic material. Against all common sense, logic, use of the English language and scientific integrity, this process is called "virus isolation." This brew containing fragments of genetic material from many sources is then subjected to genetic analysis, which then creates in a computersimulation process the alleged sequence of the alleged virus, a so called in silico genome. At no time is an actual virus confirmed by electron microscopy. At no time is a genome extracted and sequenced from an actual virus. This is scientific fraud.

The observation that the unpurified specimen — inoculated onto tissue culture along with toxic antibiotics, bovine fetal tissue, amniotic fluid and other tissues — destroys the kidney tissue onto which it is inoculated is given as evidence of the virus' existence and pathogenicity. This is scientific fraud.

From now on, when anyone gives you a paper that suggests the SARS-CoV-2 virus has been isolated, please check the methods sections. If the researchers used Vero cells or any other culture method, you know that their process was not isolation. You will hear the following excuses for why actual isolation isn't done:

- 1. There were not enough virus particles found in samples from patients to analyze.
- 2. Viruses are intracellular parasites; they can't be found outside the cell in this manner.

If No. 1 is correct, and we can't find the virus in the sputum of sick people, then on what evidence do we think the virus is dangerous or even lethal? If No. 2 is correct, then how is the virus spread from person to person? We are told it emerges from the cell to infect others. Then why isn't it possible to find it?

Finally, questioning these virology techniques and conclusions is not some distraction or divisive issue. Shining the light on this truth is essential to stop this terrible fraud that humanity is confronting. For, as we now know, if the virus has never been isolated, sequenced or shown to cause illness, if the virus is imaginary, then why are we wearing masks, social distancing and putting the whole world into prison?

Finally, if pathogenic viruses don't exist, then what is going into those injectable devices erroneously called "vaccines," and what is their purpose? This scientific question is the most urgent and relevant one of our time. We are correct. The SARS-CoV2 virus does not exist.

Ickonic is something that has been a dream of mine for the last 5 years, growing up around alternative information I have always had a natural interest in what is going on in the World and what could I do to make it better. Across the range of subjects and positions of influence occupied mainly by people who don't strive to make things better it's the Media that I have always found the most frustrating and fascinating. Mainly because if the Media did their Jobs properly then so much of the negative things happening in the World simply would not be able to happen, because they would be exposed within a heartbeat.

Free Press and the Opportunities that the internet could have given would mean that the Media are able to expose things like never before and hold people to account for their actions. As we all know there are 'Untouchables' that walk among us, people the Media simply won't touch, expose or investigate and that leads to the dark underworlds that infest the establishment the World over. Well I say enough, it's time for something different, a different kind of Media, where no one is off limits from exposing and investigating. All we're interested in at Ickonic is the truth of what is really going on in the World on whichever subject we're covering.

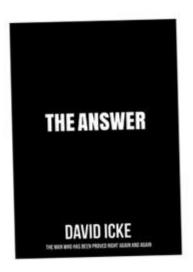

We hope you enjoy what we have created and take something away from the platform, we aim to deliver information that's informative and most importantly self-empowering, you're not a little person, you're part of something much bigger than that and its time we as a collective race began to understand that and look to the future as ours to take.

It's time...

Jaymie Icke - Founder Ickonic Alternative Media.

THE ANSWER

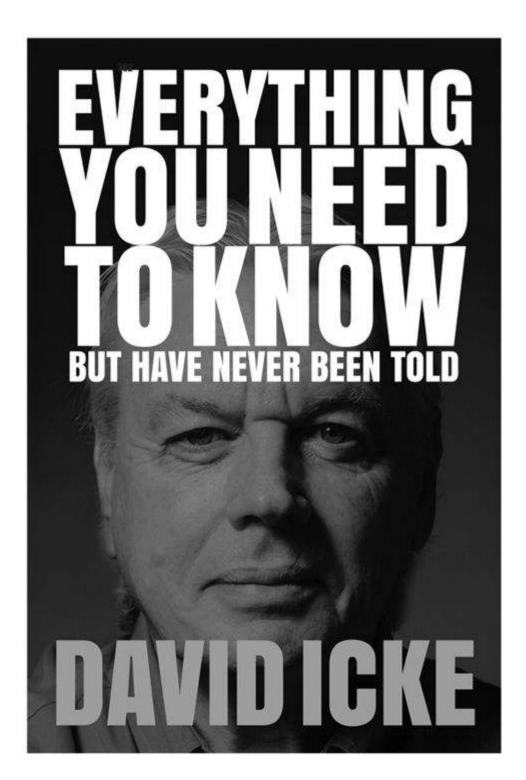

We live in extraordinary times with billions bewildered and seeking answers for what is happening. David Icke, the man who has been proved right again and again, has spent 30 years uncovering the truth behind world affairs and in a stream of previous books he predicted current events.

The Answer will change your every perception of life and the world and set you free of the illusions that control human society. There is nothing more vital for our collective freedom than humanity becoming aware of what is in this book.
